PROCLAMATION OF THE GOVERNOR OF MARYLAND DIRECTING THE PUBLICATION OF BILLS PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE.

WHEREAS, at the January session of the General Assembly of Maryland, held in the year 1941, the following Acts were passed, providing for the submission of amendments to the Constitution of the State to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection, namely:

CHAPTER 337

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Amendments to the Constitution", relating to the advertisement or publication of amendments to the Constitution, and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Amendments to the Constitution", the same, if adopted by the legally qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

1. The General Assembly may propose Amendments to this Constitution; provided that each Amendment shall be embraced in a separate Bill, embodying the Article or Section, as the same will stand when amended and passed by three-fifths of all the members elected to each of the two Houses, by yeas and nays, to be entered on the Journals with the proposed Amendment. The Bill or Bills proposing amendment or amendments shall be published by order of the Governor, in at least two newspapers, in each County, where so many may be published, and where not more than one may be published, then in that newspaper, and in three newspapers published in the City of Baltimore, once a week for three weeks immediately preceding the next ensuing general election, at which the proposed amendment or amendments shall be submitted, in a form to be prescribed by the General Assembly, to the qualified voters of the State for adoption or rejection. Provided, however, the General Assembly may provide for publishing any proposed amendment or amendments in pamphlet form, and for making said pamphlets available to the registered voters of the State in addition to publication in the newspapers. The votes cast for and against said proposed amendment or amendments, severally, shall be returned to the Governor, in the manner prescribed in other cases, and if it shall appear to the Governor that a majority of the votes cast at said election on said amendment or amendments, severally, were cast in favor thereof, the Governor shall, by his proclamation, declare said amendment or amendments having received said majority of votes, to have been adopted by the people of Maryland as part of the Constitution thereof, and thereforth said amendment or amendments shall be part of the said Constitution. When two or more amendments shall be submitted in manner aforesaid, to the voters of this State at the same election, they shall be so submitted as that each amendment shall be voted on separately.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That said aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall, at the next general election for members of the General Assembly of Maryland in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State, for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against the said proposed amendment, as directed by said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article Fourteen.

Approved: April 23, 1941.

CHAPTER 494

AN ACT to amend Section 21 of Article 4, title "Judiciary Department", sub-title, "Part III—Circuit Courts", of the Constitution of this State, providing for the residential qualification and method of selection of Associate Judges of the Third Judicial Circuit, and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of this State for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That (three-fifths of all members elected to each of the two houses concurring) the following section be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 21 of Article 4, of the Constitution of Maryland, title "Judiciary Department", sub-title "Part III—Circuit Courts", the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters thereof as herein provided to become Section 21 of Article 4 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

21. For each of the said circuits, excepting the eighth, the second, the third, the sixth and the seventh there shall be a chief judge and two associate judges, to be styled judges of the Circuit Court, to be selected or appointed as herein provided, and for the second circuit, the third circuit, the sixth circuit and the seventh circuit, there shall be a chief judge and three associate judges to be styled judges of the Circuit Court, to be elected or appointed as herein provided. And in two of said associate judges, for any of the said circuits, except the third, sixth and seventh circuits shall, at the time of their election or appointment or during the terms for which they have been elected or appointed, reside in the same county. If two or more persons shall be candidates for associate judge in the same county in any of the circuits, except the third, sixth and seventh circuits, that one only in said county shall be declared elected who has the highest number of votes in the circuit. In case any two candidates for associate judge in any of the circuits, except the third, sixth and seventh circuits, residing in the same county shall have an equal number of votes greater than any other candidates for associate judge in the circuit, it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for one associate judge; but the person residing in any other county of the circuit and who has the highest number of votes shall be declared elected. The said judges shall hold not less than two terms of the Circuit Court in each of the counties composing their respective circuits, at such times as are now or may hereafter be prescribed to which jurors shall be summoned; and in those counties where only two such terms are held, two other and intermediate terms, to which jurors shall not be summoned; they may alter or fix the times for holding any or all terms, until otherwise prescribed, and shall adopt rules to the end that all business not requiring the interposition of the judges shall be, so far as practicable, disposed of at such intermediate terms. One judge in each of the above circuits, including the second, the third, sixth and seventh circuits, shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of any business, and the said judges or any of them may hold special terms of their courts, whenever in their discretion the business of the several counties renders such terms necessary.

In the Third Circuit, two of said Associate Judges shall at all times be bona fide residents of Baltimore County and one of said Associate Judges or the Chief Judge be a bona fide resident of Harford County, and said Judges shall have been such residents six months prior to their appointment or election.

The additional associate judge for the second circuit herein provided for shall be a resident of Cecil County, shall be appointed by the Governor after the expiration of six (6) months after the adoption of this amendment and shall serve until the first general election for members of the General Assembly that shall be held in said circuit subsequent to the adoption of this amendment, at which election his successor shall be elected by the qualified voters of Caroline, Cecil, Kent, Queen Anne's and Talbot Counties, constituting the second circuit. The judge so appointed shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit, and the judge so elected shall be subject to the same constitutional provision, hold his office for the same term of years, receive the same compensation, and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit.

The additional judge for the sixth circuit herein provided for and elected by the qualified voters of Frederick and Montgomery Counties at the 1938 election in accordance with the terms of the Constitutional Amendment heretofore submitted and adopted shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the sixth circuit and his successor shall be appointed and/or elected in accordance with the constitutional provisions relating to judges. The Chief Judge may be elected from either Frederick or Montgomery Counties, but when the Chief Judge is elected from Frederick County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said county and the two remaining associate judges shall be residents of Montgomery County and when the Chief Judge is elected from Montgomery County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said Montgomery County and the remaining two associate judges residents of Frederick County. In case any candidate or candidates for associate judge at any judicial election held in the third and sixth judicial circuits shall receive sufficient votes to cause such candidate or candidates to be declared elected, but the election of such candidate or candidates would cause more associate judges than herein permitted to reside in any county of said circuits, then and in that event only that candidate or those candidates, as the case may be, residing in said county in the order of the votes received shall be declared elected whose election would provide the permitted number of associate judges from said county and the candidate or candidates as the case may be, residing in the other county, and not similarly disqualified who shall have the next highest number of votes in said election shall be declared elected. If by reason of such a condition or by reason of an equal vote for two or more candidates a sufficient number of associate judges duly qualified as to residence as above set out should not be elected at any election in said third and sixth judicial circuits, then it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for such unfilled office or offices.

The additional associate judge for the seventh circuit herein provided for shall be appointed by the Governor immediately after the adoption of this amendment and shall serve until the first general election for members of the General Assembly that shall be held in said circuit subsequent to the adoption of this amendment, at which election his successor shall be elected by the qualified voters of Prince George's, Charles, Calvert and St. Mary's Counties. No member of the General Assembly of 1939, otherwise qualified, shall be ineligible for appointment or election as such associate judge by reason of his membership in the General Assembly. The judge so appointed shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation, and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the seventh circuit. No two of the associate judges for the seventh circuit shall at the time of their election or appointment or during the term for which they have been appointed or elected unless the chief judge of said circuit shall already reside in said county, in which event only one of said associate judges shall reside in Prince George's County and Prince George's County shall at all time have two resident Judges and no more, such Judges to be either the Chief Judge of the Seventh Circuit and one associate Judge or two associate Judges of said Circuit. In case any candidate or candidates for associate judge at any judicial election held in the seventh judicial circuit shall receive sufficient votes to cause such candidate or candidates to be elected, but the election of such candidate or candidates would cause more associate judges than herein permitted to reside in any county of said circuit, then and in that event only that candidate or those candidates, as the case may be, residing in said county in the order of the votes received shall be declared elected whose election would provide the permitted number of associate judges from said county and the candidate or candidates, as the case may be, residing in some other county, and not similarly disqualified, who shall have the next highest number of votes in said election shall be declared elected. If, by reason of such a condition or by reason of an equal vote for two or more candidates a sufficient number of associate judges duly qualified as to residence as above set out should not be elected at any election in said seventh judicial circuit, then it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for such unfilled office or offices.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State shall be, at the next general election to be held in this State in the year 1942, submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of this State, and at the said general election, the vote on the said proposed amendment shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment" as now prescribed by law, and immediately after said election, due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment as directed by said Article 14 of the Constitution.

CHAPTER 509

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 45 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", relating to the salary of Clerks of Courts and Registrars of Wills and providing for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the Two Houses concurring), That the following amendment be and the same is hereby proposed to Section 45 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department" the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Section 45 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland:

45. The General Assembly shall provide a simple and uniform system of charges in the offices of Clerks of Courts and Registrars of Wills, in the Counties of this State and the City of Baltimore, and for the collection thereof; provided, the amount of compensation to any of the said officers in the various Counties and in the City of Baltimore shall be such as may be prescribed by law.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing Section, hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State, shall, at the election to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, upon each ballot there shall be printed the words: "For Constitutional Amendment" and "Against Constitutional Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against proposed amendment, as directed by said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article 14.

Approved April 28, 1941.

CHAPTER 607

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland title "Legislative Department" by adding a new section to be known as Section 40B, providing for the taking of property by the State Roads Commission under certain circumstances; and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members elected to each of the two Houses concurring), That the following new Section be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Article III, title "Legislative Department" of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, the same to be inserted after Section 40A and to be numbered 40B, and if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, said section shall become a part of Article III of the Constitution of Maryland.

40B. The General Assembly shall enact no law authorizing private property to be taken for public use without just compensation, to be agreed upon between the parties or awarded by a jury, being first paid or tendered to the party entitled to such compensation, except that where such property in the judgment of the State Roads Commission is needed by the State for highway purposes, the General Assembly may provide that such property may be taken immediately upon payment therefor to the owner or owners thereof by said State Roads Commission, or into Court, such amount as said State Roads Commission shall estimate to be of the fair value of said property, provided such legislation also requires the payment of any further sum that may subsequently be awarded by a jury.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the foregoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland, shall, at the election to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of the directions contained in Article XIV of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot and upon each ballot shall be printed the words "FOR CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT" and "AGAINST CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment as directed by Article XIV of the Constitution and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article XIV.

Approved: April 28, 1941.

CHAPTER 695

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 15 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", regulating the period that General Assembly may continue its session and compensation of the members thereof, and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 15 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Section 15 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

15. The General Assembly may continue its session so long as in its judgment the public interest may require, for a period not longer than ninety days; and each member thereof shall receive a compensation of One Thousand Dollars ($1,000) per annum, payable quarterly, with a deduction of fifteen dollars per diem for each day of unexcused absence from any session; and he shall also receive such mileage as may be allowed by law, not exceeding twenty cents per mile; and the presiding officer of each House shall receive an additional compensation of Two hundred and fifty ($250) dollars per annum. When the General Assembly shall be convened by Proclamation of the Governor, the session shall not continue longer than thirty days, but no additional compensation other than mileage and other allowances provided by law shall be paid members of the General Assembly for Special Sessions.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That said aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall, at the next general election to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State, for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against the said proposed amendment, as directed by said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article 14.

Approved: May 2, 1941.

CHAPTER 716

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Article 38 of the Declaration of Rights of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, relating to gifts, devises and other transfers to or for certain preachers and religious sects, orders or denominations, and providing for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Article 38 of the Declaration of Rights of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Article 38 of the Declaration of Rights of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

38. The Legislature may by law regulate, restrict or require its sanction for, gifts, devises or other transfer of property to or for the benefit of any minister, public teacher or preacher of the Gospel, as such, or any religious sect, order or denomination.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing amendment to the Declaration of Rights of the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall, at the election to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, upon each ballot there shall be printed the words: "For Constitutional Amendment" and "Against Constitutional Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against proposed amendment, as directed by said Article 14.

Approved: May 2, 1941.

CHAPTER 824

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Article IV of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, adding thereto a new section, to be known as Section 39A, to be under new subtitle "Part IV-A—Juvenile Courts", and to follow immediately after Section 39 of said Article, providing for the establishment of Juvenile Courts in any incorporated city or town or any county of the State, jurisdiction over juvenile causes shall be exercised in the same manner and to the same extent as authorized by the Constitution and laws of this State, in effect prior to the adoption of this Section.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That the aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall, at the election to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of the directions contained in Article XIV of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment shall be by ballot and upon each ballot there shall be printed the following synopsis of said amendment captioned as follows:

"CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT PROVIDING FOR JUVENILE COURTS"

Below said synopsis shall be printed the words "For Juvenile Courts Amendment" and "Against Juvenile Courts Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment as directed by Article XIV of the Constitution and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article XIV.

Approved: May 6, 1941.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, HERBERT R. O'CONOR, GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF MARYLAND, in pursuance of the direction contained in Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of Maryland, do hereby order and direct that this proclamation containing a full, true and correct copy of the text of said Chapters 337, 494, 509, 607, 695, 716 and 824 of the Acts of the General Assembly of Maryland of 1941, be published in at least two newspapers in each of the counties of the State where so many may be published and where not more than one may be published then in that newspaper, and in three newspapers published in the City of Baltimore, one of which shall be published in the German language, once a week for at least three months next preceding the general election to be held in the State of Maryland on Tuesday, the 3rd day of November, 1942, at which election the said proposed amendments to the Constitution shall be submitted in form and manner prescribed by the General Assembly, to the legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection.

GIVEN UNDER MY HAND AND THE GREAT SEAL OF THE STATE OF MARYLAND, DONE AT THE CITY OF ANNAPOLIS THIS 15TH DAY OF JULY, IN THE YEAR OF OUR LORD, ONE THOUSAND NINE HUNDRED AND FORTY-TWO.

THE GREAT SEAL OF MARYLAND

By the Governor:
HERBERT R. O'CONOR

Notice To Landowners Of Inquisition For Condemnation

You and each of you are hereby notified that on the first day of September, 1942, at 10:30 o'clock A. M., an Inquisition will be held on a parcel of land which is owned by you or in which you or either of you have some interest, lying in Garrett County, Maryland, which land is particularly described by metes and bounds, courses and distances, and shown on the plat of the Youghiogheny River Reservoir Project and filed in the case of the County Commissioners of Garrett County, Maryland, a corporation, against Bella Szijjarto and Threasa Szijjarto his wife; Margaret Tarr, Albert Tarr, and Irma Tarr, his wife; Elizabeth O'Sick and John O'Sick, her husband; and Frank Tarr, infant, the same being number 1317 Miscellaneous in the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, for the purpose of condemning a Right-of-Way as therein described to the extent of securing to the County Commissioners of Garrett County, Maryland, an easement or Right-of-Way for public use for a public road in perpetuity.

The said Inquisition to be held to determine whether or not the condemnation of said Right-of-Way for said purpose is necessary and proper for the use of the said County Commissioners of Garrett County, Maryland, for the aforesaid purposes and for the due exercise and enjoyment of its corporate privileges in relation to the same and to determine by said Inquisition of the jury the value of the damages which you and each of you will sustain by the taking, occupation and use of said Right-of-Way by the said County Commissioners of Garrett County, Maryland, for such period of time and for such purpose, and thereafter on the same day at 2:00 o'clock P. M., in the Court House in Oakland, Maryland, all such questions will be submitted to said jury of Inquisition and the damages that you and each of you will sustain by said taking, use and occupation of said Right-of-Way for said purpose will be valued and assessed to you by said jury of Inquisition.

You and each of you are hereby notified to be present in person or by your Agent or Attorney at said times and places to take such action thereon upon your part as you may see fit.

HORACE P. WHITWORTH, Jr.,
Attorney for the County Commissioners of Garrett County, a Corporation.

THIS NOTICE IS GIVEN IN CONFORMITY WITH AN ORDER OF THE CIRCUIT COURT OF GARRETT COUNTY, MARYLAND, PASSED ON THE 13th DAY OF AUGUST, 1942, IN NO. 1317 MISCELLANEOUS DOCKET.

Political Announcements

FOR ASSOCIATE JUDGE

I will be a candidate to succeed myself as Associate Judge of the Fourth Judicial Circuit of Maryland. Having presided over the Circuit Court for Washington county for more than one year and a half, I have served through five regular jury terms and two non-jury terms of that Court, in addition to sitting, upon occasions, with Chief Judge Sloan and Associate Judge Huster in the Circuit Courts for Allegany and Garrett counties, and I believe that the experience which I have gained qualifies me to continue my services on the Bench.

Since assuming my judicial duties I have been ever mindful of the high standard of service set by my predecessor in office, the late Judge Frank G. Wagaman, and I have endeavored to faithfully, conscientiously, and to the best of my ability administer the duties of the high office which I am privileged to hold.

I have been told that my services have been satisfactory to the members of the Bars of Washington, Allegany and Garrett counties, and I hope also to the citizens generally of those counties which comprise the Fourth Judicial Circuit.

Our American form of Government intends that the Judiciary shall be a department separate and apart from the Legislative and Executive branches, and as such shall be engaged in the impartial and equal administration of justice to all citizens. I have believed in those ideals and have always conscientiously tried to follow them.

If you feel that I am qualified by reason of experience, training, temperament and ability to continue to occupy the position I now hold, your support and influence will be greatly appreciated.

JOSEPH D. MISH.
Hagerstown, Md., July 20, 1942.

FOR STATE SENATOR

DR. C. OSCAR HALL

At the urgent request of many friends in various parts of the county, I have filed for the office of State Senator and hereby announce my candidacy for the nomination, subject to the Democratic primary. I have been a citizen of the county for the past seven years, own my home in Mtn. Lake Park and for the past two years have served as Mayor of that corporation, having been elected by a large majority of its citizens. In making this announcement, I fully appreciate the duties involved and I assure the citizens of the county that if nominated and elected I shall perform them honestly, without fear or favor and to the best interest of all. I earnestly and respectfully solicit the consideration and support of Democratic voters throughout the county.

DR. C. OSCAR HALL.
Mountain Lake Park, June 13, 1942.*

FOR HOUSE OF DELEGATES

To The Republican Voters of Garrett County, Maryland.

I hereby announce my candidacy for re-nomination for the House of Delegates, subject to the Republican primary election on September 8, 1942.

With past experience in the House, I feel I can serve the people of the county and state better. I therefore earnestly solicit the support of all the Republican voters of the county, and thank you for past favors.

Most respectfully yours,
NELSON BRENNEMAN.
McHenry, Md., District No. 6

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County:

I am a candidate for nomination for member of the House of Delegates, subject to the result of the Republican primary election, and am asking the support and influence of the voters throughout the county.

I was born at Friendsville and have spent my entire life in this county with the exception of the time spent with the United States forces during the First World War. I am a member of the Wilson-Fidler Post, American Legion, of Kitzmiller.

I have been a resident of District No. 13 for a number of years where I am engaged in farming.

Because of the shortage of tires and the need of gasoline for the war effort, it will be impossible to make an intensive personal campaign, and I am taking this means of contacting the citizens of the county and requesting their votes.

If nominated and later elected I promise to represent the people of the county in a fair and capable manner at the State House in Annapolis.

Sincerely yours,
JASPER C. MYERS.
August 18* District No. 13.

FOR CLERK OF THE CIRCUIT COURT

ALBERT G. ROSS

I hereby announce my candidacy for nomination at the coming primary election for Clerk of the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland.

In seeking this very important office of the county, I solicit your support upon my record and qualifications gained through years of experience in the office.

If nominated and elected, courtesy to all will be my motto and the law will be my guide.

I respectfully solicit your support.
ALBERT G. ROSS.
June 22, 1942*

FOR SHERIFF

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County, Maryland:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the Republican nomination for the office of Sheriff of Garrett County, subject to the result of the primary election on September 8.

I was born and reared in Garrett county and have always voted and worked for the success of the Republican ticket. I have lived my entire lifetime in the Swallow Falls setion of the county and have always had the best interests and welfare of the county at heart, and if I receive the nomination and am elected, I promise to devote my full time to the duties of the office and execute the same without fear, favor or partiality.

I respectfully solicit the support of my neighbors, friends and acquaintances throughout the county.

THEODORE E. SINES.
Oakland, Md., June 9, 1942.*

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County, Maryland:—
Ladies and Gentlemen.

The undersigned, native of Garrett County, announces his candidacy for nomination for Sheriff of Garrett County, subject to the result of the primary election to be held on September 8, 1942.

I have been engaged in business for a number of years and at present am a County Constable and serving as Deputy Sheriff. With the experience thus gained, I feel that I am qualified to fill the duties of the office I seek and shall execute the same without fear or favor, should I be nominated and later elected to this most important position.

I most respectfully solicit the support and influence of my friends in all parts of the county.

Very respectfully
MARK H. MOON.
District No. 16*

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County, Maryland:—

I hereby announce my candidacy for the Republican nomination for Sheriff of Garrett County, subject to the result of the primary election on September 8, 1942, and most respectfully solicit the support of Republicans at the polls in all parts of the county.

JAMES A. COVER

If nominated and later elected to this office I shall execute the duties incumbent upon me to the best of my ability and in accordance with the law and directions of the Court.

JAMES A. COVER.

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County, Maryland:—

I hereby announce my candidacy for the nomination of Sheriff for Garrett County, subject, however, to the result of the Republican primary election on September 8, 1942.

I was born and reared on a farm in this county and for the past thirty-five years have been engaged in business in Oakland.

As a citizen and taxpayer I have never sought nor held any public office. I now come before the people as a candidate.

Should I be nominated and later elected to this important office I shall endeavor to execute its duties to the best of my ability and without partiality.

Most respectfully yours,
FLOYD C. STAHL.
Oakland, District No. 14.*

GEORGE E. CODDINGTON

To The Republican Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the nomination for Sheriff of Garrett county at the coming Republican primary election, on September 8.

I have been a life-long Republican and was born and reared in District No. 8, of this county.

I believe that I am qualified to fill this important office and I respectfully solicit the support and influence of my friends and all Republican voters in all sections of the county.

GEORGE E. CODDINGTON.
District No. 16, July 29.

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County:—

The undersigned announces his candidacy for the Republican nomination as a member of the Board of County Commissioners of Garrett county, subject to the result of the primary election on September 8, 1942.

I was born and reared in Garrett county and have been a tax payer for many years.

If successful in the primaries and later elected as a member of the board my aim will be to represent the people of the entire county.

Soliciting the support of the Republican voters of all sections, I beg to remain, Very sincerely,
JAMES A. SAVAGE.
Sang Run, District No. 6.

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County:—

At the urgent request of many voters in various sections of the County, I have filed for the office of County Commissioner of Garrett County and hereby announce my candidacy for nomination, subject to the result of the Republican Primary election.

I have lived my entire life in Garrett County and have always had the best interest and welfare of the county at heart. If I receive the nomination and am elected, I assure the citizens of the County that I shall perform the duties of the office honestly and without fear or favor and to the best interest of all.

I earnestly and respectfully solicit the consideration and support of all voters throughout the county.

JONAS W. SINES.
Swallow Falls, July 8, 1942*

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County:—
Ladies and Gentlemen:

As a member of the Republican party, and having had an experience of four years in the office of County Commissioner, I again seek the nomination and election as a member of the Board.

With my former experience, I feel that I am fully qualified to again fill the office I seek and solicit the support of all members of the party in all parts of the county.

If nominated and later elected, I shall endeavor to execute its duties in fairness to all and economy in all departments.

Respectfully yours,
Dist. 5* JOHN W. HERMAN.

G. BLAINE GIESSMAN

To The Republican Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the Republican nomination as a member of the Board of County Commissioners of Garrett County, Maryland.

I feel that my past experience of two terms as a member of the Board of Commissioners fully qualifies me to capably fulfill the duties of the Commissioners' office.

I respectfully solicit the support of my friends and all party members.

G. BLAINE GIESSMAN.
District No. 14, July 29.

To The Republican Voters of Garrett County:

I am hereby announcing my candidacy for re-nomination and re-election as a County Commissioner of Garrett county, subject to the primary election.

I have served the county the past four years as Commissioner, and if re-nominated and re-elected I will continue to give my best services to the taxpayers.

I stand for home rule, better county government, a plan that will work to the improvement of all secondary roads and bridges by the use of the 1½ cent gasoline tax.

Sincerely yours,
CHESTON H. BROWNING.
District No. 7, July 29.

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County.
Ladies and Gentlemen:—

I am hereby publicly announcing my candidacy for nomination for County Commissioner of Garrett County, subject to the result of the Republican primary election.

I have served as Clerk to the Board of County Commissioners for a number of years and feel that my experience in this capacity would be of much value to the taxpayers of the county in the conduct of the affairs of the county as a Commissioner.

I am not bound to any one faction or group and have always been a faithful member of the Republican party before and during my years of service in the Court House.

I ask your support and influence in the coming primary on September 8th.

Very sincerely yours,
WALTER G. MEYERS.
District No. 16*

FOR COUNTY TREASURER

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County:—

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of Treasurer of Garrett County, subject to the result of the Republican primary election on September 8, 1942.

I have been engaged in the mercantile business at Deer Park for twelve years and as a farmer and live stock dealer near Deer Park for the past five years. For a year I was acting postmaster and was town treasurer for six years. Before going to Deer Park I was employed in the Offutt store in Oakland for eight years.

With my experience in these several lines of business, I feel that I am well prepared to execute the duties of the office which I seek to the satisfaction of the general public.

Soliciting the support of all Republicans in every part of the county, I am, Very respectfully,
J. EDWARD HELBIG.
Deer Park, District No. 10*

To The Republican Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce my candidacy for nomination for Treasurer of Garrett county, subject to the Republican primary election.

Having served as County Commissioner for almost four years, and being in close contact with the office of Treasurer, I feel qualified to serve the public in this capacity.

I am also grateful to the voters for their confidence placed in me and their cooperation in the past.

PAUL M. FRIEND.
District No. 7, July 29.

FOR JUDGE OF ORPHANS' COURT

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County, Maryland:—

I most respectfully announce my candidacy for the nomination as a member of the Orphans' Court of Garrett County and crave the votes and influence of my friends at the primary election to be held September 8, 1942.

Very respectfully yours,
THOMAS E. BISHOFF.
Oakland, District No. 7, June 23*

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County:

After being asked by a number of friends to again place my name on the ballot for Judge of the Orphans' Court, I hereby announce my candidacy for that office. After serving the public in this office for the past seven years I know I am better qualified now than I was when first elected.

I therefore earnestly solicit the support of all the Republican voters of the county, and thanking you for past favors, I remain, yours to serve,
Dist. 5* FRANK CALLIS.

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County, Maryland:—

I hereby announce my candidacy for the nomination of Judge of the Orphans' Court of Garrett County, subject to the result of the Republican primary election.

I was born in Friendsville and am now a resident of Mountain Lake Park, in District No. 16. I have always been a Republican and have been a taxpayer for many years.

My father, Thomas Cuppett, served as Judge of the Orphans Court for a number of years and I desire an opportunity to serve in a similar capacity. I solicit the support of the Republican voters from all sections of the county. Very sincerely yours,
E. CALVIN CUPPETT.
Mt. Lake Park, Dist. 16, June 29*

FOR REGISTER OF WILLS

I hereby announce my candidacy for renomination for Register of Wills for Garrett County.

It is with gratitude to the voters of this County that I express my appreciation in having been privileged for some years past to serve the public interests of our County in this same capacity and assure you of my continued effort to discharge faithfully the duties of the office if I am reelected.

Earnestly soliciting your support at the Republican primary election to be held September 8, 1942, I am,
Very truly yours,
VERNIE R. SMOUSE.
Election District No. 14*

V-Mail Service to Overseas Soldiers Is Increasing

The V-mail service, for those writing to ones in the armed forces overseas, is increasing, according to the Postoffice department.

V-Mail service provides for the use by patrons of a special letter sheet form which is a combination letter and envelope of uniform size and design. The patron writes his message, completes the name and address, and mails in the usual manner. The letters are photographed on micro-film by automatic machines at the rate of 2,000 to 2,500 per hour and the film rolls containing 1,500 letters each are transmitted to destinations. Reproductions are then made by other automatic machines and delivered to the proper parties.

The war, navy and postoffice departments cooperated in developing this service, with a view to decreasing the volume of mail to be carried overseas and providing an expenditous service.

V-Mail letter sheets have been distributed at all postoffices and further information is available at these offices.

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County:

I am in this manner announcing my candidacy for County Commissioner of Garrett county, subject to the Republican primary election and the votes of Republicans in all parts of the county.

I have been a resident of Garrett county all my life and served as a Commissioner twenty-seven years ago. I have been in business in this county for over 52 years and have always been a heavy taxpayer of the county.

If nominated and later elected I shall endeavor to execute the duties of the office in fairness to all and with economy in all departments.

Respectfully yours,
GEORGE WARNICK

For State Senator

I hereby announce my candidacy for the Democratic nomination for State Senator from Garrett County, subject to the primary to be held on September 8th.

I am connected with no clique or faction and if I am nominated and elected, I shall accord to all, without regard to party faction or clique, a respectful and unprejudiced hearing at all times and shall honestly endeavor to serve my native county and all of its citizens to the best of my ability.

I pledge to use the major portion of my time at the State Capitol, to secure some real worthwhile legislation, beneficial to our County, which is not now and has not been receiving consideration in a legislative way in proportion to benefits had by other counties in our State.

I have been actively engaged in business in Garrett County over a period of twenty years, during which time I have been in close touch with the affairs of the county and feel that I am fully acquainted with its needs and can creditably represent its people in this most important office.

I solicit your favorable consideration and assure you it will be deeply appreciated.

Highest Peak Among Hills of Garrett Is Under Discussion

Baltimore Sun Columnist Dwells At Length on Altitudes in County

John O'Ren's "Down the Spillway" column in The Sun has from time to time discussed the question as to where on Backbone Mountain the inhabitants of Maryland can ascend nearest to heaven without leaving their native state. A query on the subject from Edgar Ellis, The Sun's erudite Librarian, with particular reference to exact altitudes, and local or official peak nomenclature, was recently answered at length in The Sun's issue of the 20th, quoted below. The writer of the letter, however, disclaims any such extent of Backbone Mountain lore as attributed to him by Mr. O'Ren, and says that much of his information came from Mr. Milton Sincell, and whom he had mentioned in the letter as being the best informed person in this section on the survey data of Garrett County.

"The highest point in Maryland, I am now persuaded, is not certainly known. It lies somewhere along the ridge of Backbone Mountain, in Garrett county, but Backbone has a number of peaks almost of the same altitude, and which is the highest never has been determined.

"This conclusion was forced upon me when I was permitted to read a letter by Mr. Jared W. Young, of Mountain Lake Park, who probably knows as much about the subject as any man alive. Eagle Rock, long reputed to be the highest point, is almost certainly not. On the highway map it is given an elevation of 3,188 feet, as against 3,187 for Allegheny Heights; but the United States Geological Survey map gives Eagle Rock only 3,162 feet.

"The fire tower located at what is known as Roth Rock is on an elevation of 3,340 feet, according to the State highway map, but Mr. Young is very skeptical of the accuracy of this measurement. He does believe, however, that the fire tower is located on, or very near, the highest point in Maryland.

"The controversy will be difficult to settle because, according to this authority, the so-called "Roth Rock" is not a bold, jutting outcrop, with a sheer cliff on one side and a magnificent view, as is Eagle Rock, but merely the top of a fairly easy slope. * * *. All the same, I wish some qualified topographer would make exact measurements."

In view of the interest manifested in Backbone Mr. Young has suggested it would be worthwhile, possibly by the Garrett County Historical Society, to ascertain the local names, and any legends connected therewith, of all the high points on Backbone from the Savage river to the West Virginia line. Thus Mr. Young mentions that in a recent talk with the Upoles, long time residents at the foot of the sand-quarry road leading to Eagle Rock, he heard such suggestive names of nearby peask as: Bald Rock, the Big Swamp (from springs near the top), Turkey Rocks, and Simpson, the latter so named after a hunter who became lost and froze to death years ago amid its vast solitudes.

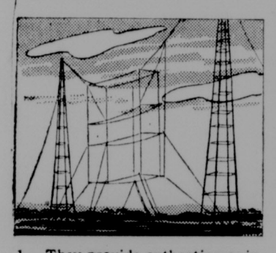
Towers of Truth

Chinese, Finnish, Tagalog, Dutch, Spanish—programs in more than a dozen tongues go out from the towers of General Electric stations WGEA and WGEO, Schenectady, and KGEI, San Francisco.



1. They provide authentic war information for news-starved peoples around the globe, entertainment for U.S. forces abroad. These G-E short-wave stations . . .

2. . . . have special antennas "pointed" at Australia, South America, China, Europe—making reception there almost as strong as from local stations.

3. They provided the only U.S. programs that reached Bataan. People in conquered lands risk their lives to listen. Smuggled letters say they bring hope of release.

4. Some announcers are regular G-E production employees, working on war work. They tell people in their native lands that America is determined on victory.

General Electric believes that its first duty as a good citizen is to be a good soldier.

Privilege of Democracy . . .

Most everyone knows the story of the talents, as related in the Bible, and the moral that Christ wanted to teach—that we should use the talents with which we are endowed, lest they be taken away.

That moral could be applied to other things as well, for instance, the many privileges we are entitled to under a Democracy form of government. We have freedom of speech, freedom of religion, freedom to earn our own way and seek our own happiness, freedom to govern ourselves, and many others.

In the dictator nations there are no such things as free elections. In the United States of America we still have them, but through lack of interest many times people do not go to the polls to vote.

Through this lack of interest many politicians have gained places of power and have used that power to perpetuate themselves in office and to tear down and undermine our principles of democracy. Right now many are using the war to cover up their ultimate goal of destruction of the rights and privileges of the majority. Some have even gone so far as to suggest that we not hold elections during wartime. They are enemies of freedom.

Every person who is qualified to vote under the election laws and who is well and able to get to his polling place should get out next Tuesday and vote his preference. Then, vote in November.

If candidates don't seem to suit, vote for the best one available and then determine to take more interest in the next election and see that better qualified or more honest candidates present themselves before the people. If we continue to fail to use our privilege of the ballot, it might be that such a privilege would be denied us in future years. May that time never come!

BALANCE OF HIGH SCHOOL TEACHER LIST COMPLETED

"Our Country and Its Institutions" Is to Be Theme of This Year's Work, Rathbun Announces

"Our Country and Its Institutions," is to be the theme of this year's work in all of the public schools of this county, F. E. Rathbun, county superintendent, stated at his office in the Court House in Oakland, this morning, as he gave out the list of teachers and the subjects to be taught by each of them, in the Friendsville, Grantsville, Accident and Kitzmiller high schools. Oakland's list of teachers was announced last week.

"The board of education and myself are requesting all school agencies in this county, in addition to their usual activities and responsibilities, to take on also all of the opportunities for greater service that such a theme about our country and its institutions suggests," Mr. Rathbun continued.

"Nothing else counts much unless our country is supported to the utmost. The present war effort must be financed and supported in every possible way and our schools have a direct responsibility therein and no one connected with the public schools will hesitate to assume it. All of their school programs and units of study will be related in some way in showing the advantage of our type of democratic government and its institutions that support the American Way of Life. These activities will begin with the opening of all of the schools of this county next Tuesday morning. Everything is in readiness. All of the 250 employees of the local board of education will be at their posts of duty at that time, ready to direct the work of the 4,500 boys and girls of school age of this section.

"The teachers all appreciate the fact that parents and the public generally do not have the time to give to the improvements of the schools they have been able to do heretofore. There are so many other demands made upon their time and abilities, higher taxation and services, that they must trust the teachers and other school authorities to prepare the children to meet life's problems. In a thorough study of our country and its institutions, this preparation can best be given the young folks.

"The necessity of financing our government during this emergency, the requirement that all school property be well taken care of—building, equipment, text books, library books, materials of instruction, typewriters, and all other property of the school board—all of these needs will be brought home to the pupils as never before. Many of these items can not be replaced and all others only can be with great effort at high costs. All of these needs will be seen from the study of our schools which is one of our country's greatest institutions.

"Finally, the cooperation of all trustees and citizens is solicited in making our schools of the greatest possible service during these trying times. A mutually sympathetic attitude upon the part of teachers and the public generally, will contribute most to the success most desired. And the pupils themselves will require a high type of understanding since most of them are victims of present sacrifices and a future of problems. So, encouragement to them in their efforts for an education will be a source of great help in carrying through this year's program of our schools with especial emphasis upon the study of "Our Country and Its Institutions.'"

The following teacher appointments were announced, subject to board approval:

Friendsville High

W. J. Glenn, principal, social studies, French; Raymond McCullough, mathematics, chemistry; Charley B. Miller, agriculture, teaching in Friendsville in mornings and in Accident in afternoons, providing satisfactory arrangements can be made. Getty, principal, economics, sociology; Emma Caulk, English, French; Ellene Edmond, social studies; Kathryn Speicher, English; Elizabeth Renninger, home economics; Lucy Palmerino, mathematics; William Grimm, chemistry, physics, biology; Lawrence Faith, agriculture; graduate of University of Maryland, 1939, Bachelor of Science degree, previously taught in Ridgeley and Tanneytown high schools; Virginia Byers-Lewis, art; and June L. Small, music.

Resignation

Due to resignation of Luda Vera Semenuk as teacher in Oakland High school, Thomas W. Stevenson was selected. He resides at Mt. Lake Park, a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Stevenson, graduate of Washington college, Chestertown, Bachelor of Arts degree; will teach social studies, English and Physical education.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Townshend, Jr., and son Ralph, of Beltsville, are spending several days here with the former's parents on Water street.

Mrs. E. A. Norvell, Cincinnati, O., is here for a visit with her grandmother, Mrs. Louis Bush, having arrived in Oakland Monday afternoon.

PLANS COMPLETE FOR LABOR DAY PICNIC MONDAY

Twenty-Third Annual Event Sponsored by Knights of Pythias Will Begin With Big Parade

All committees working on arrangements for the twenty-third annual Knights of Pythias Labor Day picnic have reported that everything is in readiness for the celebration on Monday, September 7, according to Clifford Phillips, chancellor commander and chairman of the picnic committee.

The probability that the Queen Sylvia band from Elkins, W. Va., would be here to participate in the parade indicates that there will be three bands in line in addition to a number of fire companies from surrounding towns. Both the Mickey's Band from Mt. Lake Park and the Oakland Boys' Band have been engaged for the day. All three will give concerts at the picnic grounds during the afternoon and early evening. Robert W. Lohr, chairman of the parade committee, is planning for all young people with bicycles to take part in the annual parade.

The parade will officially open the day and is scheduled to take place at 10 a. m. The procession will form on Oak and Alder streets east of Fourth and will proceed west on Oak, south on Third to Alder, Alder to Second, Second to picnic grounds, located on the town property at the north edge of town, formerly the Helbig grove.

The Ideal Exhibition Shows, consisting of a dozen rides and shows will furnish entertainment for the five thousand or more people who annually gather for this affair. This year the political candidates will be out in full force as it will be the final day prior to the primary election and the only large gathering of any consequence in the county.

Both lunch and dinner will be available on the grounds, served at local stands.

Grand lodge officials are expected to be present and there may be short talks in the afternoon, according to local officers. It was emphasized that all proceeds this year would be used to purchase war bonds.

Jury Awards Damages In Condemnation Suit

A jury of inquest on Tuesday returned a verdict upholding the condemnation of a right-of-way to secure to the County Commissioners an easement for public use for a public road in the area around the Youghiogheny River reservoir project.

The jury assessed damages to be $700.00, to be paid to the owners by the County Commissioners. Defendants in the case were Mr. and Mrs. Bella Szijjarto, Margaret Tarr, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Tarr, Mr. and Mrs. John O'Sick.

The inquisition was held to determine whether or not the condemnation of the right-of-way sought was necessary and proper and to determine the value of the property.

The inquisition returned by the jury was ordered confiirmed by Judge William A. Huster and notice to that effect appears in The Republican today.

Rev. David C. Trimble Married In Baltimore

A number of Oakland people have received announcements of the marriage of Miss Anne George Harvey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joshua George Harvey, of Baltimore, to Rev. David Churchman Trimble, which occurred on Tuesday, September 1, at the Bishop's Chapel in Baltimore.

Rev. Trimble for several years was rector of St. Matthew's Episcopal church, Oakland, and built up congregations at Altamont, Deer Park and Swanton during his stay here. He is now rector of St. John's Episcopal church, at Glyndon, near Baltimore.

The treasurer received $50.25 from Accident, $43.00 additional from Kitzmiller and $5 additional from Oakland.

With Our Men In the Service

The dramatization of Lieut. Jack O'Donnell's flight over New Guinea on a bombing mission, was heard by many over the air on Sunday evening with Gene Autry playing the part of Jack in his successful effort to bring his twin-engine bomber back to base after one of his motors had been silenced by Jap fighters.

The story of Jack's episode appeared in the June 4 issue of The Republican. He became suspicious of his left engine while on the mission. Jap fighters silenced the right engine but the suspected left one kept the bomber in the air while its two gunners shot down four Zeros. Then it pulled the plane home safely despite hits in the tail and other places. O'Donnell radioed he probably would have to make a forced landing. He edged along the coast and just as officers were about to score his plane as missing he flew in. The plane, with left tire flat from a bullet, spun off the runway and back on again and crunched to a stop with all hands safe.

Yanks Bury Jap Flier In Jungle

Note From Plane To Tell Nippons of Airman's Death

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service

Somewhere in New Guinea—We buried a Jap today—a tiny lieutenant whose body we found strewn amidst the wreckage of his Zero fighter far up the side of a jungle-covered mountain.

The enemy pilot was buried with full military honors and a note giving the enemy details of the discovery of the body and the burial will be dropped by one of our fliers at some Japanese base.

I made the trip up the mountain with Lieut. Charley Cathey, of Canton, N. C.; Sergt. Bill Spiker, of Oakland, Md., and Capt. Bob Edwards, of Memphis.

Note to Japs

Capt. Clare Gideon, of Payne, O., is composing the note that will give the news to the Japanese about their missing comrade.

As we struggled up the steep mountainside through the steaming jungle growth we had a first rate impression of what our boys suffer when they are forced down in these frightening New Guinea jungles.

Imagine the worst road you ever saw in the United States and then consider it the Lincoln Highway in comparison to the roads here.

Find Wreckage

Near the summit we came on the wreckage of the Zero, scattered crazily among the burned trees. Apparently the plane had been shot down in flames, but the insignia of the Rising Sun was visible on one intact wing section. The fuselage and motor were one molten mass.

I dropped down at the foot of a tree to rest and shivered when my hand rested on dead flesh. It was the Jap pilot's hand.

The Zero must have been shot down early in the battle, as much of its ammunition was intact. I wondered which of our pursuit pilots had got him—Bill Meng, of Atlanta; Bill Sheppard or Bob Yundt, of Pittsburgh; Main Waring, of Wilkes-Barre; Bob McMahon, of Mitchell, S. D., or one of the other boys.

I suppose I should have been delighted to find a Jap in this fashion, but somehow I was not. I couldn't stop thinking of our own boys who have met a similar fate.

Bill Spiker is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dice Spiker, south of Oakland.

Jaycees Select Smouse and Lewis In Service Project

J. Howard Smouse, Oakland, and Arthur Lewis, Swallow Falls, were the two persons selected by the Jaycees this week in continuing their "service man" project.

Howard Smouse, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel P. Smouse, Third street, is a coxswain in the U. S. Navy. He was on the cruiser Marblehead in the battle of Java when it was badly damaged by three bomb hits but made its way 13,000 miles to an east coast port where it is being repaired. Recently he was transferred to the U. S. S. Parker, a new destroyer, and his address is care of the postmaster, New York City.

Lewis is a son of Richard Lewis, of Swallow Falls, and was recently inducted into the service.

Jaycees in charge of the project announced that in addition to the three drug stores and Hamill's book store places to write and boxes for any gifts would also be placed in Hinebaugh's restaurant.

Response for Dwight Roy and Percy Thayer, selected last week, was considered good.

A. G. Hesen Named Mt. District Head Of American Legion

At the annual convention of the American Legion held at Cumberland last week-end A. G. Hesen, member of Proctor Kildow Post No. 71, of Oakland, was elected Mountain District commander, succeeding Howard Loughrie, of Cumberland. The district comprises Allegany and Garrett counties.

Hesen, Joseph Gonder and Earl Selders attended the convention as official delegates from the local post. Hesen said that the Oakland post had received a citation from the national headquarters for their civic activities, and was one of 11 in the entire state to receive such award.

Boy Scouts Return From Summer Camp

Sixteen Boy Scouts of the Oakland and Mt. Lake Park troops returned Monday morning from their summer encampment at the Scout camp on Deep Creek Lake.

The boys were under the supervision of Joseph P. Sollars, a former scout and an instructor in the public schools of the county.

Republicans Show Big Lead in Figures On Registration

Six Out of Twenty-five Voting Places on Tuesday Give 103 Republicans and 31 Democrats

Six out of twenty-five voting places in the county reporting registration figures for Tuesday give Republicans a better than three to one majority in new voters.

At the four precincts in Oakland and two others 103 Republicans had registered in comparison to 31 Democrats.

The figures are not official, as no returns are to be made to the Election Supervisors until after the final registration day and revision day prior to the general election. There will be two more registration days before the November election.

The figures obtained by The Republican this morning include the following:

District	Rep.	Dem.
No. 7-1, Oakland	14	2
No. 7-2, Oakland	13	10
No. 8-2, Red House	8	3
No. 10, Deer Park	27	5
No. 14-1, Oakland	13	3
No. 14-3, Oakland	28	8
Total	103	31

Dedication of Grave Marker To Feature Friend Reunion

Members of the Friend family in Garrett county and surrounding communities have planned a reunion and dedication service for Sunday, September 6, to be known as John Friend Day.

According to relatives John Friend, Sr., and his wife, Kerrenhappuch Hyatt, came to Garrett county in 1765 and were the first permanent settlers of the county, and August 28, 1776 John, Augustine and Gabriel Friend enrolled in the Skipton (Oldtown) company of Maryland militia for service in the Revolutionary war.

Members of the family will gather at the old Friend graveyard near the Methodist church in Friendsville at 11 o'clock for a dedication of a grave marker which the U. S. Government has provided for the grave of the veteran John Friend.

The Friend family reunion will be held after a basket lunch at the State Fish Hatchery park on Bear Creek, near Accident. A special program will be given and a business session will be held at 3 o'clock. A proposal to accept a donation of old logs from the Mathew's House for the rebuilding of the Friend Fort at Friendsville will be presented. Mrs. T. E. Bishoff is president of the society and Harvey Friend chairman of the reunion committee.

Jaycees Plan For Benefit Card Party

The Junior Chamber of Commerce members, at a meeting at the home of C. L. Briner, Jr., on Monday night, made plans for a benefit card party, to be held Thursday, September 24, in the Oakland Elementary school.

The proceeds from the party will go for work among the men in the armed forces. The Jaycees sponsor the "service man writing project."

It was also announced at the meeting that John Mordock, State president, had appointed Virgil B. Kelley as State chairman of the Jaycee fire prevention committee.

Rotary to Hear District Governor

Oakland Rotarians will hear an address from their district governor, Joseph S. Merritt, of Dundalk, Md., at their regular meeting tomorrow evening in the William-James hotel.

This is the official visit of the head of the 180th district of which Oakland is a part. There will be no other program.

DEMOCRATS AND REPUBLICANS TO PICK NOMINEES

Members Of Both Parties To Go To The Polls Tuesday to Decide On Candidates In The General Election

Adherents of both the Democratic and Republican parties in Garrett county as well as in the other counties of the State, will go to the polls next Tuesday, September 8th, in the battle of ballots, to decide their party's choices for candidates for various county, judicial, State and Federal offices.

The day will find only six Democrats battling to represent their party as candidates, and four of these seek the office of the Governorship of the Free State. The remaining two seek the nomination to represent Garrett county in the Maryland State Senate.

On the other hand thirty-two Republicans are out for places on the November ballot in which only fourteen of the number can be successful.

There are twenty-five polling places in Garrett county and they will be open next Tuesday from 6:00 o'clock A. M. until 7:00 o'clock P. M., according to notice concerning the primary published by the Board of Supervisors of Elections. Facsimiles of both Democratic and Republican ballots are printed in this issue of The Republican.

Republican contests are noted for Governor, Congressional Representative, Associate Judge of the Fourth Circuit, State Senator, members of the House of Delegates, County Treasurer, County Commissioners, Sheriff and members of the Republican State Central Committee.

There are no contests for Clerk of the Circuit Court, Judges of the Orphans' Court, Register of Wills, Surveyor or State's Attorney.

Candidates will have an opportunity for "eleventh hour" work and a final solicitation for votes on Labor Day, just one day previous to the election, as several picnics in various parts of the county will be in progress that day.

Just how heavy the vote will be is, of course, not known, and can hardly be estimated on account of the tire situation, absence of many in the service of the armed forces and employment in war industries, and the interest the people display in their privilege to cast their ballots for their preference.

Counting of votes will begin almost immediately after the polls close. In some of the precincts election officials may complete their work in a short time, but in others where the vote is expected to be heavy the officials will be employed until far into the night.

Celebration at Kitzmiller

United Mine Worker organizations of Shallmar and Kitzmiller have announced their seventh annual Labor Day celebration in the latter town on Monday, with all proceeds going for the benefit of the United Service Organization and Navy Relief campaign.

They have announced speaking, baseball, and two entertainments featuring radio artists Lee Moore and Juanita and the Sandy Valley Gang from station WMMN, at 2 and 8 p. m.

Red Cross Material For Surgical Dressings Has Been Received

The local Red Cross chapter has received the material out of which a large number of surgical dressings are to be made, it was announced by Mrs. Willard Elliott, who is to supervise the work.

She said the work would start next Tuesday, in the Fazzalari building, corner of Third and Alder streets, and urged those who had volunteered their services to report for duty.

Among those from Oakland attending the Lutheran conference at Jackson's Mill, West Va., this week are Dr. A. B. Leamer, pastor; Miss Grace Falkenstein, Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Hoffman, Mrs. Newton Coplin, Miss Elizabeth Leary, Mrs. Benj. H. Sincell and Ervin S. Smith.

All instructors of Oakland High school have been asked by Principal F. D. Bittle to meet for a discussion at the school next Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

FOOD AND PEACE

Two items of news, the establishment of communal kitchens for workers in Germany and the prospective rationing of meat in the United States, serve again to remind us of mankind's extraordinary aptitude for turning his good things into the sharpest sort of weapon. There are abundances of food the world over, and potentialities for even greater supplies, yet the hateful claims of aggression, greed, and cruelty deny an equitable distribution. This is a problem that will loom large in the postwar settlement.

Americans will not protest against meat rationing. Merely noting that their prospective allotment of 40 ounces a week contrasts with Britain's 16 ounces, Germany's 12½ ounces, and Belgium's 5, will quell complaints. Although the machinery of rationing is expensive and a nuisance, it appears to be the only fair way to apportion the abundances that still are not enough.

The reports suggest that Germany's decision to compel workers to eat in communal kitchens, where quantities and waste might be placed under stricter control, was made with great reluctance. Few steps could bring the war so close to the home front. It bespeaks the true food situation even inside the Reich more eloquently than the published ration figures. The situation in the occupied countries is not pleasant to contemplate.

Even in normal times, the agricultural balance had so shifted that the Old World was dependent upon the New for about 20 per cent of its food. With three successive harvests hampered by the war, there is now an agonizing demand in the Old World for the good things of the New.

And the New World is well supplied. The Sunday supplements have shown pictures for weeks now of farmers in the United States filling even their houses with the overflow of crops. The same is true in Canada. The economic problems of South America are largely problems of agricultural surpluses.

When the time comes, as it will, that the hand which feeds is not bitten, how great will be the opportunity for the peacemakers!

EDITORIALS EXTOL VIRTUES OF "SPARKY" CASTEEL

Eastern Shore newspapers have printed numerous editorials and expressions of sympathy from friends and associates of 2nd Lieut. Carroll W. "Sparky" Casteel, who was reported "missing in action" on August 12.

"Sparky", a son of Mrs. Margaret Casteel, Oakland, was a former managing editor of the Dorchester News, at Hurlock, and was still working in that capacity when he was accepted as a member of the flying cadets.

One of the best tributes to be published was one which appeared in the Preston News in an editorial as follows:

Down Under

"Somewhere in South Pacific tonight the Southern Cross has its counter-part in another Glowing Cross. Wherever it is we know that there rests in peace Lt. Carroll W. Casteel, the intrepid army air man who now is reported missing in the Battle of the Solomon islands. Let's continue hoping that he is just missing.

"His cheery smile and greeting for everyone was always there and we're sure that his comrades in the air service will remember him as we do.

"Forty-nine months ago to the day, (August 12) when the War Department notified his gracious mountain mother at Oakland that he was missing, he came to the Eastern Shore to take over the duties of managing editor of the Dorchester News at Hurlock. Little did anyone realize then that the terrible war now touching our very doors would claim such an outstanding and wholesome character as "Sparky."

"The young man came to the Shore and made so many real friends, in so short a three and one-half years but he had a natural bent for working with people and for newspaper work. He worked on one of the Oakland papers as a boy and was editor of the Washington College ELM, and lifted the Dorchester News from a corner county weekly to one of Maryland's best known newspapers.

"While still serving the paper he did his ground school work for the Air Service at Easton and then early in 1941 volunteered for world service.

"The NEWS proudly presented him his commission bars and eagerly awaited news of his promotion that it might have the honor of replacing the gold with engraved silver bars.

"We had hoped that the war would soon be over and that "Sparky" would be coming back home to run his paper—but—

And shining down from out a starlit sky,
The constellation of the Southern Cross gleams through the night,
Mute pledges both that Truth will never die
That Right will ever triumph over Might."

"Sparky" was equally well known and liked in his earlier days while still in Oakland.

We hesitated in paying any final tribute of respect to him through these columns, because somehow there is a feeling that persists that while there is no definite news, there is still hope.

It may take months to learn the truth, and in fact it may never be known, but we can cling to that faint ray of light that he is just "missing," and will sometime in the future return to his base.

DIARY OF THE WAR

FRIDAY — Russians held before Stalingrad but the situation was still one of peril as Hitler moved a million men into the battle. Hitler's men were within 52 miles of Grozny oil fields. Allies concentrated on air action. American planes raiding German shipyards in Rotterdam, Russian planes bombing Berlin, and RAF bombing the invasion coast of France. Japs made landing on Milne Bay in New Guinea in attempt to finally take Port Moresby. Japs withdrew from Tulagi in Solomons. Japs were retreating in China and American bombers were raiding the Jap base at Lashio, North Burma.

SATURDAY—Allied bombers raided number of points on continent. At least 600 RAF planes were in action. Around Stalingrad counter-assaults by defenders checked Nazi progress and Russians were beating into Rzhev, winter headquarters for the Nazis last year. U. S. Navy cautioned against claiming any major defeat of Jap navy. Forces were still engaged around Milne Bay in New Guinea. Chinese captured airdrome at Chuhsien, the biggest in China and in control of another base at Lishui. RAF planes and flyers joined American air forces along Atlantic coast to combat U-boat menace.

SUNDAY — American fortresses were all safe in a seventh foray over Europe and British continued their attacks also with many planes. U. S. navy bombers blasted three Jap destroyers in Solomons area and army bombers gave support in New Guinea area. Chinese reported Japs were fleeing but that their forces were weakened by withdrawals to other areas. Russians were turning Stalingrad defense into Verdun. Chile was still firm against any war move in spite of Brazil's action.

MONDAY—Defenders of Stalingrad drove Germans back while comrades in Caucasus repulsed every attack. Russian offensive west of Moscow gained such force that Nazis admitted its partial success. It was the last full month of summer and the close of the third year of war for Germany. The amazing Chinese offensive continued to rout Japs from two provinces and they were storming outskirts of Nanchang, main enemy base. Japs apparently were withdrawing forces for other ventures. Japs put reinforcements ashore on New Guinea at Milne Bay and results of five-day battle were inconclusive. British shelled German positions on Egyptian coast. Russians bombed German cities. French became preoccupied with Dakar in Africa since Brazil had declared war. U. S. Navy broke up air raids on Guadalcanal in Solomons.

TUESDAY—Rommel opened up a tank attack on Allies in Egypt. Nazis drove a new wedge southwest of Stalingrad but Russians continued to gain in vicinity of Kletskaya. Chinese scored further advances against Japs. Hitler told the German people they were fighting in order "to be or not to be" and asked for the fullest sacrifice this winter. Australians were lauded by their countrymen for their defeat of Japs at Milne Bay. Navy announced more than 150 warships of all kinds would be launched or have keels laid on Labor Day. Japanese were told by their leaders that they must be prepared for attacks by U. S. Allied bombers raided Egyptian supply lines of Axis.

WEDNESDAY—Nazi forces were battling American and British troops in desert, and in sky Allies were fighting impressively. There was nothing decisive about Rommel's progress. Togo resigned as Japan's foreign minister and Tojo took over, who is known to favor attack against Russia. Chinese kept hard on heels of withdrawing Japs. In south Pacific all five of Jap lodgments on New Guinea were under concentrated attack. There were ground clashes in the Salumaua sector. British planes struck at France and the German radio was silent. The Red line was sagging at Stalingrad in places but at others Russians were attacking.

THURSDAY—Germans were battering with maximum strength at Stalingrad and were within ten miles of city in the south. On the north Russians beat back the wedge. Rommel in Egypt seemed to be waiting for decision at Stalingrad before pressing his three-day-old offensive which had advanced ten miles. U. S. bombers were ranging Mediterranean and bombed Axis convoys. Willkie arrived by plane in Cairo enroute to Russia. Presence of Americans in Belgian Congo on Allied supply route across Africa to west coast of Egypt was disclosed. The War Secretary's assistant said there were more than a half million U. S. soldiers stationed outside the U. S. RAF and Red bombers continued attacks on continent. The possibility of Japs attacking Siberia engaged attention of military leaders.

Casting the Die

GORTNER

Charles Walls, of Grantsville, spent the week-end here and on Sunday he preached in the local church.

Evangelist Ralph Arbaugh, Martinsburg, will conduct a series of meetings here beginning on Sunday, September 6th and closing the 13th.

The corn and weiner roast and picnic sponsored by the sewing circles of the community was held at Swan Meadow school on Tuesday instead of at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Swartzentruber, as planned because of the continued illness of Mr. Swartzentruber. The affair was largely attended with the husbands and children of the members as guests. Mr. Swartzentruber is improving and Mrs. Swartzentruber will entertain the Union circle at the October meeting. Red House circle is urging a good turn out at the Wednesday meeting in the church.

Sergeant and Mrs. Harlan Beckman from Washington visited Mrs. Albert Sisk one day last week.

Mr. and Ms. Ernest Gortner and son have moved from the dwelling at the corner to their recently acquired home, known as the A. R. Martin property. Mr. Gortner has improved the house by having it painted.

Noah Slabach is painting Hervey Roth's dwelling.

Miss Betty Swartzentruber spent Sunday at Ray Gnegy's, Pleasant Valley.

Allen Petersheim has gone to Meyersdale where he has employment.

Ernest Spoerlein returned to his home here Saturday from College Park where he had been attending school all the summer.

Miss Mattie Davis was the victim of an attack of appendicitis one day last week.

Asa Maury spent several days last week with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gnegy in Pleasant Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Noah Slabach, Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Beckman visited Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Beckman Saturday evening. Mrs. Beckman has been ill and bedfast most all summer at her home near Loch Lynn.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Swartzentruber and son Richard spent Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Beeghley.

Mr. and Mrs. Joel Gnegy, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shaffer, of Red House, were guests at dinner Sunday, honoring the birthday anniversary of Miss Lena Slabach.

Mrs. Adam Teets, Mrs. Robert C. Twigg and son, of Flintstone, and John Burkholder, of Brandonville, W Va., visited the latter's sister, Mrs. Noah Schrock and Mrs. Albert Sisk on Thursday. John Twigg left on Monday for Camp Meade.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fulk and children visited with Aurora relatives on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Yoder attended the funeral of the late Ernest Bowser at Maple Grove church near Avilton on Sunday.

Betty and Harriet Swartzentruber visited Mrs. Woodrow Bake, of Baltimore, at the home of her parents at Silver Knob one evening last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sisk attended a birthday party honoring Mrs. Geo. Ferguson at Bethlehem on Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Spoerlein, Miss Betty Swartzentruber, Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Schlossnagle and daughter Helen attended a preaching service at Fairview, near Table Rock on Sunday evening, the preacher being Evangelist Arbaugh.

Eloise Johnson returned home from a visit with her aunt, Mrs. McRobie, at Kitzmiller.

Nina Lohr spent Sunday with Gertrude Slabach.

Mrs. Howard Keiper, Leona and Robert Dodge were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Benj. Knepp on Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Yoder and sons were week-end guests of Mr. Yoder's parents near Springs, Pa.

The lone pedestrian going home on Saturday after midnight singing lustily to himself, aroused much interest and comment among the people of the community, but as rubber becomes less, folks will become accustomed to songs in the night.

The war department disclosed that 18,967 civilians with no previous experience had received army commissions during June and July, but this included needed doctors and technical men.

A Federal jury convicted Rev. Molzahn, 47, Philadelphia minister and former officer in German army in 1917, of plotting with others to deliver American military secrets to Axis.

FOR HOUSE OF DELEGATES
VOTE FOR
OTHO S. FIKE
District No. 15, Avilton

To The Republican Voters:

I am a candidate for the Republican nomination as a member of the House of Delegates from this county and solicit your vote and influence at the coming primary election on September 8.

I served in this capacity upon a previous occasion and gave a fair, honest and impartial administration of my duties as a representative of all citizens and taxpayers.

I was born in this county and have lived here all my life where I have been engaged in farming for a number of years. I am a heavy taxpayer and have always been a staunch Republican supporter in county, state and national affairs.

If nominated and elected it will be my pleasure to serve the citizens of this county to the very best of my ability.

Very sincerely yours,
OTHO S. FIKE

For State Senator

I hereby announce my candidacy for the Democratic nomination for State Senator from Garrett County, subject to the primary to be held on September 8th.

I am connected with no clique or faction and if I am nominated and elected, I shall accord to all, without regard to party faction or clique, a respectful and unprejudiced hearing at all times and shall honestly endeavor to serve my native county and all of its citizens to the best of my ability.

I pledge to use the major portion of my time at the State Capitol, to secure some real worthwhile legislation, beneficial to our County, which is not now and has not been receiving consideration in a legislative way in proportion to benefits had by other counties in our State.

I have been actively engaged in business in Garrett County over a period of twenty years, during which time I have been in close touch with the affairs of the county and feel that I am fully acquainted with its needs and can creditably represent its people in this most important office.

I solicit your favorable consideration and assure you it will be deeply appreciated.

BERNARD I. GONDER.

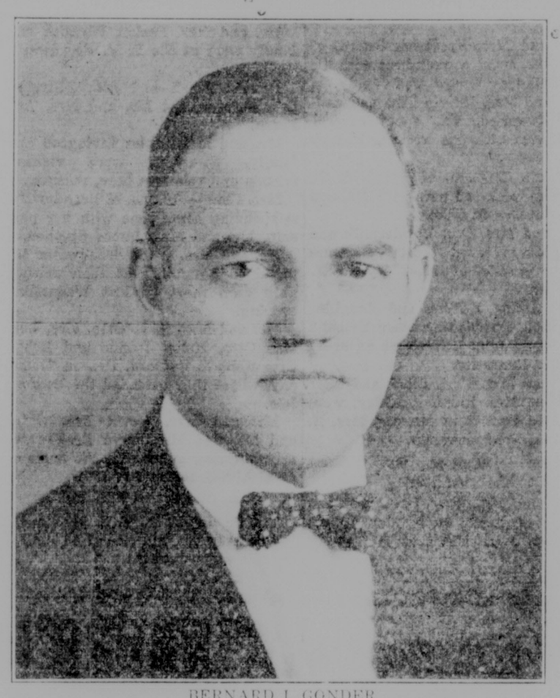
Candidate for The State Senate



BERNARD I. GONDER

To The Democrats of Garrett County:

Four years ago, by our combined efforts, and your support, I made a grand run for the State Senate, falling short only 170 votes of being elected. I am again a candidate for this most important office, and your influence and support will be most graciously received by me at the coming primary election, September 8.

If I am nominated, you can depend on me to conduct a real fighting campaign in the General Election, and with your aid, we will go over the top this time.

Garrett County has been shamefully neglected in the past in the State Legislature and it is time that we awaken to this fact. We cannot expect to accomplish our fair share of legislation beneficial to our County until we send representatives who are able to work with the party in power. Why kid ourselves?

I am not a newcomer, unknown to the voters. I was born, as well as all of my immediate family, and reared, in Garrett County. I have been actively engaged in business for the past 20 years. I know the needs of our county and I will do all within my power to see that Garrett County is better known in the State of Maryland, for its natural resources, wonderful farming lands, and above all, its marvelous scenery and possibilities as a recreational center and summer resort.

It is high time Garrett County be known and considered as an integral part of the State of Maryland, in so far as beneficial legislation is concerned, and it is my purpose, if elected, to see that this is accomplished.

Timely "Deaths"

More grandmothers are dying—every day—in western Maryland than ever before, if we are to believe the autoists in Baltimore who ask for just a "little bit more gas" enough to get to the funeral service.

Filling station operators in Baltimore have reported that many motorists come to them every day with tales of "tragedy." Always they are grandmothers or aunts in Oakland, Cumberland, Frostburg, or from a town far enough from Baltimore to necessitate the purchase of more gasoline than rationing allows.

It is the same old story under a different name. Office boys used to use that gag to get off from work so they could attend a big league baseball game. There's nothing new under the sun.

A full-page in the rotogravure section of The Sun of two weeks ago showed how people were spending Sunday, since they couldn't go for a ride in their automobiles. There were several suggestions as to what to do, but going to church and Sunday school was not even mentioned. The large newspapers could lead in bringing more people to worship services, by pointing out this necessity to the masses.

More of it will be necessary before this war is over, and more of it will be in evidence as casualty lists increase.

Pastor's Confession

A pastor in a much bombed country in Europe makes the following confession, and who knows but that we might be in the same fix:

FORGIVE US, LORD

"We have been a pleasure-loving people, dishonoring God's day, picnicking and bathing; now the seashores are barred, no picnics, no bathing. We have preferred motor travel to church going; now there is a shortage of fuel oil. We have ignored the ringing of the church bells calling us to worship; now the bells cannot ring except to warn of invasion. We have left the churches half empty when they should have been filled with worshippers; now they are in ruins. We would not listen to the way of peace; now we are forced to listen to the way of war. The money we would not give to the Lord's work now is taken from us in taxes and higher prices. The food for which we forgot to say thanks now is unobtainable. The service we refused to give to God now is conscripted for the country. Lives we refused to live under God's control now are under the nation's control. Nights we would not spend in watching unto prayer now are spent in anxious air-raid precautions."

"Scoop," Care The Republican,
Oakland, Maryland.

Dear Sir:—Quoting the final paragraph of your column in a recent issue of The Republican, "Most of you know Garrett county pretty well. Is it similar to Baltimore county or isn't it?"

I should say, with reference to nickel machines, that, population considered, Garrett county is perhaps as well supplied with pin-ball machines as any similar settled area in the United States. I believe, roughly estimating, that there is one machine in this county to each one hundred people.

If everyone would study nickel machines the way they study a new suit or a book before buying, to be sure they get their money's worth, there would be no nickel machines. School children wouldn't feed their nickels into pin-ball machines and go back to school at lunch time with no nourishment except the memory of a few attractive, brilliantly-colored lights.

All gambling is a business—the customer is the "sucker." And that goes for everything from penny punchboards to horse racing.

There are 250,000 gambling devices in the United States. Playing the pinball machine isn't immoral—it perhaps isn't a great sin—but it's plain dumb, for machines are set to give two people—the manager and the owner—a very handsome profit, while Mr. Customer gets, usually, nothing. Most machines can be set to pay from ten to one to ten thousand to one, according to a report issued by Miss Elizabeth Allen, a prominent gambling oppositionist.

Miss Allen says: "Pin-ball machines are put in attractive places by a business concern to make money. They're not fooling. They want YOUR nickel. But when customers feed miles of nickels into machines in the United States every day, they should remember that nickels buy War Stamps, too."

Very truly yours,
WILBERT N. SAVAGE.

For Sheriff

MARK H. MOON

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County:

The response to the announcement of my candidacy for nomination for Sheriff of our County has been very gratifying to me. My friends everywhere have expressed their confidence in my ability to serve in this important office and to enforce the law and perform the other duties of Sheriff of Garrett County impartially, without fear or favor.

With this encouragement, if I am elected I shall have the added responsibility of keeping faith with all of my friends who have been so kind. I pledge myself to keep faith with you, the voters and citizens of this County, to serve to the utmost of my ability, and to try to be one of the best Sheriffs this County has ever had.

I know that, with the experience I have had, I will be able to keep that pledge and answer my responsibility to the County and my friends.

Respectfully yours,
MARK H. MOON

COMMISSIONERS MEETING

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN That the Board of County Commissioners for Garrett County, Maryland, will be in session for the transaction of all routine business that may properly come before them on MONDAY AND TUESDAY,

SEPTEMBER 21 AND 22, 1942,

By order of the Board—
W. G. MEYERS, Clerk.

To The Voters of Garrett County:

Why does not Lawrence Fraley stick to the facts in his campaign for Senator?

I am informed that Mr. Fraley is taking credit for improvement of the streets in Oakland, and for increased wages to town employees. I am not in this campaign, but feel that in justice and fairness some things should be straightened out.

In the first place, the streets of Oakland were improved during the time that Grover C. Stemple served as Mayor and I served as Chairman of the Street Committee.

Wages were increased on my recommendation and it was the first time that town employees were given a living wage. I am told that since Mr. Fraley started his campaign that he recommended another increase so that he would have something to talk about. The real wage increase was not brought about by him, although he had plenty of opportunity to help the working man, but did not do it.

Mr. Fraley is telling the laboring man that he is with him. I have been a hard working man all my life and have employed men at good living wages for many years and I know something about the workingman's problems.

Mr. Fraley has made many promises, but has he made them good?

Yours truly,
J. W. WHORTON

Tax Payers of Garrett County TAKE NOTICE!

It has been brought to my attention that the present Board of County Commissioners are making a denial of some of the exorbitant expenditures of their office.

I wish to enlighten the taxpayers on a few of these expenditures.

During the term of the present Board of County Commissioners they have paid to Wooden and Benson, Auditors, over $23,000.00; to Attorneys over $7,000.00—practically all of this to Attorneys outside of Garrett County.

If there should be a complete check of the records there may be more additional "hidden", expenditures paid to these parties out of the various levies.

The above expenditures are a matter of record in the Court House and can be investigated by any citizen wishing to do so.

Have you taxpayers ever questioned who is paying the expense of the present campaign for re-election of these County Commissioners for automobiles, gasoline, etc?

Has anyone ever checked with their Road Office to see how much money the Commissioners have received direct and disbursed by them. I requested a statement of this as a taxpayer and was refused it.

Do you taxpayers know that there is no record of these receipts and disbursements other than that in Road Office, and that the County Commissioners are not under one cent of bond?

No doubt they will, at the last minute, bring out another yellow sheet, (or some other color) printed on the mimeograph machine purchased by these County Commissioners and paid for by the taxpayers of Garrett County, which machine the Grand Jury compelled them to present before that Honorable Body, but which has never been used for County purposes other than trying to discredit me, but I am willing to stand on my record.

Perhaps they may be aided in this by Wooden and Benson, trying to save their face. There has been a lot in the news recently about this face-saving. Hitler and Hirohito have been using propaganda for that purpose.

Look at the ability of these auditors: In the report of Levy for 1942 made up by Wooden and Benson, on page 28, of the 1942 Levy book, you will note an error of $300.00 in their multiplication on State taxes. On page 29, error in addition on 1942 "revenue" of $27,000.11.

This is not an error of the printer, as they may try to make it appear, as it has been checked and rechecked with the proof delivered by them to the printer. Some Auditors.

Oh yes; I was indicted by the Grand Jury on a charge concocted by them, but I was also exonerated by the Court. These Commissioners were also indicted by the Grand Jury and they have not as yet been exonerated of the charge against them.

If you will check over the Auditors' reports, you will find other errors, as I have only called your attention to a few.

What does this mean to you?

Two members of the present Board of County Commissioners running for re-election and the third member running for Treasurer.

If their scheme should work, they would have everything their own way.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS . . . .

By FRANK R. KENT

The Atmosphere Cleared

Washington, Aug. 11.

In the last few weeks there, happily, has been a marked decrease in discussion of two subjects, concerning which few of those who did the discussing knew anything at all worth while. One of these is the "second front"; the other is the management of the world after victory has been achieved.

An incalculable number of words have been written and spoken on these subjects. The "second front" developed hundreds of amateur military strategists who analyzed the factors with great profundity and pointed out exactly where and when the "second front" should be established and how maintained. So far as post-war planning is concerned, there still remain some twenty-odd governmental agencies and about 220 unofficial organizations which are devoting themselves exclusively to that cloudy activty. For a while they made a great noise. Recently, they have been relatively silent.

There are two reasons for this. One is that the war is going so badly for our side that it has become absurd to protrude views as to what must be done after the war is over. Victory, it is agreed, will be ours in the end, but the end is a long way off and the struggle is now of a character to make it seem silly to concentrate thought and energy upon anything save winning it. With the Russians fighting desperately to hold the invader; with the Japanese still in the Aleutian Islands; with the British again on the defensive in Egypt, and our own munitions program imperiled by a lack of raw material, it is not easy to be patient with those who now insist upon picturing an Utopia to follow the peace terms.

That is one reason for the present almost inarticulate state of the post-war planners. The other is that the able speech of Secretary of State Hull, delivered two weeks ago, has dissipated the moonshine with which the post-war world has been so liberally smeared. So large a dose of common sense was injected into the situation that its entire aspect changed. Under its impact, many of what seemed to be very bright ideas, indeed, dissolved and disappeared. It is interesting to note, for example, that since Mr. Hull's speech that "great historic utterance" of Vice-President Wallace's, in which he outlined a post-war world dripping with milk and honey for everybody, has hardly been mentioned. Nor, indeed, has the speech of Mr. Sumner Welles, which followed Mr. Wallace's and was hailed as supplementing and sustaining it.

The fact is that what Mr. Wallace and Mr. Welles said about the post-war world has been quite forgotten. This is not a surprise to those who at the time were unable to find in them anything about which to get excited, but it must be mortifying to the enthusiastic gentlemen who compared Mr. Wallace to Lincoln and linked his speech with the Gettysburg address. Not only did the plain talk of Mr. Hull obliterate the soggy sentences in the "great historic utterance" but his impregnable soundness, plus the expressed approval of the President, make his statements the one recognized basis for future post-war discussion. From now on, it will be to the Hull speech, and to no other, that those who wish to write or speak on this subject will refer.

So clearly did he present the practical facts that repetition of the evangelical forecasts of how lovely the world would be after we win has become impossible. Mr. Hull brought the whole business down to earth, and since he spoke on the post-war situation no one else has—or is likely to. Putting an end to the absurd outpourings of these phony prophets was one of the really benign effects of the Hull speech.

As for the "second front," two things have discouraged those who are so vociferously demanding its immediate creation. One is that the public, clearly, was becoming bored with the amateur strategists. Somehow the fact that this is a decision that should be made only by the professional military heads without any sentimental, political or emotional considerations, and without pressure from outside, has sunk into the public consciousness. The second thing is that there is now a far wider understanding of what a terrible disaster a "second front" that could not be sustained would be. That would be another Dunkirk. That would be a major calamity. That might lose the war.

In no other way, military authorities say, can we lose the war. Soon or late the second front will be established. Nothing else makes sense. But neither popular clamor nor pressure from Russia or from anywhere else should stampede those in whose hands the decision rests. That they should not be stampeded is vital to the cause of the United Nations. These facts not only have seeped into the popular mind but they have penetrated the somewhat feverish mentality of the journalistic warriors who have been leading the pack urging a second front regardless of the risk. The criminal silliness of this is now so clear that those who have been advocating it have been shamed into silence. The only ones who still screech for a second front regardless of the risk are persons to whom no one pays attention. It is undoubtedly true that the general atmosphere is more salubrious since the starry-eyed post-war planners and the "regardless-of-risk" second-fronters have been throttled down.

Sisler Family Reunion Held Near Terra Alta

The fourth annual reunion of the Sisler family, descendants of George and Clara Wolfe Sisler, was held Sunday, August 30, at Dority School house, or better known as "Possum Hollow," near Terra Alta.

Mr. and Mrs. Sisler setled near there seventy-seven years ago when the country was a wilderness. They cleared the land and built a home on it and reared a family of sixteen children, all deceased except Joe F. Sisler, the present owner of the old Sisler homestead on top of the mountain near Dority. His great-grandfather migrated to the United States from Germany and settled in Eastern Pennsylvania, later moving to Blooming Rose, in this county. Their rightful name was spelled "Schisler," but they Anglicized it to Sisler, which was more convenient. The great-great-grandfather served as a soldier in the Revolutionary war under General George Washington, according to relatives.

Just recently it has been learned that the remains of Lewis Wetzel, an uncle of Clara Wolfe Sisler, famous Indian fighter and scout of pioneer days, were interred with military honors on August 2, 1942, in the McCreary cemetery in Moundsville beside the graves of his mother and a brother.

The services were in charge of the Rev. Harry W. McCombs, a descendant of the Wetzel family. The body had been in a mortuary vault since March 8, when Dr. Albert W. Bowser, of Chicago, brought the remains to Moundsville after finding the Wetzel grave in Natchez, Miss., last winter. Identification was made through pieces of buckskin clothing, bullets and portions of a rifle found in the Natchez burial ground.

A basket dinner was enjoyed Sunday by about one hundred and sixty members and friends of the family, after which they were entertained by singing.

Notice was served upon college students to prepare themselves physically and vocationally for sudden calls to active participation in the war effort.

ACCIDENT

Twenty members of the Accident Homemakers' club enjoyed a corn and weiner roast at the home of Mrs. Foster Yost last Wednesday night.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reichter were Misses Leola and Gertrude Reichter, Mrs. Jessie Aiken, Mrs. William Miller and her daughter Lena.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Weitzell and family, Mr. and Mrs. Randall Weitzell, Harland Weitzell, Miss Turner, of Washington, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Weitzell.

Fred Alexander and family and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Alexander were visiting friends in Connellsville on Sunday.

Marvin Callis and family, of Milford, Del., are spending the week with Mrs. Callis's mother, Mrs. W. A. Speicher.

Pvt. Marvin Schlossnagle was accompanied to his home here by his sister Miss Mabel, from Fort Meade.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Fritz and William Kerr, Frostburg, and Miss Doris Fritz, of Garrett, Pa., were Sunday guests at the home of Mrs. W. A. Speicher.

Eugene Schlossnagle has returned home after spending two weeks with boys from thirty-three States in Canada at the Purina Mills in St. Louis and two weeks at the American Youth Camp on the shores of Lake Michigan.

Percy Soper and family and Mrs. L. B. Armstrong, of Gaithersburg, spent Sunday night and Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Foster Yost.

B. O. Aiken and family, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Miller and son, Miss Lorena Aiken were guests on Saturday evening of Mr. and Mrs. William Miller.

Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Schlossnagle were Mr. and Mrs. Clark Schlossnagle and family, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Schlossnagle and daughter, of Cresaptown; Pvt. Marvin Schlossnagle, of Fort Meade; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Alexander, Mrs. Elizabeth Layman, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Spoerlein, Miss Louise Dillon and Robert Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bowman, of Baltimore, spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Deal.

Strikes in war industries caused a loss of 1,130,687 man days' work during the first seven months of this year and that 295,734 workers ignored the pledge of labor and industry leaders not to strike.

A Statement by Lawrence M. Fraley Candidate for State Senator.

To My Friends and Supporters Throughout the County:

I want to express my appreciation for the many expressions of encouragement that I have received from Republican voters in every section of Garrett County since announcing my candidacy for the Republican nomination for State Senator.

Many hundreds of taxpayers have assured me that they were in accord with my views that there should be no bond issues for any purpose without giving the people an opportunity to vote thereon.

I have also received many messages of approval of other statements made by me in my first announcement and I want to say again that if I am nominated and later elected, it shall be my purpose and intention to serve all of the people of the County to the very best of my ability and I shall at all times be glad to discuss with you matters concerning legislation and what would be to the best interest of the County. It shall be my purpose to be your Senator 365 days of the year and ready at any and all times to meet with you and work for the good of all.

VOTE FOR LAWRENCE M. FRALEY FOR STATE SENATOR

To the Voters and Citizens of Garrett County:

For some time past many of the citizens and voters of Garrett County have expressed to me their wish that I become a candidate for the Republican nomination for State Senator for Garrett County. I have filed my certificate of candidacy for this office, feeling that my past experience fully qualifies me to successfully fill this important office.

I have been a life long resident of Garrett County and have always been a loyal Republican and active party worker. I have served as Chairman of the Republican State Central Committee and on numerous occasions been a delegate to Republican State Conventions and was a delegate from Maryland at the last Republican National Convention at Philadelphia.

For the past thirty years I have been active in business in Garrett County, have served as Postmaster at Oakland, served as President of the City Council of Oakland and have been elected Mayor of Oakland seven times, and am at the present time its Mayor. I am also serving as Director of Civilian Defense for the Southern Section of Garrett County. In both my official and civilian activities, I have always done everything in my power to bring to our County business enterprises, and have always been active in advertising and interesting others in our many resources. I was one of the organizers of the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department and have been an active member since its organization and have served as its President.

By reason of my long and varied experience, I feel that I am qualified to serve the people of this County as their Senator at Annapolis, and if nominated and elected, I will do my utmost to serve all of the people of the County with courtesy, and it will be my purpose to advise with and consult the people of the county on legislative matters.

In the present National emergency it is the duty of everyone to do his part towards the successful prosecution of the war and at a time when we are all called upon to make sacrifices and additional taxes are imposed upon us, I favor the strictest economy in normal governmental expenses, consistent with good government.

I am opposed to any legislative enactment providing for the bonding of the County for any purpose without a referendum, giving the people of the County the opportunity to express their opinion.

I will work for, and strive to interest others in the many natural resources of our County.

I believe that there can be improvement in the preservation and propagation of the fish and wild life in our County, and I promise the sportsmen of the County that if I am nominated and elected I will cooperate and work with them towards this end.

I have always believed in fair treatment of the laboring man and if nominated and elected I shall continue to support that policy.

Our County has some of the finest agricultural sections to be found anywhere and it shall be my purpose to support any legislation that is beneficial to the farmer and that will help the farmers of Garrett County.

We have here an unsurpassed recreational area and I have done my utmost to advertise and promote this great natural resource and if I am elected to serve you at Annapolis I am confident that I will be able to do much more than I have done in the past, through contact with State and Government officials.

I believe if proper effort is made, more coal and agricultural products from this County can be used by our State institutions and I shall work to accomplish that result.

When peace comes, the people of our State and County will face many serious problems, and if I am your representative at that time I shall lend my aid and support to those who have served their country in its armed forces and help them in every possible way in their return to civilian life.

Because of the short period of time now remaining before the primary, it will not be possible for me to see personally each voter, but I solicit the support of my friends throughout the County.

DIED

MRS. E. C. SHAFFER

Funeral services were conducted Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock for Mrs. Anna Sarah Smith Shaffer, widow of E. C. Shaffer, who died Saturday morning, August 29, at 8:30 o'clock at her home on the Mt. Lake Park road.

Services were held from the home with Rev. Olonzo Fike, of Mt. Lake Park, officiating. Interment was in the cemetery at Terra Alta, W. Va.

The deceased was born in Keyser, W. Va., a daughter of the late James and Hannah Smith and was aged 76. She and her husband moved to Oakland about fifteen years ago, and had previously resided at Terra Alta and Keyser.

Surviving are seven children, Mrs. Howard Hoffman and William W. Shaffer, of Oakland; Roy Shaffer, of Cumberland; Mrs. Charles Van Horton, of Clarksburg, W. Va.; Mrs. Bertha Grumbaugh, Mrs. Grace Nye and Estelle Shaffer, of Fairmont, W. Va., also nine grandchildren.

FRANCIS HOWARD WHITE

Francis Howard White, manager of the Whites Garage and Service Station, Third street, died suddenly last Friday evening, August 28, at his home, after having been ill a short time. He was aged 40 years.

Deceased was a son of Mrs. Catherine Shaffer White and the late Thomas R. White and was born in Oakland, May 15, 1902. Except for two years spent in Michigan he spent his entire life in this community. He was married to Rose Murphy in 1931.

He was a member of St. Peter's Catholic church and funeral services were conducted from there on Monday morning at 9 o'clock with Rev. John C. Broderick, pastor, in charge. Interment was in the Catholic cemetery. Pallbearers were Hugh Teets, Russell Brown, L. M. Fraley, Leo Kreyenbuhl, F. R. Shaffer and Leo Helbig.

TEAGLE T. TRADER

He was a son of the late Calvin and Margaret Sutton Trader and was born in Fayette county, Pa., October 1, 1864.

Surviving are one sister, Mrs. Eva Hardesty, Oakland; and one brother, Emory C. Trader, Hopwood, Pa.; also seven nieces and six nephews.

A brief funeral service was held in Washington on Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock and the remains were then brought to the Leighton Funeral Home in Oakland, where services were conducted Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in charge of Rev. George W. Roth, of Deer Park. Interment was in the Oakland cemetery.

Pallbearers were Ray Trader and Mr. Rutter, Hopwood; Edgar Hardesty, William C. Hardesty, Randall Jordan and Carl Kitzmiller, all of Oakland.

Wendell Willkie will visit eight countries in middle east as representative of the President to tell them what American production is accomplishing.

Washington Snapshots

By JAMES PRESTON

Rumors of a general WPB shakeup are misleading. The war program proceeds apace according to the Nelson-war-navy program of last March. Under this agreement Army and Navy would take over: (1) production scheduling; (2) contract renegotiation; (3) review of plant construction; (4) purchasing procedures, as rapidly as possible. Raw material shortages have dictated some quick shifts and others may follow, but the basic plan remains the same. Most significant shift is Army and Navy control over priority ratings.

PRP is under fire. A substitute program, generally referred to as the contract production plan, is advocated by a number of high military officials. The Army version, soon to be tried out in the radio industry, would include in each contract, warrants to obtain materials when needed. The plan, under WPB scrutiny for a year, was originally discarded because of its power virtually to eliminate civilian industry. As the job of Army and Navy Departments is to fight, they are not unduly concerned with civilian industry. Under-Secretary of War Patterson warns that further drastic cuts will have to be made in civilian goods production. Seriousness of raw material shortages, as emphasized in a resolution by the WPB labor policy committee, may force as many as a thousand war production plants to cut production.

Announcement of the Administration's wage stabilization program, now on the President's desk, is due this week. Labor's vigorous opposition to OPA's wage-czar plan forced a compromise. The program envisages fixing wages in dispute and contemplates a set-up for voluntary wage increase approval. It is expected to follow the "Little Steel" 15 per cent formula which still permits wage increases in substandard areas. WLB inaugurated the new policy even before its announcement by the White House.

The War Manpower Commission is holding its fire until after elections. Before requesting legislative authority to "shift labor to areas of critical shortages and compel transfer of individuals to war production work," WMC wants a clear cut wage stabilization policy, which means statutory labor priorities, an effective form of labor draft. Washington officials believe new powers granted WLB will be used to carry out the following recommendations of Chairman Davis:

1. A wide organization among employer and management groups "as a method to promote equality of barganing power between management and labor."

2. Industry-wide collective bargaining as the "logical step which makes for greater stability throughout an industry, more responsible unions, and puts management on a more fair and equitable basis so far as wage costs are concerned." Employer member Lapham has been contending vigorously that more responsible unions are essential to stable labor relations.

AFTER THREE YEARS

September 1, 1939, is the date usually given for the beginning of this war. Historians may put it back to September 18, 1931, when Japan broke loose in Manchuria, or even back to August 1, 1914, when war was declared between Germany and Russia. Many of the causes of that outbreak went on working after November 11, 1918.

Certainly for China, Ethiopia, Spain and Czechoslovakia the war began before 1939. We know now that the whole period in which the Nazis were piling up hate and weapons was not peace. But the day the Wehrmacht rolled into Corridor and German planes rained bombs on Polish airfields is generally accepted as the date that most clearly and formally opened this war.

Many people thought this was a struggle for Danzig! Even after Hitler had proved that the Sudetenland was not the issue at Munich! In the crisis hours, with even Mussolini urging Hitler not to strike, many clung to the hope that the Nazis would see Britain's new firmness and somehow avoid a general war.

When the blow fell Poland fought bravely—as everyone knew she would and as she still fights on half a dozen fronts—and better than we then realized. But in less than a month it was over and Hitler thought Britain and France would make peace. To their honor they refused. After that came the foolish talk of a "phony" war, while the Germans made plans and weapons for the drive that swept over Europe.

For nearly a year then Britain stood practically alone, digging in and digging out, beating back the worst the Nazis could throw at her. Today we might well remember what that heroic stand meant to the rest of the world. Similarly the gallant resistance of little Greece and the unconquerable Yugoslavs delayed the attack on Russia and may have helped to save Moscow.

Pearl Harbor completed the picture of open, global war. But despite the wonderful showing of Russia and the potential power of the United States, Germany and Japan have pushed their conquests over amazing spaces. Only in East Africa, some parts of Russia, and the Solomon Islands have the United Nations gained against the Axis. And on the third anniversary of the attack on Poland a dangerous Nazi offensive appears to be opening in Egypt.

Such is the physical pattern of this war. What of its mental pattern? What is it all about? The answers have been given hundreds of times, but the occasion may give new meaning to old words and help us to keep clear the purposes which must be firmly held if we are to stop this war—really stop it with a genuine peace—before it has run many times three years.

Possibly the simplest key to the struggle is that of a world-wide revolution. That revolution was not started by Hitler, nor is it embraced in any ism. It represents changes in the thinking of men and in their ways of living together, upheaval caused by resistance to new aspirations and freedoms. Indeed, Naziism is in large degree a counter-revolution, an attempt to deny and prevent the unfolding of man's true nature as a spiritual, reasoning, self-governing being.

While this conflict between two concepts of man is the most fundamental issue in the struggle it is plainly affected by others, some of which cut across the main lines. No one should deny that there are vast political forces involved which have made strange bedfellows.

Most clearly on the political side, the war is one of deciding how a world suddenly grown small shall be integrated and ordered. A world in which an airplane can fly from Australia to the United States in thirty-six hours and in which small nations cannot maintain their rights by force and large nations of colored races demand equality, must find some method of government. Who is to control in this world—nations which manifest some degree of Christian freedom and justice, or those dominated by despotism and violence?

Across this new pattern of internationalism runs strange threads of sharp nationalism. The machine age is also making nations feel the necessity of greater integration, of new social controls in which the individual seems gravely threatened, while groups obtain new freedoms.

Few today can discern the full pattern of the war clearly. But two main aims are perceptible in the United Nations—aspirations for a peaceful world order and for greater justice and equality within nations. These may seem to unite in one purpose of self-defense or the defense of an opportunity to work out these aspirations by reason rather than violence.

To Whom It May Concern:

It has been rumored throughout the County that being a candidate for County Commissioner that I am connected with the present Board or other factions in this campaign. I wish in this manner to put myself right with the people of the County.

I am not in any way connected with any combine or any person whatever, as I came out on my own campaign without consulting any candidate whatever before or since my announcement. I am going through the campaign on the same principles as I am not taking part in anybody's campaign except my own, and wish everyone to understand this. Homemakers' Column

Honey—The Nector of Flowers

Honey! The mere word brings to mind old-time fragrance and flavor. It is the nector of flowers converted into one of the oldest and most healthful sweets known to man. Its piquant aroma and flavor stimulate and give zest and character to the most common-place meal.

Honey Facts

Honey is a wholesome, natural food.

It gives sweetness plus flavor.

It may wisely be substituted for sugar or molasses.

It is an energy-giving food, especially easily digested.

It contains small amounts of mineral.

It possesses slight laxative properties.

It keeps indefinitely if stored in a warm, dry place.

Ways of Using Uncooked Honey

Honey is at its best uncooked, with the natural flavor and color unchanged. Among the most satisfactory uses are the following:

As a spread—With bread, plain or toasted, griddle cakes, waffles, biscuits, and other hot breads.

To Sweeten Fruits, Beverages, and Cereals—If necessary, warm the honey slightly to make it pour more easily.

Honey butter, made with equal parts of honey and butter creamed together, with or without nuts or with grated orange peel.

Honey with chopped dried fruits, with or without nuts.

Honey with either cream or cottage cheese.

Honey and chopped or grated orange peel.

Honey and peanut or almond butter.

Serve honey as a sauce for ice cream. Use 1 cup of honey, 1¼ cups of finely chopped or grated fresh orange peel, ½ cup of orange juice, and ⅛ teaspoon of salt. Combine the ingredients and let the mixture stand over hot water, without cooking, for about 30 minutes to blend the flavors.

Cooking with Honey

High temperatures change the flavor of honey. For cakes, or other baked products made with honey, the oven temperature should be low.

Honey takes up moisture rapidly. Fruit cakes, steamed puddings, cookies, and candies stay moist longer if made with honey, and this, of course, is desirable. But some confections and frostings, if made with honey, will remain soft and take up more moisture if the air is humid—which may or may not be desirable.

Honey is one-fifth water. In substituting honey for sugar the liquid in the recipe must be reduced according to the consistency of the honey and to the proportion of honey used.

Measure for measure, honey averages about the same sweetness as ordinary sugar. Therefore equal substitutions can be made.

Spices that blend well with honey are nutmeg, cloves, ginger, cinnamon, cardamon, coriander seed, and aniseed.

Double Compensation

Washington, Aug. 29.

The other day the President directed his department aides not to air their differences in public. There are two ways of looking at this. One is that it is a very salutary order which, if observed, will improve public morale and stop giving our enemies the impression of internal disorder and dissension. The other is that this is a White House device for covering up blunders, concealing incompetency and shutting off news to which the people are entitled and which would force a greater efficiency in war management.

There is soundness in both views, but if one takes only the first, which is the Administration view, still this Presidential "directive" (which is the favorite Washington word at the moment) will not really cure the ills at which it is aimed. It may choke off some of the open quarrels and it may block certain channels of newspaper information, but it will not quench the jealousies and bitterness which seethe underneath and which, one way or another, are bound to become known.

Nor will it allay the feeling of discriminaton and unfairness which afflicts so many good men who have come here since the war began and who are doing really useful work. One of the causes for this feeling is the difference in treatment of men, all of whom should be treated alike, in the matter of compensation. For example, there are a lot of officials here who are making very great financial sacrifices to serve their country. They have relinquished large salaries in private business. They are living here at considerable expense and working either for the traditional dollar a year or for a small fraction of what they had been paid.

On the other hand, there are men here who have not given up anything at all in the way of private income. On the contrary, the Government salary which they now get is merely in addition to income from their law offices or banks or businesses. In brief, there is no rule which applies to everyone. The Government permits some to supplement their private income with a Government salary, but insists that others shall sever all outside profitable connections. Some corporations whose executives have come here have given them indefinite leave of absence with full pay; others have accepted their resignations with no pay.

There is, of course, a law on the subject. The trouble is that it is being applied in some cases and ignored in others, which makes a pretty bad situation. A statute enacted in 1917 is still in force. It reads as follows:

No Government official or employe shall receive any salary in connection with his services as such an official or employe from any source other than the Government of the United States, except as may be contributed out of the treasury of any State, county or municipality, and no person, association or corporation shall make any contribution to, or in any way supplement, the salary of any Government official or employe for the services performed by him for the Government of the United States. Any person violating any of the terms of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than $1,000 or imprisonment for not less than six months or by both such fine and imprisonment as the court may determine.

The wording of the act seems perfectly clear. It seems to mean that no corporation can legally pay any money in the form of salary to any employe while he is receiving pay, even of a dollar a year, from the Government. To ignore this act in some cases and insist upon it in others is, of course, indefensible. Yet, there appears no question but that it is being ignored in some cases and being observed in others. Take the case of Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox. It has been widely printed—and certainly, widely talked about in Washington and elsewhere—that Mr. Knox, in addition to his $15,000-a-year Government salary, is also receiving $60,000 a year from the Chicago Daily News, of which he was publisher. Though there has been no denial of this allegation, perhaps it is not true.

Perhaps, it does Mr. Knox an injustice. Or, perhaps, he has received a personal interpretation of the law from the Attorney General which would sanction this double compensation. If Mr. Biddle has given such an opinion, then it ought to be known so that it could be applied to all alike. If he has given such an opinion, or if Mr. Knox is not receiving two salaries in violation of the law, then Mr. Knox owes it to himself to deny the allegations and stop the talk, which is good neither for the morale of the war organization or the morale of the public.

In any event, the President would do well if he would follow his "stop quarreling in public" directive with another directive recognizing this law and applying it without any exemptions. Either everybody here ought to be allowed to supplement his Government salary with compensation from his private businesses, if any, or none should. Either the law ought to be observed or it ought to be repealed. Certainly, there is no excuse for pushing it aside with sleazy evasions in one case and rigidly enforcing it in others.

Features of the program included a wrestling demonstration between Walter Hull and Don Browning, the latter a student at Mercersburg Academy; and a demonstration of calisthenics and Jiu jitsu by Virgil Kelley and his son, James.

Officers announced there would be no meeting of the club until Monday, September 14.

His Record As Mayor of Mt. Lake Park

I believe that I am well enough known to make announcement in this manner a portion of an open letter in regard to my favorable record as mayor of Mt. Lake Park, which was written by a summer resident of the Park and which was unsolicited. The letter in part follows:

By 1939 he had become so well and favorably known as to be elected mayor by the largest vote ever polled at the Park; and re-elected two years later, unopposed. As mayor he has not only faithfully carried on his official duties, but has been equally attentive to, and a participant in, all the activities of the community.

But, the true yard-stick for measuring the worth of a public servant is the business success of his work, and how he has conserved and wisely expended the tax payers' funds entrusted to his care. Gauged by both these standards, Dr. Hall enjoys an enviable reputation for sound and economical management, and under unusual town handicaps, of which latter we once wrote:

"Probably no place of the same population in the country, at least none of the same modest pretensions, has more miles of roads and streets, water mains and sewer pipes per house, with resulting increased cost of original installation, and almost prohibitive adequate maintenance."

The town's income from taxes is thus extremely limited for the demands on it, and we have often been surprised to see how much can and has been accomplished on so little. For illustration, the largest single item on our budget is for lighting; Dr. Hall has managed to increase the number of lights from 35 to 52, and at the same time decrease the cost per light from $22.75 to $17.00 per year.

As a tax payer we have carefully examined the town's annual financial statements. Not the most capitious critic could point out ANY extravagant expenditure. We believe that no group of tax payers in any town its size, (and we'll include most of the larger places too), get SO MUCH RETURN for their tax money as do the people of Mt. Lake Park.

In the last two years a mile and a half of hard surfaced roads have been added, for which the State Road Inspector has given a valuation rating of $20,000 per mile. Only recently the town acquired ownership of the 100x80 feet corner of the Amphitheatre tract, with the building thereon heretofore rented for the Town Hall.

ALL THESE THINGS have been accomplished WITHOUT RAISING THE TAX RATE, or BORROWING to meet current expenses. Mayor Hall can point with justifiable pride to the fact that the town has no bonded indebtedness, and no outstanding bills; and, incidentally, that the mayor receives no compensation for his services.

JARED W. YOUNG

And now to all Democratic voters of Garrett County I ask you to come out and vote for me on September 8, so that I may have a chance to become your earnest public servant in Annapolis.

Yours very truly,
DR. C. OSCAR HALL

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL

SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

Lesson for September 6

THE ALCOHOL PROBLEM: PAST AND PRESENT

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 13:13; 19:23-25; Deuteronomy 32:31-33; Amos 6:1-7.

The necessity for using to the limit every resource—man power and material—in this time of national crisis should make every American doubly alert to the devastation and loss which has come (and is coming in increasing measure) to us as a result of the sale of intoxicants.

This is no time (nor was there ever a time) when "men should put their enemy in their mouths to steal away their brains; that we should with joy, pleasure, revel and applause transform ourselves into beasts! To be now a sensible man, by and by a fool, and presently a beast!" (Shakespeare).

Christians—and especially Sunday school teachers—should use this lesson to drive home anew the great lesson of moral accountability, of the importance of man's choice of a way of life, and the certainty of judgment.

I. Man is Morally Responsible (Gen. 13:13; 19:23-25).

Life is not just a careless drifting from day to day, from pleasure to pleasure, from sin to sin. Man was created in the likeness and image of God, which means that he is a personal being, knowing right from wrong and possessing the power of choice. Sodom and Gomorrah drew upon themselves the judgment of God because of their determination to persist in horrible wickedness. What happened to those cities, terrible as it was, is but a prophecy of even greater judgment to come (Luke 10:10-12).

If man chooses to do right, he may count on all the resources of the omnipotent God to uphold him. But if he chooses to go in the way of sin, he must look forward to the judgment of God. It is important to remember that

II. He Chooses His Own Way of Life (Deut. 32:31-33).

Moses contrasts the Rock—Jehovah—in whom his people trusted, and the corrupt standards of their heathen neighbors, of Sodom and Gomorrah; but note it well, each one made his own choice.

One greater than Moses, our Lord Himself (Matt. 7:13, 14), spoke of the two ways, and noted with sadness that many go down the broad road to destruction and but few walk in the narrow way of life.

It is a vital matter that we teach our boys and girls the great and noble spiritual standards of Christianity; bring into their lives the power of God through faith in Christ that they may choose well for themselves and be able to lead a bewildered war-shocked world in the right way.

The need of humanity is great now, but it will be even greater in a post-war world of broken homes, broken lives and broken hearts. We must be ready to minister in the name of Christ.

III. Neglect and Ignorance Are No Excuse (Amos 6:1-7).

Surprise attack is always doubly effective. "Remember Pearl Harbor." Yes, and remember man's defeat in spiritual things.

Satan would like to lull us to sleep with the assurance that all is well. The heart of man is prone to cherish optimistic thoughts; to magnify that which encourages him to take his ease; to keep away the fear of reality by sweet music, good food, and flowing bowl of wine.

The people of Amos' day, to whom this message was given, had come to the point where prosperity had made them at ease, when they should have been actively alert; foolishly serene, when they should have been vigilant and ready for battle.

Who can say that the same is not in all too large a measure true of the people of our own beloved America. Many elements enter into that dangerous situation, but not the least of them is our increasing use of intoxicants. It may shock some to learn that the per capita use of alcoholic beverages has increased greatly throughout the country. The appalling fact is that the city of Washington, D. C., which should in these days set an example of sobriety and sanity, has led the nation in the increase of the use of strong drink.

That way is the way of captivity (v. 7) unless we repent—and that right soon. America needs to awaken to the dangers which threaten its precious liberty—and, we repeat, the liquor question is not the least of these problems. We must win a victory over it soon, or we may find that it has won the victory over us—which may God in His mercy forbid!

Turning Over An Old Leaf

By Phillip A. Gladheim

"There were faces to remember in the Valley of the Shadow;
There were faces unregarded, there
were faces to forget;
There were fires of grief and fear
that are a few forgotten ashes;
There were sparks of recognition
that are not forgotten yet."

Among the best opportunities our vacation-land has had for publicity on a big scale was in the early twenties. For two consecutive seasons four of the most famous American personalities of this century with other members of their families camped at Swallow Falls.

They were Henry Ford, Harvey Firestone, Thomas A. Edison and John Burroughs. Henry Ford is the lone survivor.

Was there any attempt on the part of any organization in our community to have this publicized through pictures, in the press and the movies? I think not. Perhaps our folks were more sensitive to the privacy of their distinguished guests than to the unusual chance to gain publicity for Garrett county.

Knowing that other places have utilized such an opportunity to its full advantage, and knowing that famous personalities are accustomed to sudden intrusions of publicity men, it would at least been proper to have asked this famous quartet for their cooperation. I am certain they would have been more than willing to publicize this vacation-land, because from all reports their reactions were immensely in our favor. One can't help concluding that Oakland was asleep at the switch.

Last week while loitering in Sturgiss's drug store the writer had occasion to exchange comment with our genial fellow-townsman James Patrick Treacy (better known as plain "Jim"). Jim is always ready for such encounters, either with the stranger or an old friend, and Jim has always something of interest tucked up his metaphorical sleeve.

At the time this famous quartet visited us Jim was still in the automobile business. You know it was Jim that introduced the Ford car to this section, and I doubt if any automobile dealer since has surpassed his sales record.

Jim recalled that he and Mrs. Treacy and one of their children went to Swallow Falls to see the celebrities. He finally located Mr. Ford along the edge of the river minus his shoes and stockings, bathing his feet in the water. Jim asked Mr. Ford if he objected having his picture taken. Mr. Ford agreed, if Jim didn't mind taking it just as he found him. Mr. Ford was too preoccupied in the enjoyment of foot-washing to straighten up and offer himself in a formal pose. Jim started to make the camera click. He took five "shots."

Then he said to me, "Don't you know not a —— one of those pictures were good." Naturally we both laughed and the laughter became even more hilarious when he told me of his attempt to take a picture of Mrs. Ford. This proved also to be a "dud."

Well, Jim, you and the rest of us were certainly in need of an expert photographer. Jim found Mrs. Ford and Mrs. Edison sitting under a tree. Mrs. Edison did not get up, but Mrs. Ford was apparently in a mood to communicate. She told Jim that the party enjoyed coming here because it provied them an escape from civilization.

One could comment at length on the reason why this particular quartet of famous men came here to escape from a civilization of which they had such a determining share in its outward fashioning. With the exception of Burroughs, the naturalist, one could hardly pick another trio that had so fundamentally altered our way of living as Ford, the automobile pioneer; Edison, electric, and Firestone, rubber.

There are other stories associated with the visit of these people, perhaps all of them legendary. The one that seems the best known is about the afternoon the Ford-Edison-Firestone-Burroughs caravan stopped at a cross-roads store, presumably at Cranesville, to make a few purchases before going to the Falls.

Mr. Ford is purported to have gone into the store and asked the proprietor if he had any electric bulbs for sale. The storekeeper replied that he had. Mr. Ford then asked what kind. He was told they were "Edison," Whereupon Mr. Ford said, "What a coincidence. Mr. Edison himself is out here in the car." Of course the storekeeper raised his eyebrows to show some faint emotion of surprise, perhaps alarm. When Mr. Ford returned to the caravan he was instructed to make purchase of a spare tire. He went back to the store and learned that the kind of tire needed was available and when he also learned that it was a Firestone make he exclaimed, "Why this really is a coincidence; Mr. Firestone is also out in the car. And I may as well tell you my name. My name is Henry Ford."

He shook the hand of the now very much perturbed storekeeper, whose palsied look betrayed an anxiety to escape from some impending judgment. But Mr. Ford in a very sweet, light mood invited the merchant to come out and meet his pals. He took him by the arm and both crossed the front porch of the store. On descending the steps to the roadside John Burroughs, whose ruddy face was encased as usual in a long white, flowing beard, came towards them with open arms. On seeing him the now excited storekeeper viewing this bewhiskered person as some recognizable apparition, turned to Henry Ford and for the first time really completed a sentence when he said, "Bejabbers, if you tell me this is Santa Claus I will hit you over the head with this hammer."

Swallow Falls is no longer available for campers. Well was I reminded of this when about five years ago one balmy summer evening the family thught it wuld be a good lark to sleep in the virgin hemlock forest. We made camp, cooked our evening meal and shortly afterwards rolled up in our blankets. The next morning we were admonished by CCC officials for breaking rules.

Yes, civilization has finally reached Swallow Falls, and like so many other places, now hemmed in by rules and regulations that the freedom of the outdoors is no longer possible. Between the danger of running into reptiles and ignorance of certain restrictions as to camping, hunting and fishing, the outdoorsman is certainly acquainted with a sense of guilt. He never knows when he is about to trespass, and this fear accounts in part for timidity, robbing one of that sense of utter freedom that should be experienced when hobnobbing with nature.

In recalling the time when our famous friends slept under the stars in our native clime, we can't help but feel in closer league with their spirits, both of the departed and of him who remains with us, who is now throwing all his resources and strength into the preservation of our God-given liberty.

Many interpretations are being made as to the net contribution our industrial wizards are making for the advancement of our common welfare. Many look upon the coming of the automobile as a distinct set-back to morale and spiritual life. Mr. Ford in his genuine love for Americanna, simplicity, economy and efficiency, is certainly an American that symbolizes its indigenous culture. He and his kind have organized our resources in such patterns as to enhance our outward unity. This will become more evident in the years ahead.

Labor Day 1942

By RUTH TAYLOR

Labor Day 1942 finds us all workers—workers and fighters in a war against tyranny, against despots who would make us all slaves. We must meet this attack as a united nation—not as a loose confederation of groups or classes. Unfortunately we have not yet fully grasped the fact that this is a War of Survival of all the people, not a People's War in the proletarian sense. There is too much lobbying and prating of classes and groups when what we really need is not a consciousness of class but an awareness of unity.

This is not a war for any group of citizens. It is a war in which all Americans have a part. We cannot fight Hitler by crushing any group in this country. We cannot destroy the labor movement and retain free business enterprise. We cannot destroy Industry and keep a free labor movement or avoid collective farming. We cannot damn one minority without damning all.

In the totalitarian states it was not Organized Labor alone that suffered. Free associations of employers were also abolished. Neither collective bargaining nor collaboration of labor and industry was allowed.

We must remember these things today for the enemy is attacking us not merely on land, one sea and in the air, but also in our hearts and heads, taking advantage of every ignorance, of every prejudice, of every weakness—setting group against group, class against class.

We must not be blind to those things for which we are fighting—freedom of thought and discussion and worship. We must not merely concede them—we must practice them. Intolerance saps the moral strength of its adherents. Those who regiment are slaves no less than those who are regimented. What we must do is to work in fellowship, in the spirit of friendliness.

There should be a little more of the Golden Rule and a little less Blackstone in our relations with each other. Our entire system of life is on trial. How it proves itself will determine the future. After all—we are all workers, no matter what our job—and any man with an insurance policy or money in the bank is a partner in industry. When we have had prosperity—all of us had it; when depression struck—all felt it.

We must learn how to work together: how—the way of cooperation; work—coordinated actions for the nation as a whole; together—with mutual trust and respect. This applies to every one: those who operate our factories or who work in them; those who toil on farms, in offices or at home. All must work together with an awareness that what they do or neglect doing will determine the future of the country.

We have no right to take "class" sides. We must work for the common good, in groups if we choose, but we must never forget that the welfare of the nation as a whole transcends the private interest of any group. This is democracy.

The Baruch committee has gone far enough to find the rubber shortage is real, according to Paul Mallon, Washington columnist.

Meat rationing in four months has been recommended by a government committee.

PROCLAMATION OF THE GOVERNOR OF MARYLAND DIRECTING THE PUBLICATION OF BILLS PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE.

WHEREAS, at the January session of the General Assembly of Maryland, held in the year 1941, the following Acts were passed, providing for the submission of amendments to the Constitution of the State to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection, namely:

CHAPTER 337

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Amendments to the Constitution", relating to the advertisement or publication of amendments to the Constitution, and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Amendments to the Constitution", the same, if adopted by the legally qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

1. The General Assembly may propose Amendments to this Constitution; provided that each Amendment shall be embraced in a separate Bill, embodying the Article or Section, as the same will stand when amended and passed by three-fifths of all the members elected to each of the two Houses, by yeas and nays, to be entered on the Journals with the proposed Amendment. The Bill or Bills proposing such amendment or amendments shall be published by order of the Governor, in at least two newspapers, in each County, where so many may be published, and where not more than one may be published, then in that newspaper, and in three newspapers published in the City of Baltimore, once a week for three weeks immediately preceding the next ensuing general election, at which the proposed amendment or amendments shall be submitted, in a form to be prescribed by the General Assembly, to the qualified voters of the State for adoption or rejection. Provided, however, the General Assembly may provide for publishing any proposed amendment or amendments in pamphlet form, and for making said pamphlets available to the registered voters of the State in addition to publication in the newspapers. The votes cast for and against said proposed amendment or amendments, severally, shall be returned to the Governor, in the manner prescribed in other cases, and if it shall appear to the Governor that a majority of the votes cast at said election on said amendment or amendments, severally, were cast in favor thereof, the Governor shall, by his proclamation, declare the said amendment or amendments having received said majority of votes, to have been adopted by the people of Maryland as part of the Constitution thereof, and thenceforth said amendment or amendments shall be part of the said Constitution. When two or more amendments shall be submitted in manner aforesaid, to the voters of this State at the same election, they shall be so submitted as that each amendment shall be voted on separately.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That said aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall, at the next general election for members of the General Assembly of Maryland in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State, for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against the said proposed amendment, as directed by said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article Fourteen.

Approved: April 23, 1941.

CHAPTER 494

AN ACT to amend Section 21 of Article 4, title "Judiciary Department", sub-title, "Part III—Circuit Courts", of the Constitution of this State, providing for the residential qualification and method of selection of Associate Judges of the Third Judicial Circuit and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of this State for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That three-fifths of all members elected to each of the two houses concurring) the following section be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 21 of Article 4, of the Constitution of Maryland, title "Judiciary Department", sub-title "Part III—Circuit Courts", the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters thereof as herein provided to become Section 21 of Article 4 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

21. For each of the said circuits, excepting the eighth, the second, the third, the sixth and the seventh there shall be a chief judge and two associate judges, to be styled judges of the Circuit Court, to be selected or appointed as herein provided, and for the second circuit, the third circuit, the sixth circuit and the seventh circuit, there shall be a chief judge and three associate judges to be styled judges of the Circuit Court, to be elected or appointed as herein provided. And no two of said associate judges, for any of the said circuits, except the third, sixth and seventh circuits shall, at the time of their election or appointment or during the terms for which they have been elected or appointed, reside in the same county. If two or more persons shall be candidates for associate judge in the same county in any of the circuits, except the third, sixth and seventh circuits, that one only in said county shall be declared elected who has the highest number of votes in the county. In case any two candidates for associate judge in any of the circuits, except the third, sixth and seventh circuits, residing in the same county shall have an equal number of votes greater than any other candidates for associate judge in the circuit, it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for one associate judge; but the person residing in any other county of the circuit and who has the highest number of votes shall be declared elected. The said judges shall hold not less than two terms of the Circuit Court in each of the counties composing their respective circuits, at such times as are now or may hereafter be prescribed to which jurors shall be summoned; and in those counties where only two such terms are held, two other and intermediate terms, to which jurors shall not be summoned; they may alter or fix the times for holding any or all terms, until otherwise prescribed, and shall adopt rules to the end that all business not requiring the intervention of the jury shall be, as far as practicable, disposed of at such intermediate terms. One judge in each of the above circuits, including the second, the third, sixth and seventh circuits, shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of any business, and the said judges or any of them may hold special terms of their courts, whenever in their discretion the business of the several counties renders such terms necessary.

In the Third Circuit, two of said Associate Judges shall act as bona fide residents of Baltimore County and one of said Associate Judges or the Chief Judge be a bona fide resident of Harford County, and said Judges shall have been such residents six months prior to their appointment or election.

The additional associate judge for the second circuit herein provided for shall be a resident of Cecil County, shall be appointed by the Governor after the expiration of six (6) months after the adoption of this amendment and shall serve until the first general election for members of the General Assembly that shall be held in said circuit subsequent to the adoption of this amendment, at which election his successor shall be elected by the qualified voters of Caroline, Cecil, Kent, Queen Anne's and Talbot Counties, constituting the second circuit. The judge so appointed shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit, and the judge so elected shall be subject to the same constitutional provision, hold his office for the same term of years, receive the same compensation, and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit.

The additional judge for the sixth circuit herein provided for and elected by the qualified voters of Frederick and Montgomery Counties at the 1938 election in accordance with the terms of the Constitutional Amendment heretofore submitted and adopted shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the sixth circuit and his successor shall be appointed and/or elected in accordance with the constitutional provisions relating to judges. The Chief Judge may be elected from either Frederick or Montgomery Counties, but when the Chief Judge is elected from Frederick County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said county and the two remaining associate judges shall be residents of Montgomery County and when the Chief Judge is elected from Montgomery County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said Montgomery County and the remaining two associate judges residents of Frederick County. In case any candidate or candidates for associate judge at any judicial election held in the third and sixth judicial circuits shall receive sufficient votes to cause such candidate or candidates to be declared elected, but the election of such candidate or candidates would cause more associate judges than herein permitted to reside in any county of said circuits, then and in that event only that candidate or those candidates, as the case may be, residing in said county in the order of the votes received shall be declared elected whose election would provide the permitted number of associate judges from said county and the candidate or candidates as the case may be, residing in the other county, and not similarly disqualified who shall have the next highest number of votes in said election shall be declared elected. If by reason of such a condition or by reason of an equal vote for two or more candidates a sufficient number of associate judges duly qualified as to residence as above set out should not be elected at any election in said third and sixth judicial circuits, then it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for such unfilled office or offices.

The additional associate judge for the seventh circuit herein provided for shall be appointed by the Governor immediately after the adoption of this amendment and shall serve until the first general election for members of the General Assembly that shall be held in said circuit subsequent to the adoption of this amendment, at which election his successor shall be elected by the qualified voters of Prince George's, Charles, Calvert and St. Mary's Counties. No member of the General Assembly of 1939, otherwise qualified, shall be ineligible for appointment or election as such associate judge by reason of his membership in the General Assembly. The judge so appointed shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the seventh circuit, and the judge so elected and his successors shall, subject to the same constitutional provisions, hold office for the same term of years, receive the same compensation, and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the seventh circuit. No two of the associate judges for the seventh circuit shall at the time of their election or appointment or during the term for which they may have been elected or appointed reside in the same county, except in Prince George's County, in which county two of said associate judges for the said circuit shall reside at the time of their appointment or election and during the term for which they may have been appointed or elected unless the chief judge of said circuit shall already reside in said county, in which event only one of said associate judges shall reside in Prince George's County and Prince George's County shall at all time have two resident Judges and no more, such Judges to be either the Chief Judge of the Seventh Circuit and one associate Judge or two associate Judges of said Circuit. In case any candidate or candidates for associate judge at any judicial election held in the seventh judicial circuit shall receive sufficient votes to cause such candidate or candidates to be elected, but the election of such candidate or candidates would cause more associate judges than herein permitted to reside in any county of said circuit, then and in that event only that candidate or those candidates, as the case may be, residing in said county in the order of the votes received shall be declared elected whose election would provide the permitted number of associate judges from said county and the candidate or candidates, as the case may be, residing in some other county, and not similarly disqualified, who shall have the next highest number of votes in said election shall be declared elected. If, by reason of such a condition or by reason of an equal vote for two or more candidates a sufficient number of associate judges duly qualified as to residence as above set out should not be elected at any election in said seventh judicial circuit, then it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for such unfilled office or offices.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State shall be, at the next general election to be held in this State in the year 1942, submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of this State, and at the said general election, the vote on the said proposed amendment shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment" as now prescribed by law, and immediately after said election, due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment as directed by said Article 14 of the Constitution.

CHAPTER 509

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 45 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", relating to the salary of Clerks of Courts and Registrars of Wills and providing for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the Two Houses concurring), That the following amendment be and it is hereby proposed to Section 45 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department" the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Section 45 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland:

45. The General Assembly shall provide a simple and uniform system of charges in the offices of Clerks of Courts and Registrars of Wills, in the Counties of this State and the City of Baltimore, and for the collection thereof; provided, the amount of compensation to any of the said officers in the various Counties and in the City of Baltimore shall be such as may be prescribed by law.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing Section, hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State, shall, at the election to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, upon each ballot there shall be printed the words: "For Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against proposed amendment, as directed by said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article Fourteen.

Approved April 28, 1941.

CHAPTER 607

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland title "Legislative Department" by adding a new section to be known as Section 40B, providing for the taking of property by the State Roads Commission under certain circumstances; and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following new Section be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Article III, title "Legislative Department" of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, to be inserted after Section 40A and to be numbered 40B, and if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, said section shall become a part of Article III of the Constitution of Maryland.

40B. The General Assembly shall enact no law authorizing private property to be taken for public use without just compensation, to be agreed upon between the parties or awarded by a jury, being first paid or tendered to the party entitled to such compensation, except that where such property in the judgment of the State Roads Commission is needed by the State for highway purposes, the General Assembly may provide that such property may be taken immediately upon payment therefor to the owner or owners thereof by said State Roads Commission, or into Court, such amount as said State Roads Commission shall estimate to be of the fair value of said property, provided such legislation also requires the payment of any further sum that may subsequently be awarded by a jury.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the foregoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland, shall, at the election to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of the directions contained in Article XIV of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot and upon each ballot shall be printed the words "FOR CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT" and "AGAINST CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment as directed by Article XIV of the Constitution and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article XIV.

Approved: April 28, 1941.

CHAPTER 695

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 15 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", regulating the period that General Assembly may continue its session and compensation of the members thereof, and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 15 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", the same, if adopted by the legally qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Section 15 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

15. The General Assembly may continue its session so long as in its judgment the public interest may require, for a period not longer than ninety days; and each member thereof shall receive a compensation of One Thousand Dollars ($1,000) per annum, payable quarterly, with a deduction of fifteen dollars per diem for each day of unexcused absence from any session; and he shall also receive such mileage as may be allowed by law, not exceeding twenty cents per mile; and the presiding officer of each House shall receive an additional compensation of Two hundred and fifty ($250) dollars per annum. When the General Assembly shall be convened by proclamation of the Governor, the session shall not continue longer than thirty days, but no additional compensation other than mileage and other allowances provided by law shall be paid members of the General Assembly for Special Sessions.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That said aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall, at the next general election to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State, for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment", and "Against the Constitutional Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against the said proposed amendment, as directed by said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article Fourteen.

Approved: May 2, 1941.

CHAPTER 716

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Article 38 of the Declaration of Rights of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, relating to gifts, devises and other transfers to or for certain preachers and religious sects, orders or denominations, and providing for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following amendment be and the same is hereby proposed to Article 38 of the Declaration of Rights of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Article 38 of the Declaration of Rights of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

38. The Legislature may by law regulate, restrict or require its sanction for, gifts, devises or other transfer of property to or for the benefit of any minister, public teacher or preacher of the Gospel, as such, or any religious sect, order or denomination.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing amendment to the Declaration of Rights of the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall, at the election to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, upon each ballot there shall be printed the words: "For Constitutional Amendment" and "Against Constitutional Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against proposed amendment, as directed by said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article 14.

Approved: May 2, 1941.

CHAPTER 824

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Article IV of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, adding thereto a new section, to be known as Section 39A, to be under new sub-title "Part IV-A Juvenile Courts", and to follow immediately after Section 39 of said Article, providing for the establishment of orders or denominations, and providing for submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following new section, to be known as Section 39A, to be under new sub-title "Part IV-A—Juvenile Courts", and to follow immediately after Section 39 of said Article, be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Article IV of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State as herein provided, to become a part of said Article IV of said Constitution and to be numbered and sub-titled as aforesaid:

PART IV-A JUVENILE COURTS

39A. A Juvenile Court is hereby created for Baltimore City, and the General Assembly by law may establish a Juvenile Court for any other incorporated city or town or any county of this State. The court hereby created, and any other court established hereunder by law, shall be a court of record, and shall have exclusive jurisdiction within such city, town or county over all criminal offenses other than those punishable by death or life imprisonment committed by any person under eighteen years of age, and such additional jurisdiction as may be from time to time prescribed by the General Assembly by law. The General Assembly by law shall prescribe, and from time to time may alter:

1. The number, qualifications, tenure and method of selection of the judge or judges of such courts, and their powers, duties and compensation, but the salary or compensation of any judge of any such court shall not be reduced during his continuance in office;

2. The right of appeal from such court;

3. The number, qualifications, tenure, methods of selection, duties and compensation of all clerks, bailiffs, probation officers or other employes of such courts; and

4. Any other matters relating to such courts.

In the event of any inconsistency between the provisions of this Section and any of the other provisions of this Constitution, the provisions of this Section shall prevail, and such other provisions shall be repealed or abrogated to the extent of such inconsistency, except Section 35-A of Article III. Until the General Assembly has established a Juvenile Court for any incorporated city or town or any county of the State, jurisdiction over juvenile causes shall be exercised in the same manner and to the same extent as authorized by the Constitution and laws of this State, in effect prior to the adoption of this Section.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That the aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall, at the election to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of the directions contained in Article XIV of the Constitution of the State of Maryland and at the said General Election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, upon each ballot there shall be printed the words: "For Constitutional Amendment" and "Against Constitutional Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against proposed amendment, as directed by said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article 14.

Approved: May 2, 1941.

CHAPTER 829

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Article IV of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State as herein provided, to become a part of said Article IV of said Constitution and to be numbered and sub-titled as aforesaid:

PART IV-A JUVENILE COURTS

39A. A Juvenile Court is hereby created for Baltimore City, and the General Assembly by law may establish a Juvenile Court for any other incorporated city or town or any county of this State. The court hereby created, and any other court established hereunder by law, shall be a court of record, and shall have exclusive jurisdiction within such city, town or county over all criminal offenses other than those punishable by death or life imprisonment committed by any person under eighteen years of age, and such additional jurisdiction as may be from time to time prescribed by the General Assembly by law. The General Assembly by law shall prescribe, and from time to time may alter:

1. The number, qualifications, tenure and method of selection of the judge or judges of such courts, and their powers, duties and compensation, but the salary or compensation of any judge of any such court shall not be reduced during his continuance in office;

2. The right of appeal from such court;

3. The number, qualifications, tenure, methods of selection, duties and compensation of all clerks, bailiffs, probation officers or other employes of such courts; and

4. Any other matters relating to such courts.

In the event of any inconsistency between the provisions of this Section and any of the other provisions of this Constitution, the provisions of this Section shall prevail, and such other provisions shall be repealed or abrogated to the extent of such inconsistency, except Section 35-A of Article III. Until the General Assembly has established a Juvenile Court for any incorporated city or town or any county of the State, jurisdiction over juvenile causes shall be exercised in the same manner and to the same extent as authorized by the Constitution and laws of this State, in effect prior to the adoption of this Section.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That the aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall, at the election to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of the directions contained in Article XIV of the Constitution of the State of Maryland and at the said General Election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, upon each ballot there shall be printed the following synopsis of said amendment captioned as follows:

"CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT PROVIDING FOR JUVENILE COURTS"

Below said synopsis shall be printed the words "For Juvenile Courts Amendment" and "Against Juvenile Courts Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment as directed by Article XIV of the Constitution and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article XIV.

Approved: May 6, 1941.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, HERBERT R. O'CONOR, GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF MARYLAND, in pursuance of the direction contained in Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of Maryland, do hereby order and direct that this proclamation containing a full, true and correct copy of the text of said Chapters 337, 494, 509, 607, 695, 716 and 824 of the Acts of the General Assembly of Maryland of 1941, be published in at least two newspapers in each of the counties of the State where so many may be published and where not more than one may be published then in that newspaper, and in three newspapers published in the City of Baltimore, one of which shall be published in the German language, once a week for at least three months next preceding the general election to be held in the State of Maryland on Tuesday, the 3rd day of November, 1942, at which election the said proposed amendments to the Constitution shall be submitted in form and manner prescribed by the General Assembly, to the legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection.

FOR ASSOCIATE JUDGE

I will be a candidate to succeed myself as Associate Judge of the Fourth Judicial Circuit of Maryland. Having presided over the Circuit Court for Washington county for more than one year and a half, I have served through five regular jury terms and two non-jury terms of that Court, in addition to sitting, upon occasions, with Chief Judge Sloan and Associate Judge Huster in the Circuit Courts for Allegany and Garrett counties, and I believe that the experience which I have gained qualifies me to continue my services on the Bench.

Since assuming my judicial duties I have been ever mindful of the high standard of service set by my predecessor in office, the late Judge Frank G. Wagaman, and I have endeavored to faithfully, conscientiously, and to the best of my ability administer the duties of the high office which I am privileged to hold.

I have been told that my services have been satisfactory to the members of the Bars of Washington, Allegany and Garrett counties, and I hope also to the citizens generally of those counties which comprise the Fourth Judicial Circuit.

Our American form of Government intends that the Judiciary shall be a department separate and apart from the Legislative and Executive branches, and as such shall be engaged in the impartial and equal administration of justice to all citizens. I have believed in those ideals and have always conscientiously tried to follow them.

If you feel that I am qualified by reason of experience, training, temperament and ability to continue to occupy the position I now hold, your support and influence will be greatly appreciated.

JOSEPH D. MISH.
Hagerstown, Md., July 20, 1942.

FOR STATE SENATOR

DR. C. OSCAR HALL

At the urgent request of many friends in various parts of the county, I have filed for the office of State Senator and hereby announce my candidacy for the nomination, subject to the Democratic primary. I have been a citizen of the county for the past seven years, own my home in Mtn. Lake Park and for the past two years have served as Mayor of that corporation, having been elected by a large majority of its citizens. In making this announcement, I fully appreciate the duties involved and I assure the citizens of the county that if nominated and elected I shall perform them honestly, without fear or favor and to the best interest of all. I earnestly and respectfully solicit the consideration and support of Democratic voters throughout the county.

DR. C. OSCAR HALL.
Mountain Lake Park, June 13, 1942.*

FOR HOUSE OF DELEGATES

To The Republican Voters of Garrett County, Maryland.

I hereby announce my candidacy for re-nomination for the House of Delegates, subject to the Republican primary election on September 8, 1942.

With past experience in the House, I feel I can serve the people of the county and state better. I therefore earnestly solicit the support of all the Republican voters of the county, and thank you for past favors.

Most respectfully yours,
NELSON BRENNEMAN.
McHenry, Md., District No. 6

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County:

I am a candidate for nomination for member of the House of Delegates, subject to the result of the Republican primary election, and am asking the support and influence of the voters throughout the county.

I was born at Friendsville and have spent my entire life in this county with the exception of the time spent with the United States forces during the First World War. I am a member of the Wilson-Fidler Post, American Legion, of Kitzmiller.

I have been a resident of District No. 13 for a number of years where I am engaged in farming.

Because of the shortage of tires and the need of gasoline for the war effort, it will be impossible to make an intensive personal campaign, and I am taking this means of contacting the citizens of the county and requesting their votes.

If nominated and later elected I promise to represent the people of the county in a fair and capable manner at the State House in Annapolis.

Sincerely yours,
JASPER C. MYERS.
August 18* District No. 13.

FOR CLERK OF THE CIRCUIT COURT

ALBERT G. ROSS

I hereby announce my candidacy for nomination at the coming primary election for Clerk of the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland.

In seeking this very important office of the county, I solicit your support upon my record and qualifications gained through years of experience in the office.

If nominated and elected, courtesy to all will be my motto and the law will be my guide.

I respectfully solicit your support.
ALBERT G. ROSS.
June 22, 1942*

FOR SHERIFF

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County, Maryland:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of Sheriff of Garrett County, subject to the result of the primary election on September 8.

I was born and reared in Garrett county and have always voted and worked for the success of the Republican ticket. I have lived my entire lifetime in the Swallow Falls setion of the county and have always had the best interests and welfare of the county at heart, and if I receive the nomination and am elected, I promise to devote my full time to the duties of the office and execute the same without fear, favor or partiality.

I respectfully solicit the support of my neighbors, friends and acquaintances throughout the county.

THEODORE E. SINES.
Oakland, Md., June 9, 1942.*

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County:

I am in this manner announcing my candidacy for County Commissioner of Garrett county, subject to the Republican primary election and the votes of Republicans in all parts of the county.

I have been a resident of Garrett county all my life and served as a Commissioner twenty-seven years ago. I have been in business in this county for over 52 years and have always been a heavy taxpayer of the county.

If nominated and later elected I shall endeavor to execute the duties of the office in fairness to all and with economy in all departments.

Respectfully yours,
GEORGE WARNICK

FOR STATE SENATOR
E. RAY JONES

The People's Candidate

Qualified by training and experience to efficiently and capably represent Garrett County in the State Senate.

No lengthy platform; no multitude of empty election pledges, easily made and as easily forgotten; no intention to do any act contrary to the will of the people of Garrett County; no personal ambition to gratify—Just a desire to render some service to our County, State and Nation in these difficult times, a determination that that service shall be of the highest possible type.

"He Profits Most Who Serves Best"

—Political Advertisement authorized by the Candidate.

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County, Maryland:—
Ladies and Gentlemen.

The undersigned, native of Garrett County, announces his candidacy for nomination for Sheriff of Garrett County, subject to the result of the primary election to be held on September 8, 1942.

I have been engaged in business for a number of years and at present am a County Constable and serving as Deputy Sheriff. With the experience thus gained, I feel that I am qualified to fill the duties of the office I seek and shall execute the same without fear or favor, should I be nominated and later elected to this most important position.

I most respectfully solicit the support and influence of my friends in all parts of the county.

Very respectfully
MARK H. MOON.
District No. 16*

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County, Maryland:—

I hereby announce my candidacy for the Republican nomination for Sheriff of Garrett County, subject to the result of the primary election on September 8, 1942, and most respectfully solicit the support of Republicans at the polls in all parts of the county.

JAMES A. COVER

If nominated and later elected to this office I shall execute the duties incumbent upon me to the best of my ability and in accordance with the law and directions of the Court.

JAMES A. COVER.

GEORGE E. CODDINGTON

To The Republican Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the nomination for Sheriff of Garrett county at the coming Republican primary election, on September 8.

I have been a life-long Republican and was born and reared in District No. 8, of this county.

I believe that I am qualified to fill this important office and I respectfully solicit the support and influence of my friends and all Republican voters in all sections of the county.

GEORGE E. CODDINGTON.
District No. 16, July 29.

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County, Maryland:—

I hereby announce my candidacy for the nomination of Sheriff for Garrett County, subject, however, to the result of the Republican primary election on September 8, 1942.

I was born and reared on a farm in this county and for the past thirty-five years have been engaged in business in Oakland.

As a citizen and taxpayer I have never sought nor held any public office. I now come before the people as a candidate.

Should I be nominated and later elected to this important office I shall endeavor to execute its duties to the best of my ability and without partiality.

Most respectfully yours,
FLOYD C. STAHL.
Oakland, District No. 14.*

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County:—

The undersigned announces his candidacy for the Republican nomination as a member of the Board of County Commissioners of Garrett county, subject to the result of the primary election on September 8, 1942.

I was born and reared in Garrett county and have been a tax payer for many years.

If successful in the primaries and later elected as a member of the board my aim will be to represent the people of the entire county.

Soliciting the support of the Republican voters of all sections, I beg to remain, Very sincerely,
JAMES A. SAVAGE.
Sang Run, District No. 6.

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County:—

At the urgent request of many voters in various sections of the County, I have filed for the office of County Commissioner of Garrett County and hereby announce my candidacy for nomination, subject to the result of the Republican Primary election.

I have lived my entire life in Garrett County and have always had the best interest and welfare of the county at heart. If I receive the nomination and am elected, I assure the citizens of the County that I shall perform the duties of the office honestly and without fear or favor and to the best interest of all.

I earnestly and respectfully solicit the consideration and support of all voters throughout the county.

JONAS W. SINES.
Swallow Falls, July 8, 1942*

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County:—
Ladies and Gentlemen:

As a member of the Republican party, and having had an experience of four years in the office of County Commissioner, I again seek the nomination and election as a member of the Board.

With my former experience, I feel that I am fully qualified to again fill the office I seek and solicit the support of all members of the party in all parts of the county.

If nominated and later elected, I shall endeavor to execute its duties in fairness to all and economy in all departments.

Respectfully yours,
Dist. 5* JOHN W. HERMAN.

G. BLAINE GIESSMAN

To The Republican Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the Republican nomination as a member of the Board of County Commissioners of Garrett County, Maryland.

I feel that my past experience of two terms as a member of the Board of Commissioners fully qualifies me to capably fulfill the duties of the Commissioners' office.

I respectfully solicit the support of my friends and all party members.

G. BLAINE GIESSMAN.
District No. 14, July 29.

To The Republican Voters of Garrett County:

I am hereby announcing my candidacy for re-nomination and re-election as a County Commissioner of Garrett county, subject to the primary election.

I have served the county the past four years as Commissioner, and if re-nominated and re-elected I will continue to give my best services to the taxpayers.

I stand for home rule, better county government, a plan that will work to the improvement of all secondary roads and bridges by the use of the 1½ cent gasoline tax.

Sincerely yours,
CHESTON H. BROWNING.
District No. 7, July 29.

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County.

Ladies and Gentlemen:—

I am hereby publicly announcing my candidacy for nomination for County Commissioner of Garrett County, subject to the result of the Republican primary election.

I have served as Clerk to the Board of County Commissioners for a number of years and feel that my experience in this capacity would be of much value to the taxpayers of the county in the conduct of the affairs of the county as a Commissioner.

I am not bound to any one faction or group and have always been a faithful member of the Republican party before and during my years of service in the Court House.

I ask your support and influence in the coming primary on September 8th.

Very sincerely yours,
WALTER G. MEYERS.
District No. 16*

FOR COUNTY TREASURER

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County:—

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of Treasurer of Garrett County, subject to the result of the Republican primary election on September 8, 1942.

I have been engaged in the mercantile business at Deer Park for twelve years and as a farmer and live stock dealer near Deer Park for the past five years. For a year I was acting postmaster and was town treasurer for six years. Before going to Deer Park I was employed in the Offutt store in Oakland for eight years.

With my experience in these several lines of business, I feel that I am well prepared to execute the duties of the office which I seek to the satisfaction of the general public.

Soliciting the support of all Republicans in every part of the county, I am, Very respectfully,
J. EDWARD HELBIG.
Deer Park, District No. 10*

To The Republican Voters of Garrett County:

I hereby announce my candidacy for nomination for Treasurer of Garrett county, subject to the Republican primary election.

Having served as County Commissioner for almost four years, and being in close contact with the office of Treasurer, I feel qualified to serve the public in this capacity.

I am also grateful to the voters for their confidence placed in me and their cooperation in the past.

PAUL M. FRIEND.
District No. 7, July 29.

FOR JUDGE OF ORPHANS' COURT

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County, Maryland:—

I most respectfully announce my candidacy for the nomination as a member of the Orphans' Court of Garrett County and crave the votes and influence of my friends at the primary election to be held September 8, 1942.

Very respectfully yours,
THOMAS E. BISHOFF.
Oakland, District No. 7, June 23*

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County:

After being asked by a number of friends to again place my name on the ballot for Judge of the Orphans' Court, I hereby announce my candidacy for that office. After serving the public in this office for the past seven years I know I am better qualified now than I was when first elected.

I therefore earnestly solicit the support of all the Republican voters of the county, and thanking you for past favors, I remain, yours to serve,
Dist. 5* FRANK CALLIS.

To the Republican Voters of Garrett County, Maryland:—

I hereby announce my candidacy for the nomination of Judge of the Orphans' Court of Garrett County, subject to the result of the Republican primary election.

I was born in Friendsville and am now a resident of Mountain Lake Park, in District No. 16. I have always been a Republican and have been a taxpayer for many years.

My father, Thomas Cuppett, served as Judge of the Orphans Court for a number of years and I desire an opportunity to serve in a similar capacity. I solicit the support of the Republican voters from all sections of the county. Very sincerely yours,
E. CALVIN CUPPETT.
Mt. Lake Park, Dist. 16, June 29*

FOR REGISTER OF WILLS

I hereby announce my candidacy for renomination for Register of Wills for Garrett County.

It is with gratitude to the voters of this County that I express my appreciation in having been privileged for some years past to serve the public interests of our County in this same capacity and assure you of my continued effort to discharge faithfully the duties of the office if I am reelected.

Earnestly soliciting your support at the Republican primary election to be held September 8, 1942, I am,
Very truly yours,
VERNIE R. SMOUSE.

Danger of War Gases In Contamination of Food Is Pointed Out

Ways by which foods may be protected from contamination by war gases, and may be de-contaminated—to use an up-to-date term—if exposed to such gases, are pointed out by Dr. William F. Reindollar, Chief of the State Bureau of Chemistry in a recent informal report to Dr. R. H. Riley, Director of the State Health Department. The report, which follows, was prepared in response to requests for non-technical information on the subject.

"Chemical warfare agents are generally classified as (1) vesicants or 'blister' gases (mustard, Lewisite, ethyldichlorarsine); (2) lung irritants (chlorine, chloropicrin, phosgene); (3) lacrimators or 'tear' gases (bromobenzylcyanide, acetophenone); (4) strenutators or 'sneeze' gases (Adamsite, diphenylchlorarsine); (5) 'smoke' (sulfurtrioxide, titanium tetrachloride); and (6) incendiaries (powdered magnesium, white phosphorus, thermit). There are also gases which are systemic poisons such as hydrocyanic acid, carbon monoxide, and hydrogen sulfide, which however are of little value in chemical warfare.

"Chemical agents most likely to contaminate or damage foods are mustard gas, those containing arsenic such as Adamsite and Lewisite, and irritant 'smokes'. Direct contact with either solid, liquid, or vapor forms of these substances may contaminate food. Some foods absorb gases very readily. Among these are oily or fatty foods, (butter, cream, meat, fat, mayonnaise, etc.), flour and cereal products, and to a somewhat lesser degree, green vegetables.

"The best protection for foods and drinking water is to keep chemical agents away from them. This may be done by placing them in sealed cans, bottles, or jars. The average domestic refrigerator is gas tight and will afford adequate protection if kept closed during a gas attack. Cellophane if sealed is impervious and makes a good protective material which may be discarded. Waxed paper gives limited protection against gas vapors and little or none against liquid chemical agents. Paper bags and cloth sacks are of no value at all for this purpose.

"Sealed food containers which have been exposed to mustard or Lewisite gas may be decontaminated by treating with a paste or 'slurry' of equal parts of chlorinated lime and water, followed by adequate rinsing. Foods that are contaminated by volatile gases such as chlorine or phosgene may often be rendered fit for use by airing thoroughly, washing, or if possible, heating gently. Such foods although safe will probably be unpalatable.

"If food in an open container is contaminated with mustard gas, arsenical agents, or irritant smokes there is no sure way of rendering it safe. Regardless of the need it should be destroyed."

Pearl Harbor Reissues Call For Skilled Workers

Once again the Fourth United States Civil Service District has issued the call for Boilermakers, Coppersmiths, Aircraft Mechanics, Shipfitters, Shipwrights, Machinists, and many other skilled tradesmen to fill important vacancies at Pearl Harbor. Helpers in these trades are also vitally needed.

The pay ranges from $1.26 to $1.34 per hour for journeymen and 95 cents an hour for helpers, with time and a half for overtime. Those selected are given transportation from the point of residence to Pearl Harbor.

Diesel Engine Makes A Record

A solid freight train of eighty-one tank cars drawn by the first Diesel freight locomotive and bearing one of the heaviest single through-rail shipments of oil on record, arrived at its destination at Twin Oaks, Pa., from Chicago, three and one-half hours ahead of schedule.

The B. and O. train left Chicago Monday morning at 8 o'clock, pulled more than 715,000 gallons of oil into Twin Oaks some time after 8 o'clock on Tuesday night. It moved without change of locomotive or cars and was drawn by a 5,400 horsepower Diesel freight locomotive.

The train of 5,300 gross tons made the 911-mile haul with but five stops for customary crew changes and inspections. It refueled at two of these stops. The Diesel locomotive measures 193 feet and is made up of four short power cars, each containing a 16-cylinder, two-cycle Diesel engine.

DEER PARK

On Sunday evening, August 30, at the home of Mrs. C. S. Reis Baptism was administered by Rev. Paul R. Maness, of Albright, W. Va., and assisted by Chaplain L. B. Gilbert (Captain USA), stationed at Camp Dawson. Those who were baptized were Lois Virginia and Catharine Elizabeth, children of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie H. Rodeheaver, and Gerald Lambert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lambert L. Thrasher.

The occasion was on Mr. and Mrs. Thrasher's fifth wedding anniversary, at which ceremony Rev. Maness also officiated.

Others present were Mrs. Paul R. Maness and two children, Paul and Meryl, Rev. and Mrs. D. Fay Zinn and two daughters, Ruth Ann and June, Mr. and Mrs. Troy Maness, Miss Betty Lipscomb, Mrs. C. S. Reis, grandmother of the children baptized, Mr. and Mrs. Rodeheaver, and Mr. and Mrs. Thrasher, parents of the children.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Paugh attended the American Legion convention at Cumberland, Friday.

The Junior Girls and Intermediate boys Sunday school classes of the Methodist church and their teachers, Mrs. E. E. Sollars and L. H. Rodeheaver went on class picnics last week.

SANG RUN

Group Captain H. W. Heslop, Mrs. Heslop and son Peter, of the Royal Air Force Headquarters in Washington, were Sunday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Browning. Captain Heslop, a prominent British Air Commission director, plans to spend a week's vacation in Garrett county, dividing his time between McComas Beach and Herrington Manor.

Mrs. Paul Savage, Baltimore, spent two weeks here with friends and relatives, returning to her home the latter part of last week.

Mrs. George Nordeck is vacationing here with her father, Ralph Hoye.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul McCrobie and Mr. and Mrs. Hobert Rodeheaver spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Rodeheaver.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carr and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Savage spent Monday in Oakland.

Mrs. Mary Browning Savage, employed in the Technicial Service Division of Holabird Ordnance Motorbase in suburban Baltimore, visited Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert N. Savage and Martin L. Savage, recently.

The B. & O.'s first mainline Diesel freight locomotive made its initial run from Chicago to Philadelphia with 100 tank cars of oil, Monday, August 31, 1942. This was a record movement of oil in a single long-distant train. The locomotive, first to operate on any eastern railroad, is 5400 horsepower and was built by the Electro-Motive Corporation.

MT. LAKE PARK

Here's an unofficial slogan coming from Fort George G. Meade, Md: "If you're not in the scrap over there, get in the scrap over here." All week past we have been receiving clippings and letters regarding the salvaging of scrap iron. This month you will have a chance to show what you can do. Here in the Park we were amazed at the many people picking up old nails and small gadgets of iron. In many counties out of this state there are regular official salvage depots. Why not one in this county, or better yet, one here in our own community. One letter that came to us seemed to cover the situation a great deal clearer than we could possibly do. We give it to you just as it came to us.

To those who have been asking themselves, "What can I do to help the War effort? here is your answer. Every piece of iron ore used to make guns, tanks, etc., must be fused with an equal amount of scrap iron. The streets and alleys of Mountain Lake are littered with this essential.

The iron in one old shovel is sufficient for four hand grenades—an old lawn mower will help make six 3-inch shells. A worthless old tire will provide material for 12 gas masks. A few hundred worn out skillets or kettles will make one big aerial bomb.

Farmers can bomb Tokio, three hits a minute for a couple of years, if they will rake up and send every pound of scrap on a farm. Old nails are particularly good because nails are made of better material to start with.

So let me suggest that every time you walk out, bring home all the old metal you see until you fill a big box which you will have placed on your back porch for the purpose. The collection will soon be made in Garrett county, and perhaps Mt. Lake can actually send a Bomber or a Flying Fortress. We have the stuff if our folks will gather it up.

Other scrap needed is—old pieces of rope and burlap cotton rags and pieces of silk. The latter is to be worked over and used for parachutes. I saw a piece of rope in the mud one day, and hauled it out—it was four feet long. All the hemp—or a great deal of it was lost with the Philippines—so the old rope can be made up again.

Mr. Churchill said—"Give us the tools, and we'll finish the job"—well, our factories need material and we, each one of us, can furnish some of it.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gay announce the birth of a daughter, Karolyn Ruth, on Thursday, August 27, at the home of Mrs. Gay's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Shipley. Mr. Gay is in service, and located at Great Lakes Training School in Illinois.

Mrs. J. W. Walters and guest, Miss Betty Wilkeson, Pittsburgh, Pa., returned to their home on Saturday after visiting the former's daughter, Mrs. J. W. Williams.

Dr. and Mrs. E. T. Mowbrey are spending several days in Baltimore.

Albert Selden and sister, Miss Selden, and their aunt, Miss Katharine Duckett, of Baltimore, moved on Tuesday from the Wesley Rudisill property to the Sanner property which they purchased this summer. Many improvements have been made to the property, including a new garage. Mt. Lake welcomes them as newcomers.

Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Love and daughter, Miss Mary Isabelle Love, left on Monday by motor for Wooster, Ohio, where Miss Love will enter Wooster college.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shinn, of Lexington, Ky., who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Fleming the past two weeks, left on Sunday morning. Mrs. Curtis Fleming, of Washington, D. C., who was also a guest, left for Washington, D. C., on Sunday night.

Misses Rose, Mary and Margaret Byrnes, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Flaherty, all of Fairmont, visited Mrs. Allie Haymond, on Sunday.

Clarence J. Koontz, of Washington, spent the week-end here, returning to Washington Sunday night. He was accompanied by Mrs. Koontz, who will spend several days there.

Mrs. Sarah Flowers, who has been a guest at Deaconess Home this summer, has gone to Fairmont, where she will visit her son, Sam Flowers.

Mrs. Cecil Jarvis and daughters, Mrs. Norman Elliott and Mrs. Frederick Villers, entertained last Thursday afternoon at their home with a delightfully appointed tea.

Mrs. Grace Nye, of Fairmont, spent Sunday at her cottage. She was called here by the death of her mother, Mrs. Shaffer, who passed away Saturday.

Miss Maude Curtis and Miss Maude Jefferson, of West Liberty, W. Va., are guests at Colonial cottage.

Dr. and Mrs. Logan Carr have returned from Clarksburg, where they went to attend the funeral services of Mrs. Blanche Carter. Mrs. Carter was a cousin of Dr. Carr, and passed away Friday at her home in Point Pleasant. For a number of years she came as a summer resident. She was in her 95th year. Her many friends here will learn with regret of her death.

Mr. and Mrs. Haymond Rapp, of Clarksburg, spent the week-end at the Jarvis cottage.

Master Sammy Cole is spending several weeks in Baltimore with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Groves announce the birth of a daughter on Saturday morning, August 29th. The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kahl.

Miss Anne Brown has returned from a visit to Gormania, where she was the guest of Miss Delores Elrick.

The office of the town clerk in the Council Rooms will be open every Monday and Thursday evening from 7 to 8 o'clock, according to Miss Bonnie Calhoun, clerk.

Miss Virginia Marshall, who has been the guest of her cousins, Mrs. F. M. Murphy and Mrs. Bessie Zahn, returned to Uniontown on Sunday. She motored there with Mrs. Joseph Cope, Mrs. William McClelland, Mrs. Elma Hadden and Mrs. Elizabeth Rudden, all of Uniontown, who were Sunday guests at the Murphy home. Miss Catherine Hadden, sister of Mrs. Murphy and Mrs. Zahn, is here from Evanston, Ill., for a short visit.

Mrs. Jack Thompson, of Baltimore, is here to see her mother, Mrs. Clara Cochrane, who has been quite ill.

An Army of Producers

When you look through the "business end" of a well-kept dairy barn, you know immediately that here is a production line just as important to the nation's well-being and ultimate victory as if it were enclosed with high fences and protected by bristling guns. The milk which Americans have always been accustomed to enjoy and which will prove so vital in keeping them fit to win the war would not be a benefit, but a menace, were it not for electric refrigeration. So here is another phase of the "Army of Producers"—men and women who are on duty constantly, 24 hours of the day, to keep electricity flowing to dairy barns, to factories, to public institutions, to homes—everywhere it may perform a necessary job. Add up all the armies of producers which this country has and you can't but feel proud . . . and just a little surer that victory ultimately will be ours!

Attention REPUBLICANS

Think First, Then Act.

If, in an election for a Representative from the Sixth District, the nominees of both parties should be "tarred with the same stick" it would mean that the Democratic nominee would win since the Democratic registration is overwhelmingly in his favor.

If, in an election for a representative from the Sixth District, the nominees of both parties would have business records which proved their incapability in running their own affairs, would it not be unwise to trust the affairs of 300,000 people in their hands?

Those thoughts are sensible, reasonable, logical. Think them over. To be sure of a Republican Congressional victory in November cast your vote in the primary for

HENRY C. TRIESLER.

Live All Your Life.....

Walter Russell Bowie tells of a letter he received from a small boy who was just learning to write. The letter concluded with these words: "I send you my love. I hope you live all your life!"

That sentence impressed Doctor Bowie so much that he wrote a book with this thought as its central theme. He entitled the book: "On Being Alive."

Most of us are not living all our lives. We are not getting out of life all that we should. We go about oblivious to the beauties of nature, having eyes but not seeing. We meet people and fail to discover the treasures buried in their lives. We live on our little corner of the world and never experience the thrill of adventuring into strange places. We listen to music without really hearing it. Often we are less than half awake to what life has to offer.

We should heed the small boy's advice and wake up and live all our lives.

M'KELDIN AND O'CONOR WIN PRIMARY TILTS

McKeldin Gets Republican Nomination in Landslide—O'Conor Is Victor by 8-to-1 Margin

Governor O'Conor and Theodore R. McKeldin won landslide victories Tuesday in the quietest Maryland primary in years, and Garrett county kept pace with the rest of the state in voting for the leaders of their ticket.

O'Conor held more than an eight-to-one edge in Garrett county over his nearest Democratic opponent, Thomas E. Cook, of Frederick, with a vote of 749 to 88. Kennedy got 19 votes and Peddicord 13. McKeldin led W. Pinkney West, Jr., in the county 1092 to 778, and throughout the state held a six-to-one ratio on the basis of unofficial returns. O'Conor held an eight-to-one edge over Cook throughout the state.

There was no chance that the votes yet to be tabulated would affect the gubernatorial results and even as the returns came in both candidates began looking toward the November balloting.

With 1,124 polling places out of 1,322 reported the unofficial Democratic totals were: O'Conor, 123,390; Thomas E. Cook, 14,406; John M. Kennedy, 8,115; and Stephen Peddicord, 3,695. The counties gave 64,612 to O'Conor and 5,971 to Cook.

McKeldin soared far ahead of West. The Baltimore attorney got 23,721 votes from 813 out of 1,322 polling places to 4,751 votes for West.

O'Conor construed the primary vote as an endorsement of his administration and stated "We look with confidence to a similar verdict by all the voters in November." McKeldin envisioned himself as "the standard bearer of the united opponents of a one party rule in Maryland" and charged O'Conor with a determination "to weaken or destroy" that system.

Revolutionary Soldier Honored

Last Sunday the Friend family paid homage to its pioneer ancestor, John Friend, Sr., by erecting a monument at his grave in the old Friend graveyard near Friendsville. The pastor of the M. E. Church, the church choir and representatives of Proctor Kildow Post, American Legion, took part in the dedication at the grave. The monument is of white Vermont marble, a standard soldier's grave marker provided by the U. S. government.

This is the first grave of some dozen Revolutionary soldiers buried in our county to be so marked. Most of the others are not marked in any way and are almost forgotten. We are now sending our young men to battlefields over the world to save democracy and it was pointed out we should not forget the services of the pioneer Americans who founded our nation.

John Friend, Sr., and seven other pioneer settlers of what is now Garrett county, in August, 1776, enlisted in the militia company of Skipton District of Washington county. At that time Skipton District included all of what is now Allegany and Garrett counties, with the voting place at Col. Cresap's settlement at Oldtown, below Cumberland.

Special credit is due for the marking of John Friend's grave to Senator Clifford Friend and Mr. Harvey Friend, who paid for cleaning up the neglected old Friend cemetery and for making the concrete base of the monument.

Mrs. H. C. Riggs entertained members of her bridge club on Tuesday evening at her home.

Sister Jane Frances (Bernadine Stanton) and Sister Mary Bernice, St. Anne's Convent, Washington, D. C.; Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Wine and son Jerry, of Haymarket, Va., spent several days here, guests of Mrs. J. M. Stanton, returning to their homes on last Thursday.

ROULETTE HOLDS SLIGHT LEAD OVER LEO MILLER

Has Advantage of 63 Votes with Three Precincts Missing in Fourth Judicial Circuit

Ellsworth R. Roulette and Leo H. Miller, both of Hagerstown, are staging a neck and neck race for the Republican nomination for Associate Judge in the Fourth Judicial circuit.

After trailing since early returns were received Tuesday night Roulette took a sixty-three vote lead last night when complete returns were reported from Washington county. Three precincts are still missing, one in Allegany and two in Garrett.

Garrett county gave Miller 1,200 votes as compared to 621 for Roulette.

	Miller	Roulette
Allegany (74 of 75)	3,595	2,672
Garrett (23 of 25)	1,200	621
Wash. (complete)	1,349	2,914
Totals	6,144	6,207

The winner will have as his opponent in the general election, Judge Joseph D. Mish.

With Our Men In the Service

Lloyd Sisler, former resident of the county and at one time a candidate for county treasurer, is now stationed at Port Huenome, Calif., with the fifteenth construction battalion of the U. S. Navy. He writes: "I spent the first 25 days of July at Camp Allen, Va., at military training and three weeks at Camp Bradford, Va., in construction training. We spent five days on a train ride here. We are finishing our training here and at the same time waiting for the boat to take us somewhere in the vast Pacific to build advance bases for the army and navy." His address is Co. C, platoon 3, care of O. I. N. C. Seabees, Navy U. U. V., care of Postmaster, San Francisco, Calif.

Mrs. Lawson L. Loar Gives $100,000 To West Va. Wesleyan

Mrs. Lawson Loar, Clarksburg, has made public her intention to finance the building of a music hall upon the campus of West Virginia Wesleyan college, at Buckhannon, of design and size in harmony with the grounds and other buildings, at a cost of approximately one hundred thousand dollars.

As the first step toward the consummation of this plan and as the first contribution to it, Mrs. Loar on the same day executed and delivered to the college a deed for her palatial home on Mulberry street in Clarksburg. This property will be sold by the college and the proceeds of sale preserved until building conditions are normal, when the plan is to be completed.

Mr. Loar died a few years ago after having given generously of his fortune to charitable enterprises, not only in Grafton and Clarksburg, where he resided, but in other places. He spent many thousands of dollars on Bluemont cemetery in Grafton, for beautification. He discussed at length plans to render some helpful service to boys and girls and after the death of a daughter, Ethel, Mr. and Mrs. Loar decided that after payment of the bequests of his will and after provision for Mrs. Loar, that his estate should pass to some educational institution for the erection of a memorial building to Mr. Loar and his family.

Mr. Loar was a brother of Messrs. George, Harry and Judson Loar, and Misses Grace and Lottie Loar, all of Oakland.

Miss Kathdeen Field, in training for a nurse at Gallinger Hospital, in Washington, D. C., is spending a brief vacation with her mother in Oakland. Miss Ruth Field, another daughter, after spending six weeks or more in Baltimore, Washington, St. Mary's and other cities, has returned to her home and has resumed her teaching position in Oakland High school.

SIXTH DISTRICT REPUBLICANS NOMINATE BEALL

Allegany County Business Man To Oppose E. Brooke Lee, Democrat, in General Election

Republicans in the Sixth Congressional district comprising the counties of Garrett, Allegany, Washington, Frederick and Montgomery, on Tuesday nominated J. Glenn Beall, Frostburg and Cumberland businessman, to oppose E. Brooke Lee (Democrat) of Montgomery county in the general election in November.

Beall, former Allegany county state senator and former chairman of the Maryland State Roads Commission, took the lead when the first returns were tabulated early Tuesday night and his nomination was assured as returns continued to come in from the five counties.

With only twenty of the district's 281 precincts missing Beall held a 5,783 majority over Henry C. Triesler, of Hagerstown. The vote was Beall 11,324; Triesler, 5,541. Garrett county contributed in this landslide by giving Beall 1,544 votes to 438 for Triesler. Allegany county gave him 6,523 votes to 1,120.

The one missing precinct in Allegany and two in Garrett are almost sure to return majorities for Beall. Seven precincts are still missing in Frederick county and ten in Montgomery county.

The vote in 261 of 281 precincts follows:

	Beall	Triesler
Allegany (74 of 75)	6523	1120
Frederick (52 of 59)	1552	916
Garrett (23 of 25)	1544	438
Washington (comp.)	931	2982
Totals	11,324	5,541

Friendsville Man Is Crushed to Death

R. M. Friend, 41, of Friendsville, was instantly killed when he was crushed under a truck which plunged down an embankment near Uniontown, Pa., on Saturday.

Lee R. Herrington, Fayette County coroner, said Friend and a brother, Henry, were returning to their home after delivering pit posts to a mine. The brother escaped unhurt.

Old Defenders' Day

Saturday, September 12, will be observed as Old Defenders' Day. Both banks of Oakland will close for the day in observance of the occasion.

Entertainers Return For Benefit Show

Slim Bryant and his Georgia Wildcats, KDKA entertainers, who gave a benefit performance at Mt. Lake last month, are returning by request for another show with entirely new features on Friday, September 18.

The entertainment is sponsored again by Oak Lodge No. 8, I. O. O. F., and will be held in the Bashford amphitheatre, Mt. Lake Park.

The big feature will be a Swingbilly Wedding with Loppy Bryant as the bride, Ken Newton as the groom, and Slim Bryant as the Parson.

There will also be an opportunity for those in the audience to ask for their favorite songs to be sung or played.

Others in the cast will include Little Molly, singer, Jerry Wallace, banjoist.

There will be no charge to service men in uniform, it was announced by W. H. McRobie, noble grand of the lodge.

The lodge has arranged to award a $25.00 U. S. war bond as a door prize, it was stated this morning.

LARGE NUMBER ATTENDS PYTHIAN CELEBRATION

Annual Picnic Held Monday in City Grove at North Edge of Town—Parade Held at Ten

The twenty-third annual Knights of Pythias Labor Day picnic attracted the usual four to five thousand people to Oakland on Monday and although several features were curtailed due to war conditions, the affair was considered an enjoyable one, particularly for the many candidates who were making their last appeal for votes.

A slight drizzle in the morning dampened the spirits of some but the parade was held nevertheless and consisted of the Oakland and Mt. Lake bands, several fire companies and a number of floats, members of the lodge and other organizations, and several young folks on their bicycles.

The crowd followed the parade to the picnic grounds where many remained until late evening.

The scheduled carnival cancelled its contract at the last minute on account of travel difficulties and another one was substituted which is remaining for the entire week.

Due to war conditions it was impossible to award an automobile this year and there were no parade prizes offered as in former years. The proceeds of the picnic however, are to be used to purchase war bonds, it was stated by lodge officials.

Council Clears Up $3,140 Bank Loans

Repays That Sum to Two Oakland Banks Following Regular Meeting

The City Council cleared up all bank loans following the regular monthly meeting of that body last night, repaying the sum of $3,140 to the Garrett and First National Banks in Oakland. The receipts for August totaled $6,372.33, and of this amount $486.96 was for water and $5,643.75 for taxes.

Expenditures totaled $5,176.31 including the repayment of the bank loans and $275 for council salaries for the first half of 1942. Total receipts since the fiscal year began were $21,802.24, while expenditures have been $20,544.75, leaving a balance on hand of $1,247.49.

The audit of H. L. Jones and J. M. Jarboe, of the clerk-collector's books was accepted. The auditors declared the books were neatly kept and that there was careful attention to detail, and added that thanks were due Mr. Lawton for his help and courtesy.

Council decided to improve Green street between Sixth and Eighth, after M. R. Maroney and C. L. Briner had appeared before the organization. The council also granted the request of the Board of Education to erect a new frame warehouse on 8th street, 30 by 100 feet.

Benefit Card Party By Jaycees Sept. 24

Ticket sale for the benefit card party being sponsored by the Oakland Junior Chamber of Commerce is going nicely, it was announced this morning by those in charge.

The party will be held in the Oakland Elementary school on Thursday evening, September 24. The committee in charge includes Virgil Kelley, Lewis Jones, C. L. Briner, Jr., and Emeric Dusic.

Proceeds from the card party will be used for the benefit of the men in armed forces.

1,046 STUDENTS ARE ENROLLED IN CITY'S SCHOOLS

Number Slightly Less Than Last Year's Figures—574 in High and 397 in Elementary

With an enrollment of 1,046 pupils the Oakland High and Elementary and the Parochial schools opened on Tuesday for the nine-months' term of instruction.

Oakland High school had an enrollment of 574, twelve less than last year when 586 enrolled, according to Foster D. Bittle. Mr. Bittle estimated that the number would be increased by about fifty before the end of September.

Elementary Roll Down

At the Oakland Elementary school there was a total enrollment of 397, 17 less than last year at the same time, according to Merle D. Frantz, principal.

The enrollment by grades is as follows: grade 7, 63; grade 6, 38; grade 5, 58; grade 4, 50; grade 3, 62; grade 2, 58; grade 1, 68.

The Parochial school opened this week with an enrollment of 75. This year for the first time the school is operating its own bus and is bringing pupils from Hutton, Deer Park, and surrounding communities, it was announced by the teacher in charge.

Classes are in full swing today in all three schools and a number of school activities other than classroom work will get under way the first of next week in the High and Elementary schools.

Roy and Brann Chosen by Jaycee Service Project

Richard Roy and Lt. Dave Brann were selected by the Jaycees this week in continuing their "service man" writing project. Their names will be posted in the three drug stores, Hamill's, and at Hinebaugh's restaurant.

Roy is located in a non-commissioned officers' school in Camp Wheeler, Ga., while Lt. Brann is located in Boston, Mass. Richard Roy's brother, Dwight Roy, was selected a week or two ago. He is in Australia.

The Jaycees heard this week from Laurence Wensel, who was selected several weeks ago. The letter follows:

"I wish to express my appreciation for the gifts and messages which were sent to me. Personally I think your idea of backing up the boys and letting us know we have not been forgotten is a swell one.

"I hope you don't judge my appreciation by the length of time it has been since receiving your package.

"Since I don't want to make excuses I will tell you what I have been experiencing the last week or so. Our company left Dale Mabry field August 22, the day after receiving the package, for Orlando, Fla. From there we came to Waycross, Ga., then to Greenwood, S. C., and then we finally set up camp near Greenville, S. C. Since it is just a new camp we are experiencing Army life in the raw! But we can take it.

Tell the Oakland folks to keep up the good spirit and we will keep 'em flying.

Respectfully yours,
LAURENCE WENSEL

Deer Park Honoring Those in War Service

Deer Park does not want to be alone, when it comes to honoring her boys who have gone to be with the armed forces. She loves every one of them, and for this reason the members of the Methodist Sunday School have decided to place in its church a Service Flag and Honor Roll to honor those who have gone from that community.

Prayers are offered for those in service, and each Sunday several names are to be taken from the roll and special prayers offered for them.

This is not denominational. Anyone having a son, husband, or brother from Deer Park or surrounding community in the services and who would like to have his name on the Service Flag and Honor Roll, to be remembered in prayer each Sunday, should send his name, address and that of the sender to the Service Star Committee of the Methodist Sunday school at Deer Park.

JONES WINS SENATE NOMINATION OVER FRALEY; GONDER TOPS HALL

Figures Not Obtained for Two Precincts; Less Than Fifty Percent of Voters Go To Polls

E. Ray Jones, local attorney and former secretary of State, won a rather close contest against Lawrence M. Fraley, mayor of Oakland, to receive the Republican nomination for State Senator in the Primary election on Tuesday, while at the same time Bernard I. Gonder was having an easy victory over his opponent, Dr. C. Oscar Hall, for the Democratic nomination for the same office. The totals for twenty-three out of twenty-five polling places gave Jones 1409, Fraley 1179, Gonder 666, and Hall 247.

In spite of last minute pamphlets and other material distributed to the voters there was less than the usual interest manifest among citizens, less than 50 percent going to the polls to exercise their right of franchise.

Cheston H. Browning and G. Blaine Giessman, two present county commissioners running for re-election were defeated by safe margins, with Jonas W. Sines, a newcomer; John W. Herman, a former commissioner, and Walter G. Meyers, present clerk to the board of commissioners, being the nominees. Sines was high man in the group with 1426 votes, in 23 out of 25 polling places.

Nelson Brenneman, only member of the House of Delegates running for re-election, was successful in his candidacy along with Otho S. Fike, former member of the House, and Jasper C. Myers. Mr. Myers polled 1690 votes, while Mr. Brenneman and Mr. Fike polled 1614 and 1699 votes, respectively.

J. Edward Helbig, Deer Park, running for Treasurer against Paul M. Friend, a present member of the Board of County Commissioners, held an almost two-to-one advantage, with two precincts yet to report. Helbig had 143 votes and Mr. Friend 854 votes.

George E. Coddington had a comfortable lead in the race for Sheriff, with 781 votes, his nearets opponent being Mark H. Moon, of Mountain Lake Park, who polled 614 votes.

Successful candidates for members of the Republican State Central Committee were Lester Bittinger, William D. Casteel, Spencer Graham and Benj. H. Sincell. Mr. Casteel polled the greatest number of votes in the entire election with a total of 1874, two precincts not yet being reported.

The official results will not be known before late this afternoon when the returns are canvassed and tabulated by the Board of Supervisors of Elections at their office in Oakland.

Election officials at Swanton sealed their returns Tuesday evening without making a copy of the figures for the various candidates, but from memory they stated there was little difference in the Fraley and Jones totals, and that the totals for the candidates for County Commissioners would not make any change in the standing of the candidates.

The unofficial return of the twenty-three reporting polling places are printed in The Republican today.

Elbow Count In

The tabulation from Elbow was brought in late this morning and shows that Roulette received 11 votes there to 8 for Miller which increases Roulette's lead in the district to 66. Fraley received 11 votes there to 12 for Jones.

Forty-Two Called For Army Service On September 18th

Another Call for Similar Number To Be Made Early in October

Forty-two men are being called for induction into the armed forces through the Garrett county Draft Board, according to a list released by Harland L. Jones, clerk, this week.

Two of these men are transfers from other boards, and one man, Clyde Randolph Dahlgren, has already enlisted in the army air corps.

The men are to leave Oakland on Friday, September 18, for Baltimore, for a final examination before induction. The list includes the following:

Transferred

William Thomas Gaither, Local Board No. 5, Baltimore County, 21-23 Shipping Place, Dundalk, Maryland.

Another group of about forty men are to be called early in October.

Methodist Circles To Meet

Circle Number One of the WSCS of St. Paul's Methodist church will meet this evening at the home of Mrs. Russell Smith, on the Deer Park road, for a covered dish supper at six o'clock.

Circle Number Two will meet Monday evening, September 14, at the home of Mrs. Frederick Thayer. Mrs. S. H. Jackson will be assistant hostess.

Circle Number Three is meeting this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. H. C. Leighton, with Mrs. Harry Stemple and Mrs. William Kildow assisting.

Circle Number Four is also meeting this evening at the home of Mrs. Milburn Mann on Reese street. Assistant hostesses are Mrs. Margaret Casteel, Mrs. Gordon McRobie and Mrs. Nelson Bucklew.

Farm Loan Group Has Annual Meeting

Members of the Garrett County National Farm Loan association will hold their annual stockholders meeting on Tuesday, September 15, in the directors room of the Garrett National Bank building in Oakland, President Albert O. Riley announced today.

"This is the best way for the members to keep informed concerning the affairs of the association," Mr. Riley said, "for in this meeting the operation and responsibilities of the association will be presented and discussed and then members will name directors to serve for the term of 1942 and 1943," he added.

Besides members attending, invitations have been sent to county and home demonstration agents, vocational agriculture instructors, and representatives of other cooperative credit and agricultural agencies. Farm women are especially invited.

The attendance committee includes: Earl K. Harvey, Swanton; A. P. Sanders, Oakland; Mrs. Mary Alice Beachy, Accident; A. J. Richter, Accident; Ollie E. Lochel, Grantsville; Daniel E. Orendorf, Oakland, and Charles L. Blamble, Bayard, W. Va.

September Ushers In Oyster Season Again

Oysters Coming In Now Are Said to Be Especially Plump And Luscious

With oysters in the market again, Maryland housewives don't have to worry about menus for meatless days. The season for oysters opened as usual, when September brought the R months back to the calendar. Best of all, those who are qualified to judge, say that the current season has been a particularly favorable one for oysters—no matter what it may have been for humans—and the oysters that are coming in are especially plump and luscious. You can have them according to the best Maryland tradition—raw, on the half shell, in a cocktail as an appetizer, or, steamed, stewed, fried, creamed, however you like them best, as the principal dish of the meal.

Sanitary supervision of the oyster industry is under the charge of the State Health Department. As pointed out by Dr. R. H. Riley, Director of the Department it is an all-the-year-round responsibility—not one for the "R" months only—which requires the closely correlated services of the Bureau of Food and Drugs, with other branches of the Department.

Inspections of the oyster-bearing waters are made by the Bureau of Sanitary Engineering; bacteriological and chemical examinations of oysters and waters, follow, in the laboratories of the Bureaus of Bacteriology and Chemistry; and the general supervision of the packing houses and commercial concerns is under the direction of the Bureau of Food and Drugs.

Because shellfish products from Maryland concerns are shipped to all parts of the country, the individual concerns must meet the Federal requirements for interstate commerce as well as the State regulations. The oyster-handling plants that meet these requirements are certified for State and interstate shipments after inspections by the Bureau of Food and Drugs. The certificates are for a single season, only, and must be renewed each year, before the season opens.

Re-inspections are made from time to time during the "R" months, and certificates are subject to cancellation for any plant which fails to comply with the regulations.

The proprietors of oyster-handling plants in the State were notified during the summer, by Mr. A. L. Sullivan, Chief of the Bureau of Food and Drugs, of certain requirements which must be met before the plants can be certified for the season of 1942-1943.

Certificates were granted to approximately 225 plants for the season of 1941-1942.

APPRECIATES SPLENDID VOTE

I wish to take this means to express by appreciation to the Republican voters of the county for their splendid support in Tuesday's primary election, although it was not quite sufficient to give me the nomination.

I want to say that I will support the successful Republican nominees for County Commissioner at the general election in November and urge those who voted for me to do likewise.

Very sincerely yours,
JAMES A. SAVAGE

WITH THE UNITED STATES NAVY IN THE SOLOMON ISLANDS—During the past three days I saw United States marines Raiders capture the islands of Tulagi, Gavutu and Tanambogo.

The marines went about the job in a coldblooded, deadly manner. They annihilated the Japs almost to the last man and the fighting ended with the marines firmly holding all three key islands in Tulagi harbor.

The Japs used all the tricks that the marines had been taught to expect, but their trickery was no match for marine tommyguns, knives, bayonets and bravery.

Marines Cool and Brave

I never saw such a cool, determined bunch as those marines. Thank the lord they are on our side instead of fighting against us.

First of all, I had better make it clear that these marine shock troops are Raiders. Don't ever make the mistake of calling them Commandos or you're likely to be nursing a sore jaw. If you want to talk to them say "hey, marine," or "hey, raider," never say "hey, Commando." They don't like it.

These Raiders are picked for their size and toughness. All seem to be above six feet tall and as hard as nails. In training they get sprayed with animal blood thrown in their face, to see if they can take it. It was good training, because for three days there was plenty of bloodshed. The Raiders were out to kill Japs and they killed plenty.

In Fight Through Coincidence

I got in on the fight through a coincidence. I was temporarily aboard a transport en route to my own ship at sea off the Solomons and got to go ashore. I wouldn't have missed it for the world.

Early in the morning of August 7, with clouds hiding the moon, our transport slipped into Tulagi harbor undetected and our planes swooped down to strafe and bomb the islands while our escorting warships shelled the shore.

We shoved off from our transport and went over to another transport to take aboard some Raiders. They quickly scrambled over the side and took seats in the bottom of the boat. Most of them lit cigarets and crouched there calmly. There wasn't much talk. Looking back from my post in the bow, all I could see was helmets and shoulders of marines with their rifles between their knees.

My boat was the first which headed toward Tulagi. We had hoped to make a landing at 7:55 a. m., which was the time the first bombs fell on Pearl Harbor eight months before.

First Jap Trickery

We started to land at the southwest corner of Tulagi, near the hospital, but as we approached machine guns started firing from the hospital windows. This was our first experience with Jap trickery. We purposely had not bombed or shelled the hospitals but the Japs were using it. They opened fire but their bullets fell short. We turned away and landed farther up the beach out of range.

As our boat hit the sandy shore the first marine jumped out. He was a husky fellow with a long black beard which must have taken six months to grow. I don't know whether he was a private or an officer. All the marines in speaking to each other used first names.

Others kept jumping ashore. They took last long drags on their cigarets, grasped rifles or tommyguns and plunged into the woods which covered most of Tulagi. After a few seconds we could hear them shooting. They were as cool as could be and obviously knew their jobs.

Planes Aid in Attack

We went back to the transports and loaded guns and crews and landed them ashore. The Marines were still pouring into the woods and there was intermittent firing. All this time, in fact all day the seventh and eighth, our planes were overhead bombing and strafing in front of the advancing marines. It was really reassuring to see those planes.

While our boat was going toward the shore we received an air raid alarm and in the distance we saw the splashes of bombs dropping around our transports across the channel off Guadalcanal. I saw two Japanese planes plunge to the sea in flames and I heard that at least fourteen were drowned.

After we made a few trips we were told to standby our transport to await the unloading of marine troops who weren't scheduled to go ashore until the raiders had the situation well in hand. We were anxious to see what was going on and three times we "accidentally" drifted in close until the marine commander reprimanded us.

During the afternoon our destroyers went inside the harbor and shelled Tanambogo and Gavutu. In Tanambogo practically the entire island was honeycombed with underground positions built of cement and sheet metal. The marines had plenty of trouble there.

We transferred to a lighter transport used for taking tanks ashore and spent that night and the next night aboard. We ate army field rations which really were delicious. You're supposed to take one hour to eat a can of these rations, but we gulped them down in five minutes.

During Friday some Japs swam to the wreckage of a four-engined flying boat off Gavutu. Only one wing was above the water with the hull submerged, but somehow the Japs set up a machine gun and started firing on our boats approaching Gavutu.

The marines finally located the source of the firing and silenced it.

Saturday we stood by ready to land troops and kept circling while our bigger ships—transports and warships—maneuvered in the big roadstead between Tulgai and Guadalcanal.

At mid-morning we received word Jap bombers were coming, and at 11:30 we saw a dogfight over the channel. Just before noon we saw twenty-three big bombers coming in from the east over Florida island. They were flying real low—just off the water. Our ships were maneuvering, one off Tulagi, the other off Guadalcanal. The Japs flew right between them.

Seven Japs Bagged

Our anti-aircraft from all ships opened as soon as the Japs came into range, and the sky was a solid sheet of fire. I saw seven Japs go down. Four of them received direct hits from one of our cruisers.

When hit, the planes became balls of fire, plunged into the water, burned briefly, then sank without a trace. The remaining planes went out of sight, and we learned only one left the area entirely—with its port motor on fire and two fighters on its tail.

A destroyer was hit by bombs Saturday. We learned that on Friday one transport had been set afire by a plane crashing into its deck. We saw the fire Saturday, and it seemed under control then.

We tied up to our transport Saturday night. High winds broke us loose, but we kept near the ship. At 2 a. m. Sunday word passed from the ship "all is well." Then hell broke loose.

Over to the west, toward the channel, there was a sudden rumble of gunfire. Instantly three ships were burning, great blazes of light against the black night.

One Ship Explodes

One ship seemed to explode and looked as if it was lifted right out of the water by the explosion. I saw searchlights briefly illuminating a ship. Then there were big gun flashes both from the ships with the searchlights and from the ship that was being illuminated. We knew it was a fight between Jap and American surface vessels.

It was impossible to tell whether we were winning or losing or what was happening. We heard conflicting reports and three times before sunrise we were lifted aboard the transport, which prepared to leave the area.

At 5:30 a. m. the transport pulled out and we thought we were abandoned. We went over to another transport nearby where we were told the landings would continue as scheduled.

We took supplies aboard and headed inshore. By mistake we landed on Gavutu instead of Tulagi. Marines were walking along the beach only a few feet from us. Frequently one would kneel and fire at some target we couldn't see.

Five raiders came along the beach and suddenly opened fire with tommyguns at a coconut tree. We thought they'd gone crazy. A few coconuts dropped from the tree. Then a dead Jap fell down, and we decided the raiders weren't crazy.

Land on Wrong Beach

The marines commanding officer told us we were on the wrong beach and we had just started to shove off for Tulagi when two big marines, each wel lover six feet tall, appeared with a diminutive Jap. They were carrying him easily by the arms. They set him down in front of the commanding officer and he suddenly squirmed and ran away. The marines shot him.

We went over to Tulagi, getting shot at from Tanambogo en route, but the shots fell short. As I had no duties, I walked along the beach while the boat was unloading. Fires were burning everywhere. Tin and wooden buildings were wrecked by our bombs and shells. I went into the government office building on the waterfront. There were Japanese supplies and uniforms lying around and a sign "American Airlines" hanging from the ceiling.

Already the marines were cleaning out debris and patching the roof. One nearby building had been used as a rice storehouse by the Japs. Evidently a bomb had hit it squarely. Rice was scattered everywhere with a few sacks still intact.

Attack Complete Surprise

We saw plenty of evidence that our attack had been a complete surprise. Some places bowls partially filled with rice and other food were standing on the tables with chopsticks scattered about. We found some Japanese saki and beer and champagne cider, and tried them all.

We made ten trips to the beach during daylight Sunday, and several times I wandered considerable distances around Tulagi. From the beach a path led through a ravine leading from the north to the south side of the island, through hills. The ravine is about fifty yards long, fifteen feet deep and eight feet wide.

Several of our marines with rifles were lying on their stomachs on top of the ravine. Others were gathering brush which they threw on the bodies of three Japs. They threw matches and lighted the brush. They told me it was to smoke out five other Japs in a cave in the side of the ravine.

While I was watching, one Jap stuck a rifle out of the cave and shot. The bullet hit a marine in the elbow, missing the bone. Another marine tapped him on the shoulder and said "dressing station's down there." The marine got up without a word and walked down. Another marine took his place. Just then a Jap walked out of the cave in front of our eyes and seated himself on the path. He was laughing loudly and a little hysterically. He had a full uniform but no rifle or helmet. Apparently waiting to be killed drove him crazy. He didn't wait much longer.

Our raiders weren't the least bit excited. All they wanted to do was to kill Japs. Some of them had been at Midway. While we were on the beach, marines would talk out of the woods and ask for a smoke. We'd give it and ask how it was going. The most they would say was "okay. Have to go back and get a couple in there." I remember asking one if our losses were heavy. He said "they've killed some of us."

Japs Shot Through Head

The beach was sprinkled with bodies of Japs. Most of the Japs were shot through the head. The Japs were apparently veteran troops. They didn't look very young. Some of their uniforms were much like the marines except for different colored leggings and cartridge belts.

The marines were allowed to carry whatever weapons they chose. All had knives, which they spent the night before the attack sharpening. I remember one boy who must have been a Texan. He had twin bandoliers of cartridges across his chest and another around his waist. Two .45 automatics in open holsters were at his sides, with another in a shoulder holster. A long machete was fastened to his belt. And completing his equipment was—a tommygun.

The marines told me the Japs spoke good English and used clever tricks. One Jap took the clothes from a dead marine and started to pass our sentries just at dusk. The Jap slaped a sentry on the back and inquired, "what's doing, kid?-- The sentry answered, "never mind what's cooking." Then the marine shot him.

Japs Prove Tricky

The first night ashore the marines occupied a large building but decided to sleep outside, and posted sentries. The next morning they went to reenter the building and were met by machine gun fire. Somehow during the night fourteen Japs had got through our lines and into the house. The marines burned them out.

Japs hid everywhere. I saw one in a tiny hole in a rock. It looked as if he had been born there and grown up to fit the hole. He was dead, sitting cross-legged.

No doubt about it, the Japs really fought. One Jap colonel cut his throat as he was about to be captured. Another colonel shot himself. They wore ribbons of the Manchurian campaign. Some soldiers had printed money marked "Honan province," and other tokens indicating they were veterans of the China war.

He Only Killed Ten

I talked to one marine in the woods and asked, "How many have you killed?" He answered, "Only ten. The others were killing them left and right."

The marines let us wander everywhere on the island, but we stopped doing it much when we learned they were using us as bait to trap snipers. Several times a bluejacket would walk past a marine crouching silently by the path. The bluejacket would get a few feet past when he would hear shots—one from a sniper aiming at him and the other from the marine who'd been waiting for the sniper to give away his position.

All the time we were unloading, shooting was going on not far from us. At one point the marines were throwing grenades into holes in the cliffs to get the Japs out.

Seeing those marines fight made you proud of them. I'd heard about the Japs' suicidal charges. But those marines were entirely oblivious of their own safety. They walked right into fire and when some of them were killed, others kept going.

Those marines didn't seem to give a damn whether they lived or died, as long as they died shooting at Japs.

PRESIDENTIAL COORDINATION—

As early as 1935 adequate coordination of the vastly expanded Government of the United States had become a pressing problem. War has accented the need. Conflicting policies and statements of the Ickeses, Hendersons and Wickards can do almost as much damage as divided command on the battlefield.

After many months in which mix-ups on the rationing, prices, rubber, gasoline and other home-front sectors had weakened morale and convinced the public that the Government didn't know its own mind, the President appointed Elmer Davis to coordinate and control war information. Now Mr. Roosevelt has directed heads of federal agencies to cease issuing conflicting statemeints and to do their fighting in private. In ordering them to bring their differences to him for settlment and to leave annuouncements of policy to him, he appears to name himself as the last of the long line of coordinators.

This order has been greeted with mixed feelings. Commentators complain that he has shut off necessary public information and the discussion of conflicting views. We doubt if many channels of information will be closed, and certainly Congress and the press still afford ample forums for discussion. A rationing of conflicting and confusing statements can only help.

But more than the mere appearance of harmony and singleness of purpose is required. To win the war it will not be sufficient to paper over the cracks and hide internal dissension. This comes down to a question of the President's personal characteristics. He has always been inclined to let the horses in his New Deal team pull in a half a dozen directions. He had an amazing tolerance for the Farley-Hopkins, Ickes-Jones feuds, appeared unwilling to decide between them or to reprove any friend.

In peacetime this method had some advantages. It saved the President from a larger degree of personal rule and allowed policy to be shaken down by democratic pulling and hauling, trial and error. But it has become dangerous in wartime. Today there is a new demand on the President to be decisive, to disregard personal feeling where necessary,to act as Commander-in-Chief on the home front and exert a more positive, unifying leadership. He cannot continue to wait for the public to lead or for his aides to argue.

Those who ask this of the President may well recognize that only by rising above certain personal limitations can he achieve it. For Mr. Roosevelt appears to be as poor as an administrator as he is good as a planner. He had the vision to see many needs in both domestic and foreign affairs and the skill to make people see them. But in carrying through, in organization, he has never been strong.

Today his task is chiefly one of organization and coordination. The demands of the times and his unusual grasp of strategy on a globular scale have helped the President to meet the test in foreign affairs so well that criticism should be held in abeyance. Even on the home front, mere criticism is out of place. But public insistence on more effective coordination—which in the end means more active, decisive leadership by the eventual coordinator in the White House—can be a support both to the President and to the national effort to win the war.

MARRIED MEN, OR YOUTH?

General Hershey's warning to married men without children to get ready for military service by Christmas brought the war suddenly closer to millions of additional Americans. So did Manpower Commissioner McNutt's reminder to college boys that they are destined for the armed services.

While such blunt statements may not be welcomed, while they may not be borne out completely by developments in many individual cases, they serve a useful purpose. The services will require more men soon. The "pooling" order, calling up all single men, emphasizes the fact that the reservoir of those without dependents is running low.

This leaves two alternatives: (1) starting taking men with dependents, or (2) lowering the selective service age to include boys of 18 and 19. Such is the harsh situation. It is only fair that it be understood by the people during the discussions leading to a decision by Congress on the proper course.

As the law now stands, it will be the married men who are called. Congress has already voted allowances for their dependents. However, it is known that the Army would prefer to have the youths, and business men fear a disruption of staffs if many more older men go. It is asserted that drafting youths is delayed only because Congress dare not act before the elections.

Actually, this question looms so large, and is so close to the hearts of the people, and the need for expediting the war is so paramount, that political considerations seem inconsequential.

It's a hard question that must be answered, but since we must win the war, the governing issue, the nub, is simply which group of men, those with dependents, or those in their teens, will contribute most to victory.

Such points as the claimed physical resiliency and recklessness of youth, contrasted with the supposed mental steadiness of family men, will weigh above questions of sentiment.

The country would benefit from having this question decided. If only one group is to go, the others should not be unsettled and in doubt. Delay is inexcusable.

THEY ARE ALL IN THE SERVICE

An internationally known and widely read publication printed in Boston pays this tribute to the women of Amercia who are now engaged in war work throughout the nation:

"To the 436 American women who have just graduated second lieutenants in the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps at Fort Des Moines, Iowa, congratulations!

"To the thousands of women everywhere who are giving patriotic service in simple, unspectacular ways without thought of applause or public notice, a very special BRAVO!

"But it's important to remember that patriotism is not necessarily in uniform. The housewife who conscientiously flattens her tin cans, saves her grease, and turns in her scrap to the collector is doing her part to win the war just as positively as the girl in khaki or the girl in blue.

"Many women are taking over hard and homely jobs, running street cars, driving taxis, working in war industries, even pinchhitting as barbers and crossing tenders until the men come home.

"Taking care of a growing family always has come under the head of Service—with a capital 'S.' So let's not forget that they're all in it, whether their uniforms are simple house aprons, smudged overalls, or the Mainbocher navy blue.

Mr. Guard Tells All!

By JARED W. YOUNG

A letter of mine gained some publicity in the recent Democratic primaries. As a land owner and tax payer in Garrett county for many years, and fairly active in Mt. Lake Park affairs, I had ventured, although a Republican, to commend the services of Dr. C. Oscar Hall to the town as its mayor, I having cast my vote for, and aided in, his election to that office.

A letter in last week's Mountain Democrat by Mr. R. Earl Guard severely condemns my action. Other phases of his letter I am covering in the current issue of that paper. Here I wish to comment on certain of his well expressed views therein of far reaching and encouraging interest to Republicans everywhere.

Careful readers of the Guard letter will have noted his luke-warm attitude toward both Hall and Gender, for in a half column he gives, as his only recommendation for a choice between them, their respective lengths of county residence. Whereas I, a Republican, had frankly stated my own belief that "either would worthily represent the County's interests at Annapolis."

Clearly, then, he thus merely seized on this opportunity to express long-suppressed ranklings in his breast over the ruthless manner in which the Titulary Heads of the Democratic party at Washington have for years been interfering in local state elections, a flagrant flouting of the essential principles of a true Democracy before which we Republicans have at times stood aghast and amazed.

Boldly throwing off the shackles of mere party allegiance, and once again voicing true Jeffersonian honesty, Mr. Guard says:

"I resent interference on the part of non-residents in the selection of candidates, and I feel sure this feeling must be shared by my fellow Democrats everywhere!"

In so writing Mr. Guard undoubtedly had in mind the hectic days of the attempted 'Tydings' purge in the Democratic primaries, when Washington rushed so many heavy-gun non-residents into the Eastern Shore that the Old Line State began to tip so dangerously it looked at times up here as though the waters of the Yough might slop clean over the top of Backbone Mountain and spill down into the North Branch.

Mr. Guard is not a man to pull his punches in the heat of battle. Thus in Clevelandesque phrasing, with almost brutal frankness, he characterizes the pernicious attempt by any non-resident "to influence the voters' choice" as being "not only unwarranted meddling but inexcusable insolence."

In starting this laudable reformation Mr. Guard has cannily refrained from naming specific names, thus cleverly avoiding any editorial blue-penciling of his letter, and ensuring that his strident message may prove a clarion call to every thoughtful Democrat.

We therefore hope and believe that Mr. Guard's is not a lone voice crying aloud in the Wilderness of Washingtonian Chaos; that rather his words reflect the true spirit of the rank and file of his Party as they once more veer back to normalcy; and we would like to see this Guard Slogan appear as the editorial page heading in every Democratic paper from now till November:

Non-resident intereference in local elections is inexcusable insolence. If this be treason, make the most of it!

Bureau of Mines Makes Inspection

A systematic timbering plan and the excellent haulage conditions and practices in the Pee Wee mine of the Pritts Brothers Coal Company, at Kitzmiller, Garrett County, Md., should be supplemented with improved ventilation and safer handling and firing of explosives, according to a report of a Federal coal mine inspector which has been made public by Dr. R. R. Sayers, Director of the Bureau of Mines.

After a routine inspection April 20 and 21, 1942, of this small mine which employs 28 men and produces about 100 tons of coal daily, the Federal inspector listed a number of safety features and commented upon a reduction of accidents in 1941. At the same time, he called attention to "dangerous" blasting methods and an inadequate supply of fresh air at certain points in the mine.

The main ventilating fan produced ample air for the number of men working underground, the inspector said, but the air was not being coursed to the working places in sufficient quantities. This, he found, was due to leakage in stoppings and doors used to control ventilation, old workings connecting with the ventilating currents, and the loss of air to the surface through gobs, or piles of mine refuse.

Other features for which the mine was complimented were clean and orderly surface yards and buildings, the use of permissible electric cap lamps for illumination, and good cooperation between officials and workers.

The inspector also noted that during the five-year period, 1937 to 1941, inclusive, the mine produced 109,685 tons of coal without a fatality and had an average of 6,082 tons per lost-time accident. During 1941, company records showed, the mine produced an average of 12,478 tons of coal per lost-time accident.

To the Citizens of Garrett County:

I want to take this opportunity to thank everyone for his support at the Primary Election on Tuesday and I sincerely hope that all will give Mr. B. I. Gonder their loyal support in the general election in November.

Theodore E. Sines Thanks Voters

Please accept my thanks for your support at the Primary Election on Tuesday, and while I was not the successful candidate for nomination, I want to assure Mr. George E. Coddington that I am happy to congratulate him and to pledge to him my support in the General Election. It has been a pleasure to campaign during the Primaries, knowing that all of my opponents were men of high character and never feeling that the usual bad brand of politics would enter the campaign. Sincerely,

MANY dairymen in Southern States territory are getting free hay for their stock by using the right fertilizer on fall grains. The extra wheat that results from the fertilizer more than pays back the cost of the fertilizer. The extra hay is FREE FEED.

The balanced plant nutrients in Southern States open formula fertilizers get the grain off to a head start. Plenty of plant food holds over to increase the hay yields.

By using Southern States open formula fertilizer in the paper bag, you save on bag costs, on handling trouble, and get 1% more fertilizer in the land. Use Southern States 0-12-12 or 0-14-7 this fall.

THIS WAR is teaching us, as nothing else can, the value of having strong, healthy bodies to meet not only the ordinary tasks, but the extra service directly connected with our "all out" victory efforts. Classrooms teach hygiene and health every day. We hear and read the message constantly. Now we are acting on it—buying the right foods, refrigerating them electrically to preserve their natural vitamin values, preparing them in such manner that they will furnish the utmost to our bodies. In the nation's "Health for Victory" program, electricity is doing its full part. Electric appliances also are on the firing line for the duration and it's our job—and yours—to keep them in the best possible working condition. Call a serviceman before you have trouble. SEEKS COURT ACTION OVER CUSTER ESTATE

Complaint Asks Restraint of Mrs. Mahala Green From Making Bank Withdrawals

Court action to prohibit further withdrawals of money deposited in the First National Bank, Cumberland, and allegedly belonging to the estate of Frank J. Custer, Garrett county, near Barton, who died June 14, is asked in a bill of complaint filed in Allegany County Circuit Court last Friday by Ella Michael and Clementine Michael, administratrixs, against Mrs. Mahala Green and the bank.

The bill recites that at the time of Custer's death there were two deposits in the bank to the joint account of Custer and Mrs. Green, "payable to either of them or to the survivor." One deposit, $1,237.73, was withdrawn by Mrs. Green three days after Custer's death. The bank, however, is said to have refused Mrs. Green's application the following day for withdrawal of the second deposit, $1,297.85.

Custer is described in the complaint as a mentally impaired recluse. Prior to January 28, 1942, the deposits were said to be in his own name alone. The allegation is made that Mrs. Green influenced him to change them into joint accounts with herself. Horace P. Whitworth, Sr., is attorney for the plaintiffs.

AURORA-EGLON

Funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon at the Maple Spring church by Rev. W. L. Teets, for Leonard Simmons, 82, who died suddenly Friday, September 4. Surviving relatives include two daughters, three sons, a large number of grandchildren and great-grandchildren. Burial was made in the church cemetery. Mr. Simmons had lived his entire life in this vicinity.

Funeral rites were held Monday at the home at Brookside, for Joe Henry Dennison, 16, who passed away early Saturday morning, following several weeks' illness. Survivors include his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Dennison, one sister, Patty Lou, and a host of other relatives and friends. Burial was made in the family lot at Westernport.

Twin daughters, Jacklyn Lou and Carolyn Sue, were born Wednesday, September 2, at an Elkins hospital to Mr. and Mrs. "Monk" Shrader, of Kempton. The mother was the former Miss Virginia Teets, of Eglon. These are their fourth children and first girls. The father is a coal miner.

Announcement has been made of the marriage on September 3, at Cumberland, of Beulah Slabaugh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Somers Slabaugh, of Horse Shoe Run, and David Hardesty, son of Hervy and the late Mrs. Hardesty, of near Aurora. Mr. Hardesty is with the U. S. Army, and is at present stationed in Florida.

Lloyd Harsh, of Eglon, received word Tuesday, that his great-granddaughter, Genevieve Cook, 22, of Glenco, Pa., had fallen and broken both bones in her leg. Miss Cook was a victim of infantile paralysis when very young, and was already badly crippled.

Mrs. Julius Arnold, Horse Shoe Run, was taken to Wenzel hospital, at Meyersdale, Pa., Monday, where she remains a medical patient.

Last Thursday, while playing with a hand operated cider mill, the little eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Evans, of Horse Shoe Run, got a finger so badly mangled that amputation was necessary. This was done by a local physician at Eglon, after which the boy was able to return to his home. Yesterday however, infection set in and he was taken to the Elkins City Hospital, last night.

A miscellaneous shower was given Thursday evening, September 3, by the young folks of the community, at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Charles Vought, Eglon, for Mr. and Mrs. Hobert Vought, newlyweds. The couple received many useful gifts.

Ellen Harsh, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Harsh, of the Accident community, was severely scalded Tuesday, when she slipped on the wet porch and fell, while helping her sister carry a tub of clothes from the boiler.

Recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Summers McCrum, Sr., Aurora, were a son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. McCrum, of Charleston; Mr. and Mrs. "Bud" Eaton, of Montgomery, and Mr. and Mrs. John Martin, of Fairmont.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Summers McCrum, Jr., of Aurora, moved today to Newburg, where Mrs. McCrum will be a teacher in high school. Mr. McCrum will teach in the Kingwood school.

Mrs. Sarah Fike, Eglon, accompanied her daughter, Mildred, on Tuesday, to her home at Deep Creek Lake.

Mrs. Claudia Parker and two little boys who, for some time have been remaining at the home of Mrs. Parker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Wotring, near Aurora, left Wednesday morning by bus for their home in Mississippi.

Dr. Cunningham, of Elgin, Ill., will conduct services at Maple Spring church, Sunday evening, September 13.

DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE PLEASED

I was very much pleased and gratified with the support which I received from the Democratic voters of the county in again nominating me as their candidate for the State Senate. I appreciate greatly this vote of confidence.

You can depend upon me to conduct a real vigorous campaign and with your continued support and those of your friends we will go over the top in the General Election in November.

Sincerely yours,
BERNARD I. GONDER

Grateful for Large Vote

I want to take this opportunity to thank the Republican voters of the county for their fine support at the Primary election on Tuesday, which nominated me as a candidate for County Commissioner and gave me the highest vote of any of the contestants for that office.

I earnestly seek your continued support and ask for your vote at the general election in November.

Very sincerely,
JONAS W. SINES

JOSEPH SOLD INTO SLAVERY

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 37:23-36.
GOLDEN TEXT—Love envieth not.—I Corinthians 13:4, R.V.

Does it pay to trust God? Is He really concerned about the affairs of men? Does He know the trials and the heartaches of His children? These are the crying questions of today, and they find their answer in God's dealings with men of the past. The story of Joseph has many interesting and instructive phases, but perhaps the most important just now is the truth of our lesson, "The Lord saith . . . them that honor me I will honor."

We first find Joseph as he learns that

I. Jealousy Bears Bitter Fruit (vv. 23-30).

Joseph was his father's favorite and was shown that favoritism in many ways, but it was perhaps most fully expressed in the coat of many colors. This was a luxurious long robe with sleeves, indicating that he was a gentleman and not to do ordinary work of one who wore the sleeveless, knee-length tunic. His brothers deeply resented this evidence of the father's favor.

The dreams which Joseph rather innocently yet perhaps unwisely told to his brothers and his honest report of their wicked behavior fanned the flame of jealousy into a consuming fire which threatened his life. But God, through Joseph's brother Judah and through the opportunity they had to make money out of selling him into slavery, kept him for His own purposes.

May we not learn that the darkest hour may be the time of God's deep interest and directing power. The only way strong men can be developed is by suffering hardness and trial. "God wants iron saints, and since there is no way of imparting iron to the moral nature than by letting His people suffer, He lets them suffer (Heb. 12:11)" (Meyer).

Parents should also learn here the dangers of favoritism among children. It is one of the most destructive of evil influences that can enter a home. It hurts the child who is favored, alienates the other children, and it destroys confidence in parents and respect for their authority. Let's have none of it!

II. Deceit Attempts to Conceal Sin (vv. 31-35).

One of the tragic things about sin is that a wicked act does not stand alone but leads into another sin to cover the first. In the case of Joseph's brethren, their sin against him was covered by deceit. They lied to the father and maintained that lie for years, even though they saw that their aged father was brokenhearted. How callous sin makes the heart of a man!

Yet the very fact that they lied to cover their sin indicates that they were ashamed to admit that they had fallen so low. James Strahan well says: "Evil never dares to be sincere. It always borrows the colors and wears the garb of innocence. It has a whole lifetime of hard labor in keeping up appearances. Hypocrisy is the tribute which all bad men have to pay to the ideal of goodness."

III. God Overrules Evil for Good (v. 36).

It was God's plan that Joseph should come to his greatest usefulness in his place of authority in Egypt, so He directed the sale of the young slave into the home of Potiphar, a leading officer of Pharaoh.

The story of Joseph's life in Potiphar's house is one of unusual interest. Faithfulness to duty, loyalty to God and truth led to shifting experiences of imprisonment and of favor, but ultimately he came out into the place of leadership in the government of Egypt. In this place God marvelously blessed and used him.

Since the matter of the relation of men to government is so much before us these days, it will be well to note that Scripture holds a very exalted view of the public servant. Paul says we are to "be subject unto the higher powers. For there is no power but of God: the powers that be are ordained of God" (Rom. 13:1). The Bible clearly teaches that every governmental agency and every public servant, from the policeman on the beat to the President in the White House, is only permitted to exercise authority over his fellowmen because God has ordained that there should be such government. Clear it is that every right-thinking official of state and nation should be humble, teachable, discreet, and wise in the exercise of his power, and God-fearing in the discharge of his responsibility.

Our lesson provides unusual opportunity for the teaching of proper family relationships, the right attitude toward government, as well as the blessed assurance and confidence which we may have who have intrusted our lives into the hands of God.

Turning Over An Old Leaf

By Phillip A. Gladheim

"There were faces to remember in the Valley of the Shadow;
There were faces unregarded, there
were faces to forget;
There were fires of grief and fear
that are a few forgotten ashes;
There were sparks of recognition
that are not forgotten yet."

As the fall season came with the warm, calm September days, the chestnut burrs would open. Crook's Crest was a rendezvous for us as children. I can still see Leah Sincell (now Mrs. Carlton McComas), Mary Sincell Roberts, Dudley King (both deceased)with salt sacks that gave every evidence that the salt had hurriedly been dumped into a kitchen bowl.

Immediately after school was out we would ascend Crook's Crest with our salt sacks and in a short time pick chestnuts from under the large trees that grew there. Often we would have to pry them out of the sticky burrs.

It was customary to ask permisson; sometimes we did and at other times we preferred the excitement of the owner coming after us.

Among those who live don Crook's Crest in the Chestnut Age (it seems now as remote as the Glacial Age), were the Bush's. Thirty-five years ago this family moved from Eglon, West Va., and until within the past few years operated a summer boarding house that became very popular from the start. Mr. Louis Bush was a very kindly gentleman, and he was always willing to grant permission, but admonished us to exercise carefulness, and not to damage property by crawling over fences and making one's self personna non grata by breaking off branches or climbing to the top of trees in order to shake the chestnuts to the ground. Mr. Bush died several years ago, and the large house, which was the original summer boarding place, burned to the ground.

In spite of the loss of her husband, the destruction of the large house, and the care of an afflicted daughter, Mrs. Bush with her intrepid spirit rose triumphantly over all reverses. Four years ago she and her daughter Ora were in a car accident. Their lives were spared, but their bodes were wrecked. Between the care of doctors, nurses in the hospital and the Great Physican at work in their souls, the mother and daughter, by their mighty faith and perseverence, achieved another spiritual triumph.

If you have visited them you can see in their faces and by the general appearance of both the interior and exterior of their home, that in spite of their crippled condition, all is immaculate and in order. Of the two Miss Ora received the worst injuries. Added to her chronic affliction one would expect such suffering to crush the spirit. But when in the presence of Miss Ora you are not in the presence of a sufferer. She reflects a sense of health and well-being, just like her devoted mother, that reminds one of a spiritual fact: miracles still happen where there is faith.

Mother and daughter, handicapped with bodily limitations, have done their own house-work and besides have tended to their garden and lawn. In order for the daughter to go up or down stairs it is necessary for her to sit down and by use of her arms resting on the palms of her hands, lift herself slowly step by step. It is believed she will walk again without the use of crutches.

Now after thirty-five years Crook's Crest will see another change. The chestnuts have been gone these many years, and now the Bush's leave. They have sold their property to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hoffman and most of their household effects have been sold or given away. The remainder of their days will be spent in a very lovely place in Washington, D. C. It is known as the National Lutheran Home.

Oakland is losing two of its excellent citizens. They are to be compared with those who have crossed the desert of disaster, and who thru an unshakable faith and in resolute application of their own resources, the daily exercise of the will, even though painful in the extreme, finally overcame Fate itself.

Such achievements are hidden from eyes in this restless generation. But the fact remains that these heroines of the spirit are incandescent with the Gospel Light. Like a city that has been set on a hill, their light has shown from Crook's Crest, and even after they have gone, the light will still remain.

Whether or not it is the War, we get some funny questions. We have one regarding a speech in which Abraham Lincoln eulogized women. The writer wasn't sure just where it was but they badly wanted the quotation. The only one we could locate is the following. Maybe we are right maybe wrong, anyhow to the reader of this column who gave us the query we quote: "I am not accustomed to the language of eulogy; I have never studied the art of paying compliments to women; but I must say that if all that has been said by orators and poets since the creation of the world, in praise of woman, was applied to the women of America it would not do them justice for their conduct during this war."

There isn't after all a great difference in wars. That, as you know, was said during the Civil War. Now we have the WAACS and the WAVES, and dozens of other war workers and organizations, made up of women. Funny how history repeats itself. In the Civil War days we seemed to have had kin who were dispatch riders, messengers and nurses—all women too. Some on the Union side and others on the Confederate side. And after hearing many of the tales of that day we somehow have the feeling that the women of today in war have it a lot easier than in the Civil War days, which doesn't change the Lincoln speech aspect of Women in War. Neither does it "belittle" those now serving. Times have changed since grandmother was a girl.

SELECTED HONEY RECIPES

Honeyed Ham and Apples

Brown a rather thick slice of cured ham in a baking dish, pour 4 T. of honey over the ham and stick 3 whole cloves in the ham. Place cored apples halved on ham and bake in a moderate oven.

In place of the fruit, sweet potatoes or carrots may be used and pork chops may be substituted for the cured ham.

Candied Sweet Potatoes or Carrots

Place raw or partly cooked sweet potatoes or carrots in a baking dish and add honey and butter enough to keep vegetables from becoming dry. Cook until vegetable is tender, basting from time to time.

Honey Hermits

One and 1-3 c. honey, 1-3c. fat, 2 eggs, ½ c. milk, ½ t. salt, 1 c. chopped nuts, c. chopped raisins, 1½ t. cinnamon, ½ t. cloves, 3 1-3 c. flour, 2½ t. baking powder, ½ t. soda.

Cream honey, fat and unbeaten eggs. Sift all dry ingredients and add alternately with milk. Add floured nuts and raisins. Drop by spoon on a greased pan. Bake in moderate oven.

Honey Cake

Three c. flour, 2 c. honey, 1 t. soda, 1 c. fat, 4 eggs, ¾ t. salt, 1 T. mixed spices.

Cream honey, butter and unbeaten eggs. Add dry ingredients. Bake in moderate oven (350-375 degrees F.).

Honey Icing (7 Minutes)

One egg white, ½ c. honey (strained or granulated)

Place honey and unbeaten egg white on top of double boiler. Cook 7 minutes, beating with dover egg beater while cooking. Remove from double boiler, beat and spread on cake.

Honey Custard

Two c. milk, 3 egg yolks, 1-3 c. honey, 1-8 t. salt, 1-16 t. cinnamon.

Combine all ingredients and either bake 40 minutes in a moderate oven or cook as soft custard.

Honey Baked Apples

Core apples, add 1 t. butter and 2 T. honey to each apple and bake until tender. Baste with honey. Bananas are baked as apples, but add ½ t. lemon juice to each banana.

Honey Nut Bread

One-half cup coarsely chopped nuts, 2 cups flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 egg, beaten; ½ cup honey, ½ cup milk, 2 tablespoons melted butter.

Add the nuts to the sifted dry ingredients. Combine the beaten egg, honey, milk and melted butter, and add to the first mixture. Stir until the ingredients are just moistened. Bake in a greased bread pan in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 45 to 50 minutes.

If using honey instead of sugar in recipes calling for sugar, reduce the liquid according to consistency of the honey and also according to the proportion of honey used. For example, if medium thick honey is substituted for one-half the sugar in cake or quick-bread recipes, reduce the liquid one-fourth. If the honey is substituted for all the sugar, reduce the liquid one-half. If the honey is very thin or very thick, this proportion may have to be altered.

THANKS VOTERS

Although I did not receive enough votes to elect me as one of the four who would represent the citizens on the Republican State Central committee, I take this opportunity to express my appreciation to those who did support me in Tuesday's primary.

I shall continue to work for the good of the party as in the past. Thanking you again, I remain,

Sincerely,

The Treasury Needs Help

Washington, Sept. 5.

The tax situation in Washington is almost indistribably bad. Members of Congress have no hesitation in admitting this privately and officials of the Treasury, also privately, agree. The simple fact is that not in the history of the nation has there been such a tax muddle as now. As one authority frankly said the other day it is the "worst ever."

After eight months of continuous session the 1942 tax bill has passed but one branch of Congress. By the time it is reported by the Senate Finance Committee, is debated and amended on the floor and then voted on, it will be the middle of October. It hardly can emerge from the conference committee until November first, and it likely will be after the elections before the President signs it. In other words, millions of individual taxpayers and every business and corporation, big and little, will have been kept in suspense for eleven months trying to figure out their 1942 taxes—the heaviest in history. And it will be almost 1943 before they will know. Now, this is really an intolerable state of affairs. The public ought not patiently submit to it. No Administration has the right to subject a willing and cooperative people to such an utterly unnecessary strain. No adequate—or even plausible—excuse for making so frightful a mess in one of its most important jobs has been—or can be—offered.

This indefensible delay in the enactment of the 1942 tax bill is made worse by the quite obvious fact that the bill, when it eventually emerges, will be a craven, unjust, unscientific and terribly inadequate measure which, while it will satisfy no one, certainly will add greatly to our fiscal perils. This already has been made apparent through the evasion by both House and Senate, as by the Treasury, of the ultimately inevitable sales tax—and in other ways. Part of the responsibility is upon Congress, but largely the blame rests upon the Administration, because from it, in this emergency, we are entitled to expect sound and effective guidance. No one will contend that we have gotten it.

This nation is engaged in the greatest and most deadly of all wars. Its people are taxed more heavily than ever before and are prepared to bear the even heavier taxes in prospect and to make every sacrifice demanded with complete cheerfulness. The vast war expenditures impose upon the Treasury problems of financing greater than any nation has ever faced. The whole Federal financial situation is one of unprecedented size and undreamed of complexity. It would seem to require an Administration financial leadership of the highest type. Perhaps, the best financial brains in the country are not good enough to cope with these prbeloms, but at least we ought to have them in Washington now.

Have we got them there now? To ask the question is to be absurd. Everybody knows we have not. No one, inside or outside the Administtration, will claim we have. But whom have we? We have Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., and we have Under Secretary Daniel Bell. Mr. Morgenthau is an earnest, honest, well-intentinoned public man, but to regard him as one of the outstanding financial figures of America is not possible even for his partial friends. Mr. Bell, a former director of the Budget, is an excellent routine career man, but the idea of his coping singlehandedly with the gigantic war financing problems is not really tenable. As for the Assistant Secretaries of the Treasury they are mostly obscure men whose names few can recall.

In this crisis there seems no excuse for not drafting the big men of finance in the country and putting them to work in the Treasury, just as big men in industry have been drafted and put to work on production. But, that has not been done. Our Federal fiscal policy and tax leadership, such as it is, is being formed and furnished by the Treasury with essentially the same policy-making heads who were there before the war, unsupported by any outside talent at all. It is true there is more or less regular consultation with an outside committee of bankers and insurance men, but this committee is called in after policy has been decided, not before, and the most it has been able to accomplish is to prevent one or two really serious mistakes.

Actually, the Treasury is handling its appalling burdens with little or no outside assistance—so far as policies are concerned. Its clerical force has been tremendously augmented. A new army of men and women are employed on the stupendous routine of the war bond sales—and, incidentally, are from three to six months behind in the work. But, while American industry, called upon, has supplied the men who are here handling the great problems of production, American finance has not been called upon to aid in handling the just as vital financial problems. The reason seems to be that because the best financial brains in the country have been consistently anti-New Deal, the President has not been able to bring himself to call upon them for aid. It would be a confession of financial incompetence extremely repugnant to his nature. If there is any other reason it has not been advanced. Yet, never was there a greater necessity for aid. As it stands, the Treasury is pitably unequipped to handle the situation. And this opinion is held within as well as without.

Scrap the Japs with scrap.

IS APPRECIATIVE OF VOTE

I take this opportunity to thank my many friends throughout the county for the splendid vote accorded me in electing me as a member of the Republican State Central Commitee.

Very sincerely yours,

IS GRATEFUL FOR FINE VOTE

As a newcomer on the ballot I was extremely gratified with the wonderful support I received in electing me as a member of the Republican State Central committee, and I want to take this opportunity to express my appreciation to the many voters of the county for this evidence of confidence.

I will do my utmost to promote the welfare of the Republican party in Garrett county and will serve in my capacity of committeeman to the best of my ability.

Gratefully yours,
SPENCER GRAHAM

Successful Nominee for Sheriff Thanks Voters

My successful campaign for nomination for sheriff on the Republican ticket is a source of extreme satisfaction to me, and I realize that this would not have been possible without the splendid support of the voters of the county.

I deeply appreciate this evidence of confidence in my ability to perform the duties of the office and earnestly seek a continuation of the support of the voters of the county in the general election in November.

The absence of any underhand methods or the usual political trickery was particularly apparent among the candidates for sheriff and it was a pleasure to conduct a campaign in this manner with my respected opponents.

Sincerely,
GEORGE E. CODDINGTON.

Appreciates Vote

I wish to take this opportunity to express my sincere thanks to the many voters of the county for their support in the primary election on Tuesday.

I am grateful for this expression of confidence, even though I did not receive sufficient votes to gain the nomination.

Sincerely yours,
FLOYD C. STAHL

PROCLAMATION OF THE GOVERNOR OF MARYLAND DIRECTING THE PUBLICATION OF BILLS PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE:

WHEREAS, at the January session of the General Assembly of Maryland, held in the year 1941, the following Acts were passed, providing for the submission of amendments to the Constitution of the State to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection, namely:

CHAPTER 337

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Amendments to the Constitution", relating to the advertisement or publication of amendments to the Constitution, and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Amendments to the Constitution", the same, if adopted by the legally qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

1. The General Assembly may propose Amendments to this Constitution; provided that each Amendment shall be embraced in a separate Bill, embodying the Article or Section, as the same will stand when amended and passed by three-fifths of all the members elected to each of the two Houses, by yeas and nays, to be entered on the Journals with the proposed Amendment. The Bill or Bills proposing amendment or amendments shall be published by order of the Governor, in at least two newspapers, in each County, where so many may be published, and where not more than one may be published, then in that newspaper, and in three newspapers published in the City of Baltimore, once a week for three weeks immediately preceding the next ensuing general election, at which the proposed amendment or amendments shall be submitted, in a form to be prescribed by the General Assembly, to the qualified voters of the State for adoption or rejection. Provided, however, the General Assembly may provide for publishing any proposed amendment or amendments in pamphlet form, and for making said pamphlets available to the registered voters of the State in addition to publication in the newspapers. The votes cast for and against said proposed amendment or amendments, severally, shall be returned to the Governor, in the manner prescribed in other cases, and if it shall appear to the Governor that a majority of the votes cast at said election on said amendment or amendments, severally, were cast in favor thereof, the Governor shall, by his proclamation, declare the said amendment or amendments having received said majority of votes, to have been adopted by the people of Maryland as part of the Constitution thereof, and thenceforth said amendment or amendments shall be part of the said Constitution. When two or more amendments shall be submitted in manner aforesaid, to the voters of this State at the same election, they shall be so submitted as that each amendment shall be voted on separately.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That said aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall, at the next general election for members of the General Assembly of Maryland in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State, for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against the said proposed amendment, as directed by said Article 14 of the Constitution.

Approved: April 23, 1941.

CHAPTER 194

AN ACT to amend Section 21 of Article 4, title "Judiciary Department", sub-title, "Part III—Circuit Courts", of the Constitution of this State, providing for the residential qualification and method of selection of Associate Judges of the Third Judicial Circuit and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of this State for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That (three-fifths of all members elected to each of the two houses concurring) the following section be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 21 of Article 4, of the Constitution of Maryland, title, "Judiciary Department", sub-title "Part III Circuit Courts", the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters thereof as herein provided to become Section 21 of Article 1 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

21. For each of the said circuits, excepting the eighth, the second, the third, the sixth and the seventh there shall be a chief judge and two associate judges, to be styled judges of the Circuit Court, to be selected or appointed as herein provided, and for the second circuit, the third circuit, the sixth circuit and the seventh circuit, there shall be a chief judge and three associate judges to be styled judges of the Circuit Court, to be elected or appointed as herein provided. And no two of said associate judges, for any of the said circuits, except the third, sixth and seventh circuits shall, at the time of their election or appointment or during the terms for which they have been elected or appointed, reside in the same county. If two or more persons shall be candidates for associate judge in the same county in any of the circuits, except the third, sixth and seventh circuits, that one only in said county shall be declared elected who has the highest number of votes in the circuit. In case any two candidates for associate judge in any of the circuits, except the third, sixth and seventh circuits, residing in the same county shall have an equal number of votes greater than any other candidates for associate judge in the circuit, it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for one associate judge; but the person residing in any other county of the circuit and who has the highest number of votes shall be declared elected. The said judges shall hold not less than two terms of the Circuit Court in each of the counties composing their respective circuits, at such times as are now or may hereafter be prescribed to which jurors shall be summoned; and in those counties where only two such terms are held, two other and intermediate terms, to which jurors shall not be summoned; they may alter or fix the times for holding any or all terms, until otherwise prescribed, and shall adopt rules to the end that all business not requiring the interposition of the jury shall be, as far as practicable, disposed of at such intermediate terms. One judge in each of the above circuits, including the second, the third, sixth and seventh circuits, shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of any business, and the said judges or any of them may hold special terms of their courts, whenever in their discretion the business of the several counties renders such terms necessary.

In the Third Circuit, two of said Associate Judges shall at all times be bona fide residents of Baltimore County and one of said Associate Judges or the Chief Judge be a bona fide resident of Harford County, and said Judges shall have been such residents six months prior to their appointment or election.

The additional associate judge for the second circuit herein provided for shall be a resident of Cecil County, shall be appointed by the Governor after the expiration of six (6) months after the adoption of this amendment and shall serve until the first general election for members of the General Assembly that shall be held in said circuit subsequent to the adoption of this amendment, at which election his successor shall be elected by the qualified voters of Caroline, Cecil, Kent, Queen Anne's and Talbot Counties, constituting the second circuit. The judge so appointed shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit.

The additional judge for the sixth circuit herein provided for and elected by the qualified voters of Frederick and Montgomery Counties at the 1938 election in accordance with the terms of the Constitutional Amendment heretofore submitted and adopted shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the sixth circuit and his successor shall be appointed and/or elected in accordance with the constitutional provisions relating to judges. The Chief Judge may be elected from either Frederick or Montgomery Counties, but when the Chief Judge is elected from Frederick County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said county and the two remaining associate judges shall be residents of Montgomery County and when the Chief Judge is elected from Montgomery County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said Montgomery County and the remaining two associate judges residents of Frederick County. In case any candidate or candidates for associate judge at any judicial election held in the third and sixth judicial circuits shall receive sufficient votes to cause such candidate or candidates to be declared elected, but the election of such candidate or candidates would cause more associate judges than herein permitted to reside in any county of said circuits, then and in that event only that candidate or those candidates, as the case may be, residing in said county in the order of the votes received shall be declared elected whose election would provide the permitted number of associate judges from said county and the candidate or candidates as the case may be, residing in the other county, and not similarly disqualified who shall have the next highest number of votes in said election shall be declared elected. If by reason of such a condition or by reason of an equal vote for two or more candidates a sufficient number of associate judges duly qualified as to residence as above set out should not be elected at any election in said third and sixth judicial circuits, then it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for such unfilled office or offices.

The additional associate judge for the seventh circuit herein provided for shall be appointed by the Governor immediately after the adoption of this amendment and shall serve until the first general election for members of the General Assembly that shall be held in said circuit subsequent to the adoption of this amendment, at which election his successor shall be elected by the qualified voters of Prince George's, Charles, Calvert and St. Mary's Counties. No member of the General Assembly elected in 1938, otherwise qualified, shall be ineligible for appointment or election as such associate judge by reason of his membership in the General Assembly. The judge so appointed shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the seventh circuit, and the judge so elected and his successors shall, subject to the same constitutional provisions, hold office for the same term of years, receive the same compensation, and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the seventh circuit. No two of the associate judges for the seventh circuit shall at the time of their election or appointment or during the term for which they may have been elected or appointed reside in the same county, except in Prince George's County, which county two of said associate judges for the said circuit shall reside at the time of their appointment or election and during the term for which they may have been appointed or elected unless the chief judge of said circuit shall already reside in said county, in which event only one of said associate judges shall reside in Prince George's County and Prince George's County shall at all time have two resident Judges and no more, such Judges to be either the Chief Judge of the Seventh Circuit and one associate Judge or two associate Judges of said Circuit. In case any candidate or candidates for associate judge at any judicial election held in the seventh judicial circuit shall receive sufficient votes to cause such candidate or candidates to be elected, but the election of such candidate or candidates would cause more associate judges than herein permitted to reside in any county of said circuit, then and in that event only that candidate or those candidates, as the case may be, residing in said county in the order of the votes received shall be declared elected whose election would provide the permitted number of associate judges from said county and the candidate or candidates, as the case may be, residing in some other county, and not similarly disqualified, who shall have the next highest number of votes in said election shall be declared elected. If, by reason of such a condition or by reason of an equal vote for two or more candidates a sufficient number of associate judges duly qualified as to residence as above set out should not be elected at any election in said seventh judicial circuit, then it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for such unfilled office or offices.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State shall be, at the next general election to be held in this State in the year 1942, submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of this State, and at the said general election, the vote on the said proposed amendment shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment", as now prescribed by law, and immediately after said election, due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment as directed by said Article 14 of the Constitution.

CHAPTER 509

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 15 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", relating to the salary of Clerks of Courts and Registrars of Wills and providing for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the Two Houses concurring), That the following amendment be and it is hereby proposed to Section 15 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Section 15 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland:

15. The General Assembly shall provide a simple and uniform system of charges in the offices of Clerks of Courts and Registrars of Wills, in the Counties of this State and the City of Baltimore, and for the collection thereof; provided, the amount of compensation to any of the said officers in the various Counties and in the City of Baltimore shall be such as may be prescribed by law.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing Section, hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State, shall be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, upon each ballot there shall be printed the words: "For Constitutional Amendment" and "Against Constitutional Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against proposed amendment, as directed by said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article 14.

Approved April 28, 1941.

CHAPTER 607

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland title "Legislative Department" by adding a new section to be known as Section 40B, providing for the taking of property by the State Roads Commission under certain circumstances; and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members elected to each of the two Houses concurring), That the following new Section be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Article III, title "Legislative Department" of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, the same to be inserted after Section 40A and to be numbered 40B, and if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, said section shall become a part of Article III of the Constitution of Maryland.

40B. The General Assembly shall enact no law authorizing private property to be taken for public use without just compensation, to be agreed upon between the parties or awarded by a jury, being first paid or tendered to the party entitled to such compensation, except that where such property in the judgment of the State Roads Commission is needed by the State for highway purposes, the General Assembly may provide that such property may be taken immediately upon payment therefor to the owner or owners thereof by said State Roads Commission, or into Court, such amount as said State Roads Commission shall estimate to be of the fair value of said property, provided such legislation also requires the payment of any further sum that may subsequently be awarded by a jury.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the foregoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland, shall, at the election to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article XIV of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "FOR CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT" and "AGAINST CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against proposed amendment as directed by said Article XIV of the Constitution and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article XIV.

Approved: April 23, 1941.

CHAPTER 695

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 15 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", regulating the period that General Assembly may continue its session and compensation of the members thereof, and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 15 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", the same, if adopted by the legally qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Section 15 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

15. The General Assembly may continue its session so long as in its judgment the public interest may require, for a period not longer than ninety days; and each member thereof shall receive a compensation of One Thousand Dollars ($1,000) per annum, payable quarterly, with a deduction of fifteen dollars per diem for each day of unexcused absence from any session; and he shall also receive such mileage as may be allowed by law, not exceeding twenty cents per mile; and the presiding officer of each House shall receive an additional compensation of Two hundred and fifty ($250) dollars per annum. When the General Assembly shall be convened by Proclamation of the Governor, the session shall not continue longer than thirty days, but no additional compensation other than mileage and other allowances provided by law shall be paid members of the General Assembly for Special Sessions.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That said aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall, at the next general election to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State, for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against proposed amendment, as directed by said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article 14.

Approved: May 2, 1941.

CHAPTER 824

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Article IV of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, adding thereto a new section, to be known as Section 39A, to be under new sub-title "Part IV-A Juvenile Courts", and to follow immediately after Section 39 of said Article, and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Article IV of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State as herein provided, to become a part of said Article IV of said Constitution and to be numbered and sub-titled as aforesaid:

PART IV-A JUVENILE COURTS

39A. A Juvenile Court is hereby created for Baltimore City, and the General Assembly by law may establish a Juvenile Court for any other incorporated city or town or any county of the State. The court hereby created, and any other court established hereunder by law, shall be a court of record, and shall have exclusive jurisdiction within such city, town or county over all criminal offenses other than those punishable by death or life imprisonment committed by any person under eighteen years of age, and such additional jurisdiction as may be from time to time prescribed by the General Assembly by law. The General Assembly by law shall prescribe, and from time to time may alter:

1. The number, qualifications, tenure and method of selection of the judge or judges of such courts, and their powers, duties and compensation, but the salary or compensation of any judge of any such court shall not be reduced during his continuance in office;

2. The right of appeal from such courts;

3. The number, qualifications, tenure, methods of selection, duties and compensation of all clerks, bailiffs, probation officers or other employes of such courts; and

4. Any other matters relating to such courts.

In the event of any inconsistency between the provisions of this Section and any of the other provisions of this Constitution, the provisions of this Section shall prevail, and such other provisions shall be repealed or abrogated to the extent of such inconsistency, except Section 35-A of Article III. Until the General Assembly has established a Juvenile Court for any incorporated city or town or any county of the State, jurisdiction over juvenile causes shall be exercised in the same manner and to the same extent as authorized by the Constitution and laws of this State, in effect prior to the adoption of this Section.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That the aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall, at the election to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article XIV of the Constitution of the State of Maryland and at the said General Election the vote on the said proposed amendment shall be by ballot and upon each ballot there shall be printed the following synopsis of said amendment captioned as follows:

"CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT PROVIDING FOR JUVENILE COURTS"

Below said synopsis shall be printed the words "For Juvenile Courts Amendment" and "Against Juvenile Courts Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment as directed by Article XIV of the Constitution and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article XIV.

Approved: May 6, 1941.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, HERBERT R. O'CONOR, GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF MARYLAND, in pursuance of the direction contained in Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of Maryland, do hereby order and direct that this proclamation containing a full, true and correct copy of the text of said Chapters 337, 194, 509, 607, 695, 716 and 824 of the Acts of the General Assembly of Maryland of 1941, be published in at least two newspapers in each of the counties of the State where so many may be published and where not more than one may be published then in that newspaper, and in three newspapers published in the City of Baltimore, one of which shall be published in the German language, once a week for at least three months next preceding the general election to be held in the State of Maryland on Tuesday, the 3rd day of November, 1942, at which election the said proposed amendments to the Constitution shall be submitted in form and manner prescribed by the General Assembly, to the legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection.

GIVEN UNDER MY HAND AND THE GREAT SEAL OF THE STATE OF MARYLAND, DONE AT THE CITY OF ANNAPOLIS THIS 16TH DAY OF JULY, IN THE YEAR OF OUR LORD, ONE THOUSAND NINE HUNDRED AND FORTY-TWO.

THE GREAT SEAL OF MARYLAND

By the Governor:
HERBERT R. O'CONOR
THOMAS ELMO JONES
Secretary of State

SHERIFF'S SALE

—OF—

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE

In Bloomington, Garrett County, Maryland.

Under and by virtue of a writ of fieri facias issued out of the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, at the suit of R. Annan, Trustee, use of Thomas B. Finan, Receiver for First National Bank of Frostburg, vs. Samuel Bernard Brydon and Henrietta Seymour Brydon, his wife, the same being No. 2 Judicials, September Term, 1942, in said Court, I have seized, levied upon and taken under execution by actual entry upon the premises, all of those parcels of land situate, lying and being in the town of Bloomington, Garrett County, Maryland, as hereafter described, and hereby give notice that on at the hour of 2 o'clock p. m., in front of the Post Office in the town of Bloomington, Maryland,

I will offer for sale and sell the same at public auction in order to satisfy and pay said judgment and costs, said land being described as follows, to-wit:

Lots Nos. 41, 42 and 43 on the plat of the town of Llangollen (now Bloomington) as recorded in Liber 11, folios 482-483, one of the records in the office of the Clerk of the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, wherein the same are described as follows:

Squirrel Season Opens Next Week

First Period Ends Sept. 30; Also May Be Bagged In November

The first of two seasons during which squirrel may be bagged in Allegany, Garrett and Washington counties will be inaugurated Tuesday, September 15, it was announced yesterday by Fulcher P. Smith, member of the Maryland Game and Inland Fish Commission.

Under the new state regulations the first squirrel season is September 15 to 30, inclusive. Squirrels also may be hunted during the small upland game season, November 1 to 30, inclusive, in the three Western Maryland counties, Smith said.

Last year Garrett county's squirrel season was from October 10 to 31, inclusive, while the open season in Allegany was November 1 to 30. One of the reasons the Garrett season was moved ahead and made uniform with Washington and Allegany counties was due to the fact that October is a fire hazard month.

The bag limit on squirrels is six a day and the hours for hunting, sunrise to sunset, conform with federal regulations and are not affected by the change in time.

It All Depends On Me!

By RUTH TAYLOR

The other day a friend who had just returned from England showed me a poster he had brought back. The background is a stormy sky, through which the sun has broken to illuminate the figure of a woman standing with outstretched arms, her hands grasping the hands of others on each side. The other figures are not shown—just the hands. Beneath is a strong chain of single links, emphasizing the feeling of uncountable thousands holding hands. Across the poster is the line "It All Depends on Me."

I have felt very humble ever since I saw that poster. This was no challenging "It's Your Job. It's Up to You. This is Your War." This was a confession of personal faith, a recognition of personal responsibility. And it has made me think.

Am I facing the fact that this is my war? It is my way of life that is at stake. I would not want to live in a world that denied those simple virtues in which I believe, freedom of conscience and speech, the right to worship my God according to my own belief, the sanctity of the home, the freedom of the individual, the honor of the pledged word, the governing of action by right rather than might. This is my way of life. If it is to be retained, it all depends on me.

Am I working where I can be most useful in this, my war? Am I shirking the job that I should do because it is tedious, or because it will interfere with my accustomed routine? Am I serving in the place where I can be of most good? I must make the most out of my working strength and time, for—it all depends on me!

Am I mobilized for this, my war? Or am I clinging to non-essentials? Over and above my job, have I assumed my proper responsibility as a citizen in my own community? Have I streamlined my life, made wise use of my time, and conserved my health? Am I putting all my resources to work? Am I taking care to conserve that which I have, to give up that which can be used for war-effort and am I buying no more than is absolutely necessary, in order that my dollars may help fight the battle? Money and goods are needed. This is a total war—and it all depends on me!

Am I keeping a soldierly self-control? Am I seeing to it that the whispered rumor stops when it reaches me? That I do not pass on any divisive thought? Am I living my faith? Am I, who talk of the glory of democracy, holding out a friendly hand to my neighbor, keeping from my heart and mind all prejudice and hatred toward any one, regardless of class, creed, or color? Am I putting into daily practice the ideals to which I give lip allegiance? Only in this way can democracy endure—it all deends on me.

I cannot close this self-searching with a moral—but only with the prayer, in the words of the Psalmist, "Hold up my goings in thy paths, that my footsteps slip not." It all depends on me.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Artie E. Dodge, south of Oakland, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Leona Dodge, to Sgt. Clarence Jones, a son of Rev. and Mrs. A. K. Jones, Red House.

The announcement was made Sunday evening at a small gathering at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Jones, just before their son left for Fort Knox, Ky., where he is an instructor in the armored force division of the U. S. army. No date has been set for the wedding.

A chicken supper will be served at the Pleasant Valley Grange Hall on Thursday evening, September 17, to be sponsored by the WSCS of Pleasant Valley. Serving will be from 5:30 to 7:30. Tickets are 25 and 50 cents.

DIARY OF THE WAR

FRIDAY—German tank columns in Egypt were backing up to less vulnerable positions after meeting the shock of unprecedented Allied air action by U. S. and British. Franco in Spain fired his brother-in-law as leader in the government who was pro-Axis. There was no relief in critical Russian situation as German tanks forced new retreats south of Stalingrad, but above the town the Red army stopped the enemy. Chinese pushed Japs back and encircled Kinhwa. U. S. subs sank 5 enemy ships in Pacific. Flyers in Iceland bagged a German bomber. Strong bomber fleets struck at Rhineland cities.

SATURDAY — Germans were throwing all offensive weight into three drives to isolate, by-pass and cross Caucasus with a push across Kerch strait from Crimea. Rommel's offensive in Egypt was seen as a diversionary action to immobilize Allied forces east of Suez. Rommel was short of air power which had gone to Crimea. U. S. air force in China went into action to make consolidation of Jap armies there as costly as possible. Japs recaptured one town indicating their withdrawal might be ended. English channel guns exchanged fire. Hitler was reported scouring Europe for more men in dominated countries. Britain claimed half of Italy's navy was on the bottom.

SUNDAY—Loss of U. S. destroyer and small transport by enemy action in south Pacific was announced by the navy. Three Jap dive-bombers were downed by one navy flyer in an attack on U. S. warships and transports in Solomons. British advanced three miles in Egypt battle and Axis left behind many heavy tanks. Reds stopped the Nazi drive on Stalingrad. U. S. flyers lashed at Nazis in France, hitting Rouen and LeHavre. Russians also raided German cities. Cuban police seized an important German spy, and three men were held in New York as Jap agents.

MONDAY — Germany announced capture of Novorossisk, Russian Black Sea naval base but its troops battered vainly against ramparts of Stalingrad. They also reported further advances in Caucasus but claimed no advance before beleaguered city. British had hurled Rommel beyond his starting point as Allied flyers hammered at him constantly. U. S. and RAF continued air raids on continent, bombing Rouen and LeHavre. In New Guinea Allied airmen struck at Japs while in China the Chinese pressed on in their offensive.

TUESDAY—Axis lost more ground in Egypt fighting. U. S. flying fortresses blasted a path through swarms of German planes to reach and bomb Rotterdam, downing twelve and losing none. Emden, Bremerhaven and other targets were bombed and a large group hit at Duisburg. The Russian defense was cracking west of Stalingrad. Japs tried to make a landing in Solomon islands but U. S. aircraft sank many enemy landing boats. Forty-six Jap planes previously raided Marine positions there with loss of three.

WEDNESDAY—Proof of Allied power in the middle east was given by Churchill in an address telling of second front coming and that British help for Russia was on the way. Chungking was expecting Japan to attack Siberia at any moment. A German attack from the west was perilous to Stalingrad and Germans were claiming a 4½ mile plunge through the city's fortifications from northwest. Overwhelming numbers of troops endeavoring to knock Reds out of positions around Novorossisk on the Black Sea, and Nazis were less than 50 miles from the Grozny oil fields. Allied bombers were over LeHavre and Cherbourg. Japs in New Guinea have pushed Allied troops back in the Kokoda area. U. S. bombeds blasted Crete

THURSDAY—Russians were still holding their bending lines before Stalingrad but German tanks and men kept up their blows at west and southwest. Superior tank forces maintained a wedge near the Red Black sea base. Allied bombers were going from Russia, Britain and Middle East hitting at Europe's capitals and industrial centers. British raided Frankfurt. Workers in Luxembourg went out in a general strike. Action in Egypt was limited to Allied air attack on Axis supply lines. Japs attacking toward Port Moresby were making some progress. Navy bombers were active in Solomons group.

Revival Being Held At Mountain Lake Park

Old fashioned revival is being held in the building known as the "Sweet Spot" with service each evening at 8 p. m. The evangelist is Rev. Robert N. Ball, of Rose Hill, Va. Rev. Ball is a young man who was healed of infantile paralysis. He entered the ministry at the age of 13 under the Methodist church but later decided to do missionary work. In 1939 he was chosen to be a delegate of a Christian youth group to Amsterdam, Holland, and in the summer of 1941 he was privileged to spend six weeks in Puerto Rico as a missionary to the natives.

Everyone is welcome to attend these services and hear this young man preach. Services will continue on through the 20th of September.

IS GRATEFUL FOR LARGE VOTE

I wish to thank the people very kindly for the wonderful support I received on Tuesday which nominated me as one of the County Commissioners on the Republican ticket, and I want to assure everyone that this evidence of confidence was greatly appreciated.

I ask for your continued support at the coming general election in November.

E. RAY JONES

Successful Candidate for State Senator

THANKS VOTERS

To the Citizens of Garrett County:

I wish to express my sincere appreciation for the very fine vote which was given to me at the primary on Tuesday. Especially do I thank those who gave of their time and effort in my behalf. I trust that I may prove worthy of the confidence thus shown in me.

The primary is considered the most acceptable manner by which the members of either party may express their preference for candidates who offer themselves for office and thus select their nominees. Naturally all cannot agree upon these candidates and no candidate should feel offended because some of his or her party members prefer another. I have no feeling against those who did not support me and trust that they do not have any against me. Now that the primary is over, I hope that all differences may be forgotten and that I may have their support as well as the continued support of those who voted for me.

If I am elected, I shall be the representative in the State Senate of all the people of Garrett County and not simply the representative of some or of one party, faction or section. I shall welcome the support of all citizens of the county, regardless of party or the section in which they live.

As I have said before, I became a candidate for this office in the hope that I might render some service to our County and State in these difficult times. If you feel that I can do this I shall be glad to have your support at the general election.

Sincerely yours,
E. RAY JONES

OUR VALLEYS OF DECISION
By Louis Bromfield

"This is a new kind of war, a war for which we have as yet been unable even to find a name. It marks a turning point in world history, the most enveloping and decisive turning point there has ever been, because for the first time in the world's history the entire world is involved and because the decision involves the whole future of civilization.

"The future of civilization is a vague and tremendous and oratorical phrase. Interpreted and broken down, it means the freedom of yourself and myself, whether we shall be allowed to live in a decent fashion, enjoying liberty and prosperity and human dignity, involving the future of the very house we live in, the happiness and well-being of our children, the opportunities of young people and all the comfort and security of the old. It affects how we shall worship God, and how and whether we can live in decency with our neighbors. We can help, all of us, by fighting, by working, by keeping our courage high. We can help too, enormously, by lending to ourselves the money which is necessary to win this war, by testifying to our confidence in our own country, our own battle. War Bonds and War Stamps are weapons exactly as tanks and guns are weapons. Buy now, not tomorrow or next day, but now—to save what God gave us and what we have fought for since our country became a Nation—BUY WAR BONDS."

—U. S. Treasury Department.

TEACHERS MEET TOMORROW FOR ANNUAL SESSION

Address to Be Delivered By Noted Author and Traveler; Flag Dedication Also Scheduled

All teachers in the public schools of the county, about 160 strong, will have their annual meeting in the Oakland High school assembly room tomorrow, September 18, with the opening session at 9:30.

An address will be delivered by Don Fate, a noted author, traveler, commentator and news writer. He will speak upon the subject "American Youth in the Fight for Freedom."

This lecture, according to F. E. Rathbun, County Superintendent of Schools, is considered a brilliant description of the courageous manner in which America's young men and young women are rising to the responsibilities and duties which have been placed upon them. The lecture will begin at ten o'clock, and the public generally is invited. There will be no charges.

The address will be followed by exercises upon the High school campus under the direction of Proctor Kildow Post, American Legion, at which time the American and Maryland flags will be raised and dedicated to all public schools in Garrett county. A sixty-foot flag staff has been erected for this purpose in front of the high school building.

The afternoon session will be directed by the Garrett County Teachers' Association, which will hold its annual meeting at that time under the leadership of B. O. Aiken, president. Election of officers and distribution of supplies will be made during this session, Mr. Rathbun said.

Federal organizations, such as the Draft Board and the War Rationing Board, will be given a place on this program. The teachers will also set up a program for its activities during the school year for the improvement of all schools in the county and to encourage helpful legislation in the coming session of the Maryland General Assembly, which convenes in the month of January, Mr. Rathbun said.

Mickey's Band To Play

Mickey's Boys' Band of Loch Lynn and Mountain Lake Park will provide music at the dedication and raising of the American and Maryland flags, Mr. Rathbun announced this morning.

He added that the entire program would be centered upon the theme for this school year, "Our Country and Its Institutions."

Mr. Rathbun also stated that all positions in the public schools had been filled, totaling approximately 250.

Members of the Board of Education, Walter W. Dawson, president; Stuart F. Hamill, vice-president, and R. Earl Guard, associate member, will attend the session. Mr. Rathbun will preside throughout the day.

Bond Quota $22,000

The September bond quota for Garrett county is $22,000. The amount sold thus far in the county does not reach half this amount, according to unofficial figures.

The county did not reach its August quota.

Wm. J. Sowers is improving nicely, after being quite ill, at the home of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hardesty, Pennington St.

Accident Boy Injured In Fall from Grapevine

Wayne Fratz, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fratz, of Accident, was admitted to Memorial hospital, Cumberland, on Sunday afternoon in an unconscious condition as the result of a fall in the woods near his home.

Hospital attaches said the child had no visible injuries but was taken with severe convulsions shortly after being admitted. The father said the boy fell while swinging from a wild grape vine in the woods. His condition was considered "fair".

C. H. BROWNING SEEKS PRIMARY VOTE RECOUNT

Complete Count Shows Herman Nosed Him Out for Third Republican Nomination By 11 Votes

County Commissioner Cheston H. Browning has filed a petition with the Board of Supervisors of Elections asking for a recount of last week's primary vote for himself and John W. Herman.

Herman, a former county commissioner, nosed out Browning for the third Republican nomination by a count of 1,158 to 1,147, while two other candidates, Jonas Sines and Walter G. Myers secured their Republican nominations to the commission by polling better than a hundred votes more than either Browning or Herman.

Election officials said Browning would have to post a corporate bond of $500 or a personal bond of $1,000 for the recount. In case the result is not changed or there is less than a two percent of error, Browning would have to pay expenses of the recount.

Mr. Browning has already filed his bond with the court and it has been approved by the Judge, the Supervisors announced this morning.

Official Returns Tonight

Returns of the primary contests in Garrett county will not receive the stamp of "official" until two absentee ballots from those in the armed services are tabulated by the Board of Supervisors this evening at the Court House, it was announced.

However, the complete count, with the exception of the two absentee ballots (one Republican and one Democratic) was made last Thursday afternoon which made no change in status of those who had been nominated according to unofficial returns immediately following the election Tuesday night.

The count gave majorities for McKeldin as nominee for governor, Beall for Congress, Miller for associate judge, E. R. Jones for state senator, Nelson Brenneman, Otho S. Fike and Jasper Myers for House of Delegates; J. Edward Helbig, for treasurer; John W. Herman, Walter G. Myers and Jonas Sines for County Commissioner, George Coddington for sheriff, Lester Bititnger, W. D. Casteel, Spencer Graham and B. H. Sincell for members of the Republican committee; Herbert R. O'Conor for Democratic nominee for governor and Bernard I. Gonder for State Senator.

The Board of Supervisors, following the tabulation of the two absentee ballots this evening, will appoint judges and clerks who are to officiate at the coming election in November and for a period of two years.

Five Candidates File Expenditures

Only five of the candidates had filed expense accounts with the clerk of the Circuit Court up to last evening. The law requires that an accounting of the expenditures of all candidates be made within a specified time.

Dr. C. Oscar Hall, unsuccessful Democratic candidate for State Senate nomination, spent $189.00. Blaine Giessman spent $62.00 in his unsuccessful attempt to be renominated as County Commissioner, and James A. Savage, Sang Run, spent $48. James A. Cover, unsuccessful in bid for sheriff, spent $87.28.

Marriage of Former Pastor Is Announced

The announcement has been made of the marriage of Rev. Otto A. Bremer, former Lutheran pastor in Oakland, and Miss Alice Wilkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Wilkins, of Fort Wayne, Indiana.

The ceremony was performed at Fort Wayne on Tuesday, September 15. Rev. Bremer, pastor here from 1914 to 1917, is now pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Wheaton, Illinois.

Miss Long Attends Conference At Hagerstown

Miss Marianna Lee Long, local Home Demonstration Agent, attended a district conference of agents in Hagerstown on September 9, at which time Miss Florence Mason, Home Furnishing specialist, outlined important points of the 1943 program. Miss Long said these points would be brought before homemakers here at the executive board meeting in October.

Youth Struck by Car

Carl Root, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Root, was painfully but not seriously injured Monday afternoon when he was accidentally hit by an automobile on Alder street.

The lad was taken to the office of Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, where he was given medical attention. No bones were broken by the impact but the boy bled profusely from a hard bump on the face.

John Clarence Van Devander, of Franklin, W. Va., was the driver of the automobile. He was traveling west on Alder street. John Sweeney, city police chief, investigated the accident, and the driver was not held.

VOLUNTEERS NOW SOUGHT FOR LISTENING STATION

American Legion Committee Wants At Least 125 To Staff Aircraft Warning Post 24 Hours Daily

The American Legion committee in charge of the aircraft warning service for Oakland, announced this morning that the lookout station, on Third street, is about completed, and that the committee is now anxious to receive the names of volunteer workers to operate the listening post 24 hours a day.

Women as well as men are being sought for this volunteer work and I. R. Rudy announced that persons could volunteer for service at the City Hall, at Ray Teets's garage, Rudy's store or at A. G. Hesen's service station, beginning Saturday.

Volunteers will be asked to serve three-hour shifts, the women during the daytime hours 6:00 A. M. to 6:00 P. M., and the men from 6:00 P. M. to 6:00 A. M. Captains for the men will be I. R. Rudy, A. G. Hesen and F. R. Shaffer. Captain for the women is Miss Grace Falkenstein and two others will be named as her assistants from the list of volunteers.

Mr. Rudy expressed the hope that they would receive at least 125 volunteers. He pointed out that those who had volunteered for auxiliary firemen, police or air raid wardens, could also volunteer for this service, which would require only three hours each week.

He said instructions would be given to volunteers after the organization had been completed. It is the purpose of the American Legion to operate this listening station throughout the fall and winter and until after the emergency. All planes heard or seen will be reported to Baltimore.

Work on Surgical Dressings by Local Women Progressing

Expressing herself as being pleased with the cooperation of the volunteers during the first week of making surgical dressings, Mrs. Willard Elliott, supervisor, announced that during the first week, Tuesday through Friday, 2,869 surgical dressings were completed.

Mrs. Elliott said that 108 persons had signed up to work but all of these hadn't helped the first week. "We know they will do their part during the course of the fall and winter," she added. The month's quota is 30,000 dressings, indicating that a lot of work was needed to complete the assignment.

Mrs. Elliott stressed again the afternoon hours of work from 2 to 4:30 o'clock, and the evening hours from 7 to 9:30 o'clock. She suggests that if a person is unable to come at the time she signed for, that she get in touch with the instructor so that the latter can call on extras to fill in the vacancies.

Instructors for the different periods are as follows:

Monday afternoon, Mrs. Willard Elliott.
Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Cecil Smith.
Tuesday evening, Mrs. Harold Rook.
Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Edward Shay.
Wednesday evening, Mrs. William Eggers.
Thursday afternoon, Mrs. Ruhl Talbot.
Thursday evening, Mrs. Ellen Thompson.
Friday afternoon, Mrs. Harold Rook.
Friday evening, Mrs. Ruhl Talbot.

Hunters Are Active

Quite a large number of hunters roamed the woods of the county on the opening day of squirrel season and many of them report squirrels rather plentiful.

At the office of the Clerk of the Circuit court they have issued 1,220 hunting permits.

DON'T BE CAUGHT NAPPING, FRALEY WARNS CITIZENS

Alert Scheduled This Week, Civilian Defense Coordinator Announces—Air Raid Wardens Named

Referring to the scheduled daytime alerts and the blackouts scheduled for this month, Lawrence M. Fraley, civilian defense coordinator for the southern section of the county, offers the advice to be prepared and "don't be caught napping."

As a prelude to the alerts, a meeting of about fifty civilian defense volunteers was held Tuesday night in the Knights of Pythias hall when forty-two air raid wardens were appointed by Fraley, to take charge of certain areas when the emergency arises.

These wardens will receive in the near future arm bands and cards showing their appointment, and they will be responsible for their areas during blackouts and alerts, and their orders should be obeyed by citizens.

Fraley named R. W. Lohr as chief air raid warden for this section, due to resignations of J. W. Owens and J. W. Mitchell recently. Lohr named E. G. Lanzer as his assistant. Air raid wardens appointed included the following:

Donald R. Sincell, George H. Hanst, Julius B. Littman, Ervin S. Smith, Stanton D. Whipkey, C. H. Browning, Sr., Neil V. Liller, James Towler, Samuel B. Aronhalt, Ernest Townshend, J. E. Helbig, Joseph Maroney, Charles Poe, Ernest C. Liller, O. T. Graser, A. Shobe, George Nine, Milburn Mann, W. A. Johnson, C. C. Reckard, James Fazzalari, Daniel Miller, Percy Frantz, Robert Helbig, George Fulk, Dr. W. W. Grant, John Khare, S. H. Jackson, F. R. Shaffer, Earl Selders, Hugh Teets, Merle E. Frantz, F. D. Bittle, Lowell Loomis, Cheston Browning, Jr., R. C. Townshend, Reaford Purbaugh, Delbert Davis, Hugh Echard, Melvin Kight, Oliver Smouse, W. O. Davis.

Each one attending the meeting Tuesday received three booklets, on duties of an air raid warden, a resume of first aid, and one entitled "What Can I Do?"

Alert Scheduled This Week

Mr. Fraley announced that one fifteen-minute alert would occur this week during daylight hours and citizens will know the time when they hear the continuous blast of the siren. The all-clear signal will be given by two or three short blasts fifteen minutes later. He said there would be no advance warning.

Under regulations issued by those in charge of air raids, during these alerts or blackouts pedestrians must seek shelter and all moving vehicles except those needed for emergency must come to a stop. Cars should pull to the curb. If at night, all stores and buildings must draw their curtains or extinguish their lights.

Other instructions are: don't hurry, push or crowd; be calm and cool; be quiet, don't scream; don't run—walk; be orderly; don't jostle or engage in scuffling; do not cross the street. No smoking, lighting of matches or flashlights is permitted on sidewalks, in doorways, in alleys, or any open places.

War Board Head Calls Attention to Filing of Prices

Mr. W. W. Dawson, chairman of the local War Price and Rationing Board, today called to the attention of owners of service establishments that practically all businesses performing a service in connection with a commodity are required to file a list of their highest March prices with their local War Price and Rationing Boards.

Most business establishments, including garages, laundries, dry cleaners, shoe repair shops, general repair shops, photographers, and many other types of operations have had their prices frozen as of March, 1942, Mr. Dawson said.

Among the services not covered by the regulations are mostly personal services such as doctors, lawyers, barber and beauty shops, accounting, shoe shining, and other services not performed in connection with a commodity.

A limited number of copies of the regulation are available at the local War Price and Rationing Board.

Scrap Dealers Are Congratulated By Federal War Board

S. S. Browning and son Van Browning, of Deer Park, scrap metal dealers, have received a citation from the chief of the Automobile Graveyard Section of WPB for doing an outstanding job in the collection of auto scrap and metal and have also received a banner to exhibit over their place of business stating that they are cooperating fully with the War Production Board in the collection of auto scrap.

The letter was received from Blanchard Randall, Jr., conservation manager of the Philadelphia Region which includes this county.

The records show that Browning and son have collected 225 tons of auto scrap from March 23 to September 1, which represents 125 auto units and loose auto scrap collected from garages. They sent out 25 tons of scrap in a period of twelve days.

The emblem was awarded for outstanding work accomplished.

Rice and Durst Chosen by Jaycees

Robert Rice and Roy Durst were the two names selected this week by the Junior Chamber of Commerce in continuing the "service man" writing project.

Their names will be posted in the three drug stores, Hamill's and Hinebaugh's restaurant, where citizens are asked to write and if so inclined, to give small gift articles.

Rice is in the army. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rice and a brother of Leo "Pat" Rice, whose name was drawn several weeks ago. The Jaycees have received a card of appreciation from Pat Rice, stationed in California, for the gifts and messages.

A cablegram was also received from Bill Spiker, in New Guinea, who was chosen the second week of the project. He says: "Friends, I am taking this opportunity to thank the organization and each individual participating in sending messages and presents which we all appreciated most highly when so far from home. They arrived O. K."

Roy Durst is in the Army air corps and is located in Australia. Jaycees remind people that the ones on foreign duty could be sent Merry Christmas messages and be given Christmas packages, as the War department has advised that such material will reach the boys at about that time, if written or sent now.

Fire Company to Take Sponsorship of Band

The Oakland Fire Department has taken over the sponsorship of the Oakland Boys' Band, through satisfactory arrangements with the Oakland Rotary club, it was announced definitely this morning.

Representatives of the two organizations have held meetings during the past two weeks regarding this matter.

The Fire Department appointed Harry Mickey as director and a band committee composed of Robert W. Lohr, chairman; Richard Glotfelty, Paul Turney, John Stevenson and Virgil Kelley.

Band practice will be on Tuesday and Thursday nights, the first session being Tuesday, September 21, at 7:30 p. m. The committee urges all boys interested to be at the band hall with instruments.

The committee announced that it would call a meeting of parents and others interested in the band within the next week.

Two Free Scholarships Now Available

There are two vacancies existing at the present time in free scholarships, according to F. E. Rathbun, county superintendent of schools.

There is a vacancy in St. Mary's Female Seminary, St. Mary's county. This scholarship is available immediately and carries with it free tuition, room and board. Applicants for this do not have to be high school graduates but must be from this county. Completion of elementary school is necessary, it was stated.

Blue Ridge college, Blue Ridge, Carroll county, has two scholarships open, each worth $200. Opportunities for work are available there to assist in the other expenses, Mr. Rathbun said. Men who are of draft age and who have the qualifications may accept this scholarship and attend the college as candidates for the Enlisted Reserve corps of the army, including the air corps. Such parties may become candidates for officers' training school.

GRAND JURORS RETURN THIRTEEN INDICTMENTS

Adjourn Wednesday After Having Been in Session Since Monday Morning; E. A. Shaffer Was Foreman of Body

The September Term of the Garrett County Grand Jury adjourned yesterday evening after having had before it 36 witnesses. Neil C. Fraley, State's Attorney, said 13 indictments had been found.

The indictments were returned on the "run of mine" offenses according to Mr. Fraley, and there are no unusual cases to come before the court when criminal cases are called on Monday, September 28. Chief Judge D. Lindley Sloan and Associate Judge Joseph D. Mish are expected to be on the bench at this time.

Edward A. Shaffer was foreman of the grand jury during its deliberations and F. E. Spoerlein and Harry Porter, clerks. Mr. Fraley said there were no indictments as a result of the recently circulated political "literature." Report in full follows:

To the Honorable, the Judges of the Circuit Cuort for Garrett County:

In accordance with the instructions in the charge delivered by His Honor Judge Huster, we have given careful consideration to all matters brought before us and in the course of our investigations we have examined thirty-six witnesses and returned true bills in all cases where we felt the evidence warranted such action.

We have inspected the County Jail and Sheriff's residence and the Court House and the offices of the various county officials, and we hereby submit the following recommendations:

We find that the Jail is in very good condition and that needed repairs and necessary painting has now been done. We desire to commend Sheriff Haenftling for the manner in which the Jail and Sheriff's residence is being looked after.

In our inspection of the Court House we find that the plaster in the Bar Library should be repaired as well as the walls in the office of the Register of Wills.

We believe that the front in the Clerk of the Court's office should be painted.

We have examined the several offices in the Court House and find them to be in good condition and well taken care of by the officers in charge.

We desire to commend Mr. Thane White, the Court House custodian, for the excellent manner in which he keeps the Court House and the lawn surrounding the building.

We desire to thank the State's Attorney for his cooperation and assistance given us during our deliberations and express our appreciation to His Honor Judge Huster for his able assistance.

EDWARD A. SHAFFER,
Foreman.
F. E. SPOERLEIN,
HARRY PORTER, Clerks.

Forty Men Called For October 7th

Forty more men will be called into the armed forces through the local draft board on October 7, it was announced this week by Harland L. Jones, clerk.

The board is now at work on reclassification of all men with dependents, Mr. Jones stated. Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, selective service director, testified before a House committee at Washington that unless the nation started drafting 18 and 19-year-olds very soon it would be necessary to induct between a million and a million and a half married men.

Mr. Jones also stated that all occupational questionnaires had been mailed out to all who registered in any of the drafts but that not all the questionnaires had been returned.

Forty-two men are being called for induction into the armed forces and will leave tomorrow.

Injured by Explosion

Paul Kegg, 38, engaged in painting at Vindex and residing in one of the cabins at Paxton Arnold's filling station in Deer Park, was painfully injured in an accidental explosion in the filling station rest room on Monday morning.

From available information it was learned that someone apparently turned on the gas stove in the early morning hours but had failed to light it, so that when Kegg arrived at the outside step and struck a match to light his pipe, the explosion occurred, blowing off the door and throwing him to the ground. He suffered a deep gash on his face and minor burns to to his face.

He was brought to Oakland for medical attention.

GORTNER

Evangelist Ralph Arbaugh and W. E. Spoerlein visited the former's cousin, Landsdale Pifer, of Martinsburg, W. Va., and Garland Junkins, of Emerysville, W. Va., in Hopemont sanatorium, on Saturday. Mr. Arbaugh left on Sunday afternoon and was accompanied to the bus at Grantsville by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sisk, who returned home through Bittinger, where they visited Mrs. Elizabeth Hetrick. Mrs. Hetrick is able to be up after an illness of five weeks.

Pastor Dunson, of Terra Alta, preached on God's message to the seven churches from Rev. 3. He was a supper guest of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Welch.

Joshua Breuninger, of Michigan, was among those attending church services here, where he met many of his boyhood associates.

Mrs. Elwood Schlossnagle was rushed to Memorial hospital, Cumberland, Saturday evening, where she underwent a major operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hesse visited Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Dodge, on Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Noah Slabach, accompanied by their son, Lee and family, of Uniontown, recently returned from a trip to Berkeley Springs, W. Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Swartzentruber and daughter Lois, and Mrs. Harold White and daughter Nancy, were in Parsons, W. Va., on Monday, where Mr. Swartzentruber had an examination in the hospital there. His condition is reported favorable.

Miss Mattie Davis and Mrs. Eli Beachy are kept quite busy on Fridays helping Mr. and Mrs. Ira Yoder prepare for market on Saturday.

Messrs. Sam Friend and Stanley Bernard were home from Baltimore on Wednesday.

Ray Livengood, who was employed at Artie Dodge's went to Morgantown for employment.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Beachy visited relatives near Meyersdale for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. George Jenkins, of Fellowsville, took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Will Welch, on Sunday.

Mrs. Jennie Sanders has returned from Cumberland.

Mrs. Della Sims and four children, and Mrs. Lipscomb, of Mountain Top, W. Va., were guests of Mrs. Elizabeth Sims at J. A. Shaffer's Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Beckman, and Noah Slabach and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Uphole.

Mrs. Jonas McKenzie, Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Hardesty and son, Guy, and Miss Wilda Wilhelm, of Grantsville, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fulk, on Sunday.

Mrs. D. T. Swartzentruber spent Saturday with Mrs. Daisy Lohr.

Walter Schlossnagle and family attended a party at Mrs. Nora Swires, at Loch Lynn, on Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Evans, formerly of Fellowsville, have moved into the rooms in the house on the corner vacated by Ernest Gorner.

Mrs. Gus Gortner, of Oakland visited Mrs. Anna Bittinger, on Saturday evening.

IS GRATEFUL FOR LARGE VOTE

I wish to thank the people very kindly for the wonderful support I received on Tuesday which nominated me as one of the County Commissioners on the Republican ticket, and I want to assure everyone that this evidence of confidence was greatly appreciated.

NITROGEN goes up in Smoke!

EVERY time a gun is fired, nitrogen goes up in smoke. To keep the guns firing, nitrogen must be conserved on the farm.

One of the best ways of conserving nitrogen is to make better use of farm manure. Three pounds of 20% superphosphate per cow sprinkled on floors and gutters in the dairy barn makes barn manure into a complete fertilizer. Dairymen, with a well-manured rotation, can get along with superphosphate alone, will not need a nitrogen fertilizer.

By laying in both your winter and spring supply of superphosphate now, you can be sure of adequate supplies when you need them. Order your superphosphate requirements now.

JAMES A. COVER THANKS VOTERS

Please accept my thanks for your support at the Primary Election on Tuesday, September 8, and while I was not the successful candidate I was happy to be high man in my own District. I think that is something to be proud of after being an officer there for six years.

I cannot agree with the successful nominee for Sheriff, Mr. George E. Coddington, about the absence of any underhand methods or usual political trickery. I do not know who said I was a drunkard and ran after every woman in the county, but it was told all over the county. The only answer I can give to that is I am starting on my tenth year as a Star Mail carrier. The Postoffice Department requires all mail carriers to be reliable and trustworthy persons of good character. If I was a drunkard and a ladies' man the Postoffice Department would have put me off the job years ago.

I do not blame anybody, but it must have been some of my respected opponents or some of their friends.

Mr. Theodore E. Sines, one of my opponents, said he had a feeling that the usual bad brand of politics would not enter the campaign.

If that is not a bad brand of politics I do not know anything.

The only reason my thanks were not in last week's paper was because I wanted to make sure that those lies were told.

Sincerely,

JAMES A. COVER

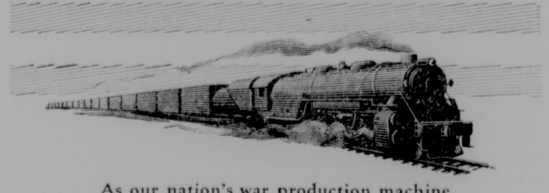
Serving by Saving FOR VICTORY



As our nation's war production machine slides smoothly into high, efficient transportation becomes the vital plus factor that is needed to win.

Every minute, every man, every mile counts now as never before. And B & O's great army of employees is serving our country's armed forces to the limit by cutting down lost time — by reducing waste (on the job and in the home) — by saving precious cargo space through requesting capacity car loadings.

JUDGE HUSTER DELIVERS CHARGE TO GRAND JURORS

Points Out Their Duties and The Importance of Their Work; Charge In Full Is Published

Associate Judge William A. Huster delivered the charge to the grand jurors when the September Term of the Circuit Court convened Monday morning, pointing out to them their duties and the importance of their work, after which members of the body retired to their room to begin the examination of witnesses summoned to appear before them.

Judge Huster also called their attention to a number of statutes which the law requires, especially regarding the crimes of abortion, defaulting in payment of revenue due the State of Maryland, or any county, the dispensing of cocaine, opium, morphine or other habit forming drugs, except as prescribed by law, and stressed also the investigation of those who might violate the county liquor laws or who might be carrying concealed weapons.

Gentlemen of the Grand Jury:—

You have been selected to serve as Grand Jurors for the September Term 1942 of the Circuit Court for Garrett county.

Your duties are important and the strict and efficient performance of them will do much to preserve the peace and good order in your county and the safety and security of each individual.

In furtherance of justice, your investigations and deliberations are conducted in secrecy, and it is your sworn duty, and those persons who are required by law to appear before you, to keep secret the transactions that take place before the Grand Jury.

You are an investigating body, and the major portion of your time will be taken up with investigations of such cases as have already been dealt with by the enforcement officers of your county against persons who have been charged with violations of the criminal laws, and are already held in custody or have been released under bail to await your action, all of which will be brought to your attention by your State's Attorney.

It will be your business to hear witnesses, produced before you, and if there is reasonable evidence of the guilt of the accused, to indict, their guilt or innocence to be later determined by the petit jury or by the Court, as these indicted may elect.

In addition to the cases already prepared for submission to you, it is your duty to investigate any other offenses which may be brought to your attention, or offenses of which any of you may have personal knowledge, and summon before you such witnesses as you may deem proper and necessary.

The Court does not have knowledge of anything of a serious nature to call to your attention; however, violations of the law can best be kept to a minimum by your thorough work and the continued efficiency and alertness of all enforcement officers of the county.

There are certain statutes which we are required by law, from term to term, to bring to your attention:

Sections 22 and 23 of Article 20 of the Code requires that each constable of the county shall appear at every jury term of the Circuit Court and be sworn and make a report as to any and all violations which may exist in their respective districts, and particularly where it is suspected that gaming tables are kept, and give information of all violations of the law.

Section 4 of Article 27 of the Code requires "* * * the Judges of the several Circuit Courts of this State * * * to give (Section 3) in charge of the Grand Jury of their respective Courts, at each term of said Courts." Section 3 pertains to the crime of abortion and the advertisement, advice, or information of any remedy designed or represented to effect the crime.

We are required by Section 79 of Article 27 to charge the Grand Jury with respect to the provisions of a statute, which reads as follows: "If any clerk, register of wills, sheriff, collector of taxes, notary public or other officer, whose duty it is to collect revenue due the State of Maryland or any county thereof, shall, after the receipt of the said revenue by him, wilfully retain the same in his possession and neglect to pay the same into the Treasury of the State or to the County Commissioners, or the proper officer authorized to receive the same, for more than sixty days after the day upon which it is made by law his duty to pay the same, or if no particular day be appointed by law for said payment, and such officer shall detain any revenue due to the State or to any county thereof, and which it is his duty to collect, and which he shall have collected and shall neglect to pay the same into the Treasury of this State, or to the County Commissioners, or the proper officer authorized to receive the same, for the space of six months after he shall have so collected the same, said officer so offending in either case shall be deemed to be a defaulter, and, upon indictment and conviction thereof, shall, in addition to any other penalties already provided by law, be for each offense imprisoned in the State Penitentiary not less than one year nor more than five years, unless the amount for which he is a defaulter be sooner paid; * * *"; and it is your duty—and an important one—to see that these provisions of the law are obeyed.

Section 286 of Article 27 makes it the duty "* * * of all Judges of Courts having criminal jurisdiction in this State at every regular jury term thereof to charge all regularly impanelled juries to diligently inquire into and investigate all cases of the violation of the provisions of Sections 283, 284, and 285, forbidding the furnishing, selling, giving or otherwise dispensing of cocaine, opium, morphine and other habit-forming drugs except upon the prescription of physicians, surgeons, dentists and veterinarians, with the regulations under which they may prescribe them.

It is provided by Section 22 of Article 51 of the Code of General Laws that, "The Grand Jury shall at each term of the Court visit the Jail and inquire into its condition, the manner in which it is kept and the treatment of the prisoners, and report the same to the Court." It is customary also to inspect the Court House and to report its condition with such recommendations as they may deem necessary

The law does not require the Court to especially instruct the Grand Jury against the statute of carrying concealed weapnos, but it has been the custom of doing so because this offense—so lightly regarded by so many persons—frequently has such tragic consequences that it should not be ignored. That the Legislature realized its seriousness is attested by the fact that it has imposed penalties for violation of the statute by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars or imprisonment in the jail or House of Correction for not more than two years.

It has also been customary to direct the attention of the Grand Jury to the liquor laws of the county. The sale of beer is now legalized in Garrett county, subject to such regulations as the Act of 1935-1937 imposes. It will be your duty to make an investigation as to the observance of these regulations by those who hold licenses under this law; and if violations are found, it will be your duty to find indictments against the violators. It will also be your duty to make an investigation as to whether alcoholic beverages are being unlawfully sold or manufactured without license in Garrett county; and if you find that such violations exist, it will be your duty to return indictments against those who violate this law.

I also wish to call attention to the great loss of life and injuries to persons caused through the use of motor vehicles operated in a reckless and incautious manner, in utter disregard for the safety of others. This condition cannot be too strongly brought to the attention of all law enforcement officers and operators of motor vehicles everywhere. Safety should be the paramount thought of all operators of motor vehicles and those who do not strictly observe the law and safety rules of the road, and thereby cause loss of life, injuries, damage and great grief to others, do so at their peril.

Upon your retirement to the Grand Jury room to begin your duties, you will organize by appointing two of your number to act as clerks to the Grand Jury. In any case which is presented to you, after hearing the evidence, in order to return a true bill, it will be necessary that you have twelve affirmative votes, and during your deliberations and voting no one will be permitted within the Grand Jury room except members of the Grand Jury.

It is in the public interest that you promptly assume your duties and conclude them as speedily as may be consistent with a thorough investigation of all matters which may be brought to your attention, and other work which you may be required to do, but it is not advisable to sacrifice thoroughness to speed.

That this Court is of the belief that you will promptly and properly perform the duties to which you are summoned is attested by the fact that you have been selected as Grand Jurors.

Thanks Voters!

Please accept my thanks for your support at the Primary Election last Tuesday, September 8.

Even though I was not successful in being named as a member of the Republican committee I thank the voters who voted for me. I wish you full liberty in the right of selection by ballot, that our land may live forever in God's Holy light.

By Scoop Himself

It is very peculiar how some people take vacations every March and September.

News note: The Grand Jury began its deliberations on Monday.

Doesn't it stand to reason, that if slot machines shouldn't be around while the Grand Jury is in session, should they be around after the Grand Jury adjourns?

They went out after night. Are they due to come back the same way? And what will be done about it if they do?

To Attend Lutheran Meeting

Dr. A. B. Leamer, Lutheran pastor, will attend the 13th biennial convention of the United Lutheran church in America, to be held at Louisville, Ky., October 11 to 21. Emphasis will be laid upon home and foreign mission work for the future.

Among the 552 delegates there will also be the following clergymen and laymen from the West Virginia synod beside Dr. Leamer: Rev. E. F. K. Roof, Grafton; Rev. H. L. Hann, Fairmont; Wilbert Miller, Wheeling, and C. A. Pilson, Fairmont.

Draft Dodgers

Private Worth M. Pounds of Clayton, who is stationed at Fort Jackson, S. C., addresses the following to draft dodgers, and it was sent to Garrett County from a soldier to his girl friend with a request that it be published:

We're writing this short letter
And every word is true.
Don't look away "draft dodger,"
For it's addressed to you.

You feel at ease, in no danger,
Back in the old home town,
You cook up your pitiful story,
So the draft board will turn you down.

You never think of the real men,
Who leave there day by day;
You just think of their girl friends,
That you get while they're away.

You sit home and read your paper,
You jump up and yell "We'll win";
Just where do you get that "we" stuff?
This war will be won by men.

Just what do you think, draft dodger,
That this free nation would do,
If all men were slackers
And scared to fight, like you?

We guess that's all Mr. Slacker,
We guess your face is red.
America's no place for your kind,
And we mean every word we've said.

So we're closing this letter, draft dodger,
Just remember what we say,
Keep away from our girl friends,
For we're coming back some day.

Help Clear The Lines For War Calls

Such great quantities of critical materials are needed for ships and weapons with which to fight and win the war that we can no longer continue to expand telephone facilities as we have in the past.

As Long Distance calls continue to grow it becomes imperative to make more careful and efficient use of the present telephone facilities we have.

Won't you please . . .

★ Make fewer and briefer long distance calls.

★ Try to call in the less busy hours—noon to 2 p.m.—5 to 7 p.m.—after 10 p.m.

Thank you. We knew you'd be glad to cooperate in saving calls—so Uncle Sam can make 'em.

CONSTITUTION WEEK—

The week of September 14 to 19 is being observed throughout the United States with public programs and ceremonies in commemoration of the signing of the Constitution of the United States on September 17, 1787.

This one hundred and fifty-fifth anniversary of the American Constitution is perhaps more significant than all its predecessors.

It finds more than four million Americans already under arms to resist the destruction of their country, with the prospect that ten millions will ultimately be in the armed service.

This great war is, of course, being fought to preserve America. There is no doubt about the result of the war.

We have the resources of production and man power to win it.

We have the indomitable will and spirit, the indefatigable determination and courage, the resolute patriotism to win it.

America can, must and WILL win this war.

Surely, it must be very important for American to win the war, with millions of Americans fighting and dying to accomplish the victory, and with ALL Americans contributing services, sacrifices and the last ounce of their energies to the victory.

Yes, it IS very important.

But it would not be important if the Constitution written and signed one hundred and fifty-five years ago did not exist.

It would not be important if the Constitution had not preserved for more than a century and a half the things that make America worth fighting and dying for.

It would not be important if America were not a land of freedom, justice, brotherhood and tolerance—and, of course, it is because of the Constitution that America is that kind of a land.

Therefore, the Constitution itself is very important.

And the anniversary of its signing is important.

Americans must never become indifferent to the important events and dates in their history, and particularly must never be indifferent to the source of their liberties and their rights.

Otherwise, some future peril to America may arise and millions of Americans might not be willing to fight and die and make sacrifices to avert its destruction.

The Constitution of the United States should be honored on not merely this anniversary but ALL anniversaries.

It should be studied and explained in the schools.

It should be praised in public assemblages.

It should be defended against all skeptics and detractors.

It should be held secure against subterfuge and evasion, against the doubtful and the faithless.

Let the Constitution be read to the people of America, and especially to the children of America, on all possible occasions throughout the week.

Let the history of the Constitution be told.

Let the benefits of America's one hundred and fifty-five years under the Constitution be recited.

Let the wholesome and inspiring story of the Constitution be repeated and our profit from it thus be emphasized and acknowledged and understanding and appreciation of it be assured.

Constitution Week must not be overlooked because of the war's diversions, but rather must be specially observed because of the war, since it is freedom we are fighting to preserve, and it is in having and KEEPING the Constitution intact that we are free.—Baltimore News-Post.

DIARY OF THE WAR

FRIDAY—British sent major naval, air and landing forces against three important points along 700-mile west coast of Madagascar to keep Axis from refueling subs along that area. Island is owned by French. There was no letup for Reds in pressure against Stalingrad and on two Caucasus fronts. Japs were using jungle fighters in force against Allied defenders of Port Moresby on New Guinea and were within 44 miles. Allied sub sank two Jap transports off East China coast. Aerial warfare was predominant in western Europe and middle east. Germans admitted Red planes were over Berlin and Budapest. U. S. bombers raided Tobruk in Libya.

SATURDAY—Stalin ordered Red armies in Stalingrad to stand or die and they were making a supreme defense of the city against half a million Nazis. Germans had begun infiltration tactics. Reds claimed to still be holding also some of streets of Novorossisk on Black Sea. British on Madagascar had taken three ports and were advancing inland against the capital against little opposition. Allies used 600 planes to bomb Dusseldorf and leave German city in ruins. A delayed story from Solomons told of American flyers who shot down 96 enemy planes over Guadalcanal island with loss of 8 planes. Australians were told that Allies would hold New Guinea.

SUNDAY — Efforts of Japs to dislodge United States forces from Solomons cost enemy 24 dive bombers and five fighter planes in addition to previous losses. Jap destroyers shelled Allied positions at night. Allied planes bombed Gizo island. U. S. Marines continued to seek out enemy troop units in interior of Guadalcanal. Reds were standing firm in fortifications around Stalingrad. The first snow fell in Caucasus. Many Germans were killed in sector southeast of Leningrad. Britain announced successful plane sorties against German supply trains on continent blowing up many locomotives. British were within 70 miles of Madagascar's capital.

MONDAY—British penetrated more deeply into Madagascar with one of main objects that of not causing more French casualties than necessary. Mexico took control of 81 more Axis establishments as they prepared for war. Russian Commandos assaulted Nazis far behind the enemy's northern line. Allied planes rained bombs on Jap main New Guinea base, catching enemy flatfooted. Land action there lagged. British bombed Burma bases heavily. Germans advanced slightly against Stalingrad and also opened an offensive at Voronezh on Don river.

TUESDAY—Canada admitted loss of an escort vessel with convoy. Germans have claimed sinking of 18 Allied ships in a large convoy in North Atlantic. Russians admitted a new retreat in Caucasus region but fought fierce engagements with Nazis west and southwest of Stalingrad. U. S. fighter planes were called second rate by Senators in Washington. Both British and Russian planes were over German territory dropping many bombs. British columns still progressed in Madagascar. British subs were said to have sunk 300 enemy ships and 87 German and Italian warships since start of war. A new wave of Axis terror and anti-Axis revolt were reported spreading through Balkans.

WEDNESDAY — Germans threw new masses of tanks, planes and infantry into battle for Stalingrad, but Russian held enemy gains to scant yards. Nazis claimed the city railway station had fallen into their hands. Soviet guns poured deadly fire into German ranks. Russians generated an offensive of their own around Moscow and Leningrad and halted the Germans in the Caucasus. British warships returned to Alexandria from raid on Tobruk after being beset with dive bombers the entire way. British did not confirm Axis claims of sinking four destroyers, cruisers and other vessels. Leaders in southwest Pacific again said they would hold Port Morseby as battle area remained unchanged. U. S. pilots attacked enemy troops in Kiska in Aleutians. Canadian dead and missing in raid on Dieppe numbered 3,350, it was announced. RAF bombed Bremen heavily. Larry Allen, AP sea reporter, native of Mount Savage, Allegany county, was believed captured by Italians in Tobruk raid.

THURSDAY — Russia admittted that Germans had broken into outlying part of Stalingrad but fighting still raged. U. S. Navy announced that assaults of Japs on Solomons had waned and that U. S. marines were holding fast. Two Jap cruisers were crippled. Russia renewed pressure for second front in Europe. Tokyo claimed East Asia war was about to take an important step in cooperation with European war. It could be Siberia or India. Former Boy Scout Is Awarded DSM

Wilmot E. Bowen, Mt. Lake Park, Has Been Honored. Scout Executive Has Been Advised

Wilmot E. Bowen, former Boy Scout in Oakland Troop, has been awarded the Distinguished Service Medal from the War department "for gallantry and intrepidity above and beyond the call of duty," it has been learned here in a rather indirect manner.

Raymond C. Lalor, scout executive of Potomac Council, at Cumberland, received a request last Thursday from O. D. Sharpe, of New York, director of registration for Boy Scouts of America, for information on the scout record of Bowen, who formerly resided at Mt. Lake Park.

According to Sharpe's letter Bowen had received the award. Records show that Bowen was born August 15, 1911, and joined the Oakland scout troop in 1926. He was a star scout in 1928 and won ten merit badges.

It is not known definitely what branch of the armed service in which Bowen is located or the action in which Bowen performed so gallantly to merit the DSM. At the time of the outbreak of the war he was in the Philippine Islands. An unconfirmed report says he assisted in MacArthur's escape from the Islands prior to the fall of Corregidor.

An editorial in the Evening Times, Cumberland, on Saturday, noted Bowen's action and declared it "should serve as an inspiration to the hundreds of other young men from this section. He is one of a comparative few who are entitled to wear the symbol of one of the highest honors this country can bestow upon a hero.

The editorial further points out that although Scouting is a non-military organization, the scout is well trained in patriotism, learning to know and value his country and being impressed with importance of his duty toward that country. Likewise he is imbued with due regard for discipline, for order in all things, and for cooperative effort.

"Historic Landmark: Burns!"

By JARED W. YOUNG

Local subscribers to The Christian Advocate are reading in its current issue, with mingled feelings of amazement, perplexity and obfuscation, under "News of Methodism", the following item with the above heading:

"Oakland, Md.—In 1881 ground was broken for the old Tabernacle at Mountain Lake Park by an earnest group of Methodist pioneers. The next year the building housed the first camp meeting, held by "Bishop" Johnson and Miss Jennie Smith.

Recently fire destroyed the old landmark. Plans are now being made to rebuild the Tabernacle as a memorial to the founders. Ten pillars of the original structure were left standing and funds for the new building will be raised by selling tenths of these pillars to descendants of the pioneers."

The facts thus stated are substantially correct except that:—the "recent" fire took place August 21, 1941; the "Bishop's" name was John Thompson; the completed new building was dedicated early last July; and the pillar plan was not used in raising the funds!

As in the case of most apparent mysteries, the explanation of this year-old item appearing in the Advocate is simple. In connection with the Church entertainment given at the Park last month in the "New Auditorium" the writer has been carrying on correspondence on the revised Regulations 43, "Taxes on Admissions", applied to Church entertainments. In one letter, dated August 31, this question was asked:—

"What comment on, or directions regarding, Regulations 43 have appeared in the Christian Advocate, or in other official papers of our own or other denominations?"

The letter also stated:

"The 'Auditorium' is a strictly church edifice, being a reconstruction of the historic Tabernacle here, destroyed by fire a year ago, as per article enclosed." The article was the page reprint of the account of the fire widely circulated a year ago by the Camp Meeting Association in connection with its rebuilding canvass, and prominently bore the printing date of "August 28, 1941." A copy of the letter and article was sent to the editor of the Advocate.

Some earnest member of the Advocate staff, with a keen nose for news, but no eyedeas on dates or the passage of time, thereupon concocted the interesting item. Any slight reverberations felt in this section this week may be discounted as being of seismic origin; its probably just Dr. John F. Goucher, chief projector of the old Mt. Lake Park Association, and Dr. James M. Buckley, Methodist Editor Emeritus, discussing the matter on the other shore. (Incidentally, the letter was never even acknowledged!)

C. O. White, of Jennings, serving at the present term of the Circuit Court, visited The Republican office yesterday just before he started for his home following his discharge from further service as a grand juror, that body having completed its work earlier in the day.

Seek New Site For Merchant Seamen

Elkridge Camp Rejected For Heating, Sanitation Shortage

The Merchant Seamen's Rest Camp Committee is looking for a new site for a proposed Maryland camp today, following rejection of the former conscientious objectors' camp near Elkridge.

Chairman Paul E. Burke of the committee said the Elkridge site, a one-time CCC camp, had to be abandoned because of inadequate heating and sanitary facilities.

Conscientious objectors now stationed at the camp have been ordered moved to the Eastern Shore.

"The army engineers say that it would take two or three months or longer to make the (Elkridge) property livable for the season," Burke said. "It would also be very expensive, and there is the question of priorities. We have given up the idea for this year at least."

Burke said a number of other properties, including Rugby Hall on the Severn river near Annapolis, were under consideration.

A site in Garrett county had previously been considered, but was abandoned because it was so far from Baltimore and other eastern ports.

Fire Destroys Large Sawmill Early Sunday

Located Southwest of Grantsville and Was Used To Manufacture Munition Crates

A saw mill in which was made munition crates for the Federal Government, and located along the Dughill road, about eight miles southwest of Grantsville, was destroyed by fire of undetermined origin early on Sunday morning, September 13.

The mill and equipment was owned and operated by the Marquette and Bailey Lumber Company of Uniontown, Pa. The fire evidently had its origin some time between 2:00 and 7:30 o'clock Sunday morning when it was discovered by Raymond Klotz, an employe of the mill owners, who lives about a quarter of a mile from the location of the mill.

He notified State Trooper Graydon S. Dunlap, but the flames had gained such headway that nothing could be done aside from keeping the fire from spreading to nearby piles of finished lumber and the woods surrounding the site.

It was estimated that the loss was between $5,000 and $6,000. The saw mill was one of the largest operating in that section and consisted of a large main mill, two steam boilers and two tractors, which were destroyed.

Crates for the Government which were used in which to pack munitions were manufactured on the mill which had not operated Saturday or Sunday, and no employes were about the property during that time.

Investigation into the cause of the blaze is being continued.

Celebrate Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Sincell celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary with a reception and buffet supper for about fifty guests at their home on Second street Sunday afternoon, September 13.

It was just fifty years ago, on September 15, 1892, when Miss Mary Willoughby Kennedy, daughter of Hon. Judge John W. and Sarah Rutherford Kennedy, of Wheeling, W. Va., became the bride of Mr. Sincell, in St. Matthew's Episcopal church, Oakland, with Rev. Dr. Swope performing the ceremony. The groom at that time had just recently opened a general store in partnership with a brother. This store later became a clothing store which he has continued to operate through the years.

The anniversary occasion was arranged by the three daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Sincell, Mrs. Weston Dodson, Arlington, Va.; Mrs. R. C. McComas and Mrs. Margaret Sincell McComas, of Oakland. Assisting in the buffet supper were Mrs. Harry W. Matheny and Mrs. Olin F. Durst, Cumberland; Mrs. E. H. Sincell, Mrs. B. H. Sincell, Mrs. D. R. Sincell, Mrs. Robert Ruckert and Mrs. James Thompson.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Sincell, Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Sincell, Miss Eleanor Byrne Sincell, Robert Sincell, Oakland; Mrs. Olin F. Durst, Mrs. Harry W. Matheny, Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Smith, Mr. and Mrs. John Cupler II, Cumberland; Mr. and Mrs. John Hafer and family, Happy Hills, near Frostburg; Mr. and Mrs. Weston Dodson and Miss Mary Louise Dodson, Arlington, Va.; Miss Peggy McComas, Baltimore; Dial H. Expresses Appreciation for Vote

I wish to express my appreciation for the very fine vote given me at the Primary of last week. Although I was not successful in my bid for the Republican nomination for Sheriff I am proud of the vote given me and accept without question the decision of the voters.

It is my intention to give whole-hearted support to the nominee for sheriff, Mr. George E. Coddington, and to all the other candidates of the Republican party.

Sincerely yours,

On Recent Week-End Party Here

Miss Frances Grimes, Mt. Lake Park, Goes to Shepherd Field, Martinsburg, W. Va.

Ten U. S. Naval aviation reserve cadets who enlisted for the duration at West Virginia University training quarter school at Morgantown, were on a week-end trip recently in this county in company with their three instructors, one of whom is Miss Frances Grimes, of Mt. Lake Park.

Miss Grimes, who has been connected with the University of West Virginia for several years, resigned her position with that institution, effective Tuesday, and yesterday left Morgantown for Martinsburg, W. Va. She will engage in identical work at Shepherd Field in Martinsburg, having in her classes men of the army and navy only. The course there is sponsored by Southeastern University in Washington, D. C.

MT. LAKE PARK

Next Thursday, September 24, the ladies of the Mickey Band Auxiliary will serve a chicken supper at the Aid Hall in Loch Lynn. Serving starts at 5 and there will be fried chicken and creamed chicken.

Perhaps not in several years has there been such a profusion of the old-fashioned wild flowers as this summer. Nowhere was it more noticeable than enroute to the post office on each side of the boardwalk. Visitors here remarked on the beauty in August of the tiger lilies which grew in great profusion all over the field. Now with the blue gentian, iron weed and other fall flowers it is still lovely. Speaking of this beauty one citizen voiced the hope that there would be no cutting or burning of this particular spot. Certain it is that there is a chance for us to have the old flowers back again if we will let Mother Nature alone. Incidentally there's a little bit of Monkshood to be seen, and that's news.

The Women's Bible class of Bethel church will hold its regular social meeting for the month on Friday evening, 7:30, September 18, in the home of Mrs. Wiley Welling. Assisting hostess will be Mrs. Ernest Wotring.

Personals

Friends here will learn with interest of the promotion of Miss Frances Grimes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Grimes, from the Morgantown airport, where she has been CPT Ground Science Instructor, to the Shepherd Field in Martinsburg, West Va.

Reed Shipley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Shipley, is here for a nine-day furlough. Reed is in the Naval Air corp and is stationed at the Great Lakes Naval Station, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wild, of Uniontown, Pa., were guests on Sunday with Mrs. F. M. Murphy.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Searle and son Billy, returned to their home in Washington, D. C., after spending the summer here.

Miss Joanna Grimes has gone to Washington, D. C., where she has accepted a position in the Department of Agriculture in the office of the experimental station.

Mrs. Mary Ward Parker has returned to her home in Fairmont after a month's visit in the Park.

Mrs. Walter Foster, of Crafton, Pa., spent the week-end here with her mother, Mrs. Arthur Taylor.

Miss Mary Ruhl returned to Washington after a visit here with her mother, Mrs. Julia Ruhl. Mrs. Jacob Crane, also of Washington, is here visiting her mother.

Mrs. W. N. Skyles, and Mrs. Walter Pollard and children returned to Hagerstown on Monday and closed their home here for the season. Mr. Pollard and son, Weir, spent the week-end here, returning with the family Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Graef, of Chicago, returned there on Monday after a visit of several days here. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Graef's sister, Miss Helen Enlow, who spent the summer here.

Mrs. W. Brent Maxwell, of Clarksburg, is spending several days at her cottage here.

Robert Doman has returned to Cumberland after spending the summer here with his aunt, Miss Bonnie Calhoun.

Rev. J. C. Foster has been recalled to the U. B. Church in Loch Lynn. Both Loch Lynn and the Park will welcome Reverend Foster back. He is popular, not only with his congregation, but with all who come in contact with him.

Mr. and Mrs. Ballard Thompson, of Fairmont, spent last week-end with Attorney and Mrs. M. W. Ogden.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Lowdermilk spent Sunday in Cumberland.

Mrs. Frank Geisbert, of Baltimore, and Mrs. Dorothy Miller, of Washington, are visiting their mother, Mrs. A. T. White.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Biggs and Mr. Richard Ream have returned from Mazon, Ill., where they went to attend the funeral of Everett Gortner.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ream have had as their guests their children, Elmus Ream, of Orange, N. J.; Mrs. Paul Bennett, of Mechanicsville, and Miss Ruth Ream, of King William, Va. All have returned to their homes. Miss Virginia Weeks accompanied Miss Ream to King William, and spent the week-end with her.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Gossard and daughter, of Masontown, spent Sunday here with Mrs. Annie Rippard. Mr. and Mrs. Gossard were summer residents here for a number of years.

Miss Maudie Sisler is in Baltimore, where she has accepted employment and will make that her home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Osborn, of Wheeling, are guests at the Colonial. Mr. Osborn was a former Sheriff of Belmont County, Ohio, and is a retired Wheeling Steel employe. Both Mr. and Mrs. Osborn have visited Mt. Lake for several summers.

Mr. and Mrs. Roderick Johnson and son, of Sparrows Point, spent several days here last week with Mrs. Johnson's mother, Mrs. Carl Liller.

MY APPRECIATION TO VOTERS

Accept my thanks and appreciation for the splendid vote received at the primary.

I am asking for your continued vote at the general election in November. God being my guide and helper I will be a public servant to one and all alike in these strenuous times of war.

Sincerely yours,
NELSON BRENNEMAN

JUDAH: AN EXAMPLE OF SELF-SACRIFICE

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 44:18-34.

GOLDEN TEXT—Hereby perceive we the love of God, because he laid down his life for us: and we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren.—I John 3:16.

The family is still the fundamental unit of society, and is therefore of more importance than the church, the state, or the social order of which it is a vital part. Every force which encourages the breakdown of the sacred relationships of the home and family is set for the destruction of society itself.

Men have too often chosen to go the way of the flesh, and therefore they have disregarded God's plan and purpose. But marriage is just as sacred as ever in His sight; the home is to be kept for Him; and brotherly love still finds a high place among the virtues of real men.

Today's lesson is a continuation of the story of Joseph's life. As we study it we must bear in mind Joseph's dealings with his brethren, who as yet did not recognize him as the one they had sold into captivity. He was bringing them kindly but definitely to the point of real repentance, so that he could show himself gracious to them.

To do so he had brought disaster upon them. Being happily on their way homeward with a new supply of food, they were overtaken and proved to be thieves, and Benjamin, the beloved of their father Jacob, stood condemned by their own words, to death.

In that crisis the mouths of the others seemed closed, but Judah, who had really saved Joseph's life (Gen. 37:26, 27) and who had apparently come to himself as a man of essential goodness, pleaded for Benjamin's life. That plea presented a truly sacrificial brotherly love, as he manifested

I. Courage (v. 18).

Easy rests the yoke of family life as long as all is joyful and prosperous. But when adversity strikes, when sorrow comes, or sickness, or sin, then the true test of devotion is at hand.

It was a brave and manly thing for Judah to stand before the one whom he knew only as the man who was "even as Pharaoh." The circumstances were all against him. He expected the flaming anger of the offended ruler. His brethren had collapsed in despair. It was one of those dark hours which come to every family when someone must demonstrate true love by being strong-hearted and steady.

II. Intelligence (vv. 19-29).

Crises call for more than a cheerful smile or an encouraging word, much as they may mean in such an hour. We must be prepared by our close contact with our loved ones to speak and act with vigor and assurance.

Judah's plea is a masterpiece of argumentation and appeal, demonstrating that he was not only well-informed about his family and its problems, but ready to use his knowledge skillfully and effectively.

III. Self-Denial (vv. 30-33).

One step deeper goes the devotion of this man to his father and his brother. He had done no wrong that merited punishment, but evidently his brother Benjamin had been guilty. Had he been of the spirit of Cain he would have said, "Am I my brother's keeper?" and let him answer for himself. Why should Judah suffer for another? Why should he allow himself to be imprisoned in a strange land to save his father from sorrow and his brother from what seemed to be the just reward for his deeds?

Thus reasons the man of the world, but such is not the language of the true brother, who says, "Let thy servant abide instead of the lad as a bondman."

IV. Love (v. 34).

Love for father and brother underlies all of the courage, conviction and self-sacrifice of a man like Judah. In his younger years, and possibly under the influence of his brothers, he had failed in that respect, but now his real devotion to his brother was evident.

That affection was a real, powerful, and beautiful thing, and yet it is but a faint prefiguring of the affection of the One who "sticketh closer than a brother," who "though he was rich, yet for your sakes he became poor, that ye through his poverty might be rich" (Prov. 18:24; II Cor. 8:9).

Let us improve the opportunity to review our relations with our own family, to determine whether there is aught that we in intelligent and courageous self-sacrifice should do for our own.

Know Your Neighbors

Know your neighbors. Call on them to meet together, in your home to exchange information. This friendly association, this neighborliness, will create courage and confidence—the morale so necessary for victory.

The Baruch committee has proposed and President Roosevelt has approved imposing nationwide gasoline rationing and other rigid civilian motoring restrictions.

Call to Service of Husbands Inevitable Hershey Declares

Major General Lewis B. Hershey, national director of selective service, declares that the nation's need for manpower on its far-flung battle-fronts has made inevitable the call to arms of previously deferred husbands with dependents and war production workers.

"We will have to come to a realization that there are not enough single men, that there are not enough married men without dependents for the mobilization of say, between ten million and thirteen million in the United States," General Hershey said.

PROCLAMATION OF THE GOVERNOR OF MARYLAND DIRECTING THE PUBLICATION OF BILLS PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE.

WHEREAS, at the January session of the General Assembly of Maryland, held in the year 1941, the following Acts were passed, providing for the submission of amendments to the Constitution of the State to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection, namely:

CHAPTER 337

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Amendments to the Constitution", relating to the advertisement or publication of amendments to the Constitution, and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Amendments to the Constitution", the same, if adopted by the legally qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

1. The General Assembly may propose Amendments to this Constitution; provided that each Amendment shall be embraced in a separate Bill, embodying the Article or Section, as the same will stand when amended and passed by three-fifths of all the members elected to each of the two Houses, by yeas and nays, to be entered on the Journals with the proposed Amendment. The Bill or Bills proposing amendment or amendments shall be published by order of the Governor, in at least two newspapers, in each County, where so many may be published, and where not more than one may be published, then in that newspaper, and in three newspapers published in the City of Baltimore, once a week for three weeks immediately preceding the next ensuing general election, at which the proposed amendment or amendments shall be submitted, in a form to be prescribed by the General Assembly, to the qualified voters of the State for adoption or rejection. Provided, however, the General Assembly may provide for publishing any proposed amendment or amendments in pamphlet form, and for making said pamphlets available to the registered voters of the State in addition to publication in the newspapers. The votes cast for and against said proposed amendment or amendments, severally, shall be returned to the Governor, in the manner prescribed in other cases, and if it shall appear to the Governor that a majority of the votes cast at said election on said amendment or amendments, severally, were cast in favor thereof, the Governor shall, by his proclamation, declare the said amendment or amendments having received said majority of votes, to have been adopted by the people of Maryland as part of the Constitution thereof, and thenceforth said amendment or amendments shall be part of the said Constitution. When two or more amendments shall be submitted in manner aforesaid, to the voters of this State at the same election, they shall be so submitted as that each amendment shall be voted on separately.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That said aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall, at the next general election for members of the General Assembly of Maryland in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State, for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against the said proposed amendment, as directed by said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article 14.

AN ACT to amend Section 21 of Article 4, title "Judiciary Department", sub-title "Part III—Circuit Courts" of the Constitution of this State, providing for the residential qualification and method of selection of Associate Judges of the Third Judicial Circuit and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of this State for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That (three-fifths of all members elected to each of the two houses concurring) the following section be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 21 of Article 4, of the Constitution of Maryland, title "Judiciary Department", sub-title "Part III—Circuit Courts", be same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters thereof as herein provided to become Section 21 of Article 4 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

21. For each of the said circuits, excepting the eighth, the second, the third, the sixth and the seventh there shall be a chief judge and two associate judges, who shall be styled judges of the Circuit Court, to be selected or appointed as herein provided, and for the second circuit, the third circuit, the sixth circuit and the seventh circuit, there shall be a chief judge and three associate judges to be styled judges of the Circuit Court, to be elected or appointed as herein provided. And no two of said associate judges, for any of the said circuits, except the third, sixth and seventh circuits shall, at the time of their election or appointment or during the terms for which they have been elected or appointed, reside in the same county. If two or more persons shall be candidates for associate judge in the same county in any of the circuits, except the third, sixth and seventh circuits, that be only in said county shall be declared elected who has the highest number of votes in the circuit. In case any two candidates for associate judge in any of the circuits, except he third, sixth and seventh circuits, residing in the same county shall have the said equal number of votes greater than any other candidates for associate judge in the circuit, it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for one associate judge; but he person residing in any other county of he circuit and who has the highest number of votes shall be declared elected. The said judges shall hold not less than two terms of he Circuit Court in each of the counties composing their respective circuits, at such times as are now or may hereafter be prescribed to which jurors shall be summoned; and in those counties where only two such terms are held, two other and intermediate terms, to which jurors shall not be summoned; they may alter or fix the times for holding any or all terms, until otherwise prescribed, and shall adopt rules to the end that all business not requiring the interposition of the jury shall be, as far as practicable, disposed of at such intermediate terms. One judge in each of the above circuits, including the second, the third, sixth and seventh circuits, shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of any business, and the said judges or any of them may hold special terms of their courts, whenever in their discretion the business of the several counties renders such terms necessary.

In the Third Circuit, two of said Associate Judges shall at all times be bona fide residents of Baltimore County and one of said Associate Judges or the Chief Judge be a bona fide resident of Harford County, and said Judges shall have been such residents six months prior to their appointment or election.

The additional associate judge for the second circuit herein provided for shall be a resident of Cecil County, shall be appointed by the Governor after the expiration of six (6) months after the adoption of this amendment and shall serve until the first general election for members of the General Assembly that shall be held in said circuit subsequent to the adoption of this amendment, at which election his successor shall be elected by the qualified voters of Caroline, Cecil, Kent, Queen Anne's and Talbot Counties, constituting the second circuit. The judge so appointed shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit, and the judge so elected shall be subject to the same constitutional provision, hold his office for the same term of years, receive the same compensation, and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit.

The additional judge for the sixth circuit herein provided for and elected by the qualified voters of Frederick and Montgomery Counties at the 1938 election in accordance with the terms of the Constitutional Amendment heretofore submitted and adopted shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the sixth circuit and his successor shall be appointed and/or elected in accordance with the constitutional provisions relating to judges. The Chief Judge may be elected from either Frederick or Montgomery Counties, but when the Chief Judge is elected from Frederick County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said county and the two remaining associate judges shall be residents of Montgomery County and when the Chief Judge is elected from Montgomery County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said Montgomery County and the remaining two associate judges residents of Frederick County. In case any candidate or candidates for associate judge at any judicial election held in the third and sixth judicial circuits shall receive sufficient votes to cause such candidate or candidates to be declared elected, but the election of such candidate or candidates would cause more associate judges than herein permitted to reside in any county of said circuits, then and in that event only that candidate or those candidates, as the case may be, residing in said county in the order of the votes received shall be declared elected whose election would provide the permitted number of associate judges from said county and the candidate or candidates, as the case may be, residing in the other county, and not similarly disqualified who shall have the next highest number of votes in said election shall be declared elected. If by reason of such a condition or by reason of an equal vote for two or more candidates a sufficient number of associate judges duly qualified as to residence as above set out should not be elected at any election in said third and sixth judicial circuits, then it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for such unfilled office or offices.

The additional associate judge for the seventh circuit herein provided for shall be appointed by the Governor immediately after the adoption of this amendment and shall serve until the first general election for members of the General Assembly that shall be held in said circuit subsequent to the adoption of this amendment, at which election his successor shall be elected by the qualified voters of Prince George's, Charles, Calvert and St. Mary's Counties. No member of the General Assembly of 1939, otherwise qualified, shall be ineligible for appointment or election as such associate judge by reason of his membership in the General Assembly. The judge so appointed shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the seventh circuit. No two of the associate judges in the seventh circuit at the time of their election or appointment or during the term for which they may have been elected or appointed reside in the same county, except in Prince George's County, in which county two of said associate judges for the said circuit shall reside at the time of their appointment or election and during the term for which they may have been appointed or elected unless the chief judge of said circuit shall already reside in said county, in which event only one of said associate judges shall reside in Prince George's County and Prince George's County shall at all time have two resident Judges and no more, such Judges to be either the Chief Judge of the Seventh Circuit and one associate Judge or two associate Judges of said Circuit. In case any candidate or candidates for associate judge at any judicial election held in the seventh judicial circuit shall receive sufficient votes to cause such candidate or candidates to be elected, but the election of such candidate or candidates would cause more associate judges than herein permitted to reside in any county of said circuit, then and in that event only that candidate or those candidates, as the case may be, residing in said county in the order of the votes received shall be declared elected whose election would provide the permitted number of associate judges from said county and the candidate or candidates, as the case may be, residing in some other county, and not similarly disqualified, who shall have the next highest number of votes in said election shall be declared elected. If, by reason of such a condition or by reason of an equal vote for two or more candidates a sufficient number of associate judges duly qualified as to residence as above set out should not be elected at any election in said seventh judicial circuit, then it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for such unfilled office or offices.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State shall be, at the next general election to be held in this State in the year 1942, submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of this State, and at the said general election, the vote on the said proposed amendment shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment" as now prescribed by law, and immediately after said election, due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment as directed by said Article 14 of the Constitution.

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 15 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", relating to the salary of Clerks of Courts and Registrars of Wills and providing for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the Two Houses concurring), That the following amendment be and it is hereby proposed to Section 15 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department" the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Section 15 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland:

15. The General Assembly shall provide a simple and uniform system of charges in the offices of Clerks of Courts and Registrars of Wills, in the Counties of this State and the City of Baltimore, and for the collection thereof; provided, the amount of compensation to any of the said officers in the various Counties and in the City of Baltimore shall be such as may be prescribed by law.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing Section, hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State, shall, at the election to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, upon each ballot there shall be printed the words: "For Constitutional Amendment" and "Against Constitutional Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against proposed amendment, as directed by said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article 14

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland title "Legislative Department" by adding a new section to be known as Section 40B, providing for the taking of property by the State Roads Commission under certain circumstances; and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members elected to each of the two Houses concurring), That the following new Section be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Article III, title "Legislative Department" of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, the same to be inserted after Section 40A and to be numbered 40B, and if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, said section shall become a part of Article III of the Constitution of Maryland.

40B. The General Assembly shall enact no law authorizing private property to be taken for public use without just compensation, to be agreed upon between the parties or awarded by a jury, being first paid or tendered to the party entitled to such compensation, except that where such property in the judgment of the State Roads Commission is needed by the State for highway purposes, the General Assembly may provide that such property may be taken immediately upon payment therefor to the owner or owners thereof by said State Roads Commission, or into Court, such amount as said State Roads Commission shall estimate to be of the fair value of said property, provided such legislation also requires the payment of any further sum that may subsequently be awarded by a jury.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the foregoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland, shall, at the election to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of the directions contained in Article XIV of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "FOR CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT" and "AGAINST CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment as directed by Article XIV of the Constitution and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article XIV. (Approved: April 28, 1941.)

CHAPTER 695

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 15 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", regulating the period that General Assembly may continue its session and compensation of the members thereof, and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following amendment be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 15 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Section 15 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

15. The General Assembly may continue its session so long as in its judgment the public interest may require, for a period not longer than ninety days; and each member thereof shall receive a compensation of One Thousand Dollars ($1,000) per annum, payable quarterly, with a deduction of fifteen dollars per diem for each day of unexcused absence from any session; and he shall also receive such mileage as may be allowed by law, not exceeding twenty cents per mile; and the presiding officer of each House shall receive an additional compensation of Two hundred and fifty ($250) dollars per annum. When the General Assembly shall be convened by Proclamation of the Governor, the session shall not continue longer than thirty days, but no additional compensation other than mileage and other allowances provided by law shall be paid members of the General Assembly for Special Sessions.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That said aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall, at the next general election to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State, for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For Constitutional Amendment" and "Against Constitutional Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against the said proposed amendment, as directed by said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article 14.

Approved: May 2, 1941.

CHAPTER 716

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Article 38 of the Declaration of Rights of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, relating to gifts, devises and other transfers to or for certain preachers and religious sects, orders or denominations, and providing for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following amendment be and the same is hereby proposed to Article 38 of the Declaration of Rights of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Article 38 of the Declaration of Rights of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

38. The Legislature may by law regulate, restrict or require its action for gifts, devises or other transfer of property to or for the benefit of any minister, public teacher or preacher of the Gospel, as such, or any religious sect, order or denomination.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing amendment to the Declaration of Rights of the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall, at the election to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, upon each ballot there shall be printed the words: "For Constitutional Amendment" and "Against Constitutional Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against proposed amendment, as directed by said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article 14

Approved: May 2, 1941.

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Article IV of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, adding thereto a new section, to be known as Section 39A, to be under new subtitle "Part IV-A Juvenile Courts", and to follow immediately after Section 39 of said Article, providing for the establishment of orders or denominations, and providing for submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following amendment be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 39A, to be under new subtitle "Part IV-A Juvenile Courts", and to follow immediately after Section 39 of said Article, be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Article IV of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State as herein provided, to become a part of said Article IV of said Constitution and to be numbered and sub-titled as aforesaid:

PART IV-A—JUVENILE COURTS

39A. A Juvenile Court is hereby created for Baltimore City, and the General Assembly by law may establish a Juvenile Court for any other incorporated city or town or any county of the State. The court hereby created, and any other court established hereunder by law, shall be a court of record, and shall have exclusive jurisdiction within such city, town or county over all criminal offenses other than those punishable by death or life imprisonment committed by any person under eighteen years of age, and such additional jurisdiction as may be from time to time prescribed by the General Assembly by law. The General Assembly by law shall prescribe, and from time to time may alter:

1. The number, qualifications, tenure and method of selection of the judge or judges of such courts, and their powers, duties and compensation, but the salary or compensation of any judge of any such court shall not be reduced during his continuance in office;

2. The right of appeal from such court;

3. The number, qualifications, tenure, methods of selection, duties and compensation of all clerks, bailiffs, probation officers or other employes of such courts; and

4. Any other matters relating to such courts.

In the event of any inconsistency between the provisions of this Section and any of the other provisions of this Constitution, the provisions of this Section shall prevail, and such other provisions shall be repealed or abrogated to the extent of such inconsistency, except Section 35-A of Article III. Until the General Assembly has established a Juvenile Court for any incorporated city or town or any county of the State, jurisdiction over juvenile causes shall be exercised in the same manner and to the same extent as authorized by the Constitution and laws of this State, in effect prior to the adoption of this Section.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That the aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall, at the election to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of the directions contained in Article XIV of the Constitution of the State of Maryland and at the said General Election the vote on the said proposed amendment shall be by ballot and upon each ballot there shall be printed the following synopsis of said amendment captioned as follows:

"CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT PROVIDING FOR JUVENILE COURTS"

Below said synopsis shall be printed the words "For Juvenile Courts Amendment" and "Against Juvenile Courts Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment as directed by Article XIV of the Constitution and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article XIV.

Approved: May 6, 1941.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, HERBERT R. O'CONOR, GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF MARYLAND, in pursuance of the direction contained in Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of Maryland, do hereby order and direct that this proclamation containing a full, true and correct copy of the text of said Chapters 337, 494, 509, 607, 695, 716 and 824 of the Acts of the General Assembly of Maryland of 1941, be published in at least two newspapers in each of the counties of the State where so many may be published and where not more than one may be published then in that newspaper, and in three newspapers published in the City of Baltimore, one of which shall be published in the German language, once a week for at least three months next preceding the general election to be held in the State of Maryland on Tuesday, the 3rd day of November, 1942, at which election the said proposed amendments to the Constitution shall be submitted in form and manner prescribed by the General Assembly, to the legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State of Maryland. Done at the City of Annapolis this 15th day of July, in the year of our Lord One thousand, nine hundred and forty-two.

THE GREAT SEAL OF MARYLAND

TABLELAND EXHIBITION TO BE HELD IN OCTOBER

War Causes Some Changes But Pittsburgh Store Still Offers People Chance to Sell Their Products

Director of the Office of Defense Transportation made the request some months ago that there be no county or state fairs held this year. Although the Allegheny Tableland Fair did not come directly under this classification, nevertheless, it was the desire of Gimbel's store in Pittsburgh, sponsor of the Tableland Fair, to cooperate with the Government in every way toward winning the war. Therefore, after very careful consideration and after soliciting all of the previous exhibitors, Gimbels decided this year to discontinue all competitive exhibits.

But in order not to discontinue the exhibition entirely, an exhibition of Allegheny Tableland products of the farm, garden and home will be held for the purpose of granting the Tableland farmers the privilege of offering whatever products they have for sale. The store will provide counter space and give all possible assistance to anyone who is interested in offering for sale any of his products to the people of Pittsburgh and the visitors to the exhibition, at no cost whatsoever to the people of the Tableland. This will entirely remove all aspects of a fair.

Through the cooperation of the British Government Services, Gimbels secured an elaborate exhibit showing agriculture in war time in Great Britain and the problems of agriculture which Britain has overcome during the course of the present war.

British Information Service is also sending an exhibition showing all the activities both, of the military and non-military services. Most of these have just recently arrived from England and show the latest developments in the field of activity. Models of invasion craft used by commandos and landing troops are included in the exhibit. This exhibit covers quite an amount of floor space and is expected to prove an interesting attraction.

Again this year the United States War Department is sending another new, complete exhibit, graphically portraying the various activities of our armed forces.

Ample space will be reserved for the sale of the Tableland products. Anyone desiring to sell at this exhibition this year should apply at once stating the amount of space required and the nature of the products to be sold. Address Allegheny Tableland Exhibition, Gimbels, Pittsburgh.

Joseph F. Kaylor Heads Md. Forest Fire Departments

Calls for Volunteers In All Sections for Duration

Maryland State Forester Joseph F. Kaylor has been appointed state co-ordinator of the Forest Fire Fighting Service, national FFFS Co-ordinator David Godwin, announced.

Kaylor has also received approval of all forest protection agencies in Maryland, the State Civilian Defense Council, the regional OCD director and commander of the Third Defense Region, Godwin added.

Calls for Volunteers

Kaylor meanwhile called for volunteer workers to serve in the FFFS for the duration. Women, he said, were especially desired.

He said the state forestry service had originally consisted of 2,000 CCC workers and 3,000 regular forest wardens. All of the former and 1,000 of the latter have been lost by the service to the armed forces. The appeal for volunteers, he said, has been made to fill the gaps in the ranks of the corps.

The aims of the FFFS are to provide trained forest fire fighters for the state forestry service, with whom they will co-operate closely, to educate the people to their responsibility in the prevention and control of fires and to provide them with a chance of participating in the national war effort, enrolling as FFF workers.

He outlined three duties for the FFFS members:

1. To assist in the prevention of forest, brush and grass fires, by educating their friends and neighbors as to the cost to the nation of fires, ways of preventing them and means of putting them out.

2. To participate in program of training other workers.

3. To help control forest and other fires.

Workers enrolling in the FFFS, Kaylor added, would receive a minimum of twelve hours training, but he added that previous education would be taken into consideration in deciding the length of training a volunteer would receive.

Gas for Volunteers

Volunteers are to receive a special emergency gasoline privilege.

District coordinators include:

District 1, comprising the four western counties: H. C. Buckingham.

The divisional coordinators include: Div. 1, Garrett county, with seat in Oakland: Cecil R. Ramsey.

AURORA-EGLON

Death of Otto Beckman

Funeral services were conducted this afternoon at the Maple Spring church for the late Otto Beckman, 51, son of Mrs. Lillian Beckman and the late Henry Beckman, who died suddenly Tuesday evening at his home near Eglon. Survivors other than his mother, include his widow, Mrs. Clara Teets Beckman; six sons, Kenneth, near Eglon; Wade and Lee, Sabraton; Everett, Vernon and Guy, at home, and three grandchildren. Also four brothers and three sisters. Interment was made in the Eglon Union cemetery. Mr. Beckman had been a rheumatic invalid for many years, and even though his sufferings were intense, he always was very cheerful and entertaining and searched only for the better and most pleasant things of life.

Announcement has been made of the marriage, on Saturday, September 12, at Oakland, of Mary Belle Neff, of Newburg, and Junior Myers, of Aurora. Mrs. Myers is attending school at Newburg, while Mr. Myers is remaining at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Myers, Aurora.

A celebration was held on Sunday at the Eglon school building by members of the Walter Feather family in honor of a son-in-law, Elwood Edeburn, who left on Wednesday, September 16, for induction into the nation's army.

A. C. Wilt, Aurora, has been ill for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Fike and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Selders, who have recently built new homes near Red House, were pleasantly surprised on Friday evening, September 11, when approximately thirty-five neighbors and friends gave them a housewarming. Many useful and beautiful gifts were received.

Mrs. Hattie Wheeler, Piedmont, was a recent guest of Mrs. Eva Davis, in Aurora.

Week-end guests at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Ezra Fike, Eglon, were Rev. and Mrs. Joe Miller, Betty Lou and Earl Junior Fike, all of Broadway, Va., and Mrs. Olive Huffman and two children, of Roanoke, Va.

Elder Frank Crumpacker, Huntingdon, Pa., a former missionary to China, will show pictures Saturday evening at the Maple Spring church and also conduct the Sunday morning services. Everyone is invited to these services.

A little son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Moats, of Aurora was taken, Sunday, to Fairmont State hospital, where he remains a medical patient.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Sponaugle and son, Cumberland, and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Selders and son, and Mrs. Orlena Selders, all of near Red House, were week-end guests at the home of the latter's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Feld, at Monessen, Pa.

A celebration was held Wednesday evening of last week at the home in Eglon, in honor of Lloyd Hash's ninetieth birthday anniversary. About 80 guests were present, and all but a couple were near relatives. Refreshments were served.

Mrs. Lydia Fichtner, Aurora, is spending this week with her sister, Mrs. Mary Wenzel, at the Wenzel hospital, Meyersdale, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bush, Cincinnati, O., were recent guests with relatives in this community.

Recent guests at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Forrest Stemple, in Aurora, were Mr. and Mrs. Deitz and infant, of Gauley Bridge, and Dr. Margaret Stemple, of Boston. Mrs. Deitz and Dr. Stemple are daughters of the Stemples.

Quinter Slaubaugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Slaubaugh, of near Eglon, who has been stationed at Camp Lyndhurst, Va., and wife, the former Miss Eileen Forman, of near Aurora, who was employed near the camp, are spending a ten-day leave with home folks in this community. A sister, Miss Nellie Slaubaugh, nurse, of the State of Michigan, is also vacationing here.

Mrs. Etta Bittinger, who for some time has been remaining at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Washington Fike, near Brookside, is returning to her home at Eglon.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Sell motored to Philippi on Saturday. They were accompanied by Catherine Kooken, who received treatment at the Myers Clinic Hospital that day.

A. R. Taylor, of Fairmont, was a week-end visitor at the home of Arthur Abernathy.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Shaffer, Pierce, formerly of Eglon, brought their little son, Glenn Allen home from the City Hospital, at Elkins. He had been a patient there for six weeks.

Mrs. Ruth L. Smith and two daughters, of Hyattsville, were calling at the home of S. A. Abernathy recently.

Miss Lavonna Whitehair, of near Gnegy Church, entertained on Sunday evening with a dinner, for Edward Sherve, who will enter into the service in the near future.

DIED

EVERETT GORTNER

Funeral services for Everett Lloyd Gortner, 19, who died in Morris Hospital, Mazon, Ill., early last Monday morning, September 7, following a short illness, were conducted Wednesday afternoon from the Mazon Methodist church, with interment in the Mazon cemetery.

Deceased was born in Mazon February 5, 1923, and was reared in Mazon where he was graduated from Mazon Township high school in 1941. He was active in church affairs and popular among the young set of that community. For the two and one-half months preceding his death he was employed by the Sanderson and Porter corporation.

Surviving are his widow; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gortner, and a brother, Willard, all of Mazon. His parents were natives of Garrett county.

Attending the funeral were Harvey Gortner, Grantsville, and Mrs. Anna Bittinger, Gortner, cousins of the deceased.

DR. S. MUNCASTER

Dr. Stuart B. Muncaster, 85, died last Friday in a Washington, D. C., hospital, and was buried Sunday afternoon in Wheeling, West Va., following a funeral service in the New York Avenue Presbyterian church, in Washington.

Dr. Muncaster was one of the founders of the District of Columbia Society for the Prevention of Blindness and was among the outstanding eye specialists of this part of the country. For sevoreal years he had a summer practice in Oakland. He married Miss Edna McCourtney, of Wheeling, West Va. Her death occurred in 1902.

MRS. JAMES M. BRADY

Mrs. Fannie A. Brady, 78, wife of James M. Brady, died at her farm home near Deer Park early Saturday morning, September 12. She was born at Upper Tract, Pendleton county, West Va., a daughter of the late William and Phoebe Robertson Guthrie.

Mrs. Brady resided at Deer Park for twenty-three years. Besides her husband she is survived by the following children: William H. Brady, Vindex; John T. and Elzie Brady, of Shallmar; Branson Brady, at home, and Mrs. Mollie Harvey, Eagle Rock. She was a sister of Mrs. Margaret Simmons, of Scherr, West Va.; John R. Guthrie, Marlinton, W. Va., and George T. Guthrie, Dawson, Allegany county, Md. Twenty-one grandchildren and thee great-grandchildren also survive.

Mrs. Brady was a member of the Pentecostal church at Kitzmiller.

JOSEPHUS HARVEY

Josephus Harvey, aged 90 years, died last Thursday afternoon, September 10, at 3:30 o'clock at the home of his son, Dewey Harvey, near Sand Flat. He had been in good health until two weeks preceding his death.

Mr. Harvey was born in Garrett county July 3, 1852, a son of the late Elisha and Esther Ann Harvey. He was the last of a family of ten children and was actively engaged in farming until his retirement. He was a member of the Paradise United Brethren church.

Surviving are seven children: Sidney Harvey, Oakland; Jonas Harvey, Scenery Hill, Pa.; William McKinley Harvey, Deer Park; Hobart Harvey and Dewey Harvey, near Sand Flat; Mrs. Bertha Casteel, Akron, O., and Mrs. George Kimmell, Seneca Falls, N. Y.

Funeral services were conducted on Saturday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock from the Paradise U. B. church, Rev. J. E. Johnson, Oakland, officiating, assisted by the Rev. J. C. Foster, of Mountain Lake Park. Interment was made in the Paradise cemetery.

Sang Run Resident Has Articles Accepted

From the national headquarters of Our Sunday Visitor in Huntington, Indiana, a Catholic publication claiming a weekly circulation of 425,000 copies, Wilbert N. Savage, Sang Run, was notified by Paul Manoske, Associate Editor of Youth, a young peoples' magazine-supplement section of Our Sunday Visitor, that a recently submitted article, "Stars—The Birds' Roadmap," has been accepted for future publication.

Simultaneously, the editor of The Pennsylvania Farmer, published biweekly at Harrisburg, Pa., accepted two of Mr. Savage's articles.

The first article, "A Visit to Spider-Land," will carry three photographic illustrations furnished by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine.

The second article, "Cher Ami," a re-written account of the life and epic flights of a famous World War I carrier pigeon, actually awarded the Distinguished Service Cross by General John J. Pershing, will be illustrated through the co-operation of the Department of the Interior and the Smithsonian Institution, the latter supplying an actual photograph of "Cher Ami" as he stands today, mounted in the National Museum in Washington.

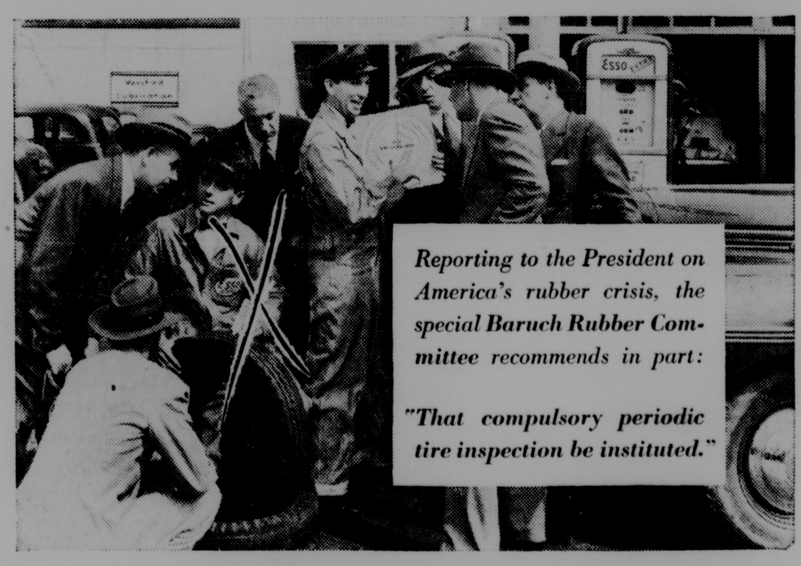
SAVE YOUR TIRES!



Thousands are already guarding future mileage with Esso "16 to 1" tire service!

Five weeks ago... long before the President's special rubber committee recommended "compulsory periodic tire inspection" as a means to keep the nation's motor cars rolling... Esso Dealers launched a remarkable new program to do that very thing!

Based on two new scientific instruments, this service lets your Esso Dealer measure accurately the mileage remaining in your set of tires as they stand right now. In 16 cases out of 17, we have found that motorists have more miles left than they think they have!

That extra mileage is vital. It must be saved.

It can be saved for you by your Esso Dealer. As fast as possible we are supplying Esso Dealers with the new tread depth gauges and tire mileage calculators. Your Esso Dealer has his or soon will have. See him now. Let him measure your miles to come. Then let him help you see that you get every last one of them!

Esso DEALER

NEW TIRES?... If your tires are completely gone, and you have a rationing certificate for new ones, see your Esso Dealer. He can get deep-tread new Atlas tires in any size. Then let him help you keep them right for the duration. Don't buy new tires unless you absolutely have to. Don't buy less than the best when you do!

Blackout . . . . . .

The term is descriptive of what is happening in the world today.

Blackout means much more than doing without artificial light. It is a symbol of the gradual destruction of human advancement. It means the breaking up of families, the death of millions of innocent people, the destruction of a free education and religious system. It is the forerunner of a type of government that makes slaves of all the people it touches.

Blackout symbolizes the end of civilization as we have known it. It is an ominous word. In a country like ours, imagination cannot conceive of the terror that follows in its wake. Blackout is the forerunner of a new type of enemy invasion that wherever successful, actually does black out, or wipe out individual identity, opportunity, savings, family relations—for the children become mere pawns of the state—freedom of speech, freedom of worship, private enterprise—everything that symbolizes America.

The fact that large sections of this nation are now living under dim-out and blackout regulations is a warning—an ominous shadow of what we face if we do not crush the forces that have caused almost a total blackout of the rest of the world.

There would be little labor trouble, or production trouble, or politics-as-usual if the people could visualize what blackout means. It's mere shadow should be enough to cement this nation into one irresistible unit of opposition.

RECOUNT SHOWS NO NET CHANGE IN PARTIES YET

Both Browning and Herman Have Sustained Net Losses of Thirteen—Count Completed Up to 13-2

As the recounting of the primary election ballots became three-fourths completed this morning the net standing of the two candidates, Cheston H. Browning and John W. Herman, remained at exactly the point when the recount began. Both had sustained a net loss of thirteen votes, which means that Herman still maintained his twelve-vote lead, which nominated him as one of the three Republican candidates for County Commissioner. Jonas W. Sines and Walter G. Meyers were the other two successful candidates and their totals were far enough ahead to leave no doubt in anyone's mind as to their nomination.

Here and there ballots were rejected for various markings or the absence of markings, the most noted error being the lack of initials of election officials on seventeen ballots in district number 7, precinct 2. Out of this number Browning took a loss of eight, while Herman only suffered a loss of five.

Other candidates for County Commissioner also took net losses as the count was made for all seven who aspired for the nomination.

The Board of Supervisors of Elections announced this morning they would complete the count this afternoon, as only six more voting places remained at 11:30 today. They had completed all precincts up to 13-2, Vindex.

It was not known this morning whether there would be a big enough change in the totals of the contestants to lay the expenses of the recount to the county, or whether the petitioner Cheston H. Browning, would have to bear the expense. Expenses would include the services of attorneys for the contestants, attorney to the board, clerk to the board, election supervisors, and talismen.

Inspects North Glade Area on School Need

Because of the need for special permission from the War Production Board to construct any building costing more than $5,000, an inspection of the North Glade area was made yesterday by David H. McEuen, specialist in school facilities, office of defense health and welfare service, Washington, in company with F. E. Rathbun, county superintendent.

Money has been appropriated to construct a two-room building at North Glade to take the place of the one now in use and declared to be unfitted for the present-day needs.

Mr. Rathbun pointed out that no other facilities are available in that neighborhood for the fifty children who attend, and in his opinion he felt that permission should be granted for the new building. Mr. McEuen will make his report to the office of Education, which in turn will make recommendations to the War Production Board. Possibility of a favorable recommendation was considered good by Mr. Rathbun.

Court Convenes Monday

The criminal docket for the September Term of the Garrett County Circuit court will be called on Monday, September 28, when court convenes at 9 o'clock. Chief Judge D. Lindley Sloan and Associate Judge Joseph D. Mish will be on the bench to hear the cases listed for trial.

Flags Dedicated at Teachers' Meeting

The dedication of the American and Maryland flags to all public schools in Garrett county was a special feature of the countywide teachers' meeting held last Friday in Oakland high school.

The flags were presented by B. O. Aiken, Accident, retiring president of the County Teachers' association, and were accepted by F. D. Bittle, principal of Oakland High. The flags are to be flown from a newly erected sixty-foot flag staff on the school campus. The raising was postponed Friday due to inclement weather and the exercises were held within the building.

F. E. Rathbun, county superintendent, spoke on Education as related to our Country and its Institutions, the theme of this year's school program. Prior to the flag ceremony the teachers were addressed by Don Bate, noted author, upon the subject "American Youth in the Fight for Freedom."

Two Test Alerts Scheduled This Month, Cancelled

One Last Friday Evening Observed by Majority of Citizens

Two test alerts, one during the daytime and one at night, scheduled before the end of this month as announced this week by Lawrence M. Fraley, defense coordinator for the southern section of the county have been cancelled by Col. Henry S. Barrett, state director of air-raid precautions.

Col. Barrett said that because of "certain conditions" there would be no practice alerts, night or day, in Maryland until after October 5. He emphasized the order came from the Fighter Command in New York and that the "certain conditions" were a military secret.

The fifteen-minute alert last Friday evening, just after stores had closed, came unexpectedly but air raid wardens who had been appointed earlier in the week took their posts and reported that citizens as a general rule cooperated fully in observing the rules. There were a few exceptions, Fraley said, which will be watched during future alerts.

Farm Bureau Officials Meet At Accident

The Garrett County Farm Bureau officials held a dinner meeting in the social room in Zion Lutheran church, Accident, on Monday, September 21, the purpose being to make plans for a membership campaign to be conducted this week.

Mr. Smith, field representative, said that in most areas the membership was running ahead of former years. It was decided to hold the annual banquet on November 5.

A new plan for electing officers was made. Each of the four districts are to meet and nominate directors from their district. The president and vice-president are to be nominated from the floor, at the banquet. The nominess for directors will then be presented and all officers will be voted on by ballot at the banquet.

Two Sentenced to House

Two persons were sentenced Monday to the House of Correction by Magistrate H. A. Loraditch.

Delmis Kitzmiller, 32, of Loch Lynn, pleaded guilty to a charge of larceny of gasoline in that area.

Everett Reckard was found guilty of the charge of assault and battery on Orval E. Friend. Kitzmiller was sentenced to serve six months, while Reckard was sentenced to twelve months.

Both were taken to Jessups on Tuesday.

MAJOR PARTIES LAUNCH THEIR FALL CAMPAIGN

Democrats Formally Nominate O'Conor and Republicans Name Mc'Keldin for Governorship

The campaign for the Maryland general election in November is now formally under way.

Surprising no one, the two major parties met in Baltimore last Friday night to nominate formally Governor O'Conor and Theodore R. McKeldin to make the gubernatorial race.

The Governor, accepting the nomination made by Edgar Allen Poe, Baltimore attorney, said his party's platform was "more significant in its clarion call to duty in the trying times which lie ahead."

"Maryland is in the throes of all-out war and our people must be kept to a realization that their every effort is essential to ultimate success x x x there must be an increase of support in every phase of the war program."

McKeldin Raps Effort of Clique

McKeldin keynoted the Republican position when he attacked what he called "the attempted establishment of a group and clique of one party built about the person of Governor Herbert O'Conor of Maryland."

An anticipated contest for the chairmanship of the Republican committee failed to develop, and Galen L. Tait was elected unanimously. He had the support of McKeldin.

Paul Robertson, Baltimore City chairman, who had been mentioned as a possible opponent of Tait, announced that he would not seek the position.

One-Party Principle Opposed

McKeldin said his party opposed "this one-party principle x x x as a corner stone of the edifice of our campaign, the two-party system of government."

He urged support of all party candidates and said "we appeal to all men and women of Maryland for support, regardless of party."

The Republicans also formally nominated Horace P. Whitworth, Sr., of Westernport, to be their candidate for attorney general to oppose the incumbent Democrat, William C. Walsh, of Cumberland.

Comptroller J. Millard Tawes has the support of both parties in the general election.

More Candidates File Expenditures

A number of candidates filed expense accounts this week with the clerk of the Circuit court. The law requires that an accounting be made.

Bernard I. Gonder's account shows expenditures of $189.10, just ten cents more than Dr. C. Oscar Hall, his opponent. It cost George E. Coddington $118.41 to get the sheriff nomination. Theodore Sines spent $116.45, Mark Moon $123.90. Jonas Sines spent $64.08 to be the highest one in the county commissioner race, while W. G. Meyers spent $71.00.

Others were: Frank Callis $15; T. E. Bishoff $15, O. S. Fike $28.50, A. G. Ross $27.50, Neil C. Fraley $25, Sam Lewis 25 cents, Jasper Myers $42.25, Vernie R. Smouse $45, Nelson Brenneman $44, Daniel Green $49, and Francis Sanders $5.50.

O'Conor Orders State Cars to Observe 35-Mile Limit

Governor O'Conor has ordered all autos and trucks owned and operated by various state agencies to observe the 35-mile speed limit recommended by the Baruch committee on rubber, and said he soon would issue a proclamation requesting all Maryland drivers to observe the limit voluntarily.

"In view of the President's announcement showing the absolute need to conserve gas and rubber, it now is absolutely necessary that all state-operated vehicles observe the 35-mile limit," he said.

Leaves for the Service

Lewis R. Jones, local attorney, left yesterday for Baltimore, having been notified to report for duty in the U. S. Coast Guard. He will attend a Coast Guard school in New London, Conn., for the time being. Mrs. Jones has gone to reside with her relatives in Rowlesburg, W. Va., for the duration of the war.

Benefit Card Party By Jaycees Tonight

The benefit card party being sponsored by the Oakland Junior Chamber of Commerce will be held this evening in the Oakland Elementary school building, beginning at 8 o'clock. Proceeds from the card party will be used for the benefit of the men in the armed forces.

The Jaycees are mailing each week two packages to men in the armed forces which includes the gifts given to the ones chosen in the "service man" writing and gift project, and sometimes the mailing charges are heavy.

Thirty Young Men Accepted in Last Call

Thirty young men of Garrett county, who were accepted and inducted into the armed forces last Friday, have been released from duty, placed in the enlisted reserve corps until October 2, and have returned to their homes.

On Friday, October 2, they will report at Fort George G. Meade for duty.

Those who were accepted for training include Edward C. Shreve, Raymond Arbogast, Jesse R. Shuttleworth, Roy R. Lish, John W. Wilson, Woodrow Butler, Charles E. Stanton, Willis G. Younkin, Lester J. Murphy, Delmer C. Sliger, Garland J. Rosier, Freeman E. Broadwater, George W. Bittinger, Roy M. Bray, Paul E. Wolfe.

Harley E. Dawson, Fred A. Poling, Theodore T. Lewis, William R. Ward, Jesse J. Knox, Woodrow W. Custer, Charles I. Swauger, William T. Gaither, Stuart R. Bowman, Garland O. Durst, Robert C. Bray, Earl M. Harvey, Sterling F. Malcolm, Austin D. Tichnell, John T. Moore.

The names of those who will be called for final examination and possible induction on October 7, will be announced next week, H. L. Jones, draft board clerk said. The call is for forty men.

Post Office Gives Rules For Mailing

Deadline For Sending Packages Overseas To Service Men Set At November 1st

The Post Office Department has issued the following recommendations for Christmas mail to service men outside the United States.

1. Parcels, letters and cards should be mailed between October 1 and November 1—the sooner the better, regardless of where you live or where the article is going. Delivery cannot be guaranteed if it is postmarked after November 1.

2. Gift packages should be marked "Christmas Parcel."

3. Parcels should not exceed 11 pounds in weight or 18 inches in length or 42 inches in length and girth combined. If possible, hold them to six pounds and the size of a shoebox.

4. Don't send food (except hard candies) or clothing. Service men have plenty of both. Don't send anything inflammable like matches or lighter fluid. Don't send intoxicants.

5. Wrap packages substantially but fix them so they may be easily opened for censorship inspection. Be sure that smaller packages, inside the big packages, are tightly packed.

6. Postage must be fully prepaid. Consult your post office for Parcel Post rates. Better insure packages.

7. Such messages as "Merry Christmas," "Do Not Open Until Christmas," etc., are permitted if they do not interfere with the address.

8. Don't send cash gifts. Use money orders. Some countries have a law against importing foreign money, but money orders may be cashed anywhere.

Asked to Check on Speed Limit of Cars

John J. Sweeney, chief of police for Oakland, received a telegram today in which he was asked to report to the office of Price Administration in Baltimore the names, addresses, license numbers and names of employers of all drivers of autos or trucks exceeding 35 miles per hour and overloading of cars and trucks and mechanical defects detrimental to the life of tires. The telegram was signed by Leo H. McCormick.

Teachers Want Pay In Twelve Installments

At the annual meeting of the Garrett County Teachers Association last Friday afternoon in Oakland High school those present passed a recommendation to ask for their salary in twelve monthly installments instead of the present method of ten checks during the actual teaching period.

A committee of five was named to make an investigation and to vote on the most satisfactory plan, however. The committee included Ervin S. Smith, chairman; B. O. Aiken, W. J. Glenn, Frank J. Getty and Miss Gladys Hamill.

Merle Frantz, principal of Oakland Elementary school, was named president of the association, succeeding B. O. Aiken, principal of Accident High school. Other officers were re-elected as follows: Frank J. Getty, Grantsville, vice-president; Joseph Sollars, Vindex, secretary; and Ervin S. Smith, Oakland, treasurer.

The teachers also decided on a one hundred per cent membership in both the Maryland Teachers' and the Garrett County Teachers' Associations. State teachers are to meet in Baltimore on October 23 and 24.

The group also empowered Merle Frantz to appoint a legislative committee in the near future.

More for USO Fund

A larger donation than was expected has been received from the Shallmar and Kitzmiller United Mine Workers organizations which gives another boost to the United Service Organization and Navy Relief fund, according to Charles L. Briner, president.

The net proceeds of the Labor Day celebration at Kitzmiller by these two groups has been turned over, the amounts being $207.94 from the Shallmar local, and $130.61 from the Kitzmiller local, making a total of $338.55. Last week the total amount was given as $208.

Attending Methodist Conference

Methodist ministers of this area are attending the annual West Virginia conference of the church, held this year at Clarksburg, W. Va. The sessions began yesterday and will conclude with the reading of appointments on Sunday night.

Bishop James Straughn is the presiding officer and Dr. Henry H. Crane, of Detroit, Mich., will address the conference several times.

Among those attending the meetings are Rev. Minor Sprague and Rev. J. E. Johnson, Oakland; Rev. Garrett Evans, Mt. Lake Park; Rev. E. J. Johnson, Aurora, W. Va.; Rev. R. L. Greynolds, Friendsville; Rev. V. R. Gillum, Grantsville; Rev. U. R. Hinzman, Corinth, W. Va., and Rev. Howard Wriston, Kitzmiller.

Historical Society Chapter Will Meet

A special meeting of the Yough Glades Chapter of the Garrett County Historical Society has been called by its chairman, Miss Elizabeth West.

Ths meeting will be held in the home of Rev. and Mrs. Felix G. Robinson, Monte Vista road, on Thursday evening, October 1, at 8 o'clock. Miss West said an important item of business would be discussed and urged all members of the society to be present.

Body of Taylor Mayle Found Along B. & O. Tracks at Deer Park

Apparently Fell Accidentally After Boarding Freight Train

The mangled body of Taylor Mayle, 49, of Deer Park, was found along the Baltimore and Ohio railroad tracks last Friday morning by a train crew, near Deer Park.

There were no eyewitnesses to the tragedy but it was supposed that Mayle had boarded a freight train and had fallen between the cars sometime during the early morning hours. He was known to have taken this method of reaching his home from Oakland upon numerous occasions, according to authorities who investigated.

The body was discovered on the eastbound track. Sheriff Walter H. Haenftling and Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, county medical examiner, were called and the latter declared that death was accidental and that no inquest would be held. Dr. Baumgartner said that one leg was severed near the ankle, his back was broken, his skull fractured and that he had numerous other cuts and bruises.

Mayle was a World War veteran. He was inducted as a private in Mineral county, W. Va., on September 20, 1918, and assigned to the 71st Engineers. He was given an honorable discharge on December 6, 1918.

Funeral services were conducted on Sunday afternoon, with members of Proctor Kildow Post, American Legion, of Oakland, having charge of final rites.

Surviving are his widow and four children, also several brothers and sisters.

Large Power Boat Burns on Deep Creek

The largest power boat on Deep Creek Lake, valued at $6,000 burned Saturday afternoon when an explosion caused by the engine, set fire to the craft.

Owned by A. D. Spencer, of Charleroi, Pa., who has a summer home near the Deep Creek bridge, the boat was twenty-five feet long and was driven by a 225-horsepower motor.

Both Spencer and Roy Carson suffered first and second degree burns about the hands and face and were given medical attention by Dr. R. R. Williams, of Oakland.

The boat drifted near the Railey dock, after having been shoved free of the Spencer boathouse, and the Oakland Fire Department was called to prevent further damage. The boat was badly damaged.

Candidates to Visit County October 26th

The itinerary for the Republican State and congressional candidates in the coming campaign has been arranged and it has been announced that they would be in Garrett county on Monday, October 26.

Republicans are planning for a tour of the county from three to six o'clock in the afternoon, followed by a big meeting in Oakland at 8 o'clock. Details of the tour and meeting are to be arranged later.

Wants People to Pay For Primary Recount

A paper was being circulated yesterday by Blaine Giessman among county workers and business men, relative to contributions to pay for the primary election recount, should the change in the total vote be less than two percent. Providing the change is greater than two percent the expense must be borne by the county.

County workers employed by the County Commissioners were said to be pledging contributions almost one hundred percent, some as high as $10.00. Others also were contributing small amounts. The expenses of the Jackson-O'Conor recount four years ago cost approximately $300.00.

BIG EFFORT TO BE PUT FORTH IN SCRAP DRIVE

Entire Population of County to Be Called on to Assist in Gathering Needed Material

A gigantic effort throughout the entire county to collect various kinds of scrap, mostly steel and iron, to aid in the war effort by supplying material for war production, is being inaugurated this week, which will culminate in a big scrap rally on Monday and Tuesday, October 12 and 13.

The Mayor and Town Council of Oakland, at a meeting several weeks ago, agreed to sponsor the scrap campaign in this area, but garages and city councils all over the county are to be asked to cooperate. Clarence Leighton and Ray Teets, from two Oakland garages, have been named chairmen to assist Mayor L. M. Fraley and members of the Oakland council.

Besides scrap iron and steel, other metals, rubber, rags, manila rope and burlap bags will be collected.

An advertising program has been underwritten by the steel industry in an effort to collect these needed materials. The first advertisement appears in today's issue.

School children will take part even though they succeeded earlier this year in collecting ten tons of scrap iron. It was emphasized that many things had been overlooked. Garrett county previously collected 165 tons of scrap rubber, but it was estimated there was much more in the county that could be made available.

Preliminary plans call for each garage in the county to be a collecting agency, or if desirable the person having the scrap can deal direct with a junk or scrap metal dealer. School children may bring scrap to their schools where storage space is being provided, according to Prof. F. E. Rathbun, county superintendent of schools.

Other communities have been making successful drives for this needed material and Garrett county will not fail to do its share in this campaign, Mr. Leighton said. He plans to announce further details next week. "The thing to do now is to make the search and get the scrap ready to turn in during the raily in October," he said.

Women's Club Plans Young People Party

To Be Held in Episcopal Parish House, Center Street, Tomorrow Night

The Business and Professional Women's Club will have the first of a series of "evenings of fun" for the young people on Friday night, September 25th. This first party will be held at the Episcopal Parish House, and will begin at 8:00 and end at 11:00 p. m. It will be for persons in high school or persons of high school age.

There will be dancing, bingo, cards, checkers, ping-pong and other games. There is no admission charge. Bingo will be played for two cents a game. Soft drinks will be on sale.

"We hope you young people come and have a good time—we want you to," declared Mrs. Leo Helbig, a member of the committee in charge.

The Business and Professional Women's Club expects to plan an evening party for the younger group (4th grade through the 7th grade) later. An announcement concerning the time and place will be published later.

Gonder and Dawson Chosen by Jaycees

Richard Gonder and Walter E. Dawson were the young men selected this week by the Jaycees in continuing the "service men" writing project.

Gonder is a member of the U. S. Coast Guard and is stationed at Elizabeth City, N. C. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Gonder, Alder street.

Walter E. Dawson is a yeoman in the U. S. Navy, stationed at Baltimore, and is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Dawson, also Alder street.

Names of these two will be posted at Hamill's, the three drug stores and Hinebaugh's restaurant, where citizens are asked to write and send small gifts.

Hershey Explains Plan for Army of Ten Million in 1943

While the uncertainties of the war preclude any authoritative forecast of the ultimate strength to which the army and navy will grow, Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey has indicated that more than 10,000,000 Americans would be under arms by the end of 1943.

Hershey and his aides gave these guides to future operations of the draft in an interview clarifying and recapitulating the various orders and announcements issued piece-meal in recent weeks:

The supply of single men, including those with dependents, will be exhausted this fall and calls for childless married men will begin generally in December or January as the strength of the army alone tops 4,500,000 by the end of this year.

Fathers to Be Called

Unless Congress authorizes the drafting of 18 and 19-year-olds, the supply of childless married men will be exhausted about a year from now and the calling of men with children will begin around October 1, 1943.

Even the drafting of the teenagers might do no more than delay the calling of family men because the total number of men who ultimately will be required for the services is not yet known. Approximately 2,250,000 teenagers registered this year for drafting after they reached 20, but so many of them have enlisted that perhaps no more than 1,000,000 are left.

Dependency Still Factor

Not every single man will be called before the general calling of married men begins, nor will every childless married man be called before the general calling of men with children, because local draft boards may still consider dependency and occupational factors.

Although deferment was largely eliminated by the act providing allowances for dependents of service men, it may continue to be granted if the local board decides that hardship might under some circumstances be deferred even though men with children were being drafted.

Among those not deferred as being "essential" men in "essential activity," calls are to follow this order so far as local boards find it practicable to do so and still meet their quotas:

Order of Selection

First, single men without dependents; second, single men with dependents, according to the number of dependents and degree of dependency; third, childless men with wives supporting themselves or capable of doing so; fourth, married men with children, according to number and degree of dependency.

National selective service has bolstered this arrangement by directing state draft headquarters to do their best to see that no local board calls married men while other boards in the state still have single men available.

34 Essential Occupations

In the field of occupational deferment, local boards have been furnished for a guidance a list of thirty-four activities deemed essential to the war program but they must determine for themselves if a particular man is so essential to his business as to merit deferment.

GORTNER

"You gotta get a glory in the work you do,
A hallelujah chorus in the heart of you—
Sing or tell a story,
Paint or shovel coal,
You gotta get a glory or the job lacks soul."

Come to church next Sunday morning and also in the evening.

Misses Amanda and Anna Swartzentruber and Salome Kinsinger, of Norfolk, Va., are visiting relatives here from Saturday until Wednesday and they were accompanied by Harvey Swartzentruber and his mother to Brookside and Aurora on Monday.

Mr. Yoder, of Iowa, now going to school at Harrisonburg, Va., was the guest of Miss Betty Swartzentruber Saturday evening.

Mrs. Ernest Gortner entertained at dinner in honor of Mr. Gortner's anniversary, the guests including Mrs. Anna Bittinger, Forrest Gortner, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Gortner and daughters, Grantsville. Other callers were Miss Lena Slabach and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sisk.

A number of the people of this community went to Eglon to see pictures and hear Mr. and Mrs. Crumpacker, first missionaries in China of the Brethren church.

Among the guests on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Artie Dodge were Mr. and Mrs. Hervey Roth, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Harsh and children and Earl Mosser and family.

Albert Sisk was in Hagerstown on Saturday.

Mrs. D. L. Swartzentruber accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Willis Childs to Akron on Sunday. The Childs' were returning to their home from a visit with relatives at Red Oak. Mrs. Swartzentruber will remain in Akron a week or more to visit with her sister, Mrs. Stutzman.

Delbert and Delores Swartzentruber spent Sunday at the Otho Friend home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gingerich and Jacob Miller, of Goshen, Ind., spent last Thursday and Friday in this community.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Beeghley spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Jesse at Eglon.

Republican And Democratic State Platforms

Republican

The Republican party's platform of Maryland adopted last Friday night at the convention held in Baltimore dedicated the party to the support of President Roosevelt in fighting the war but declared the GOP "cannot look with favor upon the utopian dream of a world economic equality after the war which will lower the living standards of American citizens."

Other planks in the Republican platform:

Denounce O'Conor Tactics

Denounced Governor O'Conor because he has "boldly wrapped about himself the American flag," advocated that civilian defense be administered without interference of polites;" said both parties should be called in to aid in the arduous and patriotic work of war and reconstruction."

Rejected "the tyranny of a one-party totalitarian government in county, state or nation."

Charged Governor O'Conor with breaking a one-term pledge and said he "sought to establish a personal political dynasty" to the detriment of the two-party system.

Belittled the Governor's recent primary radio speeches, and said they merely reflected the Maryland State administration framework set up by his predecessors in office.

Urge Cut in Income Tax

Advocated a "fifty percent decrease in the present tax on both earned and investment income."

Advocated "rigid economy in all non-essential activities in State as well as in Federal governments."

Pledged the GOP to see that the Maryland military departments gets increased funds.

Pledged "complete cooperation with the great industries of our State to guarantee the maximum possible output"—cooperation "which the present administration has failed to give."

Said the administration of civilian defense "should be centered rather than decentralized in order to obtain the desired maximum results."

Condemned "all laws or governmental practices which discriminate directly or indirectly against any person on account of race, color, sex, political belief, creed, class or national origin."

To Safeguard Rights Of All

Pledged the Republican party to "safeguard the rights of all citizens."

Pledged the GOP to "improve the condition of our great middle classes."

Promised to support the "enactment of such remedial legislation as labor merits."

Pledged equal rights for women.

Pledged a "sensible business administration of the State's resources."

Recommended that a twelve grade school system be set up throughout the State and that classes in elementary schools be limited to thirty-five students.

Approved the merit system.

Advoated the "complete cooperation of the administration with the State Roads Commission in the building of roads adequate for the war effort."

Offered the Republican candidates to the electorate "as a means for restoration of sound government in the State of Maryland."

Democratic

The Central State Democratic Committee, which met on last Friday in Baltimore, was pledged to a platform which asserted that "the primary concern of the State government has been and will continue to be to aid in the war effort without stint or limit."

The committee's platform was in large part a citation of the acts of the administration of Governor O'Conor, who heads the party's ticket in the November election.

"Our State administration has disregarded politics in the war effort," the platform said. "Democrats and Republicans x x x have been appointed to the defense councils, the selection service administrations throughout the State, and the numerous other boards and agencies serving x x x in the emergency."

Other Planks in Platform

Other planks in the Democratic platform:

The appointment of a non-partisan commission to formulate a post-war program of private and public works, to provide gainful employment when the war is over.

Approved "in principle" the proposed reorganization of the Court of Appeals.

A "careful husbanding of all State roads funds while maintaining and improving existing roadways wherever possible, and preparing for a road improvement program throughout the State x x x."

To continue "non-partisan, forward-looking school boards in this State by the appointment to all State and county boards men and women of the highest type." Thanks were expressed to the State's school teachers for their help in administering the ration program.

To extend facilities of the State Health Department.

To abolish almshouses, although it was said that construction of new buildings would have to await the end of the war.

Assistance to agriculture in overcoming shortages of labor.

Conservation of the State's natural resources, including fish and wildlife.

"A continuance and strengthening of the state merit system. Our pledge for a permanent retirement system for State employes on a sound acturial basis has been carreid out."

Continuation of "a policy of progressive administration of parole. Observing meanwhile the greatest care to protect the interests of society x x no more important problem rests upon the State than the care of juvenile delinquents and their development into useful citizens x x x."

Encouragement of greater participation of the State's Negro population in the war effort.

"Enforcement of liquor laws and regulations should be maintained with a two-fold purpose in mind. x x x The interest of the general public must always be held paramount x x x and the interest of law-abiding licensees entitled to protection from unscrupulous persons whose sole object is profit x x x" should be considered.

Advancement of the conditions of the common people and protection of their rights.

"To support legislation designed to provide funds for the adequate equipment" of the various civilian defense organizations, " so that the work now done by them may be continued in the most efficient manner."

Over 10,000 shipyard workers in Alabama were idle as result of a dispute with officials over a 5-cent ferry charge.

Home-Stored Food Products Mean Better Winter Menus

This is a year to give extra attention to storing the winter's food supply for the family. A good supply of home-grown, home-stored — canned, dried, and fresh—products means better meals and reduces the living cost.

Specialists of the Extension Service point out that a number of crops can be stored in their natural state. Such crops as carrots, celery, kale, parsnips, parsley, salsify and turnips can be covered in the row by a mulch of straw. A number of crops, such as beets, cabbage, carrots, parsnips, potatoes and turnips can be stored in a pit or mound out-of-doors. Cover with a foot of straw and then six to eight inches of dirt. Dig a ditch around the mound for drainage. It's a good idea to mix the various kinds of vegetables so that a week's supply can be taken from the pit or mound at one time.

A cellar is a good place to store fruits and vegetables, if there is no furnace in the same room and if there are windows or doors for ventilation. Canned goods can be stored in a closet, part of a pantry, or corner of a room partitioned off and insulated. Double walls, at least two inches thick, filled with sawdust, shavings, or paper, will provide insulation. The attic, if insulated, or other warm, dry room, is all right for squashes, pumpkins and sweet potatoes. Keep the sweet potatoes in a warm place (75 to 85 degrees F.) for ten days before storing.

Since drying fruits and vegetables is likely to be done more extensively than for several years, because of difficulty in obtaining containers for canned products, the specialists give some points on handling foods stored in that way. Dried fruits and vegetables, they say, will keep a year or longer if properly dried and stored. Before storing, the foods must be dried thoroughly and evenly. Spread in a warm, dry place for several days, screen from insects and stir occasionally. Then, in small quantities on pans or trays, heat in an oven until thoroughly dried. Store in moisture-proof containers, such as glass jars, tin cans, stone crocks, or jars with tight-fitting lids, sealed with paraffin. Paper or cloth bags dipped in paraffin may be used in a very dry storeroom.

Food that is properly canned and stored will keep for several years, though the quality is better if used within the first year. Store in a cool, dry, well-ventilated, frostproof, and rather dark place. Glass jars, especially, should be protected from light to prevent food from fading in color. Avoid too damp a storage place lest containers become moldy, labels come off, or jar lids loosen.

THE CARRIED SCHOOL LUNCH

A child eats approximately one-third of the day's food at noon. Most school children during a year eat 150 to 180 such meals at school. These important facts show the necessity for careful thought and planning of the school lunch, especially the lunch carried from home. The habits and daily food needs should be considered and also the place of the lunch in relation to these needs. Probably more thought should be given to the carried lunch than to any other meal of the day, in order to make it both appetizing and nutritious.

Types of Food

A sound basis of pattern for the carried lunch to supplement the other meals of the day would include the following:

1. Two substantial sandwiches, preferably of two varieties, one of meat or a meat substitute such as fish, cheese, eggs or peanut butter.
2. Raw vegetable or fresh fruit for vitamin C and bulk.
3. A bit of sweet with which to end the lunch and give a feeling of satisfaction.
4. If possible, a beverage, either cold or hot, to prevent the meal from being too dry.
5. If possible, a hot dish to make the meal more appetizing and nourishing.

Packing the Lunch

Wrap sandwiches and the various foods separately and neatly. They should be attractive and in good condition when unpacked.

Have fresh fruit and raw vegetables thoroughly cleaned and trimmed.

Use thermos bottle or small jars with tight-fitting lids for soft or the liquid foods.

Place the food in the lunch box in an orderly way. Have the box look attractive and appetizing when it is opened.

Place jars and heavy foods at the bottom and lighter or easily mashed foods toward the top.

Now and then include a surprise and, if possible, pack it toward the bottom.

Individual lunches for the children (where there are a number of children in the family) often add interest.

Be sure to include paper napkins.

Lunch Box Equipment

The container should be a size, shape and of material easy to clean, pack and carry—preferably metal.

Leather, paper box or bag are not so desirable. They absorb odor, are hard to clean, unsightly and inconvenient to carry.

More attractive lunches can be carried in the regular lunch box. This type of container will accommodate more convenient packing and the lunch will be kept in better condition. It will allow for small containers and thermos bottle or jars.

A thermos bottle and several mayonnaise or small jars with tight-fitting lids for a salad, simple dessert, beverage or hot dish should be included.

Have plenty of wax paper or wax paper sandwich envelopes for sandwiches and wrapping other food, such as carrot sticks, celery or a bit of sweet.

"Freezing" of Farm Machinery Described

Milton Riley, Chairman of County War Board, Says Order Will Insure Fair Distribution

The U. S. Department of Agriculture order of September 17, temporarily "freezing" all farm machinery in the hands of dealers, was described by Mr. Milton Riley, Chairman of the county war board, as necessary to insure fair distribution of available equipment and its placement where it will do the most good in wartime farming production.

Administration of the farm machinery rationing program was delegated by the War Production Board to the Office of Price Administraton, and re-delegated to the Department of Agriculture. County rationing will be handled by a county rationing committee composed of the county AAA chairman and two farmers appointed by the county war board. Two alternates will also be appointed.

Farm machinery in one classification (Group A), which is scarce and especially needed to meet current agricultural needs, may be sold only upon approval by the county farm machinery rationing committee. Machinery in a second category (Group B), including items somewhat less scarce, may be sold upon certification by the farmer to the dealer that it is required to meet current agricultural needs. A third classification (Group C), includes the smaller items that may be sold without restrictions.

Group A includes beet lifters, beet loaders, combines, corn pickers, disc harrows, feed grinders, fertilizer spreaders, grain drills, grain elevators, hay balers, lime spreaders, manure spreaders, milk coolers, milking machines, pickup balers, potato diggers, shredders, and tractors (including garden tractors).

Group B machinery, which can be purchased upon certification to a dealer that it is needed for current production, includes most other farm machinery and equipment.

Group C, which is exempt from any form of rationing control, includes hoes, rakes, forks, scythes, shovels, and all hand-operated and one- and two-horse drawn farm machinery and equipment not included in Group A.

There are no restrictions on sale or transfer of used farm machinery, equipment, or repair parts.

Eligibility requirements for Group A purchases include inadequacy of present equipment and inability to meet farm production goals by repairing, or by purchasing or renting used machinery, or by custom or exchange work. A purchaser must turn in replaced equipment and agree to rent or let others use the new machinery on specified terms and conditions. The purchaser must present a satisfactory reason if changing from horses or mule power to motor power, or from hand labor to machinery.

Applicants who are refused certification for machinery purchase may appeal to the State USDA War Board and then to the Special War Board Assistant to the Secretary of Agriculture.

A list of applicants receiving certificates and the equipment which they purchase will be kept available for inspection in county offices and will be made available for publication in local papers.

Equipment in Group A must not be purchased later than October 31, 1942.

MT. LAKE PARK

If you have not already received one, you will. We mean that list showing just what items of scrap to be found around your house or farm containing essential material for war production. The list contains more than 100 items. As we understand it the local salvage committees will be responsible for getting at least one copy into every home. It will be ready for distribution next week. It's an interesting list. We found things listed that seemed almost impossible for any use whatsoever. One thing sure there's no reason for each and every person not to be able to find something to donate—for this cause. So wait, do not throw anything away until you get your list.

Miss Bonnie Calhoun, town clerk, announces that after October 1st she will not be at the Council rooms for the collection of your tax, but can be found at her home at any time. This change has been made because of the fact that there is no discount on taxes after October 1st. The former arrangement was made in order to accommodate those wanting the discount.

The Mt. Lake Public Library has been moved from the bowling alley to the residence of Mrs. Gay Hayden. It will be open on Fridays only, from 2 to 4 o'clock.

Here's a poem we think fits very well into the chaos of today. It was sent us by a friend. The title "On with the Play":

"Ignorance,
Credulity,
Belief and doubt,
Yet who of us
Knows what it's all about?

Gayety,
Unhappiness,
Grief and bliss,
Bought with a heartache
Lost in a kiss.

Believer
And skeptic
Each to his way—
The curtain's up
Let's on with the play."

—Helen Lenhart Yoke.

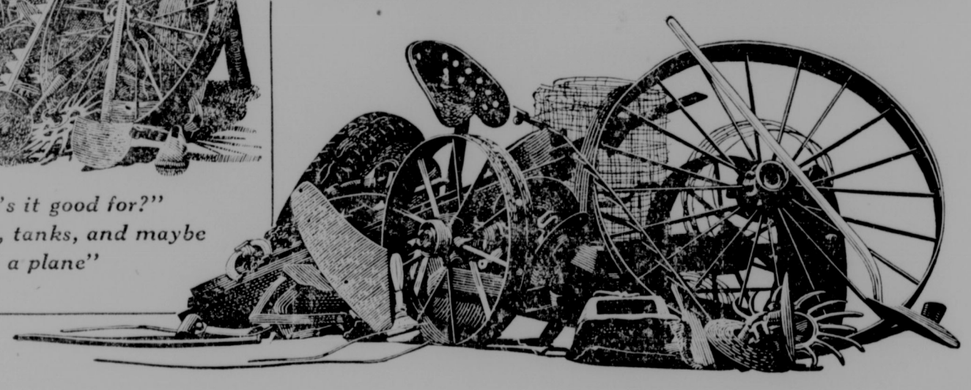
JUNK needed for War



"What's it good for?"
"Guns, tanks, and maybe part of a plane"

In the barnyards and gullies of farms and in the basements and attics of homes is a lot of Junk which is doing no good where it is, but which is needed at once to help smash the Japs and Nazis.

Scrap iron and steel, for example.

Even in peacetime, scrap provided about 50% of the raw material for steel. It may be rusty, old "scrap" to you, but it is actually refined steel—with most impurities removed, and can be quickly melted with new metal in the form of pig iron to produce highest quality steel for our war machines.

The production of steel has gone up, up, UP, until today America is turning out as much steel as all the rest of the world combined. But unless at least 6,000,000 additional tons of scrap steel is uncovered promptly, the full rate of production cannot be attained or increased; the necessary tanks, guns and ships cannot be produced.

The rubber situation is also critical. In spite of the recent rubber drive, there is a continuing need for large quantities of scrap rubber. Also for other waste materials and metals like brass, copper, zinc, lead and tin.

The Junk which you collect is bought by industry from scrap dealers at established, government-controlled prices.

Will you help?

First—collect all of your waste material and pile it up.

Then—sell it to a Junk dealer, give it to a charity, take it yourself to the nearest collection point, or get in touch with your Local Salvage Committee.

If you live on a farm, consult your County War Board or your farm implement dealer.

Throw YOUR scrap into the fight!

JUNK MAKES FIGHTING WEAPONS

One old disc will provide scrap steel needed for 210 semi-automatic light carbines.

One old shovel will help make 4 hand grenades.

MATERIALS NEEDED

Scrap iron and steel.
Other metals of all kinds.
Old rubber.
Rags, Manila rope, burlap bags.
Waste Cooking Fats—When you get a pound or more, strain into a large tin can and sell to your meat dealer.

NEEDED ONLY IN CERTAIN LOCALITIES: Waste paper and tin cans—wanted only in certain areas, as announced locally. NOT NEEDED (at this time): Razor blades—glass.

"PRIORITY"

We have a new word in our dictionary, a word that is on everyone's lips, that comes into every conversation, that hangs on every purchase, that is taking an unprecedented part in our daily lives. It is the word "priority."

Just what does priority mean? The answer is very simple. Priority is simply putting first things first.

As a nation and as individuals, we have one job today—the job of winning this war. This must come before anything else, because, if we don't win it, there won't be anything else. And defeat would be unthinkable to any of us.

The quicker we win the war, the sooner can we return to the way of life we want to live, to the full enjoyment of the advantages and happinesses of the democratic way of life. The quicker we win it, the sooner can our factories revert to the production of those things which make life easier and more enjoyable. The quicker we win it, the sooner will our men come home, our families live again as families should, in peace and prosperity, free from fear, free to plan again for the future.

Here is where priority comes in. Priority means that we must put the war effort first. We must ask ourselves before buying anything, whether or not it is essential. We must use our money for war bonds, not for luxuries. War bonds have priority on all spare cash—and spare cash means all that is not needed for bare living expenses. We must remember that non-essentials not only take money, but they take man-power to make and transport; they take space needed for war materials; they use up steel and rubber and gas to move them from place to place. Luxuries do not have priority. They are "out"—for the duration.

Priority means that we must work hard at those things which are essential. In industry, if we have the strength. In civilian defense, and other volunteer war tasks, if we cannot give all our time. We must remember that there is priority on our ability to work, and because of that priority we must keep fit and ready to do our share.

Priority means that we have no time to indulge in hatred, prejudice or discrimination, or in the spreading of ill-feeling toward any group of our fellow-citizens. All of our energies, mental as well as physical, must be devoted to the one end of winning the war quickly. There is no priority on personal dislikes and morale-sapping grudges—and above all, in passing on subversive rumors. There is no priority on careless talk.

Lets not cavil at the discomforts of priorities. Lets use the word for what it is—a help in winning this war speedily. We can win it, if we bend every effort to the task—and if we put first things first.

I SEE BY THE DAILIES THAT

Scarcely more than a third of those registered in thirty-five states, actually exercised the privilege of voting in the recent primaries.

DIARY OF THE WAR

FRIDAY—Battle of Stalingrad apparently approached its end with Reds fighting for every cellar, attic and street. Germans were being pushed back in northwest part of city. Russian bombers raided an Axis-held Black Sea port and long range bombers were busy. Heavily reinforced Jap troops pushed eight more miles toward Port Moresby with mixture of infiltration, hand-to-hand encounters and cannonade. Navy announced that subs sank four more enemy ships and damaged four others. Eight hundred RAF planes were over Ruhr valley. French continued to fight on in Madagascar.

SATURDAY — As Germans were driven back from Stalingrad streets they started dropping air-borne shock troops. German tanks had taken cover. Germans admitted every house was being defended. Powerful relief attacks were trying to thin German supplies and reinforcements. German planes were assaulting city and heavy guns were being wheeled into position. An official statement disclosed that Canadian casualties in Dieppe raid was 3,350 out of 5,000. U. S. parachute troops were in England. British were nearer capital of Madagascar. U. S. army announced it had three new model tank destroyers. Australians were following Jap tactics of infiltration in New Guinea as Allied planes continued attack on Jap bases.

SUNDAY — Flying fortresses bombed 2 Jap battleships in Solomons area causing a battle force to withdraw. Army bombers kept after Jap bases in those areas. Germans were regrouping for a still greater assault upon Stalingad as other attacks failed. Reds put German deaths in south alone at 1,300,000. Germans were evacuating Belgians from Ostend. English civilians were also removed from area facing north sea. A Canadian destroyer rammed and sank a German sub, capturing crew. It was revealed U. S. air service bases were rising from British bogs. Balkans were studied as possible second front.

MONDAY — Stalingrad fought on and even won some successes in bitter street fighting. The army showed no sign of capitulation and Reds claimed they cleared a number of streets. Nazis were rushing up more reinforcements. Germans claimed they annihilated an Allied convoy in far northern waters, knocking out 38 ships in 45-ship convoy and sinking four destroyers and two patrol boats. British said claims were grossly exaggerated. Two hundred bombers raided Munich. Allied flyers pounded Sicily and Greece. MacArthur told of Allied air blows upon Jap base in New Guinea. Chinese were closing in on Kinhwa.

TUESDAY — Germans used shellfire and heavy artillery to "soften" Stalingrad as street fighting raged. Germans claimed capture of two small towns in Caucasus region. At sea it was reported the Tirpitz was loose near Norway and British were hunting it. There was no change on New Guinea but Allied air raids on Jap bases continued. Australians were mopping up enemy force which sailed into trap on Milne Bay. British were within 37 miles of Madagascar's capital. Brazil broke up an Italian spy ring. General Eaker declared that all parts of Germany would be attacked with U. S. and British air forces and that Germany will be destroyed from air. Spanish cabinet reaffirmed its anti-communist policy. A Canadian destroyer was sunk by enemy sub with loss of 113 lives.

WEDNESDAY — Germans sacrificed more dead in battle for Stalingrad but Russians fought on furiously in 29th day of attack. Hitler admitted Russian resistance was the stiffest. Nazis made some gains on Caucasus front. U. S. planes made wide raids in Burma. RAF bombers hit power houses, iron and steel works in raid on continent. The Navy said it was set for an expected return of Japs in attempt to retake Solomon islands. U. S. ambassador to Japan, recently returned to U. S. emphasized the Jap peril to this country saying enemy had prepared for total war with unity and determination. Allied bombers scored two hits on a large Jap ship at Rabaul, New Britain island.

THURSDAY—Germans were cramming tanks into streets of Stalingrad but the city still fought back. Above and below city Russians delivered new counter-attacks and at one point cross the Volga to pound the German flank. British disclosed that mobile rangers in Libyan desert had swept 500 miles behind Axis lines, raiding Bengasi, Barce and other points. The big Russian-bound convoy which Germans claimed to have annihilated in Arctic, reached its destination with majority of merchantmen intact and all its warship escorts afloat. British forces occupied capital of Madagascar. A congressman, back from official trip, said situation in Alaska was good. French people were told by radio to evacuate coastal area and to look for allied invasion.

Crime is definitely on the increase, J. Edgar Hoover told police chiefs in convention at New York.

The auto use tax has more than made up for the nearly ten million drop which gas rationing caused in tax revenue in August, according to Washington figures.

On Toughness

Within recent months there has been a somewhat tiresome repetition of the word "tough" in the news emanating from Washington. Few writers or commentators seem able to refrain from saying that this official is going to get "tough," "or that official has given orders to become tough," or that from now on this board or that commission is planning to "toughen up."

Practically every key man in the war organization has been put into this tough class by now. According to the reports, they are all tough, but the toughness does not appear to have lessened the confusion nor improved conditions. Of course, saying a man is going to be tough does not mean much. It neither changes the man nor alters the situation. Take, for example, the loud assertions, following his most recent anti-inflation speech, that the President was finally going to "get tough" with organized labor and the farm lobby.

True, he had asserted that our standard of living must come down; that wages and farm prices must be controlled and that an adequate tax bill must be passed. These things, and others, said last April and again two weeks ago, might have justified belief that the President was about to shake himself free from his political ties with the labor and farm leaders, and, after months of drifting, in the interests of the nation as a whole, deal in a realistic way with the menacing problem of inflation. Such was the hope. Most Administration journalists insisted that he was gong to be very tough, indeed. But, it was made clear by the unctuous proclamations of patriotic support that came from the labor lobbyists, after lunching with the President, that they were not greatly disturbed. Quite plainly, they felt that whoever else Mr. Roosevelt gets tough with he isn't going to get very tough with them. Subsequent developments seem to justify this feeling.

One of these developments is the form of the legislation which, in response to the Presidential demand, Congress seems sure to pass before October 1. This legislation is not going to make it mandatory upon the President, or even give him the opportunity, to lower our standard of living, which is what he insisted is essential during the war. On the contrary, it is going to make sure not only that it is not lowered but that a standard—at least for organized labor and the farmer—which has been raised to a higher level than ever before, is fully maintained. That is the essence of the pending legislation. Apparently, when passed, the bill will authorize ceilings on both wages and farm products, but it will also put a floor under both at the present unprecedentedly high level. There will be no rolling back of prices or wages. That seems clear.

Also, the floor is likely to be rigid but the ceiling not. That is the way the thing looks today. This is not, of course, in accord with either of the President's speeches and it falls far short of the necessities. Yet the Administration leaders, who reflect the President's views, are framing the bill and it is they who will pass it. Despite the fact that he did knock out the outrages Stegall proposal to change the definition of parity, no sacrifice is involved in the prospect for either of the favored groups. A second development, which would seem to explain the equanimity with which the labor bosses receive the wage-control program, is the action last Thursday of a War Labor Board panel in recommending wage increases from 2½ to 15 per cent for 14,000 copper, lead and zinc workers. This would mean a departure from the board's own "Little Steel" principle, which limits wages to cover the fifteen per cent increase in the cost of living since January, 1941. Though the employer member vigorously protested, the belief is the full board will sustain its panel.

It always has and this would seem to make a joke of the President's toughness. It is ridiculous, anyhow, that at a time when he is publicly urging that wages must not go up, an agency which he created—and controls—should be taking steps to authorize an increase in wages, which would certainly be followed by many other similar demands. Perhaps, ridiculous is not the right word. There are several others, harsher but more suitable. At any rate, this action plus the Congressional situation make it easy to understand why the President's labor friends are not alarmed.

Still another indication that the President's toughness is more oratorical than real is found in his inertia toward the pending tax bill. In his speeches he unequivocally asserted the need for a comprehensive and adequate tax bill, which would absorb the vast purchasing power the war billions have put in the hands of the people. The present bill is not comprehensive and is grossly inadequate. No comprehensive and adequate program has come from the Treasury, though it is fair to say that what Mr. Morgenthau urged was better than what we seem likely to get. Yet the Treasury, presumably reflecting the President's views, consistently has opposed the sales tax, which is the only practical step by which this bill could be made fully comprehensive and adequate. To urge a comprehensive and adequate taxation program and then prevent it from being either does not make sense, but that, nevertheless, is the situation.

Considering all these things, the hope, born on April 24, when his seven-point anti-inflation program was announced, and renewed on September 7 when it was reaffirmed, that Mr. Roosevelt meant really to grapple with the inflation threat, seems slightly sick at the moment. There is no sign that either farm prices or wages will be rigidly controlled at an effective level. But, even if that were done, without a tax program that will reach every group of producers and consumers and not merely be levied largely on less than half the national income and on a still smaller percentage of the population, inflation cannot be successfully fought. Wage and price control are essential but supplemental to the right kind of tax program. The President, himself, has said so, but as yet he has not put himself effectively behind any of the three. In these matters he talks tougher than he acts. It might be a good idea to stop referring to officials here as "tough." Or, at any rate, not to call them tough until they are tough.

Turning Over An Old Leaf

By Phillip A. Gladheim

"There were faces to remember in the Valley of the Shadow;
There were faces unregarded, there were faces to forget;
There were fires of grief and fear that are a few forgotten ashes;
There were sparks of recognition that are not forgotten yet."

One of the most popular mottos today is: "It's smart to be thrifty." America is largely responsible for the term "economy," but in many ways, through carelessness and ignorance it has been and still is a very wasteful nation. It is wasteful with its money by purchasing unnecessary articles, and in petty and large-scale gambling. It is still wasteful of its natural resources. Our depleted forests are witness to our failure in putting into practice a planned economy.

There is one particular item of food that in this county alone is going to waste. Now the storage of food is becoming a very serious business. Nature has given us thousands of tons of mushrooms. Due to ignorance and superstition this valuable food, which grows in abundance without the aid of man, is now rotting in our fields and forests.

About the middle of August our hive swarmed. Instead of colonizing on our premises, it made a bee-line for the old Isaac McCarty cemetery where in a large oak tree the new swarm found lodging. On our way over to the cemetery, my son and I noticed a number of large fungi scattered about in a field where both cows and horses are pastured. On our return from the cemetery we picked as many as we could carry, brought them home. Not being certain of their edibility I studied a Government pamphlet and then to make it doubly certain I placed them in a bag and took them to Mr. Joseph Harned. At a glance he said they were puff-balls and were edible so long as the flesh remained white. Mark Moon was sitting with Mr. Harned in the drug store when I entered. He also confirmed Mr. Harned. Since then I have brought a great variety of specimens to Mr. Harned after having examined their classification in the Government pamphlet. This double assurance was reported to the wife who thereupon used them in various combinations in the menu and has also canned several pints for winter use.

This accidental discovery of the puff-ball (Calvatia Cyathiformis) has given us an additional incentive for excursions into the fields and woods. Deprived of chestnut hunting this season of the year, the search for mushrooms is a most pleasureable substitute. Many worthwhile things have been learned: (1) it is a very delicious food, with many uses, growing in abundance without the need of cultivation; (2) the flavor of these mushrooms exceeds in variety and in quality that of the cultivated mushrooms; (3) that practically every variety of edible mushroom classified in the Government pamphlet grows in our county, (to date I have discovered 21 varieties of edible mushrooms; (4) that about 80 per cent of the mushrooms one sees, either in the field or forest, are edible.

After a month's' study of the pamphlet, checking with Mr. Harned and observing at first-hand the various kinds of fungi, I have delivered myself of a life-time of superstition and ignorance and have added materially to the enjoyment of our food and to the contents of our cellar.

If nature so generously supplies food it is our grateful privilege to use it. The search for mushrooms from early spring to late autumn is always rewarding, no matter where one might go.

The squirrel season comes in next week. It is going to be fun to pick up a grey squirrel and with a mess of mushrooms found in the same woods, bring home and place in the pot. It is most likely that the mushrooms found during the squirrel season are the kind that add the ideal flavor to the meat, and that no other variety of mushrooms could provide the flavor with such delicate exactness.

Certainly, if Frederick Gustavus Skinner, who raved so much about the native, wild food of Garrett county in 1834, were here now he would want to partake of such a meal. One can be sure that he could tell us something about the use of cray-fish, native mint and cranberry. And there are a host of other edible items that we through our superstition and ignorance turn up our nose. Added to this is our woeful ignorance of the identity and use of herbs. We are perhaps, so far as knowledge of nature is concerned, not as intelligent as the savage.

If any person who reads this article would feel inclined to go with me on an excursion, please notify The Republican. I will be glad to make a date. If others would like to find out for themselves I would advise first procuring the pamphlet entitled "Some Common Mushrooms and How to Know Them," by Vera K. Charles, published by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, 1931, circular No. 143.

Under no circumstances eat mushrooms until they have been identified. It must be borne in mind that the poisonous variety, even though not so numerous, are nearly always found in close proximity, yes, even in company, with the edible mushrooms. There is much comfort in knowing, after careful study, how to distinguesh the evil from the good.

It is our intention to preserve by canning all we can find. It is thrifty—because the only cost is the jar. It is accepting the stretched-out hand of nature, overflowing with delicious food, who is saying to each of us in this land of plenty, "Come and get it."

People of Athens! You were plundered by the Nazis, and your men, women and children dropped in the streets. For you, there was no food! What would you say to us, the people of Garrett county, if you knew that within our own borders there was more than enough food to keep you alive, without touching our own supply? Yes, here in the county, growing in abundant wildness, there was enough food for our starving neighbors across the sea. Nature is extremely bountiful. It is man through his selfishness and ignorance and not his inability to conserve and equally distribute food to all people of the earth that is gradually turning all of nature into desolation. Could famine come to us? It always comes, sooner or later, to the improvident, as well as to the innocent.

These days should make each of us seriously plan how we may conserve the resources we already have. The farmer can raise much greater variety of foods, herbs and materials for clothing. His government is ready to assist. There is a new happiness to be found where there are people of the soil learning by degrees its manifold uses and resources. The mushroom has been a most valuable object lesson. It is a very lowly plant, but it has taught me a new hope in the providence and abundance of nature. There are many unexplored secrets in its treasure-house. Let us go to her with faith, rather than taboo and fear. She will always respond with the same words, "Come and get it."

Soldiers In the Service Want Letters From Their Friends At Home

To the Editor of The Republican.

The boys here at Camp Lee, Va., are doing their best. What we need is word from our home towns when things look blue. Let all write to the men in camp. Have looked for letters from there for a long time. Please write to us.

Will you please publish this letter so that folks may know what we are thinking about things at home.

The food here is o. k. and none of the men are complaining of overcrowded housing that we have here.

Please tell everyone in Garrett county "hello." We are all in it together. Let us save our beloved country so that we may continue our freedom.

The men in camp are relying on you back home to do your best. Are you doing it by buying war bonds and war stamps? Thank you.

To Observe Golden Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. William M. Frazee, former residents of Oakland, will observe their fiftieth wedding anniversary on Sunday, September 27, at their home in Davidsville, Pa. The couple announce that they will have an "open house" from 2:00 to 9:00 o'clock P. M.

It was on September 28, 1892, when Lydia C. Beeghley, of Accident, became the bride of William M. Frazee, of Selbysport. Rev. S. A. Miller performed the ceremony at the bride's home and they were attended by a sister, Cora Beeghley, H. C. Hostetler, Mrs. Clara Speicher and J. L. Englehart, of Accident.

Mr. Frazee was born April 9, 1871, near Selbysport, eldest son of Lucian and Catharine Thomas Frazee. Mrs. Frazee's birthplace was at Accident. Her birthday was October 7, 1874, a daughter of Jacob and Catharine Speicher Beeghley.

They are the parents of three sons, Carl W. Frazee, Oakland; Bruce M., deceased, and Paul W. Frazee, Erie, Pa., and now have six grandchildren and one great-grandchild. Brothers and sisters of Mr. Frazee are Austin Frazee, Pittsburgh; Bert, Enon, Pa., and Mrs. Mary Wright, of McHenry. Mrs. Frazee was one of a family of ten children, six of whom are living, including Mrs. H. C. Hostetler, Oakland; Mrs. William H. Hummel, of Johnstown, Pa.; Mrs. Martha Hunt, Echo, Pa.; Mrs. Earl Coddington, of Friendsville, and Mrs. Patrick Nolen, of Baltimore.

Mr. and Mrs. Frazee in their early years, joined the Church of the Brethren. In 1915 they moved from Accident to Oakland and in 1916 they became members of St. Mark's Lutheran church. They are now members of the Davidsville Lutheran church which they joined after moving to Pennsylvania.

Burn More Wood State Forester Advises Public

May Have To Replace Coal And Fuel Oil, He Declares

Harking back to the days of World War I, the office of the State Forester has advised Marylanders to think seriously of the possibility of replacing coal and fuel oil with wood for heating their homes this winter.

Officers of the forestry department reached into their archives and pulled out bulletins and pamphlets showing the relative heating values of different woods in preparation to issuing them to the public.

One pamphlet, published February 15, 1918, gives instructions for burning wood, gives a table of heating values and relates methods of preparing the wood for use, cutting it and marketing and distributing it.

Although green wood may be burned, it said, dry wood offers much more heating value. And while coal and fuel oil are convenient to handle, wood offers an advantage as a quick, hot fire. It also is useful, the booklet said, in heating churches, public halls, theatres where heating is only needed for short periods of time.

The pamphlet said hickory wood represented the highest calory value with a higher equivalent even than coal. A cord of wood was given as having 115 per cent of the heating value contained in a ton of coal. A cord of hickory wood weighs approximately two tons.

A cord of locust or oak has a higher rating than a ton of coal, while willow has the lowest rating with a cord of the wood generating only fifty-five per cent of that given off by a ton of coal. Virginia pine and tulip poplar also have low ratings.

T. B. Clinic Scheduled

Victory 4-H Club Day Will Be Held At College Park

A Victory Day for representatives of Maryland's 500 4-H Clubs is scheduled at the University of Maryland on Saturday, October 3, it is announced by Dr. T. B. Symons, director of the extension service.

Coming near the end of the many projects carried out by 4-H boys and girls during the season, Dr. Symons declared that "We recognize a responsibility for impressing these young people with the importance of the contributions they are making and inspiring them to contribute in every way possible to winning the war." It is necessary, he said, that they understand their importance and ability to render service in the present emergency, and that this war is to preserve the land which they will own and the Republic.

A full program has been planned for the day. Dr. Clarence K. Mingle, of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, will tell of his experiences during a stay of several months in England. President H. C. Byrd and Miss Venia M. Kellar, assistant director of the extension service, will address the boys and girls, in addition to Dr. Symons.

There will be demonstrations by boys and girls depicting methods of carrying on important features of the 4-H Victory Program, and a radio 4-H victory report of Maryland achievements. A war clothes parade will be a feature of one assembly.

Maryland All Stars, the honor group of young adults, will meet in the afternoon. They will induct a few new members at the council circle and will remain over Sunday forenoon for their annual conference. Two Garrett County 4-H girls, Miss Jessie Guard, of near Friendsville, and Miss Arlene Jones, of Kitzmiller, have been selected for membership in the group.

Suicides totaled 18,907 in 1940, a rate of 14.4 for each hundred thousand population. The rate was 10.2 in 1900 and 17.4 in 1932.

War leaders were urging an end to bottlenecks in industry by an all-out effort of the workers.

JOSEPH: AN EXAMPLE OF FORGIVENESS

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 45:1-15; 47:11, 12.
GOLDEN TEXT—Be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you.—Ephesians 4:32.

Forgiveness, opening the way for the restoration of fellowship and the showing of kindness, brought the story of Joseph and his brethren to a happy ending. Under the good hand of God the story which began with tragedy is brought to a conclusion of blessing.

Following the earnest plea of Judah, the heart of Joseph could no longer withhold itself from the full expression of affection and devotion to his family.

I. Love Overcomes Fear (vv. 1-4).

Joseph tenderly shielded the family troubles from the eyes and ears of strangers by sending out the Egyptians. It was the first step of consideration which paved the way for reconciliation. How often just the opposite is done—airing family affairs before the world, and humiliating those who may be in the wrong, thus making it difficult for them to admit their guilt.

Then, too, this was a moment too tender and delicate to be seen by outsiders. The tears of a strong man like Joseph mean a deep movement of spirit—a solemn and often a sacred moment.

It should also be noted that the brothers were afraid, and well they might be, because of their sin against Joseph. After almost 50 years these unrepentant men found themselves face to face with the one whom they had supposed they had disposed of, and they knew their sin had found them out. It always does, sooner or later, but inevitably.

How great and noble was the forgiving love of Joseph; an example to us, especially appropriate and needed in a world of hate and bitterness.

II. Grace Overrules Sin (vv. 5-8).

The guilt of these men was none the less and Joseph could not remove it, but he encouraged them by showing how God had used their evil devices to work out His own good pleasure. He can make the wrath of man to praise Him (Ps. 76:10).

It is worth stressing again that in the very hour when the prospects for Joseph's future usefulness seemed ruined, God was opening the door to the greatest experiences of his life and was preparing him to serve the thousands whose lives were saved by his wisdom and ability in the years of famine.

Nothing is more important in the life of a child of God than to be yielded to His will, unmoved by circumstances, abiding His time, responding to His guidance whether it be by the opening or closing of doors, prosperity or adversity. And herein is the marvel of it all—even sin may be overruled by God's grace for His own glory. That does not invite anyone to sin that grace may abound (Rom. 6:1, 2), but it does offer encouragement to the one who has fallen, that God can redeem the years that the locust have eaten (Joel 2:25).

Our lesson also sets us an example of how true forgiveness acts, something we need. So often when forgiveness is asked or granted there is an "I can forgive but I can't forget" attitude, which means that while hostilities have ceased, at least temporarily, there is no real friendship or the disposition to show kindness. Is there any real forgiveness at all in such an attitude of heart and mind? We fear not.

III. Kindness Provides the Best (vv. 9-15; 47:11, 12).

It might have been enough to send food and a kind greeting with the brothers to their own land, but love does not seek the minimum expression of its feeling. It asks not how little, but how much can I give or do.

Bringing his aged father and brothers into the land of plenty was not enough, Joseph also gave to them the "best of the land" (47:11). His thoughtful consideration in sending for his father (Gen. 46:5-7) was part of the same piece of kindness.

Joseph puts to shame the modern "hard-boiled" attitude toward needy and aged members of the family. In their eager and relentless pursuit of fame or riches, many ignore or trample upon the members of their own families. Often they are ashamed of the broken bodies, the humble apparel, the broken or uneducated speech of their parents. They fear lest their new-found friends in the circle of wealth and supposed "position" will think them strange or ridiculous. God pity the man or woman who is ashamed of a humble or aged father and mother!

Joseph, who really had an exalted position gained by merit and by the blessing of God, never forgot his place before God as a son in the family and as a brother. Let us consider him and do likewise.

Petitions to place George W. Norris on Nebraska general election ballot as independent candidate for re-election were filed. Norris previously declared he desired to retire.

"THOUGHTS OF THE HOUR"

Favoritism, favoritism, favoritism,
An act of favoritism for agriculture.
Startled and shaken and stunned by surprise,
I started right up from my chair to arise.
Was I sleeping and dreaming, "Now that isn't fair?"
While listening to a "chat" made over the air.
But no it was real, too real to be true,
And how he could say it was more than I knew.
T'was a Labor Day speech, and the evening was fair,
But the words were hard and troubled, as they came over the air.

"An Act of Favoritism for Agriculture."
Oh! how can he say that today,
When by work, nor by hours, nor by wages we can pay,
We can not come near to match WPA.
While the man at the bench or the desk, or the lathe
Gets more for an hour than we can pay for a day.
How long can we take it, keeping up this gate,
Sixteen hours a day while they work but eight?
Children out of school thirty days at a stretch,
Picking up spuds that big guys wouldn't touch.
Oh! that boy, how hearty he ate,
Come on comrades, let's hurry, or his meal may be late.
Sacrifices, yes, we shall make them for sure,
But with the tide rolling against us, how long can we endure?
We are looking to Congress, in them do we trust.
May God give them courage, and help them to be just.

Open Season For Colds Now At Hand

State Health Directors Suggest Ways How To Ward Off Illness

With the open season for colds at hand, Dr. R. H. Riley, Director of the State Department of Health, makes the following suggestions as to ways by which these between season illnesses may be warded off, or, may at least be gotten under control before they do any serious damage:

"Keep as fit as possible. Dress according to weather, indoors and out-of-doors. Put on a heavier suit when a cold snap comes. Use a raincoat, overshoes and umbrella on rainy days. Change as quickly as possible into dry clothes if you are caught in a drenching downpour.

"Sudden chilling tends to lower the power of resistance to disease. Remember this, when, either for business or recreation, you spend some time in an air-conditioned establishment, dress accordingly. Carry a top coat or light wrap to slip on while you are indoors; take it off again when you go out of doors.

"With a shortage of fuel facing all of us our houses are likely to be chillier than usual during the early fall months. Look up your supply of sweaters and have them ready for use on the first frosty day. Get out some other heavy clothing and warm bed coverings at the same time.

"Eat plenty of simple nourishing food. Have your meals at regular hours. Drink plenty of water. Take some exercise out of doors every day. Get the necessary amount of rest.

"If you are caught in the clutches of a cold, unawares, don't treat it lightly. It may turn into something very serious, if neglected. The quickest way to get over a cold, or, to bring it under control, is to go to bed; keep warm; eat lightly; drink plenty of water and fruit juices; and, at the slightest sign of fever, send for your doctor and stay in bed until he feels that it is safe for you to get up and get out again.

"And remember, colds are very contagious. Cold-producing germs are scattered far and wide whenever the victim of a cold coughs or sneezes; they are likely to be found on anything the victim touches. If you are the victim, keep your germs to yourself. Have your own towels and wash cloths; your own drinking glass and dishes, and be sure that they are adequately sterilized with hot—very hot—water and soap after you have used them. Keep well supplied with paper handkerchiefs; dispose of them very promptly after you have used them.

"Don't go to see your friends while you have a cold. Don't shake hands with anybody, and, discourage your friends from coming to see you."

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our appreciation and thanks to relatives, friends and neighbors for their kindness and help during the illness and following the death of our loving son and brother, Eugene Lester Lee.

Also for the floral offerings and the use of automobiles.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Lee and Family.

VALUABLE COAL PROPERTY

In District No. 1, Garrett County, Maryland.

Under and by virtue of a power of sale contained in a deed executed by the Manor Mining and Manufacturing Company, a corporation, conveying certain property to the Hamill Coal and Coke Company, a corporation, and reserving, therein, a vendor's lien as security for part of the purchase price for said property, which said deed is dated January 1, 1921, and recorded in Liber E. Z. T., No. 79, folio 527, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, default having been made in the payment of the indebtedness secured by said vendor's lien as provided by the terms thereof, and said lien having been assigned to the undersigned for the purpose of foreclosure, I hereby give notice that on Saturday, October 17, 1942.

At the Hour of Eleven o'Clock A. M.,

in front of the Court House in the town of Oakland, Garrett County, Maryland, I will offer and sell at public auction all that piece, parcel or tract of land situate, lying and being in Election District No. 1 of Garrett County, Maryland, which was conveyed unto the said Hamill Coal and Coke Company by the said Manor Mining and Manufacturing Company by deed dated January 1, 1921, and recorded in Liber E. Z. T., No. 79, folio 527, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, containing 1048.54 acres, more or less, excepting, however, that part of the surface of said land which is described in said deed as the "Chas. Stark Surface", containing 52 acres, more or less, and also a right of way as set forth in said deed.

Excepting, also, the following pieces or parcels of the above land which have heretofore been conveyed away by said Hamill Coal and Coke Company: to The Board of County School Commissioners of Garrett County by deed dated January 14, 1921, and recorded in Liber E. Z. T., No. 79, folio 579, containing 1.5 acres, more or less; to Harry A. Crichton, by deed dated January 14, 1921, and recorded in Liber E. Z. T., No. 79, folio 462, containing 8.75 acres, more or less; to William Sharpless et al., by deed dated May 21, 1925, and recorded in Liber E. Z. T., No. 89, folio 410, containing 46.8 acres of surface, more or less, and to Herbert D. Sharpless, by deed dated August 14, 1929, and recorded in Liber E. Z. T., No. 100, folio 50, containing 15.75 acres of surface, more or less.

There is remaining and hereby offered for sale 1038.54 acres of coal and mining rights, and 923.74 acres of surface, more or less.

This land is located along the Vindex branch of the Western Maryland Railroad and Three Forks Run, about one mile from Vindex, in Garrett County, Maryland, adjoining the properties of the Johnstown Coal and Coke Company and Garrett Coal Corporation, and is underlaid with the Clarion, Lower Kittanning and Freeport seams of coal.

Openings have been made and mining operations have been carried on in previous years. Most of the surface is timbered.

TERMS OF SALE—Cash on day of sale.

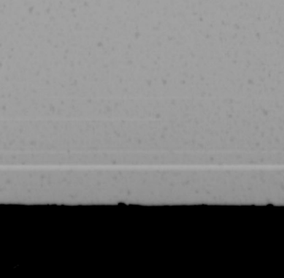
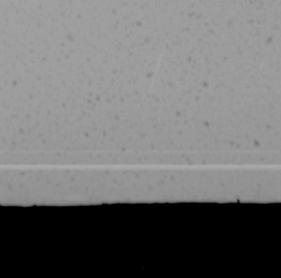
One War Week

A calendar of events on one war job in one recent week gives a graphic picture of how General Electric is working to meet wartime emergencies.



1. THURSDAY: An order was received at an eastern G-E factory for equipment needed by a U. S. warship near Australia. A special call went out.



2. THURSDAY NIGHT: As many workers as could be efficiently employed on the job worked all night, all day FRIDAY, assembling the equipment.

3. SATURDAY: Under police escort, the equipment was rushed to a nearby airport. Traveling by plane, it arrived in San Francisco on SUNDAY.

4. WEDNESDAY: A bombing plane landed the equipment at its Pacific destination—10,000 miles from the factory—six days after receipt of order.

General Electric believes that its first duty as a good citizen is to be a good soldier.

GENERAL ELECTRIC

TO: MR. AND MRS. AMERICA

By Wilbert N. Savage

Dear Mr. and Mrs. America:—I know you are very busy. You don't have time for anything just now except work, but pause, please, just one moment. Close your eyes! Listen! Use your imagination. I know you can't hear or see anything, but what a Godsend it would be if you could!

If you could see fifteen hundred dive bombers pouring endless loads of earth-shaking explosives upon a city; if you could see buildings ablaze or crumbling or shrouded in a pall of sickening smoke; if you could hear the hoarse cries of dirt and blood and powder-begrimed men, mingled with the thundering roar of the most furious battle the world has even known; if you could glimpse huge guns bucking under the tremendous coil, tanks by the thousands clattering and spouting flame, adding their mighty voice to the din; if you could record in your memory the determined expression on the faces of the city's defenders as they fight hand-to-hand battles in this chaotic, bloody super-conflict; if you see them defy death—if you could see these things, multiplied many times, you would have an incomplete conception of the horrifying battle of Stalingrad, the matchless magnitude none has ever seen.

If you could grasp a vivid mental picture of what the gallant Russian people are sacrificing, suffering and accomplishing, we all could better grasp the fact that the NSSR, whatever its political principles today, has ALWAYS fought on the side of the democracies, and she is doing it NOW—for herself and for you and me!

PROCLAMATION OF THE GOVERNOR OF MARYLAND DIRECTING THE PUBLICATION OF BILLS PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE.

WHEREAS, at the January session of the General Assembly of Maryland, held in the year 1941, the following Acts were passed, providing for the submission of amendments to the Constitution of the State to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection, namely:

CHAPTER 337

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Amendments to the Constitution", relating to the advertisement or publication of amendments to the Constitution, and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Amendments to the Constitution", the same, if adopted by the legally qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

1. The General Assembly may propose Amendments to this Constitution; provided that each Amendment shall be embraced in a separate Bill, embodying the Section or Sections, as the same will stand when amended and passed by three-fifths of all the members elected to each of the two Houses, by yeas and nays, to be entered on the Journals with the proposed Amendment. The Bill or Bills proposing amendment or amendments shall be published by order of the Governor, in at least two newspapers, in each County, where so many may be published, and where not more than one may be published, in the City of Baltimore, once a week for three weeks immediately preceding the next ensuing general election, at which the proposed amendment or amendments shall be submitted, in a form to be prescribed by the General Assembly, to the qualified voters of the State for adoption or rejection. Provided, however, the General Assembly may provide for publishing any proposed amendment or amendments in pamphlet form, and for making said pamphlets available to the registered voters of the State in addition to publication in the newspapers. The votes cast for and against said proposed amendment or amendments, severally, shall be returned to the Governor, in the manner prescribed in other cases, and if it shall appear to the Governor that a majority of the votes cast at said election on said amendment or amendments, severally, were cast in favor thereof, the Governor shall, by his proclamation, declare the said amendment or amendments having received said majority of votes, to have been adopted by the people of Maryland as part of the Constitution thereof, and thereafter said amendment or amendments shall be part of the said Constitution. When two or more amendments shall be submitted in manner aforesaid, to the voters of this State at the same election, they shall be so submitted as that each amendment shall be voted on separately.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That said aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall, at the next general election for members of the General Assembly of Maryland in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State, for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment, as directed by said Article 14 of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article 14.

AN ACT to amend Section 21 of Article 4, title "Judiciary Department", sub-title, "Part III Circuit Courts", of the Constitution of this State, providing for the residential qualification and method of selection of Associate Judges of the Third Judicial Circuit and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of this State for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That (three-fifths of all members elected to each of the two houses concurring) the following section be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 21 of Article 4 of the Constitution of Maryland, title "Judiciary Department", sub-title "Part III Circuit Courts", the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters thereof as herein provided to become Section 21 of Article 4 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

21. For each of the said circuits, excepting the eighth, the second, the third, the sixth and the seventh there shall be a chief judge and two associate judges, to be styled judges of the Circuit Court, to be elected or appointed as herein provided. And for the second circuit, the third circuit, the sixth circuit and the seventh circuit, there shall be a chief judge and three associate judges to be styled judges of the Circuit Court, to be elected or appointed as herein provided. And no two of said associate judges, for any of the said circuits, except the third, sixth and seventh circuits shall, at the time of their election or appointment, reside in the same county, for which they have been elected or appointed, reside in the same county. If two or more persons shall be candidates for associate judge in the same county in any of the circuits, except the third, sixth and seventh circuits, only one only in said county shall be declared elected who has the highest number of votes in the circuit. In case any two candidates for associate judge in any of the circuits, except the third, sixth and seventh circuits, residing in the same county shall have an equal number of votes greater than any other candidates for associate judge in the circuit, it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for one associate judge; but the person residing in the other county of the circuit and who has the highest number of votes shall be declared elected. The said judges shall hold not less than two terms of the Circuit Court in each of the counties composing their respective circuits, at such times as are now or may hereafter be prescribed to which jurors shall be summoned; and in those counties where only two such terms are held, two other and intermediate terms, to which jurors shall not be summoned. They may alter or fix the times for holding any or all terms, until otherwise prescribed, and shall adopt rules to the end that all business not requiring the interposition of the jury shall be, as far as practicable, disposed of at such intermediate terms. One judge in each of the above circuits, including the second, the third, sixth and seventh circuits, shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of any business, and the said judges or any of them may hold special terms of their courts, whenever in their discretion the business of the several counties renders such terms necessary.

In the Third Circuit, two of said Associate Judges shall at all times be bona fide residents of Baltimore County and one of said Associate Judges or the Chief Judge be a bona fide resident of Harford County, and said Judges shall have been such residents six months prior to their appointment or election.

The additional associate judge for the second circuit herein provided for shall be a resident of Cecil County, shall be appointed by the Governor after the expiration of six (6) months after the adoption of this amendment and shall serve until after general election for members of the General Assembly that shall be held in said circuit subsequent to the adoption of this amendment, at which election his successor shall be elected by the qualified voters of Caroline, Cecil, Kent, Queen Anne's and Talbot Counties, constituting the second circuit. The judge so appointed shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit, and the judge so elected shall be subject to the same constitutional provision, hold his office for the same term of years, receive the same compensation, and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit.

The additional judge for the sixth circuit herein provided for and elected by the qualified voters of Frederick and Montgomery Counties at the 1938 election in accordance with the terms of the Constitutional Amendment heretofore submitted and adopted shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the sixth circuit and his successor shall be appointed and/or elected in accordance with the constitutional provisions relating to judges. The Chief Judge may be elected from either Frederick or Montgomery Counties, but when the Chief Judge is elected from Frederick County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said county and the two remaining associate judges shall be residents of Montgomery County and when the Chief Judge is elected from Montgomery County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said Montgomery County and the remaining two associate judges residents of Frederick County. In case any candidate or candidates for associate judge at any judicial election held in the third and sixth judicial circuits shall receive sufficient votes to cause such candidate or candidates to be declared elected, but the election of such candidate or candidates would cause more associate judges than herein permitted to reside in any county of said circuits, then and in that event only that candidate or those candidates, as the case may be, residing in said county in the order of the votes received shall be declared elected whose election would provide the permitted number of associate judges from said county and the candidate or candidates as the case may be, residing in the other county, and not similarly disqualified who shall have the next highest number of votes in said election shall be declared elected. If by reason of such condition or by reason of an equal vote for two or more candidates a sufficient number of associate judges duly qualified as to residence as above set out should not be elected at any election in said third and sixth judicial circuits, then it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for such unfilled office or offices.

The additional associate judge for the seventh circuit herein provided for shall be appointed by the Governor immediately after the adoption of this amendment and shall serve until the first general election for members of the General Assembly that shall be held in said circuit subsequent to the adoption of this amendment, at which election his successor shall be elected by the qualified voters of Prince George's, Charles, Calvert and St. Mary's Counties. No member of the General Assembly of 1939, otherwise qualified, shall be ineligible for appointment or election as such associate judge by reason of his membership in the General Assembly. The judge so appointed shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the seventh circuit, and the judge so elected and his successors shall, subject to the same constitutional provisions, hold office for the same term of years, receive the same compensation, and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the seventh circuit. No two of the associate judges for the seventh circuit shall at the time of their election or appointment or during the term for which they may have been elected or appointed reside in the same county, in which event only one of said associate judges shall reside in Prince George's County and Prince George's County shall at all time have two resident Judges and no more, such Judges to be either the Chief Judge of the Seventh Circuit and one associate Judge or two associate Judges of said Circuit. In case any candidate or candidates for associate judge at any judicial election held in the seventh judicial circuit shall receive sufficient votes to cause such candidate or candidates to be elected, but the election of such candidate or candidates would cause more associate judges than herein permitted to reside in any county of said circuit, then and in that event only that candidate or those candidates, as the case may be, residing in said county in the order of the votes received shall be declared elected whose election would provide the permitted number of associate judges from said county and the candidate or candidates, as the case may be, residing in some other county, and not similarly disqualified, who shall have the next highest number of votes in said election shall be declared elected. If, by reason of such a condition or by reason of an equal vote for two or more candidates a sufficient number of associate judges duly qualified as to residence as above set out should not be elected at any election in said seventh judicial circuit, then it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for such unfilled office or offices.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State shall be, at the next general election to be held in this State in the year 1942, submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of this State, and at the said general election, the vote on the said proposed amendment shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment" as now prescribed by law, and immediately after said election, due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment as directed by said Article 14 of the Constitution.

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 45 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", relating to the salary of Clerks of Courts and Registrars of Wills and providing for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following amendment be and it is hereby proposed to Section 45 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department" the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Section 45 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland:

45. The General Assembly shall provide a simple and uniform system of charges in the offices of Clerks of Courts and Registrars of Wills, in the Counties of this State and the City of Baltimore, and for the collection thereof; provided, the amount of compensation to any of the said officers in the various Counties and in the City of Baltimore shall be such as may be prescribed by law.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing Section, hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State, shall be at the election to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, upon each ballot there shall be printed the words: "For Constitutional Amendment" and "Against Constitutional Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against proposed amendment, as directed by said Article of the Constitution.

CHAPTER 607

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland title "Legislative Department" by adding a new section to be known as Section 40B, providing for the taking of property by the State Roads Commission under certain circumstances; and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members elected to each of the two Houses concurring), That the following new Section be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Article III, title "Legislative Department" of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, the same to be inserted after Section 40A and to be numbered 40B, and if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, said section shall become a part of Article III of the Constitution of Maryland.

40B. The General Assembly shall enact no law authorizing private property to be taken for public use without just compensation to be agreed upon between the parties or awarded by a jury, being first paid or tendered to the party entitled to such compensation, except that where such property in the judgment of the State Roads Commission is needed by the State for highway purposes, the General Assembly may provide that such property may be taken immediately upon payment therefor to the owner or owners thereof by said State Roads Commission, or into Court, such amount as said State Roads Commission shall estimate to be of the fair value of said property, provided such legislation also requires the payment of any further sum that may subsequently be awarded by a jury.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the foregoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland, shall, at the election to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of the directions contained in Article XIV of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "FOR CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT" and "AGAINST CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment as directed by Article XIV of the Constitution and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article XIV.

(Approved: April 28, 1941.)

CHAPTER 695

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 15 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", regulating the period that General Assembly may continue its session and compensation of the members thereof, and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 15 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", the same, if adopted by the legally qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Section 15 of Article 3 of the Constitution of Maryland.

15. The General Assembly may continue its session so long as in its judgment the public interest may require, for a period not longer than ninety days; and each member hereof shall receive a compensation of One Thousand Dollars ($1,000) per annum, payable quarterly, with a deduction of fifteen dollars per diem for each day of unexcused absence from any session; and he shall also receive such mileage as may be allowed by law, not exceeding twenty cents per mile; and the presiding officer of each House shall receive an additional compensation of Two hundred and fifty ($250) dollars per annum. When the General Assembly shall be convened by Proclamation of the Governor, the session shall not continue longer than thirty days, nor no additional compensation other than mileage and other allowances provided by law shall be paid members of the General Assembly for Special Sessions.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That said aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", the same, if adopted by the legally qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Section 15 of Article 3 of the Constitution of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against proposed amendment, as directed by said Article 14 of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article 14.

Approved: May 2, 1941.

CHAPTER 716

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Article 38 of the Declaration of Rights of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, relating to gifts, devises and other transfers to or for certain preachers and religious sects, orders or denominations, and providing for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following amendment be and the same is hereby proposed to Article 38 of the Declaration of Rights of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Article 38 of the Declaration of Rights of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

38. The Legislature may by law regulate, restrict or require its sanction for, gifts, devises or other transfer of property to or for the benefit of any minister, public teacher or preacher of the Gospel, as such, or any religious sect, order or denomination.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing amendment to the Declaration of Rights of the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall, at the election to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, upon each ballot there shall be printed the words: "For Constitutional Amendment" and "Against Constitutional Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against proposed amendment, as directed by said Article 14 of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article 14.

Approved: May 2, 1941.

CHAPTER 824

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Article IV of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, adding thereto a new section, to be known as Section 39A, to be under new subtitle "Part IV-A Juvenile Courts", and to follow immediately after Section 39 of said Article, providing for the establishment of orders or denominations, and providing for submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following new section, to be known as Section 39A, to be under new subtitle "Part IV-A Juvenile Courts", and to follow immediately after Section 39 of said Article, be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Article IV of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State as herein provided, to become a part of said Article IV of said Constitution and to be numbered and sub-titled as aforesaid:

PART IV-A JUVENILE COURTS

39A. A Juvenile Court is hereby created for Baltimore City, and the General Assembly by law may establish a Juvenile Court for any other incorporated city or town or any county of the State. The court hereby created, and any other court established hereunder by law, shall be a court of record, and shall have exclusive jurisdiction within such city, town or county over all criminal offenses other than those punishable by death or life imprisonment committed by any person under eighteen years of age, and such additional jurisdiction as may be from time to time prescribed by the General Assembly by law. The General Assembly by law shall prescribe, and from time to time may alter,

1. The number, qualifications, tenure and method of selection of the judge or judges of such courts, and their powers, duties and compensation, but the salary or compensation of any judge of any such court shall not be reduced during his continuance in office;

2. The right of appeal from such court;

3. The number, qualifications, tenure, methods of selection, duties and compensation of all clerks, bailiffs, probation officers or other employes of such courts; and

4. Any other matters relating to such courts.

In the event of any inconsistency between the provisions of this Section and any of the other provisions of this Constitution, the provisions of this Section shall prevail, and such other provisions shall be repealed or abrogated to the extent of such inconsistency, except Section 35-A of Article III. Until the General Assembly has established a Juvenile Court for any incorporated city or town or any county of the State, jurisdiction over juvenile causes shall be exercised in the same manner and to the same extent as authorized by the Constitution and laws in force in effect prior to the adoption of this Section.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That the aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland, shall, at the election to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of the directions contained in Article XIV of the Constitution of the State of Maryland and at the said General Election the vote on the said proposed amendment shall be by ballot and upon each ballot there shall be printed the following synopsis of said amendment captioned as follows:

"CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT PROVIDING FOR JUVENILE COURTS"

Below said synopsis shall be printed the words "For Juvenile Courts Amendment" and "Against Juvenile Courts Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment as directed by Article XIV of the Constitution and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article XIV.

Approved: May 6, 1941.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, HERBERT R. O'CONOR, GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF MARYLAND, in pursuance of the direction contained in Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of Maryland, do hereby order and direct that this proclamation containing a full, true and correct copy of the text of said Chapters 337, 494, 509, 607, 695, 716 and 824 of the Acts of the General Assembly of Maryland of 1941, be published in at least two newspapers in each of the counties of the State where so many may be published and where not more than one may be published then in that newspaper, and in three newspapers published in the City of Baltimore, one of which shall be published in the German language, once a week for at least three months next preceding the general election to be held in the State of Maryland on Tuesday, the 3rd day of November, 1942, at which election the said proposed amendments to the Constitution shall be submitted in form and manner prescribed by the General Assembly, to the legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State of Maryland, Done at the City of Annapolis this 15th day of July, in the year of our Lord One thousand, nine hundred and forty-two.

Mrs. Karin Offutt Awarded $100 Per Week Temporarily

Temporary Payment Ordered By Court to Be Paid to Wife of Wealthy Oakland Banker

Chief Judge D. Lindley Sloan passed a court order Monday directing Daniel Edward Offutt, well known 70-year-old banker to pay his wife, Mrs. Karin Offutt, prominent 35-year-old socialite, temporary alimony of $100 per week and counsel fees to her attorneys, Walter W. Dawson of this place and William A. Gunter of Cumberland, in the amount of $500.

The court action came on the application of Mrs. Offutt who is the defendant in divorce proceedings introduced by her husband, September 15.

Mrs. Offutt, in her application for alimony told the court that her husband is worth about $450,000.

Divorce proceedings were filed in court here by Daniel E. Offutt through his attorney, Neil C. Fraley. In the bill Offutt, through his attorney, alleges that Mrs. Offutt was about to leave the jurisdiction of the court and planned to take her child, Daniel E. Offutt, III, aged 11 years, with her. At that time the court issued an order preventing Mrs. Offutt from taking the child outside of Garrett county.

Charged With Burglary

On the same day the divorce proceedings were instituted, Mrs. Offutt was indicted by a Garrett county grand jury on a charge of burglary. The charge, according to the indictment, involves the alleged theft of a lady's coat, a bath mat, a bed quilt, three china cups, one brass basket, one preserve jar and one mustard jar bearing a total value of $74.50.

Mrs. Offutt is accused of entering the dwelling of Nanniene T. Offutt, sister-in-law of her husband, at 11 p. m. on or about November 15, 1941, and taking these articles. The home of Nanniene Offutt is a public boarding house known as Monte Vista, near the town's limits.

Bond on the burglary charge was fixed at $1,000 and Mrs. Offutt was admitted to bond Saturday, September 19.

Trial Set for Tuesday

The burglary case will come to trial before Chief Judge Sloan and Associate Judge Joseph D. Mish and a jury, Tuesday morning, September 29, in court here.

Mrs. Karin Offutt, a former school teacher, is well known here as a civic leader, war and Red Cross worker, and has long been well regarded in the community.

Daniel E. Offutt is regarded as one of the wealthiest men in Garrett county. He is president of the Garrett National bank and chairman of the Garrett county draft board. He has lived here most of his lifetime and has long been active in the affairs of the community. He and Mrs. Offutt were married in Waterbury, Conn., April 29, 1929. They have one child.

RED HOUSE LUTHERAN PARISH
A. K. Jones, Pastor.

Next Sunday the Sunday schools meet at the usual time. The teachers will present their plans for the Rally Day service to be held the first Sunday in October.

"God's Goodness and Justice," is the pastor's theme at the Red House church service at 11:00 o'clock. This is the second in the series on Paul's Epistle to the Romans, the letter which Luther called "the very purest Gospel, and should be memorized word for word." Both the power of the Gospel of Christ and God's anger at human wickedness are emphasized. A more careful study of this inspired letter will give us a clearer understanding of this period of distress and sorrow.

SAINT PAUL'S METHODIST
Minor Sprague, Minister.

9:30 a. m. Sunday Church School. Competent religious instruction for all who want it.

6:30 p. m. Youth Fellowship, led by Elaine Casteel. For all young people.

IF YOU ARE INCLUDED IN THIS LIST, YOU'RE ELIGIBLE TO BUY

There are seven major classifications for persons eligible to buy new cars under basic rationing rules.

These include: (1) persons engaged in the production of war materials or the prosecution of the war, directly or indirectly; (2) physicians, nurses, clergymen, veterinarians; (3) car-owners engaged in public service, such as fire departments, public health, highway maintenance, etc.; (4) owners of taxicabs and other means of transportation; (5) farmers; (6) newspaper wholesalers; and (7) traveling salesmen in certain fields.

Your Buick dealer will be very glad to help you determine whether you come under the rules of eligibility. He will also be glad to help you fill out the proper applications.

...and if you really need a new car for essential work—you can get one!

AUTOMOBILE-BUYING regulations boil down to this:

If you really need a car—you can get one.

Necessity governs — and when necessary work can be done better by replacing an older car with a new one, both rationing rules and public policy encourage the buying of safer, more efficient, more dependable new models.

Get a car you can count on—get a car that will last—get a car that's tough and rugged and efficient enough to take long, tough punishment and come back for more.

This 1942 Buick is a car built from the ground up with the idea that it would have to serve, faithfully and well, over a far longer-than-usual service life.

Its Buick FIREBALL valve-in-head straight-eight power plant is a basically more efficient engine, designed to get the last bit of usable power and mileage from gasoline.

So if you need a car you need a Buick. Talk your situation over with your Buick dealer, and look at the models he can deliver at once from his large and complete stocks — even though the Buick factories have for many months been on all-out war production.

National Newspaper Week

Today is the beginning of national newspaper week, a time when members of the staff of The Republican dedicate themselves anew to service in searching out, interpreting and delivering to all our subscribers the news of the community, and in our limited space, the news of the state, nation and world.

News is knowledge and knowledge makes men free.

You subscribe to your home town newspaper, expecting it to bring you the latest information but rarely give a thought on how important this press is to you or your family.

You never stop to think how much liberty and happiness is bound up in the fact that you can read this kind of a newspaper. Such a privilege is not possible in dictator-controlled countries.

Should there be no freedom of the press the other freedoms would soon vanish—freedom of expression of thought, freedom of religion, the right to vote, the right to call your spare time your own. Soon you would have no individual rights at all—just the slave of a dictatorial state.

The newspaper we take so much for granted is the keystone of the liberties of all individuals. Once this free press is muzzled it will be the signal for suppression and persecution in many ways.

Where the press is free it can function as a protector of the rights of our people and of our free democratic institutions.

The Republican is just a small dot in the national picture, but it is the thousands of dots in the thousands of communities that make for liberty and freedom.

We are glad to have a part in guarding the American way of Life.

COURT ADJOURNS AFTER SENTENCES ARE METED OUT

Leroy Wilt Who Broke Jail Gets Heaviest Sentence With Term Of 18 Months in House

The September term of the Garrett County Circuit Court ended yesterday evening after Chief Judge D. Lindley Sloan had pronounced sentences upon traversers found guilty in the various cases presented. Leroy Wilt, who broke jail after being apprehended upon several charges of larceny, received the heaviest sentence, being sent to the House of Correction for a term of eighteen months.

Upon two separate indictments for larceny and receiving stolen goods he pleaded not guilty and the cases were continued.

William Payton, who was found guilty by a jury on a charge of selling beer to a minor, was sentenced to pay $100 and costs and the judge also decreed that the beer license for Colonial Inn be revoked for a period of two years.

Other cases coming before the court included the following:

Glen V. Sines, manufacture of liquor. Plea of guilty confessed; sentenced to pay $100 and costs or spend six months in House of Correction; sentence suspended upon condition he be of good behavior and refrain from manufacture and use of intoxicating liquor.

Edward C. Skipper, manufacture of liquor; plea of guilty confessed; sentenced to pay $150 and costs or spend six months in the House of Correction.

James Fazenbaker, possession of liquor for purpose of sale; tried before court, verdict guilty; fined $100 and costs or in lieu to spend six months in the House of Correction.

Leroy Swauger, carnal knowledge; plea of guilty; sentenced to year in House of Correction; sentence suspended for three years upon condition he be of good behavior.

Karin Offutt, burglary, case dismissed, nol pros.

Blaine Stemple, desertion of minor child, continued to December.

John Brady, manufacture of liquor, pleaded not guilty, tried before court, verdict of guilty. Fined $100 and costs or in lieu to serve six months in House of Correction.

Milford B. Friend and Sherman D. Friend, manufacture of liquor, plea of guilty confessed as to Milford Friend; plea of not guilty as to Sherman Friend. Latter tried before court and verdict of not guilty rendered. Milford Friend fined $100 and costs or sentenced to serve six months in the House of Correction.

Sitting on the bench with Chief Judge Sloan at this term was Associate Judge Joseph D. Mish.

RECOUNT SHOWS NO CHANGE IN HERMAN STATUS

Accident Man's Nomination on Republican Ticket Stands—Is Congratulated By Browning

The complete recount of the ballots with respect to the Republican candidates for nomination for County Commissioner made no change in the original status of the aspirants, it was announced by the Board of County Commissioners last Thursday afternoon.

This gave John W. Herman the nomination over Cheston H. Browning who had requested the recount when the official tabulation gave him 1147 votes to 1158 for Herman. The final official figures following the recount and also including an additional vote for Herman as the result of one absentee ballot, gave Browning 1129 and Herman 1144.

When the results became known Mr. Browning congratulated his opponent and wished him success in the general election.

All Commissioner nominees lost votes in the result as a number of the ballots were challenged by the attorneys and in one precinct (7-2) the Supervisors declared 17 ballots void because they had not been initialed on the outside by the election officials the day of the Primary.

Jonas W. Sines, high man on the ticket, lost 36 votes, his final total being 1449 compared to the former figure of 1485. Walter G. Meyers had 1,234, whereas he formerly had 1,262. James A. Savage ended up with 1069, instead of 1081. G. Blaine Giessman had 787 instead of 802, and George Warnick had 772 instead of 787.

A total of 2,931 ballots were counted in the recount which was completed in two days. By a ruling of the Attorney General William C. Walsh, the expense of the recount falls upon Mr. Browning as the change in number of ballots cast for the candidate was less than two percent, as provided by law.

The cost of the recount, according to bills filed with A. Leo Helbig, clerk to the Board of Supervisors, is $275.15. This figure does not include the cost of Browning's attorney, Mr. Helbig said.

Types of Rubber Boots and Shoes "Frozen" by OPA

Local merchants have been notified of the freezing of stocks of certain types of rubber boots and shoes, by order of the office of Price Administration.

There are six rationed types that cannot be sold at all until Monday, October 5, at which time they will be sold by certificate rationing.

Those rationed are below-knee-height heavy boots, pacs and bootees, 10 inches or higher, below-knee-height light boots, above-knee-height storm king boots, pacs, bootees and work shoes less than 10 inches, and hip-height boots.

Ordinary rubber footwear, arctics, overshoes, galoshes, are not rationed.

During the freezing period merchants are advised to make inventories of their stocks and report to their local rationing boards not later than October 10.

Library Changes in Hours

Beginning next Wednesday, the Oakland Library will be open on Wednesdays from noon to five o'clock and regular hours on Saturdays, 2 to 5 p. m., and 7 to 9 p. m.

With Our Men In the Service

Mr. and Mrs. John Zehner, Grantsville, have received word that their son-in-law, Lieut. Robert A. Marshall, formerly in the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey, has been transferred to the Navy and has joined the Pacific fleet. Mrs. Marshall and sons, Alex and John, who were for two years in Boston, Mass., are now residing in Norfolk, Va.

Among the eleven men who joined the Army at Cumberland last Friday are Richard M. Bernard, Deer Park, and John S. Adams, Oakland.

Harvey W. Speicher, stationed with the Army Air Corps at San Angelo, Texas, has been promoted to the rank or corporal.

Garthright (Skip) May, who has been attending officers' training school at Camp Lee, Va., for the past several weeks, completed his course and on Friday received his commission as a second lieutenant. He was at his home here on Sunday, leaving for his new base at Maxwell Field, Ala. He held the rank of sergeant when he was selected for officers' training.

While here on a two-day leave Walter E. Dawson, who held a yeoman's rank in the U. S. Navy, was notified of his appointment as an ensign, and ordered to report for duty at Norfolk, Va., immediately. He left Tuesday evening. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Dawson, Alder street, and had been stationed for the past several months at Baltimore.

Private Willard A. Moon, who was recently re-inducted into the army, is now home on a three-day furlough. He is stationed at the Norfolk Navy yards at Portsmouth, Va., in the coast artillery.

Private Charles W. Herring, who has been in the Army Air corps since July 2, is now completing a course in radio operation at Scott Field, Ill. This course includes weather reporting, airplane identification, navigation, etc. He must be able to take 20 words a minute in code and must also pass a code test using light signals at the rate of 10 words a minute. When he completes his course he will be a radio technition. He then will be sent to a gunners' school. Private Herring is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Herring, of Accident.

Private Marshall Biser is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elza Biser, Gortner, before going to Fort George G. Meade. He has been employed in Baltimore along with his brothers, Dale and Gerald Biser, and recently enlisted in the Army Reserve corps.

Private Franklin E. Sweitzer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sweitzer, of Mt. Lake Park, who entered the armed forces in August, is now stationed at Fort McClellan, Alabama.

James Helbig, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Helbig, Oakland, has enlisted in the Naval Reserves and left here Saturday for Norfolk, Va., to enter training.

Mrs. W. P. Warsaw, Kempton, has heard from her son, Pierce, who is with the Quartermaster Training corps, Fort Francis E. Warren, Wyoming.

Andrew Kovach, Kempton, who is a member of the armed forces is visiting his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Hinebaugh have received a letter from their grandson, Lee Thayer, who is somewhere in the Pacific area with the U. S. Navy.

Among those joining the U. S. Army at Cumberland yesterday as qualified mechanics were Robert J. Gilbert and Russell E. Aronhalt, Gormania, W. Va. They were sent to Bowman Field, Ky., where they will be put to work on plane motors.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee McIntyre, of Kitzmiller received a letter from their son Corporal Harry McIntyre, serial No. 35380205 Co. E 332nd Engineers Reg. APO 1230, care postmaster, New York. He states he finds England just like his mother had explained. She went her first six years to school in England. He also states that the Americans are treated royally, that he likes it and is invited to tea parties and dancing. "No need for worry," he concludes.

Neil V. Liller was in Baltimore this week and was accepted for service in the U. S. Navy. He expects to leave Sunday for Baltimore, where he will enlist.

Corporal Laurence Wensel, Greenville, S. C., a member of the Quartermaster Corps, attached to the Army Air Corps, is home on a ten-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Wensel, near town.

Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Feathers, Baltimore; Mrs. Nellie Feathers and Mrs. Harry Lewis, Cumberland, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Fulk, on Sunday.

NEED MORE VOLUNTEERS FOR LISTENING STATION

The American Legion committee in charge of the aircraft warning service for Oakland is making an urgent appeal for more volunteers for the listening station that has been erected on the town property on Third street.

Irvin R. Rudy, one of the committee members, said this morning that there had been some volunteers but not nearly as many as were needed to man the station twenty-four hours each day.

Women, as well as men, are being sought for this volunteer work. Persons may volunteer for service at the City Hall, Ray Teets' garage, Rudy's store or at A. G. Hesen's service station. They aim to have at least 125 volunteers.

Flag Raising Ceremony Scheduled at Hi School

The formal flag raising ceremony will take place tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at Oakland High school, but will be symbolic of all schools of the county.

F. E. Rathbun, county superintendent, will preside and will emphasize "Our Country and Its Institutions," the theme of the school year. The American Legion will be represented and the students will present a program.

YOUR NEWSPAPER

(An Editorial)

We who call this community "home" find our first interests here. We take pride in our community, we share the joys and sorrows of our neighbors in an intimate vein to be found only in the typical American town.

Service to our community and its people is the creed of our newspaper. It is upon that foundation that it has been built.

It brings to you an intimate, neighborly week-by-week history of our community that can be found in no other newspaper, for no other newspaper shares our interest and concern in and for our community.

It is because we bring you all the home news, of people and things which are your first interest, that our readers represent a great family circle. The merchant or the manufacturer who would gain the interest and attention of this great family can find no medium to equal the eager, friendly reception with which this newspaper is received into these many hundreds of homes.

That prestige which this newspaper enjoys has been achieved through the years it has dedicated its every effort to the best interests of our community and our people. In the year that lies ahead our ambition will be to improve and to grow, as we renew our labors for improvement and growth in all the community.

One Killed, Two Seriously Hurt In Car Accident

Russell Kisner, 24, of Corinth, W. Va., was instantly killed and two companions seriously injured last evening when the automobile in which they were riding crashed into a telephone pole at the east edge of Terra Alta.

Lawrence Kisner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kisner and brother of the dead man, and a cousin, Joe Kisner, son of Jasper Kisner, also of Corinth, were taken to the Hopemont hospital in very serious condition.

Authorities said that Russell was driving the car, and they were enroute to Terra Alta from Corinth. The car after striking the telephone pole lodged between it and a retaining wall, requiring the top to be removed before the men could be taken out.

One More Registration Day Available This Year

Prospective voters have only one more day in which to register, Tuesday, October 6, prior to the general election on November 3.

The registration on Tuesday, September 29, was very light, according to reports of nearby registration places, less than ten having registered at the four Oakland precincts.

After October 6 there will be a revision day, on Tuesday, October 13, at which time no one may be registered. Official notice appears on page seven.

Hunter Is Injured

While squirrel hunting Darrell Lantz, Kempton, barely escaped what might have been serious injuries. Crawling through a fence the hammer of the gun accidentally discharged, causing a number of shot to penetrate the flesh.

Physicians at an Elkins hospital removed the shots and Mr. Lantz returned to his home.

Collection Stations Named in Scrap Drive

County Rally Dates Are Set for Monday and Tuesday, October 12 and 13

Stressing the tremendous responsibility of every American, and his duty to aid the war effort in whatever way he can, the County Agent's office this week has sent out about 2,000 letters to farm people, asking for their help in collecting scrap metal in the campaign that is now being conducted throughout the entire country.

The drive got under way last week with the Mayors and Councils of various towns sponsoring the campaign, assisted by most of the garages in the county. Ray Teets and Clarence Leighton were named chairmen of the drive, which will culminate in a big scrap rally on Monday and Tuesday, October 12 and 13.

The country needs everyone's help to collect enough scrap metal to keep the war factories operating at full capacity, and all persons are asked to gather up all metal of any kind now, so that it can be gathered easily by the individual or a collector on the two rally dates.

The county salvage committee has asked the following to buy scrap metal and rubber on those two dates, if delivered to their place:

Motor Service Company, Casselman Motor Company, Grantsville; Keyser Ridge Service Station, Keyser Ridge; Yough Motor Service, R. O. McCullough, Frazee Service station, Friendsville; Spoerlein's Garage, Accident; Glotfelty's Garage, McHenry; Ed Harvey, Sand Flat; Fort Pendleton Service station, Gorman; Ben Knepp and Carl Sisler, Red House; Shorty's Filling station, Gortner; Calhoun's filling station, Loch Lynn; Pritts' Garage, Gnegy church; O. C. Buckel, Bittinger; A. H. Green, Swanton; Browning's, Deer Park; John Baker, Crellin road; George Keefer, Crellin; Pritts Brothers, Kitzmiller.

All donations are to be delivered to the air raid spotter station on Third street, Oakland, it was stated.

More Candidates File Expenditures

Several other candidates filed expense accounts this week with the clerk of the Circuit Court. The law requires such an accounting.

Lawrence Fraley's account showed expenditures of $329.23, the highest figure yet for any candidate.

Paul M. Friend spent $86.45, George Warnick spent $41; William D. Casteel spent $6.00; B. H. Sincell, nothing; C. H. Browning, $148.60.

Firemen Answer Call

The Oakland firemen answered a call at noon today to the home of Robert Glaze, at the Second street railroad crossing, where a brush pile in rear of the house was getting beyond control. There was no damage.

Those Interested In Band Asked to Meet

Committee Named By Fire Department Asks for Citizens to Gather Friday Evening

Persons interested in the reorganization of the Oakland Boys' Band, particularly parents of those active in band work, are being asked to attend a meeting in the City Hall on Friday evening.

The purpose is to formally reorganize the band under the sponsorship of the Oakland Fire Department which group decided several weeks ago to supervise the band activities. A fire department committee recently appointed met Monday night and organized by electing Robert Lohr as manager, Paul Turney as treasurer, and Richard Glotfelty, as secretary. Other members of the committee are John Stevenson and Virgil B. Kelley.

A large attendance is being urged. Harry S. Mickey has agreed to direct the band and practice sessions are already under way with between twenty and thirty present. Mr. Mickey is asking that former members of the band return any music, band racks, instruments, uniforms, and other band property at their earliest convenience.

Killing frosts struck the county this week with a low temperature of 19 degrees to the official weather station at Weber's, near town, Tuesday morning.

The temperature dropped to 23 degrees the following morning. Rainfall during September totaled 3.05 inches. The high mark of the month was 84, on the 9th and 16th.

M'KELDIN CRITICISES O'CONOR FOR RUNNING FOR A SECOND TERM

Theodore R. McKeldin declared last night that Governor O'Conor, in running for a second term, "stands before the court of public opinion self-convicted of a breach of political faith entered into voluntarily with the people of Maryland."

The Republican gubernatorial candidate, in an address prepared for delivery over station WBAL, said that O'Conor, while running for office in 1938, "made the solemn pledge that he would serve but a single term."

Quotes O'Conor's Promise

McKeldin added that O'Conor renounced "all ambitions for re-election" to assure the people of Maryland that he "would have no motive and would not attempt to build up a political machine."

"To prove his fair intentions," McKeldin added, "he even strengthened his pledge with the proposal of a constitutional amendment which would forbid his serving a second term. But once safely elected to office, he permitted his agents, through the channels of machine politics, to defeat the amendment.

"This inexcusable public reversal is the final logical culmination of a series of maneuvers and devices by which Governor O'Conor has sought to build up in Maryland an invincible personal political machine.

Two-Pronged Drive

"The campaign for Maryland power by Messrs. O'Conor and (William) Curran (Baltimore political leader) was represented by a two-pronged drive. One prong is the attack upon and intended elimination of effective opposition from the Republican party. The other is directed toward the destruction of all individuals and groups with personal ambitions which might threaten this combination's ascendancy within the Democratic party."

GORMAN YOUTH IS FOUND DEAD IN CAR ON OAK ST.

Milford Sisler Asphyxiated By Carbon Monoxide Fumes; Had Been Dead 20 Hours When Body Was Discovered

The body of Milford Edward Sisler, aged 18 years, of Gorman, was found Tuesday night about 8:30 o'clock in his parked automobile on Oak street in front of St. Paul's Methodist church in Oakland. He had been dead approximately twenty hours and Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, county medical examiner, gave a verdict of accidental death, saying that Sisler had died of asphyxiation caused by carbon monoxide fumes.

No doubt many Oakland residents passed the automobile Tuesday but presumed the young man, if they saw him at all, to be asleep.

Dr. Baumgartner declared exhaustion probably contributed to the death of Sisler, who was an employee of the Glenn L. Martin plant in Baltimore. He said Sisler had told some friends Monday he had not had much sleep and some anti-sleep tablets had been taken from a packet found in his clothing.

The supposition is that Sisler was waiting in his car for a friend. He was dressed in thin clothing and had turned on the heater of his automobile to keep warm.

Windows of the automobile were closed and Corporal Thomas Currie, State policeman, who assisted in the investigation, said carbon monoxide fumes probably seeped into the car from a broken exhaust pipe beneath the floor boards. Sisler either went to sleep from exhaustion and was overcome or was overcome while sitting in the car.

Sisler's body was found by Herman M. Minnick, Samuel R. Rinker, of Gorman, and Glenn VanSickle, Jr., of Oakland.

The battery of the car was dead and the gas tank was empty, indicating the motor had run for some time.

Sisler had planned to meet Minnick and Rinker, who board in Oakland, but when he failed to appear they began a search for him, locating his car on Oak street. One of them opened the car door and touched Sisler in an effort to arouse him and discovered that he was dead.

They immediately notified the Sheriff's office. Deputy Sheriff Gil Haenftling, Corporal Currie, Dr. Baumgartner, State's Attorney Neil C. Fraley and Sheriff Walter Haenftling all assisted in the investigation. Corporal Currie said Sisler had come to Oakland Monday with Junior Ward, of Bayard, West Va., also an employe at the Martin plant. Ward returned to Bayard.

Around one or two o'clock Tuesday morning Sisler inquired at the Ray Teets' garage if anyone had asked about him. He then returned to his automobile.

Sisler is a son of Mrs. Solomon Sisler, of Gorman. His father and two brothers, Leo and Julius Sisler, are employed in Baltimore and reside in Dundalk, Baltimore county.

Funeral services will be conducted Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock from the Methodist church in Gormania, with Rev. Simpson in charge. Interment will be in the Wolf cemetery, near Red House.

Besides his parents he is survived by six brothers, Clyde Sisler, Crellin; Julius, Leo, and Clarence Sisler, Baltimore; Harold and Carlton Sisler, at home. He attended Oakland High school for three years and had been in Baltimore since the first of the year.

Missionary to Speak

REV. URI CHANDLER

Rev. Uri Chandler, of the Oriental Missionary Society, will speak at the Union church, at Crellin, on Monday evening, October 5 at 7:45 o'clock. Mr. Chandler is a returned missionary from China, having spent several years in the old capital of China, Peking.

The general theme of the address which Rev. Chandler will bring is "The Every Creature Campaign," in which campaign the speaker has personally taken part. In this evangelistic program, The Oriental Missionary Society is concentrating its efforts on country evangelism, reaching those who have heretofore been unevangelized.

The Oriental Missionary Society is an inter-denominational organization which was founded in 1901 by Rev. and Mrs. Chas. E. Cowman. Since that time, about 1200 churches and outstations have been established in Japan, Korea and China, in addition to five Bible Training Institutes, where about 2500 native Christians have been trained to evangelize their own people.

Homemakers' Column

Edited by Miss Marianna Lee Long

SANDWICHES

Sandwiches are an important part of the packed lunch—for school child or for a working adult.

A few general suggestions:

1. Use bread which is 24 hours old—it cuts to better advantage.
2. Cream butter before spreading. Spread evenly but not over the edges.
3. Use the crust of the bread, except for fancy sandwiches.
4. For the school lunch the sandwich should be of a size which is easily handled, not more than three-fourths inch in thickness.
5. Use plenty of filling and spread well to the edge of the bread.
6. Have all filling mixtures of a creamy consistency, easy to spead.
7. Use salad dressing, soft butter, cream, milk, water, meat sauces, soup stock, tomato sauce, fruit juices, honey or maple syrup to combine with the various fillings to make a creamy consistency for easy spreading and to prevent dry sandwiches.
8. Moisture is retained in sandwiches by wrapping them in paraffine wrappers.
9. Bread may be white, whole wheat, graham, rye, oatmeal, raisin, nut, steamed brown, date or prune or combinations.

Suggested Sandwich Fillings

Meat Fillings

1. Sold slices of various types of meats or meat loaves with or without onion or relish.
2. Ground meats of various kinds, separate or combined with gravy, meat sauces, salad dressing, onion or relish.
3. Bacon or chip beef, plain or chopped, and combined with egg, raw carrot, cheese, cabbage, onion or peppers and mixed salad dressing or a meat sauce.

Fish Fillings

Salmon, mackerel, fish flake, or sardines used alone or combined with chopped egg, cheese, cucumber, cabbage, onion or potato and salad dressing or meat sauce.

Egg Fillings

Scrambled or boiled and chopped, used alone or in combination with chopped meat, fish, cheese, or raw carrot, cabbage, peppers, onions, or relish and mixed with salad dressing or with meat sauces.

Cheese Fillings

Chedder or cottage cheese may be used in much the same way and is especially good on rye, or whole wheat bread.

Cream the cheese and combine with any of the following: Pimento, peppers, onions, tomatoes, carrots, cabbage, relish, nuts, preserves of various kinds, honey and fresh, canned or dried fruits or fruit juices.

Peanut Butter Fillings

Thin to a soft creamy consistency with water, milk, cream, fruit juices, honey or maple syrup.

Use plain or combine with preserves of various types, fresh, canned or dried fruits or grated carrots.

Vegetable Fillings

Chopped or grated raw vegetables mixed with salad dressing, used either separately or in combination, such vegetables as carrots, turnips, cucumbers, onions, cabbage, lettuce, peppers, tomatoes, spinach and cress.

Butter Fillings

Cream butter to a creamy consistency and combine with chopped parsley, cress, peppers, such green herbs as chives, basil, savory, sweet marjorum and lemon or orange juice.

Wolfe and Stuck Selected by Jaycees

Carl "Dutch" Wolfe and George Stuck were the names selected this week by the Junior Chamber of Commerce in continuing their "service men" project.

Their names will be posted in the three drug stores, Hamill's and Hinebaugh's restaurant, where persons are asked to write and give any gifts they desire.

Dutch Wolfe is located somewhere in Australia, while Stuck is located with the Army Air corps somewhere in Africa.

The Jaycees announced that the response to Roy Durst and Robert Rice had been the best yet. Last week the names selected were Walter E. Dawson and Richard Gonder.

Emeric Dusic, Jaycee, said they were holding the package for Arthur Lee Lewis because they were unable to find out his address, and they would like to have this information from some member of his family. He emphasized in writing this week that the boys would get the messages about Christmas time, so appropriate messages and gifts for the yuletide would be welcomed.

Fort Lewis, Washington.
September 23, 1942

Received your swell package last Saturday. I wanted to write and thank you then but Uncle Sam had other plans.

Emeric, I can't begin to tell you how much I appreciated hearing from the folks back in Oakland, also for all the fine gifts I received. It sure was a big "shot in the arm" to know that Oakland is "on the beam," as we say in the army.

I only hope the Jaycees realize what a fine job they are doing and I know too that all the fellows in the service really appreciate what you are doing. Only wish I would have time to answer all the letters but that would really be impossible. I have enough to last for several days.

Can't tell you much about what's going on out here on the west coast. They won't let me. Believe it or not but yesterday our band played for President Roosevelt. That's about all I can say now. It surely was a sight for sore eyes to see a B. and O. train so far from home.

Thanks again for everything and I hope that the Jaycees and all the people in Oakland and Garrett county keep up with the service men's project. It's the best thing I've heard of yet. You're really "cookin with gas." Good luck and may your success continue. Hope to be seeing Oakland soon.

As ever,
BOB.

There will be Sunday School at Cherry Grove church, October 4, at 10 o'clock, and preaching at 11 o'clock, by Rev. Higgs, of Mt. Savage.

Speed Limit For Duration Fixed At Thirty-Five

Nation-Wide Gasoline Rationing Scheduled for About Nov. 22

Thirty-five miles an hour was ordered officially last Saturday as the wartime speed limit for all rubber-tired vehicles in this country.

Moreover, after nation-wide gasoline rationing goes into effect about November 22 with a basic ration of slightly under four gallons a week—tires on all cars will have to be submitted to an inspection every sixty days by OPA representatives.

Both measures were decided upon to save tires by making sure they are used carefully, and both were in accord with recommendations of the Baruch committee.

The announcement of the nation-wide thirty-five-mile speed limit was made by Joseph B. Eastman, director of defense transportation, and the new provisions in the gasoline rationing plan were disclosed by Leon Henderson, price administrator. The speed limit order becomes effective today for all vehicles except busses and trucks operated by common carriers in scheduled regular-route service. They have until October 15.

Enforcement of these regulations will be up to state authorities.

Ensign Is Missing In Pacific Naval Action

The Navy has announced that Ensign Bailis Bell, 23, Parkersburg, W. Va., has been reported missing in action somewhere in the Pacific ocean.

Bell is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Bell, of Washington, D. C., and a grandson of the late Clark DeBerry, of near Oakland.

The young man was graduated from the Naval Academy at Annapolis last spring. He learned to fly at Parkersburg.

To Confer Rank of Knight

Garrett Lodge No. 113, Knights of Pythias will have as their guests this Friday evening members of Acme Lodge No. 64, of Gormania, W. Va., at which time the local Pythians will confer the third rank upon a class of six candidates for the Gormania lodge.

Chancellor Commander Clifford Phillips is urging all members to be present, especially members of the third rank degree team. Refreshments will be served.

It was announced that beginning with the meeting Friday night the lodge would convene at 7:30 o'clock.

Red Cross Continues Sewing Projects

The Red Cross headquarters, in the First National Bank building, will be open again every Thursday afternoon from two to five o'clock, it has been announced, when everyone interested in serving their country in this way will be welcome.

The 100 layettes, 1470 garments and 56 dresses have been packed and shipped to headquarters. Rope for wrapping was furnished by A. D. Naylor and Company, while James Hinebaugh donated his time in wrapping and moving the boxes. They were taken to their destination by Francis Sanders.

The workers are now completing toddlers' packs consisting of snowsuit, 2 pairs rompers, 2 undershirts, 10 diapers, 2 sleepers, 1 sweater, 1 pair mittens and 1 beanie. Those engaged in sewing are asked to complete and return as soon as possible. Material for the fourth quota is at headquarters.

Tea will be served after the meeting Thursday, October 8. Those present at the last meeting were Mrs. E. I. Baumgartner, Mrs. O. T. Graser, Mrs. W. W. Grant, Mrs. Hauser and Mrs. W. H. Teets.

NOTICE!

Beginning Tuesday, September 29, we will operate our Cider and Applebutter Factory each Tuesday throughout the season.

Coincidence

Accumulated allowances for dependents of army and navy men will be disbursed by the Treasury at the height of the national congressional campaign this fall. The Army Allowance Division explains that the September-October distribution is a "mere coincidence."

The law was signed on June 23, but several months were required to catalogue dependents and check claims. The allowance is $50 a month for wife, $12 for first child and $10 for each additional child. For a wife and four children, the monthly total is $92, and the accumulated fund for four months will be $368 by October 1.

The House Committee on Military Affairs and the Senate Naval Committee have launched an informal investigation into the delayed distribution.

The records show that the soldier bonus was distributed in September, 1936, two months before the presidential election. Similarly in 1938 and 1940 both AAA and WPA disbursed accumulated grants and benefits in October. In many agricultural counties, the 1940 AAA payments were distributed on the Friday and Saturday before the general elections on Tuesday.

With more than 2,000,000 families eligible, some $300,000,000 accumulated dependents' allowances will be distributed this year in the month preceding the elections on November 3. Congress accepts the coincidence theory pending investigation, but marks the fact that since 1933 no such lavish coincidence has developed in the fall of a non-election year.—Potomacus in Forbes Magazine.

Mrs. Green Denies Charges of Using Undue Influence

Answers Suit Filed by Relatives Of the Late Frank J. Custer

An answer has been filed in circuit court at Allegany county by Mrs. Mahala Green, of near Barton, denying that she used "undue influence" to obtain the estate of Frank J. Custer, of Garrett county, who died June 14. The original suit was filed by Custer's sister and brother, Mrs. Ella Michael and Clement Custer, administrators of Custer's estate.

Edward J. Ryan, attorney for Mrs. Green, asserted that she was a "mother" to Custer during the seven years prior to his death, doing his washing and cooking, caring for him when he was ill and keeping him at her home when members of his family ignored her requests that they provide for him.

Custer asked her to come to Cumberland last January 28, the attorney said, and changed his bank account in the First National Bank into a joint account, payable to "either or the survivor," of his own accord. Custer had more than $2,400 deposited, and the answer denies that the money was inherited from his parents, but was earned by Custer.

Custer, 59, was never married, and it was charged in the first suit that he was a mentally impaired recluse. The suit, filed by Horace P. Whitworth, Sr., was also against the First National Bank, for the Court to prohibit further withdrawals by Mrs. Green.

MISSING A CHANCE TO GIVE THE SOFT ANSWER

Governor O'Conor was not in his nimblest form yesterday (Saturday) when, in the press of other activities of a very busy day, he "did not have time to dignify with a reply" a pert suggestion for the saving of tire rubber. The suggestion, which has its sardonic aspect, came from Mrs. H. Rowland Clapp, a Baltimore voter, who had noted two events of Wednesday. One was the Governor's urgent call for official action throughout the country designed to limit automobiles to thirty-five miles an hour. The other, alackaday, was the passage of the Governor's own car, escorted by motorcycle police with the usual siren, as the official party left the Stadium after the football game that evening.

Perhaps the car was not going as swiftly as these siren-heralded escorts always seem to be traveling, and quite probably the Governor has a persuasive explanation which, with a little more thought, he would cheerfully have found time to give. The question put to him looks like one fully entitled to a direct reply, dignifying or otherwise. The fact is that the same question must be in the minds of a great many people—who also wonder whether these siren-sounding escorts are not being used somewhat more than is actually necessary.—Sunday's Baltimore Sun.

Legion Groups to Install Officers

A joint installation of officers of Proctor Kildow Post No. 71, of Oakland, and Wilson-Fidler Post, of Kitzmiller, American Legion, will take place at the city hall, Oakland, on Tuesday, October 6, it was announced by A. G. Hesen, department vice-commander of the mountain district.

There will be refreshments following the business session. Those to be installed in the Oakland organization are Earl Selders, post commander; Irvin R. Rudy, 1st vice-commander; John H. Carter, 2nd vice-commander; James Cover, sergeant at arms; Francis R. Shaffer, finance officer; James Fazzalari, service officer.

To Stock Partridges In Garrett-Allegany

Squirrel Season Closed Yesterday—Deer Season to Open December 7

Fifty Chukor partridges from the state game farm at Gwynnbrook, near Baltimore, are to be stocked in Allegany and Garrett counties, according to Joseph A. Minke, regional game warden announced. This will be done within the next several days.

The stocking of the birds will be in charge of wardens and the majority of the Chukors will be distributed in the Savage mountain section near the Garrett-Allegany county line. Reports from forest wardens indicate that broods of young partridge have been seen in Garrett county.

Yesterday at sunset marked the close of the early squirrel season in both counties and sportsmen will get a month's rest before the regular upland game season opens November and continues for one month. The open season in November will include rabbits, grouse, quail, squirrel, ringnecked pheasants and Chukor partridge. The season on turkey and dove remain closed in Garrett county.

There will be a lapse of six days between the close of the upland game season, November 30, and the opening of the six-day deer hunting season Monday, December 7. The deer kill last year totaled 169 in Garrett, fifty-two in Allegany, and twenty-two in Washington, for a total of 243. The previous year in Garrett county hunters killed 288.

OUR DUTY

Duty is an old-fashioned word. We moderns may talk glibly of rights, but it was the word "duty" that founded this country, that animated those who built it from the wilderness, that made from people drawn from all nations and all walks of life a united nation.

Duty has a simple meaning—merely to do what we ought to do. Not until we began to hedge it around with self-will, did our people turn from the path of duty to the pleasanter road of "rights." And therein came our period of weakness, the slackening of moral fibre, the days of self-interest that found us unprepared as a nation when the crisis came.

There is no privileged group in this country—no one who has the right to shirk his duty. There is no class above the power of this simple word. Neither worker nor employer is beyond it. Neiter rich nor poor can avoid its tasks. Neither youth nor age deserves special consideration. Neither black nor white can shrink from its commands. Protestant, Jew and Catholic are alike bound by the call of duty.

We are in the midst of a world war between the forces of those who want rights for themselves and for those who want rights for all men who accept their duty toward others. Hitler has stated the Axis case—the master race of Germans are to rule the world with all other peoples working for them. He has declared that there is to be no religion but the worship of the Nazi state. Our Secretary of State has stated our case when he said, "We have always believed—and we believe today—that all peoples, without distinction of race, color or religion, who are prepared and willing to accept the responsibilities of liberty, are entitled to its enjoyment."

Now we must retrace our steps and follow once more the path of duty. We must do what we ought to do. We must live up to what we know to be right, not stand on our rights.

What that duty is, we know. We are a free people, with a heritage of thinking for ourselves, not of servilely following the commands of a dictator. We know what is right and what is wrong. No matter what the religion to which we owe allegiance, we have learned as children from those in spiritual authority over us, what our duty is. We must put into practice what we know.

We have a duty to perform—let us use that duty as our guidepost in all our acts. If we do, the victory will be ours. "He that followeth after righteousness and mercy findeth life, righteousness and honour."

A Suggestion Is Made That Political Committees of Garrett County Arrange Jointly For The Transportation of Voters To The Polls And That Union Meetings With Speakers Of Both Parties Present Be Held At The Same Time And Place.

To the Chairmen of the Democratic and Republican State Central Committees, Oakland, Maryland.

Gentlemen:—

It is our duty to save tires and gasoline to help win this great war, therefore I suggest that the Republican and Democratic State Central Committees combine to hire busses or other transportation to carry voters to the polls November 3rd. By careful planning tires and gasoline may be saved and expenses reduced. Surely, while our young men are marching to war, we Democrats and Republicans at home can ride to the polls together.

Further: If political meetings are held this year, as they should be, please hold them at the same time and places—union meetings—speakers of both parties. We want to hear both sides. The advantages are obvious.

Sincerely yours,
CHARLES E. HOYE.

Sang Run, Md., September 21, 1942.

A Garrett County Republican Calls On His Party Associates To Support the Party's Nominees At The Coming Election. As There Is No Good Reason Why Anyone In The Party Should Split His Ballot.

To the Editor of The Republican.

Dear Sir:—Now that the smoke of the Republican Primary Election battle has cleared away, I would like to suggest that we settle down to the business of electing the straight Republican ticket in November.

I know the opposing party is expecting us Republicans to elect at least two or three of their candidates here in the county.

Since they chose that party for their political aspirations and contribute nothing, financially or otherwise, to the success of our party, I can see no logical reason to split my ticket and vote for any of them. We have just as good candidates in our party, intellectually and otherwise.

And remember, the whole world loves a good loser—a real sport.

A REPUBLICAN.

Value of Healthy Teeth Far-Reaching

The primary purpose of caring for one's teeth is, of course, the maintenance of health. But there are other reasons for exercising this care. Some of these are discussed in a bulletin issued by the American Dental Association and quoted here by Dr. Richard C. Leonard, Chief of the Division of Oral Hygiene, Maryland State Department of Health.

"The immediate value of healthy teeth is quite obvious. Any one who has suffered from bad teeth can testify to the discomfort, pain and distress that they can bring.

"Physicians are unanimous in believing that a healthy dental condition is of the utmost importance to the general health. People who have good teeth know that the effort to keep them in good condition is more than worthwhile.

"But there are other values of healthy teeth which are not often enough considered. These values should be kept in mind, especially by the parents of small children. Parents can protect their offspring from certain sources of unhappiness in later years by providing them with early and regular dental care.

"Of primary importance perhaps is the value of good teeth to the appearance. No single asset to facial good looks transcends strong, clean, even teeth. The contours of the jaws are largely determined by the structure and position of the teeth.

"Loss of teeth impairs the facial appearance, sometimes seriously, causing untold humiliation. The person with poor dental equipment may be bashful, self-conscious and without confidence.

"The person who, on the other hand, can smile with the knowledge that his teeth are in excellent condition is more likely to be self-confident, and sure of himself. He need not fear that his smile will reveal the unsightly evidence of neglect.

"The economic value of healthy teeth is considerable. If the teeth are kept in good condition from earliest childhood, expensive repairs will rarely be required. In any case, the sooner defects are cared for, the less the expense will be in the long run.

"The appearance of the teeth can also have an economic effect. Success in business life often depends on a pleasing personality, in which healthy teeth play a prominent part."

Purchases Deer Park Hotel and Woods Properties

Thomas J. Johnson, lumber and coal dealer, of Morgantown, W. Va., has completed negotiations for the purchase of the Deer Park Hotel property, consisting of 356 acres, and the Woods property, west of town on the Swallow Falls road, consisting of 1,700 acres.

The purchase price was not made public.

The Deer Park hotel property was purchased from the National Slovak Society, while the Woods estate was purchased from John H. Hoffman, receiver of one of the defunct Morgantown banks. Earlier this spring arrangements were almost complete for the sale of the Deer Park Hotel to the "Defenders of the Faith" of Mt. Lake Park and Pt. Pleasant, W. Va., but C. A. Maddy, their business manager, suffered a heart attack and has been confined to his bed since that time.

Mr. Johnson said he would set up a sawmill on the Deer Park hotel property in the near future and cut the oak timber. He said he also planned to salvage the lumber in the hotel buildings.

DIARY OF THE WAR

FRIDAY—Russian relief assaults gave Stalingrad a rising hope of survival as full month of direct attack ended. Willkie reported Russians seemed cool and dissatisfied over lack of second allied front. At Stalingrad Reds were holding in streets and were counter-attacking in northwest of city. U. S. Navy reported loss of destroyer Jarvis and auxiliary transport during Solomons operations. Fresh patrol skirmishes were reported in New Guinea and Allied planes bombed Jap bases at Buna and Kokoda. RAF battered Nazi U-boat works at Flensburg.

SATURDAY—Battle in Stalingrad streets was rising to new pitch of fury and northwest of the town the Reds were gaining some ground in counter-offensive. Britain announced that the German air strength had been exhausted in the big convoy battle, announcing that 40 German planes and six U-boats were knocked out. Allies lost a destroyer and mine-sweeper and four planes. Japs declared one of their subs was in Atlantic. RAF bombers cut short a Quisling speech at Oslo, Norway. French declared Allies were blocking Dakar. Navy announced series of army bomber attacks on Jap ships and shore installations in Solomon islands.

SUNDAY — British forces which marched into Madagascar's capital sent a column eastward to meet another British force moving from there. In Egypt Allied heavy and medium bombers attacked Tobruk. Reds had penetrated main German positions north of Stalingrad but Nazis claimed all attacks repulsed. Russians saw chance to drive enemy out of city. Willkie asked for earliest possible second front. U. S. Navy launched the new Lexington a year ahead of schedule.

MONDAY—Russian counter-attacks drove Germans from several streets of Stalingrad and the offensive to the north was a growing menace to Nazi left flank. Germans insisted that fighting was in center of city. Fresh German assaults in Terek valley in Caucasus were thrown back. Reds claimed gains on two other sectors. Germany declared Russian casualties in war thus far were 14 million. MacArthur's bombers sank a Jap ship in Rabaul, New Britain, and another off New Guinea. Willkie reached China in diplomatic tour. U. S. planes hit at Balkan capitals. U. S. planes again bomb Japs in China, resuming offense after lapse of nearly a month.

TUESDAY—Germans with 36,000 troops inside Stalingrad gained ground in some sections and lost it in others and the bloody contest continued with both sides acknowledging heavy losses. Reds declared they held initiative in some areas. Canadian and U. S. planes raided a Jap base on Kiska in Aleutians wrecking one ship, strafing two subs, destroying 7 enemy planes and killing 150 or more. Allied flyers in China extended operations on Jap bases. Nazis claimed to have sunk three transports and a destroyer but there was no confirmation. U. S. Solomons flyers bagged 42 Jap planes in four days without loss to themselves.

WEDNESDAY—Red army beat off all Nazi blows on Stalingrad and enemy suffered heavy losses. Reds continued to hammer at Nazi flank above the city and the Volga fleet was still using its guns on Axis troops above city. Allied troops in a counter-thrust against Japs in New Guinea recaptured a ridge and continued to advance. Churchill condemned speculation on second front. British officially denied Nazi claim that U-boats bagged 3 U. S. troop ships. President Camacho of Mexico placed that country on a full war footing. Arms output in August showed 8 percent increase but was under the goal for the month.

THURSDAY — Germans were reported gaining slightly in Stalingrad area but Red army smashed Rumanian division in Caucasus. Allies or New Guinea recaptured Nauro from Japs in swift drive advancing some ten miles. Hitler in a speech claimed victory for Axis powers and promised German people Stalingrad but he seemed less confident than year ago. Churchill placed losses at Dieppe command raid at about 3,500, nearly half of total force.

COMMISSIONERS AND TREASURER AGREE TO WAIT

Will Not Bring Threatened Civil Action Until After Treasurer Makes Final Settlement

An agreement of "no action at this time" was arrived at in regard to a threatened civil action against Jesse J. Ashby, county treasurer, by the County Commissioners, following a conference of all those concerned yesterday.

The County Commissioners had employed E. Milton Altfeld, Baltimore attorney, several days ago, to bring suit against the U. S. Fidelity and Guaranty Company, Baltimore, Ashby's bonding company, in an effort to obtain $2,884.21, which was shown to be due the County Commissioners by the county treasurer for the period May 8, 1937, to July 1, 1942, according to the audit figures of Wooden and Benson.

Altfeld advised the bonding company by letter that unless payment was made within five days, suit would be brought. However, he came to Oakland yesterday to investigate, accompanied by James L. Benson. There was a conference with Ashby's attorneys, E. Ray Jones and Walter W. Dawson, then a conference with the County Commissioners, then a conference of the entire group, where it was agreed that no action would be taken at this time and none would be taken until the final settlement of Ashby after he goes out of office and concludes his work.

At the conclusion Mr. Ashby wrote a letter to Altfeld, outlinging his position in the matter and the letter is being printed by agreement of both sides. The letter follows:

September 30, 1942.

Mr. E. Milton Altfeld,
Attorney at Law,
Baltimore, Maryland.

Dear Sir:

I have been in receipt of copy of your letter of September 23rd, 1942, to United States Fidelity & Guaranty Company relative to an amount alleged to be due from me for the period of May 8th, 1937, to July 31st, 1942, and advising me that you have been instructed to enter suit in behalf of the County Commissioners of Garrett County.

In reply I wish to advise that my term of office will expire on the 1st day of January, 1943, and as soon as possible thereafter I shall proceed to collect all taxes then unpaid and place all of my accounts in shape for a final settlement with the County Commissioners and the Comptroller of Maryland. At this final settlement all records will be made available to said officials or to certified or public accountants selected by them, just as they have always been, and a full and complete accounting made. If this accounting or any investigation made discloses that my accounts are short in any amount and I am unable to present satisfactory and legal proof that I am entitled to credit for the same I will immediately pay said amount to the proper officials. No suit then against my bond will be necessary.

I have made this statement and offer repeatedly during the course of the investigation made of the conduct of my office. At no time have I had any intention or desire to conceal anything and I shall welcome a complete and full settlement of this matter.

I feel that any suit at this time or before there is an opportunity for said final settlement would be premature, and could not definitely dispose of the matter.

Very truly yours,
J. J. ASHBY, Jr., Treas.

Witness:
JOHN W. WEBER

Navy Enlistments Increasing But Many More Men Needed

Lieutenant K. B. Emmons, Officer in charge of Navy Recruiting for the State of Maryland, announced today that Navy enlistment interest is continuing to increase as evidenced by the hundreds of requests now being received for the new Navy Booklet entitled, "What Kind of a Job Can I Get in the Navy."

This 28 page illustrated booklet is free to the public and shows how a man may find his place in this war and fight where he fits.

The Navy has a place for young men and older men too, stated Lieutenant Emmons, remarking that men between the ages of 17 and 50 are eligible for enlistment. Skilled men of all kinds are urgently needed to enlist in the Navy—to help man our rapidly expanding two-ocean fighting fleet. The Lieutenant further stated that men with trade experience may receive Petty Officer ratings with increased pay at once, while the Navy will train men that are unskilled to become a specialist in one of the 49 trades or vocations available.

Lieutenant Emmons suggests that every man of military age find out about the opportunities of Naval Service and learn if he may serve. He said there is no obligation and a man may fill out an application even taking the physical examination to determine if he is eligible for the Navy, and still not be obliged to enlist.

The Lieutenant reminds men that even though an Induction Notice under Selective Service has been received, a man may still volunteer—enlist in the Navy up to the time of his actual induction.

Gorman Citizens Object to Probable Closing of School

Send Petition to Board of Education With 44 Signatures on It

The possibility of closing the Gorman school and transporting the pupils to Gormania, W. Va., caused a storm of objection among the Gorman citizens, culminating in a petition which was recently sent to the Board of Education, it was learned yesterday.

The change which was contemplated by the Board of Education because of a teacher shortage, according to F. E. Rathbun, was not carried out as an additional teacher was secured, relieving the situation.

What the eventual outcome will be, is not known at the present time.

The petition was signed by 44 persons which included three seventh grade pupils and two members of the Board of Trustees. They declared they "positively object to the transferring of our school to the state of West Virginia," and said that "as taxpayers of Maryland we are entitled to have our school in Maryland and to have Mrs. Phyllis Williams as teacher as she has already been assigned this school. They added that "as patrons we will not send our children to West Virginia and as pupils we will not go to West Virginia."

At present there are 18 to 20 pupils in the school and the petitioners say that three more families are moving into Gorman with eight children to add to the list.

Mr. Rathbun, in a letter to the petitioners said that there was no pressing need at this time for a teacher in Garrett county schools as Mrs. Alta Duling had been added to the list, and there were no plans at this time for the closing of the Gorman school. He added, however, that the pupils whose homes were in Garrett county and who were now being transported to Gormania would have the privilege of continuing to do so, with similar privileges for others who would like to do so.

He assured the people their petition would be presented to the Board of Education at its next meeting.

The total cost of the Gorman Elementary school is $2,039 annually, Mr. Rathbun said. He said he had information which showed the pupils could be transported to Gormania, paying all transportation costs, etc., for $600, meaning a saving to the taxpayers of about $1,400.

He declared he did not believe persons were interested in keeping public expenditures down as low as possible, consistent with good government, especially when such decreases in expenditures of public funds affected public agencies around their own neighborhood.

He pointed out that leading educators are of the opinion that educational opportunities for children in graded schools having two or more teachers are greatly increased over the former one-teacher ungraded type of rural school.

Mrs. Beulah Stevey Recommended For Parole By Moser

State Parole Director Herman M. Moser, recommended to Governor O'Conor on Tuesday the parole of Mrs. Beulah W. Stevey, twenty-three-year-old Garrett county mother, serving two years in the Maryland Woman's prison for manslaughter.

Mrs. Stevey was convicted by the Garrett County Circuit Court following the fatal shooting of her husband on October 23, 1941.

In recommending Mrs. Stevey and five other prisoners for paroles, Moser told O'Conor that he felt she had "shot her husband in desperation after living with him for nine years in terrible conditions." The parole investigation disclosed that Mrs. Stevey had been "badly mistreated and that county officials were not opposed to her release."

Vacancies In Mountain Lake Park Official Family Filled

A vacancy in the City Council of Mountain Lake Park and also a vacancy for Town Treasurer were filled by appointmetnt at the last meeting of the Mayor and Council of the Park last Thursday night.

Rev. Olonzo Fike was sworn in as the Town Treasurer to fill the vacancy left by Charles V. Harvey's resignation.

Melvin Calhoun was also sworn in as a member of Council to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. Flora Murphy who recently resigned due to ill health.

Civilian Defense literature has been distributed to members of Council by Mayor C. Oscar Hall, and has instructed the Boy Scout troop to distribute these pamphlets to every resident in the Park.

At the suggestion of H. L. Bittner, Council president, a tractor was purchased to be used in putting the streets in shape and to be used as a snow plow for the Park streets the coming winter.

The senate passed the farm bloc amendment on anti-inflation bill.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL

SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

Lesson for October 4

FAITH IN CHRIST AS OUR PERSONAL SAVIOUR

LESSON TEXT—Acts 16:13-15; Romans 5:1-11.

GOLDEN TEXT—Therefore being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ. Romans 5:1.

Salvation through Christ is the way, and the only way, into the Christian life; therefore, there could be no other subject more suitable than that of our lesson to begin our brief series of "Studies in the Christ Life."

Our lesson for today tells us first how one comes into a personal saving faith, and then gives Paul's statement of the result of saving faith in the changed life of the believer.

I. The Opened Heart (Acts 16:13-15).

Paul and his companions on their important errand for the Master, bearing the news of the gospel, had first known His guidance by hindrance, by the closed door; and then by the direction of the Spirit into the open door, revealed in the vision of the man of Macedonia.

Here in Philippi they found not only an open door, but an open heart, one which the Holy Spirit had made ready for the preaching of the Word of God. "Faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of God" (Rom. 10:17).

Note that while Lydia was a woman of ability and culture, and a worshiper of God, yet she needed the message of redemption through faith in Christ.

Lydia evidenced the truth of her profession of faith by open testimony and by a desire for fellowship in putting forward the work of God (v. 15). Salvation is by faith apart from works, but a saving faith is always one which works.

II. The Transformed Life (Rom. 5:1-11).

This lesson affords an opportunity for teachers to learn and present to classes much needed truth along the line of Bible doctrine. There is not enough teaching of this type. People seem to prefer a little devotional study, or the discussion of current events, possibly in the light of prophecy. These are good, but it is of first importance that Christians be informed regarding doctrine.

We find in this Scripture the glorious transformation of life which comes to the one who takes Christ as Saviour, as we note the seven results of God's justifying grace.

1. Peace (v. 1). The human heart craves spiritual peace and knows that it can be found only when sin has been dealt with and put away. For sin cannot be condoned or ignored. There must be justification, and that can come only through Jesus Christ our Lord.

2. Grace (v. 2). A peace with God brings the peace of God into our hearts. We have that peace because we have by faith come into the place of God's favor. No longer strangers or outsiders, we have come in ("have access") to His place of grace and favor.

3. Hope (vv. 2b, 5a). Our faith not only brings present peace, but causes us to see future glory. Such a hope puts us in a right attitude toward God, and the things of life, including tribulations (v. 3), are rightly valued and understood. Even our troubles become evidences of His love in which we may glory.

4. Love (vv. 5b-8). God's love which gave His Son to die for our sins becomes the "shed abroad" portion of every believer in Him. It was an unmeasurably great love, and it all centers in Calvary.

5. Saved From Wrath (v. 9). The wrath of God is minimized or denied in much modern theology, but it is nonetheless a very "real and awful affection of the divine nature." But the Christ who died for sinners will surely deliver the saints from the wrath of God against sin.

6. Reconciled (v. 10). The death of Christ, which justified man has accepted by faith, brought reconciliation. Atonement had been made for sin, and the One who died is alive again, a living Saviour.

7. Joy (v. 11). And why not? Such a revelation of what our redemption includes should make every believer in Christ rejoice in God. The One who is the sinner's judge is the believer's joy! That is the glorious transformation which takes place when one believes.

Some unbeliever who has read these lines thus far must by now be eager to have these things true in his life. Well, why not? "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved" (Acts 16:31). Then read again those majestic and joyful words in Romans 5:1: "Therefore being justified by faith, we have"—yes, I have "peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ."

The Assistant secretary of the Navy in speakng to marine and shipbuilding workers declared "We are still losing this war. It will take all we've got to win."

KEMPTON

Party Honoring Mrs. G. P. Smith

Mrs. Estel Ashfield entertained with a party honoring Mrs. G. P. Smith, who expects to move to Davis, West Va. The guests enjoyed a peanut hunt with Mrs. Leon Steyer winning the prize, charades and other games, and a delicious plate luncheon made up the evening's entertainment. Other guests were Mrs. G. A. VALUABLE REAL ESTATE

In Garrett County, Maryland, Near Cranesville, W. Va.

Under and by virtue of the powers vested in me by the last will and testaments of Marshall H. Frankhouser and Elizabeth A. Frankhouser, his wife, and orders of the Orphans Court for Garrett County, Maryland, I hereby give notice that on Wednesday, October 21, 1942.

At the Hour of One o'Clock P. M.,

upon the property to be sold, I will offer at public auction all of the home farm of said Marshall H. and Elizabeth A. Frankhauser, composed of the following parcels, to-wit:

1. All that parcel of land containing 70 acres, more or less, embracing Military Lot No. 1402 and 20 acres at the West end of said lot, and being known and distinguished as the tract of land called "Tudor," which was conveyed unto the said Marshall H. Frankhouser by deed from Israel M. Frankhouser dated April 8, 1890, and recorded in Liber E. Z. T., No. 15, folio 713, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland.

2. All of those two parcels of land, lying and being partly in Garrett County, Maryland, and partly in Preston County, West Virginia, the first containing 23 7-8 acres and the second 4 acres, and being the same which were conveyed unto the said Marshall H. Frankhouser and Elizabeth A. Frankhouser, his wife, as tenants in common, by deed from Edgar F. Jenkins and wife, dated May 26, 1916, and recorded in Liber E. Z. T., No. 70, folio 391, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, and Deed Book No. 147, page 472, Records of Preston County, West Virginia.

3. Also all the right, title and interest of the said Marshall H. Frankhouser in and to the use of that certain spring of water as described in a deed from Bert C. Feather and wife to Edgar F. Jenkins bearing date April 22, 1901, and recorded in Liber E. Z. T., No. 40, folio 398, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, with right of ingress and regress for the purpose of laying and maintaining a pipe-line therefrom.

About 50 acres of said farm are cleared and under cultivation, and the balance is pasture and wooded land. It is improved by a good dwelling, two barns and other usual farm buildings. It is located about one mile from Cranesville, West Va., and four miles from Sang Run, Maryland. It is a very excellent farm.

TERMS OF SALE—One-third cash on day of sale, one-third in six months and one-third in twelve months, or all cash, at the option of the purchaser.

Possession upon ratification of the sale by the Orphans Court for Garrett County.

MAUD E. GROVES, Executrix,
LAYTONSVILLE, MD.

N. B.—At the same time there will also be offered for sale all of that other parcel of land, containing 50 acres, more or less, which was conveyed to said Marshall H. Frankhouser by deed from Henry Spindler and wife, dated May 3, 1910, and recorded in Deed Book 127, page 290, Records of Preston County, West Virginia. This property is situated in Preston County, West Virginia, about two miles from the above home farm of said Marshall H. Frankhouser and wife, and one mile from Cranesville, along the Lake Ford Road. It adjoins the lands of Joseph C. Feather, H. W. Ringer, Ora Teets and Thomas Haigh.

Following the sale of the above real estate Elliott and Friend, Cranesville, W. Va., will sell at public auction all of the personal properay on said farm, consisting of live stock, farm machinery, household furniture, etc.

In District No. 1, Garrett County, Maryland.

Under and by virtue of a power of sale contained in a deed executed by the Manor Mining and Manufacturing Company, a corporation, conveying certain property to the Hamill Coal and Coke Company, a corporation, and reserving, therein, a vendor's lien as security for part of the purchase price for said property, which said deed is dated January 1, 1921, and recorded in Liber E. Z. T., No. 79, folio 527, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, default having been made in the payment of the indebtedness secured by said vendor's lien as provided by the terms thereof, and said lien having been assigned to the undersigned for the purpose of foreclosure, I hereby give notice that on Saturday, October 17, 1942.

At the Hour of Eleven o'Clock A. M.,

in front of the Court House in the town of Oakland, Garrett County, Maryland, I will offer and sell at public auction all that piece, parcel or tract of land situate, lying and being in Election District No. 1 of Garrett County, Maryland, which was conveyed unto the said Hamill Coal and Coke Company by the said Manor Mining and Manufacturing Company by deed dated January 1, 1921, and recorded in Liber E. Z. T., No. 79, folio 527, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, containing 1048.54 acres, more or less, excepting, however, that part of the surface of said land which is described in said deed as the "Chas. Stark Surface", containing 52 acres, more or less, and also a right of way as set forth in said deed.

Excepting, also, the following pieces or parcels of the above land which have heretofore been conveyed away by said Hamill Coal and Coke Company: to The Board of County School Commissioners of Garrett County by deed dated January 14, 1921, and recorded in Liber E. Z. T., No. 79, folio 579, containing 1.5 acres, more or less; to Harry A. Crichton, by deed dated January 14, 1921, and recorded in Liber E. Z. T., No. 79, folio 462, containing 8.75 acres, more or less; to William Sharpless et al., by deed dated May 21, 1925, and recorded in Liber E. Z. T., No. 89, folio 410, containing 46.8 acres of surface, more or less, and to Herbert D. Sharpless, by deed dated August 14, 1929, and recorded in Liber E. Z. T., No. 100, folio 50, containing 15.75 acres of surface, more or less.

There is remaining and hereby offered for sale 1038.54 acres of coal and mining rights, and 923.74 acres of surface, more or less.

This land is located along the Vindex branch of the Western Maryland Railroad and Three Forks Run, about one mile from Vindex, in Garrett County, Maryland, adjoining the properties of the Johnstown Coal and Coke Company and Garrett Coal Corporation, and is underlaid with the Clarion, Lower Kittanning and Freeport seams of coal.

Openings have been made and mining operations have been carried on in previous years. Most of the surface is timbered.

TERMS OF SALE—Cash on day of sale.

FOR

TREASURER

GARRETT COUNTY

I was born and reared on a farm in District No. 5, Garrett County, where I lived until twenty-five years ago when I moved to Gortner, which is between Red House and Oakland, where I have owned and operated a general store and poultry farm until last year when I sold out.

With the experience I have had I feel I am qualified to perform the duties of Treasurer to the satisfaction of all taxpayers of the county.

Earnestly soliciting the support and influence of all the voters of the county I am,

Very sincerely yours,

WILLIAM E. SPOERLEIN

PROCLAMATION OF THE GOVERNOR OF MARYLAND DIRECTING THE PUBLICATION OF BILLS PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE.

WHEREAS, at the January session of the General Assembly of Maryland, held in the year 1941, the following Acts were passed, providing for the submission of amendments to the Constitution of the State to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection, namely:

CHAPTER 337

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Amendments to the Constitution", relating to the advertisement or publication of amendments to the Constitution, and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Amendments to the Constitution", the same, if adopted by the legally qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

1. The General Assembly may propose Amendments to this Constitution; provided that each Amendment shall be embraced in a separate Bill, embodying the Article or Section, as the same will stand when amended and passed by three-fifths of all the members elected to each of the two Houses, by yeas and nays, to be entered on the Journals with the proposed Amendment. The Bill or Bills proposing amendment or amendments shall be published by order of the Governor, in at least two newspapers, in each County, where so many may be published, and where not more than one may be published, then in that newspaper, and in three newspapers published in the City of Baltimore, once a week for three weeks immediately preceding the next ensuing general election, at which the proposed amendment or amendments shall be submitted, in a form to be prescribed by the General Assembly, to the qualified voters of the State for adoption or rejection. Provided, however, the General Assembly may provide for publishing any proposed amendment or amendments in pamphlet form, and for making said pamphlets available to the registered voters of the State in addition to publication in the newspapers. The votes cast for and against said proposed amendment or amendments, severally, shall be returned to the Governor, in the manner prescribed in other cases, and if it shall appear that the Governor has a majority of votes cast at said election on said amendment or amendments, severally, were cast in favor thereof, the Governor shall, by his proclamation, declare the said amendment or amendments having received said majority of votes, to have been adopted by the people of Maryland as part of the Constitution thereof, and thenceforth said amendment or amendments shall be part of the said Constitution. When two or more amendments shall be submitted in the manner aforesaid to the voters of this State at the same election, they shall be so submitted as that each amendment shall be voted on separately.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That said aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall, at the next general election for members of the General Assembly of Maryland in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State, for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against proposed amendment, as directed by said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article 14.

AN ACT to amend Section 21 of Article 4, title "Judiciary Department", sub-title "Part III Circuit Courts", the Constitution of this State, providing for the residential qualification and method of selection of Associate Judges of the Third Judicial Circuit and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of this State for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That three-fifths of all members elected to each of the two houses concurring) the following section be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 21 of Article 4, of the Constitution of Maryland, title "Judiciary Department", sub-title "Part III Circuit Courts", the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters thereof as herein provided to become Section 21 of Article 4 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

21. For each of the said circuits, excepting the eighth, the second, the third, the sixth and the seventh there shall be a chief judge and two associate judges, to be styled judges of the Circuit Court, to be selected or appointed as herein provided, and for the second circuit, the third circuit, the sixth circuit and the seventh circuit, there shall be a chief judge and three associate judges, to be styled judges of the Circuit Court, to be elected or appointed as herein provided. And no two of said associate judges, for any of the said circuits, except the third, sixth and seventh circuits, shall, at the time of their election or appointment or during the terms for which they have been elected or appointed, reside in the same county. If two or more persons shall be candidates for associate judge in the same county in any of the circuits, except the third, sixth and seventh circuits, that one only in said county shall be declared elected who has the highest number of votes in the circuit. In case any two candidates for associate judge in any of the circuits, except the third, sixth and seventh circuits, residing in the same county shall have an equal number of votes greater than any other candidates for associate judge in the circuit, it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for one associate judge; but the person residing in any other county of the circuit and who has the highest number of votes shall be declared elected. The said judges shall hold not less than two terms of the Circuit Court in each of the counties composing their respective circuits at such times as are now or may hereafter be prescribed to which jurors shall be summoned; and in those counties where only two such terms are held, two other and intermediate terms, to which jurors shall not be summoned, they may alter or fix the times for holding any or all terms, until otherwise prescribed, and shall adopt rules to the end that all business not requiring the interposition of the jury shall be, as far as practicable, disposed of at such intermediate terms. One judge in each of the above circuits, including the second, the third, sixth and seventh circuits, shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of any business, and the said judges or any of them may hold special terms of their courts whenever in their discretion the business of the several counties renders such terms necessary.

In the Third Circuit, two of said Associate Judges shall at all times be bona fide residents of Baltimore County and one of said Associate Judges or the Chief Judge be a bona fide resident of Harford County, and said Judges shall have been such residents six months prior to their appointment or election.

The additional associate judge for the second circuit herein provided for shall be a resident of Cecil County, shall be appointed by the Governor after the expiration of six (6) months after the adoption of this amendment and shall serve until the first general election for members of the General Assembly that shall be held in said circuit subsequent to the adoption of this amendment, at which election his successor shall be elected by the qualified voters of Caroline, Cecil, Kent, Queen Anne's and Talbot Counties, constituting the second circuit. The judge so appointed shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit, and the judge so elected shall be subject to the same constitutional provision, hold his office for the same term of years, receive the same compensation, and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit.

The additional judge for the sixth circuit herein provided for and elected by the qualified voters of Frederick and Montgomery Counties at the 1938 election in accordance with the terms of the Constitutional Amendment heretofore submitted and adopted shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the sixth circuit and his successor shall be appointed and/or elected in accordance with the constitutional provisions relating to judges. The Chief Judge may be elected from either Frederick or Montgomery Counties, but when the Chief Judge is elected from Frederick County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said county and the two remaining associate judges shall be residents of Montgomery County and when the Chief Judge is elected from Montgomery County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said Montgomery County and the remaining two associate judges residents of Frederick County. In case any candidate or candidates for associate judge at any judicial election held in the third and sixth judicial circuits shall receive sufficient votes to cause such candidate or candidates to be declared elected, but the election of such candidate or candidates would cause more associate judges than herein permitted to reside in any county of said circuits, then and in that event only that candidate or those candidates, as the case may be, residing in said county in the order of the votes received shall be declared elected whose election would provide the permitted number of associate judges from said county and the candidate or candidates as the case may be, residing in the other county, and not similarly disqualified who shall have the next highest number of votes in said election shall be declared elected. If by reason of such a condition or by reason of an equal vote for two or more candidates a sufficient number of associate judges duly qualified as to residence as above set out should not be elected at any election in said third and sixth judicial circuits, then it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for such unfilled office or offices.

The additional associate judge for the seventh circuit herein provided for shall be appointed by the Governor immediately after the adoption of this amendment and shall serve until the first general election for members of the General Assembly that shall be held in said circuit subsequent to the adoption of this amendment, at which election his successor shall be elected by the qualified voters of Prince George's, Charles, Calvert and St. Mary's Counties. No member of the General Assembly of 1939, otherwise qualified, shall be ineligible for appointment or election as such associate judge by reason of his membership in the General Assembly. The judge so appointed shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the seventh circuit, and the judge so elected and his successors shall, subject to the same constitutional provisions, hold office for the same term of years, receive the same compensation, and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the seventh circuit. No two of the associate judges for the seventh circuit shall at the time of their election or appointment or during the term for which they may have been elected or appointed reside in the same county, except in Prince George's County, in which county two of said associate judges for the said circuit shall reside at the time of their appointment or election and during the term for which they may have been appointed or elected unless the chief judge of said circuit shall already reside in said county, in which event only one of said associate judges shall reside in Prince George's County and Prince George's County shall at all time have two resident Judges and no more, such Judges to be either the Chief Judge of the Seventh Circuit and one associate Judge or two associate Judges of said Circuit. In case any candidate or candidates for associate judge at any judicial election held in the seventh judicial circuit shall receive sufficient votes to cause such candidate or candidates to be elected, but the election of such candidate or candidates would cause more associate judges than herein permitted to reside in any county of said circuit, then and in that event only that candidate or those candidates, as the case may be, residing in said county in the order of the votes received shall be declared elected whose election would provide the permitted number of associate judges from said county and the candidate or candidates, as the case may be, residing in some other county, and not similarly disqualified, who shall have the next highest number of votes in said election shall be declared elected. If, by reason of such a condition or by reason of an equal vote for two or more candidates a sufficient number of associate judges duly qualified as to residence as above set out should not be elected at any election in said seventh judicial circuit, then it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for such unfilled office or offices.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State shall be, at the next general election to be held in this State in the year 1942, submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of this State, and at the said general election, the vote on the said proposed amendment shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment" as now prescribed by law, and immediately after said election, due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment as directed by said Article 14 of the Constitution.

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 15 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", relating to the salary of Clerks of Courts and Registrars of Wills and providing for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifth of all the members of each of the Two Houses concurring), That the following amendment be and it is hereby proposed to Section 15 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Section 15 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland:

15. The General Assembly shall provide a simple and uniform system of charges in the offices of Clerks of Courts and Registrars of Wills, in the Counties of this State and the City of Baltimore, and for the collection thereof; provided, the amount of compensation to any of the said officers in the various Counties and in the City of Baltimore shall be such as may be prescribed by law.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing Section, hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State, shall, at the election to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, upon each ballot there shall be printed the words: "For Constitutional Amendment" and "Against Constitutional Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against proposed amendment, as directed by said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article 14

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland title "Legislative Department" by adding a new section to be known as Section 10B, providing for the taking of property by the State Roads Commission under certain circumstances; and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members elected to each of the two Houses concurring), That the following new Section be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Article III, title "Legislative Department" of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, the same to be inserted after Section 10A and to be numbered 10B, and if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, said section shall become a part of Article III of the Constitution of Maryland.

10B. The General Assembly shall enact no law authorizing private property to be taken for public use without just compensation, to be agreed upon between the parties or awarded by a jury, being first paid or tendered to the party entitled to such compensation, except that where such property in the judgment of the State Roads Commission is needed by the State for highway purposes, the General Assembly may provide that such property may be taken immediately upon payment therefor to the owner or owners thereof by said State Roads Commission, or into Court, such amount as said State Roads Commission shall estimate to be of the fair value of said property, provided such legislation also requires the payment of any further sum that may subsequently be awarded by a jury.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the foregoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland, shall, at the election to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of the directions contained in Article XIV of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "FOR CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT" and "AGAINST CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment as directed by said Article XIV. and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article XIV. (Approved: April 28, 1941.)

CHAPTER 695

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 15 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", regulating the period that General Assembly may continue its session and compensation of the members thereof, and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following amendment be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Section 15 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

15. The General Assembly may continue its session so long as in its judgment the public interest may require, for a period not longer than ninety days; and each member thereof shall receive a compensation of One Thousand Dollars ($1,000) per annum, payable quarterly, with a deduction of fifteen dollars per diem for each day of unexcused absence from any session; and he shall also receive such mileage as may be allowed by law, not exceeding twenty cents per mile; and the presiding officer of each House shall receive an additional compensation of Two hundred and fifty ($250) dollars per annum. When the General Assembly shall be convened by Proclamation of the Governor, the session shall not continue longer than thirty days, but no additional compensation other than mileage and other allowances provided by law shall be paid members of the General Assembly for Special Sessions.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That said aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall, at the next general election to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State, for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, upon each ballot there shall be printed the words: "For Constitutional Amendment" and "Against Constitutional Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against proposed amendment, as directed by said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article 14.

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Article IV of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, adding thereto a new section, to be known as Section 39A, to be under new subtitle "Part IV-A Juvenile Courts", and to follow immediately after Section 39 of said Article, providing for the establishment of ders or denominations, and providing for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following new section, to be known as Section 39A, to be under new subtitle "Part IV-A Juvenile Courts", and to follow immediately after Section 39 of said Article, be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Article IV of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State as herein provided, to become a part of said Article IV of said Constitution and to be numbered and sub-titled as aforesaid:

PART IV-A JUVENILE COURTS

39A. A Juvenile Court is hereby created for Baltimore City, and the General Assembly by law may establish a Juvenile Court for any other incorporate city or town or any county of the State. The court hereby created, and any other court established hereunder by law, shall be a court of record, and shall have exclusive jurisdiction within such city, town or county over all criminal offenses other than those punishable by death or life imprisonment committed by any person under eighteen years of age, and such additional jurisdiction as may be from time to time prescribed by the General Assembly by law. The General Assembly by law shall prescribe, and from time to time may alter,

1. The number, qualifications, tenure and method of selection of the judge or judges of such courts, and their powers, duties and compensation, but the salary or compensation of any judge of any such court shall not be reduced during his continuance in office;

2. The right of appeal from such court;

3. The number, qualifications, tenure, methods of selection, duties and compensation of all clerks, bailiffs, probation officers or other employes of such courts; and

4. Any other matters relating to such courts.

In the event of any inconsistency between the provisions of this Section and any of the other provisions of this Constitution, the provisions of this Section shall prevail, and such other provisions shall be repealed or abrogated to the extent of such inconsistency, except Section 25-A of Article III. Until the General Assembly has established a Juvenile Court for any incorporated city or town or any county of the State, jurisdiction over juvenile causes shall be exercised in the same manner and to the same extent as authorized by the Constitution and laws of this State, in effect prior to the adoption of this Section.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That the aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall, at the election to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of the directions contained in Article XIV of the Constitution of the State of Maryland and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment shall be by ballot and upon each ballot there shall be printed the following synopsis of said amendment captioned as follows:

OFFUTT BURGLARY CASE IS DISMISSED IN COURT

Judge Sloan Sustains Motion of Defense Counsel to Quash Search Warrant For Illegality

The burglary case against Mrs. Karin Offutt, slated for trial Tuesday in the Garrett County Circuit Court, literally "blew up" after a series of arguments over legal points which concluded when the court, Chief Judge D. Lindley Sloan and Associate Judge Joseph D. Mish, sustained a motion of the defense counsel to quash the search warrant on the grounds that it was illegal. When the State's Attorney's motion to ask for a continuance was overruled, he dismissed the charges.

Mrs. Offutt was indicted by the Garrett County grand jury on a charge of burglary, the charge, according to the indictment involving the alleged theft of a lady's coat, a bath mat, a bed quilt, three china cups, one brass basket, one preserve jar and one mustard jar bearing a total value of $74.50.

She was accused of entering the dwelling of Mrs. Nanniene T. Offutt, her sister-in-law, and taking these articles, at Monte Vista, a tea room near town.

Under the nol pros declaration the prosecution agrees that the state or government will prosecute no farther in a particular case. The events leading up to the court's decision, began with the filing of a demurrer to the indictment by defense attorneys, Walter W. Dawson and William A. Gunter, which charged Mrs. Offutt with larceny and receiving stolen goods on November 15, 1942, and raising a point that that time had not yet come.

The Court overruled the motion and the attorneys then filed a motion to quash the indictment and search warrant on which the indictment had been found. After two hours of argument and a recess by the Court the latter overruled the motion to quash the indictment but sustained the motion to quash the search warrant. The defense contended here that it was illegal in that Mrs. Nanienne Offutt in procuring the search warrant failed to show to the magistrate that she had any probable cause for having it issued, and because the magistrate, H. A. Loraditch, had failed to certify in the warrant that he had probable cause for issuing it.

Chief Judge Sloan, in making the decision, used these words: "Now in this case, if this is a copy of what was presented to the magistrate, he hasn't got anything except the belief, and she just charges her boldly with breaking and entering within the past two years, and the one who made this affidavit and demanded the search warrant should have stated why she believes that the traverser here broke and entered into this house and the reason for her belief that the goods are in that house."

State's Attorney Fraley declared he was "taken by surprise at the ruling of the court," according to the defense counsel.

As the Court reconvened after the noon hour the State made a motion to continue the case, State's Attorney Neil C. Fraley stating that he thought he would be able to produce evidence in the future. The defense requested what the evidence might be but the State's Attorney refused to disclose it, Mr. Gunter stated. He said the defendant resisted the motion for continuance and stated she was ready for trial and under the declaration of rights was entitled to a speedy trial.

The Court ruled here that as a matter of public policy the defendant was entitled to speedy trial and refused to grant the continuance, after which the State's Attorney entered the nol pros, dismissing the charges.

Seeks Lower Alimony

Immediately following the disposition of the criminal case Chief Judge D. Lindley Sloan heard testimony on a petition of D. E. Offutt, husband of Mrs. Karin Offutt, to reduce the weekly allowance of $100.00 temporary alimony herctofore allowed by the court. Mr. Offutt testified before Judge Sloan that instead of $450,000 which Mrs. Offutt had said in her application that he was worth, he declared he was worth only about $250,000.

Judge Sloan took the matter under advisement and said he would render his decision later.

Divorce proceedings were filed in court here by Mr. Offutt through his attorney, Neil C. Fraley, on September 15. The temporary alimony allowance plus $500.00 for attorneys' fees were allowed on September 21, by Judge Sloan.

At the criminal proceedings the defendant, Mrs. Offutt, had a number of women of the community summoned to testify as character witnesses, but as the trial did not get under way, none were called to the witness stand.

Eighteen were killed in the wreck of two passenger and one freight trains near Washington. One passenger hit another and tossed a sleeping car into the freight.

A compulsory act to allocate men like materials may be instituted, according to Paul V. McNutt, War Manpower commission chairman.

ALFRED L. ROTH

Alfred L. Roth, aged 77 years, died Friday morning at 4:00 o'clock at his home on the Oakland-Mountain Lake Park road. He had been in ill health for several years but had not been bedfast.

He was a son of the late John R. and Eve Elizabeth Roth, who resided south of Red House. Mr. Roth was born at Eglon, West Va., January 3, 1865. He was superintendent for the Parsons and Pulp Lumber Company at Dobbin, West Va., for thirty-five years. He resided near Oakland since 1919.

During his residence at Dobbin he was an active member of the I. O. O. F. Lodge of that town and before he removed from there he had received his twenty-five-year badge, in 1916. He was a member of the Lutheran church.

Surviving are two daughters and one son, Mrs. Alfred H. Jones, Akron, O.; Mrs. Arthur C. Michael, Detroit, Mich., and A. Leland Roth, Oakland; also one brother and two sisters, H. A. Roth, near Oakland; Mrs. Matilda Winters, Horse Shoe Run, West Va., and Mrs. Elmira Nicholson, of near Oakland. Mrs. Roth died two years ago.

Funeral services were conducted on Sunday afternoon at two o'clock from the family home with Rev. A. B. Leamer, D.D., Lutheran pastor, officiating, assisted by Rev. Emra Fike. Interment was in the Oakland cemetery.

Pallbearers were John Hauser, Geo. Smith, Creed Stemple, Henry Hauser, Charles Shaffer, Homer Gnegy, all of the Red House and Eglon communities.

MRS. CHARLES H. JACKSON

Mrs. Rosa F. Gauer Jackson, wife of Charles H. Jackson, of the Pleasant Valley community, died on Saturday morning in the City Hospital, Morgantown, West Va., following a major operation which she underwent on September 22

Mrs. Jackson was born in Garrett county on September 7, 1895, and was aged 47 years. She and her husband had in recent months been residing in Morgantown, W. Va., where Mr. Jackson was employed.

Mrs. Jackson is survived by her mother, Mrs. Nancy Bright, Parsons, W. Va.; her husband, also five children, Robert Jackson, Sabraton, W. Va.; Woodrow Jackson, Red House; Mrs. Goldie Beckman, Morgantown; Cecil Jackson, Loch Lynn Heights; James Jackson, with the United States Army, stationed in Hawaii.

Mrs. Jackson was a member of the Maple Spring Church of the Brethren, near Eglon, from which edifice funeral services were conducted Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, with Rev. Olonzo Fike officiating. Interment was in the Maple Spring cemetery.

MRS. M. P. TURNER

Mrs. Maude Pope Turner, widow of George C. Turner, died from a heart attack Monday morning, September 28, at her home, near Shade's Mill, Garrett county.

She is survived by two sons, Frank, at home; and Weaver Turner, this county; one daughter, and one brother, George Pope, near Guntertown.

MRS. CHARLES W. BEAMER

Mrs. Mary Agnes Beamer, 69, widow of Charles W. Beamer, former residents of Oakland, died last Thursday night at the home of a daughter, Mrs. J. William Smith, Cumberland.

Surviving are a son, Dr. Charles S. Beamer, LaVale; another daughter, Mrs. Vernon Casteel, Huntington, W. Va.; two sisters and four grandchildren.

Attending the funeral service from Oakland on Monday were Mrs. Arthur Lawton and son, Kenneth Lawton.

MRS. HANNAH ASHBY SHAFFER

Mrs. Hannah Ashby Shaffer, 90, wife of the late Michael Shaffer, Crellin, died Monday afternoon, September 28, about 1:30 o'clock at the home of a daughter, Mrs. James Sanders, Crellin.

Mrs. Shaffer was born in Preston county, W. Va., December 5, 1852, and was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Ashby, of this county. She was a member of the United Brethren church.

Surviving are five daughters and one son, Mrs. Cora Lantz, Brookside, W. Va.; Mrs. Annie Smith, Morgantown, W. Va.; Mrs. Ada White and Mrs. Stella Campbell, Akron, O.; Mrs. James Sanders, Crellin; and Albert Shaffer, Crellin; also one brother, Thomas Ashby, Crellin; twenty-eight grandchildren and twenty-one great grandchildren.

Funeral services are being conducted this afternoon at two o'clock from the Union church in Crellin, with Rev. J. C. Foster, U. B. minister, officiating, assisted by Rev. U. R. Hinzman, of Corinth, W. Va.

Interment will be in the Aurora cemetery.

Seventy-Five Young People Attend Party

About seventy-five boys and girls of high school age attended the party given last Friday evening in the Episcopal Parish House under the direction of the Business and Professional Women's club.

Entertainment included dancing, lingo, ping pong and other games. Refreshments were served.

The women are planning another party for Friday evening, October 9, for a younger group, including pupils from the fourth to seventh grades. Just where this will be held will be announced later.

Attends Managers' Meeting

Milburn W. Mann, senior interviewer in charge of the Oakland office of the United States Employment Service, attended a managers' meeting on Friday and Saturday, of last week, at State headquarters in Baltimore.

Walter Sodheim, Jr., who was recently appointed to the position of State director, presided over a part of the sessions. The purpose of the meetnig was to discuss the labor shortage which exists in certain defense industries and to outline the part the employment service is to have in the war effort.

STEYER

Quite a while has passed since we have seen any items from our town, so here's letting the world know we are still on the map.

Pvt. Chester Steyer, of Fort Belvoir, Va.; Mrs. Chester Steyer, Mr. and Mrs. Hoy White, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Floyd, Dorothy Plant and son, all of Grafton, were visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. V. T. Steyer, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hansford, of Pittsburgh, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Hansford.

Virginia Steyer returned to Westminster, last Thursday, where she will enter her second year of college at Western Maryland.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Shillingburg were visiting the latter's mother, Mrs. J. T. Steyer, one day last week.

We have new residents in our town, Mr. A. Kitzmiller and family, who moved in Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Wolfe were calling at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Propst, one evening last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Madison Tucker and daughter visited relatives in Elk Garden, recently.

Lloyd Shillingburg left for Baltimore, one day last week. He expects to take up employment in a defense plant there.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Barnes and Mrs. Mary McKane, of Boonsboro, were visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Tucker recently.

Misses Helen and Mildred Hansford, of Washington, D. C., spent the week-end at their home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Cerne and daughter, Ruth, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cerne and son were week-end guests at the home of Mrs. Rosie Cerne, here.

Bomb 'em with JUNK

Let's blast Japan—and Germany—and Italy—with the chain lightning of destruction that can be built from the scrap in our cellars, attics and garages, on our farms and in our places of business.

Scrap iron and steel, other metals, rubber and waste materials. It will all be used to make tanks, ships, planes and the fighting weapons our boys must have. It is needed at once.

Sell it to a Junk dealer—give it to a charity or collection agency—take it yourself to the nearest collection point—or consult the Local Salvage Committee... If you live on a farm, and have found no means of disposing of your Junk, get in touch with the County War Board or your farm implement dealer.

Throw YOUR scrap into the fight!

VOLUME 66. OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1942. NUMBER 33.

Scrap Harvest . . . . . .

The National Scrap Harvest is now in full swing, not only in Garrett county but from coast to coast. The quota is "All there is on every square foot of every farm and town property in the country."

You may think it will be just as useful next year but it won't. The nation needs that scrap right now.

Industry is forging the largest and most powerful fighting force Uncle Sam has ever had. This force is to be the finest and best equipped on the face of the globe, and it must be equipped NOW. To do this an abundance of all the necessary materials used in the production of war weapons is necessary.

Rubber and metal are the two most essential materials needed, since our supply of rubber has been almost entirely cut off and steel is made of, roughly, 50 percent virgin iron ore and 50 percent scrap.

It is taking a tremendous amount of scrap iron to keep those hungry furnaces going this winter—cold months when many roads will be blocked and scrap more difficult to collect. So gather it NOW! Have it ready for delivery next Monday and Tuesday, the dates of the Junk Rally throughout the county. If you see huge piles of scrap in junk dealers' yards don't jump to the conclusion that there is plenty. That scrap is moving all the time, moving to the mills where it is needed.

Our troops are banking on all of us to come through with a bumper scrap crop. If we all do our job, our troops will do their job.

VOTERS TO PASS ON INCREASING PAY OF STATE LEGISLATORS

Would be Paid Flat $1,000 Every Year Instead of $450 For A Ninety-Day Term

Maryland voters will have another opportunity to say in November whether their legislators are underpaid.

One of six proposed amendments to the Constitution which will be submitted to the electorate in the general election calls for an increase in the pay of Senators and Members of the House of Delegates.

The proposed amendment to the State Constitution, which would revise a pay schedule set up when the State's basic law was adopted in 1867, would establish a flat $1,000 per annual salary for legislators.

Now Get $5 Per Day

At present, the solons are paid on a per diem basis, getting $5 per day. With the 90-day regular session, that adds up to $900 per legislative term of four years for each member of the General Assembly. The amendment rate of pay for the four years, at $1,000 flat per year would thus be $4,000, or an increase of $3,100 for the four year period.

The Proposed Amendment

The proposed amendment to the Constitution to be voted upon next month reads as follows:

15. The General Assembly may continue its session so long as in its judgment the public interest may require, for a period not longer than ninety days; and each member thereof shall receive a compensation of One Thousand Dollars ($1,000) per annum, payable quarterly, with a deduction of fifteen dollars per diem for each day of unexcused absence from any session, and he shall also receive such mileage as may be allowed by law, not exceeding twenty cents per mile; and the presiding officer of each House shall receive an additional compensation of Two Hundred and Fifty ($250) dollars per annum. When the General Assembly shall be convened by Proclamation of the Governor, the session shall not continue longer than thirty days, but no additional compensation other than mileage and other allowances provided by law shall be paid members of the General Assembly for Special Sessions.

Other Proposed Revisions

Other proposed revisions in the State Constitution, which will also be submitted to the electorate for ratification, would—

Enable the General Assembly to establish regulations for bequests to religious institutions and orders instead of being obliged each year to consider them individually.

Permit the State Roads Commission to avoid lengthy condemnation proceedings before beginning highway projects. Acquisition of rights of way would be made reviewable by the Courts.

Make it mandatory that one of the three judges in the Third Circuit, including Baltimore and Harford counties, come from Harford.

Would Standardize Fees

Permit the Assembly to standardize fees for Clerks of Courts and Registers of Wills.

Authorize establishment of Juvenile Courts as courts of record and raise their jurisdiction in criminal cases from 16 to 18 years.

Change the requirements for publication of proposed amendments to the State Constitution, eliminating the requirement that they be printed in one German-language newspaper, cutting the period over which they must appear from three months to three weeks, and provide for publication of the proposals in pamphlet form.

Referred Law To Be Submitted

In addition to the several proposed amendments, there will also be a referred law to be voted upon by the electorate of Garrett county, the referred law providing for the nomination and election of County Commissioners from certain districts of the county. The referred law reads as follows:

CHAPTER 172

80. At the general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November, nineteen hundred and forty-two, there shall be elected three County Commissioners for Garrett County and at every general election in every fourth year thereafter there shall be elected three Commissioners, and said Commissioners so elected shall receive the same compensation as now provided by law.

81. For the purpose of electing County Commissioners, Garrett County shall be divided into three County Commissioners' Districts, as follows:

(1) The first County Commissioners' District shall be composed of the First, Fourth, Tenth, Twelfth and Thirteenth Election Districts;

(2) The second County Commissioners' District shall be composed of the Second, Third, Fifth, Sixth, Ninth, Eleventh and Fifteenth Election Districts;

(3) The third County Commissioners' District shall be composed of the Seventh, Eighth, Fourteenth and Sixteenth Election Districts.

At all future elections for the office of County Commissioner, one Commissioner shall be elected from among the voters residing in each County Commissioners' District by the general vote of the county.

At primary elections to be held in Garrett County at which candidates are selected for the position of County Commissioner, one candidate for each party shall be chosen from each County Commissioners' District by the county-wide vote of the members of the respective parties. The Supervisors of Elections of Garrett County shall place the names of all persons who file papers for the position of County Commissioner upon the ballots to be used by the respective parties in the county. The candidate of each party from each County Commissioners' District who receives the greatest number of votes shall be certified by the Supervisors of Elections as the nominee of the political party to which he belongs, and the name of said nominee shall be placed on the official ballot to be used in the general election.

If the office of any of the County Commissioners becomes vacant during the term, the Governor shall appoint a proper person to fill said vacancy from among the residents of the same Commissioner's District as that in which the former Commissioner resided.

Yough Glades Chapter of Historical Society Meets

The Yough Glades chapter of the County Historical Society met last Thursday evening at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Felix G. Robinson, Monte Vista road, with Miss Elizabeth West, chapter chairman, presiding.

Among the items discussed were the proposed expeditions for artifacts, the preparation of a bibliography, arranging for meetings in all sections and using members in exchange. It was pointed out that much historical material recently has come to light.

Another project receiving attention was the drawing up of plans for a centennial celebration of the founding of Oakland, but no definite action was taken. It was agreed by those present that such a celebration should be under the auspices of the Historical Society with all community organizations lending their aid. Programs of a similar nature could be arranged in other communities. The society now numbers more than 600 members. Among those attending were Miss Viola Broadwater, Grantsville; Mr. and Mrs. John W. Holman and son, Friendsville.

Addresses Lions Club

Howard C. Riggs, cashier of the Garrett National Bank in Oakland, spoke to members of the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions club at their meeting Monday night on the War Bond Sale campaign in the county and throughout the nation.

A short skit was presented by some young people of the Methodist church.

It was announced that J. K. Snyder, Cumberland, deputy district governor of Lions, will be present at the meeting on Monday, October 12.

COUNCIL ACTION HALTS ERECTION OF BUILDINGS

Applications to Erect Theatre Building, 2nd Street, and Other Building, 3rd Street, Tabled

Applications for permission to erect two buildings in Oakland, one to be used for a motion picture theatre and the other presumably to be used for the same purpose, although it did not definitely state in the letter, were tabled by the Mayor and Town Council at their regular monthly meeting on Monday night, as they were declared to be in conflict with a town ordinance.

One application was made by Bernard I. Gonder, to erect a theatre, including a store room and an apartment on the second floor, between the Oakland Baking Company and Bolden Undertaking company on the east side of Second street. The building would be 60 by 120 with a red brick front, side walls and rear wall of hollow tile with fire wall between Baking company and proposed building. The estimated cost was $21,000 and the seating capacity of the theatre would be 500.

The other application came from Charles Arden May to erect a building on Third street between Green and Center, adjacent to the Texaco filling station and in rear of Helbig's Mill, the building to be 60 by 110 feet, with a front 80 feet wide by 40 feet deep, to be made of cinder block with composition roof, with two apartments overhead.

Upon motion of Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, Seconded by Prentice DeBerry, the applications were tabled until the next regular meeting and in the meantime Mr. May was to be required to furnish information to the council as what the building was to be used for.

An ordinance regulating the operation of motion picture theatres and other amusement places within the town limits was passed by the Mayor and Council October 4, 1937. At that time L. M. Fraley was mayor, and councilmen were E. A. Shaffer Emroy Bolden, Irvin Rudy, Ralph Kercheval, Henry McComas and Earl Shartzer.

The ordinance stipulates that n license for motion picture theatre shall be granted which is occupied as a tenement house, hotel, lodging house or residence, or where paints, varnishes, and other inflammable material are manufactured, stored or kept for sale, or where it shall be within 300 feet of the nearest wall of a building occupied as a school, hospital, or garage or within 300 feet of a gas supply or service station.

The report of the clerk-collector, Arthur Lawton, showed receipts during the month of $1,261.36, including $158.48 for water and $1,002.12 for taxes. Expenditures amounted to $2 074.09 which included all regular bills and $210 for payment on Community Building Bonds.

The Council decided to pay $100 towards the reorganization and support of the Oakland Boys' Band.

The movie tax for the month amounted to $64.10, which will be divided by law among the Oakland Library, Fire Department and Red Cross.

Mrs. Mary Browning Severely Burned

Mrs. Mary Browning, aged mother of Cheston H. Browning, County Commissioner, was severely burned about the arms and shoulders on Monday evening at her home, when flames from a gas burner caught the sleeve of her dress as she bent over the stove. The blaze quickly enveloped her clothing but a call for help brought her daughter, Mrs. Huldah Littman from an upstairs room, who smothered the flames with a coat.

Mrs. Browning, who was 82 years old last May, suffered second degree burns and at times since the accident has been in an unconscious condition. Another daughter, Miss Bonnie Browning, R. N., of Philadelphia, arrived Tuesday morning to help care for her.

To Inspect School Buses

Inspection of all school buses in the county will be made by a representative of the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles office, Baltimore, next Tuesday and Wednesday, it was announced by John L. Fitzwater, supervisor of transportation.

He will be at Grantsville Tuesday morning, October 13, 9 to 12 o'clock; and at Accident from 12:30 to 3 p. m.

He will be at Oakland on Wednesday, October 14, from 9 o'clock to 3 o'clock.

Mr. Fitzwater said the inspection of school buses was required by the Maryland State law, and that bus contractors should be at one of the places mentioned.

Sugar Stamp No. 8 Good During October

Retailers were cautioned against accepting any ration stamps other than Stamp No. 8 for sales of sugar during the month of October.

Mr. Dawson, chairman of the local War Price and Rationing Board, said there was some confusion among consumers and retailers as to the period covered by the No. 8 stamp.

He pointed out that No. 8 stamp is good through October 31. The impression of some retailers and consumers was that the stamp expired September 30. This is incorrect. The value of the No. 8 stamp was set at five pounds of sugar for the ten-week period beginning August 23 and ending October 31st.

With Our Men In the Service

Elbert Otis Riley, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert O. Riley, is now at the U. S. Naval Training Station at Great Lakes, Ill., undergoing recruit training, having recently enlisted. Upon completion of this training he will either be assigned for duty at sea or some other naval station, or retained for further specialized training at one of the Navy's many service schools.

Members of Board of Trustees, West Virginia Wesleyan

Announcement was made last Friday of the appointment of Ernest Ray Jones, of Oakland, as a member of the Board of Trutees of West Virginia Wesleyan College, Buckhannon, for a term of three years, and Rev. W. S. Patterson, of Moundsville, a former Methodist pastor of Oakland, for a term of one year.

Party Planned For Youngsters Friday

A party for young boys and girls, including those from the fourth grade through the seventh grade, will be held this Friday evening, October 9, at the City Hall, it was announced by the committee of the Business and Professional Women's club, which is sponsoring these events.

The party will be from 7:30 to 9 o'clock. There will be no admission charge but soft drinks will be on sale and there will be a charge for Bingo.

Recruiting Cruiser Here on Monday

The United States Navy's new recruiting cruiser dropped anchor in Oakland on Monday, October 5. Navy representatives distributed much information concerning the naval program and filled out blanks for a number of prospects, while from the cruiser itself came an unending supply of music. It returned to Cumberland that same evening with two men for probable enlistment.

These two were John Walter Rowan, Sr., of Loch Lynn, and Charles Henry McGettigan, Accident. They were to be given a final physical examination in Cumberland on Monday night.

The cruiser is under the command of Lieut. W. M. Delaney, medical corps, and is spending the entire week in the Cumberland area. Tuesday it was at Westernport and Piedmont, yesterday at Frostburg and Lonaconing; Romney, Thursday; Keyser on Friday, and Cumberland on Saturday.

Adult Education Classes to Begin Subjects Varied

Classes are to be organized for instruction in several subject fields during the next two weeks it was announced by Eugene Harpold, county coordinator of Civilian Defense Training. These classes are sponsored by the Garrett County Board of Education, and are offered free to anyone more than 16 years old, who is not attending regular day school. Classes will meet two evenings a week for two hours, and will continue for as much as twenty-four weeks. Classes will be organized for instruction in other fields if there are ten or more persons interested. More information may be obtained from the local high school principal, it was stated.

A class in home decoration will begin on Monday, October 12, at 7:30 p. m. at the Oakland high school. The course in Home decoration will be concerned with the idea of keeping one eye on the budget while making the home more livable and attractive. This class will be taught by Miss Catherine Baker, fine arts teacher.

Classes in commercial subjects, Typewriting, Bookkeeping, and Shorthand, will begin on Tuesday, October 13, at 7:30 p. m., at Oakland high school. This class will be in charge of Ervin S. Smith head of the Commercial Department.

A class in cabinet making, woodwork and household repair will be taught at Kitzmiller school by Kenneth Feather. Starting date for this class may be obtained from Mr. O. P. Jones, principal of Kitzmiller school.

Other classes may be organized in the county if there is sufficient demand, Mr. Harpold stated.

Farm machinery repair classes have started at Friendsville and Accident under the supervision of Charley B. Miller. Repair classes meet six hours a week and are open to anyone interested in repair and maintenance of farm equipment. These classes are part of the National "Food for Freedom" program, and similar classes will soon be organized at Grantsville and Oakland.

Injured in Auto Wreck on Tuesday

County Superintendent of Schools Franklin E. Rathbun, Mrs. Rathbun, and Mrs. Margaret McComas were injured Tuesday about midnight, when their automobile left the highway, near the intersection of the Swanton and Kitzmiller roads, and landed into the ditch.

None suffered any broken bones but Mrs. Rathbun and Mrs. McComas sustained painful cuts and bruises. Professor Rathbun also sustained bruises but was the least hurt of the three.

They were returning from Baltimore, where Mr. Rathbun had attended a state educational meeting.

Those Interested In Band to Meet Tonight

Persons interested in the reorganization of the Oakland Boys' Band are being asked to attend a meeting in the City Hall this evening at 8:30 o'clock, following the regular band practice session.

The Oakland Fire Department is sponsoring the group and the fire department committee, Robert Lohr, manager, has called tonight's meeting especially for parents of boys who would want to be members of the band and any others interested.

This meeting was postponed from last Friday evening.

Air-Raid Tests Again Held Up

Postponing Maryland's scheduled air-raid alerts for the second time, the First Fighter Command in New York announced Monday that no test alerts will be permitted in the State until after October 15.

The decision of the Fighter Command was announced by Col. Henry S. Barrett, State director of air-raid precautions.

Workers and Farmers Protected by Ration Of Rubber Boots, Etc.

Six Types Are Now Rationed; Price Rises on Rubber Footwear Prevented by Regulation

Workers or farmers who must wade through sleet and snow and mud in doing their war production jobs are given double-barreled protection by recent Office of Price Administration regulations, Walter W. Dawson, Chairman of the local War Price and Rationing Board, announced.

There were rationed, starting October 5th, six types of rubber boots and rubber work shoes worn, according to the OPA, by war construction workers, farmers, food processors and packing house workers; iron and steel workers, men in power plants water sanitary services and chemical plants; metal workers, men working in shipyards, mines and refineries, and others essential to the war effort.

Workers or purchasing agents for companies who customarily supply boots to their employees and retain title thereto, may secure certificates which entitle them to buy the rationed footwear from their War Price and Rationing Board at Oakland. Special emphasis was placed by the Board spokesman on the fact that worn-out footwear, being replaced, must be turned in for salvage.

Second type of OPA protection is in the all-important field of price. Price rises on rubber footwear made previous to February 11 are already prevented by the General Maximum Price Regulation. Under the new regulation, prices are firmly nailed down on all the increasingly popular Victory Line of waterproof rubber footwear, designed under a WPB conservation order to preserve rubber and protect the wearer. Prices must be publicly posted where the buyer may easily read them.

While rationing affects only heavier, work-type rubber boots and rubber shoes, price controls cover everything from a child's two snap rubber gaiter to a man's hip boot, it was said.

Must Apply for Sugar For Canning by Oct. 31

The local Rationing Board has announced that no applications for canning sugar will be accepted after October 31, 1942. Those who have not completed their fall canning and will require additional sugar for this purpose are urged to apply at once for their sugar needs. Application forms may be had at the office of the local Rationing Board, Gonder building, Oakland. No application for canning sugar can be considered after October 31, 1942, as that date will definitely close the canning season for this county, it was stated.

Those Entering Service Must Turn In Ration Books

The office of the local Rationing Board has on several occasions, called attention to the fact that War Ration Book One, belonging to men who have enlisted or have been called for service in the Armed Forces, must be returned to the office of the local Board, Gonder Building, Oakland, to be held for the duration. War Ration Books belonging to deceased persons should also be forwarded at once to that office by some member of the family, as it will save a lot of unnecessary work in checking records and making special requests for such surrender of War Ration Books, those in charge stated.

Jaycees Choose Stanton-Jordan

The Jaycees selected the names of Julius Jordan and Robert Stanton in their "service men" writing project, which they have been conducting for several months.

These names will be posted in the regular places in town, where citizens are urged to write and send small gifts.

Stanton is located at Denver, Colo., with the Army Air Corps, while Julius Jordan is corporal technician with the Coast Artillery, stationed at Norfolk, Va.

LAST MINUTE PLANS GIVEN IN SCRAP DRIVE

Instructions Announced This Morning for Oakland and Vicinity by Mayor L. M. Fraley

Last minute plans are under way for the collection of scrap metal, rubber and other materials on the scrap rally dates, Monday and Tuesday, October 12 and 13. A gigantic effort is being made to get every little bit of valuable material to some central point on those dates.

For those in Oakland and vicinity the following instructions were announced this morning by Mayor L. M. Fraley.

Anyone wanting to sell their scrap may take their material to White's Garage, Third street.

Anyone wanting to donate their scrap will take their material to the lot on which the air raid spotter post is now located, on Third street, adjacent to the Coca-Cola plant. Any money derived from the sale of this material will go to the American Legion for expenses of maintaining the spotter post.

Anyone having scrap material and no way to deliver it to the stations may call 215, City Hall, when a town truck will be sent.

Members of the Oakland girls 4-H club will distribute handbills on Friday and Saturday stressing the importance and necessity of the drive and urging the cooperation of all people of the community.

For collection of scrap in other areas a list of garages and service stations were named last week by the County Salvage committee, Clarence Leighton and Ray Teets, Oakland, chairmen.

The aim is to make a concerted drive on the two rally dates, so that the county may produce its quota for the war effort quickly. The American Legion is having the cannon on the court house dismantled and sold for scrap. Mr. Leighton said this morning that about three tons of scrap had been brought in voluntarily thus far.

Those in charge of the drive issued the following statement: "The drive is squarely up to you. Scrap slackers can lose this war. The mills need scrap to make the steel to go across the sea as ships, tanks and guns. They need it now. Unless you get to work, unless you go into your basement and your attic and rout out the junk that's there, and talk about it to your friends and neighbors, our troops are not going to get what they need. If you're a heartsick wife, mother or sweetheart you'd do a lot to give that boy a better chance to get back safe. Well then—do it! Someone's life is in your hands!"

Elementary P.-T. A. Plans Defense Rally

Will Have Auction Sale of "Victory Baskets" of Home Canned Foods

Members of the Executive committee of the Parent-Teachers' Association of the Oakland Elementary school, at a meeting Monday night at the home of Mrs. Delbert Davis, president, made plans for a Home Defense Rally, to be held in the elementary school auditorium on Wednesday evening, October 14, beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

One of the main features will be an auction sale of victory baskets, containing home canned foods and other products, Mrs. Davis said. A speaker will talk on Home Defense and there will be a patriotic singing.

Sea Scouts Want Boat For Use On Deep Creek Lake

Members of the Sea Scout patrol in Oakland are planning to obtain a boat for their use on Deep Creek Lake next summer. Application is being made for a 16-foot dinghy which is obtainable through Scout headquarters from a point on Chesapeake Bay.

The Sea Scouts meet every Wednesday evening with J. Bine Leavenworth as their sea scoutmaster. Leavenworth had sea scout training in Michigan and is at present in the employ of the C. and P. Telephone Company in Oakland.

The youths are planning to hold a food sale in the near future to raise funds for their boat.

The Navy Trailer Brings Thoughts

The arrival of the Navy recruiting trailer here on Monday afternoon emphasized to quite a number the scarcity of eligible men. There were very few young men, unmarried, who were on the streets, and when I got to thinking about it, I realized that they not only were not on the streets but not at their homes or on the farms either. They had already been called in the draft or were in line to be called before long.

A few men made inquiries about the Navy, but only two left with the trailer to receive their final examination in Cumberland prior to enlistment.

Just how long will it be before even married men with children will be going? For the people at home hungering for news of Allied successes, the war seems to be a slow one, in comparison to World War No. 1, but when it is known that U. S. troops are now stationed in 31 countries, we begin to realize what a tremendous job is ours. In World War I we sent troops to France and the Navy guarded the waters of the Atlantic. But today it is a world wide conflict. In World War I we had two million men across the Atlantic and probably four million in the army. Already this time there are about five million men and those in charge aim to make it eight, ten or even twelve million men under arms. That doesn't include the women in various branches of the services.

That Navy cruiser made a lot of people think. It tried to woo the people with music of all kinds but there just weren't a lot of young men to woo. When they played Aloha I could almost see the grass skirts waving. One fellow remarked if they had included a Hula dancer in the performance he would have joined right away.

Then the cruiser played a piece that brought South Sea island natives right through my window and I could visualize myself surrounded by a bunch of New Guinea headhunters, and even being tortured by a malicious bunch of Japs with big teeth. I made a mental note I'd rather be captured by the Nazis than the Japs but I suddenly remembered Jan Valtin's book, "Out of the Night," which related how the Gestapo tortured people worse than wild natives, and so I finally decided I'd just as soon not be made captive by either.

Another piece they played reminded me of smooth sailing over the waves. How nice if it would be all smooth sailing, but I knew it wouldn't be if the waves on Deep Creek Lake stirred me up inside when out in a canoe or small motor boat.

If food prices rise much higher and some articles become any more scarce it looks like the only place we'll get a square meal is in the armed forces. That is, unless you played ant this summer and stored away enough to last through the winter.

Well, the trailer is pulling out and now I can get that music and war out of my mind and get down to the business of getting out a newspaper.

Newspaper accounts tell of another lost plane survivor emerging from the New Guinea jungle after having been missing since August 7. There's still a chance that "Sparky" Casteel will return to base sometime, and we sincerely hope so.

Wonder what leaders of other countries think of our democratic way of life when they see a defeated candidate for President being sent out by thee victorious candidate to represent him in various countries in important conferences? Such a thing could happen only in a democracy.

Just why should high school girls laugh at me for riding a bicycle? I have passed them hundreds of times at noon as I walked up the Court House Hill, and from the way they always crowded me off the sidewalk it made me think they never even noticed me. Now they giggle as I pass by on Third street, enroute home by the roundabout but flatter way. Maybe I should be embarrassed but thus far I haven't felt foolish. I'm saving gasoline and tires on my automobile and some amount of oil, although it is astonishing the amount it takes to keep ones knees and ankles well lubricated. A bicycle will be a common sight, even among us old fellows of 37, before this war is over.

Take my advice, or rather that of my wife's, if you considered seriously the article in Readers Digest by Charles Atlas, the man with the most physically perfect body, who built up his muscles by constant exercises. The better half was explaining to the boys the value of Atlas' methods. He would exercise by pitting one muscle against another, for instance lock his fingers and pull as hard as he could to see which hand and arm would win out. To demonstrate more effectively the better half showed the boys how it was done. She did it so well that two hours later the middle finger of her right hand swelled up so that I had to peel potatoes for a week. My friends, be very gentle at first, if you must follow Charles Atlas.

This ought to be a good week-end for anyone wanting to see our beautiful autumn foliage that now covers the trees. Barring a repetition of that wind and rain storm of Sunday evening and Monday evening the foliage ought to be lovely.

A few weeks ago a subscriber wanted us to let him know when it would be at its best. We believe it to be now and for two weeks more—if nothing happens to skin the trees.

A recent letter from Roy Durst, with the Army Air corps in New Guinea, to members of the older 4-H club youth of the county, contains the information that soldiers like to hear most over their radios—news of baseball and other sports, lively music, and comedy. From other sources we learn soldiers want more mail from home folks and sweethearts. What's the matter girls?

Velvety, fine-grained

● Calling all lovers of old-fashioned pound cake! Here's Honey Pound Cake—marvelously tender and mellow-flavored—so velvety-textured you serve it in thin slices to "show it off"—yet made with only 3 eggs! Sugar saving, too. No need to ice Honey Pound Cake, and the use of part honey also adds "keep-fresh" quality.

Remember Grandmother bragged how long she creamed her ingredients for pound cake? Well, you'll brag how quickly you whisked sugar and Spry into a perfect blend. For this creamy, fine shortening blends with ingredients before you can say "Jack Robinson!"

Pack Honey Pound Cake into your war worker's lunchbox for a real treat. And be sure to serve Honey Pound Cake with lots of fresh or canned fruits, for desserts that give your family vitamins and natural fruit sugars—for vim and vigor.

Better clip the recipe, so you'll have it for your own.

Honey Pound Cake

½ cup Spry
½ cup butter
2½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon mace
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
2½ cup sugar
¾ cup honey
3 eggs, unbeaten
2¾ cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ cup milk

Blend Spry, butter, salt, mace and lemon rind. Add sugar gradually and cream well. Add honey and beat. Add eggs, singly, beating well after each addition.

Sift flour with baking powder 3 times. Add to creamed mixture, alternately with milk, mixing after each addition until smooth. Bake in 9 x 5 x 3-inch paper-lined loaf pan in very slow oven (275° F.) 1 hour, then increase heat slightly (300° F.) and bake 1 hour longer.

For Nut Pound Cake, add 1 cup finely chopped nuts to creamed Spry, sugar and honey mixture.

Couple Celebrate Golden Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Tasker, six miles north of Oakland, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at their home on Sunday, October 4.

A picnic dinner was served to 155 guests present and the couple received a large number of gifts. They were married at Kurtz chapel, near Deer Park, October 2, 1892, by Rev. C. N. Sharp.

Twelve of those present also attended the wedding fifty years ago, being Ruth and Sanford Moon; Frank, Robert, Melvin and Andrew Lee; Mike, Bell and Myra Tasker; Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Paugh, and James Sims. Those attending came from Mentor, Fairport and Akron, Ohio; Pittsburgh and Meyersdale, Pa.; Cumberland, Westernport, Midland, Kitzmiller, Accident, McHenry, Deer Park, Mt. Lake Park, Oakland, Crellin, Hutton and Swanton.

DEER PARK

The Methodist Sunday school has received its Service Flag and expects to have a dedication service early in November. The parents of the following boys have requested that their sons names be placed on the Flag and Honor Roll:

Odell Welch; Arthur Pysell, address in care of Postmaster, San Francisco, Calif.; Claude Friend, Jr., Somewhere in England; Carl Thrasher, Great Lakes Training School, Chicago, Ill.

There are, no doubt, other boys who have gone from Deer Park and surrounding communities. The school wants their names on the Flag and Honor Roll. Special prayers are offered for them each Sunday. Send your boy's name and address, and name of sender to the Service Flag Committee, Methodist Church at Deer Park. This is not denominational.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thrasher entertained with a reunion dinner in honor of their son Carl, who was home on a nine-day furlough from the Great Lakes Training Camp, on Sunday, September 27, at their home. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Thrasher and daughter, Jacqueline, Mr. and Mrs. George Comp, Jr., of Deer Park; Miss Margaret Thrasher, Mrs. Kathy Cooper, Misses Ada and Anna Thrasher, of Silver Spring; Russell Thrasher, Washington, D. C.; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hess and son, Benny, Cumberland; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thrasher and the honoree, Carl Thrasher.

Boxes going to the boys in the service, went to Pvt. Walter Thrasher, Fort Warren, Wyoming, and to Seaman Carl Thrasher, Great Lakes Training Station, Chicago, Ill., this week. The names of Seaman Leo Smith, U. S. S. Washington, and Staff Sgt. James Junkins, Hawaii, were drawn for next month.

CHILDREN'S COLDS

FOR DIRECT RELIEF from miseries of colds—coughing, phlegm, irritation, clogged upper air passages—rub throat, chest, and back with Vicks VapoRub. Its poultice-and-vapor action brings relief without dosing.

ALSO, FOR HEAD COLD "sniffles", melt a spoonful of VapoRub in hot water. Then have the child breathe in the steaming vapors.

LIVING ELECTRICALLY

By Betty Mayo

Night raiders plunder the electric refrigerators of American homes every 24 hours. Here, tucked away in protective coolness, they find ample stores of milk, fruits, cheese, cold drinks and tasty tidbit leftovers. If they are at all clever, they find the makings of a double-decker sandwich or even a rarebit.

Keep your refrigerator in the best possible condition. See that it has oil in the motor and that minor faults are corrected as they occur. Make your's serve you all the time!

Draft Board Engaged In Reclassification

Decisions Given By Appeals Board at Hagerstown on Several Local Cases

State Selective Service Headquarters reveals that Maryland local draft boards are in the process of reclassifying childless married men from Class 3-A to I-A.

Colonel Stanwood, State Director, said reclassification of men in this category is necessary to maintain the reserve pool of man power required by local boards to meet future quotas. These married men are now in Category 3 of Class 3. This category is defined by State Selective Service Headquarters as: "Registrants otherwise qualified for military duty who have wives with whom they are maintaining a bona-fide family relationship in their homes and who were married prior to December 8, 1941, and at a time when induction was not imminent. This category does not necessarily involve financial dependency."

Colonel Stanwood said "Married men with children will not be inducted until we are so ordered by National Selective Service Headquarters in Washington."

Harland L. Jones, clerk to the Garrett County Draft Board, said he had been reclassifying the childless married men for the past several days, upon orders from state headquarters.

Appeal Cases

The Board received an official notice this week placing Thornton Deffinbaugh in class I-A. The notice was signed by Lewis B. Hershey, national director, for the president of the United States.

Deffinbaugh's case is an unusual one. He drew a low number in the first registration, and when his induction for a year's training in the army became imminent he asked for and received a six-months' deferment by the local draft board. Before the end of the six-month period he was married. When he underwent his physical examination he was placed in I-B classification because of defective teeth.

Recently the draft board was ordered to include 10 I-B men in a call for men. Deffinbaugh was among that group and he appealed. The Hagerstown appeal board reversed the ruling of the local board and put him in 3-A. When the papers were sent to Baltimore Col. Stanwood, state head, was not satisfied with the decision and asked for a ruling from the President. Draft Board officials said that had he not asked for a deferment while his induction was imminent he would now be in 3-A, but due to existing circumstances he was placed in I-A by order of the President's ruling.

The Selective Service Board of Appeals met Saturday in Hagerstown to consider appeals taken from classifications assigned by local boards in seven Western Maryland counties. Garrett county had six cases. Local board cases were sustained in the following cases: Aley Olen Wetsell, Steyer; Paul Elsworth Steyer, Steyer; Osbourne Dale Mason, Friendsville; Henry Shurman Friend, Deer Park; James Newman Glaze, now at Germantown.

The board reversed one local board classification on the appeal of Charles Clifton Swanger, Kitzmiller, 1-A to Clifton Swanger, Kitzmiller, I-A to II-A.

Stay Healthy To Keep On The Job, Is Urged

Health measures that will help to keep a man—or a woman, likewise—on their respective jobs, are graphically illustrated in a series of small posters received at the State Department of Health from the U. S. Public Health Service, for use in connection with the health promotion services of the Division of Industrial Health of the Department.

Each of them shows a husky defense worker following out the "keeping fit" suggestions in the picture.

In calling attention to them, Dr. R. H. Riley, Director of the Department, said that except for specific precautionary advice with regard to measures against accidents in industry, the points brough out in the posters are just as applicable to other civilians as to defense workers, and to women as well as to men, young and old, in all walks of life.

Here is the list as summarized and supplemented by Dr. Riley, of the measures if practiced regularly will help to keep a man—or a women, a growing girl, or a growing boy, in school, or at work—on the job.

Clean dry clothes.

Healthy skin, personal cleanliness, a good scrub all over, with plenty of soap and water.

Fun and recreation, in "times off."

For defense workers, and workers in all kinds of industries, habitual use of masks and other protective devices.

Safety first precautions, in homes as well as in industry; prompt use of "first aid."

"Foods that count", whloesome, well balanced meals.

Plenty of sleep.

Regular physical check-ups; medical examinations and Dental care.

Get In the Scrap Hunt

We are going to talk about scrap. Or did you know that there was a scrap drive on? A few in this community do. But there are many who apparently do not. At least there are no visible signs. A good idea would be a community scrap heap. But no matter where you can get your stuff together, someone will get it. The smaller stuff might be turned over to a Boy Scout committee. We do have them here. They worked right good on the paper compaign, so maybe they might be interested in the scrap gathering. Fifty percent of scrap metal goes into tanks, ships and guns. Here's something to think about while we sit at home. The nation's steel mills don't have enough scrap on hand to last even 30 days more. Get busy and go to your basement, climb to the attic. Just remember that it's pretty important to a youngster half way around the world. Important to a blue-clad gob, to a flyer racing to reach the target before some knifing Nazi plane can find its mark.

You may think you have nothing to donate, but when you begin to look around you will be amazed at what scrap you find—we did. Start today and remember that your neglect will cost somebody's life.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Haymond Rapp have returned to Clarksburg after a week's visit here. Mr. Rapp will leave shortly for Camp Sutton, N. C., where he will be attached to a Tank Unit in charge of refueling and moving.

BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

Election November 3, 1942

—Political Advertisement Authorized by the Candidate.

Read J. Glenn Beall's Business Record

As Revealed in the Records of the Circuit Court of Allegany County

Recently the Republican Candidate for Governor J. Glenn Beall, and Other Republican Leaders, Have Sought by Radio and In Many Newspaper Articles To Smear Brooke Lee's Business Record.

Following these attacks by Republican leaders, the members of the Democratic State Central Committee of Montgomery County feel that fairness requires that the voters be given an equal opportunity to compare the business records of both Congressional candidates and consequently make the following statement:

Within the last few days the Republican candidate for Governor, Theodore R. McKeldin, of Baltimore, and the chairman of the Republican State Central Committee for Montgomery County and other Republican leaders have made personal attacks on the business record of E. Brooke Lee of Mongtomery County, Democratic candidate for Congress in the 6th District, and have attempted to smear Brooke Lee's business record both by radio and in many newspapers. J. Glenn Beall, the Republican candidate for Congress, has himself participated in personal attacks upon Brooke Lee and has undoubtedly known of and approved these attacks on Brooke Lee's business record. At the same time Mr. Beall was described last week in a political statement issued by the chairman of the Republican State Central Committee for Montgomery County as a "successful businessman."

The political need for these smears against Brook Lee's business record comes from the fact that he has an exceptionally good legislative, governmental, military and political record and possesses real ability and unusual experience which particularly fit him to serve in Congress at this time. Faced by a strong Democratic candidate supported by a Democratic majority of 20,000 in the 6th Maryland Congressional District, the Republicans despair of defeating Brooke Lee fairly and as a last resort they turn to a wide-spread personal attack upon his business record.

We Democrats of Montgomery County do not feel that these Republican leaders were entitled to unfairly, untruthfully and viciously attack the business record of Brooke Lee. We would not have raised this issue in the present campaign for Congress because we do not believe it belongs there. We are, however, entirely unwilling to allow the Republicans to smear Brooke Lee's business record while these same Republican political mouthpieces praise Glenn Beall as a "successful businessman" and while Glenn Beall's real business record slumbers in the Court records of Allegany County.

Attempts to enflame voters through deception are unAmerican at any time and personal smear campaigns are always odious, particularly so today when it is more essential than ever that the strongest and best qualified candidate be elected to the Congress of the United States.

J. Glenn Beall, whom local Republican leaders are supporting as a "successful businessman," of course, has a business record. Here is Glenn Beall's business record as disclosed in the public records of the Circuit Court for Allegany County, which is Mr. Beall's home community.

The Business Record of J. Glenn Beall of Allegany County, The The Sixth District Republican Candidate For Congress

The public records of the Circuit Court of Allegany County, located in Cumberland, disclose that J. Glenn Beall in 1938 settled his personal debt represented by 30 notes which totaled approximately $53,134.24 for a cash payment of approximately $8,300.00 or for 15 cents on each $1.00 owed. These notes were held for the benefit of the depositors of three closed national banks, two located in Glenn Beall's home city of Frostburg and one in the neighboring town of Midland. Glenn Beall was the maker or the endorser of these 30 notes totaling $53,134.24. Through this settlement the depositors of these three closed national banks only received 15 cents for each $1.00 that had been loaned to or for Glenn Beall and Glenn Beall's debt to these depositors has been wiped out at his request by this settlement.

Glenn Beall's 30 notes had an unpaid principal balance of $41,479.40 in May, 1938, which was the date of this settlement, with unpaid interest amounting to $11,654.84, or a total owed by Glenn Beall of $53,134.24.

The following is a list of the 30 notes which represented Glenn Beall's debt to the depositors of these three closed national banks, showing the makers, the endorsers, th edates, the amounts, the interest due and the Receiver's item number of each note as they appear in the public court records of the Circuit Court of Allegany County where this entire settlement made by and for Glenn Beall is recorded.

Compare The Business Record of The Candidates

The contrast between the business record of Glenn Beall and Brooke Lee is that Brooke Lee has already worked out the liquidation of 93 per cent. of his debt, which had practically all been the obligations of real estate development companies which he had endorsed, as it stood in the 1929 depression and in the 1933 bank crash. Brooke Lee has further secured in large par tthe remainder of this debt through the pledge of all of his own property. Brooke Lee has never attempted to avail himself of the protection allowed by the law to avoid his obligations. Brooke Lee has continued to work since 1929 to pay his old debt and is still so working.

Glenn Beall abandoned his creditors in 1938 with the scant total payment of 15 cents on the $1.00 owed and for that rate of payment chose to and did wipe out his obligations to all of them leaving 85 per cent. of the amounts he owed unpaid.

A longer summary of Brooke Lee's business record appears later in this article as a basis for further comparison.

The settlement made by Glenn Beall with these closed banks is a matter of record in the Circuit Court for Allegany County in the receivership proceedings involving each of the above three banks, and can be verified by any one who wishes to take the trouble to check these public court records.

Consider further:

Lawyers versed in handling settlements with closed national banks for debtors wh oclaim to be unable to pay in full say that affidavits of inability to pay are always filed by the debtor with the Receiver and forwarded through him to the Comptroller of the Currency in Washington. Upon such representations by or on behalf of the debtor the Comptroller recommends to the local Court the advisability of settling the debts on the basis of the offer of compromise. This procedure almost automatically proves that Glenn Beall either swore or made a representation that $8,300 in the middle of 1938 was all he could pay on a total debt of more than $53,000.00 owed to the depositors of these three closed national banks in his home city of Frostburg and the neighboring town of Midland, and that upon the basis of such representation by or on behalf of Glenn Beall the Receiver of the three closed national banks in question made oath to the Circuit Court of Allegany County which resulted in Glenn Beall's release from his debt on a compromise payment of 15 cents on the $1.00 owed to the depositors of the closed Frostburg and Midland national banks.

Certainly Mr. Beall took the complete benefit and advantage of the settlement which had to be so authenticated and negotiated.

The court petitions through which these settlements were made are dated May 27, 1938. On March 30, 1938, or before any of these settlements were made, the same J. Glenn Beall was appointed by the late Republican Governor Harry W. Nice a Republican member of the Maryland State Roads Commission at a salary of $5,000.00 per year and prior to the end of his term as a member of the State Roads Commission in June, 1939, Glenn Beall drew a total salary of $6,833.33, which nearly equals the total amount he paid in total settlement of his $53,134.24 owed the depositors of the three closed national banks of his home community.

Consider further:

After Glenn Beall had received this $6,833.33 in State Roads Commission salary or on November 15, 1940, he still went before the Circuit Court of Allegany County through another Receiver's petition and settled his personal liability on two notes totaling $4,027.80 for a further payment of $250.00. This Receiver's petition, approved in the Allegany County Circuit Court November 15, 1940, describes these liabilities of Glenn Beall as items on which he "may be liable."

Certainly both these 1938 and 1940 settlements made by Glenn Beall occurred during the period that the chairman of the Republican State Central Committee of Montgomery County describes Mr. Beall as a "successful businessman."

Brooke Lee's Business Record

Consider the business record of Brooke Lee as compared with that of Glenn Beall. Certainly Brooke Lee has shown a different attitude towards his financial obligations and one which we as his friends like better.

When the great 1929 depression ripened into the banking crisis in 1933, Brooke Lee stood as the endorser of a very large amount in mortgage notes on unimproved land located in and around Silver Spring, Montgomery County, or on bank notes where the money had been loaned against holdings in unimproved land or equities in other real estate.

These real estate holdings were sufficiently sound and valuable, even after the general depression destruction of real estate values, that from their sale largely through Brooke Lee's continued work 91 per cent. to 92 per cent. of this total debt has been liquidated.

Few depression-hit building firms, real estate holding companies or for that matter industrial plants, merchants or other American citizens or even banks that were engulfed in the great Hoover depression paid out that well. Even fewer of the men so caught in this great national disaster have devoted so much of their work for the next decade to trying to pay their old debts without recourse to receivership or any of the other protections afforded by the law or the courts.

Today Brooke Lee still owes about $150,000 in judgments that are recorded in the Circuit Court in Rockville, all of which are partially secured by the pledge of property. All these judgments come from Brooke Lee's endorsements of notes of development companies which were written on the usual Maryland form of confessed judgment notes, 95 per cent. of which notes were bank notes.

He continued to work and to pay his debts.

Certainly this is not the way Glenn Beall treated his debts or his creditors.

The Republican Leader's Personal Attack On Brooke Lee

The following are direct quotations from a recent radio broadcast of Theodore R. McKeldin, Republican candidate for Governor of Maryland this year, making a personal attack on Brooke Lee's business record as a part of a broadcast Mr. McKeldin made attacking Governor O'Conor. Mr. McKeldin attacked Governor O'Conor for endorsing E. Brooke Lee for Congress in the Sixth Congressional District in the following language:

"Notwithstanding Mr. Lee's financial * * * standing and ignoring the judgments placed on record in the Courts against Lee." Mr. McKeldin continued: "These debts allegedly amount to several hundred thousand dollars including interest, costs and attorneys' fees, of which $209,074.31 in judgments, including a large sum owed to a prominent bank of Baltimore City, were filed in the Circuit Court for Montgomery County." Mr. McKeldin did did not say the judgment taken by this Baltimore City bank stands recorded on the records at Rockville as released and satisfied, or that such information was just as much available to him as were the other portions of his attack.

Mr. McKeldin continued: "Let Governor O'Conor answer for this endorsement of E. Brooke Lee to the thousands of yet unpaid Coblentz depositors throughout the Western Counties."

The difference is, Mr. McKeldin, that Brooke Lee's development companies paid half of what they owed to the Central Trust Company in Frederick before that institution closed. He has endorsed the balance, delivered to the Peoples Liquidating Corporation, successor of the Central Trust Company, a first mortgage secured by valuable real estate located in the District of Columbia south of Eastern Avenue between 14th Street and 16th Street, to further secure the unpaid portion of this debt.This property was appraised by outstanding real estate appraisers of the District of Columbia when the first mortgage on it was delivered to the Central Liquidating Corporation as worth more than the amount then owed. Brooke Lee has caused to be paid $9,178.50 in cash on the balance of this debt since the bank closing.

Brooke Lee still stands liable 100 per cent. for the balance due the Peoples Liquidating Corporation and continues to work to get it paid.

Arthur J. Hilland, the newly elected chairman of the Republican State Central Committee of Montgomery County, who just received a total vote of only 900 in the recent Republican primary election in Montgomery County on the same day Governor Herbert R. O'Conor received 7,611 votes in the Democratic primary in the County, in a statement attacking Brooke Lee issued last week says: "J. Glenn Beall of Frostburg, our candidate for Congress from the Sixth Congressional District of Maryland, is a successful businessman." Mr. Hilland continues in his prepared statement as chairman of the Republican party in Montgomery County, to personally attack Brooke Lee in the following language: "Mr. Lee has been an exponent of extravagance in his personal and public life. Judgments amounting to more than $200,000 have been filed against him in Rockville."

Hilland's statement was obviously prepared by Glenn Beall or his close friends because it contains many kindly statements about Beall concerning which Hilland could have no personal knowledge.

Certainly these are the responsible leaders of the Republican campaign in Maryland and the 6th Congressional District. They have made a personal attack on Brooke Lee's business record their issue. Fairness requires the inspection of the business records of both Glenn Beall and Brooke Lee.

Since the law permitting Glenn Beall to make these compromise settlements at 15 cents on the dollar owed if he chose to do so we make no comment upon his course. We do say that these Republican spokesmen should not criticize Brook Lee's liquidation of 92 per cent. to 93 per cent. of his debt while at the same time they would picture Glenn Beall as a successful businessman after he has repudiated 85 per cent. of his debt for all time.

We believe that the people of this Congressional District are entitled to the true record which we have here presented.

Here in Montgomery County we know Brooke Lee and we know he has never run under fire in war, in politics or in business.

DON'T BE DISCOURAGED

The news is dark today—doubly dark because of the rosy-colored optimism of yesterday, when, flushed with minor successes, we ignored the fact that the enemy was plugging straight ahead.

The news is dark—but the end is not yet. We are partners in history, in epoch making days that will go down in the school-books of the future. Seen from that perspective will these days look darker than those troublous times after the rout of the Battle of Long Island, or the dark days at Valley Forge? Will the advance of the enemy loom more ominously than the flames of the burning of Washington? Will the smoke-clouds of the burning ships appear more of a threat to the nation than the flickering campfires Lincoln saw from the White House in the darkest days of the Civil War?

We aren't licked yet—and we won't be unless we get discouraged. To avoid this error we must seek an inner calm. We must remember that the end will not come until the right end comes, until God's purpose is achieved. We must pray for the strength that endures. We must avoid jubilation or gloom over victories and defeats alike.

We must learn to think for ourselves and not draw our opinions exclusively from the radio, the newsreels, the newspapers and the confidential statements of so-called experts. We must use our own judgment in believing what we hear—and we must keep our sense of humor. We must learn to surmount our fears with faith, to conquer rumors with reason and to bury our own personal trials and tribulations in work for others.

In this way we can do our share toward keeping up the morale of the nation, for public morale in war or in peace is the task of the individual. The men and women who make up public opinion alone can fight the disruptive, divisive attacks of discouragement that are the foreruners of defeat. It is exactly like Kipling's tale of the little rivet that grew discouraged at its great task of holding the big ship together and pulled out. All the other rivets followed suit and the ship sank.

We must not be discouraged about the present. We must not be discouraged about the future either for ourselves or our children. The land and its resources will still be here when the war is over—plus all that man has learned since the discovery of this continent. What the future can or will be is limited only by the ability of man.

Surely the news is bad, but that emphasizes the need to buckle down to work harder than ever. And, as an Iowa paper said in the dark moments a few months ago: "There never was a winter here in Iowa that wasn't followed by a real spring, or a scorching Fourth of July."

While This Correspondent Is A Democrat, He Intends To Vote For Several Republicans, Which Is A Privilege All May Enjoy In November, and Says Rightly, Too, That We Should Have Two Political Parties.

The Republican,
Oakland, Maryland.
Editor of The Republican:

In brief reply to the biased letter-to-the-editor in last week's Republican, signed "A Republican," it seems in order at the moment that this staunch Republican should be informed that the Democrats in Garrett county aren't ready to enter a political subterranean chamber without first exercising the right to determine who THE PEOPLE want.

Some self-appointed expositors of the virtues of the G. O. P. forget that we MUST have a Republican and Democrat party, unless we want a one-party government, in which event we can cut our cloth over Germany's pattern. They have one-party government, you know. In Germany you're a Nazi or you're a——corpse.

America is fighting now against totalitarianism — against any one power holding the destiny of the nation in its grasp; hence the advocation of one-party government, local or otherwise, is pure tripe. Perhaps "A Republican" will say this is local. So was Naziism. A guy named Shickelgruber started it in a beer cellar behind the support of a nefarious band of street-brawlers. Germany once had Republicans and Democrats just as we have, and right now its a safe wager that some of the Heinies are longing for the good old days when von Hindenburg held the reins of the Reich.

I'm a Democrat, but I'm going to vote for several Republicans. That's what some impervious-shelled, dyed-in-the-wool one-party men may call an act inspired by the political devil, but I call it the sensible, progressive broadness of 1942—just another indication that we are actually emerging from the dark era when potential voters were taught that if they split their ballot they would be haunted by a combination packass-elephant for the remainder of their lives.

Under existing circumstances I believe it essential to the progress and welfare of our county to elect several very fine Republicans interspersed with a quantity of fairly good Democrats.

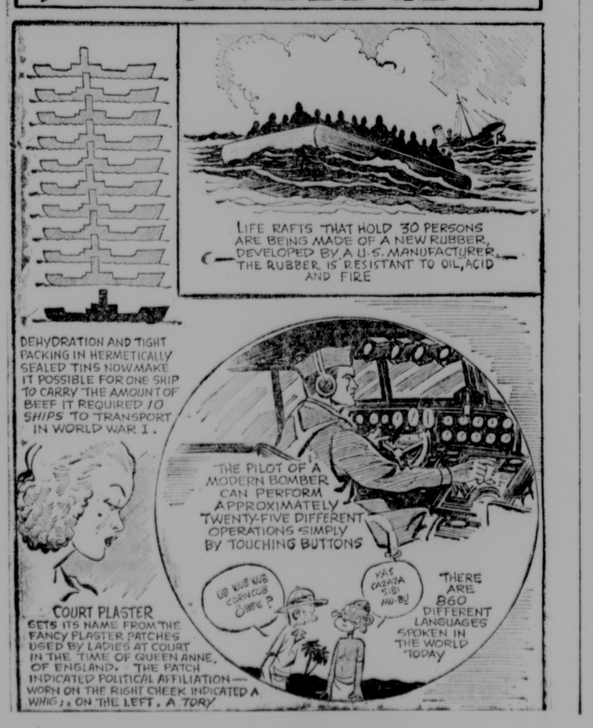
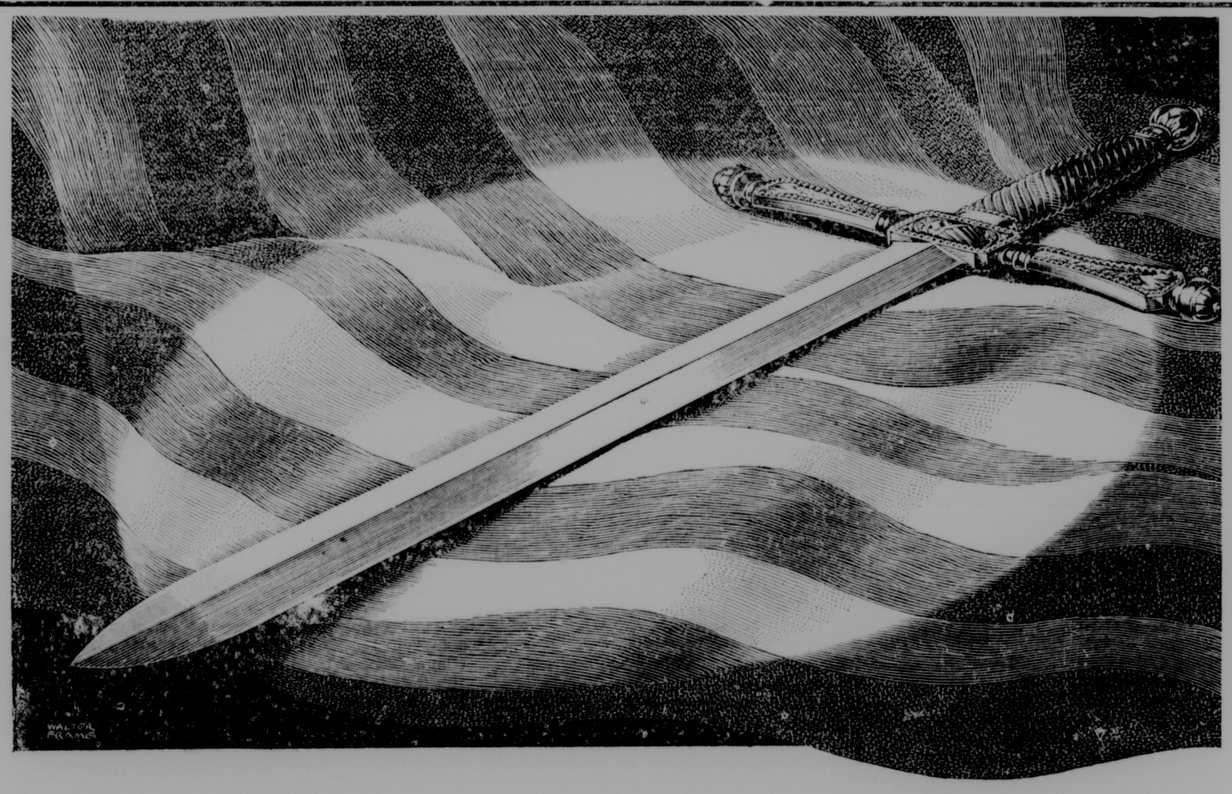
THE POCKETBOOK of KNOWLEDGE BY TOPPS





FREEDOM IS A MIGHTY SWORD

We Americans can rightly be proud of the fact that we are a peace-loving people. That our aim as a nation is to strive to improve human welfare, with freedom and justice for all. ✶ Such a people is always slow to anger, tolerant and patient. But when patience is exhausted, a peace-loving people can turn its peace-time skills into weapons of fierce and righteous wrath. There is only one way such a nation could be enslaved. That would be through propaganda that misleads through lack of knowledge, and of truth. America's greatest strength is... freedom of the printed word... to give the people truth, truth that builds freedom of thought, of word, and of vision. ✶ This great Freedom tempers the steel out of which a nation and a people can forge mighty swords

Bud Hamill in England Appreciates Jaycee Package and Messages

To the Members of Oakland Junior Chamber of Commerce and my Many Friends in Garrett County.

Today (September 17) I received a package from the Junior Chamber of Commerce with messages and presents from many friends. How I can ever express my gratitude to each and every one of you, I don't know, as I can assure that I can't find sufficient words to do it. In the near future I hope to find time to answer each one personally, but until then permit me to use this means of saying: "Thanks a million."

I hope that all of you at home realize the value of this project so that it will continue and other men in the service experience the thrill that I had today. However small my contribution may be to this great cause of ours, it is a privilege more fully experienced by knowing that the "home fires are burning."

This is indeed a great country and I can assure you that we have a great ally. The people are reserved but are nonetheless determined. They are extremely friendly to American soldiers and take great pride in "presenting" their country to us. They have done a remarkable job over here and there are no indications of a let-up.

In closing, let me say thanks again to the Junior Chamber of Commerce and to my friends, and here's to seeing all of you soon—over there!!!

DON'T BE FOOLED BY A FULL JUNK YARD!

Don't listen to people who say—"They can't need scrap very badly. Look at that junk yard, or the auto graveyards—they've got plenty of scrap. And remember the last time we had a drive the stuff sat around for weeks." Tell such people these true facts . . .

OF course the junk yards are full. They are "factories" that turn out finished scrap—sorted, broken up, and bundled . . . ready for the mills of America. The scrap has to go through these yards, and it keeps going through fast!

The auto graveyards too, are busy. They specialize in used car parts, but produce plenty of scrap as well. In June alone, these yards moved 450,000 tons—for they are required to junk within 60 days as many cars as they buy.

As for Salvage Depots—communities all over the country are staging drives. All this scrap can't be taken away at once. The junkies can't handle it and the mills can't store it. But every pound is needed and will be used. We've got to pile it up ready for instant use at any time.

The day when all junk yards are empty, when the auto graveyards are cleaned out, when all the local scrap stockpiles are gone—that is the day to dread. It is a day to avoid at all costs.

So remember—steel is needed to fight the war, and millions of lives depend on it. This steel is made of 50% scrap—and the mills have not enough scrap to last even 30 days longer. Don't fail to do your part in this emergency.

Get your scrap ready for the drive that starts Monday!

LOYALTY TO CHRIST

LESSON TEXT—Mark 2:14-17; John 6:66-69; Philippians 3:7-11.

GOLDEN TEXT—What things were gain to me, those I counted loss for Christ.—Philippians 3:7.

Loyalty is undoubtedly one of the finest traits of mankind. Because of its strength, its fidelity to duty, etc., shrewd men have learned to play upon man's loyalty, making it serve evil and ignoble ends. Unworthy causes, having thus gained the interest of man by fair means or foul, have demanded blind loyalty. Even in the carrying out of crime there has been the suggestion that there is some kind of a code of honor, a loyalty among thieves.

All this does not change the fact that there is a high and holy impulse in man to stand true to the right; and in the Christian, to be found ever loyal to the Christ, whose we are and whom we serve. Faith in Christ (our lesson of last week) is rightly followed by loyalty to Him. It manifests itself in three ways.

I. Following Christ (Mark 2:14-17).

Without obedience there is no use talking about loyalty. When Jesus said: "Follow me," Matthew (Levi) arose and followed. He was a sinner (v. 17), a man of the despised calling of tax-gatherer (v. 14), but he was ready for the call of Jesus.

Notice also that following Christ carries with it the privilege and obligation (it is both) of making Him known to our friends. Matthew did not wait until he had made a new circle of friends and then invite them to a feast. He celebrated his entrance upon the new life of faith by a friendly and effective testimony before his friends who were publicans and sinners.

Notice the words of Jesus in verse 17. It is not good people, satisfied in their own self-righteousness, who get to heaven. It is sinners, saved by grace, who will there magnify the Saviour's name.

II. Faithfulness to Christ (John 6:66-69).

It is one thing to begin, but quite another to persevere in well doing. Jesus had been doing many miracles and a host of followers had flocked to Him. He had not only done great deeds, but had spoken beautiful words about the Fatherhood of God, the power of the Holy Spirit, etc. He had fed the five thousand, and the liked that too.

But now He had talked about a broken body, about partaking of His flesh and His blood, and they did not like it. This reached too deeply into the necessity for a personal spiritual experience, and one that spoke of sacrifice, and many of the disciples "walked no more with him" (v. 66).

How perfect a picture of the "religious experience" of multitudes of men and women in our day.

The true disciple, however, stands truest in just such an hour. "We believe," said Peter, and he spoke better than ever before in his life. "We don't understand everything (that's the thought back of "To whom shall we go?"), but we believe, and we will stand fast." Blessed word of loyalty!

Observe that Peter and his brethren recognized Christ as the "Holy One of God," that is, God's Son in a unique and intimate sense, One close to and participating in the holiness of God. Loyalty will not hold on any lesser concept of Christ. There is no incentive to real service and sacrifice in the watered-out religious faith of the modernistic liberal!

III. Forsaking All for Christ (Phil. 3:7-11).

There were a number of things in the life of Paul as a natural man of which he was justifiably proud, but which in the light of his relationship to Christ paled into insignificance. The best this world can offer looks like rubbish (v. 8)—which it really is—when one catches a glimpse of Jesus Christ.

Turn your eyes upon Jesus,
Look full in His wonderful face,
And the things of earth will grow strangely dim
In the light of His glory and grace.

However, that experience of Paul's was only the beginning of a life of devotion to the Lord, which is expressed in words the depth of which we cannot fully plumb. What does it mean to know "the power of his resurrection, and the fellowship of his sufferings, being made comfortable unto his death"? We do not fully know, but certain we are that it speaks of a fellowship with Christ that is very deep and intimate; a life of power, because He lives in and works through the believer; a sharing with Him of the hatred and bitterness of the world, yes, of death, if need be, for Him, in the assurance of resurrection.

This is an "all out" Christian experience, nothing held back, nothing thought to be too difficult or trying—everything gladly given in unstinted love and devotion to Christ. Now the Christian church is languishing for the want of those who will forsake all to follow Him in complete faithfulness.

Turning Over An Old Leaf

By Phillip A. Gladheim

"There were faces to remember in the Valley of the Shadow;
There were faces unregarded, there were faces to forget;
There were fires of fear and grief that are a few forgotten ashes;
There were sparkes of recognition that are not forgotten yet."

Each community in our county has unique history. Its individualised meaning, its momentary brightness, associated with some distinguished resident or unusual event, should be clearly set forth. Steps should be made to permanently establish its own peculiar tradition and folklore, not only for the sake of posterity, but also to enhance the dignity of the past.

Of the spots in our county, the little community, known as McHenry, has the richest tradition in the post-Revolutionary decades. It was named, as was Fort McHenry, after Dr. James McHenry, our first Secretary of War.

Dr. McHenry visited there (then known as Buffalo Marsh) as the guest of his friend, Colonel Lynn. Later he acquired this property, together with many others, until his real estate holdings approximated 14,000 acres. How often he returned to this section, and how long he stayed is not known for certainty. It is well known that after his retirement he spent at least a year in his mountain home. This was in 1813. In the spring of 1814 he returned to his suburban estate in Baltimore, where he remained an invalid, dying there in 1816.

We know for a certainty that a son, Daniel McHenry, with his wife, in 1811, moved from Baltimore to "Locust Tree Bottom," a parcel of the estate of his father, and adjacent to Buffalo Marsh. So the father visited his son in 1813, and both son and daughter-in-law accompanied the father back to Baltimore in the spring of 1814. Daniel left his wife in Baltimore and started on his return to Garrett county in June of that year. He was thrown off his horse near Baltimore and was killed.

Shortly after this tragedy, a nephew of Dr. James McHenry, John McHenry, Jr., moved on the estate. He changed the location of his home and built a large comfortable log house. This dwelling stood near the present dwelling occupied for many years by Jonas Glotfelty. It was purchased and improved by Samuel Leff, the proprietor of the Seventh Avenue Hotel, Pittsburgh, Pa., and about two years ago Mr. Leff sold this property to Ronald McIntire, who now lives there.

Perhaps the present house, which is a very fine one, has in it materials of the McHenry log house. Be it remembered that the original McHenry estate has been for many years sub-divided into small farms and that the McIntire property is but a small unit of what was once a vast manor.

Speaking of Jonas Gloefelty, this month marks his 98th birthday anniversary. He is the only survivor of the original Glotfelty clan, which rivals that of the Friends in number. Jonas is still hale and hearty and lives with his son Bryson at Addison, Pa.

John McHenry, Jr., lived here for many years. He was of a retiring disposition, yet mingled freely and without social distinction among the other residents of the community. This is especially noted in Meshack Browning's "Forty-Four Years of the Life of the Hunter," and also from the comment of Augustine Friend as recorded in "A Sporting Family of the Old South". Mr. McHenry also made a real cultural contribution to this county. After the Sang Run Academy was abandoned, he established an academy on his place and taught for one or two terms. The academy was also used as a church where all denominations were permitted to hold services. His other memorial was the writing of a legal work in 1822—"The Ejectment Law of Maryland." A leather-bound copy in first-class condition was presented to the Garrett County Historical Society in August, 1942. It was owned by Charles McHenry Howard, and his executors, upon his passing, felt that the most appropriate resting place of this valuable document would be in the archives of the Society. Mr. McHenry Howard's family was related to the McHenry family and also to Francis Scott Key, the latter, as we so well know, was inspired in writing our national anthem at the time of the bombardment of Fort McHenry.

So here in Garrett county two families whose memory is immortal thru patriotic song and service, who have owned large tracts of land, and who between them, have been in continuous seasonal residence for over a hundred years. Furthermore, their names and lives are not only of central import in the shaping of their adopted State, but equally involved in important services to the nation at the time its government and policies were being formed. This is especially true of Dr. James McHenry, whose various services will be described at the close of this article.

Mr. Charles Hoye, President of the Garrett County Historical Society, who had had several conferences with the late Charles McHenry Howard, was amazed by the latter's erudition of Garrett county. Mr. Howard, together with his sisters, the Misses Elizabeth, May and Frances, are life members of the Society.

To get back to the John McHenrys: There is an interesting incident that should be mentioned since it happened just one hundred years ago.

Martha McHenry, John's wife, wrote a letter to her dear friend Susan West, who married Richard Drane, of Accident. At the time this letter was written, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Drane were living in Palmyra, Mo., to which address Martha McHenry sent the letter. This Susan West was a close relative of the Garrett county Wests. The original letter is now in the archives of the Historical Society, recently acquired as a gift from a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Drane, Mrs. Mary Gerard, of Fort Bragg, Calif. It is a long letter and I will quote one paragraph, which indicates that the McHenrys must have been extremely happy and satisfied here in the wilderness and removed from civilization. To quote:

"Mr. McHenry, who had not been to Baltimore in twenty years, was made lion of. They said he looked better and handsomer than he did when a young man. His gray curls were admired prodigiously by the young girls, everyone declaring she would have a lock of his hair. I was obliged to veto it for fear my husband should be left bald.

"Will you be surprised to learn I went to a ball? I went reluctantly and to please Mr. McHenry. I was very much pleased indeed. I there saw all the world of fashion; a splendid supper. The rooms were brilliantly lighted and tastefully decorated with both natural and artificial flowers, the ladies splendidly dressed. I was also at a very large wedding. The rest of my stay was most agreeably spent with my friends in very agreeable small evening parties." Then in a final paragraph this: "Mr. McHenry would, I am sure, send love to both of you, were he not talking most loudly to a roomful of company, so you must put up with this, such as it is, and believe me, very sincerely your friend, Martha McHenry."

Now let us return in closing to Dr. James McHenry, who was responsible for the establishment of the McHenry Manor. He was a native of Ireland, where he completed his formal studies in Dublin. On coming to America he continued his studies in Philadelphia, specializing in medicine and completed his training under the famous Dr. Benjamin Rush. McHenry served as a doctor in a Cambridge (Mass.) hospital. In May, 1778, he received the appointment as secretary to General Washington. He also served as personal consultant to General Lafayette. He was present at the surrender of Lord Cornwallis in Yorktown, which was his last military service. From then on he assumed vital leadership in the role of a creative statesman. He was one of the principal men responsible for the framing and signing of the Constitution. In 1796 he became the first Secretary of War which position he retained until his resignation in 1800. He is also credited for laying the groundplans for the creation of West Point and the Naval Academy.

Besides the vital part played in the organizing of our national government he also worked loyally and effectively for the State of Maryland, being a member of the Senate. His intimate friends were Washington, Lafayette and Hamilton, which indicates more than anything else his calibre and station. If it had not been for his illness which brought his life to a close in his 63rd year he would likely have continued a brilliant career in the national government.

P. S. As a child many happy days were spent at McHenry. I still remember two Pittsburghers, one a Mr. Bossert, formerly a pitcher for the Pittsburgh Pirates, who would come every September to hunt fish. Often they would arise early and go to Marsh Hill, where they would hunt squirrels. In the afternoon they would go to Sang Run and fish for bass in the Youghiogheny. In the evenings, while my cousins and I cleaned and dressed the squirrels and bass (for pecuniary reasons), these old sports would tell us tall tales of their former prowess.

Maryland was allotted 690 autos and 1,457 bicycles this month.

Attack On J. Glenn Beall Is Termed "Disgraceful" by Republican Committee

Allegany County State Central Group Refutes Charges of E. Brooke Lee and His Henchmen

Answering attacks made upon J. Glenn Beall, Republican nominee for Sixth District United States Representative in advertisements published in local papers by authority of the Montgomery County Democratic State Central Committee, the Republican State Central Committee for Allegany County Friday night issued the following statement:

Term Attack Disgraceful

The disgraceful attack upon J. Glenn Beall in the newspapers of this district by E. Brooke Lee and his back alley henchmen is sufficient to nauseate decent citizens. We are surprised that the Lee political managers would publish such an article, even as a paid advertisement. It seems to us that in decency and fairness to a citizen that has served Allegany county faithfully and honestly as road director, state senator and chairman of the State Roads Commission, those responsible should have scrutinized its copy and eliminated such scurrilous matter as that appearing in this advertisement.

Remember, we live here and know J. Glenn Beall. We know him to be honest and fair. We recognize his worth to the community and we are not going to sit idly by and permit the Democratic politicians of Montgomery County to import their methods into Allegany County.

Paid The Obligations

It is a well known fact that J. Glenn Beall meets his obligations and pays his bills. There are no judgments of record against J. Glenn Beall anywhere in these United States, and he paid the obligations for which he was directly responsible to the various banks to which he owed money. He did this with the sanction and approval of the late Thomas B. Finan, who was receiver of the several banks to which J. Glenn Beall was indebted, and with the knowledge and consent of the attorney for the receiver of these banks, the Hon. William C. Walsh, Attorney General of the State of Maryland, who undoubtedly passed upon the legality of this settlement.

Furthermore, it was with the approval and consent of the Comptroller of the Currency and the office of the United States Bank Examiner.

At this time the foregoing people and agencies understood the obligations upon which Mr. Beall was directly responsible and liable and elected to collect the balance of the obligations upon which Mr. Beall was secondarily liable from the persons or concerns who were primarily liable and responsible for these debts. Whether they were successful or not in collecting the balance of these obligations depended upon the judgment and resourcefulness of the receiver and counsel to the receiver, the Hon. William C. Walsh. It is not true that Mr. Beall has not been a successful business man, as everyone who knows him recognizes his ability as a citizen and business man, and his credit standing in the community in which he lives is unimpaired.

Lee's Record Given

Inasmuch as Mr. Lee and his personally dominated State Central Committee of Montgomery County have endeavored by malicious statements and half truths to unjustly malign and smear Mr. Beall's personal and business reputation, it becomes necessary to inform the people of the Sixth Congressional District truthfully about the financial standing of Mr. E. Brooke Lee, whose record could be nothing but distasteful to the people of this District.

Judgment in favor of T. Howard Duckett against E. Brooke Lee	$ 1,188.66
Judgment in favor of Citizens National Bank of Laurel against E. Brooke Lee	1,219.59
Judgment in favor of Citizens National Bank of Laurel against E. Brooke Lee	6,555.18
Judgment in favor of Baltimore Trust Company (Howard Bruce's "Busted Bank") against E. Brooke Lee	36,994.11
Judgment in favor of Southern Building Supply against E. Brooke Lee (Credit Line $189.94)	9,386.80
Judgment in favor of Peoples Liquidating Corp. (Took over Central Trust Company of Frederick) against E. Brooke Lee	1,681.37
Judgment in favor of Peoples Liquidating Corp. (Took over Central Trust Company of Frederick) against E. Brooke Lee	133,682.89
Judgment in favor of Baltimore Trust Company (Howard Bruce's "Busted Bank") against E. Brooke Lee	6,668.80
Judgment in favor of Bank of Bethesda (entered to use of J. Harry Welch and T. Howard Duckett) against E. Brooke Lee	8,887.50
Total	$209,074.51

Expense Account Cited

Mr. Lee also, while an associate member of the State Roads Commission, had a personal expense account that jumped from $390.50 for the year ending May 1, 1932, to the sum of $1,810.81 for ten months period ending February 28, 1933. During the same period the other members of the Commission had no expense account whatsoever. This item of $1,810.81 was withdrawn by Mr. Lee from the petty cash funds of the State Roads Commission during the bank holiday, Mr. Lee depositing a voucher therefor. In testimony of Mr. William A. Codd taken by the State Survey Commission, Mr. Codd testified that he could not identify a number of expenditures as having any connection with State roads business.

In conclusion, this attempted smear on J. Glenn Beall by Brooke Lee's political henchmen is apparently made to take the public spotlight off the unsavory record of Brooke Lee in an endeavor to direct the attention of the people elsewhere.

The machine leaders of the Sixth Congressional District are niw becoming fearful that they cannot foist on the people of the Sixth Congressional District one with a record such as E. Brooke Lee's.

These Western Maryland Democratic bosses will learn on November third that the people of the Sixth Congressional District are not so gullible as to be taken in by the half truths and demagoguery that are depicted in this malicious and unfounded attack on J. Glenn Beall.

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE

In Garrett County, Maryland, Near Cranesville, W. Va.

Under and by virtue of the powers vested in me by the last will and testaments of Marshall H. Frankhouser and Elizabeth A. Frankhouser, his wife, and orders of the Orphans Court for Garrett County, Maryland, I hereby give notice that on Wednesday, October 21, 1942.

At the Hour of One o'Clock P. M.,

upon the property to be sold, I will offer at public auction all of the home farm of said Marshall H. and Elizabeth A. Frankhauser, composed of the following parcels, to-wit:

1. All that parcel of land containing 70 acres, more or less, embracing Military Lot No. 1402 and 20 acres at the West end of said lot, and being known and distinguished as the tract of land called "Tudor," which was conveyed unto the said Marshall H. Frankhouser by deed from Israel M. Frankhouser dated April 8, 1890, and recorded in Liber E. Z. T., No. 15, folio 713, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland.

2. All of those two parcels of land, lying and being partly in Garrett County, Maryland, and partly in Preston County, West Virginia, the first containing 23 7-8 acres and the second 4 acres, and being the same which were conveyed unto the said Marshall H. Frankhouser and Elizabeth A. Frankhouser, his wife, as tenants in common, by deed from Edgar F. Jenkins and wife, dated May 26, 1916, and recorded in Liber E. Z. T., No. 70, folio 391, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, and Deed Book No. 147, page 472, Records of Preston County, West Virginia.

3. Also all the right, title and interest of the said Marshall H. Frankhouser in and to the use of that certain spring of water as described in a deed from Bert C. Feather and wife to Edgar F. Jenkins bearing date April 22, 1901, and recorded in Liber E. Z. T., No. 40, folio 398, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, with right of ingress and regress for the purpose of laying and maintaining a pipe-line therefrom.

About 50 acres of said farm are cleared and under cultivation, and the balance is pasture and wooded land. It is improved by a good dwelling, two barns and other usual farm buildings. It is located about one mile from Cranesville, West Va., and four miles from Sang Run, Maryland. It is a very excellent farm.

TERMS OF SALE—One-third cash on day of sale, one-third in six months and one-third in twelve months, or all cash, at the option of the purchaser. Possession upon ratification of the sale by the Orphans Court for Garrett County.

MAUD E. GROVES, Executrix.
LAYTONSVILLE, MD.

N. B.—At the same time there will also be offered for sale all of that other parcel of land, containing 50 acres, more or less, which was conveyed to said Marshall H. Frankhouser by deed from Henry Spindler and wife, dated May 3, 1910, and recorded in Deed Book 127, page 290, Records of Preston County, West Virginia. This property is situated in Preston County, West Virginia, about two miles from the above home farm of said Marshall H. Frankhouser and wife, and one mile from Cranesville along the Lake Ford Road. It adjoins the lands of Joseph C. Feather, H. W. Ringer, Ora Teets and Thomas Haigh.

Following the sale of the above real estate Elliott and Friend, Cranesville, W. Va., will sell at public auction all of the personal properay of said farm, consisting of live stock farm machinery, household furniture, etc.

PROCLAMATION OF THE GOVERNOR OF MARYLAND DIRECTING THE PUBLICATION OF BILLS PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE.

WHEREAS, at the January session of the General Assembly of Maryland, held in the year 1941, the following Acts were passed, providing for the submission of amendments to the Constitution of the State to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection, namely:

CHAPTER 337

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Amendments to the Constitution", relating to the advertisement or publication of amendments to the Constitution, and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, the same, if adopted by the qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

1. The General Assembly may propose Amendments to this Constitution; provided that each Amendment shall be embraced in a separate Bill, embodying the Article or Section, as the same will stand when amended and shall require the assent of all the members elected to each of the two Houses, by yeas and nays, to be entered on the Journals with the proposed Amendment. The Bill or Bills proposing amendment or amendments shall be published by order of the Governor, in at least two newspapers, in each County, where so many may be published, and where not more than one may be published, then in that newspaper, and in three newspapers published in the City of Baltimore, once a week for three weeks immediately preceding the next ensuing general election, at which the proposed amendment or amendments shall be submitted, in a form to be prescribed by the General Assembly, to the qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection. Provided, however, the General Assembly may provide for publishing any proposed amendment or amendments in pamphlet form, and for making said pamphlets available to the registered voters of the State in addition to publication in the newspapers. The votes cast for and against said proposed amendment or amendments, severally, shall be returned to the Governor, in the manner prescribed in other cases, and if it shall appear to the Governor that a majority of the votes cast at said election on said amendment or amendments, severally, were cast in favor thereof, the Governor shall, by his proclamation, declare the said amendment or amendments, severally, which received said majority of votes, to have been adopted by the people of Maryland as part of the Constitution thereof, and thenceforth said amendment or amendments shall be part of the said Constitution. When two or more amendments shall be submitted in manner aforesaid, to the voters of this State at the same election, they shall be so submitted as that each amendment shall be voted on separately.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That said aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall, at the next general election for members of the General Assembly of Maryland, to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State, for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against the said proposed amendment, as directed by said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article 14.

Approved: May 2, 1941.

CHAPTER 451

AN ACT to amend Section 21 of Article 4, title "Judiciary Department", sub-title "Part III—Circuit Courts", of the Constitution of this State, providing for the residential qualification and method of selection of Associate Judges of the Third Judicial Circuit and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of this State for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That three-fifths of all members elected to each of the two houses concurring) the following section be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 21 of Article 4 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Judiciary Department", sub-title "Part III—Circuit Courts", the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters thereof as herein provided to become Section 21 of Article 4 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

21. For each of the said circuits, excepting the eighth, the second, the third, the sixth and the seventh there shall be a chief judge and two associate judges, to be styled judges of the Circuit Court, to be selected or appointed as herein provided, and for the second circuit, the third circuit, the sixth circuit and the seventh circuit, there shall be a chief judge and three associate judges to be selected or appointed as herein provided. And so two of said associate judges, for any of the said circuits, except the third, sixth and seventh circuits, shall, at the time of their selection or appointment, reside in the same county, or which they have been elected or appointed, reside in the same county. If two or more persons shall be candidates for associate judge in the same county in any of the circuits, except the third, sixth and seventh circuits, the one only in said county shall be declared elected who has the highest number of votes in the circuit. In case any two candidates for associate judge in any of the circuits, except the third, sixth and seventh circuits, residing in the same county on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be equal in number of votes greater than any other candidates for associate judge in the circuit, it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for one associate judge; but no two residing in any other county of the circuit and who has the highest number of votes shall be declared elected. The said judges shall hold not less than two terms of the Circuit Court in each of the counties composing the respective circuits, and shall hold as many more or may hereafter be prescribed to which jurors shall be summoned; and in those counties where only two such terms are held, no other and intermediate terms, to which jurors shall not be summoned, they may alter and fix as the business of said terms, from time to time, until otherwise prescribed, and shall adopt rules to the end that all business not requiring the interposition of the jury shall be, as far as practicable, disposed of at such intermediate terms. The judges of each of the above circuits, including the second, the third, the sixth and seventh circuits, shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of any business, and the said judges or any of them may hold special terms, whenever in their discretion the business of the several counties renders such terms necessary.

In the Third Circuit, two of said Associate judges shall at all times be bona fide residents of Caroline, Cecil, Kent, Queen Anne's and Talbot Counties, constituting the second circuit. The judge so appointed shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit, and the judge so elected shall be subject to the same constitutional provision, hold his office for the same term of years, receive the same compensation, and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit.

The additional judge for the sixth circuit herein provided for and elected by the qualified voters of Frederick and Montgomery Counties at the 1938 election in accordance with the terms of the Constitutional Amendment heretofore submitted and adopted shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the sixth circuit and his successor shall be appointed and/or elected in accordance with the constitutional provisions relating to judges. The Chief Judge may be elected from either Frederick or Montgomery Counties, but when the Chief Judge is elected from Frederick County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said county and the two remaining associate judges shall be residents of Montgomery County and when the Chief Judge is elected from Montgomery County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said Montgomery County and the remaining two associate judges residents of Frederick County. In case any candidate or candidates for associate judge at any judicial election held in the third and sixth judicial circuits shall receive sufficient votes to cause such candidate or candidates to be declared elected, but the election of such candidate or candidates would cause more associate judges than herein permitted to reside in any county of said circuits, then and in that event only that candidate or those candidates, as the case may be, residing in said county in the order of the votes received shall be declared elected whose election would provide the permitted number of associate judges from said county and the candidate or candidates as the case may be, residing in the other county, and not similarly disqualified who shall have the next highest number of votes in said election shall be declared elected. If by reason of such a condition or by reason of an equal vote for two or more candidates a sufficient number of associate judges duly qualified as to residence as above set out should not be elected at any election in said third and sixth judicial circuits, then it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for such unfilled office or offices.

The additional associate judge for the seventh circuit herein provided for shall be appointed by the Governor immediately after the adoption of this amendment and shall serve until the first general election for members of the General Assembly that shall be held in said circuit subsequent to the adoption of this amendment, at which election his successor shall be elected by the qualified voters of Caroline, Cecil, Kent, Queen Anne's and Talbot Counties, constituting the second circuit. The judge so appointed shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the seventh circuit, and the judge so elected and his successors shall, subject to the same constitutional provisions, hold office for the same term of years, receive the same compensation, and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the seventh circuit. No two of the associate judges for the seventh circuit shall at the time of their election or appointment or during the term for which they may have been elected or appointed reside in the same county, except in Prince George's County, in which county two of said associate judges for the seventh circuit shall reside at the time of their appointment or election and during the term for which they may have been appointed or elected unless the chief judge of said circuit shall already reside in said county, in which case only one of said associate judges shall reside in Prince George's County and Prince George's County shall at all time have two resident Judges and no more, such Judges to be either the Chief Judge of the Seventh Circuit and one associate Judge or two associate Judges of said Circuit. In case any candidate or candidates for associate judge at any judicial election held in the seventh judicial circuit shall receive sufficient votes to cause such candidate or candidates to be elected, but the election of such candidate or candidates would cause more associate judges than herein permitted to reside in any county of said circuit, then and in that event only that candidate or those candidates, as the case may be, residing in said county in the order of the votes received shall be declared elected whose election would provide the permitted number of associate judges from said county and the candidate or candidates, as the case may be, residing in some other county, and not similarly disqualified, who shall have the next highest number of votes in said election shall be declared elected. If, by reason of such a condition or by reason of an equal vote for two or more candidates a sufficient number of associate judges duly qualified as to residence as above set out should not be elected at any election in said seventh judicial circuit, then it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for such unfilled office or offices.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State shall be, at the next general election to be held in this State in the year 1942, submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of this State, and at the said general election, the vote on the said proposed amendment shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment" as now prescribed by law, and immediately after said election, returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment as directed by said Article 14 of the Constitution.

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 45 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", relating to the salary of Clerks of Courts and Registrars of Wills and providing for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members elected to each of the two Houses concurring), That the following amendment be and it is hereby proposed to Section 45 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Section 45 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland:

45. The General Assembly shall provide a simple and uniform system of charges in the offices of Clerks of Courts and Registers of Wills, in the Counties of this State and the City of Baltimore, and for the collection thereof; provided, the amount of compensation to any of the said officers in the various counties and in the City of Baltimore shall be such as may be prescribed by law.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing Section, hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State, shall, at the election to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, upon each ballot there shall be printed the words: "For Constitutional Amendment" and "Against Constitutional Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against proposed amendment, as directed by said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article 14.

CHAPTER 607

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland title "Legislative Department" by adding a new section to be known as Section 40B, providing for the taking of property by the State Roads Commission under certain circumstances; and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members elected to each of the two Houses concurring), That the following new Section be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Article III, title "Legislative Department" of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, the same to be inserted after Section 40A and to be numbered 40B, and if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, said section shall become a part of Article III of the Constitution of Maryland.

40B. The General Assembly shall enact no law authorizing private property to be taken for public use without just compensation, to be agreed upon between the parties or awarded by a jury, being first paid or tendered to the party entitled to such compensation, except that where such property in the judgment of the State Roads Commission is needed by the State for highway purposes, the General Assembly may provide that such property may be taken immediately upon payment therefor to the owner or owners thereof by said State Roads Commission, or into Court, such amount as said State Roads Commission shall estimate to be of the fair value of said property, provided such legislation also requires the payment of any further sum that may subsequently be awarded by a jury.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the foregoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland, shall, at the election to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of the directions contained in Article XIV of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "FOR CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT" and "AGAINST CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment as directed by Article XIV of the Constitution and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article XIV.

(Approved: April 28, 1941.)

CHAPTER 695

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 15 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", regulating the period that General Assembly may continue its session and compensation of the members thereof, and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members elected to each of the two Houses concurring), That the following be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 15 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", relating to the period that General Assembly may continue its session and compensation of the members thereof, and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection, the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Section 15 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

15. The General Assembly may continue its session so long as in its judgment the public interest may require, for a period not longer than ninety days; and each member thereof shall receive a compensation of One Thousand Dollars ($1,000) per annum, payable quarterly, with a deduction of fifteen dollars per diem for each day of unexcused absence from any session; and he shall also receive such mileage as may be allowed by law, not exceeding twenty cents per mile; and the presiding officer of each House shall receive an additional compensation of Two hundred and fifty ($250) dollars per annum. When the General Assembly shall be convened by Proclamation of the Governor, the session shall not continue longer than thirty days, but no additional compensation other than mileage and other allowances provided by law shall be paid members of the General Assembly for Special Sessions.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That said aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall, at the next general election to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State, for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against proposed amendment, as directed by said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article 14.

Approved: May 2, 1941.

Visitor Here Gives Sidelight on Departure Of Boys for the Service

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Longacre, of Pittsburgh, Pa., are spending several days in Oakland. The former is a retired Pullman car conductor and was in charge during the last war of taking soldiers to the various camps throughout the country, having been through Oakland a number of times. His impression is that during the last war there was more outward spirit shown at the stations as the draftees left for service, with the home town band always out to give the boys at least a loud sendoff. But he finds that the mothers and sweethearts of these boys are shedding the same kind of tears as the train pulls out, as was done during the last war.

Mr. Longacre also sheds some interesting history about the Indian head. It was the head of Sara Longacre, a 10-year-old girl, daughter of James B. Longacre, a projenitor of the town's present visitor.

According to the story the United States government in 1825 made an offer of $1,000 for a design to be placed upon the new cent coin soon to be issued.

Some Indian chiefs visited the Philadelphia mint, where James Barton Longacre was chief engraver. He invited the chiefs to his home. One of them placed his feathered helmet and war bonnet upon the daughter Sara. In the company was an artist who sketched her. Mr. Longacre resolved to contend for the government prize and the officials accepted. So his daughter's picture was circulated about the nation for nearly a century until 1909 when the Lincoln penny came into existence. The last issue was over twenty-seven millions in 1909.

DIED

C. NEY SMITH

Ney Smith, 45, of Kitzmiller, died suddenly Sunday morning, October 4, of a heart attack at Hatfield Hospital, Huntington, W. Va., where he was employed. A son of Mrs. R. A. and the late Mr. Smith, he was born and reared at Kitzmiller, where he was a member of the First Methodist church. He received his A. B. degree from West Virginia Wesleyan College and his Master's degree at Harvard. Surviving, besides his mother, are his wife, Mrs. Frances (Hammond) Smith, formerly of Moundsville; one daughter, Mrs. Jack Covington, Charleston, W. Va., and one son, Carroll N. Smith, a student at the West Virginia University; one brother, Allen Smith, Kitzmiller, and one sister, Mrs. Harry Wilson, Covington, Va. The body was brought to Kitzmiller for the funeral and interment.

Mr. Smith was a mechanical engineer, veteran of World War I and a member of Wilson Fidler Post, American Legion of Kitzmiller.

MRS. MAUD POPE TURNER

Mrs. Maud E. Turner, widow of George C. Turner, died suddenly at 8:15 a. m., on September 28, 1942, at her home on the National Highway, near Shade Mills. She had been in failing health for the past year but for the past six months had been active about her home and on the fatal morning had arisen and was in the act of preparing breakfast when she was stricken with a heart attack.

She was born near the place she made her home on September 15, 1876, and was united in marriage to George C. Turner in 1896. Surviving are the following children: Catherine Turner, Wellsburg, W. Va.; Frank Turner, at home; and Weaver Turner, near Frostburg.

Funeral services were held at 2:30 p. m., on Thursday, October 1, with Rev. V. R. Gillum, Methodist pastor, officiating. Interment was in the Mt. Zion cemetery.

Attending the services from a distance were Mrs. Jennie Turner Weaver and daughter, Sarah, Buckhannon, W. Va.; Mrs. Mollie Frost Turner, Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. James Michael, and Mrs. George McGeary, Youngstown, O.; Private H. J. Hummel, Jackson Air Base, Jackson, Miss., and Mrs. Annabelle Dawson, Piedmont, W. Va.

MRS. LYDIA RODAMER

Mrs. Lydia Yoder Rodamer, 91, died early Wednesday, October 7, at the home of a son, Stewart Rodamer, Grantsville, with whom she had resided for seven years.

She was born near Salisbury, Pa., a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Yoder. She was a member of the Salisbury Church of the Brethren.

Another son, Milton Rodamer, also survives.

DIARY OF THE WAR

FRIDAY — Germany was using fresh divisions to crawl ahead in Stalingrad streets. From quiet sectors German soldiers were moving back to guard occupied and Axis territory against possible "second front." Allies were beginning to take initiative in Egypt, capturing several strong points. American shipyards reached a goal of three ships a day last month. Australians had pushed Japs back in New Guinea while allied planes continued to blast their supply bases.

SATURDAY—Soviet relief attacks north of Stalingrad were cheating Germans of small gains the previous night. Reds had thrown Nazis from fortified positions. American bombers attacked occupied France and RAF raided U-boat shops in Nazi towns on Baltic. Navy disclosed that our aircraft were making all-day attacks on Japs in Aleutian chain, with total of enemy ships now lost in that area at 37. Australian counter-push in New Guinea continued and enemy was now 64 miles from Port Moresby. U. S. air force bombers were assisting in reduction of Axis supplies in Egypt area as British prepared to begin full-scale battle.

SUNDAY — Navy announced that army troops and air forces supported by naval units had moved into advanced bases in mid-Aleutian islands, reducing by 250 miles bombing distance to Jap-held Kiska island. Allies moved farther along New Guinea trail and were near top of Owen Stanley mountain range. Willkie, in China, stressed necessity of offensive action in Pacific. Reds imperiled the Nazi hold at Stalingrad by pushing wedge into German flank. British bombers attacked Rhineland. Japan was bolstering her fighter-plane defenses in Burma.

MONDAY—Stalin called bluntly for a second front asking U. S. and Britain to fulfill their obligations fully and on time. Reds were counter-attacking with success around Stalingrad and held initiative except in northwest suburbs. Australians in New Guinea pushed Japs back to within 6 miles of the mountain range. Goering in Germany told his people that Germans would be fed this winter at the expense, if necessary, of the rest of Europe. He asked Germans to stand up under British bombings.

TUESDAY — Germans began another huge drive against Stalingrad and advanced slightly but Reds gave very little. Above the city Red army was improving its positions against Nazi flank. The siege army was estimated at 400,000 men. Savage ground clashes marked the battle for the Solomons as Americans shot down ten Jap planes, damaged others and hit a destroyer. Army bombers operating from new bases in western Aleutians keep hammering at Japs on Kiska island. U. S. Navy announced loss of its fifth sub; three of these lost in Pacific action. Australians were close to top of mountain range in New Guinea meeting only desultory opposition.

WEDNESDAY — Willkie speaking in China, bluntly demanded an all-out armed offensive everywhere and called on Western Allies at once to renounce the whole idea of an empire of nations over other nations. Australian troops in New Guinea reached the mile-high gap in the mountains. A Jap convoy was located moving away from Buma. Red armies were still holding Stalingrad through 43rd day of battle. There was an onset of colder weather. RAF bombed Western Germany especially Essen munitions works. Japs landed more troops in Solomons as a new effort to take the U. S. base loomed. Americans damaged a cruiser and destroyed 11 Jap fighter planes in the fight. Mexico will begin army conscription in January.

THURSDAY—A Russian relief offensive from north of Stalingrad revealed that Germany had been fixing for a "winter line" based on the Volga. Some German successes were reported in the Caucases, forty miles from the Gronzy oil field center. Australians in New Guinea pursued Japs beyond mountain top without resistance. American pilots disclosed that Japs apparently were abandoning Aluti an Islands as their presence was sti l noticed on only one of the three they first occupied. French were warned to vacate factory area now working for Germany. RAF raided a transport center in Germany. Nazis executed fifteen more at Trodheim, Norway, thus making twenty-five executions in two days. President Roosevelt called for punishment of ring leaders in the war crimes now being perpetrated by the Axis.

Plan Chest Clinics For Fall and Winter

Chest clinics for the examination of persons suspected of having tuberculosis or who have been in contact with the disease are held in all of the counties of Maryland, monthly, or oftener. The clinics are conducted under the joint auspices of the State Health Department and the State Tuberculosis Association and are made possible through the sale of the Christmas seals. The schedule in each county and all other local arrangements are planned and carried out under the direction of the County Health Officer.

In calling attention to the arrangements for the fall and winter clinics for 1942-1943, Dr. R. H. Riley, Director of the State Health Department, said that in view of transportation difficulties, particular care had been taken to select centers that are as readily accessible as possible.

As usual, the examinations at the clinics will be conducted by clinicians from the State Sanatoria, by the County Health Officers, or by other physicians with special experience in this field. Portable x-ray machines are included in the equipment of all of the clinics making it possible to have x-ray pictures taken immediately in connection with the general examination.

A special effort is made at all of the clinics, Dr. Riley said, to find the early cases, in which the disease is just beginning, and when the possibilities of arresting the disease or of bringing it under complete control, are most favorable.

The necessary treatment is advised for each individual on the basis of the examination and the x-ray pictures. Sanatorium care is recommended for those for whom it is advisable and care at home under medical or nursing supervision, for others. In connection with the clinic services, the public health nurses paid over 11,000 visits to the homes of the patients in 1941.

There were 352 clinics held in 1941 which were attended by over 7,000 patients, 500 of whom were admitted to Tuberculosis Sanatoria for treatment. The clinics reached every section of the counties at least once, and in some instances return visits were made. The patients were referred by their own physicians or were discovered by the County Health Officers and public health nurses in connection with various other services. Other cases were found in the examination of selectees for Federal services.

In spite of the difficulties of transportation, there has been a considerable increase in the attendance at the clinics during the current year, Dr. Riley said, amounting to from twenty to twenty-two per cent of the total attendance.

Information with regard to places and dates for the clinics in each county can be obtained from the County Health Officer. There is no charge for the clinic services.

Blitzing Food Waste in Your Pantry

Wage a real "blitz" attack on food waste in your kitchen cupboards and other storage places this autumn. As war goes on there is greater need to be alert against insects, mold, dampness, mice and all the other saboteurs of the pantry.

One effective way to get all the good from food is to store it well until used. Put each type of food in the place it will keep best—in the right, and correctly cared for, cupboard, cooler, can or jar. Then check once in a while to make sure the food is ready for able duty when needed.

Sugar and spices are doubly precious these days. To store well, these foods need clean, tight containers that keep out dust, moisture, insects and mice. Spices, coffee and tea need containers tight enough to keep in prized flavors. When you open your cupboard door and get a spicy whiff of cinnamon or cloves—watch out. You can lose taste along with fragrance on the kitchen air. Keep spices in a cool place.

The best place to store flour is in a tight can, jar or bin—to keep out light as well as moisture, mice bugs and dust. Clean these containers thoroughly before putting in new supplies of flour.

Bread will stay fresh longer, keep from molding in humid weather, if you wrap it in moisture proof paper and put it in the refrigerator. Otherwise, put your bread in a ventilated box. Cool home-baked bread before storing.

Cake, also, ought to be thoroughly cooled before you put it away. It needs its own well-covered box, ventilated if in a humid climate. Both bread and cake containers must be spotlessly clean to keep away mould. They need scalding, airing and sunning regularly.

Crackers and crisp cookies soften if you store them with bread or cake. To keep them in the best condition, put these foods by themselves in clean, air-tight tins or boxes. And if you have a cookie jar make sure it has a tight-fitting top.

According to a recent survey, American homemakers planned to put up over 3 billion jars of food, or about 50 percent more in this war year than recent peacetime years. Many homemakers this year are putting up vegetables and fruits from their own Victory Gardens. Whether you have a large array of canned goods on hand or only a few jars, you can't afford to lose a single jar.

Foods canned in glass need to be stored in a cool, dark place * * * light affects their color and vitamins. Keep tinned goods dry to prevent cans from rusting. Rust may eat through metal and cause the food within to spoil. If you have home-dried some of the produce from your Victory Gardens, store these dried vegetables in tight, moisture-proof containers. And keep the containers themselves in a cool, dark, dry place.

The natural sugar in dried fruits, too, need protection against dust, moisture and pests. As an etra precaution against weevils or worms, look over the stored dried fruit once in a while—especially if you still have warm weather.

Butter and cheese need to be cold for safe keeping. Also keep them well covered, so that butter will not take up odors and so that cheese will not share its strong odor with something else. Cottage cheese and other soft types should be used quickly. Hard, cured cheese may be kept longer if you wrap it well and store in a cold place.

Fats keep best when stored in clean, tightly covered jars or tins and put in a cool, dark place. These you save to use again should be strained * * * and they need as much care as new fats.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS . . . . . .

By FRANK R. KENT

Copyright by The Baltimore Sun and reprinted in The Republican by permission.

President And Press

Washington, Oct. 3.

Before the recent "secret" excursion by the President to the Pacific Coast is put under "finished business" several things need to be said. With the gag out of its mouth the protest of the American press has been such as to warn that the kind of senseless censorship to which it was subjected in this case will not again be tolerated.

* * *

To have done less would have been to abandon all pretense of journalistic independence and supinely concede the Administration the right to conceal its misdeeds and mistakes behind an imposed silence. That is the method of the Hitlers and Mussolinis. It is the custom in the totalitarian countries, but it is in sharp conflict with the spirit of the democratic countries such as England and the United States, and it makes slightly absurd our proclamations about freedom.

The excuse that this unprecedented suppression of the facts, which was supposed to conceal the whereabouts of the President for two weeks but which failed to keep it from hundreds of thousands who saw him or were told about him, was necessary for his security is altogether too thin to hold water. Anxious to cooperate to insure that security, nevertheless the newspapers almost unanimously point out that the sort of censorship imposed was wholly useless for that purpose. All it did was force the press into a futile conspiracy supposed to convince the people that the President was at his post of duty in Washington when a great many knew he was not.

* * *

It is gratifying that, at the end of the jaunt, the newspapers have so vigorously pointed out the phonyness of the excuse, the futility of the suppression and the peril of the precedent. Also, it is heartening that they have so clearly noted the transparency of the Presidential idea that he could cover up, first, the fact that he should not have made the trip and, second, the mistake of presenting any mention of it for two weeks, by lecturing the Congress, the columnists, the radio commentators, some of his own aides and a minority of the newspapers, upon their alleged sins and shortcomings. That may seem smart, but it isn't really smart. Certainly, it is not the kind of smartness that enhances respect.

* * *

The truth about this trip is that it should not have been taken. The excuse that the President wanted to get first-hand information as to what was being done is not valid. He could have gotten that information very fully in the White House, without risking his security, by leaving it on a 9,000-mile railway and automobile journey. Flitting through dozens of tank, plane and shell factories, ports, yards and camps got him no facts not available before he left. It could not. The truth is the trip was undertaken against the wish of the Secret Service and against the advice of his own aides. He wanted to go and he went.

* * *

And he did not want the trip fully reported to the public and so he muzzled the press and took steps to see that nothing was printed until after his return and then only what he approved. What all this adds up to is that it was not permitted to give the people news to which they were entitled and the newspapers, with good reason, were compelled to do a dishonest thing in suppressing it. It was a misuse of power and could not be justified on the score of the President's security. To that end the newspapers would have cooperated fully, but this censorship went far beyond that. As to whether a disservice was done the national interests by the President's two weeks' absence, two points are made.

* * *

One is that had he been in the White House the last two weeks, by "putting the heat on" in the Senate he could have gotten a much sounder anti-inflation bill than the one he signed on Friday. His absence left his leaders without support and the farm bloc, by a close vote, had its way. As a result, inflation will be much harder to control than before and the cost to the country large. The other point is that, while many people knew about the trip, a vast number did not. Suppression of the news gives them the idea that they were tricked, fooled, "bamboozled." This, it is argued, is calculated to diminish confidence in the Government. It is likely to lead many to believe that things they ought to know are being kept from them by the Administration and the press. It lessens confidence in what they read and hear. If now they are told that Mr. Roosevelt is in the White House they do not know whether it is true or not. Mr. Roosevelt may think he is funny. But the newspapers do not think it funny—not by a long shot. Nor will it be considered funny by intelligent people anywhere who want—and are entitled to have—all the accurate information not in conflict with our military aims or affecting the safety of our leaders.

Religious Education Week

By MRS. KERMIT GLOTFELTY

This year, September 27-October 4, has been designated by the International Council of Religious Education as Religious Education Week. The week began with an NBC program on Sunday afternoon with addresses by religious educators in Washington, Chicago, London, Rio de Janeiro, Montreal and San Francisco.

Surely this is an indication of a growing awareness of the need and value of Religious Education.

Here in America we have taken care of our educational needs with a well-established school system. Compulsory school laws require attendance for a certain period. We have splendid graded schools, High Schools, vocational, technical, Medical schools, colleges, Universities, seminaries. The list is very long. Surely we would think there would be little illiteracy in our land, yet the nation was shocked to find so many thousands of our young men, subject to draft, who were illiterate as well as physically unfit for military service. This war is bringing us face to face with our weaknesses.

However, we are chiefly concerned with the subject of Religious Education. If it were possible to make a nation-wide survey, then the facts would probably be even more shocking!

Tests in a certain area were given to both High school and College students on Bible knowledge. Few of them could even name one book of the Old Testament. We teach our children great works of literature, yet many of them know little or nothing about the world's greatest piece of literature, the Bible.

There are three great sources of Religious Education. The first education of any kind a child receives is in the home. It is said to be seventeen more times as powerful an influence in the life of a child than is the influence of school. This fact places the responsibility for Religious Education, primarily, with all of us, as parents.

Let us examine ourselves honestly and see how well we are doing this most important job.

An item taken from a daily newspaper illustrates how some American women are doing it. It tells of two little girls being sent to the movies in the afternoon. Their mother had no idea what the picture was. It turned out to be a super-sophisticated comedy-love story, double feature and shorts, lasting three hours. Their mother wanted to get rid of them. She had bridge and a cocktail party later on. This is one case of many like it.

The parents would be called highly intelligent, well educated, and prosperous with an eye cocked on the next rung in the social ladder. These mothers are self-centered in their adult affairs, and fit their children's life to their adult convenience. Surely these children receive little or no Religious Education in these homes.

Quoting from Parents-Teacher Manual for 1941—Religion plays an important part in life as a foundation for happiness for it sets the standards for ideals, morals and culture and stands for hope, inspiration, security, peace, guidance and freedom. Fortunate is the child whose home life is permeated with religious tradition, who knows the spiritual refreshment to be found in books, music and nature, to whom God is a bulwark against fear, and the Church a second home.

The next source of Religious Education is in our Public Schools. It is becoming increasingly clear that Religious Education must have some place in the school room to take care of those who receive none at home. It is said that 16,000,000 children in the United States receive no religious instruction. While no creeds may be taught in school rooms, there are many ways in which spiritual guidance may be given and moral values emphasized. To this fact, leading educators and church leaders agree. It is already in the experimental stage, in some states. Children are dismissed early from regular school work and are given definite religious instruction.

The third and greatest source of Religious Education is in our Churches. Here the record makes us proud. In North America there are two million Sunday School teachers, as large an army as we sent to France in the World war. They are found in all places and are of all ranks and capabilities. Unsalaried and unsung, they are busy every week in teaching youth the word of God. They are one of the major educational forces in our modern life.

Add to the Sunday School teachers the other millions of church officers, women in Missionary societies, and workers in young people's organizations, and there are a legion of reserves in His service.

If there is anything that should make us all feel humble, it is the service being performed in our Master's name all over the world by our Missionaries. Their heroism and personal sacrifice is equalled only by our brave boys who are fighting all over the world. These Missionaries too are unhonored and unsung. Where, in the daily press, do we find any recognition of their work or any tribute to them? What public man gives them a thought?

A famous woman said after a trip through China, "What the American Missionary has done in China is like a shining light in a dark and tragic world."

The dictator nations have long realized the importance of molding the minds of their youth to suit their own purposes. A German philosopher once said, "What you would have in the life of a nation, you must first put into its schools." In my opinion, that can be also extended to include our homes, churches, and all other educational sources.

Hitler's military successes, it is said, could be traced back to the success of his so-called Youth Movement and the acceptance by the youth of Germany to his Anti-Christian Nazi philosophy. German colleges and Universities were hot-beds of Nazism.

Lord Halifax, who is said to be one of the world's leading Christian statesmen, and Britain's envoy to the United States, said in a recent radio address that for eight years the youth of Germany has been taught the theory of the Nazi system. He pointed out that, we of the Christian nations must not only defeat them on the battlefield, we must surpass them in our zeal for teaching our youth a new faith in democracy and in the Christian principles upon which it was established.

Angelo Patri says it so beautifully, "Man has slaved through the ages that we might be free. He has battled that we might have peace. He has studied that we might know. He has left us the heritage of the ages that we in our turn might carry on."

Ahead of us are the children of the next generation. It is for them we live. It is for them we must go on.

We are the torchbearers of Liberty. We, too, must take our place in the quest for the Holy Grail.

It is for this we the children of America were born.

The Will to Find Out....

On Monday people of the United States observed the 450th anniversary of Columbus' voyage to America, but few stopped to consider what it meant to us.

First, it really marked the beginning of the country in which we live, even though other explorers had been here prior to 1492.

But more than that it teaches all the value of curiosity, or the will to find out. Columbus no doubt heard theories that the world was not flat but round, and he wanted to find out for himself.

It was not an easy path, and sometimes seemed hopeless. But in spite of jeers, being mocked at and scorned he kept on the trail and at last the opportunity was given him—and he was ready to find out.

Columbus had the power to find out, the willingness to see and the ability to keep on, even in the face of insurmountable odds.

People today can be like Columbus. There may not be a new continent to discover, but before those who have eager minds, the opportunities are equally as great. They can scale new heights or cross unknown oceans if their determination to find out is great enough.

FOUR CHILDREN PERISH IN FIRE LAST SATURDAY

Home of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Friend Burns Near Friendsville—They Have Four Other Children

Four children of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Friend, all under seven years of age, perished in a fire early Saturday morning that consumed the Friend home and all its contents, on Gravel Hill, north of Friendsville.

Children burned to death in the catastrophe were Elsie, aged 6; Gloria, aged 4; Cora, aged 2; and David, aged 6 months. Four other children were not in the house at the time, Orval, Gerald, Thomas and Catharine.

Mr. Friend, a county roads employe, had gone to work, and Mrs. Friend had gone to a neighboring field to milk the cow, according to the story told to Neil C. Fraley, State's Attorney, who investigated. A daughter had gone to a neighbor's house to get water. The family had built a wood fire in the stove and the sons had gone to Friendsville.

Fraley said he was told it was very foggy Saturday morning and the flames from the burning house were not visible to anyone until it was entirely enveloped. The home was a small three-room dwelling and members of the family assume that Elsie, probably put some coal oil on the fire.

A boy by name of Newcomer, at a nearby house, also saw the flames after it was too late to attempt to save any of the children trapped in the home. All clothing and furniture of all members of the family were lost. The charred remains were recovered late Saturday afternoon, and burial was made in the Friendsville cemetery Sunday afternoon.

Assisting Fraley in the investigation were Sheriff Walter H. Haenftling and Dr. R. R. Williams, acting county medical examiner. Members of the Friendsville fire company were called to the scene but too late to be of much assistance except prevent the spread of flames.

County Agent Carter Plans Farm Meetings

War and Emergency Have Caused Many New Problems For Farmers

Because war time and the emergency program have caused many adjustments in farming as well as other industries, John H. Carter, county agent, has planned a series of meetings to be held from October 19 through November 10, which is calculated to give Garrett county farmers first hand information on many problems and to aid in solving them.

Mr. Carter pointed out that "with less labor, farm machinery, fertilizer, transportation facilities, rubber and gasoline, farmers are faced with the problem of increased production of commodities vital to the war effort." He declared the farmer would meet this challenge but that it was necessary to make additional adjustments.

At these meetings also the 1943 AAA program will be explained and any necessary business transacted in relation to it. The meetings which are scheduled for 8 o'clock p. m., will be held as follows:

Asher Glade School, October 19.
Avilton School, October 20.
Johnston, October 21.
Sunnyside Grange Hall, October 22.
White Church, October 23.
Friendsville High, October 26.
Grantsville High, October 27.
Chestnut Grove School, October 28.
Red Oak School, October 29.
Accident High, November 2.
Swanton School, November 3.
Sang Run School, November 4.
Pleasant Valley, November 6.
Bittinger School, November 9.
Oakland, Office, November 10.

Kitzmiller Girl Drowns in River

Standing on a rock in the Potomac river taking pictures, Miss Dorothy Ruth Wilson, 16, of Kitzmiller, slipped into the water on Sunday and was drowned. The body was recovered almost immediately.

She was a junior at Kitzmiller high school.

Surviving are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Wilson; a sister, Olive Venetta Wilson; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Wilson, Peerless, Md.; and Mrs. Steve Koziar, New Jersey. The body was taken to the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson.

Twenty-four Men To Leave October 22

Twenty-four young men from the last group of draftees who were accepted and given a fourteen-day leave of absence, will leave for For George G. Meade on Thursday, October 22.

They include Troy R. Fike, John A. White, Elmer W. Paugh, Dearl K. Jordan, Clayton G. Beitzel, Cecil W. Paugh, Rober F. Nine, Joe C. Browning, Charles R. DeWitt, Roy M. Myers, George D. Nine, Alex Leshkow, Raymond O. McCullough, Jr., Earl C. Wolfe, Henry E. Kearney, David L. Lee, Floyd D. Uphold, Clester D. Skipper, Lewis C. Vansickle, Ray U. Wiley, Harry D. DeCost, Ferris L. Bosley, George E. Rathbun, Clarence R. Speicher.

Four others who were accepted went into training immediaely. They were Charles H. McGettigan, Harold O. Teagarden, Harland A. McGill and Ray W. Teets.

Registration Figures Not Yet Available

Registration figures will not be available until after a meeting of the Board of Supervisors of Elections this evening at their office in the court house, it was announced this morning by W. R. Browning, president of the Board.

Revision day was on Tuesday and returns are just being received from the various officials in all the districts.

Unofficial figures from a number of the districts, however, indicate a heavy majority for the Republican party.

Cars Collide At Second and Liberty

Automobiles driven by Harve Mussard and Harold J. Lowdermilk collided at the corner of Second and Liberty streets about 3 o'clock Monday morning, causing extensive damage to both automobiles, but injuring the two occupants only slightly. The Mussard auto turned over.

Lowdermilk, 20, who is employed in Washington, D. C., was driving west on Green street, and crossing Second street preparing to enter Liberty. Mussard was traveling north on Second street.

Both will be given a hearing before Magistrate H. A. Loraditch tomorrow on charges of reckless driving.

Leather Footwear Not Affected by Rationing

"The only type of footwear rationed is men's rubber boots and rubber work shoes." This fact was made plain yesterday in an announcement by Walter W. Dawson, chairman of the local Rationing Board. "Ration Order No. 6 does not in any way affect leather footwear," he emphasized, "and there is no restriction on sales of leather boots and shoes."

The announcement was made to clear up confusion that is reported to have caused some merchants to withhold sales of workmen's types of leather footwear, in the mistaken belief that they, too, are covered by the rationing order.

THREE NAMED TO PRICE PANEL OF RATION BOARD

They Will Deal Direct With Local Retailers and Consumers; Will Have Weekly Meetings

Leo H. McCormick, State Director of the Office of Price Administration, today announced the appointment of William O. Davis, John M. Jarboe, and Howard P. Stuck, as members of a price panel of the local War Price and Rationing Board 13.

These new members, McCormick said, will aid in the administration of price control in Garrett County. It will be their duty to deal direct with local retailers and consumers in bringing about fuller understanding of price control. The panel will hold regular weekly meetings at the local board office, and will be available at these times to aid local merchants in understanding the pricing, filing, posting and other provisions of the regulations. They will also hear complaints of violation of "Price Ceilings" by local stores.

The panel will hold its first regular meeting Friday. Miller Eiseman, of the Baltimore O. P. A. office, and George L. Spoerl and Wilbur K. Bishop of the Cumberland Field Office, will attend the meeting. Eiseman a price specialist on clothing, will be available for consultation all day Friday, and retailers are invited to call at the local board for any information regarding regulation. Pricing of fall and winter seasonal commodities will be discussed at this time, and it is expected that many questions will be presented concerning pricing of newly stocked items.

In commenting on the establishment of a price division of O. P. A. here, Walter W. Dawson, chairman of the local board said, "This move by Mr. McCormick is, in my opinion, a very helpful one. It will be of great benefit to every retailer and consumer in Garrett county. Merchants will be able to contact the local board for information on all price regulations and consumers will have an opportunity on all price regulations and consumers will have an opportunity to bring their complaints of price ceiling violations direct to local people."

All cost-of-living commodity lists and service price lists heretofore filed with the Cumberland Field Office have been transferred to Oakland and will be kept here permanently. Supplementary lists and other records required will henceforth be sent direct to the local board.

Dawson also called attention to Maximum Price Regulation number 165, covering services, which requires many service establishments to maintain their March ceiling prices, and file them with the local board. Such establishments as garages, repair shops, laundries, dry cleaners, tailors, shoe repair shops, photographers, and others have had their prices frozen as of March, 1942.

Copies of the regulation are now available at the local board. Operators of all types of service establishments are urged to read the regulation and determine their obligations, Dawson said.

208 Appointments For Orthopedic Clinic

Dr. George E. Bennett, Baltimore, to Be in Charge of One-day Session

Two hundred and eight appointments have been made for the fall orthopedic clinic which will be conducted here by Dr. George E. Bennett, chief orthopedic surgeon of Johns Hopkins hospital, Baltimore, on Thursday, October 22, it was announced from the health department office in the Court House.

Dr. Bennett, who is president of the Maryland League for Crippled Children, will be assisted at the clinic by Dr. David Weinberg, formerly of Lonaconing, who is also an orthopedic surgeon at Johns Hopkins hospital.

Cards designating the time for patients to be present at the health office are being mailed.

Speaks to Jaycees

Delbert Davis, cashier of the First National Bank, was the speaker at the regular dinner meeting of the Oakland Junior Chamber of Commerce at the home of Mrs. E. R. Fike.

Mr. Davis spoke on "inflation," and how it affected every individual and every business concern.

At the next meeting there will begin a series of talks by members of the Jaycees, about their positions. Russell Pancake will speak about the telephone and Ruhl Talbott will speak on bottling. The former is manager of the C. and P. Telephone company here, while the latter is manager for the Coca-Cola Bottling company.

New Classes in Welding to Begin

Two new classes are to be started in acetylene welding at the Oakland Training Center, it was announced by Eugene Harpold, coordinator for the county.

One will begin Saturday, October 17, at 7:30 a. m., and will operate ten hours on Saturdays and Sundays.

The other class will begin at 6:30 p. m., on Monday, October 19, and will operate four nights each week. Anyone interested in this training should report to the training center on the first meeting of the class desired, Mr. Harpold said. Each class will admit 12 students.

The class in radio repair is being planned and will probably start within the next two weeks. Persons interested are asked to contact Baity Ridder, of the Ridder Radio and Electric Company.

Jaycees Show Large Number of Letters Written to Soldiers

Names Drawn This Week in Project to Be Posted in Six Places

The Jaycees, who have been sponsoring the service men's writing project, have tabulated the results of their effort to date and it shows a large amount of letters written and much material sent to the twenty-five men in the armed forces whose names have been drawn since Senator Tydings drew the first name, June 30.

The list shows 27 cartons of cigarettes, 281 packages of cigarettes, 6 cans of cigarettes with 100 in each; 74 packs of chewing gum, 15 cans of peanuts, 199 packages, including magazines, papers, handkerchiefs, socks, candy, mints, razor blades, etc.; 646 notes, letters and cards. The postage for mailing these packages to date has amounted to $22.65.

Charles L. Briner, Jr., president of the Jaycees, said their organization was very well pleased with the showing and he is asking the people to continue. He said "few of us realize what it is to be away from home for perhaps the first time and not to hear from the home folks. Write them a line—they are doing their part—let's do ours."

Due to postal restrictions on boxes for men overseas, the Jaycees are asking that packages be as small as possible in order that they can be packed in a compact box. Persons are asked not to seal their packages as the censor will open them before sending them along.

The names drawn this week and which will be placed in the boxes in the three drug stores, at Hamill's, Hinebaugh's Restaurant and at Bill's Barn, are Donald "Pansy" Hinebaugh, and Roy B. Rudy. Hinebaugh is in the anti-aircraft division of the U. S. Army, stationed at Fort Eustis, Va., while Rudy is located in Australia in the U. S. Army.

Thanks to Jaycees and All

Howard Smouse, on the U. S. S. Parker, expresses his thanks for the box he received. He says: "I wish to extend thanks and appreciation to the Jaycees and all persons who remembered me with gifts and messages in the box that I received a few days ago from Emeric Dusic, treasurer of the Junior Chamber of Commerce."

Smouse is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel P. Smouse. He was reassigned to the "Parker" after having been on the cruiser Marblehead.

Appointed a Field Director of Red Cross Organization

Robert W. Stemple has received notice of his appointment as a field director in the National Red Cross organization, and following a month's intensive training, will be sent on foreign service.

Mr. Stemple will leave next Monday for Washington, D. C., to begin his training course.

He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Grover C. Stemple, Alder street. At present he is case supervisor with the Allegany County Welfare board. He has had seven years' experience in welfare work, starting with the Garrett County Welfare Board. He was graduated this spring from the Philadelphia School of Social Welfare, connected with the University of Pennsylvania. His seven years' experience included work in Baltimore City and Anne Arundel county.

His wife, who was formerly Miss Edith Smith, Oakland, will continue with her position in the army headquarters at Towson.

Flood Threatens Cumberland Area

Waters of Wills creek and the Potomac river were rising to such an extent at Cumberland this morning that there was danger of a flood.

A telephone call to that city this morning about 10 o'clock brought the information that there was water on Paca street, but as yet there was no water on Baltimore street. Water, however, was still rising.

Accident School Has Plan to Buy Stamps And Bonds to Aid War

Each Friday Designated As War Stamp and War Bond Day In School

The Accident School has launched a campaign to sell war stamps and war bonds to aid in the war effort, and the first week's results showed a total of $122.65 raised by the students, it was announced yesterday by Prof. B. O. Aiken, principal.

Mr. Aiken said the school decided to make each Friday in the week War Stamp and War Bond Day. On this day a committee of pupils will go to each classroom and take up whatever money the pupils have brought for the purpose of purchasing the stamps and bonds at the local postoffice and returns them to the pupils. Mr. Aiken said pupils were being encouraged to purchase as many war stamps and war bonds as possible.

The campaign was launched last Tuesday, October 6, in a special assembly along with a campaign to get in scrap metal. The results showed $28.90 in war stamps purchased and $93.75 in war bonds, for a total of $122.65. Mr. Aiken said the school children also brought in over two thousand pounds of scrap.

If the early results of this campaign are an indication of the success to be expected, it seems that the Accident school will do a good job in helping to raise funds for the war effort, Mr. Aiken concluded.

Homemakers Council To Meet on Tuesday

Planning of 1943 Program to Be Most Important Business Discussed

The Executive Board of the County Council of Homemakers' Clubs, and County Committees will meet in the Methodist Church, Oakland, from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m., on Tuesday, October 20, it was announced by Miss Marianna Lee Long, home demonstration agent.

The important business will include the planning of the 1943 program. The food, clothing, home management and home furnishing committees will be responsible for suggesting the subject matter material to be covered during the year, Miss Long said.

Miss Helen Shelby, Clothing Specialist, and Miss Margaret McPheeters, Food Specialist, University of Maryland, will be present to assist in program planning.

The Music, Reading, and Defense of Democracy Chairmen will be responsible for the cultural program of the county.

Miss Long will present for the approval of the leaders a suggested schedule of meetings arranged to save travel. If approved this plan will go into effect November 1.

Miss Shelby and Miss McPheeters will remain in Oakland on October 21 for work with Miss Long.

Much Scrap Gathered But No Details Given

While there are no definite figures as to the amount of scrap collected throughout the county in the campaign just ended, it was stated this morning that 35 tons had been collected thus far in the immediate Oakland area.

From the letters sent out by County Agent John H. Carter to farmers of the county he has received replies from about 40 of them giving approximate weight of scrap metal they have on their farms with no available way to get it to a scrap dealer. This totals 93,130 pounds.

Other farmers trucked their scrap to various dealers throughout the county and thus far no reports have been received by either Clarence Leighton or Ray Teets, chairmen.

The work of gathering in the scrap will continue with a fuller report next week, it was stated.

More Volunteers Wanted for Air Spotters' Post

The American Legion committee in charge of the air raid warning system appealed this week for more volunteer signers to help at the spotter's system so that 24-hour service can be maintained when once started.

I. R. Rudy, committee member, said that he had names of about fifty volunteers but that it was necessary to get at least one hundred more. He stressed the fact that women and high school students would be eligible.

Applications volunteering for service, which would mean three hours each week, are at Hesen's garage, City Hall, Ray Teets garage and Rudy's store.

Magistrate's Court Kept Going Full Tilt

Young Man Admits Theft of $40; Three Other Youths Held On Another Theft Charge

Ray Livengood, 18-year-old orphan, formerly of near Grantsville, but who has been residing at various places around Gortner and Oakland in recent months, was confined in the county jail yesterday in default of bond, to await action of the March Grand jury, on a charge of larceny.

State's Attorney Neil C. Fraley said he admitted taking $40.00 from the cash drawer in the Ralph Pritts garage on Monday, October 12, and afterwards purchasing two rings with the money. Fraley said the youth had served a term in the Maryland Training School. The case was handled by Sheriff W. H. Haenftling and Corp. Thomas Currie.

Three Boys to Have Hearing

Three youths will be given a hearing before Magistrate H. A. Loraditch this afternoon at 4 o'clock on larceny charges. They are Mayford Jamison, 15; Robert Nair, 11, and Carl Jamison, 11. Fraley said they admitted entering the Hoffman Jewelry Store last Sunday night and taking watches, trinkets, glasses, etc., and also breaking into the Joe Hinebaugh beer warehouse one day last week. The watches and some of the other material were recovered.

The arrests were made by Police Chief John J. Sweeney, after an investigation by Sweeney and State's Attorney Fraley.

Arrested for Fighting

Three men were arrested Monday afternoon following an altercation on the streets of Oakland, which brought to a head a feud of several years' duration.

Jack McCoy, Oakland; his brother, William McCoy, here on a visit from New York state; and Arthur G. Cullers, of Gormania, were charged by Officer Sweeney with fighting on the streets of Oakland and disturbing the peace.

Both McCoys pleaded guilty to the charge and paid minimum fines of $1 and costs. Cullers asked for a continuance in his case and will be given a hearing later. Jack McCoy, according to State's Attorney Fraley, was recently released from the Federal penitentiary, after having been convicted in West Virginia on a charge of sending obscene letters through the mail.

Harold "Snowwhite" Nair and K. Dieshman, the latter of West Virginia, were also charged by Officer Sweeney on October 10, with fighting and disturbing the peace. Nair was apprehended, but Dieshman disappeared over the state line. The former was released pending a hearing.

James S. Hanlin, Westernport, was charged with larceny of tools from the Savage River dam project and at a hearing on October 7 before Magistrate Loraditch he was given a suspended sentence of six months in the Maryland House of Correction.

No Additional Sugar Available for Curing

The War Ration Board announced it had been decided that no change would be made in the present policy regarding sugar to be used in the home processing of meats.

Any sugar for this purpose must be obtained by individuals, either by using some of the sugar received from his home consumer ration, by purchasing commercial curing compounds, or by having the curing done through commercial curing establishments.

The board declared the use of sugar in home curing of meats was traditional and sectional with no uniformity through the country, and that the use of sugar was largely a matter of individual taste, therefore not concerned with essential preservation of meat.

WILL ORGANIZE LOCAL COMPANY OF MINUTE MEN

Meeting Called for Next Monday Evening at 7:30 at Court House To Complete Details

Preliminary plans to organize a Minute Men company as part of the Home Defense organization of Maryland, were made at a meeting here in Oakland, Monday evening.

Those attending this preliminary session agreed to help form such a company and called a meeting in the Court House for next Monday evening, October 19, at 7:30. Howard C. Riggs, cashier of the Garrett National Bank in Oakland, was appointed chairman of the committee to form the organization which would be a company in the state-wide set-up. Edward P. Kahl was appointed secretary to handle the records.

The preliminary conference followed a meeting of the Oakland-Mt. Lake Lions club at the William-James hotel which was addressed by Chief Petty Officer G. J. Carroll of the Cumberland Navy Recruiting staff, and by J. K. Snyder, deputy district governor of Lions International and a sergeant in the Minute Men organization of Cumberland. The group included members of the Lions club and American Legion.

Capt. T. L. Richards, Cumberland, outlined the process of organization of the Minute Men companies and their status as the Home Defense organization of Maryland. He stated there were four such companies in Cumberland and that the membership is composed of men between the ages of 18 and 64; that a company consists of 54 men including officers who are appointed by the Governor. They enlist for the duration and six months thereafter and equip themselves with guns and such uniform as is agreed upon. At present the men in Cumberland are using O. D. coveralls and overseas caps. They are drilled in the manual of arms, marching and handling of rifles. They engage in rifle practices and maneuvers and are subject to call for emergencies on the home front.

Mr. Snyder represented Capt. J. Philip Roman, Cumberland, liaison officer for reserve militia companies in this section, and stated that Capt. Roman would be in Oakland at the meeting next Monday to explain further what the Minute Men are doing and what they will be required to do.

Hunters, ex-service men, all able-bodied men who feel that they would like to do something to help win the war and especially to guard the home front against paratroops, fifth columnists and saboteurs, are being invited and urged to meet with Capt. Roman next Monday evening and assist in perfecting the organization.

Mr. Riggs said the Minute Men would in a manner take the place of the National Guard units in the state, as the latter had been called to active service.

Other companies probably will be organized later in other towns of the county.

This group was not expected to conflict with Civilian Defense and other patriotic units already organized.

Band Auxiliary Elects Officers

At a meeting of about twenty women on Tuesday evening a Ladies' Auxiliary for the Oakland Boys' Band was organized with Mrs. Ira J. Bosley being elected president; Mrs. Prentice DeBerry, vice-president; and Mrs. Harry Friend, secretary-treasurer.

At a meeting of interested citizens last Thursday the thirty-five or more attending were told the purpose and aims of the Oakland Fire Department in sponsoring the band.

Twenty-four young boys began practice on Tuesday, under the direction of H. S. Mickey. These boys are just learning to play. There are thirty-four members in the old band, which is practicing on Thursday evening. The new class will remain open for two weeks, should any other boys desire to learn to play a band instrument.

Brakeman Injured

J. E. Rankin, 41, of Westernport, a brakeman on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, was taken to Reeves clinic this morning in the Bolden ambulance with a deep gash in his head.

Rankin was seated in the caboose of a train as it arrived at Mt. Lake Park early this morning. The train stopped suddenly, throwing the brakeman off the seat and causing the injury.

Crooked Teeth May Be Source of Decay

They Are More Difficult To Keep Clean; Corrections Should Be Made Early

Crooked teeth, protruding gums and badly formed jaws are not only disfiguring, and a cause of embarrassment, but they are often a source of ill health, too, Dr. R. C. Leonard, Chief of the Division of Oral Hygiene of the State Department of Health said, in calling the attention of parents to the importance of having these defects corrected.

"Crooked teeth should be straightened," he continued, "not as a matter of vanity or for the sake merely of improving the appearance—though it does that very noticeably—but as a matter of health.

"Crooked, out of line teeth, are more difficult to keep clean and more apt to decay. The gums around such teeth are more open to infections such as pyorrhea. Because decayed teeth and infected gums are matters of importance to health the effort to have the teeth straightened is justified.

"It takes time, patience and very special training to correct conditions of this sort. The American Dental Association, in a special bulletin explains the need for such services and the manner in which they are performed, as follows:

"One of the frequent tragedies of childhood is a facial disfigurement that brings ridicule on the child which may cause untold mental suffering and can have lasting effects. The unpleasing facial contours that bring unhappiness to the child may be caused by the presence of crooked teeth. It is not necessary for children to go thru life burdened in this way.

Orthodontics is the science of straightening teeth. However, teeth cannot be moved around in the manner one moves fence posts. They must be moved slowly, carefully and scientifically in order to avoid injury to the bone that supports them. Orthodontics consists of training teeth to grow into proper position before they are firmly fixed.

"This is done through the use of intricate, semiflexible, but sturdy appliances which exert a steady pressure on the teeth for the time necessary for the treatment, sometimes several years. Diet, heredity, glandular action and many other factors must be considered by the orthodontist.

"Improper diet, inherited difficulties, mouth breathing, thumb and finger sucking and tongue and lip biting can result in tooth irregularities. To avoid them, parents should constantly be on guard against nervous habits and carefully supervise the child's diet. Neglect and premature loss of the baby teeth and early loss of the first permanent molar teeth frequently cause malocclusion. In order to correct the phyical causes, the family physician should be consulted.

"Orthodontia has been remarkably successful in restoring faces to normal contours and removing the dangers attendant on misplacement of the teeth, including pyorrhea, inadequate mastication and early decay. But the earlier the child is taken to the orthodontist, the better is the chance for success."

APPLES

When we bite into an apple today and our eyes light with the pleasure of the sweet tang upon our tongues, we are sharing a taste with the earliests of artists. That they considered the apple the most tempting of fruits is undeniable, for it was the apple that they pictured Eve taking from the serpent in the Garden of Eden though the Book of Genesis calls it simply "the fruit of a tree."

No fruit has a longer history in both fact and fable. It was an apple that dropped on Sir Isaac Newton's head and William Tell shot from the head of his son to give the Swiss their freedom. And let's not forget poor Paris, first and most beset of all beauty judges. It was a golden apple that, pinch-hitting for Jupiter, he had to place in the hand of the fairest goddess. Remember, how they tried to bribe him and how Venus's promise to fair Helen of Troy for wife won her the prize and plunged the world into the Trojan wars?

The scientific history of the apple is more prosaic but dramatic, too, to those who know it. They were grafting trees to improve strains in Cato's day more than 2,000 years ago and the work still goes on. Apple breeders are constantly on the alert, watching for bud mutations of promise, for chance seedlings and working on developed strains to fix characteristics. For the farmer they work to increase hardiness, disease resistance, to develop late-blooming varieties that will escape the frosts. For the rest of us, they work to improve flavor and cooking qualities.

Apple turnovers, apple dumplings, apple upside-down cake—a hard list to choose from; you'll want to try them all one of these times when apples are a Victory Food Special.

Turnovers are easy to make—if you can make a good pastry dough. You just roll the dough in rounds about the size of a large saucer. On one-half of the pastry round arrange layers of thinly sliced apples, sprinkle with a mixture of sugar, cinnamon and a little salt, and dot with butter. Moisten the lower rim of the pastry, bring the other part over it, press the two edges firmly together with the tines of a fork and prick the crust so the steam can escape. Bake in a moderately hot oven (375 to 400 degrees F.) for 20 minutes. Smell that cinnamon-sweet aroma? Yum!

Now, it's another day and time for that upside-down cake. You get out the mixing bowl and cream ¼ cup of butter or other fat with ½ cup of sugar, a well-beaten egg and a teaspoonful of vanilla. Sift 1½ cups of soft wheat flour, 2 teaspoons of baking powder and ¼ teaspoon of salt together and add it, alternately with ½ cup of milk, to the creamed mixture. Coat the bottom and sides of a glass baking dish or a very heavy pan with fat, spread thick. Spread an overlapping layer on the bottom of the baking dish and sprinkle with a cinnamon and sugar mixture. Now pour the thick cake mixture in and smooth out the top with a knife. Bake in a very moderate oven (300 to 325 degrees F.) for 45 miutes. Loosen the sides of the cake, turn it out carefully, up-side down and the top will be covered with a neat layer of apples you can see through. Serve hot with hard sauce (if you have enough sugar left) or whipped cream.

Apple rings with pork chops—or even with bacon for breakfast. Tart apples diced, skins and all, with chopped celery and chopped nuts for Waldorf salad. Chopped apples of any kind give added taste, and added zest to any salad.

Turnout Sites On U. S. 219 Sought by Federation of Maryland

An inspection tour of turnout sites along U. S. Route 219 in Garrett county was made last Thursday by several officials of the Maryland State Roads Commission and representatives of the Western Maryland Federation of Communities.

The tour was part of the Federation's program of beautification of roads. James H. Gambrill, Jr., Frederick, Federation president, headed the party.

Among sites under consideration are one at Hopopole Ridge, between Oakland and Deep Creek Lake; The Cove, two miles south of Route 40, and at the Lake by the bridge. A parking area and picnic grounds has been proposed for the latter spot.

The party stopped for the night at Herrington Manor, west of Oakland.

Others in the party were Benjamin M. Kamens, Federation vice-president, of Cumberland; S. W. Baumiller, landscape engineer, State Roads Commission; Carl E. Pfeiffer, assistant State forester; George R. Purdy, senior draftsman, State Roads Commission.

The Argentine government was accused of working against the allied cause by Sumner Welles and also the Argentine socialist nominee for president in 1938.

A petition was sent to the President with 40,000 signatures of Italians, asking that the term "loyal alien" be used instead of "enemy alien" for Italians; that those in 75,000 to 500,000 America were not in favor of Mussolini nor his association with Hitlings of Guayule (for rubber) from acres.

America's automotive service men are playing an important part in the nation's war effort. It is their job to "save the wheels that serve America."

SUPER CHEVROLET SERVICE

The Automotive Mechanic of Yesterday Is the VICTORY SERVICE MAN of Today

Help him to help you
"SAVE THE WHEELS THAT SERVE AMERICA"
by getting a skilled service check-up regularly

Take the word of millions:
MORE PEOPLE GO TO CHEVROLET DEALERS FOR SERVICE
than to any other dealer organization

Just how important the automotive mechanic's work is to the nation will be clear to all who consider the following facts*:

- Automobiles and trucks form the sole practicable means of transportation for war workers and war materials in many communities throughout America.
- In some sections, 78% to 100% of the workers drive by automobile to vital war plants.
- 2,314 U. S. cities, with a population of 12,524,000, depend on private cars for transportation; 54,000 communities depend entirely on motor vehicles.
- Six out of every ten farms use one car or more; 67% of farm car mileage is necessity driving.
- More than 65.2% of all war plants reporting in Michigan (a typical war production state) depend on trucks to haul their incoming and outgoing freight.
- Trucks haul nearly 100% of the milk supply of most large cities—and 58% of all livestock marketed in the U. S.
- Trucks are the sole transportation system serving our 54,000 communities not reached by railroads.

The automotive mechanic—the trained Chevrolet Victory Service Man—is the lifeguard of America's millions of cars and trucks. Help him to help you and America by getting a skilled service check-up at regular intervals.

Imagination to Spare

When it comes to imagination, Norman Davis, aged 4, has it popping out his ears and all over him. Father Delbert has disclaimed any of the credit for such a vivid, active mind, so maybe it goes back to several generations before him.

But this tale is too good to keep.

Over at our house the other day the talk got around to skunks, and only for one reason—a skunk had got around to our house and had departed leaving its accustomed trail behind.

"Oh that skunk was over at our house," began Norman. "It was under our porch and Daddy dragged it out and took a big axe and chopped off its head."

"Now Norman you know your Dad wouldn't do such a thing. Why he would be covered with skunk smell until your mother wouldn't let him in the house."

"Oh yes he did," continued Norman. "He got a big board that was sharp on one end and he rammed it down that skunk's throat—and cut off his tonsils."

At the McLean home last Saturday night, it came time to leave. Refreshments were brought out of that famous kitchen, and when the last crumb had been devoured I tried to prod Johnny into being the "perfect gentleman" by saying "the right thing at the right time."

"Thanks for the infreshments," he finally said.

"Refreshments, not infreshments," came the correction.

"But Daddy, they're inside of me so they're infreshments," he declared.

And who was I, to have to think up a reply to that one?

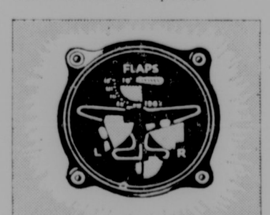
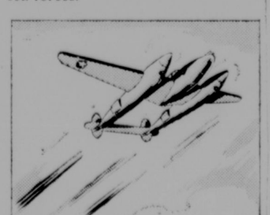
Electricity helps make America's war planes some of the world's most deadly weapons. Here are a few of the ways in which G-E equipment serves in the air.

1. Lamps are the eyes of the plane at night, ranging in size from cockpit lamps no larger than a pea to landing lamps of more than half-a-million candlepower.

2. Radio combines the voice and the ears of the plane, allowing communication between the pilot and his squadron, and the ground and sea forces.



3. Instruments are the sensitive brain that relays messages to the pilot from all parts of the ship and helps him to control the plane in its flight.



4. Superchargers are the lungs of the plane, pumping extra oxygen to the carburetors, giving our planes the altitude so necessary to modern warfare.

General Electric believes that its first duty as a good citizen is to be a good soldier.

Dr. Mance Thanks Jaycees For Project

Junior Chamber of Commerce,
Oakland, Md.

Gentlemen:—Sometime ago, due to your initiative and support, you sent me a box filled with a number of gifts, notes and letters. To tell the truth, I had hoped to tell the president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in person how much I appreciated and enjoyed this gift the thoughtfulness of my friends. But it looks like my attempt to extend personal thanks was a complete failure.

Therefore, I'd like to say thank you a hundred times and yes, even more, for this certainly brought cheer into my heart. I certainly appreciate that box, and I'm near home, in our own country, and see some of my old friends quite often.

I just stopped and thought then and have often thought since of the thrill I got. What a thrill it must be to some man in the service, thousands of miles away from home and none of his friends around, to open that box.

When the world seems ready to collapse about you, it would make you feel like getting up and dancing with joy.

This is one of the grandest ideas I've heard of yet; I know, for I have experienced the feeling.

If my letter will do any good, I'd like to say this: Keep it up!

My sincere thanks.

ANDREW E. MANCE, Captain,
Medical Corps, 1302 d Service Unit,
Reception Center, Fort George G. Meade, Maryland.

This Correspondent Suggests That Mr. Savage Informs President Roosevelt On Need Of Two-Party Government in the United States.

To the Editor of The Republican.

Dear Sir:—I am grateful to learn that my Democratic friend, Wilbert N. Savage, of Sang Run, is going to vote for several Republicans.

That verifies my statement that we have just as good candidates in our party, intellectually and otherwise.

That is the point that I wanted to get over to my good Republican friends, although I may not be so adept at expressing my thoughts with ten dollar words.

I am doing everything that I can, in my small way, to help in our fight against our totalitarian enemies.

I heartily agree with Mr. Savage that we do not want a one-party Government and suggest that he convey our sentiments along this line to the President in the same spirit in which he attempted to censure me.

As I am not seeking publicity or office, I beg to remain,

A REPUBLICAN.

This Soldier Is The Recipient Of A Large Number of Letters.

To the Editor of The Republican,

Dear Sir:—I want to thank all the people back home and surrounding community for all the nice letters and cards.

I am sorry the replies were late, as I was transferred from Camp Lee, Va., to Battery A, 8th Batalion, Third Regiment, here at Fort Bragg, N. C.

Will you please publish so they may know I did intend to answer all those nice letters. Now that's what I call the "back home" spirit. Thanks and keep it up.

DIARY OF THE WAR

FRIDAY—Germans indicated they might abandon attempts to capture all of Stalingrad by storm but would destroy it with dive bombers and siege guns. A Russian counter-offensive has been pressing heavily against German left flank. Fighting continued in streets of town to some extent but Reds claimed to have stopped all advance. An army spokesman declared that the 18-19 group of young men was wanted to relieve strain of inducting men with dependents and skilled workers. A Jap fleet in Solomons area was battered by U. S. naval force, but Japs were still landing reinforcements on Solomon group. There was no action in New Guinea where Australians were in command of mountain pass.

SATURDAY—American air forces in Europe opened their mass bombing operations against Germany with daylight foray against Lille, a steel and locomotive center. Nazis continued to attempt to drive through Stalingrad but Reds claimed to have repulsed these drives. Germans were planning to make a stab across to Caspian Sea to compensate for failure at Stalingrad. U. S. army bombers dropped more explosives on remaining Jap base at Kiska in Aleutians. Absence of Japs on other islands there was confirmed. U. S. bombers were also attacking Japs in Burma and in China.

SUNDAY—The first contingent of Baltimore and Maryland troops have been landed in England. Germans made another jab to reach Volga through Stalingrad. Red resistance was reported growing. Even in Caucasus region the Reds were holding firmly. Allied air fighters in Egypt destroyed 34 Axis planes in blows at Axis airdromes. Britain and Canada began shackling German war prisoners after demand that Nazis unshackle some Canadian prisoners went unnoticed by latter. More Japs landed on Guadalcanal island in spite of loss of a cruiser by U. S. naval action. American planes over France destroyed 48 Nazi planes.

MONDAY — Siege of Stalingrad simmered down to desultory air and artillery action but Germans were bringing up new troops. Emphasis however seemed to be shifting to Caucasus. RAF bombers made daylight attacks in western Germany. British told of their ships which damaged four Axis subs and shelled others in two-day battle in Atlantic. U-boats seemed to be traveling in packs. Driven from western Atlantic to some extent Axis subs were prowling off West Africa. Flying fortresses struck twice at Jap base at Rabaul, in New Britain island, leaving it a smoldering ruin which was expected to hamper Jap reinforcements on Solomons and New Guinea.

TUESDAY — The weight of German armies in Russia appeared definitely diverted to Caucasus fronts, but some fighting still continued inside streets of Stalingrad. Reds made some small gains northwest of the city. Nazis claimed capture of number of positions along Black Sea coastal road. American bombers were attacking enemy shipping off Crete and in Mediterranean. Nazis heavily attacked enemy shipping off Crete and in Mediterranean. Nazis heavily attacked Malta but lost fifteen planes. Navy announced that U. S. attack on Solomons had cost three heavy cruisers on August 9 in addition to six other craft, and that loss of life was heavy. Japs lost 38 ships. Documented information that Axis agents in Chile and Argentina had been sending out news of ship movements was revealed by the United States. Churchill in talk declared the Nazi outlook was darker and that Allies were growing stronger daily. Three fourts of French garrison in Madagascar town, 950 men, have joined DeGaulle's fighting French forces.

WEDNESDAY — U. S. Marines struck new blows in Solomons and extended their positions on Guadalcanal island and caused heavy damage to enemy aircraft also damaging two cruisers. A force of U. S. navy sank four Jap destroyers and a heavy cruiser and transport off Solomons, with loss of one destroyer. U. S. planes continued to bomb Kiska, only remaining hold of Japs in Aleutians. German attacks on Stalingrad were dying down but Nazis claimed advances in Caucasus. Air activity was great over Malta but British took a toll of 47 Axis planes in three days and 50 others damaged. Flying fortresses scored a hit on a vessel in Tobruk harbor and were active in entire Egyptian area.

THURSDAY—The list of sinkings in Solomons area gave U. S. Navy the edge. The latest message announced sinking of enemy cruiser and 7 other vesseis. It was estimated there were still 12,000 Japs on Guadalcanal island and more were landed from transports under cover of Jap warships. Germany had lost its momentum both around Volga and Caucasian salients. Russian lines were holding. Germans claimed advances in Black sea area. Berlin's Gestapo chief, Himmler, was paying Italy a "social call." Nazis were said to be bothered over Italy straining her Axis bonds in direction of U. S. A Brazilian writer declared 95 percent of Argentina people favor Allied nations.

Jacob Opel Dies From Injuries Suffered in Fall

Well-known Garertt County Farmer Found Unconscious In His Barn

Jacob Opel, aged 65 years, prominent and well-known Garrett county farmer, died last Friday evening, October 9, at 8:15 o'clock in Miners Hospital, Frostburg, where he was admitted the same morning at 7:30 o'clock suffering as the result of a fractured skull.

Mrs. Opel, who accompanied her husband to the institution, told attaches that Mr. Opel had left the farm house earlier in the morning to go to the barn to feed the live stock. She said she went to the barn about 7:00 o'clock and found him on the floor of the structure in an unconscious state and thought he had fallen from the hayloft while pitching hay.

He was taken to the hospital by his son William, who was at home at the time the accident was discovered.

Mr. Opel had operated his farm, located on Long Stretch, just opposite the Colonial Inn, in this county for many years. He was a member of the Lutheran church.

Surviving besides his widow, the former Miss Loretta Carey, are four sons, Leslie Opel, Salisbury, Pa.; Russell Opel, Baltimore; Earl Opel, who is serving in the United States Army in New Jersey, and William, at home; one daughter, Mrs. Blanche Finnell, of Portland, Oregon.

A Belgian minister of Justice declares Germany is on the verge of collapse on military and home fronts.

Auto owners will be allowed no more than five tires a car under additional gasoline rationing regulations announced.

The 18-19 draft would affect 40,000 in Maryland, according to estimates. The draft of fathers is held probable in 1943.

Kansas is leading all other states in collection of scrap metal, with Utah second and Oregon third.

Willkie ended his air tour of the world yesterday by conferring with the President.

McKeldin asserted that a Maryland income tax was unnecessary and that O'Conor's political interests were given as the reason.

Widower Found Dead

John Dugan, aged 73, a widower, was found dead this morning at his home at Kitzmiller. Dr. Calendrella reported that death was due to a heart attack. He lived alone and his body was found by Ben Davis, for whom he worked in a small coal mine there.

Germans hanged 150 Polish citizens from telephone poles along tracks where a Nazi troop train plunged into a dynamited bridge.

The old battleship Oregon will join the scrap heap to feed the steel mills.

President Roosevelt urged the draft of 18 and 19-year-olds in his address Monday night and Congressional leaders planned to rush passage of legislation lowering the draft age from 20 to 18.

William Green was named head of AFL for his 18th term.

Army Air Corps Needs Materials Inspector Trainees

More Junior Procurement Inspector Trainees are vitally needed to fill important vacancies in the expanding Army Air Forces in America, the Regional Director of the Fourth U. S. Civil Service Region announced today. Towards this end a new open competitive examination will be given by the U. S. Civil Service Commission to test applicant's mechanical aptitude and general intelligence.

Applicants must be at least 18 years of age and hold a high school diploma. They must not be subject to imminent induction into military or naval service.

Those selected will receive a nine weeks' training and instruction course in the inspection of aircraft materials to determine their acceptability, in accordance with specifications. Entrance salary will be $1440 per year. Upon successful completion of the training course, trainess will be eligible for assignment to Assistant Procurement inspector at $1620 per year, and to higher grade positions thereafter.

Further information and application forms may be secured from the Secretary, Local Board Civil Service Examiners at the postoffice or the Regional Examiner, Fourth U. S. Civil Service Region, Nissen Building, Winston-Salem, N. C.

Better and cheaper autos will revolutionize highway transportation after the war, a director of ODT predicted.

To SHOOT more we must TALK LESS

The war effort is speeded up by the telephone. That's why telephone lines are more heavily loaded with calls than ever before.

Since the copper, rubber and other materials needed to expand telephone facilities are more essential for the shooting side of war, we must do the best we can with our present facilities.

This means planning calls, both local and long distance, so as to avoid waste.

Planned Calls Make Room For War Calls

1. Plan what you want to say to make your calls brief—and to avoid unnecessary ones.
2. Look up the numbers in the directory when in doubt. Make certain the number is not in the directory before calling "Information."
3. When you must make a Long Distance call, please call by number (station-to-station) wherever possible, and keep your conversation brief.

GROWTH IN CHRIST

LESSON TEXT—Luke 2:40-52; II Peter 1:1-8.

GOLDEN TEXT—But grow in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.—II Peter 3:18.

Growth is a normal thing. We expect it of the child, and when it fails we know that something is wrong. Just so there is something very decidedly wrong in the life of the Christian who fails to grow in grace. If a child fails to grow we are alarmed, but if a Christian does not grow we hardly notice it, or at most only express our regret. We need a revial.

I. Normal Children Will Grow (Luke 2:40-52).

While Christ was God manifest in the flesh, He was at the same time true man, and as a boy He developed and grew in a normal way.

Unless we meet the tragedy of arrested development we need have no concern about the fact that a child will grow physically, mentally and spiritually. The Lord has placed in the babe in a mother's arms the potential qualities of the man or woman to come. Our chief responsibility is to provide the opportunity for the development of those abilities and qualities which the child has, and of guiding that growth in the right direction.

That is all a parent has to do, but it is enough to call for all the wisdom, judgment, patience and skill of the best of us. Yes, and even that is not enough, we need the wisdom of God and His grace upon our lives to do this vital work as we ought.

The qualities in a boy or girl which will count gloriously for God may be dreadfully effective for Satan if we permit him to get control of our children. May God help us to be alert and skillful in rearing our boys and girls.

While it is true that we can do more for the guidance of physical and mental growth than spiritual (because that is a matter of the grace of God), we can lead the steps of the little child to the house of God; we can teach him to pray and to trust God, and we can set an example of godly living before him. That is all we can do; but again we say, it is enough to demand our best effort and more.

II. Normal Christians Will Grow (II Pet. 1:1-8).

In Christ there are "all things that pertain unto life and godliness." There is no need of some added experience, or some new and striking enducement, for all the unbelievably great possibilities of Christian grace and growth are in Him. We need only to recognize that fact and yield to Him, and there will be the full development of Christian life and experience.

We have, in practice, so far departed from the normal in Christian life that we can hardly believe that the above is true. In place of the normal Christian life according to God's standard, we have established a standard based on the average Christian life. If we equal it we are satisfied, and if perchance we surpass it we count ourselves among the "more spiritual" ones. And all the time the average standard is far below the normal Christian life which God not only expects, but is ready to enable and empower us to live.

Peter tells us in this passage that the great and precious promises of God in Christ are not only to enable us to escape the corruption of this sinful world, but to go on to a place where we will neither "be barren nor unfruitful" Christians. How will this come about? Verses 5-7 tell us.

Faith supplies in itself (rather than "add to," v. 5), if there is "diligence" (that is, true Christian devotion), a number of other splendid qualities. First comes "virtue"—really moral courage, or nobility of character. What a fine step forward! Then comes "knowledge," that is, a discernment which will give practical skill in effective daily living for Christ. Such spiritual discernment will naturally lead to "self-control" — something much needed by most Christians.

The self-controlled one will always have "patience," that is, the endurance to stand every hardship and trial. We need to be more patient not only with others, but also with ourselves, even in this matter of Christian growth of which we are speaking.

A life like that is a life of "godliness," which will blossom out into real "brotherly kindness." There isn't too much of that in the world today, even among Christians. Let's revive it! Then what? The one who loves his brother will love the whole world (charity, in v. 8, should read "love"). Why not? Are we not all brethren, who know Christ, regardless of race, position or creed?

Let such virtues "abound" (v. 8), and no Christian life will lack in rich fruitfulness for God in Christ. If Christian people would let the new life within them grow, it would surprise us and them what God would do through them for His own glory.

The Senate disregarded a direct appeal of the President and voted to continue social security pay roll taxes at their present rate instead of doubling them January 1, 1943, as originally planned.

LAW OFFICES JONES & JONES

John W. McRobie and others, Plaintiffs,
vs.
John C. McRobie and Anita McRobie, his wife; John Barnard, Hallie Barnard and Alfred Barnard, Defendants.
No. 3672 Equity. In the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to procure the passage of a decree for the sale of the real estate of Stella V. McRobie, late of Garrett County, Maryland, deceased, situate in Garrett County, Maryland, and for the distribution of the proceeds therefrom.

The bill states:

That Stella V. McRobie, late of Garrett County, Maryland, was in her lifetime and at the time of her death seized and possessed of a parcel of land, situate in Election District No. 1 of Garrett County, Maryland, containing 39½ acres, and being the same which was conveyed to her by deed from Thomas A. McRobie, widower, dated July 22, 1921, and recorded in Liber E. Z. T., No. 80, folio 322, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, a certified copy of which deed has been filed as "Exhibit No. 1"; that the said Stella V. McRobie, while seized and possessed of the aforesaid real estate departed this life, intestate, at her home in Garrett County, Maryland, on the 23rd day of January, 1942, leaving surviving her as next of kin and heirs at law, to whom said land descended, her husband, John W. McRobie and the following children and grandchildren, to-wit:

David McRobie, a son, who intermarried with Mary McRobie; Carroll F. McRobie, a son, who intermarried with Nellie McRobie; Guy Thomas McRobie, a son, who intermarried with Catherine McRobie; John C. McRobie, a son, who intermarried with Anita McRobie; Virginia June McRobies Adkins, a daughter, who intermarried with Z. C. Adkins; Louise Lucie McRobie Beckman, a daughter, who intermarried with Ray E. Beckman; Beatrice L. McRobie Custer, a daughter, who intermarried with Ray Custer; and the following grandchildren, children of Mabel McRobie Barnard, a deceased daughter, who departed this life on May 13th, 1935: June Barnard Sharpless, a granddaughter, who intermarried with William L. Sharpless; Naomi Barnard Warnick, a granddaughter, who intermarried with Gilbert H. Warnick; Juanita Barnard Tichnell, a granddaughter, who intermarried with William A. Tichnell; Helen Barnard Hoopengardner, a granddaughter, who intermarried with Wilbur S. Hoopengardner; Hallie Barnard, granddaughter, and William E. Barnard; John Barnard; and Alfred Barnard, grandsons, the last four being unmarried; that all the plaintiffs and defendants are of full age with the exception of said Hallie Barnard, John Barnard and Alfred Barnard, who are minors under the age of 21 years; that the said real estate is not susceptible of partition in kind without material loss or injury to the parties entitled to interests therein, and it would be to the advantage of all the said parties to have said property sold and the proceeds derived therefrom divided among them according to their respective rights and interests; that the said John C. McRobie and Anita McRobie, his wife, are non-residents of Garrett County, and the State of Maryland, and their present place of residence is to the plaintiffs unknown; that Hallie Barnard now resides in Prince George's County, Maryland, and the said John Barnard and Alfred Barnard in Baltimore County, Maryland.

The bill then prays for a decree for the sale of said real estate and for the distribution of the proceeds derived therefrom and for general relief.

It is thereupon, this 15th day of October, 1942, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, in Equity, ordered that the plaintiffs by having a copy of this order inserted in some newspaper published in Garrett County, Maryland, once a week for four successive weeks before the 13th day of November, 1942, give notice to the said absent defendants, John C. McRobie and Anita McRobie, his wife, of the object and substance of said bill, warning them to be and appear in this Court in person or by solicitor, on or before the 28th day of November, 1942, to show cause, if any they have, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

A. G. ROSS,
Clerk of the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, Petitioner,
v.
74.34 ACRES OF LAND, MORE OR LESS, IN GARRETT COUNTY, MARYLAND, AND PAUL RICHARD LISTON, ET AL., Defendants.
IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES
FOR THE DISTRICT OF MARYLAND
CIVIL NO. 1643
NOTICE OF CONDEMNATION

I hereby give notice, pursuant to the order of the Honorable W. Calvin Chestnut, United States District Judge, entered in this proceeding on the 9th day of October, 1942, to the following defendants named in the petition for condemnation filed herein, to-wit: Paul Richard Liston, also known as Paul R. Liston; Emma Liston; Mary M. Speelman; Department of Revenue of the State of Maryland; the Register of Wills of Garrett County, Maryland; the County Commissioners of Garrett County; and the State of Maryland; to all non-residents and unknown defendants; and to any and all of the unknown owners; tenants; occupants; claimants; and other persons interested in the land and improvements proposed to be condemned in this proceeding; and any and all of the unknown heirs; spouses; aliences; devisees; claimants; executors; administrators; assigns; or persons claiming in the said land and improvements:

That the petition for condemnation of the United States of America was filed in the above-entitled cause in the United States District Court for the District of Maryland on the 6th day of July, 1942; by Wilmer H. Dewey, Special Assistant to the Attorney General; and Joseph McGovern, Jr., Special Attorney, Department of Justice; and that said condemnation proceedings is now pending.

I fu ther give notice to all such parties as may be interested in the land and improvements sought to be condemned therein, or any part thereof, to come forward on or before the 16th day of November, 1942, and file their objections, if any they have, to the proposed condemnation of said land in fee simple, subject to an easement in the public over the road as now located over this parcel, and also subject to that certain private telephone line as now located over and across the hereinafter described parcel of land, together with the buildings, structures, and improvements thereon and appurtenances thereto; and to set forth their several ownerships, claims, interests, titles, estates, rights, or liens, if any, and that they will be adjudicated and forever determined by these proceedings and that the final award for said lands, when paid into the Registry of this Court, will be disposed of as the Court may direct in these proceedings.

The said petition for condemnation recites that pursuant to certain Acts of Congress, the War Deparement is authorized to acquire on behalf of the United States the land hereinafter described for a public purpose, to-wit: for the prosecution of the Youghiogheny River Reservoir Project and for other public uses. That money appropriated for the purposes and under the terms of such Acts of Congress has been allocated to the War Department for the acquisition of said land; that under and by virtue of the provisions of the Act of Congress approved August 1, 1888 (Chapter 728, Sec. 1, 25 Stat. 357, Title 40, Sec. 257 to 258 inclusive, U. S. C. A.); the Act of Congress dated April 24, 1888 (Chapter 194, 25 Stat. 94); the Act of Congress of March 18, 1918 (Chapter 155, Sec. 5, 40 Stat. 911); the Act of Congress approved June 22, 1936 (49 Stat. 1570), as amended by an Act of Congress approved June 28, 1938 (Chapter 795, Section 2, 52 Stat. 1215, Title 33, U. S. C. A. Sec. 701c-1); and all other acts or parts of acts supplementary to or mandatory of the said acts and the War Department has been designated as the acquiring authority for this purpose on behalf of the United States, and that pursuant to law has ascertained that the hereinafter described land is necessary for the public purpose, as aforesaid; that title to the said land should be acquired by condemnation under judicial process, and it has accordingly applied to the Attorney General of the United States to cause such proceedings to be commenced. That the land ascertained and selected for acquisition for the purpose aforesaid is situate in Garrett County, State of Maryland, more specifically described as follows:

All that certain parcel of land situate in No. 2 District, County of Garrett, State of Maryland, bounded and described as follows:

BEGINNING at a point on the Pennsylvania-Maryland State Line, on line of other land of Paul R. Liston (X 1,328,232.1; Y 696,391.7 Maryland State System of Coordinates, Grid North 1 degree 30 minutes west of True North); thence leaving the Pennsylvania-Maryland State Line, through land of Paul Richard Liston, of which this parcel is a part, by 3 lines: S. 25 degrees 59 minutes W., 769.4 feet; S. 36 degrees 55 minutes W., 643.9 feet and S. 66 degrees 37 minutes E., 295.7 feet to a point on line of land of Ada M. Garletts; thence by land of Ada M. Garletts, S. 10 degrees 49 minutes W. 1005.9 feet, crossing a public earth road, to an Ash, corner to land of C. A. Wagner, et ux; thence by land of C. A. Wagner et ux., by 2 lines; S. 12 degrees 07 minutes W., 339.4 feet, crossing a Mill Race, to a Maple and S. 12 degrees 07 minutes W., 390 feet, more or less, crossing Mill Run, to a point on the left bank the cof. said point also being on the Youghiogheny River; thence down the Youghiogheny River, a distance of 4840 feet, more or less, passing the mouth of Mill Run and also the mouth of a Mill Race, to a point, corner to other land of Paul R. Liston, said corner also being on the Pennsylvania-Maryland State Line; thence leaving the Youghiogheny River and following the Pennsylvania-Maryland State Line, by other land of Paul R. Liston, by 2 lines: S. 88 degrees 48 minutes E., 60 feet, more or less, crossing a public earth road to a state line marker and S. 88 degrees 48 minutes E., 1159.1 feet to the place of beginning, containing 74.34 acres, more or less.

Although the persons and corporations hereinabove-named as owners and claimants of said parcels of land respectively are all the persons interested in the same so far as the petitioner has been able to ascertain, there may be other interested persons who are unknown to the petitioner or whose addresses are unknown, and this notice by publication is given to the end that the rights, and claims of all such parties will be adjudicated and forever determined by these proceedings and that judgment be given to petitioner against the above described land and the entire and unincumbered fee, subject to an easement in the public over the road as now located over this parcel, and also subject to that certain private telephone line as now located over and across the hereinafter described parcel of land, together with the buildings, structures, and improvements thereon and appurtenances thereto, to the sole use of the United States upon payment of just compensation therefor into the Registry of the Court, and that this cause be held open for such other and further orders, judgments, and decrees as may be necessary in the premises.

Dated: October 10th, 1942.

—OF—
VALUABLE REAL ESTATE
In Garrett County, Maryland, Near Cranesville, W. Va.

Under and by virtue of the powers vested in me by the last will and testaments of Marshall H. Frankhouser and Elizabeth A. Frankhouser, his wife, and orders of the Orphans Court for Garrett County, Maryland, I hereby give notice that on Wednesday, October 21, 1942,

At the Hour of One o'Clock P. M.,

upon the property to be sold, I will offer at public auction all of the home farm of said Marshall H. and Elizabeth A. Frankhauser, composed of the following parcels, to-wit:

1. All that parcel of land containing 70 acres, more or less, embracing Military Lot No. 1402 and 20 acres at the West end of said lot, and being known and distinguished as the tract of land called "Tudor," which was conveyed unto the said Marshall H. Frankhouser by deed from Israel M. Frankhouser dated April 8, 1890, and recorded in Liber E. Z. T., No. 15, folio 713, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland.

2. All of those two parcels of land, lying and being partly in Garrett County, Maryland, and partly in Preston County, West Virginia, the first containing 23 7-8 acres and the second 4 acres, and being the same which were conveyed unto the said Marshall H. Frankhouser and Elizabeth A. Frankhouser, his wife, as tenants in common, by deed from Edgar F. Jenkins and wife, dated May 26, 1916, and recorded in Liber E. Z. T., No. 70, folio 391, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, and Deed Book No. 147, page 472, Records of Preston County, West Virginia.

3. Also all the right, title and interest of the said Marshall H. Frankhouser in and to the use of that certain spring of water as described in a deed from Bert C. Feather and wife to Edgar F. Jenkins bearing date April 22, 1901, and recorded in Liber E. Z. T., No. 40, folio 398, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, with right of ingress and regress for the purpose of laying and maintaining a pipe-line therefrom.

About 50 acres of said farm are cleared and under cultivation, and the balance is pasture and wooded land. It is improved by a good dwelling, two barns and other usual farm buildings. It is located about one mile from Cranesville, West Va., and four miles from Sang Run, Maryland. It is a very excellent farm.

TERMS OF SALE—One-third cash on day of sale, one-third in six months and one-third in twelve months, or all cash, at the option of the purchaser.

Possession upon ratification of the sale by the Orphans Court for Garrett County.

MAUD E. GROVES, Executrix.
LAYTONSVILLE, MD.

N. B.—At the same time there will also be offered for sale all of that other parcel of land, containing 50 acres, more or less, which was conveyed to said Marshall H. Frankhouser by deed from Henry Spindler and wife, dated May 3, 1910, and recorded in Deed Book 127, page 290, Records of Preston County, West Virginia. This property is situated in Preston County, West Virginia, about two miles from the above home farm of said Marshall H. Frankhouser and wife, and one mile from Cranesville, along the Lake Ford Road. It adjoins the lands of Joseph C. Feather, H. W. Ringer, Ora Tects and Thomas Haigh.

Following the sale of the above real estate Elliott and Friend, Cranesville, W. Va., will sell at public auction all of the personal properay on said farm, consisting of live stock, farm machinery, household furniture, etc.

PROCLAMATION OF THE GOVERNOR OF MARYLAND DIRECTING THE PUBLICATION OF BILLS PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE.

WHEREAS, at the January session of the General Assembly of Maryland, held in the year 1941, the following Acts were passed, providing for the submission of amendments to the Constitution of the State to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection, namely:

CHAPTER 337

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Amendments to the Constitution", relating to the advertisement or publication of amendments to the Constitution, and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the said qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Amendments to the Constitution", the same, if adopted by the legally qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

1. The General Assembly may propose Amendments to this Constitution; provided that each Amendment shall be embraced in a separate Bill, embodying the Article or Section, as the same will stand when amended and passed by three-fifths of all the members elected to each of the two Houses, by yeas and nays, to be entered on the Journals with the proposed Amendment. The Bill or Bills proposing amendment or amendments shall be published by order of the Governor, in at least two newspapers, in each County, where so many may be published, and where not more than one may be published, then in that newspaper, and in three newspapers published in the City of Baltimore, once a week for three weeks immediately preceding the next ensuing general election, at which the proposed amendment or amendments shall be submitted, in a form to be prescribed by the General Assembly, to the qualified voters of the State for adoption or rejection. Provided, however, the General Assembly may provide for publishing any proposed amendment or amendments in pamphlet form, and for making said pamphlets available to the registered voters of the State in addition to publication in the newspapers. The ballots for said proposed amendment or amendments, severally, shall be returned to the Governor, in the manner prescribed in other cases, and if it shall appear to the Governor that a majority of the votes cast at said election on said amendment or amendments, severally, were cast in favor thereof, the Governor shall, by his proclamation, declare the said amendment or amendments having received said majority of votes, to have been adopted by the people of Maryland as part of the Constitution thereof, and thenceforth said amendment or amendments shall be part of the said Constitution. When two or more amendments shall be submitted in manner aforesaid, to the voters of this State at the same election, they shall be so submitted as that each amendment shall be voted on separately.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That said aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall, at the next general election for members of the General Assembly of Maryland in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State, for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For Constitutional Amendment" and "Against Constitutional Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against the said proposed amendments, as directed by said Article 14 of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article 14.

CHAPTER 494

AN ACT to amend Section 21 of Article 4, title "Judiciary Department", sub-title, "Part III—Circuit Courts", of the Constitution of this State, providing for the residential qualification of the Judges of Associate Judges of the Third Judicial Circuit and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of this State for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That three-fifths of all members elected to each of the two houses concurring) the following section be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 21 of Article 4, of the Constitution of Maryland, title "Judiciary Department", sub-title "Part III Circuit Courts", the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters thereof as herein provided to become Section 21 of Article 4 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

21. For each of the said circuits, excepting the eighth, the second, the third, the sixth and the seventh there shall be a chief judge and two associate judges, to be styled judges of the Circuit Court to be selected or appointed as herein provided, and for the second circuit, the third circuit, the sixth circuit and the seventh circuit, there shall be a chief judge and three associate judges to be styled judges of the Circuit Court to be elected or appointed as herein provided. And no two of said associate judges, for any of the said circuits, except the third, sixth and seventh circuits shall, at the time of their election or appointment, or during the term for which they have been elected or appointed, reside in the same county. If two or more persons shall be candidates for associate judge in the same county in any of the circuits, except the third, sixth and seventh circuits, that person residing in said county in said circuit elected who has the highest number of votes in the circuit. In case any two candidates for associate judge in any of the circuits, except the third, sixth and seventh circuits, residing in the same county shall have an equal number of votes greater than any other candidates for associate judge in the circuit, it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for one associate judge; but the person residing in any other county of the circuit who has the highest number of votes shall be declared elected. The said judges shall hold not less than two terms of the Circuit Court in each of the counties composing their respective circuits, at such times as are now or may hereafter be prescribed by which jurors shall be summoned; and in those counties where only two such terms are held, two other and intermediate terms, to which jurors shall not be summoned; they may alter or fix the times for holding any or all terms, until otherwise prescribed, and shall adopt rules to the end that all business not requiring the interposition of the jury shall be, as far as practicable, disposed of at such intermediate terms. One judge in each of the above circuits, including the second, the third, sixth and seventh circuits, shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of any business, and the said judges or any of them may hold special terms of their courts, whenever in their discretion the business of the several counties renders such terms necessary.

In the Third Circuit, two of said Associate Judges shall at all times be bona fide residents of Baltimore County and one of said Associate Judges or the Chief Judge be a bona fide resident of Harford County, and said Judges shall have been such residents six months prior to their appointment or election.

The additional associate judge for the second circuit herein provided for shall be a resident of Cecil County, shall be appointed by the Governor after the expiration of six (6) months after the adoption of this amendment and shall serve until the first general election for members of the General Assembly that shall be held in said circuit subsequent to the adoption of this amendment, at which election his successor shall be elected by the qualified voters of Caroline, Cecil, Kent, Queen Anne's and Talbot Counties, constituting the second circuit. The judge so appointed shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit, and the judge so elected shall be subject to the same constitutional provision, hold his office for the same term of years, receive the same compensation, and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit.

The additional judge for the sixth circuit herein provided for and elected by the qualified voters of Frederick and Montgomery Counties at the 1938 election in accordance with the terms of the Constitutional Amendment heretofore submitted and adopted shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the sixth circuit and his successor shall be appointed and/or elected in accordance with the constitutional provisions relating to judges. The Chief Judge may be elected from either Frederick or Montgomery Counties, but when the Chief Judge is elected from Frederick County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said county and the two remaining associate judges shall be residents of Montgomery County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said Montgomery County and the remaining two associate judges residents of Frederick County. In case any candidate or candidates for associate judge at any judicial election held in the third and sixth judicial circuits shall receive sufficient votes to cause such candidate or candidates to be declared elected, but the election of such candidate or candidates would cause more associate judges than herein permitted to reside in any county of said circuits, then and in that event only that candidate or those candidates, as the case may be, residing in said county in the order of the votes received shall be declared elected whose election would provide the permitted number of associate judges from said county and the candidate or candidates as the case may be, residing in the other county, and not similarly disqualified who shall have the next highest number of votes in said election shall be declared elected. If by reason of such a condition or by reason of an equal vote for two or more candidates a sufficient number of associate judges duly qualified as to residence as above set out should not be elected at any election in said third and sixth judicial circuits, then it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for such unfilled office or offices.

The additional associate judge for the seventh circuit herein provided for shall be appointed by the Governor immediately after the adoption of this amendment and shall serve until the first general election for members of the General Assembly that shall be held in said circuit subsequent to the adoption of this amendment, at which election his successor shall be elected by the qualified voters of Prince George's, Charles, Calvert and St. Mary's Counties. No member of the General Assembly of 1939, otherwise qualified, shall be ineligible for appointment or election as such associate judge by reason of his membership in the General Assembly. The judge so appointed shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the seventh circuit. No two of the associate judges for the seventh circuit shall at the time of their election or appointment or during the term for which they may have been appointed or elected appointed reside in the same county, except in Prince George's County, in which county two of said associate judges for the said circuit shall reside at the time of their appointment or election and during the term for which they may have been appointed or elected unless the chief judge of said circuit shall already reside in said county, in which event only one of said associate judges shall reside in Prince George's County and Prince George's and Charles shall at all time have two resident Judges and no more, such Judges to be either the Chief Judge of the Seventh Circuit and one associate Judge or two associate Judges of said Circuit. In case any candidate or candidates for associate judge at any judicial election held in the seventh judicial circuit shall receive sufficient votes to cause such candidate or candidates to be elected, but the election of such candidate or candidates would cause more associate judges than herein permitted to reside in any county of said circuit, then and in that event only that candidate or those candidates, as the case may be, residing in said county in the order of the votes received shall be declared elected whose election would provide the permitted number of associate judges from said county and the candidate or candidates, as the case may be, residing in some other county, and not similarly disqualified, who shall have the next highest number of votes in said election shall be declared elected. If, by reason of such a condition or by reason of an equal vote for two or more candidates a sufficient number of associate judges duly qualified as to residence as above set out should not be elected at any election in said seventh judicial circuit, then it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for such unfilled office or offices.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State shall be, at the next general election to be held in this State in the year 1942, submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of this State, and at the said general election, the vote on the said proposed amendment shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment" as now prescribed by law, and immediately after said election, due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment as directed by said Article 14 of the Constitution.

CHAPTER 599

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 45 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", relating to the salary of Clerks of Courts and Registrars of Wills, and providing for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members elected to each of the two Houses concurring), That the following amendment be and it is hereby proposed to Section 45 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department" the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Section 45 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland:

45. The General Assembly shall provide a simple and uniform system of charges in the office of Clerks of Courts and Registrars of Wills, in the Counties of this State and the City of Baltimore, and for the collection thereof; provided, the amount of compensation to any of the said officers in the various Counties and the City of Baltimore shall be such as may be prescribed by law.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforesaid Section, hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State, shall, at the election to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, upon each ballot there shall be printed the words: "For Constitutional Amendment" and "Against Constitutional Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against proposed amendment, as directed by said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article 14.

CHAPTER 607

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland title "Legislative Department" by adding a new section to be known as Section 10B, providing for the taking of property by the State Roads Commission under certain circumstances; and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members elected to each of the two Houses concurring), That the following new Section be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Article III, title "Legislative Department" of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, the same to be inserted after Section 10A and to be numbered 10B, and if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, said section shall become a part of Article III of the Constitution of Maryland.

10B. The General Assembly shall enact no law authorizing private property to be taken for public use without just compensation, to be agreed upon between the parties or awarded by a jury, being first paid or tendered to the party entitled to such compensation, except that where such property in the judgment of the State Roads Commission is needed by the State for highway purposes, the General Assembly may provide that such property may be taken immediately upon payment therefor to the owner or owners thereof by said State Roads Commission, or into Court, such amount as said State Roads Commission shall estimate to be of the fair value of said property, provided such legislation also requires the payment of any further sum that may subsequently be awarded by a jury.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the foregoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland, shall, at the election to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "FOR CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT" and "AGAINST CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment, as directed by Article XIV of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article XIV. (Approved: April 28, 1941.)

CHAPTER 695

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 15 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", regulating the period that General Assembly may continue its session and compensation of the members thereof, and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members elected to each of the two Houses concurring), That the following amendment be and it is hereby proposed to Section 15 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Section 15 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

15. The General Assembly may continue its session so long as in its judgment the public interest may require, for a period not longer than ninety days; and each member thereof shall receive a compensation of One Thousand Dollars ($1,000) per annum, payable quarterly, with a deduction of fifteen dollars per diem for each day of unexcused absence from any session; and he shall also receive such mileage as may be allowed by law, not exceeding twenty cents per mile; and the presiding officer of each House shall receive an additional compensation of Two hundred and fifty ($250) dollars per annum. When the General Assembly shall be convened by Proclamation of the Governor, the session shall not continue longer than thirty days, but no additional compensation other than mileage and other allowances provided by law shall be paid members of the General Assembly for Special Sessions.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That said aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall, at the next general election to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State, for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For Constitutional Amendment" and "Against Constitutional Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against proposed amendment, as directed by said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article Fourteen.

Approved: May 2, 1941.

Youths Are Arrested After Truck Robbery

Three Nabbed by Trooper Browning Are Charged With Larceny

A thorough investigation of the robbery of a Cumberland wholesale grocery truck Friday on Big Savage mountain resulted in the arrest Sunday afternoon of three youths by Trooper George M. Browning, on charges of larceny.

Trooper Browning was detailed to the case when the driver of a J. C. Orrick Company truck reported the theft of cigarettes and candy from his truck while he was enroute to Grantsville. From the meager description of three youths seen near the scene of the theft Trooper Browning went to work.

After piecing together details available Trooper Browning went to the home of Harold E. Knepp, near Frostburg, and arrested Knepp and Arthur W. Rosenberger. Later he nabbed Emory F. Rosenberger at a relative's home, near Finzel.

All three admitted taking the articles from the truck in statements made Sunday afternoon to Trooper Browning. According to the trooper, Emory Rosenberger drove his companions along the highway just behind the traveling truck. Arthur Rosenberger and Knepp jumped from their car and ran after the truck.

Only one of them was able to board the vehicle and he allegedly took the cigarettes and candy, which were valued at less than $25.

Red Cross Knitting

Knitting continues among the women of the community, in an effort to fill the Red Cross quotas. Mrs. George Welling completed three pair of Navy sea boots, Mrs. H. A. Loraditch is on her fourth pair and Miss Floss Shaffer her second.

Army sweaters were completed by Mrs. Arthur Naylor, Mrs. John Thayer, Mrs. Ward Freeland, Mrs. Lloyd Cook, Mrs. Ward Bailey, Mrs. George Deavers, Miss Beulah Loughridge, Miss Crystal Elliott and Miss Helen Giessman. Mrs. Lawrence Moomaw and Mrs. George Deavers have each knitted 20 sweaters. Mrs. D. Edward Offutt, knitting chairman, said there were 80 helmets to be made for the navy and she hoped all volunteers would contact her.

The Senate passed the biggest tax bill in history which included the insertion of a new five percent victory levy on individuals. The measure would add about 8 billion to the taxes. The measure must also be passed by the House.

MT. LAKE PARK

SCRAP—Our column last week brought several calls regarding the whys and wherefores of the drive. We think you should know that one call came from Mr. Callis of the Mountain Lake school. He informed us that there is a scrap heap at the school house, also that any person calling him or any of the pupils that they had scrap it would be collected and put on the school scrap heap, which would later go to the junk man. In other words the school and the teachers want to cooperate with the citizens.

Birthday Anniversary Observed

The eightieth birthday anniversary of P. T. Lipscomb was observed on Monday, October 12. A surprise visit was given him by a number of his friends who called that evening to wish him many happy returns of the day. Refreshments were brought by the guests who were Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Grow All You Can!

THE more you grow, the less you have to buy. Many dairy farmers find it more profitable to feed home-grown grains than to sell them. To help you use your home-grown grains most economically, Southern States Cooperative makes a balanced, concentrated grain mixture called Southern States 32% Milk Maker. You can mix this ration with home-grown grains in almost any protein feed you want.

A well-balanced 20% ration is made with equal parts of your own grain and 32% Milk Maker feed. For a 24% feed, use 7 bags of home-grown grain and 13 bags of supplement.

Drop in and let us figure out a balanced ration for you, making the best use of your home-grown grains.

U. S. and US . . . . . .

Did you ever notice the similarity between the initials of our country and the little pronoun that stands for you and me and all the other Americans that live in this great nation of ours? And did you ever stop to think of the significance of this similarity—that here in America we, the people, are the government?

Have you ever stopped to realize that in the Axis nations the people must serve the government, but in America the government was instituted to serve the people? And have you reflected on the great responsibility which all this imposes on each one of us as an individual, as an American?

In Axis nations the people are told what to do, when to do it—liquidated if they fail to do it. But here in America loyally doing one's duty or selfishly shirking it is dependent on each individual alone.

ORGANIZATION OF MINUTE MEN IS UNDER WAY

Twenty Are Sworn Into Service Monday Night—Next Meeting Monday Night at 8 O'clock at Pritts Garage

MORE RECRUITS WELCOME

Satisfactory response to the call to form a unit of the Maryland Minute Men on Monday evening indicated that such a company would be organized here in the very near future, it was announced by H. C. Riggs, chairman.

In fact, the interest was so pronounced that twenty men were sworn into the State militia service that evening by Capt. J. Philip Roman, Cumberland, liaison officer for the 8th battalion which comprises Allegany and Garrett counties. Several others were present at the meeting who indicated they would join later.

The formal organization, however, was postponed until the word was more thoroughly spread around and more volunteer recruits obtained.

A full company is composed of fifty-four men including officers. The men when they take the oath of allegiance agree to enlist for the duration of the war and six months thereafter and to equip themselves with guns and such uniform as is agreed upon.

The members will learn to march, observe the rules of infantry drill and will learn the manual of arms and the handling of rifles in latest approved military manner. Later they will engage in scouting and military tactics and will be subject to call for emergencies on the home front. Officers will be commissioned by the Governor.

Those Sworn In

Meeting Called Monday

Mr. Riggs announced the next meeting for Monday evening at 8 o'clock, in the Ralph Pritts garage, where it will be possible to begin drilling immediately. He said it was intended that the company would meet twice each week for a period anywhere from one to two hours.

At this time also application blanks would be available and new recruits admitted. Young men 16 to 18 years of age who want to learn the elementary qualifications of a soldier and to acquire a knowledge of infantry drill, those 18 to 20 who may soon be in the army, or others up to 70 or more who feel that they would like to do something to guard the home front against any emergency, are being urged to join this organization. Deer hunters, ex-service men and all sportsmen are especially urged. Any person later called for service in the armed forces would be given an honorable discharge.

"You may never be called upon to protect your homes against parratroops, fifth columnists and saboteurs," Mr. Riggs pointed out, "but if the emergency arose we would want to be ready. Training as a Maryland Minute Man would give this community organized power that would be a vital factor in perhaps saving this entire area from a disaster."

Members were instructed not to bring their guns to drill for a few weeks as the time would be spent in learning foot movements.

Men Left For Fort Meade Today

Twenty-four men who had been accepted perviously for service in the armed forces of the nation, left Oakland this morning for Fort George G. Meade, near Baltimore.

National Red Cross Leader to Address Civic Club Luncheon

General Invitation Extended to Anyone Interested to Attend Meeting Next Tuesday, 1 p. m.

A general invitation is extended by the Oakland Civic Club to its members and all other persons interested in Red Cross work and First Aid training, to attend a luncheon to be served at the William-James hotel on Tuesday, October 27, at 1 o'clock.

Attending this luncheon and addressing those present will be Holman George Marks, field representative from National Headquarters of the American Red Cross, who will be in Garrett county all next week giving an instructor's course in First Aid training.

Mr. Marks message will give an insight into the vital role the Red Cross is playing in training the public for civilian defense, as well as presenting a distinct and much needed service a Red Cross chapter would be rendering to the community and to civilian defense by training everyone in the rudiments of first aid.

Prior to joining the National Staff of the Red Cross in 1941, Mr. Marks had several years experience as a first aid and water safety instructor in his home town, St. Petersburg, Fla. In addition, he served as swimming instructor at the St. Petersburg Y. M. C. A., for three years, coached several high school swimming teams, and acted as boys' camp director in Maine for three summers.

Groups from Oakland, Friendsville, Accident and the Power Plant have already taken or are completing the "advanced course" preparatory to taking the "Instructor's Course" in First Aid training, which will be given in the High School at Accident every evening next week at 7:30 o'clock. Instructors for the advanced course were Messrs. C. E. MacMurray and Clarence Sutter, of the Power Plant at Sines.

The price of the luncheon is 85 cents and reservations can be made by calling Mrs. Paul Naylor, phone 228R, before Saturday, October 24.

Mrs. E. Z. Tower, County Red Cross Chairman, said "It is hoped that the number attending will be large enough to attest that since "Pearl Harbor" Garrett county was quick to sense the necessity for a Red Cross, and for First Aid training to meet the emergencies which confront a warring nation."

Truck Owners May Get Help In Filling Out Blanks

Truck owners were notified this week by Milton Riley, chairman of the Garrett County U. S. Department of Agriculture war board, that assistance would be given them, if needed, for filling out a form from the Office of Defense Transportation used in applying for a certificate of war necessity so that they may legally operate their trucks after November 15, 1942.

Mr. Riley said a County Farm Transportation committee has been set up which will help complete such applications, review the data placed thereon, and mail them. This service is to be rendered to all truckers doing 51 percent or more of their business in hauling produce or supplies to or from the farm and in hauling on the farm.

Registration centers will be in Accident, Friendsville, Grantsville, Kitzmiller and Oakland High schools, on October 22, 23, and 24, from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.

The unit represents the Duke Medical School, Durham, N. C., and Miss Georg was inducted as a physical therapy aide.

Miss Georg is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Georg, of Accident, and was graduated from Accident High school. She studied physical education and physical therapy at the Marjorie Webster School, Washington, D. C., and went to the Allegany

HOMEMAKERS TO ADJUST PROGRAM TO WAR NEEDS

County Executive Council Takes Action on Annual Program Activities and Meetings

The Executive Board of the County Council of Homemakers Clubs and important County Committees met for a regular fall meeting and for special work on program planning on Tuesday.

The Executive Board took action on County problems of adjusting the program to wartime needs. All County Council meetings are cancelled for the duration. The Executive Board will hold one meeting a year—scheduled for October. The travel plan proposed by Miss Marianna Lee Long, home demonstration agent was adopted, effective in November. The substance of this plan is that the agent will attend all necessary meetings as in the past, however, the entire schedule will be reworked to permit the agent to hold all meetings in a given section of the county during one week and remain during the time necessary.

The Board asked for increased demonstrations to replace discussion and lectures, and for more subject matter and circular letters.

To meet increased needs, the Board voted to increase the demonstration fund during the duration by the amount formerly given for a delegate to Rural Women's Short Course.

The 1943 program will be based on the theme "Family Adjustments for Victory Through Conservation and Thrift." Such a program includes foods, clothing, home furnishings, and home management. Based on the suggestions given by the county committees, a program will be completed by a smaller group of local people appointed by the agent, it was stated.

Flood Waters Affect Oakland Indirectly

B. and O. Tracks East of Cumberland Covered and Two Sections on 17-mile Grade Washed Out

Flood waters which covered the busniess section of Cumberland for ten hours and inundated other towns in Allegany county, and also threatened Washington for a time, affected Garrett county only in a round about way, over the past week-end.

Train service was entirely disrupted for two days when waters falling down the mountain side along the seventeen-mile grade, washed out a large section of track in two areas, one west of Bloomington and one east of that town. High water east of Cumberland necessitated re-routing of Baltimore and Ohio trains over the Western Maryland railway, causing some trains to be twenty hours or more late in their schedules. Absence of mail and newspapers was the greatest inconvenience here.

Some apprehension for people in the valley regions was felt in Oakland Thursday night when it was reported that the Savage River dam had broken through in the unfinished portion and the water was rushing into the Potomac. The dam had backed up an estimated billion and a half cubic feet of flood water and then the water started coming over the top at an uncompleted part of the barrier. At this point the dam is about thirty feet high, while at its highest point in the completed part it is over seventy feet high.

When the water reached the top of the lowest part it made a gully about twenty-five feet wide but the break came gradually and washed out only a small portion of the uncompleted fill. Rumors of the dam having broken persisted in Piedmont, Westernport and Cumberland until Friday morning.

While the rain in this area was steady there was no unusual rise in the streams and no alarm was raised. The crest in Cumberland was five feet under the crest of the 1936 flood. Last Thursday's high water was the result of a rainfall of 6.31 inches within a period of 58½ hours. Will's Creek caused more damage in Cumberland than the Potomac. It was the thirteenth flood in ninety years for that city.

The Potomac reached an all-time high of 17.6 feet at Washington, ten feet above flood stage, but caused little inconvenience there, according to news accounts. Hastily built levees were said to be largely responsible. Five deaths were caused in Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia.

More Classes Will Begin at Training Center on Monday

Additional classes will get under way at the Training center, located in the old Helbig property, on Monday night, October 26, at 7 o'clock, it was announced this morning by Eugene Harpold, county coordinator.

Also on that night, he said, a class in machine shop practice will begin in the same building at the same time. Anyone interested in either of these classes may attend.

Mr. Harpold said there had been some requests for classes in pre-aviation training and mathematics. A meeting to determine the number interested will be held in the High school on Wednesday, October 28, at 7 p. m. If ten or more are interested classes will be formed.

Friendsville First Aiders Get Diplomas

Members of an Advanced First Aid class received certificates at a special meeting held in the Accident school auditorium last week.

Jesse Aiken, Washington, D. C., spoke on "Accident Prevention," and W. J. Glenn, principal of Friendsville high school, presented diplomas to the following:

Mrs. B. O. Aiken, Mrs. A. D. Scrogum, B. O. Aiken, Arthur Scrogum, Mrs. Alice Kesner, Melvin Kesner, Gladys and Mabel Schlossnagle, Mrs. Margaret Alexander, Mrs. Ruth Glass, Chauncey Friend, Janice L. Friend, Ruth Selby, Ellen Humberson, Josephine Fisher, Mrs. Wayne Frazee, Nina B. Peck, Alverta Jenkins, Jane Guard, Jessie Guard, and Miss Helen Miller, R. N.

There were games and refreshments. B. O. Aiken, Accident school principal, was in charge of the program. Miss Helen Miller and Jesse Aiken were presented appropriate gifts for their help in giving the course.

An advanced course is being given this week in Oakland to eight persons, with C. E. MacMurray, of the Pennsylvania Electric company at Sines, as the instructor. Following the completion of the advanced course an instructor's course is planned, which will be taught by a field representative of the American Red Cross.

This will be conducted in Accident, according to information released by Mrs. E. Z. Tower, chairman of the Red Cross in Garrett county.

Boys Paroled on Larceny Charge

Five boys of near town were given a hearing before Magistrate H. A. Loraditch last Thursday afternoon on charges of larceny of goods from the Hoffman Jewelry store and the Hinebaugh beer warehouse.

They pleaded guilty to charges and the two families of the boys were ordered to pay Mr. Hoffman $20.40. The boys were paroled on condition none be in Oakland after dark without being accompanied by a parent, that they attend pictures only once a week, and then in company with a parent, except for educational films from time to time; that they attend school regularly and also Sunday School and other religious services. Mayford Jemison, 15, oldest of the group, may be paroled in custody of an aunt, it was stated by authorities.

Arthur Cullers, who asked for continuance after being charged with fighting on the streets of Oakland last week, pleaded guilty last Friday and paid a minimum fine of $1 and costs. Jack and William McCoy paid their fines at the time of the original hearing.

Jack McCoy declared the statement was untrue that he had served a sentence in a Federal penitentiary. Records in the office of the State's attorney show that McCoy was found guilty of a federal offense in Fairmont, W. Va., that he was sentenced to serve 20 months in a Federal penitentiary, but that later the sentence was reduced to two months and the time was served in the Marion county jail at Fairmont.

Clinic Being Conducted

The fall orthopedic clinic is being conducted here today by Dr. George E. Bennett, chief orthopedic surgeon of Johns Hopkins hospital, Baltimore, in the offices of the health department in the court house.

Examination was by appointment and more than two hundred appointments were made. Dr. Bennett is being assisted by Dr. David Weinberg, also orthopedic surgeon, and members of the county health department.

Republican Voters Are Still About Two to One

Net Decrease in Registrants in Garrett County Is 61; Democrats Lose More Than Republicans

Complete registration figures for Garrett county, released last Friday morning by A. Leo Helbig, clerk to the Board of Supervisors of Elections, show a decrease of 61 in the registration over the past two years, with the Republicans maintaining their majority of almost two to one with 5,935 registered in comparison to 3,296 for the Democrats, or a majority of 2,639.

The figures show that there are now registered in the county a total of 9,266 voters. Of this number there are 35 registered in other party columns aside from the two major parties, showing an increase of five in the past two years.

Of the loss in registered voters the Republicans showed a net loss of 18, having had 5,953 in 1940. The Democrats sustained a loss of 48, having had 3,344 in 1940. Gains were made in totals in Sang Run, Oakland, 7-1, and 7-2; Ryans Glade, Red House, Deer Park, The Elbow, Kitzmiller, Vindex, Crellin, Avilton and West Oakland, precinct 3.

The third precinct of district No. 14, one of the Oakland voting precincts, is the largest listed, with 702 voters. Running close behind is Mt. Lake Park with 642, Kitzmiller, 633, and Accident, 612.

There are four precincts in the county where the Democrats hold a majority, at Kempton, Johnson's, Kitzmiller and Vindex. The biggest Republican majority in proportion to total registration, is at Sang Run, where the ratio is over six to one. It is four to one at Jennings, and three to one at Crellin, Mt. Lake Park, Ryan's Glade and Bittinger.

Home Hygiene Classes Planned by Nurses

Tentative plans are being made by the County Public Health Nurses to hold classes in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick. These classes will be given in those communities where a real need is expressed by the local people. It is urged that all who are interested, contact the nurse of their own community at the earliest possible date so that all enrollments will be completed and classes started not later than November 1.

Dies Suddenly In Jail

Richard Herbert Nethkin, 65, who had been in ill health for several months and who had been confined in jail since Monday preparatory to being taken to a State hospital, became suddenly ill yesterday evening and died within a short time.

Acting County Medical Examiner Dr. R. R. Williams said death was from natural causes.

Nordeck and Kerins Selected by Jaycees

Names for Service-Men Project Will Be Posted In Usual Places

The names of James H. Nordeck and George Kerins, Jr., were selected this week by the Junior Chamber of Commerce in continuing their "service men" project.

These names will be posted in the usual places where citizens are urged to write and send small gifts which will be received by the soldiers in plenty of time for Christmas.

Nordeck, who was employed at The Republican office prior to his induction, is now stationed in Hawaii with the infantry forces.

Kerins is a second lieutenant in the ground forces of the army air corps, and just recently landed in England.

Jaycees Have New Idea

Charles L. Briner, Jr., announced yesterday that the Jaycees, in addition to their service men project, would sponsor the collecting of photographs of all men in the service from Oakland and immediate vicinity, to be displayed in the Sturgiss' Drug store, along with the names and addresses of all, with the invitation to send them Christmas cards and Christmas presents.

All who have any such photographs are requested to send them in immediately as Christmas packages to those overseas should be mailed early in November, and the Jaycees want to fix the display right away.

Mr. Briner said that Emeric Dusic had been appointed a member of the State Board of Directors and that his position as treasurer had been taken by William Reese.

Wants Food Supply Safeguarded; Keep Farm Boys on Farms

In an effort to help meet the farm labor shortage in Maryland and the nation U. S. Senator Millard S. Tydings has written to General Lewis B. Hershey, director of the Selective Service System, Washington, asking that an amendment be drafted that would safeguard for the farms sufficient labor, and also keep in harmony with the Selective Service Act.

"The two fundamental things necessary to win this war are bullets and beef (farm products)," Senator Tydings wrote. "Men cannot fight if they are not fed."

In the face of the nation undertaking the burden of sustaining the people at home, the soldiers and sailors abroad and furnishing vast quantities of food to the allies, Senator Tydings said "It is folly to continue to take from the farms the boys who have been raised in the country, who know the farm, who are needed on the farm, and thus by so doing reduce the quantity of food produced by the entire country."

He asked that the amendment be so drawn as not to upset the basic military requirements.

CCC Camps Turned Over to State Dept.

The Potomac and Swallow Falls CCC camps have been turned over to the State Forestry department by the Federal government, it was announced this week by those in charge.

All Federal-owned material has been taken from these camps, it was stated.

RALLY PLANNED BY REPUBLICANS ALL DAY MONDAY

Will Conclude With Mass Meeting in Oakland High School At 8 p. m. With State Candidates Present

An intensive all-day campaign of Garrett County by the State Republican candidates is being planned for next Monday, October 26, concluding with a mass rally in the Oakland High school at 8 o'clock p. m., it was announced by W. D. Casteel, chairman of the County Republican committee.

The tour will begin at Grantsville at 10 o'clock a. m., where the County Committee and county Republican candidates will meet the State candidates who will come up from Allegany county.

In the State party will be Theodore R. McKeldin, candidate for governor; J. Glenn Beall, candidate for Congress; Leo H. Miller, candidate for Associate Judge, and Horace Whitworth, candidate for Attorney General, and possibly others.

The following places will be visited with short stops for introductions, etc.:

Keyser Ridge, 11 a. m.
Friendsville, 11:30 a. m.
Accident, 1 p. m.
McHenry, 2:45 p. m.
Deer Park, 3:30 p. m.
Swanton, 4:00 p. m.
Kitzmiller, 4:30 p. m.

The party will return to Oakland for dinner after which the mass rally will be held in the High school at 8 o'clock. All four of the State candidates are scheduled to make short addresses at that time.

Welfare Report Shows Increase In Expenditures

The financial report of the Garrett County Welfare Board was presented by Mrs. Dorothy Ogburn, executive secretary, at a meeting of that organization yesterday afternoon, showing an expenditure of $20,153.35 for September, an increase over the previous month which showed expenditures of $18,339.25. Part of the increase showed in the cost of administration, $3,124.13 compared to $1,984.96 the previous month.

The caseload report also increased over the previous month, the September total being 1,029 compared to 1,008 for August.

The money was expended as follows for September: General public assistance $2,794.94; old age assistance $7,947.18; old age assistance for burials $120; aid to dependent children $5,433.43; needy blind, $202.75; board of children $485.92; administration $3,124.13; child welfare service $45.00.

The case load for September was: pensioners, 409; dependent children, 434; blind, 9; general cases, 144; children in foster homes, 33.

Fire Loss on Farms Now Irreplaceable

Wartime conditions make losses from fires on farms irreplaceable, according to W. C. Bailey, secretary-treasurer of the Garrett County National Farm Loan Association. With present shortages of material and labor, farm structures destroyed by fire in most cases cannot be rebuilt, he added.

The War Production Board has placed a $1,000 limit on new farm buildings and because there might not be a sufficient supply of materials and labor available, it may be impossible for a person to construct new farm buildings, or to repair old ones as in the past.

Interview Held Regarding Workers at Cumberland Plant

A pooled type interview for workers needed at the Kelly Springfield Ordnance Plant at Cumberland, was held at the local office of the United States Employment Service, on Saturday morning, October 17.

Representatives from the plant interviewed 32 persons. Employment was offered the majority of those interviewed, many of whom will report for duty during this week.

The employing officials were well pleased with the persons interviewed and expect to conduct another pooled interview in Oakland on Saturday morning, November 7.

More information concerning the interview will appear in a later issue of this paper.

Ask Hunters to Save Gun Shell Butts, Feathers and Fats

State Game Warden Says Materials Can Be Used In War Effort

A request to Maryland hunters to save butts of gun shells, rifle cartridges, fat from game animals and down feathers from wild geese and ducks for the nation's war effort was issued this week by E. Lee LeCompte, state game warden.

LeCompte said that during the open squirrel season thousands of squirrels were killed and thus thousands of gun shells and rifle cartridges were used.

Use in Sleeping Bags

The wild waterfowl season opens November 2, LeCompte added, and said that down and small feathers from these fowl should be saved since they can be used in aviator's garments, sleeping bags and other military articles.

During the 1941 hunting season, LeCompte reported the following game killed by hunters in Maryland:

Cottontail rabbits, 312,213; squirrels, 224,142; deer, 311; wild geese, 4,183; wild ducks, 69,811.

In view of this number of game animals killed, LeCompte said "it can readily be seen that the grease or fat would naturally make quite a contribution to the government for use in war industry."

Asks "Entire Co-operation"

LeCompte emphasized the fact that hunters are being asked to contribute only items that would be thrown away, and he urged "entire co-operation."

Shell butts, cartridges, fats and feathers should be taken to the regional game warden, Joseph A. Minke, or to any of the district game wardens in the county. They also can be forwarded to the office of the Maryland State Game and Inland Fish Commission, Baltimore, for shipment to proper federal authorities.

There is another open season on squirrel in the three western counties, November 1st to November 30th. The open season in rabbit, pheasant, etc., is from November 1st to November 30th also. Shooting bear or wild turkey is unlawful.

NOMINEE AND FAMILY—Theodore R. McKeldin, Baltimore, Republican candidate for governor of Maryland, is shown above with his wife and two children. McKeldin will launch his campaign on October 1 at which time he will begin a state-wide tour. He will be in Oakland and Garrett county on October 26.

The GOP standard bearer has had experience in public affairs and served creditably as executive secretary to Mayor William F. Broening, of Baltimore. He will oppose Governor Herbert R. O'Conor in the November election.

Letters To The Editor

Honorable Samuel K. Dennis, Chief Judge of the Supreme Bench of Baltimore City, Warns Against The Ratification of the Proposed Constitutional Amendment Creating Juvenile Court In Maryland.

To the Editor of The Republican,
Oakland, Md.

Dear Sir:—I enclose a memorandum in re the Juvenile Court Amendment, which is up for ratification or rejection at the election Tuesday, November 3rd.

There is of course danger that this undesirable Act may be ratified, notwithstanding the majority doubtless oppose its ratification, due to the voters losing sight of it and neglecting to vote against it. The matter is of such great civic and financial importance to your county that it is hoped you will actively cooperate in effecting its defeat.

If your subscribers are warned and advised through the columns of your paper the proper result will be assured.

Yours respectfully,
SAMUEL K. DENNIS.

MEMORANDUM
By Samuel K. Dennis

House Bill 861, which became Chapter 824 Acts of 1941, proposes a Constitutional Amendment providing for juvenile courts, will be voted on by the qualified voters at the election Tuesday, November 3rd, and rejected or ratified as the case may be.

Chapter 824 is the subject of a study I published in the Daily Record, February 19, 1942. A reprint of that study was mailed to you last spring; and other copies will be sent you if you desire. It was pointed out therein that the amendment, if adopted, makes mandatory the creation of an additional criminal court for juvenile cases with juries, clerks, bailiffs, etc., for Baltimore City at an additional cost to the City of about $67,000 per year. Further, it empowers the Legislature to set up like additional and expensive Criminal Courts for juvenile cases "for any other incorporated city, town or county" in the State.

The amendment was drawn and sponsored by a commission on Juvenile Delinquency appointed by the Governor, Mr. Richard F. Cleveland of the Baltimore Bar, Chairman.

Chapter 824 was enacted by the Legislature hurriedly, without any hearings and with the minimum publicity; doubtless due to the press, confusion and strain of the final days of the legislative session.

Dr. Flack traces its parliamentary course as follows:

House

March 21, 1941, Friday. Bill introduced, read first time and referred to the Committee on Constitutional Amendments.

March 25, 1941, Tuesday. Bill reported favorably, read the second time and ordered printed for third reading.

March 27, 1941, Thursday. Bill read the third time and passed. Bill then sent to the Senate.

March 31, 1941, Monday. Bill returned to the House.

Senate

March 27, 1941, Thursday. Bill read the first time and referred to the Committee on Constitutional Amendments.

March 28, 1941, Friday. Bill reported favorably and read the second time.

March 29, 1941, Saturday. Bill read the third time and passed.

Four days after the Legislature adjourned it was first ascertained that the bill had passed. I quote from the Evening Sun of April 4th, 1941:

"Annapolis, April 4—Six proposals to amend the State Constitution, all subject to the approval of the voters at the 1942 election, came out of the session of the General Assembly that ended this week. All but one of the six were passed through the raucous final night of the meeting when the Assembly stayed in session until 7 a. m. Only when the State printer returned the measures so passed did it become certain which had survived the legislative test and which had failed.

"The proposed amendments that will appear on the ballot in November, 1942, are: * * *

"H. B. 861 (not yet assigned a chapter number) providing for the establishment of Juvenile Courts as courts of record, empowered to act on all charges of criminal offenses against persons less than 18 years old except where the penalty may be capital punishment or life imprisonment."

This ill-considered and hastily enacted piece of legislation has been carefully studied and finally disapproved by:

(1) The Commission on the Judiciary Article of the Constitution of Maryland, Chief Judge Carroll T. Bond, Chairman, in its Interim Report submitted at the meeting of the Maryland Bar Association June 26, 1942. (Daily Record, June 27, 1942).

(2) The Maryland State Bar Association, June Session, 1942. Daily Record, June 27, 1942).

(3) The Bar Association of Baltimore City. (Daily Record, April 8, 1942).

(4) The Women's Bar Association of Baltimore City.

(5) The Monumental Bar Association of Baltimore.

(6) The Grand Jurors Association of Baltimore; the State's Attorneys Association, and many other civic organizations in the city and counties, including many county Bar Associations.

(7) Finally Mr. Richard F. Cleveland, Chairman of the Juvenile Commission, which, (as stated) prepared and promoted the proposed amendment, gave his revised views in a courageous and statesmanlike letter to the Baltimore Sun (June 7, 1942). Among other statements he said:

"Accordingly I shall cheerfully vote against the Constitutional Amendment which our first Juvenile Delinquency Commission proposed; and I urge all voters of the State to do likewise."

It is assumed everyone will agree with Mr. Cleveland's further statement that . . . "We should make it our business to see that a proper (Juvenile) Court is established by the General Assembly in 1943 within the framework provided by the work of the (Bond) Judiciary Commission."

Notwithstanding the condemnation of Chapter 824 proposing the Juvenile Court Amendment by disinterested authorities of the best quality throughout the whole State, there is danger the amendment may be lost sight of and neglected by the voters on election day, and its few advocates thereby enabled to secure its ratification by default.

Baltimore, October 15, 1942.

Mr. Wilbert Savage Takes A Fling at "A Republican" and Indicates That He Maintains A Postoffice Box In Sang Run.

To the Editor of The Republican.

With a terse reference to "A Republican's" reply to my letter of October 8th, I desire to advise "A Republican" that my address is Box 132, Sang Run, Maryland, and in order to provide space in The Republican for more important matter, I suggest that further discussion of this Republican-Democrat subject be mailed directly to me. Personal correspondence will be more conducive (whoa! another ten-dollar word) to unrestrained expression.

Regarding paragraph 5 of "A Republican's" reply, I do not believe our President need be advised as to the danger of a 1-party government so long as he and the majority of Republicans are in harmony. I think FDR likes your party a lot. At least offices held by Secretary of War Stimson and Secretary of the Navy Knox would so indicate. Of course they, along with the President's other good Republican friend, Mr. Wendell Willkie, have been branded as party traitors and fakes by the small circle (non-influential) of Republicans who cling to the belief that one must stick to the party, irrespective of its policies, never considering the fact that the party isn't always so loyal to them. And that goes for both sides.

I do not believe this is a time for non-constructive criticism of our government, narrow discrimintion, cultivation of political bitterness toward administration leaders, nor the airing of long-held political grudges, created primarily perhaps because of the fact that the people elected FDR for a third term.

I still say that I am going to vote for several Republicans in the coming election, and I'm sure that the majority of the Republicans in this county will support a limited quantity of Democrats and elect them, just as they have in previous years.

Yours very truly,
WILBERT N. SAVAGE.

Wants Candidates Elected on Merits and Not on Amount of Mudslinging That Is Done About Opponents.

To the Editor of The Republican:

With the oncoming of the General Election there will probably be a lot of mud slinging between candidates, their supporters and their opponents.

With this thought in mind I have written this short and simple rhyme which follows:

Hints To Politicians

Better not start slinging dirt,
Lest the rebound mess up your white shirt.

I think it most disgusting that men stoop to such tactics as digging up dirt on each other for the purpose of influencing voters. No man is perfect. At some time in every man's life he has made a mistake or favored some act that was a little "shady," if he mixed in politics. None of them has kept his hands perfectly clean.

As a citizen and a voter I'd like to see a candidate stand on his own merits for election and not on the scandal he might dig up against his opponents.

I have never believed in a man gaining success by tramping the other fellow into the mire. I'd rather be a complete failure in life than to do that.

My advice to voters is to be open minded, but also cautious as to campaign promises, scandal against opponents, and all the handshaking, etc., and study in their own minds the actions of the various candidates in the past; in their business, and service to the public; then vote for the one who is most public spirited, unselfish, and truly worthy as a public servant and representative of the people.

Sincerely,
FRANKLIN C. GLAZE

A Contributor Comes To The Aid Of Mr. Matthews, Democratic Candidate.

To the Editor of The Republican.

I have a recent letter from Mr. Asa T. Matthews in which he states that he is improving rapidly in health at St. Mary's Hospital, Rochester, Minnesota, and expects to return to his office in Oakland soon.

Mr. Matthews is a candidate for State's Attorney. Obviously he will have but little time or opportunity to contact voters before the election. As a personal friend, may I say a word in favor of his candidacy.

Asa T. Matthews is a native of Garrett county and a member of a family long settled here. He has practiced law many years in Oakland and has had experience in the office to which he aspires, having served by appointment the unexpired term of the late Julius C. Renninger.

"Tot" Matthews is able, honest and fearless. I trust all voters will give his candidacy for State's Attorney serious consideration.

CHARLES E. HOYE,
District No. 6, Sang Run.

Farm for Sale!

About 20 acres, with nice six-room House; also enough lumber to build nice Barn. This property was part of the Deer Park Golf Course; has been limed and fertilized and the grass is now knee high; would make a nice chicken farm or a nice home.

You don't have to have all the money. Easy terms. See me right away. Am going to sell.

Still have some Doors, Windows and some fine Lumber.

To the Voters of Garrett County:

It has come to my attention that a rumor has been spread around in certain sections of the county to the effect that if elected Sheriff of Garrett County I would not be able to secure a bond and qualify for the office.

I wish to state that I have made application to a surety company, issuing bonds of this kind in Maryland, my application has been accepted and notice given me that immediately after my election the bond will be issued. This should spike this untrue rumor.

I respectfully solicit your support.

"EXCEPT THE LORD BUILD THE HOUSE"—

I wonder how many of you listened to Lord Halifax on the air as he described in such a humble, moving way the new appearance of St. Paul's in London. How, enemy bombs aimed at it have leveled the shops and commercial buildings, leaving it standing "clear, majestic, its great cross of gold above the city, sharp cut against the sky."

I know that many of you who listened remembered the towns in which we were brought up. They were little towns all over this country—North, South, East and West, on the mountain or in a valley, by sea or river, or on the great plains. They had one thing in common—they were built around a church.

It does not matter what ritual was followed in the church we remember. It does matter that religion—a belief in the Fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man—was the focal point of both the settling of this country and the founding of its cities from coast to coast.

We have not yet had bombs to clear the rubble of material things away from the symbols of our religion. War, however, is a great refiner. Only those things which are enduring can stand up under its withering blasts.

Now above all we need to have faith in the Eternal Goodness—in the Father of all Mankind. Now we must prove that religious freedom has been the bulwark of all religions, and that under tolerance we have grown in faith.

We know that no matter how brilliant in mind and education our nieghbor is, no matter how skilled in craft or profession, if he does not have the motivating force of idealism, the responsibility of brotherhood, if he does not grant allegiance to a Divine Power—however he may choose to worship Him—he is not a good neighbor. And the same applies to us.

We are getting back to first things at last. As we shear away the dross of the material, we are at last remembering the words of the Psalmist:

"Except the Lord build the house, they labour in vain that build it: except the Lord keep the city, the watchman waketh in vain."

Women's Club Asks For Help in Program Of Youth Recreation

Many Oakland citizens have long recognized a need for more recreation for children. The Business and Professional Women's Club early this summer chose as its special project for the year, the planning of recreational interests for young people.

It seems to the club that during this period of war, when youth is making its contribution to the war effort, periods of relaxed enjoyment are even more essential than ever before. You parents will be interested in knowing that your boys and girls are having lots of fun under supervision.

The City Hall is available to us as a center, and in many respects is quite suitable. Our experience on the night of October 9th, when we had a party for children of the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh grades, was that we needed more room. Our parties are being attended in large numbers and we really need a large recreation hall.

We had planned Hallowe'en parties, but we now find that many school and church parties are scheduled for Hallowe'en week. Since our purpose is to provide entertainment as it is needed, we shall not be having Hallowe'en parties. Instead our next party will be Friday night, November 6. It will be for the high school group.

We need material support from the community if we continue to provide this recreational outlet for the children. We will especially appreciate donations of games at this time. If there are community people who would be willing to be called on occasionally for donations of food for the children, you will contact us to say so.

The club has gone in debt so far on these parties. We do not want to make any money from them; however, in the long run, we must break even. If you want to help make this a success, telephone Mrs. Kathryn Helbig, who heads the Recreation Committee.

Signed: DOROTHY OGBURN,
Business and Professional Women's Club.

Nation-wide Program For Tire Inspection Is Announced by OPA

The Office of Price Administration has announced a nation-wide program for periodic inspection of tires, designed to keep casings in good repair and to prevent illegal use or sale of them.

Possession of tires not "legally acquired" will result in loss of gasoline rations, OPA said.

Only "legal" tires will be the maximum of five certified for each private car, plus any acquired through rationing certificates.

The inspection program is a part of nation-wide mileage rationing, which goes into effect November 22.

Under the program, OPA said, neither private nor commercial vehicles will be certified for continued operation when their tires need repairs or mechanical faults cause unnecessary tire wear. OPA added that if a passenger car owner attempts to keep and use a tire in excess of the five permitted under the regulations, the violation will be disclosed by the inspection.

First inspection for all passenger cars must be made between December 1 and January 31, next, with commercial vehicle inspection starting November 15. After the original inspection, passenger car owners holding the minimum "A" ration book will be required to have their tires inspected every four months at official OPA stations. Owners with rations entitling them to more mileage must have an inspection every two months. Commercial vehicle tires must be inspected every two months or every 5,000 miles, whichever comes first.

An inspection fee of twenty-five cents may be charged for inspections which do not require the removal of wheels or rims, with larger fees allowed when it is necessary to demount a tire for a thorough inspection.

Mrs. Ralph Lindamood, of Cumberland, was a week-end guest of her grandmother, Mrs. Hester Harvey.

Lester Loughry was called to Cumberland on business, one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Steyer and son Philip, were visiting relatives here recently.

Mrs. Allie Wilson is visiting her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Foley, in Washington, at this time.

Mrs. Rosie Cerne, who has been ill for some time, is somewhat improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Tucker spent the week-end with relatives here, recently.

Visitors at the Propst home on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Loughry, Robert, Eston and Dessie Loughry, and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Wolfe.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Tucker and family were Sunday dinner guests at I. N. Shillingburg's.

Mr. and Mrs. V. T. Steyer and family spent the week-end in Washington.

Mrs. Lester Loughry and Mrs. Frank Propst were visiting Mrs. C. E. Shillingburg, one day this week.

R. C. Burton, of Kitzmiller, and Mrs. C. J. Burton, of Clarksburg, W. Va., were visiting in the Tucker home, recently.

DIARY OF THE WAR

FRIDAY—A Jap armada of battleships and other units was attacking the Solomons area. U. S. forces sank six enemy warcraft. The land fighting there however, had not begun. The Guadalcanal air base was under bombardment. The Russian situation was again on point of crisis with Germany attacking Stalingrad again in force, reaching the Volga on a two-mile front. Malta's toll of Axis planes in five days reached 90. U. S. bombers were over Tobruk.

SATURDAY — Landing of Jap artillery on Guadalcanal was disclosed. A strong force of enemy ships was sighted. Details of any battle were lacking but Secretary Knox warned of a stiff battle there. Stalingrad's peril grew as Nazis made more gains. U. S. flyers still hammered at Japs in Kiska in Aleutians. An allied drive to retake Burma was thought imminent. Nazis reported fighting had begun over Dakar in French-held Africa, but there was no confirmation. RAF spread over Egypt and Libya to blast Axis supply lines.

SUNDAY—Reds were battling to keep Nazis from fanning out after a break across factory area in Stalingrad, as situation there was very grave. U. S. troops arrived in Liberia, on African coast. U. S. flyers pounded Jap ships at Kiska sinking a destroyer and damaging others. Flyers also torpedoed a Jap cruiser in Solomons area. Fear of invasion in Norway was bringing harsh treatment of natives by Nazis. Nazis were criticising Sweden for her stand of neutrality and printing number of Allied stories. The Jap persistency in the Solomons was seen as an aim to push on to take New Caledonia instead of Australia.

MONDAY—Japs were massing men on Guadalcanal for an all-out assault despite repeated blows by army flying fortresses and planes. There was a heavy concentration of Jap ships in area but bombers from Australia were striking. Two more Jap destroyers were sunk in Aleutian area. Russian defenders were repulsing all German attacks at Stalingrad but Nazis were gaining in Caucasus. Churchill warned of German air raids over Britain. The second aircraft carrier within a month was launched at Camden, N. J. Japs were massing troops in Burma. British bombs plastered a French arms plant. The desert battle was slowed by violent sandstorms.

TUESDAY—U. S. fleet turned its big guns on Jap assault army at Guadalcanal halting any concentrated attack. Jap naval units bombarded American positions there. In North Pacific Kiska was again bombed and no enemy aircraft rose to do battle. Reds reported a 75,000-man attack in north Stalingrad had gained only a single block. Nazi bombers flying singly attacked sixteen towns in England. Much unrest was noted in Norway, France and other conquered lands.

WEDNESDAY—U. S. planes were punishing Jap assault army on Guadalcanal delaying the enemy counter offensive. Planes were both from the air base there and from Australian bases. Liberators dropped more bombs on enemy Kiska base. Defenders of Stalingrad received reinforcements and improved their positions. Germany claimed however occupation of another block of houses. RAF planes sped into Germany singly and attacked Bremen, Hanover and Wilhelmshaven. Two Axis ships were sunk off Tobruk by American bombers and one near Crete by RAF. Vichy's premier said he would not tolerate resistance to plans for sending workers to Germany.

THURSDAY—U. S. Navy lost two destroyers in enemy action around Solomons, but claimed damage to enemy cruiser and destroyer. Jap troops on Guadalcanal under continued U. S. air attacks, showed little sign of activity. Russians made gains in Stalingrad in counter-attacks and Nazi force appeared waning. U. S. fortresses struck at Lorient, U-boat base, and lost three but caused great damage. Allied subs in Mediterranean sank ten Axis ships in October.

Britain has added two new battle- to pre-war strength of fifteen battleships to its fleet, restoring her fleet ships and battle cruisers.

Selby, came to Oakland from Denver, Col., last Friday with the expectation of remaining here indefinitely or until Mr. Wachtel is located permanetly by the Army. He is attached to the Air Corps and has been in Denver and other cities for the past several months.

Mrs. Luther C. Nine, of near Oakland, and Mrs. Daisy Meyers, Confluence, Pa., spent last week visiting in Lone Fountain and Staunton, Va., and upon their return they were accompanied by Mrs. Auburn Huffman, of Lone Fountain. Mrs. Huffman and Mrs. Meyers were shopping in Cumberland on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Harpold, Miss Virginia Weeks, Miss Sybilla Paynter, Thomas Stevenson, Miss Catherine Baker, Miss Dorothea Fridinger, Merle Frantz, Bruce Jenkins, Miss Ann Dilgard and Mrs. Helen Buchanan are among those from this area who will attend the State Teachers' meeting in Baltimore this week-end.

Capt. J. Philip Roman, of Cumberland, liaison officer for the Maryland Minute Men, was the speaker at the weekly meeting of the Oakland-Mt. Lake Lions club on Monday evening. He explained to members of the club the purpose of the Minute Men organization which is becoming active throughout the state. He was accompanied from Cumberland by Fred C. Dreyer.

With Our Men In the Service

Pvt. Floyd Miller, of the 36th Engineering Corps, Camp Pickett, Va., is spending a brief furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller, Kempton.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Wilson, Kempton, have received a message that their son, Pvt. J. Elmo Wilson, had been selected to take a course in mine engineering at McCoy, Wis., preparatory to becoming an engineer in the copper mines. He had been stationed at Savannah Proving Grounds, Ill.

* * *

Pvt. George Havran, Fort Bragg, N. C., and a member of the Glider Infantry, is spending a short furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Havran, at Kempton.

Soldiers Like Jaycee Service-Men Project

To members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and all other Oakland Citizens:

Although I should like to write each and everyone of you personally, such a plan is neither feasible nor practical, so I am taking this method of expressing my appreciation for the gifts and messages which you recently sent me.

With the people at home backing the Armed Forces in the excellent manner which you have demonstrated, I have no doubt whatsoever that the continuance of this splendid cooperation between American soldiers and American civilians can, and will, make short work of this war.

While most of us here have yet to see actual combat, still, the fact that we are on constant alert duty will assure you that come who may (be he German or Jap) we have a very efficient "reception committee" ready and willing to welcome them in the manner which they so justly deserve.

If you continue to keep 'em smiling, we'll do our part to keep 'em flying, rolling, sailing, and fighting.

Hoping to hear from any or all of you again, I remain,

Very truly yours,

Woodmen of the World Meet at Grantsville

A special meeting was held at Grantsville of Woodmen of the World Camp No. 41, last Wednesday night, for all camps in Western Maryland district, including Allegany and Garrett counties. This meeting took the place of the annual field day meet, usually held in September, and was attended by approximately 80 camp members and friends.

The following camps were represented: Cumberland Camp No. 6, and their Degree team; Bittinger Camp No. 68; McHenry Camp, No. 49; Friendsville Camp, No. 45; and Crellin Camp No. 11. Council Commander Ralph Glotfelty introduced State Manager H. H. Gamer, Clarksburg, W. Va., who addressed the meeting and conducted the obligation of new members, which was put on by the Cumberland Degree team for the following members: Grantsville camp, William Houck and Wilbert McKenzie; McHenry camp, Charles Bowman and Merrill Wilburn.

The principal speaker was the Hon. Sterling C. Holston, assistant Field manager, Omaha, Neb. His subject was "Fraternalism." Talks were also given by Head Council Commander, S. S. Donlan and Sovereign George Parker, Cumberland, Camp 6; Deputy Spencer Graham, Crellin, Camp 11; Rev. C. W. Fraker, McHenry, Camp 49; Sovereign Robert Murphy, Friendsville, Camp 45; Soverign R. L. Buckel, Bittinger Camp 68, and P. F. C. Guinn Broadwater, Camp Funston, Kansas.

At the conclusion of the meeting a buffet lunch was served by a special committee.

MARRIED

DARBY—COUCH—Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Couch, Gainesville, Fla., announce the marriage of their daughter, Dorothy Ruth, to John Dade Darby, son of Mrs. John Dade Darby, and the late Dr. J. D. Darby, of Oakland. The ceremony was performed on Sunday, September 20, at Starke, Florida.

Mrs. Darby was reared and educated in Gainesville. Mr. Darby attended the University of Virginia and George Washington University. He is a flight instructor at Stengel Flying School, Gainesville. Mr. and Mrs. Darby are now residing at 543 North Ninth street, Gainesville.

CUSTER—MARTIN—Miss Martha Marie Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Martin, Terra Alta, formerly of near Oakland, became the bride of Mr. Floyd Owen Custer, son of Mrs. Milton Riley, Oakland, on Friday evening, October 9, at 8:30 o'clock.

The ceremony took place at the Mountain Lake Park Methodist parsonage by the Rev. Garrett Evans, pastor at the Park.

Miss Lucile Bolyard, a friend of the bride, was maid of honor and William Truban, was best man. Mothers of both the bride and groom were present at the wedding.

The bride was gowned in a brown crepe dress trimmed in gold, with accessories to match and had a shoulder corsage of yellow roses and babys-breath.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Riley entertained the couple at which time there was a miscellaneous shower when a large number of beautiful and useful gifts were received by the young couple.

METZLER-BENNETT—Miss Elsie Lorraine Bennett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bennett, Cumberland, became the bride of Isaac Metzler, Jr., son of Rev. and Mrs. Isaac K. Metzler, Accident, on Saturday afternoon, October 17, at 1 o'clock, in the Pinto Mennonite church. The father of the bridegroom officiated with Rev. Abram Metzler, Scottdale, Pa., uncle of the bridegroom, and Rev. C. M. Helmick, pastor of the church, assisting.

Mrs. Theresa Shank, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and Miss Thelma Rembold, Springs, Pa., was maid of honor. Wilbur Metzler, Accident, was his brother's best man.

The church was decorated with autumn flowers and leaves against a background of palms and tiered candles.

The bride wore a gown of white satin, cut with fitted bodice made with a sweetheart neckline, long fitted sleeves tapering to a lilypoint at the wrist and joining the full gathered skirt in a point. She carried a white Bible, a gift of the bridegroom, with a marker of white roses and a shower of lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Metzler attended Fort Hill high school, Cumberland, and was graduated from the Eastern Mennonite school, Harrisburg, Va., in 1939. She is a registered nurse of Memorial hospital School of Nursing and is assigned for duty on the medical and surgical floor of the hospital. Mr. Metzler attended Grantsville High school and the Eastern Mennonite school. He is employed by the Allied Van Lines, Cumberland.

STEPS TOWARD SOLUTION OF THE ALCOHOL PROBLEM

LESSON TEXT—Ecclesiastes 10:17; Amos 5:21-24; Romans 14:19-21 II Corinthians 6:17; I Peter 4:1-5.

GOLDEN TEXT—Let judgment run down as waters, and righteousness as a mighty stream.—Amos 5:24.

Let's do something about it! That is the right word regarding the liquor problem now. The time is past for theorizing or deploring—we need action. The liquor interests have redoubled their efforts of late because they fear the aroused public opinion of decent Americans. Why do not America's 65,000,000 church members say the word now, and curb this awful thing which is threatening to destroy us?

I. Right-Minded Rulers (Eccles. 10:17).

National leaders should set the example for the people—an example of sobriety, of clear-headed thought and full devotion to the cause of our country. Are they doing it? We quote: "Washington is the wettest spot in the nation. The per capita consumption of alcohol in the District of Columbia is almost twice that of the wettest state in the Union. In 1940, 4.26 gallons were consumed for every man, woman and child. Nevada, the wettest of all our states, consumed 2.65 gallons per person. There at Washington where they need the clearest heads, the steadiest nerves, and the highest morals, they are drinking the most booze" (Dr. I. M. Hargett). What about 1942? Those who have been able to observe, indicate that conditions are probably worse now!

The secretary of war and the secretary of the navy have insisted on the desirability of the sale of beer in service canteens. No wonder the Brewers' Digest of May, 1941, gloated: "One of the finest things that could have happened was the insistence by high ranking officers to make beer available in army camps . . . Here is a chance for the brewers to cultivate a taste for beer in millions of young men."

America had better wake up!

II. Right-Spirited People (Amos 5:21-24).

God has no pleasure in the religious observances and the pious words of a people who profess to worship, but who come with unrepentant hearts and unclean hands.

Can God bless the man (or his money) who profits either directly or indirectly from the sale of intoxicants? Amos has the answer. Let us heed his plea that righteousness should run through our national, as well as our personal lives, "as a mighty stream."

III. Right - Living Christians (Rom. 14:19-21; II Cor. 6:17; I Pet. 4:1-5).

We have already suggested that there are 65,060,000 church members in America. If they were all right-living Christians there can be little question that they would long since have eliminated the liquor business, for it is certainly most unchristian. Apparently they are either not real Christians, or they are asleep to their responsibility. Our Scriptures in this section tell us that in a true Christian life there is

1. No offense (Rom. 14:19-21). The question here is that of eating meat offered to idols, which does not concern us; but the great Christian principle here stated is of the highest importance and bears directly on our daily life.

None of us lives to himself (Rom. 14:7). Everything we do counts either for or against Christ. Such an ordinary (we regret) thing as staying away from church service speaks to the world and especially to our neighbors of our loss of interest and respect for the worship of God. Apply that principle to the use of any alcoholic beverage, and every Christian must be a total abstainer.

2. No Compromise (II. Cor. 6:17). We have come to the unscriptural and deeply dangerous viewpoint that if a Christian wants to compromise a bit with the world, the flesh and the devil, that's his "business." God does not think so. He says: "Come out from among them, and be ye separate." The weakness of the church on this matter of liquor is that too many of the 65,000,000 are guilty of the sin (and that's what it is!) of compromise.

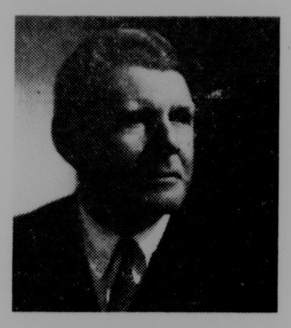
3. No Worldliness (I Pet. 4:1-5). Here again the assumption of many is that there are two groups in the church—worldly Christians and spiritually minded ones, and that each is as good as the other. Both classes are there, no doubt about that, but God never has and never will countenance worldliness on the part of His people.

Essentially, there are just two opposing principles in this world—self-will and God's will. We are either controlled by the flesh or by the Spirit of God. Peter makes it clear that the one who claims to belong to Christ should no longer be controlled by self-will, but by God's will. Are we ready, fellow Christians, to yield to Him?

WPB slashed farm machine output to 20 percent of normal with most work being shifted to small plants.

Alf Landon charged the New Deal was treating the war "as a glorified WPA project."

E. BROOKE LEE



THE DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS FROM THE 6TH MARYLAND DISTRICT, HAS A RECORD OF GOVERNMENTAL, MILITARY AND POLITICAL EFFECTIVENESS SUCH AS IS NEEDED TODAY

THE RECORD, EXPERIENCE AND QUALIFICATIONS OF THE DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS IN WESTERN MARYLAND ARE HEREWITH SUMMARIZED

HIS PERSONAL RECORD

Born 50 years ago tomorrow, October 23, in Montgomery County, Maryland.

Son of former United States Senator Blair Lee, who was born in Silver Spring 85 years ago, and a great nephew of Montgomery Blair, Postmaster General in Lincoln's Cabinet who also lived at Silver Spring. Direct descendant of Richard Henry Lee of Virginia, a signer of the Declaration of Independence.

Attended Princeton University and graduated from George Washington University Law School with L.L.B.

Private, corporal, sergeant, lieutenant and captain in the 1st Maryland Infantry, and served in this regiment on the Mexican Border in 1916.

Captain of Company K, 115th Infantry, 29th Division, A. E. F., during the first World War. The Companies of this regiment, made up largely of men from Western Maryland, were A Company from Frederick, B Company from Hagerstown, G Company from Cumberland and K Company from Silver Spring. Brooke Lee went overseas with this infantry regiment in which approximately 600 other men from Western Maryland served.

Promoted to Major of the 2nd Battalion of the 115th Infantry in France before the Armistice in 1918.

Awarded the American Distinguished Service Cross for valor in action overseas. Twice decorated with the French Croix de Guerre with the Silver Star of the Infantry Divisional Citation. Awarded the Belgian Order of Leopold. Received a 29th Division A. E. F. citation. For citations see paragraphs below.

Elected State Comptroller of Maryland on the State-wide ticket in 1919.

Served as Secretary of State under Governor Ritchie from 1923 to 1925.

In 1927 elected to Maryland House of Delegates from Montgomery County and elected and re-elected Speaker of the House of Delegates by that body. Served as Speaker for three sessions and again served as a member of the House of Delegates in the 1941 session.

Served as a non-paid associate member of the Maryland State Roads Commission from May 4, 1931 to May 18, 1934. The late Republican Governor put a $5,000 a year salary in the State Budget for Associate members of the State Roads Commission in 1935.

Served as a member of the Board of Regents of the University of Maryland.

Served as Chairman of the Maryland State War Memorial Commission during the period of the construction of the War Memorial Building in Baltimore. These last two places were also unpaid.

Is now a Lieutenant Colonel in the Maryland State Guard, and has been most active in organizing the Maryland Minute Men.

WHY E. BROOKE LEE SHOULD BE ELECTED TO CONGRESS

Unity, cooperation, determination and courage are needed in the Congress to win this war and to secure the peace after the war is won. For the next two years Franklin D. Roosevelt will be the President of the United States and the Commander in Chief of the Army and Navy. Brooke Lee is pledged to support President Roosevelt's war policies, which call for a complete victory for the United Nations. In Congress he will support all measures to that end. To win the war is to preserve all that is American.

Brooke Lee, like his forbears and as his sons offer today, fought for the American system of government. He can be counted on to continue to fight for the American way of life.

He learned from experience in 1918 what war was and knows that in all our wars it has been necessary to vest emergency war powers in the President of the United States, and that this is true today. He realizes that even during the war our form of government and our individual rights should be preserved so far as possible in the winning of the war, and that when the war is won we are entitled to return to the American system of government and way of life as they existed when America was attacked at Pearl Harbor.

No man in Western Maryland is better qualified than E. Brooke Lee by legislative, public and military experience to represent this District in Congress during the present emergency, nor is there any man more anxious than he for a complete and speedy victory. Brooke Lee's sons are where your sons or brothers are or are going. One of his sons is now in the Infantry, one in the Navy and his daughter recently married a Lieutenant of Infantry.

Brooke Lee's experience and distinguished record in the last War, his legislative and other governmental experience since that War, and his ability and rugged determination splendidly equip him to go to Congress. His election will assure this District of a strong and highly competent Representative during what is the most critical period of our history.

FURTHER INSIGHT INTO THE RECORD AND EXPERIENCE OF BROOKE LEE

The population of Montgomery County has increased from 34,921 in 1920, to 49,206 in 1930, to 83,912 in 1940 and to over 100,000 in 1942. Since 1919 the Democrats of Montgomery County have always been the elected legislative representatives of Montgomery County at Annapolis, and for all but four years of that twenty-three year period a majority of the Democrats have been elected to the Board of County Commissioners. Since 1919 Brooke Lee has been generally regarded as one of the outstanding leaders of the Democratic party in Montgomery County. His name has appeared on the ballot in Montgomery County 7 times in and since 1919, and the Montgomery County voters have always given him a majority or he has been without opposition. Under these succeeding Democratic County administrations Montgomery County has developed one of the really great public school systems of America, an outstandingly good police system, system of public highways, roads and streets, an adequate system of modern public buildings located in Rockville, Bethesda and Silver Spring, and the only water and sewer service on any side of Washington City which can now take care of 100% more people. Public welfare, public health, public parks and all other local services of modern county and metropolitan district government are enjoyed by the citizens of Montgomery County at a reasonable and comparatively low tax rate.

Montgomery County is now on a strictly pay-as-you-go-basis and the present Democratic Board of County Commissioners have paid off $767,000 worth of old County bonds during the past three years, during which same three year period they have built $1,125,000 worth of new schools and roads out of current revenue and without issuing any new bonds.

During this three year period the taxable basis of Montgomery County has increased by $45,000,000. All of this means that Montgomery County enjoys one of the most adequate and modern governments, that the future of the County has been wisely foreseen, adequately though conservatively provided for, and its financial position and integrity well protected.

This is the record of the 23 year period that Brooke Lee has been one of the Democratic leaders in Montgomery County.

Beginning in 1927 for three sessions Brooke Lee was Speaker of the House of Delegates. Montgomery County Legislation enacted in 1927 was the basis of the plan for making the government of Montgomery County adequate to meet the needs of the county's fast growing population.

For the year 1928-1929 the Montgomery County Civic Federation, consisting of duly elected delegates from over 50 citizens' associations, chambers of commerce, the County Farm Bureau and other community organizations, voted Major E. Brooke Lee, then Speaker of the Maryland House of Delegates, the silver cup donated by the Washington Evening Star and voted annually to "the committee or delegate performing the most outstanding public service on behalf of Montgomery County, Maryland, each year."

Also during Brooke Lee's term as Speaker the same Civic Federation voted the same cup with the same award to the members of the Montgomery County Civic Federation's Committee on Legislation and Legal Action of which Committee Brooke Lee was a member.

UNDER FIRE A MAN IS REVEALED

The following is the citation with which the United States Government awarded Brooke Lee the Distinguished Service Cross for leading a raid on the enemy's lines in France on August 31, 1918.

> "For extraordinary heroism in command of a raiding party against the enemy trenches near Bolschwiller, on the morning of August 31, 1918, leading the advance through the enemy wire, being the last to quit the enemy trenches, personally assisting in carrying the wounded back through the enemy counter barrage, and remaining all day of August 31st in a shell hole in No Man's Land in order to assist all wounded to return to our line."

The following is the citation with which the government of the Republic of France awarded Brooke Lee the Croix de Guerre with the silver star of the Infantry Divisional citation on the occasion of the attack against K Company of the 115th Infantry from Montgomery County, which was the first attack by the enemy against any unit of the 29th Division of the A. E. F.

> "On July 31, 1918, during an enemy raid upon a post of his company sector, showed a remarkable calmness, coolness and courage, organizing the defense of the threatened point, taking himself a rifle and thus setting his men the finest example."

The following is a letter which the late Major General Charles G. Morton of the regular United States Army wrote at a time that Brooke Lee was accepting continued service in the Officers' Reserve Corps of the United States Army after the first World War:

"October 3, 1921

> I am informed that Mr. E. Brooke Lee, formerly Major, 115th Infantry, is under consideration for assignment to the 80th Division Organized Reserves.
> Major Lee is very well known to me, as he served under me in the 29th Division during the World War throughout the existence of that division. Major Lee was one of the officers who especially distinguished himself for courage and other soldierly qualities. Had the war lasted a short time longer, I would have undoubtedly recommended him for command of a regiment. He has all the other qualities necessary for an officer of unusual efficiency, and I unhesitatingly recommend him as Colonel of a regiment in the Organized Reserves or as an officer on the staff of the Division Commander. Major Lee's record is conspicuously fine.
> CHARLES G. MORTON
> Major General, U. S. A."

Brigadier General H. H. Bandholtz, commanding the 58th Infantry Brigade of the 29th Division, which included the 115th Maryland Infantry and the 116th Virginia Infantry, wrote as follows:

"October 4, 1921

> My dear Major Lee:
> Information having reached me that the Eightieth Division, O. R. C. is about to be organized in the states from which my old fifty-eighth Infantry Brigade was drawn, Maryland, Virginia and the District of Columbia, I feel that it would not be out of place for me to suggest the advisability and appropriateness of your endeavoring to secure an assignment to that Division.
> It is a simple statement of facts that in the front line operations of the Fifty-eighth Infantry Brigade, while under my command, I almost invariably selected you to attend to the details of organization, as well as to command in the execution of, all of our more hazardous undertakings and that you always acquitted yourself with great credit and to my satisfaction. This is attested by my reports and by my having recommended you for the Distinguished Service Cross.
>
> I cannot recollect in my experience ever having had under me an officer with natural military qualifications superior to those you possess. I shall be very glad, if you so desire, to put my recommendations in more concrete form. You are, however, authorized to use the foregoing for such purpose.
>
> Very sincerely yours,
>
> H. H. BANDHOLTZ,
> Brigadier General, U. S. Army,
> Formerly Commanding 58th
> Infantry Brigade"

Compare the records of the candidates and vote for the man who will and can represent you most courageously and effectively in the House of Representatives of the United States in the dangerous years ahead.

YOU FACE

as do all other Americans the most complete danger that the people of our free country have ever encountered. Everything that all Americans are, hope to be or have is in very real jeopardy as our country enters the year 1943. The people of Western Maryland and the people of the Nation never needed experienced and strong congressional representation more than today. In Brooke Lee the Democratic Party offers such a candidate. Yours is the decision.

FOR TREASURER OF GARRETT COUNTY

I was born and reared on a farm in District No. 5, Garrett County, where I lived until twenty-five years ago when I moved to Gortner, which is between Red House and Oakland, where I have owned and operated a general store and poultry farm until last year when I sold out.

With the experience I have had I feel I am qualified to perform the duties of Treasurer to the satisfaction of all taxpayers of the county.

Earnestly soliciting the support and influence of all the voters of the county I am,

Very sincerely yours,

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Hollis, Terra Alta, and Mrs. Sam Barkman were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey Ashby, Sr., on Sunday. Mrs. Ashby has been ill for some time and Mr. Ashby is suffering from rheumatism, but his mind is as young as ever and his reminiscences of Garrett county when he was a youth are very interesting.

L. C. Nine and Thomas Graham have been having nocturnal visitors to their cornfields recently. The visitors just haul out shocks, corn and all. There has been quite a lot of this marauding in this community and someone will be greatly surprised at a time when they think they are safe. There has also been some cattle killed and potato fields visited, and it is not going to last much longer. The farmers are getting wise.

In Soliciting Your Support At The Coming Election I Stand On My Previous Record As Sheriff of Garrett County.

- Efficiency in the Conduct of the Office
- FAIRNESS TO ALL

MATTHEWS

for

State's Attorney

To the Voters of Garrett County:

At the request and solicitation of my many friends throughout the county I permitted my name to be placed upon the ballot as a candidate for State's Attorney and now I ask your support at the coming election.

Because of a recent illness I was obliged to undergo an operation which has kept me from my office for several weeks and I have not had the opportunity of calling upon the voters personally. I expect, however, to be back in my office in a very few days and still hope to see a great many of the voters before November 3rd.

I do not think it necessary to state my qualifications for the office as I have lived in Garrett County all my life, have practiced my profession for more than thirty-five years, and in 1930 I was appointed State's Attorney by the Judges of our Court to fill the unexpired term of the late Julius C. Renninger.

It is my sincere conviction that the office of State's Attorney is one of very great importance and should have the careful consideration of the voters of this county. If I am successful in the election I want to assure you that close attention will be given to the office and that it will be conducted for the benefit of all our citizens.

In seeking public office I have never deemed it wise to make election promises, but there are several matters which I consider of importance that I want to pledge myself to the people of this county if I am elected State's Attorney, among which are the following:

1—A fair, honest and efficient administration of the office.

2—Prompt, thorough and unbiased investigation of law violations.

3—Prompt attention will be given to the question of flagrant law violations and no special favors will be shown to any class or group of law violators.

4—One term only. While I have never objected to two consecutive terms I feel that a longer tenure of this office should be strenuously opposed.

Upon my long record as a practicing attorney in our county, and with the pledge of fairness to all in the enforcement of the law, I offer myself as your candidate for State's Attorney and shall appreciate your vote and interest in my behalf.

Respectfully yours,

ASA T. MATTHEWS

THIS CAR IN YOUR WARTIME SERVICE

If you Really Need a Car, you can—and should—get a New One NOW!

This car wants a wartime job!

It's ready and eager to get out helping someone do his part in the war effort—you'll be doing your country a patriotic service if you'll put it to work at a really needful job, instead of letting it stand idly by.

This is one of many brand-new, unused, 1942 models built before automobile production ceased—models that are safer, more dependable and, in many cases, more economical to run than older cars which have passed their prime.

That is why present car-buying regulations take into consideration the age and condition of your present car as well as the use you make of a car.

Thus if you are included in any of the seven major classifications of eligible buyers, chances are that you not only can but should replace your present car with a new one now.

You will ride on tires with their whole life before them. In this car, you'll travel behind a Buick FIREBALL valve-in-head straight-eight engine that makes the most of every single drop of fuel and oil.

Even the wheels in this Buick help get maximum mileage from tires, because the whole car is built to serve you through the duration.

The panel lists the seven major classifications of car-owners who are eligible to buy new cars now. If you are included—or think you might be—see your Buick dealer now about giving one of these eager beauties a wartime job to do.

Buick factories have been all-out on war production for months—but Buick dealers can make immediate deliveries from large and complete stocks.

IF YOU ARE INCLUDED IN THIS LIST, YOU'RE ELIGIBLE TO BUY

There are seven major classifications for persons eligible to buy new cars under basic rationing rules.

These include: (1) persons engaged in the production of war materials or the prosecution of the war, directly or indirectly; (2) physicians, nurses, clergymen, veterinarians; (3) car-owners engaged in public service, such as fire departments, public health, highway maintenance, etc.; (4) owners of taxicabs and other means of transportation; (5) farmers; (6) newspaper wholesalers; and (7) traveling salesmen in certain fields.

Your Buick dealer will be very glad to help you determine whether you come under the rules of eligibility. He will also be glad to help you fill out the proper applications.

Don't guess about your eligibility — see your Buick dealer now and make sure.

Home Should Be Made Safe From Accidents

House Cleaning Time Is Good Time to Remove Any Hazards That Are Found

The housecleaning season which is now at hand is an excellent time to inspect your home and remove any accident hazards that you may find. There is real need for care. Accidents that occur in their homes kill thousands of Americans every year, and many more thousands receive injuries that disable them either temporarily or permanently. Since many of these accidents could be avoided, Dr. R. H. Riley, Director of the State Department of Health, urges householders in Maryland to make their houses safe for those who dwell in them.

"Make your home as safe as possible when you put it in order for the winter," Dr. Riley advises. "Although some accidents cannot be prevented, remember that precautions against the various types of accidents that occur at home may save you or some member of your family from serious illness, permanent injury or untimely death.

"Some ways to make home a safer place for everybody, from the youngest to the oldest, are suggested:

Have a satisfactory ladder and use it. Never stand on chairs to reach high places.

Be sure that your cellar steps are in good repair and are well lighted by day and by night.

Don't polish floors until they are a slippery menace to those who walk on them. See that small scatter rugs cannot slide.

Keep matches, knives and sharp scissors out of the children's reach.

Take no medicine that your doctor has not prescribed for you. Never take medicine in the dark or from an unlabelled bottle.

Mark the poisons in your medicine chest unmistakably and keep them where the children cannot reach them. Don't keep insecticides, furniture polish, lye or other poisons in the cupboard with groceries. They might accidentally get into food.

Be sure that all electrical wiring is properly installed. Don't attempt to be your own electrician unless you are an expert.

Never touch electrical appliances when your hands are wet. You would get a shock.

Don't leave greasy rags in unventilated places. Spontaneous combustion might start a fire.

Having taken these precautions and any others that your particular home or family may require, keep your mind on what you are doing, watch your step and be careful."

LAW OFFICES JONES & JONES

John W. McRobie and others, Plaintiffs,
vs.
John C. McRobie and Anita McRobie, his wife; John Barnard, Hallie Barnard and Alfred Barnard, Defendants.
No. 3672 Equity. In the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to procure the passage of a decree for the sale of the real estate of Stella V. McRobie, late of Garrett County, Maryland, deceased, situate in Garrett County, Maryland, and for the distribution of the proceeds therefrom.

The bill states:

That Stella V. McRobie, late of Garrett County, Maryland, was in her lifetime and at the time of her death seized and possessed of a parcel of land, situate in Election District No. 1 of Garrett County, Maryland, containing 39½ acres, and being the same which was conveyed to her by deed from Thomas A. McRobie, widower, dated July 22, 1921, and recorded in Liber E. Z. T., No. 80, folio 322, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, a certified copy of which deed has been filed as "Exhibit No. 1"; that the said Stella V. McRobie, while seized and possessed of the aforesaid real estate departed this life, intestate, at her home in Garrett County, Maryland, on the 23rd day of January, 1942, leaving surviving her as next of kin and heirs at law, to whom said land descended, her husband, John W. McRobie and the following children and grandchildren, to-wit:

David McRobie, a son, who intermarried with Mary McRobie; Carroll F. McRobie, a son, who intermarried with Nellie McRobie; Guy Thomas McRobie, a son, who intermarried with Catherine McRobie; John C. McRobie, a son, who intermarried with Anita McRobie; Virginia June McRobie Adkins, a daughter, who intermarried with Z. C. Adkins; Louise Lucie McRobie Beckman, a daughter, who intermarried with Ray E. Beckman; Beatrice L. McRobie Custer, a daughter, who intermarried with Ray Custer; and the following grandchildren, children of Mabel McRobie Barnard, a deceased daughter, who departed this life on May 13th, 1935: June Barnard Sharpless, a granddaughter, who intermarried with William L. Sharpless; Naomi Barnard Warnick, a granddaughter, who intermarried with Gilbert H. Warnick; Juanita Barnard Tichnell, a granddaughter, who intermarried with William A. Tichnell; Helen Barnard Hoopengardner, a granddaughter, who intermarried with Wilbur S. Hoopengardner; Hallie Barnard, granddaughter, and William E. Barnard; John Barnard; and Alfred Barnard, grandsons, the last four being unmarried; that all the plaintiffs and defendants are of full age with the exception of said Hallie Barnard, John Barnard and Alfred Barnard, who are minors under the age of 21 years; that the said real estate is not susceptible of partition in kind without material loss or injury to the parties entitled to interests therein, and it would be to the advantage of all the said parties to have said property sold and the proceeds derived therefrom divided among them according to their respective rights and interests; that the said John C. McRobie and Anita McRobie, his wife, are non-residents of Garrett County, and the State of Maryland, and their present place of residence is to the plaintiffs unknown; that Hallie Barnard now resides in Prince George's County, Maryland, and the said John Barnard and Alfred Barnard in Baltimore County, Maryland.

The bill then prays for a decree for the sale of said real estate and for the distribution of the proceeds derived therefrom and for general relief.

It is thereupon, this 15th day of October, 1942, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, in Equity, ordered that the plaintiffs by having a copy of this order inserted in some newspaper published in Garrett County, Maryland, once a week for four successive weeks before the 13th day of November, 1942, give notice to the said absent defendants, John C. McRobie and Anita McRobie, his wife, of the object and substance of said bill, warning them to be and appear in this Court in person or by solicitor, on or before the 28th day of November, 1942, to show cause, if any they have, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

Clerk of the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, Petitioner,
v.
74.34 ACRES OF LAND, MORE OR LESS, IN GARRETT COUNTY, MARYLAND, AND PAUL RICHARD LISTON, ET AL., Defendants.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES
FOR THE DISTRICT OF MARYLAND
CIVIL NO. 1643

NOTICE OF CONDEMNATION

I hereby give notice, pursuant to the order of the Honorable W. Calvin Chestnut, United States District Judge, entered in this proceeding on the 9th day of October, 1942, to the following defendants named in the petition for condemnation filed herein, to-wit: Paul Richard Liston, also known as Paul R. Liston; Emma Liston; Mary M. Speelman; Department of Revenue of the State of Maryland; the Register of Wills of Garrett County, Maryland; the County Commissioners of Garrett County; and the State of Maryland; to all non-residents and unknown defendants; and to any and all of the unknown owners; tenants; occupants; claimants; and other persons interested in the land and improvements proposed to be condemned in this proceeding; and any and all of the unknown heirs; spouses; aliences; devisees; claimants; executors; administrators; assigns; or persons claiming in the said land and improvements:

That the petition for condemnation of the United States of America was filed in the above-entitled cause in the United States District Court for the District of Maryland on the 6th day of July, 1942; by Wilmer H. Driver, Special Assistant to the Attorney General; and Joseph McGovern, Jr., Special Attorney, Department of Justice; and that said condemnation proceedings is now pending.

I further give notice to all such parties as may be interested in the land and improvements sought to be condemned therein, or any part thereof, to come forward on or before the 16th day of November, 1942, and file their answer, if they have to the proposed condemnation of said land in fee simple, subject to an easement in the public over the road as now located over this parcel, and also subject to that certain private telephone line as now located over and across the hereinafter described parcel of land, together with the buildings, structures, and improvements thereon and appurtenances thereto; and to set forth their several ownerships, claims, interests, titles, estates, rights, or liens, if any, and that they will be adjudicated and forever determined by these proceedings and that the final award for said lands, when paid into the Registry of this Court, will be disposed of as the Court may direct in these proceedings.

The said petition for condemnation recites that pursuant to certain Acts of Congress, the War Deparement is authorized to acquire on behalf of the United States the land hereinafter described for a public purpose, to-wit: for the construction of the Youghiogheny River Reservoir Project and for other public uses. That money appropriated for the purposes and under the terms of such Acts of Congress has been allocated to the War Department for the acquisition of said land; that under and by virtue of the provisions of the Act of Congress approved August 1, 1888 (Chapter 728, Sec. 1, 25 Stat. 357, Title 40, Sec. 257 to 258 inclusive, U. S. C. A.); the Act of Congress dated April 24, 1888 (Chapter 194, 25 Stat. 94); the Act of Congress dated July 18, 1918 (Chapter 155, Sec. 5, 40 Stat. 911); the Act of Congress approved June 22, 1936 (49 Stat. 1570), as amended by an Act of Congress approved June 28, 1938 (Chapter 795, Section 1, 52 Stat. 1215, Title 33, U. S. C. A. Sec. 701c-1); and all other acts or parts of acts supplementary to or mandatory of the said acts and the War Department has been designated as the acquiring authority for this purpose on behalf of the United States, and that pursuant to law has ascertained that the hereinafter described land is necessary for the public purpose, as aforesaid; that title to the said land should be acquired by condemnation under judicial process, and it has accordingly applied to the Attorney General of the United States to cause such proceedings to be commenced. That the land ascertained and selected for acquisition for the purpose aforesaid is situate in Garrett County, State of Maryland, more specifically described as follows:

All that certain parcel of land situate in No. 2 District, County of Garrett, State of Maryland, bounded and described as follows:

BEGINNING at a point on the Pennsylvania-Maryland State Line, on line of other land of Paul R. Liston (X 1,328,232.1; Y 696,391.7—Maryland State System of Coordinates, Grid North 1 degree 30 minutes west of True North); thence leaving the Pennsylvania-Maryland State Line, through land of Paul Richard Liston, of which this parcel is a part, by 3 lines; S. 25 degrees 59 minutes W., 749.4 feet; S. 46 degrees 53 minutes W., 643.6 feet and S. 66 degrees 37 minutes E., 295.7 feet to a point on line of land of Ada M. Garletts; thence by land of Ada M. Garletts, S. 10 degrees 49 minutes W., 606.9 feet, crossing a public earth road, to an Ash, corner to land of C. A. Wagner, et ux; thence by land of C. A. Wagner et ux., by 2 lines; S. 12 degrees 07 minutes W., 339.4 feet, crossing a Mill Race, to a Maple and S. 12 degrees 07 minutes W., 390 feet, more or less, crossing Mill Run, to a point on the left bank thereof, said point also being on the Youghiogheny River; thence down the Youghiogheny River, a distance of 4840 feet, more or less, passing the mouth of Mill Run and also the mouth of a Mill Race, to a point, corner to other land of Paul R. Liston, said corner also being on the Pennsylvania-Maryland State Line; thence leaving the Youghiogheny River and following the Pennsylvania-Maryland State Line, by other land of Paul R. Liston, by 2 lines; S. 88 degrees 48 minutes E., 60 feet, more or less, crossing a public earth road to a state line marker and S. 88 degrees 48 minutes E., 1159.1 feet to the place of beginning, containing 74.34 acres, more or less.

Although the persons and corporations hereinabove-named as owners and claimants of said parcels of land respectively are all the persons interested in the same so far as the petitioner has been able to ascertain, there may be other interested persons who are unknown to the petitioner or whose addresses are unknown, and this notice by publication is given to the end that the rights, and claims of all such parties will be adjudicated and forever determined by these proceedings and that judgment be given to petitioner against the above described land and the entire and unincumbered fee, subject to an easement in the public over the road as now located over this parcel, and also subject to that certain private telephone line as now located over and across the hereinafter described parcel of land, together with the buildings, structures, and improvements thereon and appurtenances thereto, to the sole use of the United States upon payment of just compensation therefor into the Registry of the Court, and that this cause be held open for such other and further orders, judgments, and decrees as may be necessary in the premises.

Dated: October 10th, 1942.

PROCLAMATION OF THE GOVERNOR OF MARYLAND DIRECTING THE PUBLICATION OF BILLS PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE.

WHEREAS, at the January session of the General Assembly of Maryland, held in the year 1941, the following Acts were passed, providing for the submission of amendments to the Constitution of the State to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection, namely:

CHAPTER 337

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Amendments to the Constitution", relating to the advertisement or publication of amendments to the Constitution, and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Amendments to the Constitution", the same, if adopted by the legally qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

The General Assembly may propose Amendments to this Constitution; provided that each Amendment shall be embraced in a separate Bill, embodying the Article or Section, as the same will stand when amended and passed by three-fifths of all the members elected to each of the two Houses, by yeas and nays, to be entered on the Journals with the proposed Amendment. The Bill or Bills proposing amendment or amendments shall be published by order of the Governor, in at least two newspapers, in each County, where so many may be published, and where not more than one may be published, then in that newspaper, and in three newspapers published in the City of Baltimore, once a week for three weeks immediately preceding the next ensuing general election, at which the proposed amendment or amendments shall be submitted, in a form to be prescribed by the General Assembly, to the qualified voters of the State for their approval or rejection. Provided, however, the General Assembly may provide for publishing any proposed amendment or amendments in pamphlet form, and for making said pamphlets available to the registered voters of the State in addition to publication in the newspapers. The votes cast for and against said proposed amendmeat or amendments, severally, shall be returned to the Governor, in the manner prescribed in other cases, and if it shall appear to the Governor that a majority of the votes cast at said election on said amendment or amendments, severally, were cast in favor thereof, the Governor shall by his proclamation declare the said amendment or amendments having received said majority of votes, to have been adopted by the people of Maryland as part of the Constitution thereof, and thenceforth said amendment or amendments shall be part of the said Constitution. When two or more amendments shall be submitted in manner aforesaid, to the voters of this State at the same election, they shall be so submitted as that each amendment shall be voted on separately.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That said aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall, at the next general election for members of the General Assembly of Maryland in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State, for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment as directed by said Article 14 of the Constitution.

CHAPTER 494

AN ACT to amend Section 21 of Article 4, title "Judiciary Department", sub-title, "Part III—Circuit Courts", of the Constitution of this State, providing for the residential qualification and method of selection of Associate Judges of the Third Judicial Circuit and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of this State for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That (three-fifths of all members elected to each of the two houses concurring) the following section be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 21 of Article 4, of the Constitution of Maryland, title "Judiciary Department", sub-title "Part III—Circuit Courts", the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters thereof as herein provided to become Section 21 of Article 4 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

21. In the several circuits, excepting the eighth, the second, the third, the sixth and the seventh there shall be a chief judge and two associate judges, to be styled judges of the Circuit Court, to be selected or appointed as herein provided for the second circuit, the third circuit, the sixth circuit and the seventh circuit, there shall be a chief judge and three associate judges to be styled judges of the Circuit Court, to be elected or appointed as herein provided. And in each of said counties, and in the city of the said circuits, except the third, sixth and seventh circuits, shall, at the time of their election or appointment or during the terms for which they have been elected or appointed, reside in the same county in which the persons shall be candidates for associate judge in the same county in any of the circuits, except the third, sixth and seventh circuits, that one only in said county shall be declared elected who has the highest number of votes in the circuit for associate judge in any of the circuits, except the third, sixth and seventh circuits, residing in the same county shall have an equal number of votes greater than any other candidate for associate judge in the circuit, it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for one associate judge; but the person residing in any other county of the circuit and who has the highest number of votes shall be declared elected. The said judges shall hold only two such terms are held in the Circuit Court in each of the counties composing their respective circuits, at such times as are now or may hereafter be prescribed to which jurors shall be summoned; and in those counties where only two such terms are held, two other and intermediate terms, to which jurors shall not be summoned; they may alter or fix the times for holding any or all terms, until otherwise prescribed, and shall adopt rules to the end that all business not requiring the interposition of the jury shall be, as far as practicable, disposed of at such intermediate terms. One judge in each of the above circuits, including the second, the third, sixth and seventh circuits, shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of any business, and the said judges or any of them may hold special terms of their courts, whenever in their discretion the business of the several counties renders such terms necessary.

In the Third Circuit, two of said Associate Judges shall at all times be bona fide residents of Baltimore County and one of said Associate Judges or the Chief Judge be a bona fide resident of Harford County, and said Judges shall have been such residents six months prior to their appointment or election.

The additional associate judge for the second circuit herein provided for shall be a resident of Cecil County, shall be appointed by the Governor after the expiration of six (6) months after the adoption of this amendment and shall serve until the first general election for members of the General Assembly that shall be held in said circuit subsequent to the adoption of this amendment, at which election his successor shall be elected by the qualified voters of Caroline, Cecil, Kent, Queen Anne's and Talbot Counties, constituting the second circuit. The judge so appointed shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit, and the judge so elected shall be subject to the same constitutional provision, hold his office for the same term of years, receive the same compensation, and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit.

The additional judge for the sixth circuit herein provided for and elected by the qualified voters of Frederick and Montgomery Counties at the 1938 election in accordance with the terms of the Constitutional Amendment heretofore submitted and adopted shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the sixth circuit and his successor shall be appointed and/or elected in accordance with the constitutional provisions relating to judges. The Chief Judge may be elected from either Frederick or Montgomery Counties, but when the Chief Judge is elected from Frederick County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said county and the two remaining associate judges shall be residents of Montgomery County and when the Chief Judge is elected from Montgomery County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said Montgomery County and the remaining two associate judges residents of Frederick County. In case any candidate or candidates for associate judge at any judicial election held in the third and sixth judicial circuits shall receive sufficient votes to cause such candidate or candidates to be declared elected, but the election of such candidate or candidates would cause more associate judges than herein permitted to reside in any county of said circuits, then and in that event only that candidate or those candidates, as the case may be, residing in said county in the order of the votes received shall be declared elected whose election would provide the permitted number of associate judges from said county and the candidate or candidates as the case may be, residing in the other county, and not similarly disqualified who shall have the next highest number of votes in said election shall be declared elected. If by reason of such a condition or by reason of an equal vote for two or more candidates a sufficient number of associate judges duly qualified as to residence as above set out should not be elected at any election in said third and sixth judicial circuits, then it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for such unfilled office or offices.

The additional associate judge for the seventh circuit herein provided for shall be appointed by the Governor immediately after the adoption of this amendment and shall serve until the first general election for members of the General Assembly that shall be held in said circuit, subsequent to the adoption of this amendment, at which election his successor shall be elected by the qualified voters of Prince George's, Charles, Calvert and St. Mary's Counties. No member of the General Assembly of 1939, otherwise qualified, shall be ineligible for appointment or election as such associate judge by reason of his membership in the General Assembly. The judge so appointed shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the seventh circuit, and the judge so elected and his successors shall, subject to the same constitutional provisions, hold office for the same term of years, receive the same compensation, and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the seventh circuit. No two of the associate judges for the seventh circuit shall at the time of their election or appointment or during the term for which they may have been elected or appointed reside in the same county, except in Prince George's County, in which county two of said associate judges for the said circuit shall reside at the time of their appointment or election and during the term for which they may have been appointed or elected unless the chief judge of said circuit shall already reside in said county, in which event only one of said associate judges shall reside in Prince George's County and Prince George's County shall at all times have two resident Judges and no more, such Judges to be either the Chief Judge of the Seventh Circuit and one associate Judge or two associate Judges of said Circuit. In case any candidate or candidates for associate judge at any judicial election held in the seventh judicial circuit shall receive sufficient votes to cause such candidate or candidates to be elected, but the election of such candidate or candidates would cause more associate judges than herein permitted to reside in any county of said circuit, then and in that event only that candidate or those candidates, as the case may be, residing in said county in the order of the votes received shall be declared elected whose election would provide the permitted number of associate judges from said county and the candidate or candidates, as the case may be, residing in some other county, and not similarly disqualified, who shall have the next highest number of votes in said election shall be declared elected. If by reason of such a condition or by reason of an equal vote for two or more candidates a sufficient number of associate judges duly qualified as to residence as above set out should not be elected at said election in said seventh judicial circuit, then it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for such unfilled office or offices.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State shall be, at the next general election to be held in this State in the year 1942, submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of this State, and at the said general election, the vote on the said proposed amendment shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment as directed by said Article 14 of the Constitution.

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 45 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", relating to the salary of Clerks of Courts and Registrars of Wills and providing for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the Two Houses concurring), That the following amendment be and it is hereby proposed to Section 45 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department" the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Section 45 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland:

45. The General Assembly shall provide a simple and uniform system of charges in the offices of Clerks of Courts and Registrars of Wills, in the Counties of this State and in the City of Baltimore, and for the collection thereof; provided, the amount of compensation to any of the said officers in the various Counties and in the City of Baltimore shall be such as may be prescribed by law.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing Section, hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State, shall, at the election to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of this State, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, upon each ballot there shall be printed the words: "For Constitutional Amendment" and "Against Constitutional Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against proposed amendment as directed by Article XIV of the Constitution and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article XIV.

(Approved: April 28, 1941.)

CHAPTER 695

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 15 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", regulating the period that General Assembly may continue its session and compensation of the members thereof, and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", sub-title "Part III—Circuit Courts", the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Section 15 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

15. The General Assembly may continue its session so long as in its judgment the public interest may require, for a period not longer than ninety days; and each member thereof shall receive a compensation of One Thousand Dollars ($1,000) per annum, payable quarterly, with a deduction of fifteen dollars per diem for each day of unexcused absence from any session; and he shall also receive such mileage as may be allowed by law, not exceeding twenty cents per mile; and the presiding officer of each House shall receive an additional compensation of Two hundred and fifty ($250) dollars per annum. When the General Assembly shall be convened by Proclamation of the Governor, the session shall not continue longer than thirty days, but no additional compensation other than mileage and other allowances provided by law shall be paid members of the General Assembly for Special Sessions.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That said aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall, at the next general election to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment as directed by said Article 14 of the Constitution.

CHAPTER 607

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland title "Legislative Department" by adding a new section to be known as Section 40B, providing for the taking of property by the State Roads Commission under certain circumstances; and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members elected to each of the two Houses concurring), That the following new Section be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Article III, title "Legislative Department" of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, the same to be inserted after Section 40A and to be numbered 40B, and if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, said section shall become a part of Article III of the Constitution of Maryland.

40B. The General Assembly shall enact no law authorizing private property to be taken for public use without just compensation, to be agreed upon between the parties or awarded by a jury, being first paid or tendered to the party entitled to such compensation, except that where such property in the judgment of the State Roads Commission is needed by the State for highway purposes, the General Assembly may provide that such property may be taken immediately upon payment therefor to the owner or owners thereof by said State Roads Commission, or into Court, such amount as said State Roads Commission shall estimate to be of the fair value of said property, provided such legislation also requires the payment of any further sum that may subsequently be awarded by a jury.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the foregoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland, shall, at the election to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to legal and qualified voters thereof for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of the directions contained in Article XIV of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "FOR CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT" and "AGAINST CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment as directed by Article XIV of the Constitution and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article XIV.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS . . . . .

The Elections

Washington, Oct. 17.

Not long ago, Mr. Harry Hopkins declared that in the coming elections, now hardly two weeks off, it is unimportant whether Democrats or Republicans are chosen for Congress so long as they are good men who want to win the war. Coming from Mr. Hopkins, who used to be our most bitter partisan, holding that no one should be elected to anything who was not one hundred per cent for the New Deal, this is a statement deserving more attention that it got.

* * *

One reason is that Mr. Hopkins' closeness to the President makes it reasonable to assume that he reflects, to a large degree, the latter's political views, though Mr. Roosevelt has said nothing personally along these lines. Aside from his announced support of Mr. Bennett for reelection, the President has remained studiously silent on the subject of Congress, that will probe, prod and constantly keep its finger on the weak spots; that will expose inefficiently and demand an end of the black lists and prejudices which keep out of the war effort men who clearly ought to be there. We have not had that sort of Congress, but we have had one which, without fear or favor, has done a fortunate thing. It will enable voters to register against the Presidential rubber stamps against both Democrats and Republicans who have been subservient to special considerations and insist upon greater competency upon the part of Executive. What the nation needs is a Congress that will uphold the President on every proposal for increasing our military might, but vigilantly press for a cessation of favoritism and New Deal politics, which have hamstrung the war effort. Congress, that will be unintimidated by Presidential patronage and pressure, that will make the President conform to its will when, without fear of the Presidential veto, it is convinced that the President is wrong. Such a Congress would be resented by the voters, as it was during the last war when made by President Wilson. And an appeal along the Hopkins' lines could be made with the better chance of success because it would be fair to Democratic candidates who follow the President as the titular party leader.

Yet, Mr. Hopkins is undoubtedly right when he says it makes no difference whether Republicans or Democrats are chosen so long as they are good men. One assumes that all considerations, including patriotism, are presided by Mr. Willkie, the Republican party has now shaken off its isolationist ties and is committed not only to the Roosevelt foreign policy but to post-war international cooperation, there seems no way by which the result could give aid or comfort to the enemy or seem a repudiation of the President.

No greater boon could come to the country now than a Congress that will uphold the President in every proposal for increasing our military might, but vigilantly press for a cessation of favoritism and New Deal politics, which have hamstrung the war effort. Congress, that will be unintimidated by Presidential patronage and pressure, that will make the President conform to its will when, without fear of the Presidential veto, it is convinced that the President is wrong. CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT
(Proposed by Chapter 494, Acts of 1941)

To amend Section 21 of Article 4, title "Judiciary Department", sub-title "Part III — Circuit Courts", of the Constitution of this State, providing for the residential qualification and method of selection of Associate Judges in the Third Judicial Circuit.

21. For each of the said Circuits, excepting the eighth, the second, the third, the sixth and the seventh, there shall be a chief judge and two associate judges, to be styled Judges of the Circuit Court, to be selected or appointed as herein provided, and for the second circuit, the third circuit, the sixth circuit, and the seventh circuit, there shall be a chief judge and three associate judges to be styled Judges of the Circuit Court, to be elected or appointed as herein provided. And no two of said associate judges, for any of the said circuits, except the third, sixth and seventh circuits shall, at the time of their election or appointment or during the term for which they may have been elected or appointed, reside in the same county. If two or more persons shall be candidates for associate judge in the same county in any of the circuits, except the third, sixth and seventh circuits, that one only in said county shall be declared elected who has the highest number of votes in the circuit. In case any two candidates for associate judge in any of the circuits, except the third, sixth and seventh circuits, residing in the same county shall have an equal number of votes greater than any other candidate for associate judge in the circuit, it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for one associate judge; but the person residing in any other county of the circuit and who has the highest number of votes shall be declared elected. The said judges shall hold not less than two terms of the Circuit Court in each of the counties composing their respective circuits, at such times as are now or may hereafter be prescribed to which jurors shall be summoned; and in those counties where only two such terms are held, two other and intermediate terms, to which jurors shall not be summoned; they may alter or fix the times for holding any or all terms, until otherwise prescribed, and shall adopt such rules as they shall deem necessary not requiring the impanelling of the jury shall be, as far as practicable, disposed of at such intermediate terms. One judge in each of the above circuits, including the second, the third, the sixth and seventh circuits, shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of any business, and the said judges or any of them may hold special terms of their courts, whenever in their discretion the business of the several counties renders such terms necessary.

In the Third Circuit, two of said Associate Judges shall at all times be bona fide residents of Baltimore County and one of said Associate Judges or the Chief Judge be a bona fide resident of Harford County, prior to said judges shall have been such residents six months prior to their appointment or election.

The additional associate judge for the second circuit herein provided for shall be a resident of Cecil County, shall be appointed by the Governor after the expiration of six (6) months after the adoption of this amendment and shall serve until the first general election for members of the General Assembly that shall be held in said circuit subsequent to the adoption of this amendment, at which election his successor shall be elected by the qualified voters of Caroline, Cecil, Kent, Queen Anne's and Talbot Counties, and thereafter his successor shall be appointed and/or elected in accordance with the constitutional provisions relative to judges. The Chief Judge may be elected from either Frederick or Montgomery Counties, but when the Chief Judge is elected from Frederick County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said county and the two remaining associate judges shall be residents of Montgomery County and when the Chief Judge is elected from Montgomery County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said Montgomery County and the remaining two associate judges residents of Frederick County. In case any candidates or candidates for associate judge at any judicial election held in the third and sixth judicial circuits shall receive sufficient votes to cause such candidate or candidates to be declared elected, but the election of such candidate or candidates would cause more associate judges than herein permitted to reside in any county of said circuits, then and in that event only that candidate or those candidates, as the case may be, residing in the order of the votes received shall be declared elected whose election would provide the permitted number of associate judges from said county and the candidate or candidates, as the case may be, residing in some other county, and not similarly disqualified, shall have the next highest number of votes in said election shall be declared elected. If by reason of such a condition or by reason of an equal vote for two or more candidates a sufficient number of associate judges duly qualified as to residence as above set out should not be elected at any election in said circuit, then it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for such unfilled office or offices.

The additional associate judge for the seventh circuit herein provided for shall be appointed by the Governor immediately after the adoption of this amendment and shall serve until the first general election for members of the General Assembly that shall be held in said circuit subsequent to the adoption of this amendment, at which election his successor shall be elected by the qualified voters of Prince George's, Charles, Calvert and St. Mary's Counties. No member of the General Assembly of 1939 otherwise qualified, shall be ineligible for appointment or election as such associate judge by reason of his membership in the General Assembly, the judge so appointed shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the seventh circuit, and the judge so elected and his successors shall, subject to the same constitutional provisions hold office for the same term of years, receive the same compensation, and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the seventh circuit. No two of the associate judges for the seventh circuit shall at the time of their election or appointment or during the term for which they may have been elected or appointed, reside in the same county, except in Prince George's County, in which county two of said associate judges for the said circuit shall reside at the time of their appointment or election and during the term for which they may have been appointed or elected unless the chief judge of said circuit shall already reside in said county, in which event only one of said associate judges shall reside in Prince George's County and Prince George's county shall at all times have two resident judges and no more, such judges to be either the Chief Judge of the seventh circuit and one associate judge or two associate judges of said Circuit. In case any candidate or candidates for associate judge at any judicial election held in the seventh judicial circuit shall receive sufficient votes to cause such candidate or candidates to be elected, but the election of such candidate or candidates would cause more associate judges than herein permitted to reside in any county of said circuit, then and in that event only that candidate or those candidates, as the case may be residing in the order of the votes received shall be declared elected whose election would provide the permitted number of associate judges from said county and the candidate or candidates, as the case may be, residing in some other county, and not similarly disqualified, who shall have the next highest number of votes in said election shall be declared elected. If by reason of such a condition or by reason of an equal vote for two or more candidates a sufficient number of associate judges duly qualified as to residence as above set out should not be elected at any election in said seventh judicial circuit, then it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for such unfilled office or offices.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT PROVIDING FOR JUVENILE COURTS
(Proposed by Chapter 824, Acts of 1941)

An amendment to Article IV of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, adding thereto a new section to be known as Section 39A, to be under new sub-title "Part IV A — Juvenile Courts", and to follow immediately after Section 39 of said Article, providing for the establishment of Juvenile Courts.

39A. A Juvenile Court is hereby created for Baltimore City, and the General Assembly by law may establish a Juvenile Court for any other incorporated city or town or any county of the State. The court hereby created, and any court established hereunder by law, shall be a court of record and shall have exclusive jurisdiction within such city, town or county over all criminal offenses other than those punishable by death or life imprisonment committed by any person under eighteen years of age, and such additional jurisdiction as may be from time to time prescribed by the General Assembly by law. The General Assembly by law shall prescribe, and from time to time may alter,

1. The number, qualifications, tenure and method of selection of the judge or judges of such courts, and their powers, duties and compensation, but the salary or compensation of any judge of any such court shall not be reduced during his continuance in office;

2. The right of appeal from such court;

3. The number, qualifications, tenure, method of selection, duties and compensation of all clerks, bailiffs, probation officers or other employees of such courts; and

4. Any other matters relating to such courts.

In the event of any inconsistency between the provisions of this section and any of the other provisions of this Constitution, the provisions of this Section shall prevail, and such other provisions shall be repealed or abrogated to the extent of such inconsistency, except Section 3A of Article III. Until the General Assembly has established a Juvenile Court for any incorporated city or town or any county of the State, jurisdiction over juvenile causes shall be exercised in the same manner and to the same extent as authorized by the Constitution and laws of this State in effect prior to the adoption of this Section.

REFERRED LAW
(Proposed by Chapter 172, Acts of 1941)

An Act to repeal and re-enact, with amendments, Sections 80 and 81 of Article 12 of the Code of Public Local Laws of Maryland (1939 Edition) title "Garrett County, sub-title "County Commissioners", relating to the nomination and election of County Commissioners, and known and designated as

CHAPTER 172

80. At the general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November, nineteen hundred and forty-two, there shall be elected three County Commissioners for Garrett County and at every general election in every fourth year thereafter there shall be elected three Commissioners, and said Commissioners so elected shall receive the same compensation as now provided by law.

81. For the purpose of election County Commissioners, Garrett County shall be divided into three County Commissioners' Districts, as follow:

1. The first County Commissioners' District shall be composed of the First, Fourth, Tenth, Twelfth and Thirteenth Election Districts.

2. The second County Commissioners' District shall be composed of the Second, Third, Fifth, Sixth, Ninth, Eleventh and Fifteenth Election Districts.

3. The third County Commissioners' District shall be composed of the Seventh, Eighth, Fourteenth and Sixteenth Election Districts.

At all future elections for the office of County Commissioner, one Commissioner shall be elected from among the voters residing in each County Commissioners' District by the general vote of the County.

At primary elections to be held in Garrett County at which candidates are selected for the position of County Commissioner, one candidate for each party shall be chosen from each County Commissioners' District by the county-wide vote of the members of the respective parties. The Supervisors of Elections of Garrett County shall place the names of all persons who file papers for the position of County Commissioner upon the ballots to be used by the respective parties in the county. The candidate of each party from each County Commissioners' District who receives the greatest number of votes shall be certified by the Supervisors of Elections as the nominee of the political party to which he belongs, and the name of said nominee shall be placed on the official ballot to be used at the general election.

If the office of any of the County Commissioners becomes vacant during the term, the Governor shall appoint a proper person to fill said vacancy from among the residents of the same Commissioner's District as that in which the former Commissioner resided.

For the Constitutional Amendments, against the Constitutional Amendments, said proposed Amendments to the Constitution of the State of Maryland being as follows and known and designated as follows:

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT CHAPTER 494

To amend Section 21 of Article 4, title "Judiciary Department," sub-title Part III—Circuit Courts," of the Constitution of this State, providing for the residential qualification and method of selection of Associate Judges in the Third Judicial Circuit.

21. For each of said Circuits, excepting the eighth, the second, the third, the sixth and the seventh, there shall be a chief judge and two associate judges, to be styled Judges of the Circuit Court, to be selected or appointed as herein provided, and for the second circuit, the third circuit, the sixth circuit, and the seventh circuit, there shall be a chief judge and three associate judges to be styled Judges of the Circuit Court, to be elected or appointed as herein provided. And no two of said associate judges, for any of the said circuits, except the third, sixth and seventh circuits shall, at the time of their election or appointment or during the term for which they may have been elected or appointed, reside in the same county. If two or more persons shall be candidates for associate judge in the same county in any of the circuits, except the 3rd, 6th and 7th circuits, that one only in said county shall be declared elected who has the highest number of votes in the circuit. In case any two candidates for associate judge in any of the circuits, except the third, sixth and seventh circuits, residing in the same county shall have an equal number of votes greater than any other candidates for associate judge in the circuit, it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for one associate judge; but the person residing in any other county of the circuit and who has the highest number of votes shall be declared elected. The said judges shall hold not less than two terms of the Circuit Court in each of the counties composing their respective circuits, at such times as are now or may hereafter be prescribed to which jurors shall be summoned; and in those counties where only two such terms are held, two other and intermediate terms, to which jurors shall not be summoned; they may alter or fix the times for holding any or all terms, until otherwise prescribed, and shall adopt rules to the end that all business not requiring the interposition of the jury shall be ,as far as practicable, disposed of at such intermediate terms. One judge in each of the above circuits, including the second, the third, sixth and seventh circuits, shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of any business, and the said judges or any of them may hold special terms of their courts, whenever in their discretion the business of the several counties renders such terms necessary.

In the Third Circuit, two of said Associate Judges shall at all times be bonafide residents of Baltimore County and one of said Associate Judges or the Chief Judge be a bona fide resident of Harford County, and said Judges shall have been such residents six months prior to their appointment or election.

The additional associate judge for the second circuit herein provided for shall be a resident of Cecil County, shall be appointed by the Governor after the expiration of six (6) months after the adoption of this amendment and shall serve until the first general election for members of the General Assembly that shall be held in said circuit subsequent to the adoption of this amendment, at which election his successor shall be elected by the qualified voters of Caroline, Cecil, Kent, Queen Anne's and Talbot Counties, constituting the second circuit. The judge so appointed shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit, and the judge so elected shall be subject to the same constitutional provision, hold his office for the same term of years, receive the same compensation, and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit.

The additional judge for the sixth circuit herein provided for and elected by the qualified voters of Frederick and Montgomery Counties at the 1938 election in accordance with the terms of the Constitutional Amendment heretofore submitted and adopted shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the sixth circuit and his successor shall be appointed and/or elected in accordance with the contitutional provisions relating to judges. The Chief Judge may be elected from either Frederick or Montgomery Counties, but when the Chief Judge is elected from Frederick County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said county and the two remaining associate judges shall be residents of Montgomery County and when the Chief Judge is elected from Montgomery County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said Montgomery County and the remaining two associate judges residents of Frederick County. In case any candidate or candidates for associate judge at any judicial election held in the third and sixth judicial circuits shall receive sufficient votes to cause such candidate or candidates to be declared elected, but the election of such candidate or candidates would cause more associate judges than herein permitted to reside in any county of said circuits, then and in that event only that candidate or those candidates, as the case may be, residing in said county in the order of the votes received shall be declared elected whose election would provide the permitted number of associate judges from said county and the candidate or candidates as the case may be, residing in the other county, and not similarly disqualified who shall have the next highest number of votes in said election shall be declared elected. If by reason of such a condition or by reason of an equal vote for two or more candidates a sufficient number of associate judges duly qualified as to residence as above set out should not be elected at any election in said third and sixth judicial circuits, then it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for such unfilled office or offices.

The additional associate judge for the seventh circuit herein provided for shall be appointed by the Governor immediately after the adoption of this amendment and shall serve until the first general election for members of the General Assembly that shall be held in said circuit subsequent to the adoption of this amendment, at which election his successor shall be elected by the qualified voters of Prince George's, Charles, Calvert and St. Mary's Counties. No member of the General Assembly of 1939 otherwise qualified, shall be ineligible for appointment or election as such associate judge by reason of his membership in the General Assembly. The judge so appointed shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the seventh circuit, and the judge so elected and his successors shall,subject to the same constitutional provisions hold office for the same term of years, receive the same compensation, and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges judges in the seventh circuit. No two of the associate judges for the seventh circuit shall at the time of their election or appointment or during the term for which they may have been appointed or elected unless the chief judge of said circuit shall already reside in said county, in which event only one of said associate judges shall reside in Prince George's County and Prince George's County shall at all times have two resident judges and no more, such judges to be either the Chief Judge of the seventh circuit and one associate judge or two associate judges of said Circuit. In case any candidate or candidates for associate judge at any judicial election held in the seventh judicial circuit shall receive sufficient votes to cause such candidate or candidates to be elected, but the election of such candidate or candidates would cause more associate judges than herein permitted to reside in any county of said circuit, then and in that event only that candidate or those candidates, as the case may be residing in said county in the order of the votes received shall be declared elected whose election would provide the permitted number of associate judges from said county and the candidate or candidates, as the case may be, residing in some other county, and not similarly disqualified, who shall have the next highest number of votes in said election shall be declared elected. If by reason of such a condition or by reason of an equal vote for two or more candidates a sufficient number of associate judges duly qualified as to residence as above set out should not be elected at any election in said seventh judicial circuit, then it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for such unfilled office or offices.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT CHAPTER 337

An amendment to Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Amendments to the Constitution", relating to the advertisement or publication of amendments to the Constitution.

1. The General Assembly may propose Amendments to this Constitution; provided that each Amendment shall be embraced in a separate Bill, embodying the Article or Section, as the same will stand when amended and passed by three-fifths of all the members elected to each of the two Houses, by yeas and nays, to be entered on the Journals with the proposed Amendment. The Bill or Bills proposing amendment or amendments shall be published by order of the Governor, in at least two newspapers, in each county, where so many may be published, and where not more than one may be published, then in that newspaper, and in three newspapers published in the City of Baltimore, once a week for three weeks immediately preceding the next ensuing general election, at which the proposed amendment or amendments shall be submitted, in a form to be prescribed by the General Assembly, to the qualified voters of the State for adoption or rejection. Provided, however, the General Assembly may provide for publishing any proposed amendment or amendments in pamphlet form, and for making said pamphlets available to the registered voters of the State in addition to publication in the newspapers. The votes cast for and against said proposed amendment or amendments, severally, shall be returned to the Governor, in the manner prescribed in other cases, and if it shall appear to the Governor that a majority of the votes cast at said election on said amendment or amendments, severally, were cast in favor thereof, the Governer shall, by his proclamation, declare the said amendment or amendments having received said majority of votes, to have been adopted by the people of Maryland as part of the Constitution thereof, and thenceforth said amendment or amendments shall be part of the said Constitution. When two or more amendments shall be submitted in manner aforesaid, to the voters of this State at the same election, they shall be so submitted as that each amendment shall be voted on separately.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT CHAPTER 695

An amendment to Section 15 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", regulating the period that the General Assembly many continue its session and the compensation of the members thereof.

15. The General Assembly may continue its session so long as in its judgment the public interest may require, for a period not longer than ninety days; and each member thereof shall receive a compensation of One Thousand Dollers ($1,000) per annum, payable quarterly, with a deduction of fifteen dollars ($15.00) per diem for each day of unexcused absence from any session; and he shall also receive such mileage as may be allowed by law, not exceeding twenty cents per mile; and the presiding officer of each House shall receive an additional compensation of Two Hundred and fifty ($250.00) dollars per annum. When the General Assembly shall be convened by Proclamation of the Governor, the session shall not continue longer than thirty days, but no additional compensation other than mileage and other allowances provided by law shall be paid members of the General Assembly for Special Sessions.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT CHAPTER 716

An amendment to Article 38 of the Declaration of Rights of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, relating to gifts, devises and other transfers to or for certain preachers and religious sects, orders or denominations.

38. The Legislature may by law regulate, restrict or require its sanction for gifts, devises or other transfer of property to or for the benefit of any minister, public teacher or preacher of the Gospel, as such, or any religious sect, order or denomination.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT CHAPTER 607

An amendment to Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", by adding a new section to be known as Section 40B, providing for the taking of property by the State Roads Commission under certain circumstances.

40B. The General Assembly shall enact no law authorizing private property to be taken for public use without just compensation, to be agreed upon between the parties or awarded by a jury, being first paid or tendered to the party entitled to such compensation, except that where such property in the judgment of the State Roads Commission is needed by the State for highway purposes, the General Assembly may provide that such property may be taken immediately upon payment therefor to the owner or owners thereof by said State Roads Commission or into Court, such amount as said State Roads Commission shall estimate to be of the fair value of said property, provided such legislation also requires the payment of any further sum that may subsequently be awarded by a jury.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT CHAPTER 509

An amendment to Section 45 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", relating to the salary of Clerks of Courts and Registers of Wills.

45. The General Assembly shall provide a simple and uniform system of charges in the offices of Clerks of thereof, provided, the amount of com- Counties of this State and the City of Baltimore, and for the collection therefo; provided, the amount of compensation to any of the said officers in the various counties and in the City of Baltimore shall be such as may be prescribed by law.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT PROVIDING FOR JUVENILE COURTS CHAPTER 824

An amendment to Article IV of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, adding thereto a new section to be known as Section 39A, to be under new Courts", and to follow immediately after Section 39 of said Article, providing for the establishment of Juvenile Courts.

39A. A Juvenile Court is hereby created for Baltimore City, and the General Assembly by law may establish a Juvenile Court for any other incorporated city or town or any county of the State. The court hereby created, and any court established hereunder by law, shall be a court of record and shall have exclusive jurisdiction within such city, town or county over all criminal offenses other than those punishable by death or life imprisonment committed by any person under eighteen years of age, and such additional jurisdiction as may be from time to time prescribed by the General Assembly by law. The General Assembly by law shall prescribe, and from time to time may alter,

1. The number, qualifications, tenure and method of selection of the judge or judges of such courts, and their powers, duties and compensation, but the salary or compensation of any judge of any such court shall not be reduced during his continuance in office;

2. The right to appeal from such court;

3. The number, qualifications, tenure, method of selection, duties and compensation of all clerks, bailiffs, probation officers or other employees of such courts; and

4. Any other matters relating to such courts.

In the event of any inconsistency between the provisions of this section and any of the other provisions of this Constitution, the provisions of this Section shall prevail, and such other provisions shall be repealed or abrogated to the extent of such inconsistency, except Section 35-A of Article III. Until the General Assembly has established a Juvenile Court for any incorporated city or town or any county of the State, jurisdiction over juvenile causes shall be exercised in the same manner and to the same extent as authorized by the Constitution and laws of this State, in effect prior to the adoption of this Section.

Also—

For the Referred Law, Against the Referred Law, being an Act to repeal and re-enact, with amendments, Sections 80 and 81 of Article 12 of the Code of Public Local Laws of Maryland (1930 Edition) title "Garrett County, sub-title "County Commissioners", relating to the nomination and election of County Commissioners, and known and designated as

REFERRED LAW CHAPTER 172

80. At the general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November, nineteen hundred and forty-two, there shall be elected three County Commissioners for Garrett County and at every general election in every fourth year thereafter there shall be elected three Commissioners, and said Commissioners so elected shall receive the same compensation as now provided by law.

81. For the purpose of electing County Commissioners, Garrett County shall be divided into three County Commissioners' Districts, as follows:

(1) The first County Commissioners' District shall be composed of the First, Fourth, Tenth, Twelfth and Thirteenth Election Districts;

(2) The second County Commissioners' District shall be composed of the Second, Third, Fifth, Sixth, Ninth, Eleventh and Fifteenth Election Districts;

(3) The third County Commissioners' District shall be composed of the Seventh, Eighth, Fourteenth and Sixteenth Election Districts.

At all future elections for the office of County Commissioner, one Commissioner shall be elected from among the voters residing in each County Commissioners' District by the general vote of the county.

At primary elections to be held in Garrett County at which candidates are selected for the position of County Commissioner, one candidate for each party shall be chosen from each County Commissioners' District by the county-wide vote of the members of the respective parties. The Supervisors of Elections of Garrett County shall place the names of all persons who file papers for the position of County Commissioner upon the ballots to be used by the respective parties in the county. The candidate of each party from each County Commissioners' District who receives the greatest number of votes shall be certified by the Supervisors of Elections as the nominee of the political party to which he belongs, and the name of said nominee shall be placed on the official ballot to be used in the general election.

If the office of any of the County Commissioners becomes vacant during the term, the Governor shall appoint a proper person to fill said vacancy from among the residents of the same Commissioner's District as that in which the former Commissioner resided.

A cheaper way to keep them growing, to build big husky calves, is to feed them Southern States Calf Starter.

Southern States Calf Starter is a concentrated food—2 lbs. is equal to 10 lbs. of milk. Start the calf off in its second week by teaching it to eat Southern States Calf Starter. You can teach the calf to eat by moistening two fingers with milk, dipping them into the Calf Starter and allowing the calf to lick your fingers.

Protection Against Diphtheria Is Urged

State Health Officer Says Children Should Be Immunized Right Away

A large proportion of the pupils who entered the kindergarten and first grade classes of Maryland schools this year had never been protected against diphtheria. Since this serious disease usually attacks very young children, Dr. R. H. Riley, Director of the State Department of Health, wishes to remind the parents of all pre-school children that it is important to have them immunized immediately.

"Have your child protected against diphtheria now," Dr. Riley urges. "Above all, don't wait until your youngster is ready to go to school; because diphtheria attacks very young children more often than it attacks their older brothers and sisters, and with greater severity.

"Diphtheria is preventable. Children who have never been safeguarded can catch the disease easily from those who have it or from apparently normal carriers. However, inoculation with toxoid protects them from this dreaded enemy of childhood as effectively as vaccination prevents smallpox.

"If your baby is eight or nine months old and has not been protected, take him to your physician or to the nearest clinic now," Dr. Riley advises. "Authorities on the care of young children recommend a first dose of toxoid at eight or nine months of age, sometimes as early as six months. Another dose is usually given later.

"Children who have passed the ages mentioned and are still unprotected should also be taken to a doctor for immediate immunization. There may be danger in delay.

"All children should be given the advantage of protection. Toxoid is harmless. In fact, it hardly ever produces any unfavorable reaction. On the other hand, diphtheria—an ever-present threat to children who have not been immunized—is always serious and frequently fatal."

Shallmar High School Girls Work for USO

Four high school girls of Shallmar were successful in having $19.34 contributed to the USO fund, as the result of a play and social held in that town recently.

The girls were Vera Brady, Vera Tasker, Clarice Warnick and Pauline Bruckey. The money was turned over to the USO treasurer here yesterday and brings the total received in this county in the drive to $1,522.43.

THE CHRISTIAN VIEW OF MARRIAGE

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 2:18-24; Matthew 19:3-6; John 2:1-5.

GOLDEN TEXT—Marriage is honorable in all.—Hebrews 13:4.

The home is not just one of the institutions of our social order, it is a part of God's plan for man. It thus holds a position of greater importance than institutions of society, and should take first place in our thinking.

Home and the life which centers in it has lost much of its meaning and value in recent decades. It is appropriate and timely to study for four weeks in our Sunday schools the foundation principles of the home and to learn how we may hinder or help it in its influence. Teachers will wish to make much of this vital series.

We begin right when we inquire what the Bible teaches about marriage, and we find the instruction plentiful and to the point. Concerning marriage we learn of

I. Its Origin—Ordained by God (Gen. 2:18-24).

Nations and states have marriage laws, and certain civil requirements must be met. But true marriage from the Christian viewpoint is far more than a civil contract. It is an ordinance which God Himself ordained from the beginning for the welfare of man.

As Adam gave names to the animals (which, incidentally, tells of his intelligence and ability) they passed before him. It became evident to him that there was no true fellowship between man and beast, that there must be a "help meet" for man, one of his own kind, with his capacities of personal being.

God quickly and adequately meets every real need of man, so He created out of Adam's own flesh one who was to be his true companion. "If man is the head, she is the crown," said Matthew Henry. "The man was dust refined, but the woman was dust doubly refined, one move further from the earth. She was not taken out of his head to top him, not out of his feet to be trampled upon by him, but out of his side to be equal with him, under his arm to be protected, and near his heart to be beloved."

So God ordained marriage, but down through the ages man has seen fit to tamper with God's holy arrangements, adjusting them to suit himself, so we need to be reminded of the truth.

II. Its Control—Not Subject to Man (Matt. 19:3-6).

Because of the hardness of man's heart Moses permitted divorce (Mark 10:4, 5), but God did not intend it from the beginning. The Jewish rabbis had so stretched the interpretation of that act of Moses that a wife could be divorced for almost any reason. The same was true among heathen nations.

Our Lord makes it very clear that man has no authority to determine such matters at all, that the union of life in true marriage is by the act of God, and that no man has power to sunder such a relationship.

The whole trend of thought on marriage has been away from its sacredness as a divine institution, and we need to return to a proper appreciation of it as such. All too often, marriages are mere civil agreements, hastily made before a justice of peace. We need to encourage our young people to recognize

III. Its Dignity—Sanctioned by Christ (John 2:1-5).

The wedding ceremony tells us that marriage "is an honorable estate, instituted by God in the time of man's innocency, confirmed by the teaching and hallowed by the presence of our blessed Lord, and likened by St. Paul to the holy union that exists between Christ and the Church; and therefore is not by any to be entered into unadvisedly, but reverently, discreetly and in the fear of God."

At the very beginning of His public ministry Jesus performed His first miracle as His share of a wedding feast. It is true that He does share every occasion of joy and sorrow of His people, but it seems to be significant that this first occasion for His miraculous power was a wedding.

He was there to rejoice with and to bless those who had exchanged their vows in marriage. Should He not be the unseen guest at every wedding? Whether in the home or in the church; whether the occasion be a simple or an elaborate one; whether a host of friends attend or only the witnesses—always and everywhere Jesus Christ should be recognized as the One who stands by to bless, and to unite the two lives for His own glory.

This means that the ceremony should be a Christian one, with prayer a vital part of it, and the will of God paramount. Then indeed, God may and will join together that which no man can put asunder.

Brooke Lee Supported By Former State Head Of American Legion

Major Fitzgerald Traces Lee's Record As A Soldier, Business Man, And Legislator In Frederick Radio Address

"It is my purpose to talk with the people of Frederick, Washington and upper Montgomery Counties tonight about the Congressional contest now taking place in the 6th Maryland District. The election of a Congressman is the only vote that the people of any Maryland Congressional District have this year through which they are able to choose any Representative in Washington and to that extent register their influence on the war and world and national events. Certainly with war as world-wide and as undecided as it now is and with world events in their present dangerous condition which affects all Americans equally, it is most important to consider during the three weeks remaining in this campaign our choice of a Representative in the Congress.

"First I want to tell you about my comrade, my countryman and my fellow countian, Col. E. Brooke Lee of Montgomery County, who is the candidate of the Democratic party for Congress in this District.

LIEUT. COL. E. BROOKE LEE

As a young man of about twenty years of age, Brooke Lee enlisted as a buck private in the Maryland National Guard. He held all the grades of private, corporal, sergeant and lieutenant in the old 1st Maryland Infantry and went to the Mexican Border in 1916 with that Regiment when many of you will recall we had some trouble on the Rio Grande.

"In April 1917 our country entered the war against what was then Kaiser Wilhelm's effort and intention to conquer the world. Brooke Lee went overseas with K Company of the 115th Infantry of the 29th Division along with some 600 other men from Western Maryland who were members of A Company from Cumberland and K Company from Silver Spring and Montgomery County.

Colonel Lee Decorated for Bravery

"Brooke Lee served courageously and with distinction as a frontline infantry soldier in France in 1918 and he had the unusual distinction of both being decorated for bravery in action on two occasions and then of being promoted from Captain to Major before the Armistice and placed in command of a Battalion of some 900 men of the same 115th Regiment. I will tell you more about his military record in a few minutes because that certainly is a fair measure of the man.

"Returning from service overseas in June, 1919, Brooke Lee was nominated without primary opposition as the candidate of the Democratic Party in the State for Comptroller of the Maryland Treasury and elected in the State-wide voting, and served his term in that important office. He was then appointed Secretary of State of Maryland by the late Governor Albert C. Ritchie.

"Brooke Lee was then elected to the House of Delegates at Annapolis from Montgomery County and elected Speaker by the members from the other counties and from Baltimore City. He was re-elected Speaker and served three sessions in that important legislative position.

"Brooke Lee later served as an associate and unpaid member of the Maryland State Roads Commission from 1931 to 1934. He also served as a member of the Board of Regents of the University of Maryland and as Chairman of the State War Memorial Commission which built the War Memorial Building in Baltimore City. Both of these last positions were also unpaid.

"Brooke Lee has been a delegate to the Democratic National Convention four times and has twice represented Maryland on the important Resolutions Committee of the Democratic National Convention.

Is An Editor and Publisher

"In business Brooke Lee today is the executive officer of a large housing rental company in Silver Spring, is editor and publisher of Montgomery County's largest weekly newspaper and is the manager of several Montgomery County farms where he raises cattle, hogs and the usual corn, wheat and hay crops.

"In Montgomery County we regard him as a hardworking and a useful and an effective man.

"Brooke Lee's friends believe this record qualifies him to an unusual degree to represent the people of Western Maryland in the Congress in this critical period. He has first-hand experience in war. He has shown himself to be a competent, able and experienced member of the Maryland Legislature. In other governmental offices and in politics he has the reputation for being able to get things done. He is industrious, courageous, loyal and steadfast. Our people deserve and the needs of the times demand such a Representative in Washington.

"The Republican nominee who opposes Brooke Lee in the election November 3rd is J. Glenn Beall, of Frostburg, in Allegany County. It was not the desire of those supporting Brooke Lee as the Democratic nominee for Congress at this time to talk about the opposing candidate, but the opposing candidate and his leading backers and supporters including the present Republican candidate for Governor of Maryland and the Chairman of both the Republican State Central Committees for Montgomery and for Allegany Counties have given us no choice. They have made personal attacks on the business record of Brooke Lee as the Democratic candidate for Congress in this District which fairness requires that his friends respond to. Fair dealing requires that Glenn Beall's record be given similar inspection.

Beall's Record Inspected

"Some six weeks ago Glenn Beall himself told me personally in Cumberland that he was not going to enter into any smear campaign. You can judge for yourselves how well Mr. Beall has carried out this assurance.

"The record is that his running mate, the Republican candidate for Governor, has smeared Brooke Lee's business and political record in every way possible. So has the Chairman of the Republican State Central Committee of Mr. Beall's home county of Allegany and so has the Chairman of the Republican State Central Committee of Montgomery County. Glenn Beall himself has printed an open letter over his own signature attacking Brooke Lee with harsh epithets as I will describe in a minute.

"Anyone who has listened to the Frederick radio or read the Frederick papers knows that the Republican candidate for Governor and those other Republican leaders have attacked Brooke Lee because he owes money.

"Now let us look at the business record of Glenn Beall. Remember that these Republican speakers have called Glenn Beall a 'successful business man' and have attacked Brooke Lee as unworthy because of his depression-bred debts. The court records of Allegany County show that as late as 1938 Glenn Beall settled 30 notes with a total unpaid balance of over $53,000 for a payment of about $8,200, or 15 cents on the dollar. These notes were owned by and owed to the depositors of the two closed national banks of Glenn Beall's home city of Frostburg, and one closed national bank in the adjacent Allegany town of Midland. There were 30 of these notes, of about half of which Glenn Beall was the maker and about half of which he was endorser. They were not secured hardly at all and Glenn Beall chose to pay the depositors of these three closed banks 15 cents on the dollar, to close the door on his debt to them unpaid.

"That is the record of the man whom these Republican leaders have called a 'successful' business man and in whose behalf they have attacked Brooke Lee's business record.

Lee's Record Viewed

"Let us look at the record again. Later Brooke Lee's debts came from his endorsement of notes of real estate building and development companies made before the 1929 depression and the 1933 bank crisis. He has liquidated 93 percent to 94 percent of those debts. He has secured the balance in large part through the pledge of all the real estate that he formerly owned. He still stands liable on about $150,000 worth of judgments recorded in the Court at Rockville against him as an endorser of notes of real estate building and development companies. Each of these judgments is partially secured by the pledge of real estate, and remember, Brooke Lee still stands liable 100 percent for this debt created by his endorsement. He continues to work to pay it and has not taken the protection of any receivership or other court proceedings.

"Brooke Lee's friends do not believe that this issue of depression-bred debts belongs in the present Congressional campaign but the Republican candidate for Governor and these other Republican leaders put it there and in all political certainty with Glenn Beall's full knowledge and consent. For that reason it is necessary, fair and proper for Brooke Lee's friends to present the business record of both men to the voters of Western Maryland.

"But that is not all of the attacks by Glenn Beall on Brooke Lee. Glenn Beall himself in an open letter over his own signature and which he printed as a political advertisement in the Cumberland papers called Brooke Lee 'shop-worn, repudiated, self-willed and selfish.' These are four most harsh adjectives for one candidate to apply to another. We think Glenn Beall could run for Congress on the merits of his cause and on the political record as it is without going in for this kind of personal attacks. Now let us talk about these words as they apply to both candidates. First, I touch on Glenn Beall's own statement that Brooke Lee is 'shop-worn and repudiated.' Let us see how that fits Mr. Beall.

"After Glenn Beall had been elected twice as one of the two Republican members of the bi-partisan road board for Allegany County and served eight years on that board, which builds and maintains the roads of Allegany County, he was elected to the Senate of Maryland by the people of Allegany County in 1930. After representing Allegany County in the Senate of Maryland for four years he was decisively defeated in the Republican primary of 1934 by the Republican voters of his home county of Allegany when a candidate for re-nomination to the State Senate. Senator Robert B. Kimble, who is now about to be re-elected to the State Senate for his third term as he does not have opposition by the Democrats at this time, was chosen by the Allegany County Republicans over Glenn Beall in that primary election. I know of no more decided repudiation or evidence of being 'shop-worn' in politics than to be defeated by the voters of your own party in your own county primary when you stand for re-nomination for the office that you have just filled for four years, particularly when that office is a position of such distinction and county prestige as the county's seat in the Senate of Maryland.

"Had C. Nice Wilkinson not resigned from the Maryland State Roads Commission about a year before the end of the term of the late Harry W. Nice as Governor of Maryland, and had not Glenn Beall been appointed to the Maryland State Roads Commission for 15 months and so allowed to revive his political contacts throughout Western Maryland, you would never have heard of Glenn Beall again after his rejection in a primary election in Allegany County by the voters of his own Republican party.

"Brooke Lee's name, on the other hand, has been on the ballot in Montgomery County seven times since 1919 and on each occasion Montgomery County voters have either given him a decided majority or he has been without opposition. He has also been successful on two State-wide ballots.

A Man Is Revealed Under Fire

"Then Glenn Beall in the same paid political advertisement over his name calls Brooke Lee 'self-willed and selfish.' Now let's have a look at the record again. It has always been said that under fire in battle a man's real character and heart stand forth. Let's take a look at Brooke Lee under fire. In France in August, 1918, he was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross by the American Government, the Belgian Order of Leopold and the French Croix de Guerre. In July of the same year he had been previously awarded the French Croix de Guerre with the Silver Star of the Infantry Division and a 29th Division A.E.F. citation, all for gallantry in action.

"This is what the American Government said of Brooke Lee as taken from the official records of the War Department, when Brooke Lee was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross: I quote—'For extraordinary heroism in command of a raiding party against the enemy trenches near Balschwiller, on the morning of August 31, 1918, leading the advance through the enemy wire, being the last to quit the enemy trenches, personally assisting in carrying the wounded back through the enemy counter barrage and remaining all day of August 31st in a shell hole in No Man's Land in order to assist all wounded to return to our line.' End quote.

Awarded Croix de Guerre

"Then when Brooke Lee was awarded the French Croix de Guerre on July 31st, the following is the citation signed by the Marshal of the French armies in which the 29th American Division was then serving: I quote—'On July 31, 1918, during an enemy raid upon a post of his company sector, showed a remarkable calmness, coolness and courage, organizing the defense of the threatened point, taking himself a rifle and thus setting his men the finest example.' End of quote.

"This occasion was the first instance that any unit of the 29th Division of the A.E.F. was attacked by the enemy and K Company from Montgomery County and Baltimore City which Brooke Lee had organized, trained and then commanded, acquitted itself as described in this citation.

"I say to you here tonight that those citations give the lie to Glenn Beall's description of Brooke Lee as a selfish man. That is not the record of a selfish man and Glenn Beall has no justification for hurling that personal charge.

"This is an election of a Congressman to represent the people of Western Maryland in the House at Washington. We place the legislative, the governmental, the political, the military and even the business record of Brooke Lee before the voters of Western Maryland and say to this Republican candidate and these Republican spokesmen, let them put their legislative and governmental, military and business record on the line. Let me say, the Republican candidate for Congress from the 6th Congressional District will have to live a long number of years to ever match the record of my fellow countian, Colonel E. Brooke Lee.

"I desire to leave one particular thought with you here tonight. Brooke Lee has pledged if you elect him to represent you in Washington to work and vote to help win a decisive victory in this war; to then work and vote to help secure and enforce a permanent peace; to then work and vote to help bring America back to the plan of life and government that our people enjoyed when we were attacked at Pearl Harbor. Brooke Lee has one son in the United States Infantry, one son in the United States Navy and one of these boys is already out of the country, and his daughter has just married a young lieutenant of the U. S. Infantry. He wants to win this war quickly for their sakes just as you do for the sakes of your sons and brothers, husbands and sweethearts and for all America. But quick or not, win we must.

"Brooke Lee, should you send him to Washington, gives through his record real promise of being able to help towards achieving these objectives which we must both reach and hold in order to survive.

"This is your war and the present danger is your danger.

"I urge you to think clearly and vote wisely."

Traffic Fatalities Fewer in September

There were 1,381 traffic accidents in Maryland during the month of September, with 39 persons killed and 731 injured. Baltimore City reported 949 accidents with 133 deaths and 428 injured, and the counties 432 accidents with 26 deaths and 303 injured.

In the State there was a reduction in traffic fatalities of 35 per cent for September as against the same month one year ago. The year's total for fatalities is now 345 as compared to 435 for the same period last year—a reduction of 27.7 per cent.

Eleven counties experienced a fatality free month — Calvert, Carroll, Charles, Dorchester, Garrett, Kent, Montgomery, Queen Anne's, Somerset, Talbot and Worcester. Calvert county was the only county to experience a perfect accident month—no collisions, no deaths, no injuries.

Oakland Jaycees and Friends in Oakland:

Several days ago I received a package from the Jaycee group which contained many gifts and notes from old friends.

This grand expression from real friends means much to those of us who are almost completely out of touch with our old circle. Your work on the home front does more than you will know, until you are in the service, to keep up the morale at the fighting front—so keep up the good work and write to all of us often.

At the present I am attending a Navy Training School, where our day begins at 5:50 and ends at 10:30. So you can understand that I must make this a short note and that I will also have to wait until more time is available to write to each of you individually.

Until then—thanks for everything —everybody.

CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF

—Political Advertisement Authorized by the Candidate.

To Whom It May Concern:

It has been reported over the County that if I am elected as a member of the Board of County Commissioners at the coming election, November 3rd, that I have made all kinds of promises.

I wish to say now and to all the people of the County that I have made no promises whatever and will not make any to anyone as I came out without any promise in the beginning and wish to remain so until the election is over, and therefore deny all such rumors.

MATTHEWS

for

State's Attorney

To the Voters of Garrett County:

At the request and solicitation of my many friends throughout the county I permitted my name to be placed upon the ballot as a candidate for State's Attorney and now I ask your support at the coming election.

Because of a recent illness I was obliged to undergo an operation which has kept me from my office for several weeks and I have not had the opportunity of calling upon the voters personally. I expect, however, to be back in my office in a very few days and still hope to see a great many of the voters before November 3rd.

I do not think it necessary to state my qualifications for the office as I have lived in Garrett County all my life, have practiced my profession for more than thirty-five years, and in 1930 I was appointed State's Attorney by the Judges of our Court to fill the unexpired term of the late Julius C. Renninger.

It is my sincere conviction that the office of State's Attorney is one of very great importance and should have the careful consideration of the voters of this county. If I am successful in the election I want to assure you that close attention will be given to the office and that it will be conducted for the benefit of all our citizens.

In seeking public office I have never deemed it wise to make election promises, but there are several matters which I consider of importance that I want to pledge myself to the people of this county if I am elected State's Attorney, among which are the following:

1—A fair, honest and efficient administration of the office.

2—Prompt, thorough and unbiased investigation of law violations.

3—Prompt attention will be given to the question of flagrant law violations and no special favors will be shown to any class or group of law violators.

4—One term only. While I have never objected to two consecutive terms I feel that a longer tenure of this office should be strenuously opposed.

Upon my long record as a practicing attorney in our county, and with the pledge of fairness to all in the enforcement of the law, I offer myself as your candidate for State's Attorney and shall appreciate your vote and interest in my behalf.

Respectfully yours,

ASA T. MATTHEWS

WILLIAM C. WALSH

Atty. General of Maryland Democratic Candidate For Re-Election

Attorney General William C. Walsh was born in Cumberland, where his father and grandfather practiced law before him, and with the exception of about two years in military service in the last war and about two years' service on the Bench, he has been practicing law in Cumberland since 1913.

Judge Walsh joined Company G of the Maryland National Guard when President Wilson sent the National Guard to the Mexican Border in June, 1916, and he served as a private and corporal on the Border. He entered the last war in July, 1917, as a sergeant in Company G, which Company was later placed in the 115th Infantry at Camp McClellan, Alabama. He entered the Third Officers' Training Camp at Camp McClellan in January, 1918, was commissioned a Second Lieutenant in May, 1918, and was assigned to the machine gun company of the 113th Infantry, Twenty-ninth Division. He served with that Company in France from June, 1918 until the end of the war, was promoted to First Lieutenant in France, and was discharged on April 1, 1919.

After his return to civilian life Judge Walsh served as City Attorney in Cumberland from 1920 to 1921, served as Associate Judge in the latter part of 1921, and was Chief Judge of this Circuit and a member of the Maryland Court of Appeals from 1924 to 1926. He also served as State Insurance Commissioner of Maryland from 1931 to 1935, was elected Attorney General of Maryland by over one hundred thousand majority in 1938, and is now the Democratic candidate for re-election to that office.

During his term of office Judge Walsh was instrumental in securing the passage of the law providing for a State Inspector of Mine Weights and Scales, which Inspector the miners had been trying to get for many years, and he was also instrumental in the passage of a law requiring all coal mined in Maryland to be paid for by weight. He has also served for two years as a member of the National Drafting Committee of the Council of State Governments, which Committee is engaged in preparing model war emergency laws for passage by the States, and he has consistently given 100% support to the war effort.

He has always taken a deep interest in the civic life of this section. He aided in securing approval of the Savage River Dam, and has been active in every other movement for the betterment of Western Maryland.

As the chief law officer of the State, he has fully maintained the traditionally high standard of the Attorney General's office, and as he is the first man from the far western part of Maryland who ever held this office it is believed that the voters of this County will show their approval of his record by joining with the voters of the rest of the state in overwhelmingly re-electing him on November 3.

Turning Over An Old Leaf

By Phillip A. Gladhelm

"There were faces to remember in the Valley of the Shadow;
There were faces to forget;
There were lives of fear and grief
That are a foreign memory
That are not even yet."

A few weeks ago I spent a pleasant afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Trombly of Terra Alta, W. Va. We gave our attention to folk song and folklore. Mr. Trombly during the course of the conversation referred to a booklet with a leather-bound yellowish cover. I asked to see it. It was entitled "Chronicles of Border Warfare," and its author Alexander S. Withers. It was published in Clarksburg, Va. (now W. Va.) in 1852 by Joseph Israel.

Here is a book that is indispensable to the student of local pioneer history. It gives a detailed account of the settlement of the white people in northwestern Virginia (now West Virginia). This record is interwoven with a complete account of the Indian Wars and massacres. Mr. Withers was a gold writer. He furnishes proof for his statement: "In the whole history of America, from the time when they beheld their prince a captive, the blood of their nobles staining the earth with crimson dye, to aim at the destruction of their oppressors. Who can be astonished that the Valley of Virginia or 'Death' should be their watchword?" And yet cruelty, on the part of the whites, is not recorded by immediate acts of hostility on the part of the latter. Up to 1763 Alexander Henderson, the historian of the Moravian Indians in the Muskingum country, says: "The Indians were at peace with the whites, and had been so for many years." Yet the Moravian Indians were murdered in cold blood by the whites. Why? Because they refused to go to the assistance of Pontiac in his war against the British. Pontiac was the Indian leader who was trying to drive the British out of the Great Lakes region. Pontiac's War was the direct result of the French and Indian War. The Indians had been promised by the French that if they would help them drive the British out of the Great Lakes region they would be given back their lands. The Indians were deceived. The French were defeated and driven out of the country. The Indians were left to the mercy of the British. The British broke their promises to the Indians. The Indians rebelled. Pontiac's War was the result. The Moravian Indians refused to help Pontiac. They were murdered in cold blood by the whites. Why? Because they refused to help Pontiac.

Introduction gives a complete picture of the life of the Indian's physique, habits, characters, and religious beliefs.

The body of the book, about 300 pages, is a history of the settlement of the country. It is the first account ever published of the settlement west of the Alleghenies. It is a story of hardships, privations, dangers, and massacres—between the travel—but the Pringles escaped. The family which he was a member was among the first to settle in the Monongahela Valley. Withers was born in 1790. He was a boy of 12 when he was captured by the Indians. Among the first time they spent about 12 months in captivity. For three consecutive years the family was at Morgantown with her granddaughter, Mrs. Olive Robeson, and family. William Merrill was visiting Mrs. Merrill and their infant son at Mineral Wells Hospital, Parkersburg, W. Va. Mr. Withers was at the time of the Herman Robeson received word on Monday that a grandson, Pvt. Robert W. Robeson, had been killed in an airplane accident in California on Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Pike were visited their hunting grounds in ting Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Broadwater in Cumberland on Sunday.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT
(Proposed by Chapter 337, Acts of 1941)

An amendment to Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Amendments to the Constitution", relating to the advertisement or publication of amendments to the Constitution.

1. The General Assembly may propose Amendments to this Constitution; provided that each Amendment shall be embraced in a separate Bill, embodying the Article or Section, as the same will stand when amended and passed by three fifths of all the members elected to each of the two Houses, by yeas and nays, to be entered on the Journals with the proposed Amendment. The Bill or Bills proposing amendment or amendments shall be published by order of the Governor, in at least two newspapers, in each county, where so many may be published, and where not more than one may be published, then in that newspaper, and in two newspapers published in the City of Baltimore, once a week for three weeks immediately preceding the next ensuing general election, at which the proposed amendment or amendments shall be submitted, in a form to be prescribed by the General Assembly, to the qualified voters of the State for adoption or rejection. Provided, however, the General Assembly may provide for publishing any proposed amendment or amendments in pamphlet form, and for making said pamphlets available to the registered voters of the State in addition to publication in the newspapers. The vote cast for and against said proposed amendment or amendments, severally, shall be returned to the Governor, in the manner prescribed in other cases, and if it shall appear to the Governor that a majority of the votes cast at said election on said amendment or amendments, severally, were cast in favor thereof, the Governor shall, by his proclamation, declare the said amendment or amendments having received said majority of votes, to have been adopted by the people of Maryland as part of the Constitution thereof, and thereforth said amendment or amendments shall be part of the said Constitution. When two or more amendments shall be submitted in manner aforesaid, to the voters of this State at the same election, they shall be so submitted as that each amendment shall be voted on separately.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT
(Proposed by Chapter 494, Acts of 1941)

To amend Section 21 of Article 4, title "Judiciary Department", sub-title "Part III — Circuit Courts", of the Constitution of this State, providing for the residential qualification and method of selection of Associate Judges in the Third Judicial Circuit.

21. For each of the said Circuits, excepting the eighth, the second, the third, the sixth and the seventh, there shall be a chief Judge and two associate judges, to be styled Judges of the Circuit Court, to be selected or appointed as herein provided, and for the second circuit, the third circuit, the sixth circuit, and the seventh circuit, there shall be a chief Judge and three associate judges to be styled Judges of the Circuit Court, to be elected or appointed as herein provided. And no two of said associate judges, for any of the said circuits, except the third, sixth and seventh circuits shall, at the time of their election or appointment or during the term for which they may have been elected or appointed, reside in the same county. If two or more persons shall be candidates for associate judge in the same county in any of the circuits, except the third, sixth and seventh circuits, that one only in said county shall be declared elected who has the highest number of votes in the circuit. In case any two candidates for associate judge in any of the circuits, except the third, sixth and seventh circuits, residing in the same county shall have an equal number of votes greater than any other candidates for associate judge in the circuit, it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for one associate judge; but the person residing in any other county of the circuit and who has the highest number of votes shall be declared elected. The said judges shall hold not less than two terms of the Circuit Court in each of the counties composing their respective circuits, at such times as are now or may hereafter be prescribed by which jurors shall be summoned; and in those counties where only two such terms are held, two other and intermediate terms, to which jurors shall not be summoned; they may waive or fix the times for holding any or all terms, until otherwise prescribed, and shall adopt rules to the end that all business not requiring the interposition of the jury shall be, as far as practicable, disposed of at such intermediate terms. One judge in each of the above circuits, including the second, the third, sixth and seventh circuits, shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of any business, and the said judges or any of them may hold special terms of their courts, whenever in their discretion the business of the several counties renders such terms necessary.

In the Third Circuit, two of said Associate Judges shall at all times be bona fide residents of Baltimore County and one of said Associate Judges or the Chief Judge be a bona fide resident of Harford County, and said Judges shall have been such residents six months prior to their appointment or election.

The additional associate judge for the second circuit herein provided for shall be a resident of Cecil County, shall be appointed by the Governor after the expiration of six (6) months after the adoption of this amendment and shall serve until the first general election for members of the General Assembly that shall be held in said circuit subsequent to the adoption of this amendment, at which election his successor shall be elected by the qualified voters of Caroline, Cecil, Kent, Queen Anne's and Talbot Counties, constituting the second circuit. The judge so appointed shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit, and the judge so elected shall be subject to the same constitutional provision, hold his office for the same term of years, receive the same compensation, and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit.

The additional judge for the sixth circuit herein provided for and elected by the qualified voters of Frederick and Montgomery Counties at the 1938 election in accordance with the terms of the Constitutional Amendment heretofore submitted and adopted shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the sixth circuit and his successor shall be appointed and/or elected in accordance with the constitutional provisions relating to judges. The Chief Judge may be elected from either Frederick or Montgomery Counties, but when the Chief Judge is elected from Frederick County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said county and the two remaining associate judges shall be residents of Montgomery County and when the Chief Judge is elected from Montgomery County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said Montgomery County and the remaining two associate judges residents of Frederick County. In case any candidate or candidates for associate judge at any judicial election held in the third and sixth judicial circuits shall receive sufficient votes to cause such candidate or candidates to be declared elected, but the election of such candidate or candidates would cause more associate judges than herein permitted to reside in any county of said circuits, then and in that event only that candidate or those candidates, as the case may be, residing in the other county, and not similarly disqualified who shall have the next highest number of votes in said election shall be declared elected. If by reason of such a condition or by reason of an equal vote for two or more candidates a sufficient number of associate judges duly qualified as to residence as above set out should not be elected at any election in said third and sixth judicial circuits, then it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for such unfilled office or offices.

The additional associate judge for the seventh circuit herein provided for shall be appointed by the Governor immediately after the adoption of this amendment and shall serve until the first general election for members of the General Assembly that shall be held in said circuit subsequent to the adoption of this amendment, at which election his successor shall be elected by the qualified voters of Prince George's, Charles, Calvert and St. Mary's Counties. No member of the General Assembly of 1939 otherwise qualified, shall be ineligible for appointment or election as such associate judge by reason of his membership in the General Assembly. The judge so appointed shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the seventh circuit, and the judge so elected and his successors shall, subject to the same constitutional provisions hold office for the same term of years, receive the same compensation, and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the seventh circuit. No two of the associate judges for the seventh circuit shall at the time of their election or appointment or during the term for which they may have been elected or appointed reside in the same county, except in Prince George's County, in which county two of said associate judges for the said circuit shall reside at the time of their appointment or election and during the term for which they may have been appointed or elected unless the chief judge of said circuit shall already reside in said county, in which event only one of said associate judges shall reside in Prince George's County and Prince George's County shall at all times have two resident judges and no more, such judges to be either the Chief Judge of the seventh circuit and one associate judge or two associate judges of said Circuit. In case any candidate or candidates for associate judge at any judicial election held in the seventh judicial circuit shall receive sufficient votes to cause such candidate or candidates to be elected, but the election of such candidate or candidates would cause more associate judges than herein permitted to reside in any county of said circuit, then and in that event only that candidate or those candidates, as the case may be residing in said county in the order of the votes received shall be declared elected whose election would provide the permitted number of associate judges from said county and the candidate or candidates, as the case may be, residing in some other county, and not similarly disqualified, who shall have the next highest number of votes in said election shall be declared elected. If by reason of such a condition or by reason of an equal vote for two or more candidates a sufficient number of associate judges duly qualified as to residence as above set out should not be elected at any election in said seventh judicial circuit, then it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for such unfilled office or offices.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT PROVIDING FOR JUVENILE COURTS
(Proposed by Chapter 824, Acts of 1941)

An amendment to Article IV of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, adding thereto a new section to be known as Section 39A, to be under new sub-title "Part IV A — Juvenile Courts", and to follow immediately after Section 39 of said Article, providing for the establishment of Juvenile Courts.

39A. A Juvenile Court is hereby created for Baltimore City, and the General Assembly by law may establish a Juvenile Court for any other incorporated city or town or any county of the State. The court hereby created, and any court established hereunder by law, shall be a court of record and shall have exclusive jurisdiction within such city, town or county over all criminal offenses other than those punishable by death or life imprisonment committed by any person under eighteen years of age, and such additional jurisdiction as may be from time to time prescribed by the General Assembly by law. The General Assembly by law shall prescribe, and from time to time may alter,

1. The number, qualifications, tenure and method of selection of the judge or judges of such courts, and their powers, duties and compensation, but the salary or compensation of any judge of any such court shall not be reduced during his continuance in office;

2. The right of appeal from such court;

3. The number, qualifications, tenure, method of selection, duties and compensation of all clerks, bailiffs, probation officers or other employees of such courts; and

4. Any other matters relating to such courts.

In the event of any inconsistency between the provisions of this section and any of the other provisions of this Constitution, the provisions of this Section shall prevail, and such other provisions shall be repealed or abrogated to the extent of such inconsistency, except Section 35A of Article III. Until the General Assembly has established a Juvenile Court for any incorporated city or town or any county of the State, jurisdiction over juvenile causes shall be exercised in the same manner and to the same extent as authorized by the Constitution and laws of this State, in effect prior to the adoption of this Section.

REFERRED LAW
(Proposed by Chapter 172, Acts of 1941)

An Act to repeal and re-enact, with amendments, Sections 80 and 81 of Article 12 of the Code of Public Local Laws of Maryland (1930 Edition) title "Garrett County, sub-title "County Commissioners", relating to the nomination and election of County Commissioners, and known and designated as

CHAPTER 172

80. At the general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November, nineteen hundred and forty-two, there shall be elected three County Commissioners for Garrett County and at every general election in every fourth year thereafter there shall be elected three Commissioners, and said Commissioners so elected shall receive the same compensation as now provided by law.

81. For the purpose of electing County Commissioners, Garrett County shall be divided into three County Commissioners' Districts, as follows:

(1) The first County Commissioners' District shall be composed of the First, Fourth, Tenth, Twelfth and Thirteenth Election Districts.

(2) The second County Commissioners' District shall be composed of the Second, Third, Fifth, Sixth, Ninth, Eleventh and Fifteenth Election Districts.

(3) The third County Commissioners' District shall be composed of the Seventh, Eighth, Fourteenth and Sixteenth Election Districts.

At all future elections for the office of County Commissioner, one Commissioner shall be elected from among the voters residing in each County Commissioners' District by the general vote of the county.

At primary elections to be held in Garrett County at which candidates are selected for the position of County Commissioner, one candidate for each party shall be chosen from each County Commissioners' District by the county-wide vote of the members of the respective parties. The Supervisors of Elections of Garrett County shall place the names of all persons who file papers for the position of County Commissioner upon the ballots to be used by the respective parties in the county. The candidate of each party from each County Commissioners' District who receives the greatest number of votes shall be certified by the Supervisors of Elections as the nominee of the political party to which he belongs, and the name of said nominee shall be placed on the official ballot to be used in the general election.

If the office of any of the County Commissioners becomes vacant during the term, the Governor shall appoint a proper person to fill said vacancy from among the residents of the same Commissioner's District as that in which the former Commissioner resided.

Married Men Are Due For Induction At The End of November

Induction of married men without children who are now classified in 3-A will begin in Maryland in December, according to Col. Henry C. Stanwood, state director of selective service.

He said that by the end of November the supply of 1-A men including those with collateral dependents recently reclassified, would be exhausted. Instructions from Washington concerning draft of married men with children has not yet been received. He said even if Congress passed the present legislation making 18 and 19 year olds eligible for the draft, the induction of married men would not be delayed "more than a few weeks."

POTATOES

A Good Neighbor

Potatoes are a good-neighbor food.

Starting from their native soil in America to the south of us,potatoes have traveled far,, picking up nicknames as they went: Spuds, murphies, 'taters, by whatever name you call them, like true good neighbors, you can count on them through thick and thin.

Potatoes prevented sailors from dying of scurvy, back in the days of long voyages on sailing ships, and helped pave the way to discovery of vitamin C.

Failure of the potato crop once caused famine in Ireland.

With potato flowers pinned to his coat, a French king made potatoes fashionable, so the story goes, and soon all his people were eating these "apples of the earth."

"Spuds" Up To Date

Wherever the potato—sweet or white—grows today it is the outstanding breakfast, dinner, supper vegetable. There are more food values under its brown jacket than we once dreamed of.

Vitamin C, vitamin B1, (thiamin), iron, protein, starch, so reads the list of food on two more counts. They are a good source of carotene, which the body can change into vitamin A. And they have some sugar.

Get The Good From Potatoes

To get the most from your potatoes book them in their jackets.

When you must peel, keep peelings thin. Prized minerals lie close beneath the surface.

Peel potatoes just before you cook them—don't let them soak, or you lose minerals and vitamins.

Store white potatoes in a cool, dark airy place where they won't freeze.

Store sweet potatoes in a dry place where they will not chill.

RECIPES

Potato Hot Pot

One quart sliced, raw potatoes, 1 onion, sliced; 4 tablespoons fat, 3 cups of tomatoes, 2 teaspoons salt, pepper.

Cook the potatoes and onion in the fat for ten minutes. Add the tomatoes, salt and pepper. Cover and simmer for 30 minutes, or until the potatoes are tender and the tomato juice is thickened by the starchy potatoes.

Potato Pancakes

Two cups grated raw potatoes, ¼ cup milk, 1 egg, 2 tablespoons flour, salt, pepper, 1 tablespoon chopped onion.

Put the grated potatoes immediately in the milk to keep them from turning dark. Drain the milk from the potatoes. Add the well-beaten egg to the potatoes, then the flour, and just enough of the milk that was drained off to make a stiff batter. Season with salt, pepper and chopped onion. Drop by large spoonfuls into a well-greased frying pan. Cook the large pancakes until well-browned and crisp. Serve at once.

Potato Chowder

One-fourth cup diced salt pork, 1 onion, chopped; 2 cups diced raw potatoes, 2 cups water, 2 tablespoons flour, 4 cups milk, 2 cups grated carrots or 2 cups cooked corn or 2 cups cooked fish, salt and pepper.

Fry the salt pork until crisp. Cook the onion in the fat until clear and yellow. Add the potatoes and water. Cook until the potatoes are tender. Mix the flour with a little cold milk and add with the rest of the milk to the potato mixture. Cook and stir until slightly thickened. Add carrots, corn or fish. Season, heat and serve.

LAW OFFICES JONES & JONES

John W. McRobie and others, Plaintiffs,
vs.
John C. McRobie and Anita McRobie, his wife; John Barnard, Hallie Barnard and Alfred Barnard, Defendants.
No. 3672 Equity. In the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to procure the passage of a decree for the sale of the real estate of Stella V. McRobie, late of Garrett County, Maryland, deceased, situate in Garrett County, Maryland, and for the distribution of the proceeds therefrom.

The bill states:

That Stella V. McRobie, late of Garrett County, Maryland, was in her lifetime and at the time of her death seized and possessed of a parcel of land, situate in Election District No. 1 of Garrett County, Maryland, containing 39½ acres, and being the same which was conveyed to her by deed from Thomas A. McRobie, widower, dated July 22, 1921, and recorded in Liber E. Z. T., No. 80, folio 322, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, a certified copy of which deed has been filed as "Exhibit No. 1"; that the said Stella V. McRobie, while seized and possessed of the aforesaid real estate departed this life, intestate, at her home in Garrett County, Maryland, on the 23rd day of January, 1942, leaving surviving her as next of kin and heirs at law, to whom said land descended, her husband, John W. McRobie and the following children and grandchildren, to-wit:

David McRobie, a son, who intermarried with Mary McRobie; Carroll F. McRobie, a son, who intermarried with Nellie McRobie; Guy Thomas McRobie, a son, who intermarried with Catherine McRobie; John C. McRobie, a son, who intermarried with Anita McRobie; Virginia June McRobie Adkins, a daughter, who intermarried with Z. C. Adkins; Louise Lucie McRobie Beckman, a daughter, who intermarried with Ray E. Beckman; Beatrice L. McRobie Custer, a daughter, who intermarried with Ray Custer; and the following grandchildren, children of Mabel McRobie Barnard, a deceased daughter, who departed this life on May 13th, 1935: June Barnard Sharpless, a granddaughter, who intermarried with William L. Sharpless; Naomi Barnard Warnick, a granddaughter, who intermarried with Gilbert H. Warnick; Juanita Barnard Tichnell, a granddaughter, who intermarried with William A. Tichnell; Helen Barnard Hoopengardner, a granddaughter, who intermarried with Wilbur S. Hoopengardner; Hallie Barnard, granddaughter, and William E. Barnard; John Barnard; and Alfred Barnard, grandsons, the last four being unmarried; that all the plaintiffs and defendants are of full age with the exception of said Hallie Barnard, John Barnard and Alfred Barnard, who are minors under the age of 21 years; that the said real estate is not susceptible of partition in kind without material loss or injury to the parties entitled to interests therein, and it would be to the advantage of all the said parties to have said property sold and the proceeds derived therefrom divided among them according to their respective rights and interests; that the said John C. McRobie and Anita McRobie, his wife, are non-residents of Garrett County, and the State of Maryland, and their present place of residence is to the plaintiffs unknown; that Hallie Barnard now resides in Prince George's County, Maryland, and the said John Barnard and Alfred Barnard in Baltimore County, Maryland.

The bill then prays for a decree for the sale of said real estate and for the distribution of the proceeds derived therefrom and for general relief.

It is thereupon, this 15th day of October, 1942, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, in Equity, ordered that the plaintiffs by having a copy of this order inserted in some newspaper published in Garrett County, Maryland, once a week for four successive weeks before the 13th day of November, 1942, give notice to the said absent defendants, John C. McRobie and Anita McRobie, his wife, of the object and substance of said bill, warning them to be and apper in this Court in person or by solicitor, on or before the 28th day of November, 1942, to show cause, if any they have, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, Petitioner,
v.
74.34 ACRES OF LAND, MORE OR LESS, IN GARRETT COUNTY, MARYLAND, AND PAUL RICHARD LISTON, ET AL., Defendants.
IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES
FOR THE DISTRICT OF MARYLAND
CIVIL NO. 1643

NOTICE OF CONDEMNATION

I hereby give notice, pursuant to the order of the Honorable W. Calvin Chestnut, United States District Judge, entered in this proceeding on the 9th day of October, 1942, to the following defendants named in the petition for condemnation filed herein, to-wit: Paul Richard Liston, also known as Paul R. Liston; Emma Liston; Mary M. Speelman; Department of Revenue of the State of Maryland; the Register of Wills of Garrett County, Maryland; the County Commissioners of Garrett County; and the State of Maryland; to all non-residents and unknown defendants; and to any and all of the unknown owners; tenants; occupants; claimants; and other persons interested in the land and improvements proposed to be condemned in this proceeding; and any and all of the unknown heirs; spouses; alienees; devisees; claimants; executors; administrators; assigns; or persons claiming in the said land and improvements;

That the petition for condemnation of the United States of America was filed in the above-entitled cause in the United States District Court for the District of Maryland on the 6th day of July, 1942; by Wilmer H. Driver, Special Assistant to the Attorney General; and Joseph McGovern, Jr., Special Attorney, Department of Justice; and that said condemnation proceedings is now pending.

I further give notice to all such parties as may be interested in the land and improvements sought to be condemned herein, or any part thereof, to come forward on or before the 16th day of November, 1942, and file their objections, if any they have, to the proposed condemnation of said land in fee simple, subject to an easement in the public over the road as now located over this parcel, and also subject to that certain private telephone line as now located over and across the hereinafter described parcel of land, together with the buildings, structures, and improvements thereon and appurtenances thereto; and to set forth their several ownerships, claims, interests, titles, estates, rights, or liens, if any, and that they will be adjudicated and forever determined by these proceedings and that the final award for said lands, when paid into the Registry of this Court, will be disposed of as the Court may direct in these proceedings.

The said petition for condemnation recites that pursuant to certain Acts of Congress, the War Department is authorized to acquire on behalf of the United States the land hereinafter described for a public purpose, to-wit: for the prosecution of the Youghiogheny River Reservoir Project and for other public uses. That money appropriated for the purposes and under the terms of such Acts of Congress has been allocated to the War Department for the acquisition of said land; that under and by virtue of the provisions of the Act of Congress approved August 1, 1888 (Chapter 728, Sec. 1, 25 Stat. 357, Title 40, Sec. 257 to 258 inclusive, U. S. C. A.); the Act of Congress dated April 24, 1888 (Chapter 194, 25 Stat. 94); the Act of Congress dated July 18, 1918 (Chapter 155, Sec. 5, 40 Stat. 911); the Act of Congress approved June 22, 1936 (49 Stat. 1570), as amended by an Act of Congress approved June 28, 1938 (Chapter 795, Section 2, 52 Stat. 1215, Title 33, U. S. C. A. Sec. 701c-1); and all other acts or parts of acts supplementary to or mandatory of the said Acts and the War Department has been designated as the acquiring authority for this purpose on behalf of the United States, and that pusuant to law has ascertained that the hereinafter described land is necessary for the public purpose, as aforesaid; that title to the said land should be acquired by condemnation under judicial process, and it has accordingly applied to the Attorney General of the United States to cause such proceedings to be commenced. That the land ascertained and selected for acquisition for the purpose aforesaid is situate in Garrett County, State of Maryland, more specifically described as follows:

All that certain parcel of land situate in No. 2 District, County of Garrett, State of Maryland, bounded and described as follows:

BEGINNING at a point on the Pennsylvania-Maryland State Line, on line of other land of Paul R. Liston (X 1,328,322.1; Y 696,391.7—Maryland State System of Coordinates, Grid North 1 degree 30 minutes west of True North); thence leaving the Pennsylvania-Maryland State Line, through land of Paul Richard Liston, of which this parcel is a part, by 3 lines; S. 25 degrees 59 minutes W., 769.4 feet; S. 46 degrees 53 minutes W., 643.9 feet and S. 66 degrees 37 minutes E., 295.7 feet to a point on line of land of Ada M. PROCLAMATION OF THE GOVERNOR OF MARYLAND DIRECTING THE PUBLICATION OF BILLS PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE.

WHEREAS, at the January session of the General Assembly of Maryland, held in the year 1941, the following Acts were passed, providing for the submission of amendments to the Constitution of the State to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection, namely:

CHAPTER 337

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Amendments to the Constitution", relating to the advertisement or publication of amendments to the Constitution, and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Amendments to the Constitution", the same, if adopted by the legally qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

1. The General Assembly may propose Amendments to this Constitution; provided that each Amendment shall be embraced in a separate Bill, embodying the Article or Section, as the same will stand when amended and passed by three-fifths of all the members elected to each of the two Houses, by yeas and nays, to be entered on the Journals with the proposed Amendment. The Bill or Bills proposing amendment or amendments shall be published by order of the Governor, in at least two newspapers, in each County, where so many may be published, and where not more than one may be published, then in that newspaper, and in three newspapers published in the City of Baltimore, once a week for three weeks immediately preceding the next ensuing general election, at which the proposed amendment or amendments shall be submitted, in a form to be prescribed by the General Assembly, to the qualified voters of the State for adoption or rejection. Provided, however, the General Assembly may provide for publishing any proposed amendment or amendments in pamphlet form, and for making said pamphlets available to the registered voters of the State in addition to publication in the newspapers. The votes cast for and against said proposed amendment or amendments, severally, shall be returned to the Governor, in the manner prescribed in other cases, and if it shall appear to the Governor that a majority of the votes cast at said election on said amendment or amendments, severally, were cast in favor thereof, the Governor shall, by proclamation declare the said amendment or amendments having received said majority of votes, to have been adopted by the people of Maryland as part of the Constitution thereof, and thenceforth said amendment or amendments shall be part of the said Constitution. When two or more amendments shall be submitted in manner aforesaid, to the voters of this State at the same election, they shall be so submitted as that each amendment shall be voted on separately.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That said aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall, at the next general election for members of the General Assembly of Maryland in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State, for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against the said proposed amendment, as directed by said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article 14.

CHAPTER 494

AN ACT to amend Section 21 of Article 4, title "Judiciary Department", sub-title, "Part III—Circuit Courts", of the Constitution of this State, providing for the residential qualification and method of selection of Associate Judges of the Third Judicial Circuit and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of this State for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That if three-fifths of all members elected to each of the two houses concurring) the following new Section be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 21 of Article 4, of the Constitution of Maryland, title "Judiciary Department", sub-title "Part III—Circuit Courts", the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters thereof as herein provided to become Section 21 of Article 4 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

21. For each of the said circuits, excepting the eighth, the second, the third, the sixth and the seventh there shall be a chief judge and two associate judges, to be styled judges of the Circuit Court, to be elected or appointed as herein provided. And no two of said associate judges, for any of the said circuits, except the third, sixth and seventh circuits shall, at the time of their election or appointment or during the term for which they have been elected or appointed, reside in the same county. If two or more persons shall be candidates for associate judge in the same county in any of the circuits, except the third, sixth and seventh circuits, the one only in said county shall be declared elected who has the highest number of votes in the circuit. In case any two candidates for associate judge in any of the circuits, except the third, sixth and seventh circuits, residing in the same county shall have an equal number of votes greater than any other candidates for associate judge in the circuit, it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for one associate judge; but the person residing in any other county of the circuit who has the highest number of votes shall be declared elected. The said judges shall hold not less than two terms of the Circuit Court in each of the counties composing their respective circuits, at such times as are now or may hereafter be prescribed by which jurors shall be summoned; and in those counties where only two such terms are held, two other and intermediate terms, to which jurors shall not be summoned; they may alter or fix the times for holding any or all terms, until otherwise prescribed, and shall adopt rules to the end that all business not requiring the interposition of the jury shall be, as far as practicable, disposed of at such intermediate terms. One judge in each of the above circuits, including the second, the third, sixth and seventh circuits, shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of any business, and the said judges or any of them may hold special terms of their courts, whenever in their discretion the business of the several counties renders such terms necessary.

In the Third Circuit, two of said Associate Judges shall at all times be bona fide residents of Baltimore County and one of said Associate Judges or the Chief Judge be a bona fide resident of Harford County, and said Judges shall have been such residents six months prior to their appointment or election.

The additional associate judge for the second circuit herein provided for shall be a resident of Cecil County, shall be appointed by the Governor after the expiration of six (6) months after the adoption of this amendment and shall serve until the first general election for members of the General Assembly that shall be held in said circuit subsequent to the adoption of this amendment, at which election his successor shall be elected by the qualified voters of Caroline, Cecil, Kent, Queen Anne's and Talbot Counties, constituting the second circuit. The judge so appointed shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit, and the judge so elected shall be subject to the same constitutional provision, hold his office for the same term of years, receive the same compensation, and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit.

The additional judge for the sixth circuit herein provided for and elected by the qualified voters of Frederick and Montgomery Counties at the 1938 election in accordance with the terms of the Constitutional Amendment heretofore submitted and adopted shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the sixth circuit and his successor shall be appointed and/or elected in accordance with the constitutional provisions relating to judges. The Chief Judge may be elected from either Frederick or Montgomery Counties, but when the Chief Judge is elected from Frederick County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said county and the two remaining associate judges shall be residents of Montgomery County and when the Chief Judge is elected from Montgomery County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said Montgomery County and the remaining two associate judges residents of Frederick County. In case any candidate or candidates for associate judge at any judicial election held in the third and sixth judicial circuits shall receive sufficient votes to cause such candidate or candidates to be declared elected, but the election of such candidate or candidates would cause more associate judges than herein permitted to reside in any county of said circuits, then and in that event only that candidate or those candidates, as the case may be, residing in said county in the order of the votes received shall be declared elected whose election would provide the permitted number of associate judges from said county and the candidate or candidates as the case may be, residing in the other county, and not similarly disqualified who shall have the next highest number of votes in said election shall be declared elected. If by reason of such a condition or by reason of an equal vote for two or more candidates a sufficient number of associate judges duly qualified as to residence as above set out should not be elected at any election in said third and sixth judicial circuits, then it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for such unfilled office or offices.

The additional associate judge for the seventh circuit herein provided for shall be appointed by the Governor immediately after the adoption of this amendment and shall serve until the first general election for members of the General Assembly that shall be held in said circuit subsequent to the adoption of this amendment, at which election his successor shall be elected by the qualified voters of Prince George's, Charles, Calvert and St. Mary's Counties. No member of the General Assembly of 1939, otherwise qualified, shall be ineligible for appointment or election as such associate judge by reason of his membership in the General Assembly. The judges so appointed shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the seventh circuit, and the judge so elected and his successors shall, subject to the same constitutional provisions, hold office for the same term of years, receive the same compensation, and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the seventh circuit. Not two of the associate judges for the seventh circuit shall at the time of their election or appointment or during the term for which they may have been elected or appointed to reside in the same county, except in Prince George's County, in which county two of said associate judges for the said circuit shall reside at the time of their appointment or election and during the term for which they may have been appointed or elected unless the chief judge of said circuit shall already reside in said county, in which event only one of said associate judges shall reside in Prince George's County and Prince George's County shall at all time have two resident Judges and no more, such Judges to be either the Chief Judge of the Seventh Circuit and one associate Judge or two associate Judges of said Circuit. In case any candidate or candidates for associate judge at any judicial election held in the seventh judicial circuit shall receive sufficient votes to cause such candidate or candidates to be elected, but the election of such candidate or candidates would cause more associate judges than herein permitted to reside in any county of said circuit, then and in that event only that candidate or those candidates, as the case may be, residing in said county in the order of the votes received shall be declared elected whose election would provide the permitted number of associate judges from said county and the candidate or candidates, as the case may be, residing in some other county, and not similarly disqualified, who shall have the next highest number of votes in said election shall be declared elected. If, by reason of such a condition or by reason of an equal vote for two or more candidates a sufficient number of associate judges duly qualified as to residence as above set out should not be elected at any election in said seventh judicial circuit, then it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for such unfilled office or offices.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State shall be, at the next general election to be held in this State in the year 1942, submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of this State, and at the said general election, the vote on the said proposed amendment shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment" as now prescribed by law, and immediately after said election, due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment as directed by said Article 14 of the Constitution.

CHAPTER 509

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 45 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", relating to the salary of Clerks of Courts and Registrars of Wills and providing for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the Two Houses concurring), That the following amendment be and it is hereby proposed to Section 45 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department" the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Section 45 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland:

45. The General Assembly shall provide a simple and uniform system of charges in the offices of Clerks of Courts and Registrars of Wills, in the Counties of this State and the City of Baltimore, and for the collection thereof; provided, the amount of compensation to any of the said officers in the various Counties and in the City of Baltimore shall be such as may be prescribed by law.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing Section, hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State, shall, at the election to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, upon each ballot there shall be printed the words: "For Constitutional Amendment" and "Against Constitutional Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against proposed amendment, as directed by said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article 14

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland title "Legislative Department" by adding a new section to be known as Section 10B, providing for the taking of property by the State Roads Commission under certain circumstances; and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members elected to each of the two Houses concurring) That the following new Section be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Article III, title "Legislative Department" of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, the same to be inserted after Section 10A and to be numbered 10B, and if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, said section shall become a part of Article III of the Constitution of Maryland.

10B. The General Assembly shall enact no law authorizing private property to be taken for public use without just compensation, to be agreed upon between the parties or awarded by a jury, being first paid or tendered to the party entitled to such compensation, except that where such property in the judgment of the State Roads Commission is needed by the State for highway purposes, the General Assembly may provide that such property may be taken immediately upon payment therefor to the owner or owners thereof by said State Roads Commission, or into Court, such amount as said State Roads Commission shall estimate to be of the fair value of said property, provided such legislation also requires the payment of any further sum that may subsequently be awarded by a jury.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the foregoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland, shall, at the election to be held in November, 1942, be submitted to legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of the directions contained in Article XIV of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot and upon each ballot shall be printed the words "FOR CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT" and "AGAINST CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment as directed by said Article XIV. (Approved: April 28, 1941.)

CHAPTER 695

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 15 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", regulating the period that General Assembly may continue its session and compensation of the members thereof, and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following amendment be and it is hereby proposed to Section 15 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", the same, if adopted by the legally qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Section 15 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

15. The General Assembly may continue its session so long as in its judgment the public interest may require, for a period not longer than ninety days; and each member thereof shall receive a compensation of One Thousand Dollars ($1,000) per annum, payable quarterly, with a deduction of fifteen dollars per diem for each day of unexcused absence from any session; and he shall also receive such mileage as may be allowed by law, not exceeding twenty cents per mile; and the presiding officer of each House shall receive an additional compensation of Two hundred and fifty ($250) dollars per annum. When the General Assembly shall be convened by Proclamation of the Governor, the session shall not continue longer than thirty days, but no additional compensation other than mileage and other allowances provided by law shall be paid members of the General Assembly for Special Sessions.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That said aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amend

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT CHAPTER 494

To amend Section 21 of Article 4, title "Judiciary Department," sub-title Part III—Circuit Courts," of the Constitution of this State, providing for the residential qualification and method of selection of Associate Judges in the Third Judicial Circuit.

21. For each of said Circuits, excepting the eighth, the second, the third, the sixth and the seventh, there shall be a chief judge and two associate judges, to be styled Judges of the Circuit Court, to be selected or appointed as herein provided, and for the second circuit, the third circuit, the sixth circuit, and the seventh circuit, there shall be a chief judge and three associate judges to be styled Judges of the Circuit Court, to be elected or appointed as herein provided. And no two of said associate judges, for any of the said circuits, except the third, sixth and seventh circuits shall, at the time of their election or appointment or during the term for which they may have been elected or appointed, reside in the same county. If two or more persons shall be candidates for associate judge in the same county in any of the circuits, except the 3rd, 6th and 7th circuits, that one only in said county shall be declared elected who has the highest number of votes in the circuit. In case any two candidates for associate judge in any of the circuits, except the third, sixth and seventh circuits, residing in the same county shall have an equal number of votes greater than any other candidates for associate judge in the circuit, it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for one associate judge; but the person residing in any other county of the circuit and who has the highest number of votes shall be declared elected. The said judges shall hold not less than two terms of the Circuit Court in each of the counties composing their respective circuits, at such times as are now or may hereafter be prescribed to which jurors shall be summoned; and in those counties where only two such terms are held, two other and intermediate terms, to which jurors shall not be summoned; they may alter or fix the times for holding any or all terms, until otherwise prescribed, and shall adopt rules to the end that all business not requiring the interposition of the jury shall be ,as far as practicable, disposed of at such intermediate terms. One judge in each of the above circuits, including the second, the third, sixth and seventh circuits, shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of any business, and the said judges or any of them may hold special terms of their courts, whenever in their discretion the business of the several counties renders such terms necessary.

In the Third Circuit, two of said Associate Judges shall at all times be bonafide residents of Baltimore County and one of said Associate Judges or the Chief Judge be a bona fide resident of Harford County, and said Judges shall have been such residents six months prior to their appointment or election.

The additional associate judge for the second circuit herein provided for shall be a resident of Cecil County, shall be appointed by the Governor after the expiration of six (6) months after the adoption of this amendment and shall serve until the first general election for members of the General Assembly that shall be held in said circuit subsequent to the adoption of this amendment, at which election his successor shall be elected by the qualified voters of Caroline, Cecil, Kent, Queen Anne's and Talbot Counties, constituting the second circuit. The judge so appointed shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit, and the judge so elected shall be subject to the same constitutional provision, hold his office for the same term of years, receive the same compensation, and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit.

The additional judge for the sixth circuit herein provided for and elected by the qualified voters of Frederick and Montgomery Counties at the 1938 election in accordance with the terms of the Constitutional Amendment heretofore submitted and adopted shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the sixth circuit and his successor shall be appointed and/or elected in accordance with the contitutional provisions relating to judges. The Chief Judge may be elected from either Frederick or Montgomery Counties, but when the Chief Judge is elected from Frederick County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said county and the two remaining associate judges shall be residents of Montgomery County and when the Chief Judge is elected from Montgomery County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said Montgomery County and the remaining two associate judges residents of Frederick County. In case any candidate or candidates for associate judge at any judicial election held in the third and sixth judicial circuits shall receive sufficient votes to cause such candidate or candidates to be declared elected, but the election of such candidate or candidates would cause more associate judges than herein permitted to reside in any county of said circuits, then and in that event only that candidate or those candidates, as the case may be, residing in said county in the order of the votes received shall be declared elected whose election would provide the permitted number of associate judges from said county and the candidate or candidates as the case may be, residing in the other county, and not similarly disqualified who shall have the next highest number of votes in said election shall be declared elected. If by reason of such a condition or by reason of an equal vote for two or more candidates a sufficient number of associate judges duly qualified as to residence as above set out should not be elected at any election in said third and sixth judicial circuits, then it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for such unfilled office or offices.

The additional associate judge for the seventh circuit herein provided for shall be appointed by the Governor immediately after the adoption of this amendment and shall serve until the first general election for members of the General Assembly that shall be held in said circuit subsequent to the adoption of this amendment, at which election his successor shall be elected by the qualified voters of Prince George's, Charles, Calvert and St. Mary's Counties. No member of the General Assembly of 1939 otherwise qualified, shall be ineligible for appointment or election as such associate judge by reason of his membership in the General Assembly. The judge so appointed shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the seventh circuit, and the judge so elected and his successors shall,subject to the same constitutional provisions hold office for the same term of years, receive the same compensation, and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the seventh circuit. No two of the associate judges for the seventh circuit shall at the time of their election or appointment or during the term for which they may have been elected or appointed reside in the same county, except in Prince George's County, in which county two of said associate judges for the said circuit shall reside at the time of their appointment or election and during the term for which they may have been appointed or elected unless the chief judge of said circuit shall already reside in said county, in which event only one of said associate judges shall reside in Prince George's County and Prince George's County shall at all times have two resident judges and no more, such judges to be either the Chief Judge of the seventh circuit and one associate judge or two associate judges of said Circuit. In case any candidate or candidates for associate judge at any judicial election held in the seventh judicial circuit shall receive sufficient votes to cause such candidate or candidates to be elected, but the election of such candidate or candidates would cause more associate judges than herein permitted to reside in any county of said circuit, then and in that event only that candidate or those candidates, as the case may be residing in said county in the order of the votes received shall be declared elected whose election would provide the permitted number of associate judges from said county and the candidate or candidates, as the case may be, residing in some other county, and not similarly disqualified, who shall have the next highest number of votes in said election shall be declared elected. If by reason of such a condition or by reason of an equal vote for two or more candidates a sufficient number of associate judges duly qualified as to residence as above set out should not be elected at any election in said seventh judicial circuit, then it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for such unfilled office or offices.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT CHAPTER 337

An amendment to Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Amendments to the Constitution", relating to the advertisement or publication of amendments to the Constitution.

1. The General Assembly may propose Amendments to this Constitution; provided that each Amendment shall be embraced in a separate Bill, embodying the Article or Section, as the same will stand when amended and passed by three-fifths of all the members elected to each of the two Houses, by yeas and nays, to be entered on the Journals with the proposed Amendment. The Bill or Bills proposing amendment or amendments shall be published by order of the Governor, in at least two newspapers, in each county, where so many may be published, and where not more than one may be published, then in that newspaper, and in three newspapers published in the City of Baltimore, once a week for three weeks immediately preceding the next ensuing general election, at which the proposed amendment or amendments shall be submitted, in a form to be prescribed by the General Assembly, to the qualified voters of the State for adoption or rejection. Provided, however, the General Assembly may provide for publishing any proposed amendment or amendments in pamphlet form, and for making said pamphlets available to the registered voters of the State in addition to publication in the newspapers. The votes cast for and against said proposed amendment or amendments, severally, shall be returned to the Governor, in the manner prescribed in other cases, and if it shall appear to the Governor that a majority of the votes cast at said election on said amendment or amendments, severally, were cast in favor thereof, the Governer shall, by his proclamation, declare the said amendment or amendments having received said majority of votes, to have been adopted by the people of Maryland as part of the Constitution thereof, and thenceforth said amendment or amendments shall be part of the said Constitution. When two or more amendments shall be submitted in manner aforesaid, to the voters of this State at the same election, they shall be so submitted as that each amendment shall be voted on separately.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT CHAPTER 695

An amendment to Section 15 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", regulating the period that the General Assembly many continue its session and the compensation of the members thereof.

15. The General Assembly may continue its session so long as in its judgment the public interest may require, for a period not longer than ninety days; and each member thereof shall receive a compensation of One Thousand Dollers ($1,000) per annum, payable quarterly, with a deduction of fifteen dollars ($15.00) per diem for each day of unexcused absence from any session; and he shall also receive such mileage as may be allowed by law, not exceeding twenty cents per mile; and the presiding officer of each House shall receive an additional compensation of Two Hundred and fifty ($250.00) dollars per annum. When the General Assembly shall be convened by Proclamation of the Governor, the session shall not continue longer than thirty days, but no additional compensation other than mileage and other allowances provided by law shall be paid members of the General Assembly for Special Sessions.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT CHAPTER 716

An amendment to Article 38 of the Declaration of Rights of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, relating to gifts, devises and other transfers to or for certain preachers and religious sects, orders or denominations.

38. The Legislature may by law regulate, restrict or require its sanction for gifts, devises or other transfer of property to or for the benefit of any minister, public teacher or preacher of the Gospel, as such, or any religious sect, order or denomination.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT CHAPTER 607

An amendment to Article III of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", by adding a new section to be known as Section 40B, providing for the taking of property by the State Roads Commission under certain circumstances.

40B. The General Assembly shall enact no law authorizing private property to be taken for public use without just compensation, to be agreed upon between the parties or awarded by a jury, being first paid or tendered to the party entitled to such compensation, except that where such property in the judgment of the State Roads Commission is needed by the State for highway purposes, the General Assembly may provide that such property may be taken immediately upon payment therefor to the owner or owners thereof by said State Roads Commission or into Court, such amount as said State Roads Commission shall estimate to be of the fair value of said property, provided such legislation also requires the payment of any further sum that may subsequently be awarded by a jury.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT CHAPTER 509

Revival at Loch Lynn Baptist Church Beginning November 8

The Mountain Lake Park Baptist church will conduct revival and evangelistic meetings Sunday, November 8, through Sunday, November 22. The pastor, Rev. B. Finney Bragg, will lead the meetings and Lee Rodeheaver will direct the singing.

The revival will open with an all-day meeting, and each Sunday will be known as Victory Sunday. The evening service, with Dr. Joseph T. Watts, general secretary for Maryland Baptist, as guest speaker, will be given over to the presenting of gifts to pay off the church indebtedness, complete the basement and redecorate the auditorium.

The pastor will preach nightly at 7:45 o'clock throughout the meeting.

Farm for Sale!

About 20 acres, with nice six-room House; also enough lumber to build nice Barn. This property was part of the Deer Park Golf Course; has been limed and fertilized and the grass is now knee high; would make a nice chicken farm or a nice home.

You don't have to have all the money. Easy terms. See me right away. Am going to sell.

YOUR LAYING MASH HAS FIVE BIG JOBS TO DO

1. It must supply the material for the hen's daily bodily repairs.
2. It must furnish energy.
3. It must furnish heat.
4. It must supply raw material for growth.
5. It must supply raw material for eggs.

DOES your present mash do all five jobs efficiently and economically?

Southern States Laying Mashes do because the formulas are based on scientific research in state colleges and experiment stations and on thousands of farms. High quality ingredients, carefully balanced, supply the raw materials for growth, health and egg-making. There are 4 different mashes—you can pick the one exactly fitted to your needs. TOUGH
About Winning This Time

On the production line, on the farms, in big and little businesses, public institutions, and the homes of America, Uncle Sam is laying a restraining and tightening hand to prevent waste of vital energy and materials that would prolong the war and make the winning of it doubtful for us. More and more restrictions may be anticipated. We all must accept them as our direct contribution toward Victory—without which nothing we have would be worth a dime!

Electricity Is Not Being Rationed

Thus far there has been no Government-directed restriction on the uses of electricity. We do not anticipate that there will be. Thus we can say to our customers that they may have all they want and need, but without deliberate waste! With longer evenings coming, use your electric lights to save your precious eyesight. Use your appliances to lighten household work. Use your radio to keep abreast of developments on the world's many war fronts and to bring you entertainment. Use all these things, take good care of them, and they'll see you—and Uncle Sam—through to Victory.

DIED

MRS. JAMES POLLOCK, SR.

Mrs. Harriett Fairall Pollock, widow of James L. Pollock, Sr., died at the home of her son James Pollock, on Sunday evening about 9:30 o'clock, as the result of a heart attack. She was aged 70 years.

Mrs. Pollock had attended church services in the morning and had spent the day and early part of the evening with her sisters in the downtown area.

The deceased was a daughter of the late Dr. Edward H. and Harriet Fairall Bartlett and was born in Oakland, April 3, 1872. She spent her entire lifetime in this town, where she was active in church and civic affairs for many years.

She was a member of St. Matthew's Episcopal church and president of St. Matthew's guild for several years and for a long time had charge of the annual lawn fetes held under that organization's auspices. She was also president of the Oakland Civic club over twenty years ago. Mrs. Pollock was also a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Surviving are two sons, Edward B. Pollock, Philadelphia, Pa., and James L. Pollock, Jr., of Oakland; seven grandchildren; also three sisters and one brother, Miss Carrie Bartlett, Mrs. William L. Gibson, Mrs. Gracia Hinebaugh, and Harper Bartlett, all of Oakland. Her husband died eight months ago.

Funeral services were conducted this morning at 10 o'clock from the Episcopal church with Rev. H. Kearney Jones, the rector, officiating. Interment will be in the Episcopal cemetery.

MRS. MARY C. MILLER

Funeral services were conducted last Wednesday afternoon, October 21, for Mrs. Mary Cathrine Miller, who died Sunday, October 18, at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ray E. Mosser, Red House, with whom she had made her home since the death of her husband, Samuel F. Miller, nineteen years ago.

Mrs. Miller was born near Mt. Pleasant, Pa., June 24, 1862, a daughter of the late James and Sarah Coffman. She was united in marriage to Mr. Miller, March 11, 1880. To this union were born two sons and three daughters. One son preceded her in death. Surviving are Ira C. Miller, Mrs. George Martin, Mrs. Hervey Roth, Mrs. Ray Mosser, and six grandchildren, four great grandchildren, all of Oakland and vicinity; one sister, Mrs. W. O. Barkley, Acme, Pa.

Funeral rites were conducted from the Maple Spring Church of the Brethren, of which she was a member, with Rev. Emra Fike and Rev. Ezra Fike officiating.

Pallbearers were her nephews, Jesse Ritenour, Russell Ritenour, Edward Miller, Carl Stauffer, Samuel Coffman, James Barkley.

Attending the services from a distance were Mrs. W. O. Barkley, Mr. and Mrs. James Barkley, Acme, Pa.; Samuel Ritenour, Jesse Ritenour, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Ritenour, Mrs. William Ruffner, Mrs. Tom Burkholder, all of Greensburg, Pa.; Mrs. Ida Coffman, Samuel Coffman, Mrs. John Shamar, Melcroft, Pa.; Mrs. Ralph Hostetler, Mt. Pleasant, Pa.; Mrs. Clyde Lowman, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Miller and son, Mrs. Cora Hess, near Uniontown, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Stauffer, Carl Stauffer, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Mrs. Keith Burkholder, Mrs. William Vavanaugh, Scottdale, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Mowery, Mrs. Laura Terwilliger, Mrs. S. E. Solomon, Champion, Pa.; and Mrs. Iva Dumbaul, Connellsville, Pa.

MRS. W. THOMPSON BURCH

Mrs. Sally Howard Burch, aged 70, widow of Dr. W. Thompson Burch, former prominent physician of Washington, D. C., died at her summer home at Loch Lynn Heights on Monday morning, October 26, at 4:45 o'clock. She had been ill since May.

She was born in Duchess county, N. Y., May 12, 1872, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Howard. She had been coming to Mt. Lake Park and Loch Lynn for more than thirty years, having first come as a guest at the Loch Lynn hotel in 1910. She built her summer home in Loch Lynn in 1917.

Surviving are two daughters and one son, Mrs. T. C. Erwin, Jr., Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. William Neal McCord, Washington, D. C.; William T. Burch, San Diego, Cal.; two grandsons, and two sisters, Mrs. Charles Morton, Jersey City, N. J.; and Mrs. John Wagner, Corvallis, Mont. Her husband died in 1923.

Short funeral services were held Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock from the home, and the remains were taken to Washington on Wednesday, where interment was made in Oak Hill cemetery.

Mrs. Burch was a member of the Episcopal church.

RICHARD HERBERT NETHKIN

Funeral services were conducted Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock for Richard Herbert Nethkin, 65, who died in Oakland on Wednesday night, October 21. He had been in ill health for some time.

He was a son of the late Meshach Alfred and Sarah Ann Nethkin and was born in this county June 15, 1877.

Surviving are three sisters and four brothers, William Francis Nethkin, Buckhannon, W. Va.; Abel Steven Nethkin, Keyser, W. Va.; James Lloyd Nethkin, Upshur county, W. Va.; Meshach A. Nethkin, Columbus, Ga.; Mrs. Mary Florence Gillespie, Upshur county, W. Va.; Mrs. Jennie V. Hawkins, Buckhannon; and Mrs. Cecelia Hawkins, of California.

Services Saturday were from the Paradise church near Sand Flat with Rev. J. C. Foster, U. B. minister of Mt. Lake Park, officiating. Interment was in the Paradise cemetery.

NATHANIEL KNOX

Nathaniel Knox, of the McComas Beach section of Deep Creek Lake, died last Thursday night, October 22, about 11:45 o'clock.

He was born in this county on November 19, 1874, a son of the late Joseph E. and Sarah E. Green Knox, and was aged 67 years, 11 months and 3 days. He had been a member of the Pentecostal tabernacle for eighteen years.

Surviving are his wife and thirteen children, Emerson Knox, Edward Knox, Daniel Knox, Harland Knox, Yoder Knox and Jonas Knox, all of near Oakland; Layman Knox, Berwyn; Mrs. Norah Fike, Deer Park; Mrs. Mary Tusing, Oakland; Miss Elsie Knox, Swanton; Mrs. Alta Ash, Accident; Mrs. Alice Bowman, McHenry; and Miss Genevieve Knox, near Oakland; also twenty-three grandchildren; two brothers, Hezekiah Knox, Vindex; Ephraim Knox, Deer Park; and three sisters, Mrs. Mollie Blackburn and Mrs. Rebekah Freet, Dayton, O.; and Mrs. Zelphia Friend, Deer Park.

Funeral services were conducted on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Sand Flat Tabernacle with Rev. Carroll Skipper officiating. Interment was in the Thayerville cemetery.

GOVERNOR

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT
ANNAPOLIS, MARYLAND

September 14, 1942

Mr. Bernard I. Gonder,
Oakland, Maryland.

Dear Mr. Gonder:

I am writing to state how gratified I am at the splendid vote you received in the Democratic Primary last Tuesday, which will place you on the ticket as the nominee of the Party for State Senator.

In my opinion the people of Garrett County can do no better than to send you to the State House as their representative in the upper house of the General Assembly. You possess the sound judgment, experience, and devotion to public duty which is to be desired in public officials. At this critical time in our history, many important matters will be presented for action in the State Senate and a man of your independence and substance is needed to assist in the various undertakings.

I hope you may be elected and I assure you that I will be delighted to work in close cooperation with you in the interest of Garrett County and of the entire State.

With every good wish, I am,

Yours For Victory!

Governor

BERNARD I. GONDER

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR
STATE SENATOR

TO THE CITIZENS OF GARRETT COUNTY:

Four years ago, by our combined efforts, and your support, I made a grand run for the State Senate, falling short only 170 votes of being elected. I am again a candidate for this most important office, and your influence and support will be most graciously received by me at the coming election, November 3rd.

If I am elected to this important office, you may expect and will receive from me, above all an Absolutely Honest Administration.

I will use the major portion of my time while at the State Capitol to accomplish something of really worthwhile benefit for Garrett County.

I will represent not a few of the people but all of the people of our County.

Garrett County has been shamefully neglected in the past in the State Legislature, and it is time that we awaken to this fact. We cannot expect to accomplish our fair share of legislation beneficial to our County, until we send representatives who are able to work with the party in power.

I am not a newcomer, unknown to the voters, I, as well as all of my immediate family, was born and raised in Garrett County. I have been actively engaged in business for the past 20 years, I know the needs of our county, and I will do all within my power to see that Garrett County is better known in the State of Maryland, for its natural resources, wonderful farm lands, and above all its marvelous scenery and possibilities as a recreation center and summer resort.

It is high time Garrett County be known and considered as an integral part of the State of Maryland in so far as beneficial legislation is concerned and it is my purpose, if elected, to see that this is accomplished.

Let us all boost Garrett County.

Sincerely yours,
BERNARD I. GONDER.

Land of Smiling People . .

A college professor asked Alexander Kerensky, the Russian, the following question: "What is the thing in America that impressed you most when you first came here?"

"That is easy," was Kerensky's answer. "In America the people smile."

Americans smile because they are free. There are no Gestapos to fear; no firing squad to shoot them down if they want to listen to their radios. They can worship God according to the dictates of their conscience. They can put into office the men they want to govern them.

Americans smile because in America human personality is supreme. The aim of democracy is to help the individual to grow and to give him an opportunity to attain happiness and success.

Americans smile because they have hope. The future is agleam with promise. They can have their families, their gardens, their homes, their dreams . . . and they can make many of those dreams come true.

Totalitarian countries have governments that are "of the state, by the state and for the state." That's why life is hard and cruel.

In America we have a government that is "of the people; by the people and for the people." That's why we smile.

Today we are fighting to keep America a land of smiling people. —The Silver Lining.

PLANS REVEALED FOR RATION OF GAS IN COUNTY

Registration Will Be Conducted Through Schools Second Week In Nov., F. E. Rathbun Says

Announcement has been made by Mr. John W. Studebaker, U. S. Commissioner of Education, Washington, D. C., in a letter received by F. E. Rathbun, County Superintendent of Schools, that a nation-wide mileage rationing of gasoline will be put into effect November 22nd. The plans call for the registration for gasoline purposes to be conducted through the schools of this country, the dates for registration are Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, November 9th, 10th and 11th. One of these three days will likely be selected and announced later for Garrett county, since it is felt that one day will be sufficient for the purposes with later opportunities, Mr. Rathbun said.

The rationing will be under the direction of the Office of Civilian Defense Organization and its local centers, along with Price Administration Regional and State Rationing Administrators, and through National and County Rationing Boards.

The gasoline consumers are to appear during the day or days set at the designated public school nearest the applicant's residence and such applicants will receive a basic ration book upon presentation of his Tire Inventory Inspection Record. All ration books, except the basic one, will be issued by the local War Price and Rationing Board. The application blanks for obtaining these books can be obtained at the time and place of the registration.

Dr. Thomas G. Pullen, Jr., State Superintendent of Schools, Baltimore, has written a letter to Superintendent Rathbun, giving his approval of this Gasoline Rationing Program and requests all school authorities and teachers to cooperate in the success of these gasoline rationing plans.

MARRIED

MOON-FOX—Mr. and Mrs. Martin J. Fox, Kempton, announce the marriage of their daughter, Emily Freda, to Louis M. Moon, of Bayard, W. Va., on October 23, in the Methodist church at Mt. Lake Park. Rev. S. R. Simpson, Gormania, W. Va., performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Moon is a graduate of Kempton high school and received her bachelor of science degree at Waynesburg, Pa., class of 1942. She is a member of the Kitzmiller high school faculty.

Mr. Moon is a graduate of Bayard high school and is now a petty officer, third class, United States Navy.

LYONS—COMPTON—Miss Marilyn Edwana Compton, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Compton, Oakland, and James Lyons, son of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Lyons, of Uniontown, Pa., were married in Grantsville on Saturday afternoon October 24, at 4:30 o'clock by the Rev. V. R. Gillum, Methodist minister. The couple was attended by Miss Margaret Leighton and Robert Bittle, of Oakland.

Both the bride and bridegroom are graduates of Oakland High school, class of 1942. Following a brief visit in Uniontown and Baltimore, the groom will return to Portsmouth, Va., where he is a first class apprentice in the Norfolk Naval Hospital. The bride will return to her home in Oakland for the duration of the war.

Flood damage to state and county roads during the recent flood totaled $61,650, according to State Roads commission.

Story Tells of Two "Forgotten Men" As War Front Mechanics

Foreign Correspondent Says Bill Spiker, Oakland, Lucky to Get 22 Hours of Sleep Each Week

A Chicago Daily News foreign Service correspondent, George Weller, has sent to this country an interesting story of two men serving with the armed forces in New Guinea, and one of them is William E. Spiker, of Oakland, a "war front mechanic."

The story is from "Somewhere in Australia" under date of October 24, and is as follows:

"In the withered brown grass around the sun-drenched New Guinea airdrome from which American B-26 Marauder bombers take off from Japanese fields, sit two grimy-handed, greasy-haired men, cross-legged like Buddhas. This is their two or three hours of repose. They have learned to sleep sitting up and can practically eat at the same time.

"It is two forgotten men, Sgt. William H. Spiker, Oakland; and Sgt. Charles Fugua, Lafayette, Ind. It is a big day for Spiker and Fuqua when they can have four whole hours' sleep. During the intensive raids upon Salamaua and Lae recently, Spiker averaged 22 hours' sleep weekly, mostly right there in the grass.

Fatigue Slant Eyes

"They sit there as the last B-26 whirls around into position for the takeoff, fans her propellers and covers them once more with the umpteenth layer of brown, New Guinea dust, and finally sets off down the runway.

"For as long as the raid lasts, nobody will be asking them to inspect any more B-26's, thank God. Their eyes are so slanted by fatigue and the effort to keep them open that they look almost oriental.

"They eat bread covered with jam and jam covered with dust. Nobody ever speaks to them unless something goes wrong, then everybody howls. If machine-guns jam, if a tire blows out, if a propeller pitch won't sharpen, somebody yells for Spiker and Fuqua.

Run for Jeep

"When Jap bombers come over Spiker and Fuqua run and grab their own battered jeep before anybody else can get it. Hardly have they dived into the front seat when the rear metal panels are covered with colored boys originally from everywhere from Harlem to Mobile, who have prudently forsaken their big bomb carriages and are aiming to make safety the fustest with the mostest men. Their jeep starts off with their swaying colored comrades holding each other together with arms over shoulders.

"Once upon the safety of the remote hills, the passengers unload, peering skyward. The dark soldiers watch the raiders come over. Spiker and Fuqua are likelier to find the new period of restful raiding too good to be missed. They are the only people who welcome equally raids by either side. For it gives them another chance to lie down in the sunbaked, dusty grass—and sleep.

"Bill Spiker was 28 years old on October 24. He enlisted in May, 1941, in the army air corps and trained at Langley Field, Va., and later at Bangor, Maine. He was graduated from a Mechanics' school in New York and left the United States January 9, 1942. He arrived May 2, in Australia. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Dice Spiker, two miles south of town, and after graduating from Oakland High school in 1932, was employed in the Ray Teets garage for seven years as mechanic.

"He was recently promoted to the rank of staff sergeant."

The well dressed man this fall can be outfitted for $53.63, minus topcoat.

TWENTY-FIVE ADDED TO LOCAL MINUTE MEN UNIT

Forty-five Are Now Enrolled In Company, With Twenty Having Already Been Sworn Into The Service

With twenty-five additional men signifying their intention this week to become members of the Oakland company of the Maryland Minute Men, there is every evidence that there will be at least one full-strength organization of 56 men by next Monday, the time set for the next meeting.

Twenty men were sworn in last Monday evening, October 19, by Capt. J. Philip Roman, and since that time twenty-five more have signed up but have not yet been sworn into the service. This will probably be done at the next drill period on Monday evening at the Ralph Pritts garage, according to H. C. Riggs, who has assisted in the organization of the unit here.

The new recruits are Ward Hinebaugh, F. D. Bittle, John Khare, Howard Naylor, Kirk Cosner, Robert Sincell, Louis E. Finke, Alva Gortner, Edward C. Lawrence, Charles H. McIntire, E. G. Schmidt, Clinton Shaffer, Clyde Shipley, Edward W. Krause, Irvin R. Rudy, Jr., Simon Cogley, Calvin Stark, Rodney McKinney, Bernard Gonder, Jr., Robert Hart, Bill Treacy, Kenneth Biser, John Murphy, Jr., and Stanley Stahl. The minimum strength of a company is forty men.

Two drill periods were held this week and each week until further notice meetings will be held Monday and Wednesday evenings at 8:00 o'clock at the Pritts Garage.

With Our Men In the Service

Among the eleven men who joined the United States Army in Cumberland on Monday was Donald M. Evans, of Oakland.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Callis, Loch Lynn Heights, recently heard from their son, Pvt. Willoughby Callis, who is in a unit of the field artilery in the Southwest Pacific area. He was inducted January 15 and left this country May 27.

First Lieutenant Foster O. Speicher, stationed at Camp Tyson, Tennessee, is returning to his base this evening after having spent a five day leave with Mrs. Speicher and their daughter at Friendsville. Lieut. Speicher has just completed special service instruction in the barrage balloon section of the U. S. Army, graduating with the eleventh class of officers in this division.

Lieutenant George Kerins, Jr., stationed in England, is now statistical officer of A-1 personnel, war bond office, and Class A finance officer in the Army Air force, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Kerins, of Oakland, have been informed. While preparing to be an officer Lieut. Kerins attended Harvard business school.

* * *

James Helbig, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Helbig, has completed his preliminary training in the U. S. Navy at the Naval Training school, Norfolk, Va., and was home for a few days last week.

* * *

Among those enlisting yesterday at the Cumberland army recruiting station was William J. Martin, of Grantsville. He was assigned to the air corps at Sacramento, Calif.

* * *

Relatives of William Kahl, who was taken prisoner in China immediately after Pearl Harbor, as a member of the U. S. Marine corps detachment in that country, have heard from him in recent days. He has been moved to a new prison location and is said to be allowed to write to his relatives here. He is a son of Albert Kahl and Mrs. Ruth Kahl, Oakland.

Miss Grace Jones to Work in Two Counties As Physio-Therapist

Miss Grace Jones, physio-therapist of this county, will spend two or three days a week in Allegany County, as successor to Miss Elma Lee Georg, with the county league for crippled children. Miss Georg recently joined the Duke Medical unit at Fort Bragg, N. C.

Miss Jones will take over her additional duties in this county about November 15.

Urgent Plea Made For More "Spotters"

An urgent plea for more volunteer women spotters for the air raid warning system in Oakland, was made this morning by Irvin Rudy, member of the American Legion committee in charge of the spotter station here.

"The spotter station is now ready to operate but there have not been enough volunteers," Mr. Rudy pointed out. "This work is very important and I would like to impress upon every person the value of offering assistance in the war effort at home," he said.

The duties of the spotters are to report all planes seen or heard, to a control center in Baltimore, for the protection of other towns in the area. Other spotter posts would serve as protection for Oakland.

More men and young men and women are also eligible to serve in the capacity of a spotter, it was stated. Those wishing to volunteer may make their application at any one of the following places: City hall, Hesen's garage, Rudy's store, Ray Teets' garage.

Named Assistant Field Director In American Red Cross

Charles L. Briner, Jr., who has been with the U. S. Employment Service bureau in Oakland, has received notice of his appointment as an assistant field director in recreation in the American Red Cross, and following a short training period in this country, will be sent on foreign service.

Mr. Briner will leave Sunday evening for Washington, D. C., to begin his training course.

Mr. Briner has been a member of the State Unemployment Compensation Board and the Maryland Employment service since January, 1938, and has been in the Oakland office since September, 1940. He is president of the Oakland Junior Chamber of Commerce and has been its head since its organization almost two years ago. He tendered his resignation last night.

Prior to coming to Oakland Mr. Briner had much experience in singing and entertaining in night clubs and over the radio, and his work will include recreation and entertainment.

Briner's wife is the former Clara Bell Hamill. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Briner, reside in Johnstown, Pa.

He is the second person to enter Red Cross foreign service from here. Robert Stemple was made a field director two weeks ago and is now in Washington undergoing training.

Car Stolen Monday

The Pontiac automobile of C. C. Helbig was stolen from in front of the Helbig Mill on Green street Monday during the noon hour within five minutes after Mr. Helbig had gotten out of the vehicle.

Thus far no trace has been found by authorities who were notified immediately after its disappearance was discovered. The car was seen by his brother J. Edward Helbig while campaigning in Accident and was going northward on Route 219.

Band Auxiliary To Meet

The Oakland Band auxiliary will meet at the home of Mrs. Ira J. Bosley on Thursday, November 5. Mothers of the beginners and advanced band members are requested to be present, according to Mrs. Harry Friend, secretary and treasurer of the organization.

Firemen Answer Alarm

The Oakland firemen were called to the Ralph Pritts garage on Liberty street Monday evening to extinguish a fire in an automobile. The damage resulting from the blaze was slight.

George L. Spoerl, price specialist of the OPA, stationed in Cumberland, was in Oakland yesterday. A number of Oakland merchants were before him at which time price regulations were explained. Mr. Spoerl will be in the local office from time to time when merchants will be welcomed who have any questions in their minds concerning price regulations.

DESTRUCTIVE PRANKS NOT TO BE TOLERATED

City Officials Warn Against Destructive Vandalism on Hallowe'en

Warning against Hallowe'en vandalism, the Mayor and Town Council issued a statement yesterday in regard to the conduct of individuals on Saturday evening, October 31.

A special warning was issued against damage to automobiles and tires.

Mayor Lawrence M. Fraley declared he "wanted the youth of our town to enjoy themselves," but he warned that destruction of property, defacing of windows and cars with soap, chalk, etc., would not be tolerated. John J. Sweeney, police chief, appeared at the schools to ask the students to observe the rules and to notify them that any person caught destroying property would be dealt with severely.

The Keystone Automobile club has sounded a note of warning about automobiles, declaring they are more essential now to national welfare than ever before and acts which were at least tolerated in other years cannot be condoned in wartime.

They pointed out also that breaking of milk bottles and other bottles was another practice that should be dealt with severely as irreplaceable tires should not be subjected to this menace. An appeal is made to parents and school teachers to instruct children against these practices of destruction.

No Hallowe'en Parade

Oakland will not have a Hallowe'en parade this year. In former years celebrations were sponsored by the Oakland Firemen, the Legion, the Band, and the Junior Chamber of Commerce, but because of unusual conditions this year, no organization has taken the initiative in sponsoring such an event.

Weather Balloon Found at Deer Park

A remarkable flight of a weather balloon from Huntington, W. Va., to Deer Park, was reported by Charles A. Ashby this week, upon whose property the balloon was found last Saturday afternoon.

The balloon was discovered caught in the top of a tall oak tree in Mr. Ashby's grove at Deer Park. Charles Perando climbed the tree and recovered the balloon and the records showed it had been released at Huntington, W. Va., on Saturday morning at 11:30. The balloon was discovered at 2:30 and just how long it had been there was not known. It carried weather reporting instruments strapped to a parachute. The balloon was sent to Washington, D. C., on Monday.

Legionnaires Plan Pig Roast Nov. 9th

Members of Proctor Kildow Post No. 71, American Legion, are planning a pig roast in connection with their membership drive, which will be held at the Manhattan hotel on Monday evening, November 9, at 7:30 o'clock, it was announced this morning.

The organization which had a membership last year of 69, wants to increase it to 100 this year and the committee is attempting to get every world war veteran to join. The committee includes I .R. Rudy, chairman; John H. Carter, Joseph M. Gonder, Albert Walter and F. R. Shaffer. The drive is scheduled to close on Armistice day, November 11.

At the pig roast on November 9 will be Daniel F. McMullen, state commander, of Cumberland; and visitors from legion posts in Cumberland, Frostburg, Lonaconing, Tri-towns, Keyser, Kitzmiller, and Kingwood.

Scrap Collection Large

About 300,000 pounds of scrap metal has been collected in Garrett county during the recent scrap metal drive, according to Ray Teets and Clarence Leighton, chairmen.

The figures are not final and both chairmen stressed the fact that the metal would continue to be received at various stations throughout the county, and asked the people not to let up on their search for scrap materials which were needed for the war effort.

Thermometer Drops to 14

The temperature took a drop this week, the low reading at the government station at Weber's being 14 degrees above zero on Wednesday morning. The reading was 20 degrees on Tuesday morning.

Addresses Rally

THEODORE R. McKELDIN

Will Require Thirty Cross Marks To Complete Your Ballot

Garrett County voters who go to the polls next Tuesday, November 3, will have the opportunity to cast their ballot for twenty-two persons, seven proposed constitutional amendments and one referred law. To fill the ballot correctly will require thirty cross marks by each individual.

The polls for the general election will be open at the usual voting places from 6 o'clock a. m., to 7 o'clock p. m. Counting of ballots will begin shortly thereafter.

The ballot is large this year on account of the number of constitutional amendments, the size of the sheet being about 16 by 25 inches.

All printing has been completed and ballots and other election material will be distributed to the twenty-five polling places by members of the Board of Election Supervisors.

Turney and Jordan Selected by Jaycees

Herbert Milton Turney and Paul J. Jordan were the ones selected this week by the Oakland Jaycees in continuing their service men writing project in the five business establishments.

Both these young men are now located in England.

The Jaycees are stressing again that letters written now will reach the men in time for Christmas and that now is a good time to send Christmas presents if they so desire.

Response to the two selected last week has been exceptionally good, it was stated. The two chosen were James Nordeck, in Hawaii, and George Kerins, Jr., in England.

The Jaycees also called attention to their new project, that of having photographs of all those in the service from Oakland displayed in Sturgiss' Pharmacy, along with their addresses, so that all may be sent Christmas greetings. These photos should be received by November 4.

Over Forty Attend Civic Club Luncheon

Over forty were present at the Civic club luncheon at the William-James hotel on Tuesday which was addressed by Holman George Marks, field representative from national headquarters of the American Red Cross, who is in the county this week giving an instructor's course in First Aid training.

Mr. Marks address gave an insight into the various phases of work which the organization accomplished and how far-reaching it was.

Reports of local activities were given which showed the large amount of work being done here. Mrs. D. E. Offutt gave a report on knitting, Mrs. E. I. Baumgartner, on the number of garments made, and she also read a report of Mrs. Willard Elliott's on the number of surgical dressings that had been completed thus far.

Parole Granted to Mrs. Beulah Stevey

It was announced by the governor on Monday that among eleven people paroled was Mrs. Beulah Warnick Stevey, 24, who was sentenced in Garrett county to two years for manslaughter. She has served about ten months of the term.

The governor's statement commented that "this woman has had no other conflict with the law and has made a good adjustment at the institution."

Her parole was recommended by Herman Moser, director of Parole and Probation.

M'KELDIN TALKS AT REPUBLICAN MEETING MONDAY

Candidate For Governor Pleases People As He Greets Them All Over County In Whirlwind Tour

Theodore Roosevelt McKeldin, Republican candidate for Governor wound up a whirlwind tour of Garrett county in an effective and forceful manner on Monday evening in Oakland High school building before approximately two hundred persons.

The rally concluded the hurried tour of McKeldin and the other State candidates that had been made from 10 o'clock A. M. to 6 P. M. over a scheduled route that called for stops at Grantsville, Keyser Ridge, Friendsville, Accident, McHenry, Deer Park, Crellin, Deer Park, Swanton and Kitzmiller.

The State candidates were joined at Grantsville by members of the Republican committee and a number of county candidates. The group was somewhat battered, but undaunted, by the rain and first snow storm of the year with which they were greeted when they first began their trip, but it turned clear and colder for the balance of the day.

McKeldin, coming down from the stage to talk directly to the people who attended the Oakland rally, touched upon what he called "O'Conor's continuous broken faith with the people by constantly saying one thing and doing another."

For instance, McKeldin pointed out that O'Conor had announced he had no time for campaigning on account of the war effort in which he was engaged, and yet following him (McKeldin) around in every part of the State.

He denounced O'Conor for his broken promise of "only one term." McKeldin charged Governor O'Conor with having "been instrumental" in the defeat of the one-term amendment that was brought before the people after he had assumed office.

He further charged that although O'Conor had announced that he was not interested in building up a political machine yet he attempted to elect his man as mayor of Baltimore City against Mayor Jackson; attempted to elect Bruce against Radcliffe for U. S. Senate; attempted to elect a man of his own choosing in various county elections for State Assembly, and when these failed he started "picking off individual members from city jobs and hoisting them to important State positions," by cutting off minority representation on the State Accident Commission and proposing elimination of minority representation in every instance he could.

He declared the "Democratic machine" was getting worried in Baltimore and that in spite of the overwhelming majority in Baltimore City he was expecting to lose there by less than 15,000. "If that happens there," he predicted, "there is going to be a Republican inauguration for Governor," as he felt confident that he would carry the counties of the State.

He declared people of the Eastern Shore were rising in anger over the attempt to smear him with the unnecessary newspaper articles which charged him with automobile speeding while on his campaign in that portion of the State. This went on for four days, he said, and when it was finally investigated it was learned that McKeldin was not even in the car which had been reported speeding, and was in no way responsible.

McKeldin touched briefly on the State surplus of 10 million which Mr. O'Conor takes credit for crating. He asserted that it was taken from the people in the form of income tax, that it was not needed, but instead of returning it to the people to be used right now in purchasing war bonds to build armament with which to win the war, which he asserted was being lost at the present, the Governor pro-

November List of Draftees to be Made Up

The list of November draftees who are being called for service is being made up this evening, according to local draft board officials. While no official announcement has been made it is commonly known that the group will include more than 75 names and that the group will leave for final examination in Baltimore around the 20th of next month.

Regrets Loss of Dog and Hopes One Responsible Will Read This Notice.

Editor of The Republican,
Oakland, Md.
Dear Sir:

Today upon approaching my home I was astonished to see the Veterinarian leaving the house. I was again astonished when I walked in and saw my dog, Buster, lying on the floor dead—poisoned.

He had been a greatly loved member of our family for eight years. He was a fine dog who never bothered anybody or anything.

"The one absolutely unselfish friend that man can have in this selfish world, the one that never deserts him, the one that never proves ungrateful or treacherous, is his dog."

Yes, today my friend, my constant companion was murdered by some person who doesn't love anybody or anything but his own selfish self.

My dog is dead. I cannot bring him back, but I do hope that that person, who killed my dog, will read this letter and let it penetrate into his heart. I'm sure he has one underneath it all.

I hope that he will convince himself that he did wrong, and that he will never again harm or kill man's best friends, His Dog.

His Master,
WILLIAM LANDON, JR.

Neil C. Fraley

Republican Candidate For
State's Attorney for Garrett County

To the Voters of Garrett County:—

In seeking re-election to the important office of State's Attorney for this County, I respectfully submit my record in office as evidence of my qualification to successfully fill the same.

During the two terms that I have been your State's Attorney, I have successfully prosecuted some of the most serious criminal cases that have been tried in the history of the County, among them being eight homicide cases. During my incumbency I have not only assisted personally in the investigation of serious crimes reported but have assisted the officers in the apprehension of criminals and have been subject to call and assist at any time of the day or night.

It has been my consistent policy in the conduct of the office to be as economical as possible in the public interest and I have personally tried every case during my incumbency, with one single exception, without assistance of other counsel at the public expense.

In my presentation of cases before the Grand Jury, I have endeavored to have my cases ready for prompt and thorough presentation and not to prolong its sessions because of inadequate preparation and require long sessions with petty violations that could have been properly handled in the Magistrate's Courts.

Wherever possible, I have made every effort to dispose of minor violations in the Magistrate's Courts and save the expense of long confinement of the accused and Circuit Court trial.

I have given close personal attention to cases of juvenile delinquency and have constantly endeavored to handle these matters to the best interest of the public and the boy or girl involved. I believe this to be one of the most important duties of the office as intelligent handling of the juvenile problem is of great importance to the welfare of our County.

I feel that the experience I have gained since holding the office well qualifies me to successfully fill the office and if re-elected, I pledge a continuation of these policies, fair and courteous treatment to all, and all citizens of the County may feel free at all times to consult with me on matters pertaining to the office.

To The Voters of The Fourth Judicial Circuit:

We, the undersigned members of the bar of Washington County, believe that the Honorable Joseph D. Mish, Associate Judge of the Fourth Judicial Circuit, during his tenure of office has demonstrated by his industry, fairness and sound judgment his fitness to maintain the high standards of the judiciary. His temperament, honesty, ability, and experience on the bench, impel us to support him in the coming election, and we accordingly recommend him to the voters.

A. C. Wilt, of Aurora, who has been quite ill for some time was taken Thursday, October 22, by ambulance, to the Philippi hospital, where he remains a patient. Mrs. Wilt accompanied him there and remains near the hospital.

Rev. Ezra Fike is having bath room fixtures installed in his house at Eglon, which is occupied by his son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Jerome Arnett.

A serenade and miscellaneous shower was given Saturday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Fike, of Cash Valley, for their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Louie Gordon. The couple were married Saturday morning by the Rev. Rufus Bowman, in Washington, and were accompanied on their brief trip by the bride's twin sister, Creola Fike, and a Mr. Moore. Approximately 100 guests attended the Saturday night affair. An infare dinner was served Sunday at the bride's home, after which the party left for Washington, where Mrs. Gordon and Miss Fike have employment. Mr. Gordon is stationed with the U. S. Air Corps at Bowling Field.

Attorney and Mrs. A. C. McNell, of Wheeling, spent the week-end in Eglon.

A daughter, Carolyn Sue, was born Sunday, October 25, to Mr. and Mrs. Herman Shaffer, at their home at Horse Shoe Run. The mother was Gertrude Sell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Sell, and the father is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Shaffer, all of Horse Shoe Run. This is the couple's eighth child and fifth daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Harsh, of near Aurora, were notified Sunday of the critical illness of their daughter, Mrs. Erma Auvil, of San Angelo, Texas. Her husband, John Auvil, is stationed there with the military forces. Mrs. Harsh and Mr. Auvil's sister, Marjory, left by bus Monday evening to be at her bedside. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lantz, of Aurora, are Mrs. Auvil's maternal grandparents.

Private Wayne Harsh, who is stationed in Florida, came Tuesday to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Harsh, of near Kingwood. He came last night to Eglon to visit his aged grandfather, Lloyd Harsh, and other relatives.

Private Vernon Lantz, of Camp Crowder, Missouri, came Sunday to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Lantz, of Stemple Ridge. He will return to camp Friday and expects to sail for foreign duty soon thereafter.

The Junior Sunday School class, of Maple Spring church held a Hallowe'en party, Wednesday evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Feather, at Eglon.

The small son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Summer, of Aurora, underwent a minor operation last Thursday, at the office of the local physician.

DIARY OF THE WAR

FRIDAY—Allied air fighters over Egypt indicated an approaching new offensive as they continued to pound air bases. Germany's Rommel assumed command of Axis air, land and sea forces in Mediterranean. Darlan arrived in Dakar to tell French people a new menace hung over them. Germany had already claimed allied forces were preparing a general offensive in West Africa. Germans keep demanding that French workers be forced to work in the Reich. U. S. forces repulsed first Jap thrusts on Guadalcanal while aircraft kept up attacks on enemy positions. Snow was settling above Stalingrad. Flying fortresses over France downed 9 Nazi fighter planes. Germany's claim of transport sinkings were declared completely false.

SATURDAY—A second Jap attack on Guadalcanal was repulsed. The navy said dive bombers attacked enemy positions around the island. British revealed a strong force was being maintained in Indian ocean. An allied reinvasion of Burma was indicated and there was speculation of an oriental land front. Defenders of Stalingrad were taking initiative although Nazis claimed all attacks were repulsed. British raided Genoa, Italy with 100 bombers. Italians admitted great damage to the supply port for Axis African armies. Airmen over Egypt were landing solid blows on the enemy positions.

SUNDAY—Allied forces which included U. S. airmen began an offensive in Africa and were making progress. Egypt flyers claimed the edge in air superiority. Germans swung their weight in Russia in a drive into Caucasus. U. S. Navy battered Japanese craft in Gilbert island area, sinking two patrol vessels and damaging others. Americans on Guadalcanal regained control of the air. Admiral Halsey was placed in command of the U. S. naval forces in South pacific and Admiral Carpender over U. S. naval forces in southwest Pacific under MacArthur Allies are aiming for 24-hour raids over German-held territory.

MONDAY—Britain's desert striking force established itself in several main positions formerly held by Axis and was hitting at foe under cover of American and RAF plane support. Planes blasted a path through mine fields. British bombers also struck at northern Italy where supplies are started to Rommel. British subs in Mediterranean sank five supply ships and damaged others. Cold rain and snow squalls in Russia gave way to Indian summer and Germans renewed siege at Stalingrad. Reds claimed new gains north and south of city. Japs stepped up assaults on Guadalcanal but lost many planes in attempt and made no gains.

TUESDAY—Navy announced that U. S. carrier Wasp was sunk by Japs Sept. 15. In a big battle around Solomons U. S. troops were holding but there was damage to an aircraft, loss of a destroyer and damage to other ships. Japs had two carriers damaged, two heavy cruisers damaged, a lighter cruiser damaged and 22 planes shot down. Russia claimed German losses in battle were 10 million. British advanced in Egypt drive against Rommel. Reds repelled a Nazi wedge around Stalingrad, but Germans gained on Black sea front. U. S. flyers raided Hongkong again and Jap planes bombed Indian airfields. Roosevelt called a conference of high navy officials.

WEDNESDAY — A Jap thrust which penetrated American lines on Guadalcanal, was repulsed and fierce fighting continues. U. S. sea and air forces have inflicted heavy damage on enemy warships. A new German offensive in north Stalingrad area was stopped and a Nazi push in Black sea section was also pushed back. British broke further into Axis desert positions in Egypt but the expected tank battle had not yet materialized.

THURSDAY—Fierce American defense of Guadalcanal was paying heavy dividends in Jap dead but the outcome of the battle was undecided. Enemy losses were said to be very heavy in comparison to U. S. losses. Japs announced a third U. S. air raid on Hongkong. In Egypt the British hammered the Nazi armored columns and gouged wedges in Axis positions. Allies were maintaining a day and night barrage and air offensive. Germans pushed forward about 200 yards in factory district of Stalingrad, the second gain in 24 hours.

Wendell Willkie, in radio talk, repeated his demand for second front and asked for more aid to the Allies and urged stopping the "holes" that were causing our "good will reservoir" to leak dangerously.

McKeldin Talks At Republican Rally

posed to save it and use it as a "reconstruction fund" after the war was over.

Mr. McKeldin further asserted it would make no particle of difference to the war effort if O'Conor was defeated as Governor of the State, as such things continue to move ahead no matter who was the head. States bordering on Maryland have laws limiting the Governor to one term and he declared that no one was worrying there over what might happen to the war effort.

McKeldin was born in South Baltimore, one of eleven children. He is 41 and has a wife, son and daughter. When 26 he was made executive secretary in Baltimore while W. F. Broening was mayor of that city. He is a former president of the Junior Association of Commerce, a member of the faculty of the University of Baltimore Law School and is actively engaged in the practice of law.

Also addressing the Republican rally and making the tour of the county were Horace P. Whitworth, of Westernport, candidate for Attorney General; Leo H. Miller, Hagerstown, candidate for Associate Judge of the Fourth Circuit, and J. Glenn Beall, Frostburg, candidate for Congress from the Sixth District.

Mayor Lawwrence Fraley in a short talk advocated the wholehearted support of the entire Republican ticket.

Practically all of the county candidates were on the platform with the speakers and former Senator Clifford Friend, who was chairman of the meeting.

Prior to the hour of meeting and at intervals, music was furnished by the consolidated Oakland and Mountain Lake Park bands under the direction of Prof. Harry Mickey.

MT. LAKE PARK

In observance of the Week of Prayer and Self Denial being held over the country the Bethel Methodist church will hold a prayer service on Friday afternoon at 2:30 in the church. All women of the church are urged to attend this service.

Mrs. Sally H. Burch

Short but impressive funeral services were held Tuesday morning in her home for Mrs. Sally H. Burch, who passed away early on Monday morning. The services in accordance with her wishes were conducted by her lifelong friend and neighbor, Mr. P. T. Lipscomb, who spoke feelingly of the many fine qualities and of the many kindnesses Mrs. Burch had done for her fellowmen. A chapter from the Bible was read. Mrs. Frederick Thayer sang the two favorite hymns of the deceased "Nearer My God to Thee" and "Abide With Me." Rev. Foster of the U. B. church gave the prayer. Immediately following the services the body was taken to Washington, D. C., where interment was made in Oak Hill cemetery on Wednesday noon.

Her family was able to reach here before she passed away and were with her at the time of death. Among those here were Mr. and Mrs. Neil S. McCord and Neil, Jr., Mrs. Ada Hampton, Washington, D. C.; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cowan Erwin, Jr., of Atlanta, Ga.; William Burch, San Diego, Calif., and William Burch, Jr., of Patterson, N. J.

XX VICTORY BUY UNITED STATES WAR BONDS AND STAMPS

VOLUME 66. OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1942. NUMBER 37.

Civilian Salute . . . . . .

Old Glory, I can't salute you with the snap and precision of a soldier, sailor or marine. I can only stand bareheaded, with the breeze blowing through my thinning hair, and look up at you with tears in my eyes. I cannot follow you across white-capped waves, or zoom skyward to fight for you in a silver-winged plane, or champion your cause by driving an iron monster across burning sands. The flaming salute of roaring guns is not mine to give.

When I come home at night I read the newspaper and listen to the radio. They tell about the deeds of our boys on the far-flung battlefields of the world. This makes me feel blue and discouraged because I am doing so little to help win the war. And then it comes to me that because I can do so little, so very little, compared with what the boys are doing who are fighting and dying for freedom, that it is vitally important that I do every little thing that I can.

I cannot do the mighty tasks, or carry the giant crosses, but there must be thousands of little tasks that I can do. I can make no big shoves toward victory, but I can make little pushes in that direction. I can pile up a stack of War Bonds. I can conserve tires and gas and oil. I can pay my taxes with a smile. I can dig and plant a victory garden. I can refuse to repeat rumors. I can support those organizations that are helping the boys. I can do my daily work with the loyalty and devotion of a soldier. I can keep my chin up and help other people to do the same.

Of course, I'd like to be a MacArthur or a Jimmy Doolittle. I'd like to play a heroic roll in the greatest war in history. My little part is very tame and unexciting. But because I cannot do great things is no reason why I should not do small things. After all, it is the millions of little things being done wholeheartedly and enthusiastically by the plain citizens back home that make possible the spectacular deeds of the men in the armed forces.

Old Glory, behind Washington and Grant and Pershing, whose armies carried you to victory in other wars, were the common people working and paying and praying on the home front. Most of them never smelled the smoke of battle, or heard the screech of a shell, or won a medal, but without the combined force of their tiny individual efforts we would have met defeat. And this war, too, will be won by team-work and unity in small things as well as great.

Old Glory, I may be too old to fight, but thank God, I can still serve you in many small and humble ways.

—Wilferd A. Peterson, Editor, The Silver Lining.

UNANNOUNCED ALERTS AND BLACKOUTS DUE

Unknown Number To Be Staged In Area This Month, State Director Says; Rules Are Here Reprinted

Unannounced daylight alerts and night blackouts are to occur in the Maryland area this month, according to Col. Henry S. Barrett, State director of air raid precautions.

The number of drills and the length of each test was not revealed by Colonel Barrett. "No exemptions will be allowed," he said, "except those specifically ordered by the Third Service Command."

"It is the desire of the Maryland Council of Defense to simulate actual air raid conditions as nearly as possible," Colonel Barrett stated, "so that people will become accustomed to taking the proper action when the warning sounds."

During the test drills "passengers on buses and passengers in private automobiles must leave the vehicles and seek shelter in nearby buildings," Colonel Barrett added.

Rules and Regulations

Street And Highway Traffic

1. Immediately upon sounding of air raid alarm, drivers of all automobiles, trackless trolleys and other free wheeling vehicles shall immediately pull over to the curb or roadside, turn off the engines or motors and wait until the all-clear signal is given. Readily identifiable emergency vehicles, such as fire engines, ambulances and vehicles of the armed

Defense Training Classes in Machine Shop Not Filled

At present there are six vacancies in the evening class in machine shop, which meets from 6:30 p. m. to 10:30 p. m., it was announced by Eugene Harpold, county coordinator. A class will also be formed to meet on Saturdays and Sundays if a sufficient number of trainees are available.

Instruction is given in the operation of machine and screw cutting lathes, milling machine, drill press, grinder, layout work, and bench work. This training is offered free in order to train more men and women for war production industries, and may be taken by either men or women who are more than sixteen years old, it was stated.

Persons interested should report to the shop in the Helbig property in Oakland, between 6:30 and 10:30 p. m., or call Oakland 251-J, for more information.

Retains Judgeship

JOSEPH D. MISH

Judge Mish Wins Over Leo Miller By 5,688 Votes

Miller Carries Allegany And Garrett But Loses Washington

Judge Joseph D. Mish, Democrat, of Hagerstown, was elected associate judge in the Fourth judicial circuit in Tuesday's election defeating his fellow-townsman Leo H. Miller by a majority of 5,688 votes, according to complete unofficial returns.

The total vote gave Mish, 20,740; Miller, 15,052.

Miller carried two of the three counties in the circuit, Allegany and Garrett, but was badly beaten in Washington where Judge Mish rolled up almost a two to one majority.

Miller carried Allegany by 830 votes and Garrett by 89, but Judge Mish carried Washington by 4,769. The vote by counties follows:

	Miller	Mish
Allegany (Complete)	8,750	7,920
Garrett (Complete)	1,931	1,842
Washington	5,290	10,059
Totals	15,052	20,740

Mish's majority 5,688.

Mayor and Council Have Uneventful Meeting

The Mayor and City Council met in an uneventful session on Monday evening for their regular monthly meeting.

The clerk-collector's report showed receipts during the past month of $2,579.44, which included water accounts, $2,049.19; taxes, $402.49; and miscellaneous, $127.76. Orders for October totaled $1,641.69.

C. C. Reckard received a permit to erect a garage on his property on Third street, and George Kerins received a permit to erect a one-story machine shop on his lot on Oak street, providing he complied with federal regulations.

The council decided to purchase a used truck for $950.00. The requests for permission to construct a theatre and apartment building, presented last meeting by B. I. Gonder and Arden May, were both refused because of an ordinance passed several years ago.

DR. T. B. SYMONS WILL SPEAK AT FARM BANQUET

Extension Director To Give Address At Farm Bureau Dinner This Evening at Grantsville

Dr. T. B. Symons, dean and director of the Extension Service of the University of Maryland, will be the guest speaker at the fifth annual banquet of the Garrett County Farm Bureau, being held this evening in Grantsville. A large number of farm people and others are expecting to attend.

William Winterberg, president of the county bureau, will be the toastmaster and will bring greetings to those present. Following the banquet the annual election of members of the board of directors will be held. Three are to be elected from each of four districts and those whose names will appear on the ballot are A. J. Orendorf, Earl Michael, Guy Stanton, S. L. Otto, Charles Reichenbecher, J. A. Beachy, for Grantsville district; Hobart Bishoff, Adam Richter, Oscar Harman, R. C. Turney and Hubert Friend, for Accident district; Blaine Frantz, Ernest Griffith, Morgan Fike, Dorsey Guard and Floyd Frantz, for Friendsville district; H. L. Porter, Artie Dodge, Owen Martin, Ray Ridder and Milton Riley, for Oakland district.

Carnation Company Sponsors Dinner For Junior Dairymen

Twenty-Nine Members Keep Close Records of Milk Production—Prizes Presented By B. and O.

Members of the Junior Dairymen's project were tendered a dinner last Thursday night, sponsored by the Carnation Company, marking the conclusion of a period in which close records were kept on production of milk among individual cows owned by the members.

The project was sponsored by the Extension Service, the vo-ag departments, the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad and the Carnation company, and the objects were to encourage good dairy practices and observe production records. There were 29 members. The milk company furnished necessary equipment for marketing milk and the railroad company furnished cash prizes. The vo-ag department and Extension service assisted in production and management problems.

Record books were turned in this spring and were judged. At the dinner last Thursday the results were reviewed and cash prizes presented. Prizes were not based on the best cows nor the cow that gave the greatest return, it was stated, but on a combination of points essential for dairymen to know or practice if he is to be successful in the dairy business.

L. S. Hartley, of the B. and O. agriculture department, showed color pictures of most of the cows in the dairy project. Mr. Hartley also presented cash prizes of from $10 to $2 to the following:

Guerney Kolb, Accident, 1st; Paul Wilt, Oakland, 2nd; Lawrence Sines, Oakland, 3rd; Calvin Harvey, Swanton, 4th; Glenn Kamp, Accident, 5th; and Elwood Sanders, Oakland, 6th. Other members submitting record books were awarded $1 each.

Jaycees Select Browning and DeWitt

The Jaycees selected the names of Lieut. Abel DeWitt and Lieut. Robert Browning this week in continuing their service men writing project. Their names will be posted in the usual places where citizens are asked to write them and leave small gifts.

Lieutenant DeWitt is a son of Mrs. Zula DeWitt, High street, and was a former instructor in the county high schools. He is stationed at Camp Livingston, La., in the U. S. Infantry. Lieutenant Browning is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Cheston H. Browning, Alder street, and is a member of the U. S. Air forces, instructing at Lubbock, Texas.

Marylanders piled up 56,300 tons of scrap iron and steel in past month.

J. GLENN BEALL

May Inaugurate Milk Program In Schools Of Garrett County

Half Pint Per Day Would Be Furnished Children For a Penny

A conference was held last Saturday between Mark Fisher, of the Agricultural Marketing Administration, and F. E. Rathbun, Superintendent of Schools, regarding the possibility of inaugurating the school milk program in Garrett county.

Under this plan the Federal Government would pay the established Class One price to the producer for fluid milk in sufficient quantity to enable all children in the community to buy it at the rate of a penny per one-half pint.

Local milk distributors would be invited to submit bids for the delivery of this milk to each participating school and all children would receive at least one-half pint per day regardless of their ability to pay the penny involved.

Mr. Fisher completed a survey of this area today and has forwarded it to his regional office in Philadelphia for approval. Mr. Rathbun stated that if this area is designated by the AMA for the school milk program he hopes to be able to start serving milk to the children in the near future.

Recovering After Being Kicked By Horse on Saturday

John W. Herman, successful candidate for County Commissioner, is recovering satisfactorily in Memorial hospital, Cumberland, after having been painfully injured last Saturday when he was kicked in the chest by a horse while at work on his farm near Accident.

Mr. Herman sustained four broken ribs as result of the mishap, the examination at the hospital revealed, and it was at first thought a lung had been punctured, but this was found not to be the case.

Mr. Herman was engaged in harnessing a team of horses when he was kicked by the animal.

Cooperative Group To Meet November 11

A committee of representatives of Southern States Cooperative in the Oakland section will hold a conference at the William-James hotel in Oakland, Wednesday evening, November 11, at 7 o'clock.

They will review some of agriculture's problems and devise ways to help farmers plan for more efficient operation of their farms.

Speakers will include L. O. Brumback, of Winchester, Va., and J. C. Mallory, of Princeton, W. Va.

The committee who will make the study is composed of persons from Grantsville, Somerfield, Pa., Friendsville, Accident, Gormania, W. Va., Eglon, W. Va., Davis, W. Va., Parsons, W. Va., and Oakland.

O'CONOR REELECTED BY SMALL MARGIN IN STATE

Second-Term Bid Met With Unexpected Stiff Opposition At Polls, Especially in Baltimore

With only sixty-four polling places unreported, Governor O'Conor held a 16,817 lead over his Republican opponent, Theodore R. McKeldin, in his close but successful bid for re-election. The count was 186,404 for O'Conor and 169,587 for McKeldin.

The results showed that O'Conor's second-term bid had met with unexpectedly stiff opposition at the polls which political leaders were not expecting in this state. The vote however showed a trend that was happening in many other parts of the nation. Republican Candidate McKeldin said he believed the Republican party in Maryland had been greatly strengthened by the result of the election and he added: "I was well aware, when I was drafted as a candidate that I would have to make an up-hill fight."

The big surprise was the huge vote rolled up by McKeldin in Baltimore city, which left the governor with only a majority of 3,886.

O'Conor won every county on the Eastern Shore with the exception of Somerset, which was lost by 351. O'Conor pledged himself to pursue policies which "are in the public interest."

William C. Walsh retained the post of Attorney General by piling up a much greater majority over his opponent Horace P. Whitworth, Westernport, than the governor held over McKeldin.

Teachers to Receive Gas Rationing Rules

Instructor From State OPA Will Conduct Meeting in Court House, Oakland, This Afternoon

Twenty-five principals and teachers of the public schools of the county will meet in the court house in Oakland this afternoon at 2:15 o'clock to learn the steps to be followed by all teachers in distributing application forms for gasoline under the nation-wide gasoline program that takes effect November 22, it was announced by F. E. Rathbun, county superintendent.

J. William Eggleson, state rationing officer, Price Administration, Baltimore, will conduct the meeting. The twenty-five teachers will return to their schools and give instructions to principals and teachers of the schools in their neighborhood.

Those who will attend include O. P. Jones, Iva B. Walker, Lena W. Walker, Grace Filer, Josie Iden, Bruce Jenkins, Mason Callis, Merle Frantz, J. Paul Ewing, Lillian Harvey, Bryan L. Shockley, Helen M. Comer, B. O. Aiken, Caroline Wilson, Kate Bannatyne, Frank J. Getty, Foster D. Bittle, Marshall Brown, Walter W. Dawson, O. T. Graser, W. J. Glenn, Chauncey M. Friend, Delta G. Lohr, Alice Howard, Viola Broadwater, Kathleen Baer, Stuart F. Hamill and R. E. Guard. Dawson, Hamill and Guard are members of the Board of Education.

Three days are provided for the registration at the various schools, they being Thursday, Friday and Saturday, November 12, 13 and 14. Mr. Rathbun said that perhaps only one day would be used in Garrett county, and if such was the case it would be Friday, November 13.

Automobile Damaged By Fire

The automobile of James A. Savage, Sang Run, was badly damaged by fire yesterday morning while Mr. Savage was enroute to Oakland.

The car caught fire about a mile from Sang Run.

Efforts on the part of Mr. Savage and some persons that were nearby saved the engine and tires by fighting the flames with mud and water.

J. GLENN BEALL OVERWHELMS LEE BY MAJORITY OF 14,224 VOTES

Scoring a clean sweep in all five counties of the Sixth Maryland district, J. Glenn Beall, of Frostburg, was elected to the House of Representatives in Tuesday's contest by a majority of 14,224 votes over Col. E. Brooke Lee, his Democratic opponent from Montgomery county.

This figure represents one of the largest majorities ever amassed by a winning candidate in the Sixth district which comprises 281 polling places.

Complete unofficial figures tabulated last evening tell the story of Beall's overwhelming triumph.

	Beall	Lee	Beall's Majority
Allegany (Complete)	12,590	6,745	5,845
Garrett (Complete)	2,562	1,270	1,292

Re-elected Governor

HERBERT R. O'CONOR

Strong Republican Trend Is Shown By Votes Tuesday

The two-party system, dealt a near knock-out blow in the nation's great depression, revived with a vengeance this week in the midst of a global war.

The Republican party, after suffering such shattering reverses in the past decade has surged back to take prominent place at the nation's council tables.

The Democratic party is perilously close to losing control of the House of Representatives which it has dominated since 1931. The ninety-odd vote strength has shrunk to a microscopic seven on the basis of Tuesday's election with the GOP still challenging in a scattering of districts where the returns were incomplete. The standing now is 210 Democrats and 203 Republicans with 19 still in doubt. Nine Democrats were ousted in the Senate to make way for incoming minority members. The standing there now is 57 to 37.

Four Democratic governors were ousted in key states. Republicans gained three congressional seats in West Virginia, and two in Maryland. Beall's victory in the Sixth Maryland District marked the end of a twelve-year reign for Democrats. Zihlman was last elected to Congress in 1928.

The trend was almost everywhere Republican.

New Federal Taxes Are Now Effective

New Federal taxes became effective November 1. The tax on cigarets was increased to eight cents a package, the tax on beer went up from $7 to $8 a barrel and the increase in tax on whiskey amounted roughly to fifty cents a quart.

There are now taxes on amounts paid for transportation of persons by rail, motor vehicle, water or air. Taxes on telegraph, cable or radio are upped from ten to fifteen percent; taxes on telephone toll charges of twenty-five cents or more are being increased to a straight twenty percent of the rate and the tax on local telephone service is increased from six to ten percent.

"Juke" boxes and all coin operated machines will be brought under the law now covering the so-called "pin-ball" games, and a flat tax of $10 a year a machine becomes effective. This is a federal tax. State laws forbid "pin-ball" machines.

The rate of the manufactures' excise tax on lubricating oil is increased from four and one-half to six cents a gallon.

Machine Repair And Dairy Meetings For Farmers

Meetings of farmers for the purpose of repairing farm machinery and doing farm shopwork are to begin at Oakland High School farm shop, on Monday evening, November 9, at 7:30 o'clock. The plan of the procedure of these meetings is similar to last year with arrangements to meet on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings of each week. Any farmer having machinery or equipment to repair may attend.

A dairy meeting is to be held on Tuesday, November 10, at Red House school building and Thursday, November 12th at 7:30 p. m., for the purpose of discussing dairying and improving dairy production through testing of dairy cattle.

These meetings are being held under the direction of Mr. James House, in cooperation with County Agent Carter; Vo-Ag Instructor O. T. Graser, assisted by Wm. DeBerry and Wayne Hamilton.

COUNTY GOP IS WINNER IN ALL BUT ONE CONTEST

Bernard I. Gonder, Democrat, Is Elected To State Senate By Slight Majority Over His Republican Opponent

Normally Republican Garrett County on Tuesday elected Bernard I. Gonder, Democrat, to the Maryland State Senate by a slim majority, but all other Republican candidates held substantial majorities over their Democratic opponents.

The voters gave Gonder a majority of 82 votes over his Republican opponent E. Ray Jones, local attorney and former Secretary of State under Governor Harry W. Nice. The vote was (unofficial) 2608 to 2526. Gonder's strength was greatest in Oakland where he polled 645 votes in the four precincts compared to his opponent's 434 votes.

It was in Oakland, too, that Asa T. Matthews showed his greatest pull against Neil C. Fraley in the race for State's Attorney. Matthews polled 626 votes against Fraley's 425 in Oakland but other precincts overcame this handicap and gave Fraley a county-wide majority (unofficial) of 352. The vote was 2545 to 2193.

McKeldin Has 990 Majority

The county gave Theodore McKeldin a majority of 990 in his race for Governor over Herbert R. O'Conor, but here as elsewhere in the counties that went Republican the McKeldin majority was not sufficient to overcome the lead in the Democratic counties and Baltimore City. O'Conor's majority in Baltimore City was less than 10,000.

Beall Goes Over Big

Garrett county gave a large majority to J. Glenn Beall, which helped to pile up the greatest Republican majority in the Sixth District in many years. Beall received 2868 votes compared with 1316 for E. Brooke Lee, Montgomery county political leader. Lee lost his own county by 1500 votes.

House Members and Commissioners Have Safe Majorities

Down the entire ballot the Republicans were favored. Nelson Brenneman, Otho S. Fike and Jasper Myers were returned elected to the House; J. Edward Helbig will be the County Treasurer over his Democratic opponent, W. E. Spoerlein by a vote of 3004 to 1774.

John W. Herman, Walter Meyers and Jonas W. Sines were named the three County Commissioners, although Harvey Gortner, Democratic candidate, gave them a close call. He was only a little more than one hundred votes behind.

George Coddington had a majority of 875 in his contest for Sheriff over the present sheriff, Walter H. Haenftling, 2844 to 1969 in complete unofficial returns.

Thomas E. Bishoff and Frank Callis were reelected Judges of the Orphans' Court, along with E. C. Cuppett, another Republican aspirant, new to politics.

All proposed Constitutional Amendments were turned down by voters of this county in an emphatic manner in incomplete returns, but several precincts are yet missing.

With several precincts yet to report, there are indications that the referred law will be accepted by the people of the county requiring the county to be divided into districts for the purpose of electing County Commissioners from certain sections. Totals thus far show 993 for the law and 879 against.

Complete returns will be tabulated this afternoon, with the exception of nine soldier votes, which will come in later under the law.

There was more than a fifty percent vote in the county.

Unofficial tabulated returns will be found upon page six of The Republican today.

Brookhart Succeeds Towler on War Board

Announcement of the appointment of Maurice S. Brookhart as administrative assistant to the County Rationing Board, was made Monday by the Baltimore War Price and Rationing Board.

Mr. Brookhart succeeds James A. Towler, who resigned the position several days ago. Mr. Towler was appointed to the position in June and continued at his post until a few weeks ago when he became ill. He resigned because of other urgent duties connected with the operation of the William-James Hotel.

DIED

MRS. EMILY DURST KNOX

Funeral services for Mrs. Emily Durst Knox, 74, of Grantsville, were held last Friday afternoon with Rev. J. C. Beam and Rev. V. R. Gillum officiating. Mrs. Knox died Thursday, October 29, at her home near Grantsville. She was a member of the Brethren church.

Surviving are one sister, Mrs. Michael Tissue, Somerfield; three brothers, John and Ben, of Grantsville; and Charles, of Blairsville, Pa.; also one daughter, Ethel, at home, and one son, John.

Interment was in the Durst cemetery near Grantsville.

PETER FELIX SEBOLD

Peter Felix Sebold, 84, Cumberland, retired Baltimore and Ohio railroad freight conductor, died Monday morning, November 2, in Allegany Hospital, Cumberland, where he had been a patient since October 17.

A son of the late Frank and Mary Mattingly Sebold, Mr. Sebold was a native of this county but had resided in Cumberland for the past forty years. He was retired by the B. and O. in 1929 after being employed by the company for forty-eight years. He was a member of St. Mary's Catholic church, Cumberland.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Margaret Kelley Sebold, four sons, Lee Sebold, Deer Park; Frank Sebold, Green Spring, W. Va.; and James and Eugene Sebold, Washington; one daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Dickerhoof, Cumberland; two brothers, James Sebold, Washington; Robert Sebold, New Orleans, La.; and one sister, Sister Mary Clara, Order of Notre Dame, St. Mary's convent, Washington.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday from St. Peter's Catholic church, Oakland.

HENRY M. ELLIS

Henry M. Ellis, aged 77, died at his home in Rosedale, west of Oakland, on Sunday night. He had been in ill health for several years.

He had been a resident of Oakland for about 40 years. He was born in Ohio, June 15, 1865, a son of the late Alfred and Elvira Ellis. He was a member of the Nazarene Church.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Mollie Ellis, and seven children, John E. Ellis, Morgantown, W. Va.; Oaky Ellis, Bruceton Mills, W. Va.; William H. Ellis, Pierce, W. Va.; Clyde Ellis, Crellin; Webster Ellis, Proctorville, Ohio; Mrs. Minnie Evans, Mt. Lake Park; Mrs. Edna Akens, Morgantown.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Bolden Funeral home, with Rev. Carrol Skipper officiating. Interment was made in the Terra Alta cemetery.

SARAH ALICE MAY FOWLER

Miss Sarah Alice May Fowler, died Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the home of her sister, Mrs. O. S. Ridder, Sunnyside.

She was a daughter of the late Henry C. and Catherine Gauer Fowler and was born near Red House May 1, 1879. She was aged 63. She was a member of St. John's Lutheran church at Red House.

Surviving are three sisters, Mrs. Merle Adams, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Nellie Hamill, Baltimore; Mrs. O. S. Ridder, near Oakland; and one brother, George H. Fowler, Johnstown, Pa.

Funeral services are being conducted this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Red House church with Rev. A. K. Jones officiating. Interment will be in the Red House cemetery.

MRS. ERMA AUVIL

Funeral services were conducted from the Stemple Ridge church near Aurora, W. Va., Tuesday afternoon for Mrs. Erma Auvil, 19, who died in a hospital in Texas last Friday, of complications following a short illness.

She was born in Bayard, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Harsh, and is survived by her husband, John Auvil, stationed with the U. S. Army in San Angelo, Tex.; her parents, and two brothers and one sister, all of Aurora. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Lantz, of Aurora. Rev. E. J. Johnson, Aurora, was in charge of the funeral, assisted by Rev. A. K. Jones, Red House.

ALBERT J. BECKMAN

Albert J. Beckman, aged 63 years, son of the late John William and Harriet Beckman, died Wednesday morning at five o'clock at Memorial Hospital, Cumberland. He had been a patient there for the past six weeks.

Deceased was born in this county March 19, 1879.

Surviving are five children: Howard Beckman, Mountain Lake Park; Clarence Beckman and Russell Beckman, Deer Park; Mrs. G. W. Greggs, Confluence, Pa., and Miss Catherine Beckman, Paw Paw, W. Va.; also by three sisters and two brothers, Mrs. John Fulmer, Oakland; Mrs. Truman Bittinger, Oakland; Mrs. R. W. Stover, Terra Alta; W. B. Beckman and Wallace Beckman, Oakland.

Funeral services will be conducted Friday afternoon at two o'clock from the U. B. church in Mountain Lake Park, with the Rev. J. C. Foster officiating. Interment will be in the Beckman cemetery in Pleasant Valley.

MRS. DELIAH CARDER KILDOW

Mrs. Deliah Carder Kildow, wife of William M. Kildow, and daughter of the late Patten and Jane Carder, died at her home west of Oakland on Tuesday evening, after an illness of about a week.

She was born in Portland, O., July 12, 1859, and was aged 83 years. She was married to Mr. Kildow October 6, 1878, the couple having celebrated their 64th wedding anniversary last month.

There were born to this union ten children, six of whom survive: Mrs. G. W. Street, Oakland; Mrs. J. G. Bennett, Cincinnati, O.; Mrs. F. D. MacGary, Los Angeles, Calif.; William E. Kildow, Newton Falls, O.; Michael P. Kildow, Linden, N. J.; Hopwood C. Kildow, San Diego, Calif.; twelve grandchildren, twenty-one great grandchildren; also three brothers, Thomas Carder, Lawrence, Kansas; Lee Carder, Lawrence, Kansas; John Carder, and a sister, Mrs. Susan Schaffer, Parkersburg, W. Va.

She was a member of St. Paul's Methodist church, Oakland and a charter member of the Ladies' Aid; also a Gold Star mother, having lost a son, Proctor Kildow, in the World War. She was a member of the auxiliary of the American Legion.

Funeral services will be conducted Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Leighton Funeral Home with Rev. Minor Sprague, Methodist minister, in charge. Interment will be in the Oakland cemetery. The body will remain at the Funeral Home until after the service.

MRS. CYRENA L. HARDESTY

Mrs. Sarah Cyrena Lantz Hardesty, 76, died suddenly Sunday, November 1, at her home on Stemple ridge, near Aurora. She was the widow of Elijah William Hardesty, to whom she was married March 6, 1883, and who was killed March 28, 1923, in an explosion.

Mrs. Hardesty was born February 4, 1866, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Jacob Lantz, and lived in Preston county all her life. She was known to hundreds of her friends and relatives as "Aunt Cyrena," and was one of the oldest members of the Methodist church at Stemple ridge. She was the head of five living generations.

Surviving are one son, Bliss Hardesty, of Aurora; eight daughters, Mrs. Bessie Calcamp and Mrs. Joe Connie, of Aurora; Mrs. Darwin Hauser and Mrs. Ray Shaffer, Oakland; Nellie, of Kingwood, W. Va.; Lillie, of Fairmont; Mrs. C. Wilhelm, Eglon; and Mrs. Ralph Edwards, Ben Bush; also two brothers, Charles Lantz, Aurora, and Elias Lantz, of California; one sister, Mrs. Ada Wiles, of Albright; forty grandchildren, fifteen great grandchildren and one great great grandchild.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday morning at the Stemple Ridge Methodist church, with interment in the church cemetery.

MRS. MARY BROWNING

Mrs. Mary Browning, widow of William A. Browning, aged 82 years, died at her home yesterday evening about 8:00 o'clock after an illness of four weeks superinduced by an accident when her clothing became ignited by gas while she was close by a stove. Immediate cause of her death was penumonia and complications.

Mrs. Browning was born May 1, 1860, being a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Whetsell, residents until their death many years ago of Oakland.

The following named children survive: Mrs. Belle White, Clarksburg, W. Va.; Cheston H. Browning, Oakland; Mrs. Anna MacKay, Miami, Fla.; Miss Bonnie Browning, of Philadelphia and Oakland; Holmes T. Browning, Charleston, W. Va.; Mary Elizabeth Browning and Mrs. Hulda B. Littman, of Oakland. Another son, Robert A. Browning, is deceased.

Mrs. Browning was a member of the Methodist church in Oakland. At this hour no funeral arrangements had been completed.

Imagine sitting there like a lazy-bones while gale and snow blow in through a broken window! Absurd? Sure! Nobody would do it. They'd replace the broken window fast.

But you do almost the same thing when you tolerate other heat losses . . . losses that may be costing you even more.

Heat loss through the roof, for instance, or the walls. Heat loss through your windows and doors, and around your windows.

The Government wants you to save fuel for victory. It's not only a good idea for war production reasons, but it's good business for your own pocketbook. And these savings last not only for the war but go on year after year.

SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

CHRISTIAN NURTURE IN THE FAMILY

LESSON TEXT—Deuteronomy 6:4-9, 20-25; II Timothy 3:14, 15.

GOLDEN TEXT—Train up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old, he will not depart from it.—Proverbs 22:6.

The religious life of the home is a determining factor in the life of the child, for it is in the home that the child's whole existence centers and from which he receives the repeated impressions, day by day, which determine character and destiny. Then too, it is in the home that the parent has the opportunity to demonstrate the reality of the faith professed in the church and to show the child that Christianity really counts in the ordinary experiences of life.

I. By Recognizing God's Word Deut. 6:4-9).

Twice a day the orthodox Jew repeated the words of verses 4 and 5, "the Shema," in his time of prayer, morning and night. It was the foundation of his faith, declaring the oneness of God in a world of many heathen gods, and calling for complete and absolute devotion to Him.

But it was not enough that these words should be repeated in the service, they were to be taught with all diligence to the children and to be a normal and natural part of their daily conversation.

Here is a matter of great significance to us. The faith which we profess in the church must be effectively brought into the home. It is not enough to carry a Bible on Sunday, it should be in use in the home throughout the week; not only in family worship, but in the incidentals of daily life.

The family altar has gradually disappeared, and it is regrettable that it has, for the testimony of generations indicates that in family worship some of the most useful men and women of all ages have received the direction of life which made them great for God.

Let us not readily assume that it is not possible for us to have a family altar simply because of the difficulties of time, place, etc. But if we cannot have such worship regularly, let us show our children that we have a real interest by reading our Bibles, by sharing some blessing found therein with them, and by making prayer the natural thing in the home at all times, not just in hours of trial or adversity. Let us recognize God's Word in our family life.

II. By Remembering God's Blessing (Deut. 6:20-25).

The nation that forgets its past will have no future worth remembering. The Israelites were to recall that the glorious history of God's loving kindness toward them bore testimony to the truth of His Word and to the faithfulness with which He had kept them. Their young people would thus be encouraged to trust God for the future. "Hitherto the Lord hath helped," means that henceforth we may count on Him.

In every nation there are those occasions of history where only God could deliver—and He did. The recollection of such events in a way which will give the glory to God rather than to man will strengthen faith and cause men to look to God in the hour of need, and to thank Him in the day of victory.

In the family too, we should cultivate the sacred memories of God's deliverance, of His blessing, of the joy of His fellowship in bright as well as threatening moments. Children who hear such matters gratefully rehearsed in the home have an effective anchor in a time of storm.

III. By Continuing in God's Grace (II Tim. 3:14, 15).

That which we learn of Christ and of God's Word is to be translated into living for Christ. The experiences of grace and the remembrance of God's blessing of childhood are not for that period of life alone but for a continuing in God's grace. This carries our thought a bit beyond the responsibility of the parent to provide the proper surroundings and training, and stresses the duty of the child to apply, perfect, and continue that experience of Christian truth and testimony.

Too many careless individuals, who because of the desires of their own wicked hearts have abandoned the church and the Book, blame it on the parents. "They were too strict. We had to go to church too much. They made me go to Sunday school"—such are their excuses. Of course, we know that they are only excuses, not reasons. They are the refuge of the hypocrite who is not willing to face his own terrible responsibility.

The obligation is on each one of us to continue in the things we have learned, and if we do not, the judgment must come upon us. If we do, salvation and blessing will come to us, and we in turn will pass it on to others.

May this lesson turn many an American home back to God's way.

MT. LAKE PARK

This week the paper will be full of election returns, so you will not notice that we are very short on news for this column. Whether or not it was because of the interest taken in the election, we cannot say, but just the same there didn't seem to be any. In Mountain Lake, at least, people showed that they were vitally interested in this election. The turnout of voters was larger than usual, which is always a good sign whether it's your side which wins or the other fellow's. In our case it was the "other fellow" mostly.

The town will burn your leaves for you if they are raked to the gutters. This was good news. Sorry we didn't learn it sooner to tell you.

Personals

The Neighborhood Club will hold its monthly luncheon and meeting on Wednesday, November 11, at the home of Mrs. John Stevenson. Assistant hostesses will be Mrs. Daisy Deane, Mrs. Bessie Zahn and Mrs. Wiley W. Welling.

Miss Joanna Grimes, Washington, D. C., spent the week-end here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bushrod Grimes.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Keller, Morgantown, announce the birth of a daughter on Saturday morning, October 31, at Morgantown. Mrs. Keller is the former Miss Louise Moon, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Moon.

Miss Anna Hamill, who spent the summer here, has returned to Fairmont, where she will reside this winter with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Smouse.

Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Schaeffer are moving this week to Oakland where they will establish their residence.

Miss Myrtle Finnell has closed Allenhurst cottage and gone to Clarksburg for the winter months.

Miss Katharine McLain, summer resident, has left Wheeling by motor for St. Petersburg, Fla., where she will spend the winter

Among those from here who witnessed football games on Saturday were Bruce Jenkins and Edgar Smith, who were in Morgantown for the WVU-Penn State game; Mrs. Britton Martin and daughter Barbara accompanied Mrs. Martin's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. Paul Riley and son Lawrence to Pittsburgh, where they attended the Carnegie Tech-Pittsburgh game. Lawrence Riley is a student at Carnegie Tech.

Diplomatic relations between Uruguay and Russia, severed in 1933 are expected to be resumed soon.

"HERE COMES THE ARMY, ADOLF—LOOK AND LISTEN!"

And how it's coming, Adolf! Trained to the minute, rarin' to go—four and a half-million strong! And every rugged fighting man started on his way over the steel highway called the American Railroad System!

Free Americans from every city, town and crossroad are being gathered and sped to camps—by rail. They're toughened and trained...then they're sent to maneuvers—by rail! Back to camp for final training; then rushed, with their equipment, to embarkation points—by rail!

Yes, Adolf, the Railroads have moved nearly 7,000,000 fighting men since Pearl Harbor —66% in modern Pullmans. That doesn't count furlough travel, either.

Railroad workers are war workers, Adolf—from the watchman at the crossing to the boss behind the desk. 1,400,000 of them are working together, moving more troops, more vital war equipment, than at any time in history. And as the tempo increases, America's Railroads are ready to move more, and still more, men—safely and on time.

LAW OFFICES JONES & JONES

John W. McRobie and others, Plaintiffs,
vs.
John C. McRobie and Anita McRobie, his wife; John Barnard, Hallie Barnard and Alfred Barnard, Defendants.
No. 3672 Equity. In the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to procure the passage of a decree for the sale of the real estate of Stella V. McRobie, late of Garrett County, Maryland, deceased, situate in Garrett County, Maryland, and for the distribution of the proceeds therefrom.

The bill states:

That Stella V. McRobie, late of Garrett County, Maryland, was in her lifetime and at the time of her death seized and possessed of a parcel of land, situate in Election District No. 1 of Garrett County, Maryland, containing 39½ acres, and being the same which was conveyed to her by deed from Thomas A. McRobie, widower, dated July 22, 1921, and recorded in Liber E. Z. T., No. 80, folio 322, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, a certified copy of which deed has been filed as "Exhibit No. 1"; that the said Stella V. McRobie, while seized and possessed of the aforesaid real estate departed this life, intestate, at her home in Garrett County, Maryland, on the 23rd day of January, 1942, leaving surviving her as next of kin and heirs at law, to whom said land descended, her husband, John W. McRobie and the following children and grandchildren, to-wit:

David McRobie, a son, who intermarried with Mary McRobie; Carroll F. McRobie, a son, who intermarried with Nellie McRobie; Guy Thomas McRobie, a son, who intermarried with Catherine McRobie; John C. McRobie, a son, who intermarried with Anita McRobie; Virginia June McRobie Adkins, a daughter, who intermarried with Z. C. Adkins; Louise Lucie McRobie Beckman, a daughter, who intermarried with Ray E. Beckman; Beatrice L. McRobie Custer, a daughter, who intermarried with Ray Custer; and the following grandchildren, children of Mabel McRobie Barnard, a deceased daughter, who departed this life on May 13th, 1935: June Barnard Sharpless, a granddaughter, who intermarried with William L. Sharpless; Naomi Barnard Warnick, a granddaughter, who intermarried with Gilbert H. Warnick; Juanita Barnard Tichnell, a granddaughter, who intermarried with William A. Tichnell; Helen Barnard Hoopengardner, a granddaughter, who intermarried with Wilbur S. Hoopengardner; Hallie Barnard, granddaughter, and William E. Barnard; John Barnard; and Alfred Barnard, grandsons, the last four being unmarried; that all the plaintiffs and defendants are of full age with the exception of said Hallie Barnard, John Barnard and Alfred Barnard, who are minors under the age of 21 years; that the said real estate is not susceptible of partition in kind without material loss or injury to the parties entitled to interests therein, and it would be to the advantage of all the said parties to have said property sold and the proceeds derived therefrom divided among them according to their respective rights and interests; that the said John C. McRobie and Anita McRobie, his wife, are non-residents of Garrett County, and the State of Maryland, and their present place of residence is to the plaintiffs unknown; that Hallie Barnard now resides in Prince George's County, Maryland, and the said John Barnard and Alfred Barnard in Baltimore County, Maryland.

The bill then prays for a decree for the sale of said real estate and for the distribution of the proceeds derived therefrom and for general relief.

It is thereupon, this 15th day of October, 1942, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, in Equity, ordered that the plaintiffs by having a copy of this order inserted in some newspaper published in Garrett County, Maryland, once a week for four successive weeks before the 13th day of November, 1942, give notice to the said absent defendants, John C. McRobie and Anita McRobie, his wife, of the object and substance of said bill, warning them to be and apper in this Court in person or by solicitor, on or before the 28th day of November, 1942, to show cause, if any they have, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

Clerk of the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland.

A PLEDGE TO THE UNKNOWN SOLDIER—

"And thus this man died, leaving his death for an example of a noble courage, and a memorial of virtue, not only unto young men, but unto all his nation."—2 Mac. VI 31.

Again on this Armistice Day, the highest dignitaries of the land will gather at a grave in Arlington Cemetery to pay honor to the unknown soldier who reprseents all who fell in the last World War — symbol of those who have fallen in the renewed struggle between tyranny and freedom.

No one knows who this unknown soldier is. He may have come from any part of the nation—from some teeming factory town or from behind the plow. No one knows or cares who or what his ancestors were, whether he was among the humble or the favored of fortune, or by what path he sought to climb to the heights to sit humbly with his God. All that is known is that he gave his life for the United States of America.

What he was, is not of import. It is what he did and what he has passed on to us, the living, that is vital.

Heroes are an inspiration, not a creed—an altar from which to progress, not a grave by which to mourn. We truly honor our dead not by making their earthly resting place a spot of beauty and of peace, but by completing the task they set out to do. We dishonor them when we leave undone the work for which they gave their lives.

Unknown means not recognized. But the task the Unknown Solider left is recognized by all of us. He was an American—not rich, not poor; not Protestant, Catholic or Jew; not a German-American, an Italian-American; not a "son of the American Revolution", not an immigrant—but just a citizen of the United States—an American who loved his country and its ideals of freedom and equality enough to offer his life that these ideals of justice and democracy might not perish.

It is for us, the living, to carry on where he left off—to rededicate ourselves to those ideals which carved this country from the wilderness, formed it into a confederation, welded it into a nation, and made it and its Constitution the hope and the aspiration of the oppressed multitudes of the Old World. Our pledge of the continuance of these ideals is the wreath of immortellee we lay on the grave of the Unknown Soldier this Armistice Day of 1942. It is his right—and our duty!

With Our Men In the Service

Richard Gonder Writes

The Jaycees have received another letter in appreciation of the letters and packages received, this time from Richard Gonder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gonder, who is in the Coast Guard. He writes from Jamaica, L. I., New York.

"Sorry that my expression of gratitude for that grand box of 'home' has had to be late, but the day I received it I was transferred here to New York for a special course at an aerial camera school.

"But because the 'thanks' come late, I hope it will not suggest the spirit isn't there—far from it!

"Receiving that box full of letters and gifts from my friends at home was one of the finest experiences I've ever had. It was a sort of experience that tightens a little gear somewhere in the vicinity of the Adamn's apple and brings out that hard-to-swallow lump in the throat.

"To you fellows in the Jaycees who are sponsoring this, and to those who are supporting it, let me say that there is no greater satisfaction for us who have a part, large or small, in fighting this war, than the justification of the ideals we are fighting for.

"Rekindling all those memories of things gentle, friendly and kind is food for the spirits of military men—damned nourishing food.

"To say that the Jaycees box made me happy, would not be enough—because it made me mighty proud—proud of my homefolks and proud of my town and county.

"I hope that all the fellows who leave Garrett county for the service have the benefit of the same experience.

"Soon I hope to write all those who so generously remembered me.

Sincely,
DICK GONDER.

MARRIED

WALLACE-FRIEND — Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Friend, of Friendsville, announce the marriage of their daughter, Virginia Ellen, to John W. Wallace, on Saturday, October 24. The groom is a son of Mrs. Lulu Wallace, Denver, Colo., and the late William Wallace, of Winchester, Va.

The bride wore a suit of winter green trimmed in leopard, with red accessories and wore a corsage of orchids.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. E. B. Spenser, pastor of the Strawbridge Methodist church, Baltimore, in the Parish house on Park Avenue, Baltimore. Witnesses were William Gibson, Baltimore, and B. Kent Offley, also of Baltimore.

The couple will reside at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wallace for the present.

CRUITT-COOPER—Miss Mary Virginia Cooper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Cooper, of Aldino, Md., became the bride of Dr. E. D. Cruitt, a lieutenant in the armed forces, at a ceremony performed at the Methodist church at Aldino on Friday evening, October 30, at 6:30 o'clock. Rev. Bunce and Rev. Robey had charge of the service.

The bride wore a dress of white velvet appliqued on net, with a bouquet of white chrysanthemums. The maid of honor, her sister, Miss Verna Cooper, was dressed in cerese velvet and carried rust chrysanthemums. Julius C. Renninger was the best man. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

A reception for 100 guests followed at Colonial Hoted at Havre de Grace, after which the couple flew to New York for a brief honeymoon. The couple will reside in Washington, where Lieut. Cruitt is stationed at present.

Mrs. Cruitt will be remembered as having been an instructor in Oakland high school in mathematics and physical education for a period of two years. Dr. Cruitt practiced his profession in Oakland for about three years before being called to the army.

Attending the ceremony were Mrs. Mary Fridinger and daughter, Miss Dorothea Fridinger, of Oakland; Harley Dawson, who is stationed at Fort George G. Meade, near Baltimore, in the armed forces; and Lieut. William Fridinger, of Edgewood Arsenal, near Baltimore.

MAKING THE MOST OF MEAT

The nation has been given the opportunity to voluntarily reduce the use of meat—in order that all families may have a supply. A sharing process, in short! The sharing allowance for a person over 12 years of age, as you know, is 2½ pounds of pork, beef, veal and lamb, figured "bone in." For a child under 6, allow ¾ lb., and for each child from 6 to 12, allow 1½ pounds.

Store and Cook With Care

Put meat, and poultry, too, in the coldest part of your ice-box or other cold storage place—450 degrees Fahrenheit or lower is best. If it's ground meat, store it extra cold and use it soon.

Many a retired cook book will go on active duty in the hunt for meat recipes. When you are looking, hunt recipes that make the most of meat in food value and flavor. Remember the modern way is: cook meat with moderate heat until done, and no longer. This way, meat is more tender, tastes better and losses in cooking are low—so there's more left to serve.

"Stretching Meat"

There are dozens of ways to "stretch" meat supplies. Just as a starter, here are some suggestions:

1. Veal or beef birds are another savory blend of stuffing and meat. Have the meat cut into strips 2 or 3 inches wide. Spread with stuffing. Roll and toothpick into neat packages for individual servings. Brown in fat, add a litle water and braise slowly in a covered baking dish until tender. Serve with the gravy.

2. Meat loaf is another good user of the cheaper cuts. Have the raw lean meat ground fine and season it well. Combine it with such binders and flavor extenders as bread crumbs, corn meal, boiled rice, mashed potatoes, oatmeal. Meat loaf, sliced cold, is a perfect filling for sandwiches.

3. Ground beef broiled on toast, catches every drop of the flavorable juice, makes a neat serving piece. One pound of ground raw beef mixed with 2 or 3 tablespoons of milk, seasoned with salt and pepper, will cover 6 or 8 slices of bread. First, toast the bread on one side and spread the meat clear to the edge of the untoasted side. Then dot with fat and slip into the oven to broil. Serve at once.

A pound of sausage, some apples and cabbage, and you have the "makin's" of a tempting baked dish that needs only potatoes baked at the same oven heat to round out the main part of a dinner. Arrange the raw cabbage and apples in alternate layers in the baking dish, fry sausage cakes and lay on top. Add a tablespoon of vinegar to the sausage fat and pour over all. Cover and bake until cabbage and apples are tender.

5. Meat turn-overs. A good use for left-over cooked meat. First, chop and season the meat with oninon and celery or parsley. Then moisten slightly with gravy, broth, tomatoes, or chili sauce. Add salt and pepper to taste. Make a rich dough and roll out portions into rounds about 6 inches across. On each round of dough place some of the meat filling, fold the dough over and pinch the edges together to make turn-overs. Bake until brown in a hot oven—about 425 degrees F. Meat turn-overs are a pleasant change from sandwiches in a lunch box.

6. Savery meat on toast is another good user-up of left-overs. Cook one sliced onion and 1 cup of chopped celery and leaves in a tablespoon of fat for a few minutes. If the mixture is too thin, add 1 to 2 tablespoons of flour mixed to a smooth consistency and thickened. Add 1½ cups of chopped cooked meat, heat thoroughly, season with salt and pepper. Serve hot on crisp toast.

Health Dept. Urges Use of Lead-free Gasoline in Stoves

The Maryland State Department of Health has found many instances where gasoline containing lead (tetraethyl) is being used for fuel in gasoline stoves. Dr. R. H. Riley, Director of the Department, therefore warns the public that there is great danger in using such gasoline for stoves.

"Gasoline containing lead is for automobiles only," Dr. Riley says. "Never use it in stoves, because the fumes contain lead which may cause fatal lead poisoning, especially in children. These fumes get into the air, into the food, and on the pots and pans. The lead will also clog the stove.

"Leaded gasoline is being used because the shortage of gasoline has made the lead-free type difficult to obtain. So that people needing gasoline for stoves will not endanger their health or lives and develop lead poisoning by using leaded gasoline, the State Deparment of Health has met with the oil companies and an effort is being made to supply lead-free gasoline in the areas where it is needed.

"Here are some ways of being sure you get the proper gasoline:

Consult the manager of your supply station for information as to where lead-free gasoline can be purchased.

Gasoline that is lead-free will have a notice on the pump or container stating that it is lead-free and can be used in stoves.

You can always tell when gasoline contais lead, because the pump has a small metal warning plate on it which says, "For Use As A Motor Fuel Only; Contains Lead (Tetraethyl)."

"If you cannot obtain lead-free gasoline, buy none," Dr. Riley warns. "Keep on looking until you find lead-free gasoline or do without fuel for your stove, but don't take any chances with gasoline containing lead. The danger is too great to risk."

THAT'S the 1942 quota for farmers in this country. We've got a good start—let's finish up with flying colors.

To keep up steadily increased production, cows will have to be given better care and more good feed than ever before.

Southern States Dairy Feed Program is geared to fit your cows, your roughage, your farm conditions. Flexible formulas in Southern States permit your cooperative hired men to take advantage of the best ingredient buys on the market—bring you balanced, palatable feeds high in T.D.N. (total digestible nutrients) at the lowest possible cost.

Only open formulas show you the exact amount of feed in each ton which your cows can use to keep in health and high production. All Southern States Dairy Feeds are open formula. Let us help you select the formula that will help you get more milk and a better cow left.

Our Bill of Rights . . . . .

The first ten amendments to our Constitution are better known as the Bill of Rights. They are as broad a charter of individual liberties as was ever written into a nation's fundamental law.

They are worth fighting for, both on the battlefront and the home front.

1. Guarantees to Americans the freedom of religion, freedom of speech and press, freedom to assemble peaceably and petition their government "for redress of grievances."

2. Provides that each state can have a militia and affirms "the right of the people to keep and bear arms."

3. Strictly regulates the quartering of federal troops in private homes.

4. Guarantees the right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers and effects against unreasonable searches and seizures.

5. Requires grand jury action for serious criminal charges, provides that accused persons cannot be forced to testify against themselves in criminal cases, and cannot "be deprived of life, liberty or property, without due process of law."

6. Insures an accused person the right of speedy and public trial, right to obtain witnesses in his favor and counsel for his defense.

7. Provides right of trial by jury in suits at common law.

8. Prohibits excessive bail and fines, and cruel and unusual punishment.

9. Says that the listing of rights in the Constitution does not deny or disparage other rights retained by people.

10. Reserves to the states, or to the people, all powers not given to the federal government.

Dictator countries give no such guarantee of personal liberties.

Registration of Owners of Passenger Automobiles Will Take Place Friday As Scheduled

Gasoline rationing in the thirty-one states not now under ration control will be postponed from November 22 to December 1, OPA announced Tuesday.

The postponement of the rationing date however, does not affect the registration date for owners of passenger cars, and this will be carried out in Garrett county on Friday, November 13, as was announced last week.

This registration will take place in the schools of the county and teachers will assist in this work.

The War Ration Board announced this morning that three things would be required of registrants—their registration card for their automobiles, the serial numbers of all tires they possess, and the serial number of the Federal stamp which should be on the windshield of the car.

Only "A" ration books will be issued on Friday, which is the minimum book. Those who are of the opinion that they are entitled to "B" or "C" books may obtain supplemental ration applications at the schools which they are to fill out and present to the ration board at a later date.

If a person has more than the allotted five tires in his possession he will not be issued a ration book on Friday, it was stated. The individual must get rid of his excess tires at the express office, at which place he will be given a receipt. He may then present that receipt to the ration board and receive an "A" book.

It was also stated by officials of the ration board that a number of garages had the registration blanks and that individuals would save much time and confusion if they would procure them in advance and have them filled out when they brought them to the schools on Friday.

The postponement of the nation-wide rationing date was said by the OPA to be due principally to wartime congestion of the transportation system which it said made it impossible to keep delivery schedules in all parts of the country on the more than 330,000,000 printed pieces needed to place the program in effect.

80 Attend Legion Pig Roast Monday

Approximately 80 ex-service men and legionnaires attended the pig roast Monday evening at the Manhattan hotel, held in connection with the membership drive of Proctor Kildow Post of Oakland.

Chief speaker was Daniel F. McMullen, Cumberland, department commander of Maryland, who spoke on the present activities of the legion in relation to the present war effort. Other speakers included Ray Lippold, command of the Fort Cumberland Post, Tracy Curry, of Thomas, W. Va.; and Joseph M. Gonder, of the Oakland post. Neil C. Fraley was toastmaster.

Resigns Position

Miss Catharine M. Trundle has resigned her position as Home Management Supervisor with the Farm Security Administration, whose office is located on the second floor of the Garrett National Bank building. It was effective November 1, 1942.

Legislators' Pay Increase May Win

A heavy vote from Baltimore county in favor of increasing legislators' salaries to $1,000 a year gave that proposal a good chance of becoming law, but such is not yet a certainty.

There are changes from the counting Friday of absentee soldier ballots, and in the official count of ballots in Baltimore city, Allegany and Harford counties.

For the measure.....60,266
Against it.....58,971

Somerset, with twenty-three polling places, cast more than 6,000 votes for governor but voting in most counties was far lighter on the seven proposed amendments to the State constitution.

Legislators now receive $5 per day, with extra allowances for clerical assistance and mileage to and from Annapolis.

Other Probable Results

Of the seven proposed constitutional amendments on the ballots three of them aroused the most interest—the proposed salary increase for legislators, a juvenile court system and a change in the condemnation procedure for highway projects.

The court proposal was apparently beaten and the condemnation change approved.

The fate of the one setting up regulations for religious bequests was in doubt. On the basis of incomplete tabulations the vote was 40,816 in favor and 41,697 against.

One providing a simple and uniform system of fees in offices of clerks of courts and registers of wills was apparently approved 49,379 to 33,532.

Harford county was provided with an additional associated judge by a vote of 44,544 to 32,759.

Changing requirements for publication of proposed constitutional amendments was questionable, the present vote being 39,836 in favor and 37,601 against.

Victory Club Formed At St. Peter's School

"Work," "save," "pray," is the motto of the recently organized Victory club of St. Peter's school.

Members have pledged themselves to help win the war by daily participation in the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass. At their request special Masses for peace and for the deceased members of the armed forces will be offered.

Plans are being made for benefits, the proceeds of which will be used for purchasing war stamps.

The following have been appointed to act as officers until the election, which will be held on December 4: William Stanton, president; Rose Marie Rice, vice-president; Ella Fazzalari, secretary; Daniel Ingram, treasurer, and James Smart, sergeant-at-arms.

Wants New Trial

Alva R. Martin, charged with burglary in Preston county, W. Va., and held in the Preston county jail for several months, was tried at Kingwood this week and found guilty, before Judge C. P. Wilhelm.

Defense attorneys filed a motion for a new trial on the grounds of what they termed an illegal search warrant. Some of the items alleged to have been stolen from a person living near Terra Alta were found at the Martin farm near Gortner as a result of the warrant, it was stated.

OFFICIAL FIGURES ARE TABULATED BY BOARD

Six of Nine Mail Ballots Included In Totals—No Change In Standing of Candidates

Official election figures, with the exception of three mail ballots not yet received or tabulated, released by the Board of Election Supervisors last Thursday following the tabulation of regular returns, show no changes in the standing of the candidates in the November 3 election, although the totals were changed somewhat by the addition of votes from missing precincts. Six of the mail ballots are included.

Garrett county voters showed their approval of dividing the County into Commissioner districts, so that all sections would be certain of representation in the next election and from then on. All amendments were overwhelmingly defeated in this county.

A. G. Ross, unopposed for the office of clerk of the circuit court, polled the highest number of votes.

The vote was as follows:

Governor—McKeldin 2,886, O'Conor 2,000.

Comptroller—Tawes 2,111.

Attorney General — Walsh 1,663, Whitworth 2,732.

Congress—Beall 3,056, Lee 1,347.

Chief Judge—Sloan 2,815.

Associate Judge — Miller 1,955, Mish 1,833.

State Senator—Gonder 2,613, Jones 2,527; majority 86.

House of Delegates — Brenneman 3,279, Fike 3,254, Hoye 1,775, Myers 3,136.

State's Attorney — Fraley 2,628, Matthews 2,237; majority 391.

Clerk Circuit Court—Ross 3,566.

County Treasurer — Helbig 3,076, Spoerlein 1,815.

County Commissioners — Gortner 3,054, Herman 3,194, Meyers 3,161, Sines 3,288.

Sheriff—Coddington 2,914, Haenftling 2,020.

Orphans' Court Judges — Bishoff 3,178, Callis 3,111, Cuppett 2,574, Speelman 1,895.

Register of Wills—Smouse 3,280.

Surveyor—Sincell 2,904.

Judiciary amendment — For 220, against 971.

Publication amendment — For 293, against 1,287.

Legislative Salary Increase — For 293, against 1,355.

Gifts amendment—For 228, against 1,369.

Road Condemnation amendment—For 299, against 1,234.

Clerks and Register of Wills Salaries amendment—For 302, against 1,224.

Juvenile Court amendment — For 324, against 1,210.

Dividing Garrett County into County Commissioner districts—For 1,323, against 1,013.

The tabulated vote by precincts and districts is given on another page of today's issue.

Safety Inspection For Cars Called Off

Cancellation of the annual automobile safety inspection campaign, and elimination of the rear license plate "clip" next year were announced by Motor Vehicle Commissioner W. Lee Elgin.

Elgin said a shortage of mechanics made it necessary to call off the inspection. In previous years automobiles had to pass the inspection before new licenses would be issued the owners.

Police, however, will watch out for "unsafe" vehicles and report them to the commissioner, who will summon the owners for hearings.

Formerly, motorists began having their cars checked from November through the middle of December. If repairs were needed, they had to be made before inspection stickers were issued.

One Clip Next Year

Elgin estimated approximately twenty-five tons of steel could be saved this year by eliminating the rear license clip. The front clip will be black with aluminum numerals, a reversal of the color scheme of the old large plates which will remain on vehicles for the third year.

Trooper Browning To Be Transferred

Trooper George M. Browning, who has been stationed at the LaVale barracks of the State police, has been notified that he will be transferred to Garrett county on Sunday.

He will work with Corporal Thomas Currie, who has been in Garrett county for several years.

Injured In Fall

Robert Maroney was painfully but not seriously injured on Tuesday afternoon when he fell from the second floor of the Hart building to the pavement below as he attempted to reach the roof to repair a leak.

He was taken to the office of Dr. E. I. Baumgartner in an unconscious condition, where he was revived, examined and later sent to the home of his aunt, Miss Bridget Maroney.

He was considerably bruised as a result of the fall but no bones were broken. He will be able to be out again in about a week, it was stated.

OHS Dramatists To Give One-Act Plays

Three Comedies Scheduled Friday, November 20, In School Auditorium

Three one-act plays, all comedies, will be presented by the Dramatic club of Oakland High school on Friday evening, November 20, beginning at 8 o'clock, in the High school auditorium. Admission will be 17 and 28 cents, including tax.

The first play centers around a group of catty women, all crazy over one man, with touches of comedy and tragedy. Characters are Evalyn Fraley, Marylin Haney, Ann Lawrence, Amy Jane Friend, Cleda Bittinger, Leona Feld, Mary Kahl and Mary Fazzalari.

The second portrays adolescent life, with James Rook playing opposite Elaine Casteel and Bill Treacy playing opposite Margaret Leighton. Other characters are Ruth Kahl and Robert Hart, portraying an elderly couple, Bob Rudy, Lois Beckman, Beulah Fitzwater and Wayne Krause.

The third play concerns a young bachelor, played by Charles McIntire, who recently served on a jury where a man was tried and convicted. When another juror is found dead in bed and McIntire receives an anonymous note telling him his "time has come," the events come thick and fast until the happy conclusion. Assisting characters are Fay Sines, Leona Baker, Marion Honick, Robert Hart, Barbara Hinebaugh, Geraldine Chaney, Jack Welling.

Christmas Seal Sale To Open November 23

The annual Christmas Seal sale in Garrett county will be inaugurated on Monday, November 23, and will continue until Christmas, it was announced this week by W. B. Matthews, director of the Maryland Tuberculosis association.

The money raised from this sale enables the association to fight tuberculosis in Maryland through clinics, x-rays, medical research, tuberculin testing, health education and the Miracle House. Chest clinics are held here monthly in the county health office.

William H. Staub, who was named general Christmas Seal Sale chairman for Maryland, will also have charge of Garrett county. The campaign locally will be conducted similar to last year, when a large number of seals were mailed to individuals and organizations, with return envelopes enclosed for returning the proper amount of money or the unused seals.

The seals this year picture an open sleigh being driven across the snowy countryside.

Draft Officials Confer With Boards

Lieut. Commander C. H. Bryant, assistant director of the Maryland State Selective Service headquarters, and Thomas W. Longley, chief coordinator for state headquarters, conferred Tuesday night with members of Allegany and Garrett county draft boards, in Cumberland. Appeal agents also were present.

Problems related to operation of the local draft boards and various matters pertaining to reclassification of registrants were discussed.

Members of the County Draft Board are D. E. Offutt, chairman; Delbert Davis and M. E. Pritts, and they were accompanied to Cumberland by Neil C. Fraley, appeal agent.

Ducks and Geese Heard

Ducks and geese, hurrying southward, were heard over Oakland upon two or three occasions during the past week, which is only one of the signs that winter is "just around the corner."

The temperature has hovered around the freezing mark since Wednesday morning, following a rain and windstorm on Tuesday.

American Education Week Being Observed

American Education Week is being observed locally and nationally from November 9 to 16, and members of the Garrett County Teachers' Association are cooperating.

Materials to guide the conducting of programs have been placed in each school by the committee in charge of this work. A short movie announcing and explaining American Education Week is being shown in the theatres of the county. Parents are invited to visit the schools during this week.

"These activities should make our schools and their communities more conscious of the part each must play in our effort to preserve the American way of life," declared Merle Frantz, principal of the Oakland Elementary school.

Extension Director Speaks At Annual Farm Bureau Dinner

Dr. T. B. Symons Talks on "Fire Prevention"—New Directors Elected

Dr. T. B. Symons, dean and director of the Extension Service, University of Maryland, was the principal speaker at the fifth annual banquet of the County Farm Bureau, held last Thursday evening in Grantsville. He spoke on the subject of "Fire Prevention in Garrett County," as particularly applied to farm properties.

Dr. Symons was introduced by John H. Carter, county agent. Attending the banquet were 228 members and guests.

Following Dr. Symons' address a brief talk was given by Ray Wigeley, vice president of the State Farm Bureau. Also speaking briefly were Earl Michael and Nelson Brenneman, who attended the national convention; Miss Beulah Engle and D. J. Hummel, who attended the state convention.

S. L. Otto and William Winterberg were elected to attend the next national convention; Morgan Fike, E. G. Griffith and William Dietle, delegates to the state convention; and Charley Miller, Dorsey Guard, delegates to the New York convention.

William Winterberg, president for the past four years, was re-elected. A new board of directors was elected as follows:

Friendsville district—Ernest Griffith, Morgan Fike, Dorsey Guard.

Oakland district — H. L. Porter, Artie Dodge, Ray Ridder.

Accident — Adam Richter, Oscar Harman, R. C. Turney.

Grantsville—A. J. Orendorf, Guy Stanton, S. L. Otto.

The turkey dinner was served by the Ladies' Missionary Society of the Reformed church. Guests were welcomed by Mr. Winterberg and singing was led by J. J. Ashby, Jr., with W. L. Gibson at the piano, both of Oakland.

Jaycees Select Weber-Jackson

The Jaycees selected the names of Lieut. Jack Weber and Capt. Haig Jackson in continuation of their service-men project, it was announced this morning. Their names will be posted in the usual places where individuals may write greetings or send gifts.

Capt. Jackson is with the 312th engineers at Camp McCain, Mississippi. He was former manager of the J. W. Jackson store here.

Lieut. Weber, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Weber, is in the Army Air corps and is located at Stuttgart, Arkansas.

Armistice Day Quietly Observed

Armistice Day, November 11, in observance of that day in 1918 when fighting ceased in World War I, was observed in a quiet manner in Oakland and Garrett county.

Most schools of the county had special programs and then dismissed at noon. There was no special observance by the American Legion but a number of persons from here went to Cumberland to witness the Legion parade and celebration there.

Banks and other business establishments were closed for the day but the postoffice remained open and there were mail deliveries as usual.

Stolen Car Located

The stolen automobile, owned by C. C. "Dick" Helbig, which was taken from in front of the Helbig mill on Monday, November 2, has been located in Kansas City, Missouri, parked on one of the city streets. The automobile apparently was not damaged. Insurance officials are making arrangements for its return to Oakland.

Carnation Company Manager Transferred

Goes to Clarksburg As Field Representative—Grover Sneed Fills Vacancy

Louis Finke, local plant manager for the Carnation Company since February, 1942, has been promoted to the position of field representative and was transferred on Tuesday to Clarksburg, W. Va., where he will be connected with the Clarksburg condensery there.

Mr. and Mrs. Finke are moving to that city as soon as necessary arrangements are completed.

His position here is being filled by Grover Sneed, a graduate of the University of Missouri. Mr. Sneed has been located at Murpheysboro, Tenn., with the Carnation company.

County Reaccredited As Practically Free Of Diseased Cattle

Garrett county was among a group of counties in the United States to maintain its accredited rating in regard to freedom of disease among cattle, it was announced by the United States department of agriculture this week.

The department announced that eleven counties in ten states had been added to those officially accredited as practically free from Bang's disease among cattle. In addition sixteen counties in three states were accredited as virtually free from the disease for an additional period of three years.

The total designated counties being practically free of the disease is 560 in twenty-four states, containing more than five million dairy and breeding cattle.

The work of testing the cattle in Garrett county had been in charge of four veterinarians who completed their work about three weeks ago. Garrett county first became an accredited area in 1939, according to John H. Carter, county agent.

Mr. Carter pointed out that before cattle can be brought into an accredited area the purchaser must have a health certificate for the cattle from the state from which the purchase was made.

The local office has not yet received official notice that Garrett county has been reaccredited.

Explain Plans For Coffee Rationing

Individuals to Get One Pound in Five Weeks After November 28

Plans for the forthcoming rationing of coffee have been outlined by the War Price and Rationing Board.

Sales of coffee will be frozen November 21 to 28. Beginning midnight, November 28, every person in the country over fifteen years of age will be entitled to a ration of one pound of coffee each five weeks. Restaurants and other institutional users of coffee will be controlled under rationing also.

It was indicated that more and more coffee would be packed in paper bags and that tin-packed coffee may disappear from shelves by Christmas with glass jars going soon after.

Consumers will get their first coffee ration by surrendering the last stamp of their war ration book No. 1, the book now used only for sugar rationing. Subsequent rations of coffee will be on coupons taken in sequence from 28 down to 18.

No. 9 Now Good for Sugar

War ration stamp No. 9 is now good for three pounds of sugar, and was good from November 1 for a six-weeks' period. It is the same ratio as in previous periods, one-half pound per week per person.

To Continue School Lunch Program Here

Surplus commodities will be available again for school lunch programs throughout the county, it has been announced, and a School Lunch program committee has been named by F. E. Rathbun, county superintendent, in cooperation with the County Teachers' Association.

The committee will have complete charge of all questions pertaining to the school lunch program. O. P. Jones, principal of Kitzmiller High school, chairman of the committee, will be assisted by Margaret Kochenderfer and Gladys Hamill.

All schools wishing to participate in the program are to communicate with the committee. It is probable that school lunches will be resumed in the Oakland Elementary school.

EIGHTY-SEVEN LISTED IN NEXT INDUCTION CALL

Will Leave Oakland on Friday, November 20—November Group Is Largest Yet To Be Called

Eighty-seven young men have been ordered sent to the Baltimore induction station from Garrett county on Friday, November 20, it was announced this week by the local draft board. Providing these men pass their physical examinations they will be sworn into service with the armed forces of the United States, and will be called for service within seven days.

The furlough period ordinarily granted to selectees reporting for induction has been reduced from fourteen to seven days, it was announced last week.

The group for November is the largest yet called and the draft board indicated that the December call would be even larger. Because the board has been notified to defer workers on the dairy, livestock and poultry farms, it was stated that it might be necessary to draw upon the list of married men to fill the December quota.

Those who are to leave on November 20 include the following:

THINGS THAT MAR FAMILY LIFE

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 27:30-35; Matthew 5:31, 32; Luke 12:13-15.

GOLDEN TEXT—Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ.—Galatians 6:2.

Home is what you make it! Oh, yes, there may be circumstances which hinder us from doing what we would like—such as poverty, illness, unemployment, etc. These are things we cannot control and certainly they do have a bearing. But man or woman when of the right spirit can triumph over such matters and make even the poorest home the gateway to heaven. It is a matter of the attitude of heart and mind. Our lesson then is very practical, for it deals with those sins which mar family life.

Whatever our circumstances may be, we can and must turn away from sin—and in this case, the sins which hinder the home from being what it ought to be. God has provided victory over sin through Christ for all who believe in Him.

What then are the sins which stand as the enemies of the home?

I. Deceit (Gen. 27:30-35).

Whatever the circumstances of the home may be, there can be absolute honesty and candor in the dealings between members of the family.

Our recent study of the story of Jacob and Esau showed us the sad consequences of the deceit practiced by Jacob and his mother in defrauding Esau. Many elements entered in, the favoritism of the mother toward one son, the envy that the brother had of his elder brother's birthright, the wicked scheming of mother and son to outwit the aged father—all a very distressing picture of a home shot through with deceitfulness. To build anything of permanent value on such a foundation was quite impossible.

The family in which deceitful means are used by husband or wife to gain some advantage for self or a favored child is heading for the rocks and needs to turn about and get into the channel of truth and uprightness before it is too late.

II. Divorce (Matt. 5:31, 32).

One of the most destructive elements of modern life is that of divorce. Terrifying statistics could be quoted, but they are not nearly as moving as the knowledge most of us have of broken homes, delinquent children, decadent morals, etc., ad nauseam. The victims of this deadly evil are primarily the children who are sent on into life with disordered minds and hearts.

Jesus declared that the decree of divorcement allowed by Moses was not an abrogation of God's original law in this matter. Because of the "hardness of their hearts" (Mark 10:4) Moses permitted it, but the standard of God was and (note this please!) is unchanged.

Marriage, as we saw in our lesson of November 1, is God's plan for the perfect union of the man and woman whereby the two become one in the sight of God. That means that the tie is not one to be dissolved at will or on some purely legal ground; it is an inseparable union.

The only exception recognized by Scripture (v. 32) is that act of unfaithfulness which is such a breach of the holy union as to virtually destroy it. Perhaps it might be called a recognition of the breaking of the union rather than an exception. Adultery is a heinous sin, an extremely serious violation of God's law. Let us press that fact home today when it is so lightly regarded in our sinful generation.

III. Desire (Luke 12:13-15).

Money is necessary and may be a blessing, but the "love of money is the root of all evil" (I Tim. 6:10). That is not just a verse in the Bible. It is the true picture of the thing which has destroyed the happiness of millions.

Here was a quarrel over an inheritance, and in meeting it our Lord laid down a principle which would solve all the money quarrels in every home—and they are endless in number and great in bitter destructiveness.

"Man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth" (v. 15). Write it large over the minds and hearts of the boys and girls in our homes! Let it control in the attitude of father and mother toward money. It will solve not only the money problems of the home, but will send the children forth into life with a foundation philosophy that will bless them to the end of their days.

Notice verse 14. It is the desire for money that most often makes man desire to be a judge over his brother. The big eyes of envy cause him to look with bitter desire upon what his brother has and he wants. The fine principle of sharing the family's possessions would do much to knit the home into a unit—happy, strong and useful to both God and man. The point is to say "ours" rather than "mine," and to ask, "What can we do?" not, "What can I get?"

Seventeen materials were listed as being critically scarce by War Production Board including certain kinds of steel, mahogany and teak, and a number of chemicals.

AURORA-EGLON

Deaths

Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Slaubaugh, of near Eglon attended on Tuesday, the funeral service for Mrs. Slaubaugh's mother, Mrs. Marcellus Bucklew, 90, who died Sunday at Stephen City, Va., where she had made her home in recent years with a son-in-law and daughter, Rev. and Mrs. Luther Riggleman. The body was taken to Augusta, West Va., where burial was made in the family lot.

Brief services were held Monday at the home at Aurora, for A. C. Wilt, who passed away Friday, following several weeks' illness. Immediate survivors are his widow, Sylvia Stemple Wilt, and one daughter, Margaret. Interment was in the Carmel cemetery.

G. B. Hamstead, of Eglon, was notified of the sudden death of his sister, Mrs. Florence Johnson, of Laureldale, W. Va., which occurred on Wednesday, November 11.

Birth

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Slaubaugh, of near Horse Shoe Run, are the parents of a son, born Sunday, November 8, at the home. The mother was Madalene Stemple, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Stemple, of Aurora. This is their first child. Mr. and Mrs. Summers Slaubaugh, of Horse Shoe Run are the paternal grandparents.

Chicken Supper

A chicken supper will be served in the community building at Aurora, Friday evening, November 13. Serving will begin at five o'clock and continue throughout the evening. The proceeds will be added to the building treasury fund. Come, and bring your friends.

Painfully Injured

Cecil Selders, of Fairmont, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Selders, of near Brookside, was painfully injured Wednesday, November 4, while he was repairing a truck tire. He received treatment at a Fairmont hospital, after which he was able to return to his home. His parents went Thursday to visit him.

Personals

Melvin Fike, who had been a medical patient in the Philippi hospital for several days, returned last Thursday to the home of his parents-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Claud Pennington, of Cash Valley.

Word was received here that Noah Fike, of near Grafton, is seriously ill. Mr. Fike was born and reared in this community, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Levi Fike.

Floyd Shaffer is seriously ill at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hauser, of near Red House, with whom he resides. Mr. Shaffer has been an invalid since he suffered a stroke of paralysis a number of years ago.

Mrs. Emma Henline is remaining at the home of Mrs. Gertrude Snyder, Eglon.

Mrs. Bessie Calcamp, who made her home with her mother, Mrs. Cyrena Hardesty, of Mountain Top, has discontinued housekeeping since the death of her mother on November 1. She is at present visiting her children, Mrs. Carl Fike and Virgil McWilliam, both of near Brookside.

Mrs. Effie Henline and family moved this week from Leadmine to the Charles Vought farm in Cash Valley. Mrs. Henline is the widow of the late Job Henline.

Mrs. Sarah Fike, of near Eglon, has gone to Uniontown, Pa., for a month's visit with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fike and family.

Drs. Harold and Blanche Miller and daughter, Bonnie Jean, Miss Ora Wolfe, and Mrs. Gustafson, all of Eglon, motored to Mt. Storm Sunday, where they visited friends.

Mrs. Fern Jamison, of Youghiogheny Forest is teaching school at Eglon for Flora Ellen Harsh, who left Tuesday evening for a few days' trip to Elgin, Ill.

U. S. MARINES 167 YEARSOLD

November 10 Anniversary To Find Them Fighting, As Usual

It came to pass in the one hundredth and sixty-seventh year that there went out from the United States Marines Corps an understatement.

"America is confident it will hear from the marines in this war."

"First To Fight"

Every leatheneck since the days of John Paul Jones has gloried in the phrases like "first to fight," "devil dogs," "fightin'est men on earth," "first to land and last to leave," "the world's best riflemen," "specialists in sudden death." And they say in their famous hymn:

"If the army and the navy ever gaze on heaven's scenes,
"They'll find the streets are guarded by United States marines."

Well, truth is the Marine Corps press was writing 167 years of history from the Battle of Trenton to Guadalcanal in connection with the November 10, 1775, birthday of America's oldest military organization.

And it gets pretty hard for writers to find superlatives all the time, especially when it's one continuous story about men who have been in active combat somewhere, some time in 92 of 167 years, made 180 expeditionary landings against the enemy in every continent—save Australia—and never retreated!

Created By Washington

We have marines today because George Washington wanted them.

"Let there be marines!" he said to his sea captain, John Paul Jones, and there were marines. Plenty of them.

They swarmed the fighting tops of the Bonhomme Richard, Jones' flagship, and conquered the Serapis, British man-'o-war, by pitching hand grenades down its powder hatch.

Jones, his cannon out of action and called on to surrender, had his marines in mind when he replied, "I have not begun to fight!"

He started something with that. It takes too long to recite every time the marines have put their pride into pungent words, but here are some of them:

"Retreat, hell, we just got here!" They told the weary French at Belleau Wood.

First Commando Raid

"Come on, you buzzards—do you want to live forever?" was the way an officer called his leathernecks to the charge in No Man's Land.

"What, only one brigade?" cried the startled British, and marines snapped back, "Well, there's only one war, ain't there?"

"If the Germans can't stop them, how the hell can I?" said their officer when marines charged and the French implored caution.

"Can we send you anything?" U. S. forces radiod the heroes of Wake Island. "Sure, send us some more Japs!"

Marines made their first "Commando raid only three months after the corps' Colonial recruits roared out of old Tun Tavern on the Philadelphia water front howling, "Gimme some powder, a noggin o' grog, and say where to go!"

Robust Days

They took 600 barrels of powder away from the British on the Bahama Islands.

In those robust days leathernecks were recruited from sea-faring men who demanded prize money, prospective bounty, a pension and promise of "good, merchantable whisky."

Their battle stations were the fighting tops of John Paul Jones' navy. Their main business was to pick off enemy officers and their aim was so accurate men called them "sharpshooters."

They fought, however, on deck, land and everywhere, with muskets, blunderbusses, pistols, bayontes, cutlasses, lances, pikes, spears and even tomahawks.

Saga Of Heroism

That marine hymn beginning "From the halls of Montezuma to the shores of Trioli" is a saga of leatherneck heroism in the old days. It recalls the time marines took Vera Cruz, Mexico, and when they swam ashore to plant "Old Glory" against fearful odds at Derna in Africa when Stephen Decatur made up his mind to ateach behavior to Tripolitan pirates.

Today's marine is a sober, serious, professional soldier-sailor flyer who can take up a bomber or fighter plane, parachute against enemy positions with the newest and deadlies weapons, fire the great naval guns or run a tank.

He can manage all type of field artillary, landing barges, mortars, grenades, bombs and land mines. He is an expert in desert or jungle warfare, gouging, strangling, bone-breaking, knifing, baynoting and a crack shot with pistol and rifle.

He has been called the best trained and best equipped fighting man in the world—and the most proficient. He knows all the trades of war. His specialty is hand-to-hand combat.

Mr. Fike Thanks Voters

I wish to thank the voters of Garrett county for the splendid support I received in the recent balloting which elected me as one of the three representatives in the House of Delegates.

I will do my utmost in maintaining good government in the state and county, and will serve all taxpayers in a sincere and impartial manner, to the best of my ability.

OTHO S. FIKE

THANKS VOTERS

To the Editor of The Republican:

Through your columns I should like to express my sincere appreciation to the many voters who supported me in the recent election. I concur in the expression of a noted statesman that "the will of the majority is the law of the land."

Now that selections have been made, from among our number, of those persons who will be charged with the management of our civic affairs, let us all unitedly strive in these perilous times for the preservation of our heritage.

Thanks Voters For Re-election

To the Voters of Garrett County:

I desire to express my thanks for the splendid vote received at the election on last Tuesday, November 3rd.

I will endeavor to fill my office the very best it will be in my power to do.

Sincerely yours,
NELSON BRENNEMAN

Grocery Wholesaler Expands Paint Dept.

In a move to more efficiently serve their retail and wholesale customers, The Whittaker Grocery Company, of Terra Alta, has enlarged its paint department.

The new quarters provide storage three times greater than the original department. Additional lines of accessories have been added in recent months to make the paint department the most complete and well stocked of any in Preston or Garrett counties in the opinion of John Whittaker, Jr., who is manager of this division of the grocery company.

November 1st marked the first anniversary of the company's entrance into the field of paint distribution. According to M. R. Rust, factory representative of The Marietta Paint and Color company, the first year record of The Whittaker Grocery Company has been nothing less than sensational.

A series of Marietta Paint advertisement appeared in The Republican over a period of several months.

Church Activities

The Blooming Rose Ladies' Aid Society met at the home of Mrs. Orval G. Rush, on Wednesday, November 4, with ten members present. The day was spent in quilting and a delicious dinner was served by the hostess. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Walter Humberson, on December 2nd.

The WSCS held its regular monthly meeting in the Methodist church, Wednesday night. Mrs. L. L. Friend was in charge of the business meeting and Mrs. F. O. Speicher directed the program. The topic "Temperate Life," was discussed by Mrs. Manilla Friend and Miss Lucille Harvey. The devotional service was discussed by Mrs. Robert Murphy. Miss Helen Miller, Mrs. R. L. Greynolds, Mrs. H. F. Glover, Miss Betty Stempie, and Mrs. Victor Frazee. The devotional topic was "For Temples for Thy Dwelling." Refreshments were served by members of circle 3. About 15 members were present. The next meeting will be held December 3.

The Lutheran Ladies' Aid met at the home of Mrs. Ida Frantz, on Thursday, November 5, with 15 members and guests present. Mrs. Henrietta Lininger was in charge of the business meeting. The next meeting will be held December 3, at the home of Mrs. William Dunham.

The first Quarterly Conference of the Methodist church met on Monday evening in the church with Dr. C. E. Brandt, district superintendent, giving a talk. After the recreational and fellowship program Aubrey Custer's Sunday school class entertained Harvey Friend's class in the recreational room. Delicious refreshments were served.

Preaching at Christian Church

Announcement has been made that the Rev. C. A. Nicola, foreign missionary, will preach at the Christian church, Sunday, November 15, at 11 a. m. Bible study will be held Friday evening at 7:45. Juniors and adults are invited.

Bridge Club Meets

Mrs. W. J. Glenn entertained the Teachers' Bridge club at her home Thursday evening. Mrs. Harvey Friend received the floating prize.

New Teachers

Two new teachers have been added to the teaching staff of the Friendsville schools. Mrs. Bebe Williams, Frostburg, who had taught at McCabe, located near Friendsville, she has been assigned to the 4th grade of the Elementary school. This grade has been temporarily moved to the Home Economics school room, which was recently purchased and partially renovated by the Garrett County Board of Education. Mrs. Ruth MacMurray Patterson, of McHenry, is filling the vacancy made by Raymond O. McCullough, who has entered the armed forces. She is the instructor of mathematics and science.

Gas Ration Registration

W. J. Glenn, school site administrator, announced that gas rationing for passenger cars and motorcycles will be held in the Friendsville school, Friday, November 13, between the hours of 7 a. m. and 5 p. m., and from 7 p. m. to 9 p. m. This is the only day scheduled for gas rationing in this district. It will be necessary for each car and motorcycle owner to bring (1) the serial number of the tires; (2) 1942 registration card; (3) license plate number as issued in 1941. No trucks of any description will be registered on this day. No ration book will be issued to any person having in his possession more than five tires per car. All tires in excess of five must be turned into the U. S. Government through the express company in your district.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS . . . . . .

By FRANK R. KENT

Copyright by The Baltimore Sun and reprinted in The Republican by permission.

Flippant And Foolish

Washington, Nov. 7.

Perhaps, the best evidence of the jar the election returns gave the Administration is in the extraordinary way in which the New Dealers, from the President down, have reacted. These cherish among themselves widely separated views and exhibit a confusion of thought, amazing even in a group never remarkable for intellectual clarity.

* * *

One well known Administration journalistic spokesman wrote that the chief cause of popular resentment was the special consideration granted to labor and the failure of the President to insist upon wartime "sacrifices" from it such as required from everybody else. While this idea has been strongly held by many citizens throughout the nation, it is the first time it has been voiced by any one remotely connected with the Administration. That is encouraging.

* * *

Others incline to put the blame on the farmers, offended, it was said, by Mr. Roosevelt's insistence upon clamping down on farm price rises, while exhibiting a contrasting lack of firmness in the matter of wage ceilings. Still others attribute the large Republican gains to the smallness of the vote and the absence of so many men in the armed forces. But, unless it is assumed that there are no Republicans in army and navy, and that practically all our soldiers and sailors are New Dealers, that just does not make sense. It also ignores the fact that the New Dealers have used the war to put upon the Federal pay rolls hundreds of thousands of new jobholders; that these come from all over the country; that they all draw salaries; that they are all at home and, presumably, all vote "right."

* * *

Then, one eminent publicist, not, however, connected with the Administration, used the returns as an excuse for lecturing Mr. James A. Farley upon his temerity in daring to oppose the President's choice for the New York Democratic Gubernatorial nomination and expressed the belief that the defeat of Mr. Farley's candidate, Mr. Bennett, was in the interests of "orderly government." Aside from the difficulty of following this kind of logic, this writer is evidently unaware that early last summer Mr. Farley came to Washington, consulted with his "titular leader," found that the titular leader had no choice for the nomination.

* * *

Thereupon, Mr. Farley then urged Mr. Bennett and left the White House under the clear impression that Mr. Bennett was acceptable to the President. These happen to be the facts and they were quite well known at the time. The President's candidate—Senator Meade (in no way better than Mr. Bennett) only emerged later and only after the American Labor Party leaders had been to the White House for conferences. The further fact seems ignored that though Mr. Farley's candidate was beaten, Mr. Farley comes out of the fight with honor, his reputation enhanced as a politician who plays the game on the level, is true to his word and his friends, never deals in the double cross. His future in New York and national politics remains to be seen but, at any rate, he has nothing of which to be ashamed.

Of course, the most surprising reaction anywhere came from the President and the Vice-President. In its lack of realism, the flippancy of the former's remark about his Hyde Park polling place is exceeded only by the absurdity of Mr. Wallace's contention that the great Republican gains by which practical control of Congress is lost to the Administration, shows the people to be pleased with the Roosevelt management of the war, and the President to be more popular than ever. It is hard to imagine a grown man seriously making so foolish an argument.

* * *

It is disappointing that the President is unable to take so clear an expression of popular feeling in a more sober and thoughtful mood. It is too bad that he could not find it in him to concede that there was, perhaps, some justification for public discontent; that things could be improved; that now the election is over, they would be. In particular, it is unfortunate that he does not now try to establish a better relationship with Republican leaders, in Congress and out. It is a pity he does not see in the result a chance to appeal to them to use their new access of power for closer cooperation with him, promising more consultation on policies and a more reasonable attitude toward justified criticism, more receptiveness to counsel from those outside his new circle.

* * *

Instead, Mr. Roosevelt, at his Friday press conference seemed to brush all these considerations aside. He appeared to see in the returns no evidence of a popular desire for more competency. He seemed determined to proceed along his own lines, as though the result had been a Democratic victory instead of an unforeseen reverse. This is disappointing. If the President sees in the election no reason to alter his attitude on anything and if his Vice-President sees in it nothing but a vote of complete confidence, then there is trouble ahead. For, no one else construes the returns in that way and the next Congress, with a clear anti-Administration majority (counting the anti-New Deal Democrats like Senator Byrd), is not apt to tolerate it. If that is to be the White House attitude, instead of the legislative and executive branches pulling together next year, they will be pulling apart, which will be bad. Senator Vandenberg's suggestion of a "victory coalition" is a sound one. There ought to be some White House response to that but none has been forthcoming. An indifferent silence to a proposal of that sort is no way to promote national unity. That goes in the other direction.

MT. LAKE PARK

Members of the WSCS of the Bethel Church are circulating a petition or petitions to be sent to President Roosevelt, United States Senator Millard Tydings and to the House of Representatives in which they ask that the distribution and sale of intoxicating liquors be banned in and about our Army Training camps. In case you have not signed and should like to do so, get in touch with any member of the church and they will see that you have the opportunity.

It is interesting to note that several of the New York papers have mentioned the fact that Miss Anne McLean Parker, gifted artist, of New York City and Fairmont, W. Va., has been awarded the Tchekla Bernays scholarship at the Student's Art League in New York City. Among the paintings submitted by Miss Parker were those landscapes which she executed here last Spring and Fall. And it was upon the merit of the Mt. Lake scenes that she was given this scholarship. Miss Parker is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Ward Parker, and for a number of years a resident of Mt. Lake with her mother.

We hope you were listening in on your radio Monday night and heard Richard Crooks sing "The Battle Hymn of the Republic." If you did then you will agree that it was one of the most inspiring and uplifting musical numbers you ever listened to. There was one verse in which Mr. Crooks seemed to have felt as much as his listeners. May we quote it as being in tune with our world today:

"In the beauty of the lilies Christ was born across the sea.
With a glory in His bosom that transfigured you and me.
As He died to make men holy—let us die to make men free."

And that's just what is happening. Longfellow defines war as a terrible trade, "but in the cause that is righteous sweet is the smell of powder."

Do your share on the home front.

LAW OFFICES JONES & JONES

John W. McRobie and others, Plaintiffs,
vs.
John C. McRobie and Anita McRobie, his wife; John Barnard, Hallie Barnard and Alfred Barnard, Defendants.
No. 3672 Equity. In the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to procure the passage of a decree for the sale of the real estate of Stella V. McRobie, late of Garrett County, Maryland, and for the distribution of the proceeds therefrom.

The bill states:

That Stella V. McRobie, late of Garrett County, Maryland, was in her lifetime and at the time of her death seized and possessed of a parcel of land, situate in Election District No. 1 of Garrett County, Maryland, containing 39½ acres, and being the same which was conveyed to her by deed from Thomas A. McRobie, widower, dated July 22, 1921, and recorded in Liber E. Z. T., No. 80, folio 322, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, a certified copy of which deed has been filed as "Exhibit No. 1"; that the said Stella V. McRobie, while seized and possessed of the aforesaid real estate departed this life, intestate, at her home in Garrett County, Maryland, on the 23rd day of January, 1942, leaving surviving her as next of kin and heirs at law, to whom said land descended, her husband, John W. McRobie and the following children and grandchildren, to-wit:

David McRobie, a son, who intermarried with Mary McRobie; Carroll F. McRobie, a son, who intermarried with Nellie McRobie; Guy Thomas McRobie, a son, who intermarried with Catherine McRobie; John C. McRobie, a son, who intermarried with Anita McRobie; Virginia June McRobie Adkins, a daughter, who intermarried with Z. C. Adkins; Louise Lucie McRobie Beckman, a daughter, who intermarried with Ray E. Beckman; Beatrice L. McRobie Custer, a daughter, who intermarried with Ray Custer; and the following grandchildren, children of Mabel McRobie Barnard, a deceased daughter, who departed this life on May 13th, 1935: June Barnard Sharpless, a granddaughter, who intermarried with William L. Sharpless; Naomi Barnard Warnick, a granddaughter, who intermarried with Gilbert H. Warnick; Juanita Barnard Tichnell, a granddaughter, who intermarried with William A. Tichnell; Helen Barnard Hoopengardner, a granddaughter, who intermarried with Wilbar S. Hoopengardner; Hallie Barnard, granddaughter, and William E. Barnard; John Barnard; and Alfred Barnard, grandsons, the last four being unmarried; that all the plaintiffs and defendants are of full age with the exception of said Hallie Barnard, John Barnard and Alfred Barnard, who are minors under the age of 21 years; that the said real estate is not susceptible of partition in kind without material loss or injury to the parties entitled to interests therein, and it would be to the advantage of all the said parties to have said property sold and the proceeds derived therefrom divided among them according to their respective rights and interests; that the said John C. McRobie and Anita McRobie, his wife, are non-residents of Garrett County, and the State of Maryland, and their present place of residence is to the plaintiffs unknown; that Hallie Barnard now resides in Prince George's County, Maryland, and the said John Barnard and Alfred Barnard in Baltimore County, Maryland.

The bill then prays for a decree for the sale of said real estate and for the distribution of the proceeds derived therefrom and for general relief.

It is thereupon, this 15th day of October, 1942, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, in Equity, ordered that the plaintiffs by having a copy of this order inserted in some newspaper published in Garrett County, Maryland, once a week for four successive weeks before the 13th day of November, 1942, give notice to the said absent defendants, John C. McRobie and Anita McRobie, his wife, of the object and substance of said bill, warning them to be and apper in this Court in person or by solicitor, on or before the 28th day of November, 1942, to show cause, if any they have, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

Clerk of the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland.

Thanks People For Letters to Her Sons

Mrs. Mary Jordan has written a note to The Republican expressing her sincere thanks for all the nice letters, greetings and presents which were sent to her two sons, Paul and James J. Jordan recently, by the many people of Oakland and vicinity.

The names of both boys have been listed in the Jaycee service men's writing project. Paul Jordan is in England. James Jordan, a sergeant, is stationed at Newport News, Va. Mrs. Jordan has another son, Michael, in the service and another son, Stephen Jordan, will leave on November 20.

GALEN L. TAIT SCORES SUN EDITOR FOR EDITORIALS

Republican Chairman Tait Praises Leading Maryland Republicans.

To the Editor of The Sun—Sir: The honor and dignity of the Republican party and of forty-eight per cent of the electorate comprising 175,000 citizens who supported its candidate for Governor, compel a protest against certain editorial comments. I would be a false steward were I to acquiesce by silence.

The Sun of November 5th said "It would have been a tragedy for us all if Theodore R. McKeldin had been elected Governor."

If the election of a high minded, educated, intelligent, experienced man of Christian character, without a blot on his record, would be a "tragedy for us all," then democratic government is a mockery.

Progressing in denunciation, the editorial proceeded, "There was no general disposition to turn the State over lock, stock and barrel to the ragtag Republican group which challenged the present Democratic hegemony."

A former editorial referred to the Republican party as "pusillanimous." Webster's dictionary defines this as "mean and cowardly." Those who made the fight for the two-party system against deeply intrenched political power, backed by powerful newspaper support in Maryland this year, are thereby publicly branded as "mean and cowardly" by editorial ukase.

We respectfully submit to the responsible chiefs and owners of the Sunpapers that these . . . editorial characterizations are objectively insulting to the present minority party and its allies and subjectively injurious to, because unworthy of, your great newspaper, which we are sure desires to maintain its reputation for fairness.

Moreover, in these days a great newspaper may be a private property, but is also a public news utility under our two-party system confirmed alike in State and nation by the recent election. There surely exist editorial obligations to regard the minority party with respect rather than contempt.

Your editorial writer describes us as a "ragtag" Falstaffian group. In rebuttal may I name but a few of those who morally and or financially backed our ticket in this campaign:

Robert Garrett and Mrs. Van Lear Black, stockholders in The Sun; Mrs. Clarence White, of Annapolis, and Mrs. Marguerite Fischer, of Montgomery county, Democratic leaders of women; Mrs. John D'Unger and Mrs. Calvin Gabriel, leaders of women in Baltimore; Edwin G. Baetjer, sometime counsel for The Sun; George M. Moffett, Eastern Shore industrialist; Kingman Brewster, Western Maryland lawyer; Tasker G. Lowndes, president of the Second National Bank of Cumberland, and son af a former Republican Governor; Addison E. Mullikin, former Republican candidate for Governor; Jacob France, president of the Mid-Continent Petroleum Corporation and chairman of the Board of the Equitable Trust Company; Dr. A. R. L. Dohme, publicist and civic leader of Baltimore; C. Wilbur Miller, of Baltimore county; William F. Broening, former Mayor of Baltimore; Albanus Phillips, of Dorchester county; Daniel Ellison, Congressman-elect of Baltimore; J. Glenn Beall, Congressman-elect of the Sixth district; Arthur Levering, vice-president of the Mercantile Trust Company; Carl M. Distler, prominent lawyer and leading American Lutheran layman; Vernon Cook, outstanding Baltimore lawyer; Wendell D. Allen, Karl Steinmann; Charles Ruzicka; Enos Stockbridge; William F. Laukaitis; Samuel Fisher; Simon Sobeloff and many others in both city and counties equally worthy of mention, including Phillips Lee Goldsborough, former Governor and United States Senator, but not active in politics by reason of being minority Republican member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation at Washington.

We do not complain of the treatment accorded our party, particularly in the later stages of the campaign, in the news columns and recognize the right to your own chosen editorial policy but with restraint placed on license, within the limits of the established freedom of the press.

May we request that publicity be given our protest equal to that accorded the editorials to which we respectfully except.

GALEN L. TAIT,
Chairman, Republican State Central Committee of Maryland.
Baltimore, Nov. 7.

DIARY OF THE WAR

FRIDAY — British desert army swept ahead all along the front and the Axis army was in a rout. Complete victory was almost in sight. Allied air power forged ahead and blasted retreating columns. Many thousands of prisoners were cut off. Italians admitted 9,000 captured. In Stalingrad waves of Germans faltered and the Red army held firm. Red lines southeast of Nalchik in Caucasus also held despite attacks by fresh German regiments. Violent fighting flamed on Guadalcanal as Yanks opened drive east of airfield to crush Jap attack before it got started. New blows were struck at Japs by U. S. naval and air forces.

SATURDAY—Stalin told the Russian people that a second front was coming. A new Jap stab on Guadalcanal was repulsed by counter-attacks. Reds were standing fast on three key fronts, beating off heavy attacks in Stalingrad. Vichy surrendered all of Madagascar to British. British tank formations in Egypt pushed far ahead. Germans were abandoning Italians in desert flight. Axis prisoners numbered 13,000. Axis ground forces were bombed and more enemy vessels sunk in Mediterranean. General Montgomery had Von Thoma, Rommel's aide, a prisoner.

SUNDAY — Pursuit of Rommel's remnants continued with 100,000 of 140,000 of his army either captured or trapped. British tore into Rommel's flanks to get the armored divisions. His retreating forces were systematically bombed by American and British and the sea lanes hammered. A huge armada off Gibraltar was worrying Axis leaders. Reds and Germans were preparing for mountain war in Caucasus region, as latter wanted to cross to oil fields. Navy reported at least 5,188 Japs had been killed on Solomons by actual count. RAF bombed Genoa and U. S. bombers raided German sub-base at Brest.

MONDAY—U. S. Troops made a surprise move in occupation of key points on North African coast in Morocco and Algiers, it was revealed. Algiers already had signed a truce. U. S. had 140,000 troops in the area and had flanked Oran and Casa Blanca, and had seized airfields and were using them. French people were ordered to fight but a number were joining Allies or were lukewarm in attitude. Rommel's force in Libya was cut meanwhile to 20,000 men and British were in hot pursuit. Vichy broke off diplomatic relations with U. S. Hitler said he would strike a counter-blow against U. S. in due time. Meanwhile U. S. widened gains on Guadalcanal and in New Guinea U. S. troops menaced Buna-Gona Jap beachhead on northeast coast. Australian troops were busy at Oivi, 45 miles south of Buna, and it looked like entire eastern end of island would soon be in Allied hands. U. S. troops were flown from Australia in big transport planes.

TUESDAY—There was still French resistance at Casablanca and Oran but U. S. forces were closing in on cities from both sides. Three more air fields were taken. Axis dive bombers were giving some trouble on coast. General Giraud, of France appealed to French to support American troops. British were seeking to clean up the Axis in Libya. U. S. bombers raided Nazi subbase. Marines on Guadalcanal made more advances on east flank of airfield. Sea units continued to blast Jap bases and the Jap fleet units whenever found. German troops were repulsed on all sectors by the Russians. Roosevelt told ruler of Tunis he would like permission for U. S. troops to move through the country eastward to trap remnants of Axis desert army.

WEDNESDAY—U. E. expeditionary armies wiped out resistance along 500 miles of Africa's western Mediterranean coast with conquest of Oran. Axis reported the Bey of Tunis had granted the request for passage of American troops to Libya. The resistance at Casabalanca was fast crumbling. Petain repeated his order for resistance and took charge of defense. Admiral Darlan was a prisoner of General Eisenhower at Algiers. Meanwhile British threatened to wipe out the last of Rommel's forces near Halfaya pass as the route there continued. Germans were discussing possibility of an early Italian collapse. Germany was said to be entering her fourth winter of war with health and comfort at new lows and worry at a new high. Another powerful Allied armada was reported at Gibraltar by Vichy. The Marine grip on Guadalcanal appeared firmer.

THURSDAY — Darlan ordered French to cease firing in North Africa. Petain protested the German occupation of all France but tells French to resist American attacks. Main French fleet was believed at Toulon and there was uncertainty which side would obtain it. Churchill promised Allies would hit Nazis across channel at proper time. A battle between Germans and Americans loomed in Tunisia as both sides rushed forces there. British meanwhile cleaned up last of enemy in Egypt and Allied forces moved up to Halfaya pass on Libyan border. Planes and naval units also attacked enemy ships successfully. Jap forces were being routed at Oivi in New Guinea, and in Solomons Americans continued offensive operations. Seven Jap planes were caught at Attu in Aleutians.

TIMELY TOPICS

Reuse of Jar Tops and Rings

If you wish to reuse your jar rings and tops during the 1943 canning season, begin now to plan for it. Remove the rings with caution, taking care not to stretch them unnecessarily—wash thoroughly and store the rings as you would any other rubber products—dry and cool. As for the tops, be sure you remove them in such a way that the sealing edges are intact. Store them carefully, too,—clean and protected.

Rings and tops may be reused on acid fruits and vegetables. To use old rings and tops on non-acid vegetables as corn, peas and beans and on meat is a dangerous practice.

Cranberries To Brighten Meals

Fresh red cranberries add zest to autumn meals and color to your plate. This year's crop is expected to be the third largest on record—and there is many a use for the berries. Have you tried, for instance, ice cream with cranberry sauce?

Here's a recipe for cranberry sauce that takes sugar rationing into account:

Cranberry Sauce

One quart (1 pound) cranberries, 1½ cups water, 2 cups sugar, or 1 cup sugar and 1 cup corn sirup or mild honey.

Pick the berries over and discard all that are withered or specked. Bring the sugar and water to a boil, add the berries, and cook quickly for about 10 minutes, or until the skins break. Chill before serving.

There are many uses for cranberry sauce, besides serving it with meat. Try it on short cake, or as a sauce over any plain pudding or ice cream. And you can give flavorful zip to a bland pear or apple salad by placing a spoonful of cranberry sauce on the side.

Careful Laundering For Cotton Corduroy

Many of the colorful fall and winter corduroy garments are washable. But before you launder corduroy, be sure it will wash well and the color will hold. When buying a corduroy garment, see if there is a label that gives you special laundering directions. If so, it's wise to follow them closely.

Corduroy takes best to gentle washing. Use luke warm water and mild suds—plenty of suds because corduroy is bulky. Squeeze water through the fabric, but don't twist, rub or mash. If you do, you may disturb the pile so the fabric will not look so well. If the garment is very coiled, work it up and down in the suds.

Rinse thoroughly in water also luke warm. Then lift the garment from the water without wringing, and put it on a hanger. Dry corduroy outdoors, if you can, and in a stiff breeze if that is possible.

When the garment is practically dry, brush with the nap of the fabric. If you press it, iron on the wrong side. With a hard ironing board, you may want to protect the corduroy pile by placing a towel between fabric and board. A steam iron, if you have one, is ideal for pressing corduroy.

The purpose of the supper, according to Rev. Minor Sprague, pastor, is purely fellowship. There will be a short program of music and fun, and no speeches.

The supper will be a covered-dish one, all who attend being expected to bring some food dish. It is hoped by those in charge of arrangements that a large number of members and friends of the church will participate.

Jonas Glotfelty, 98, Dies Near Somerfield

Jonas Glotfelty, born October 25, 1844, and one of the oldest residents of this area, died Friday, November 6, at the home of his son Brison Glotfelty, near Somerfield, Pa. He was aged 98 years and 11 days.

He was the youngest son of the late William and Esther Glotfelty, and was born in Somerset county, Pa., but came to Garrett county with his parents in early childhood. He spent his entire life in Garrett county as a farmer until his retirement, when he moved to Somerfield with his son, Brison, with whom he made his home until his death. He enjoyed perfect health until about three weeks ago. He joined the United Brethren church at Deep Creek about fifty years ago and had always remained faithful to his church.

On March 29, 1866 he was married to Rebecca Specht to which union were born eleven children, five of whom are now deceased. His wife died March 11, 1894. On October 4, 1896, he was married to Deborah Thomas and to this union no children were born. She also preceded him in death on July 5, 1928.

Mr. Glotfelty is survived by six children, Mrs. Alice Delawder, Mrs. Sadie Wilson, Mrs. Orpha Wilson and Mrs. E. A. Weimer, all of Washington, D. C.; Brison Glotfelty, Somerfield, Pa.; and Mrs. Nelson Brenneman, McHenry; also 19 grandchildren, 26 great grandchildren and one great great grandchild. The five deceased children are George, Harry, Beason, Esther Jane and Susan Ellen.

Funeral services were conducted on Sunday afternoon, November 8, at 2:30 o'clock from the U. B. Church at McHenry, with Rev. J. E. Johnson, Oakland, officiating, assisted by Rev. J. C. Foster, Mt. Lake Park. Interment was in the Flatwoods cemetery. Pallbearers were Earle, Mason, Naylor and Fred Glotfelty, Webster Brenneman and Hubert Bowman.

DIED

C.; Sherman Miller, Grantsville; Martin, Ray and Ivan Miller, all at home; five daughters, Mrs. Albert Jones and Mrs. Thomas Farrell, both of Grantsville; Mrs. Charles Younkin, Misses Vira and Leona Miller, all at home; four sisters, Mrs. Louise Snyder and Mrs. Amanda Wisseman, both of Scottdale, Pa.; Mrs. Maggie Warnick, Greenwood, Del.; Mrs. Anna Ringer, Grantsville; two brothers, Conrad Wisseman, Grantsville; and William Wisseman, Fort Hill, Pa., and three grandchildren.

MRS. WALTER C. SAVAGE

Mrs. Elsie Alice Savage, wife of Walter C. Savage, died at her home west of Oakland, on Wednesday morning after an illness of some ten days.

She was a daughter of the late Rufus and Margaret DeWitt and was born in this county November 26, 1888. She was aged almost 54 years.

Surviving are her husband and two children, Stanley Savage, Oakland; and Luther Savage, in the U. S. Army, stationed at Fort Belvoir, Va.; five grandchildren; also five brothers, Lee DeWitt, New Kensington, Pa.; Lester DeWitt, Sang Run; Boyd DeWitt, Akron, O.; Clarence DeWitt, Cranesville, W. Va.; Aubrey DeWitt, Akron, O.; one half-sister, Mrs. May Grimes, Akron, Ohio.

She was a member of the Pentecostal faith and funeral services will be conducted from the Sand Flat Tabernacle on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, in charge of Elmer Bleacher. Interment will be in the Sang Run cemetery.

MRS. MARY BROWNING

Funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock for Mrs. Mary Browning, 82, widow of William A. Browning, who died at her home on November 4, after an illness of four weeks.

Services were in charge of Rev. Minor Sprague, Methodist minister, at the home of the deceased. Interment was in Oakland cemetery. Pallbearers were Lawrence Fraley, George Littman, Cecil Smith, James L. Pollock, Thomas A. Gonder, and Earl Shartzer.

Mrs. Herman Cerne returned to Baltimore, last week.

Mrs. Frank Propst and Mrs. Lester Loughry were visiting friends in Kitzmiller, on Friday of last week.

Lloyd Shillingburg and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Tucker were all at their homes near here, over last week-end.

The House voted down the clause which would have compelled a year's training of teen-age group in draft. The bill passed Tuesday.

Attorney Walter W. Dawson is in Cumberland today on business.

Hunting on Sunday Costly Sport for Man

It's unlawful to hunt on Sunday and it's also against the law to hunt without possession of a license.

Two hunters discovered these facts Monday, when they paid fines totaling $65 and costs.

Apprehended by District Warden Francis Ruge and Deputy Warden Henry Schaub, of Frostburg, near Firm Rock church in Garrett county, Foster Daniels, of Westernport, was penalized to the extent of $45 and costs by Trial Magistrate C. S. Zeller, at Grantsville, when he pleaded guilty to hunting on Sunday. The fine included $5 for each animal in his possession—three rabbits and two squirrels.

Charged with hunting without a license, D. M. Danner, of Baltimore, was fined $20 and costs by Trial Magistrate H. A. Loraditch in Oakland. Danner was nabbed in Garrett county by Lloyd Cook, ditsrcit warden, and Percy Sowers, deputy warden.

Warns on Short Plugs

Joseph A. Minke, regional game warden, who reported the disposition of both cases, called the attention of hunters to the fact that it's unlawful to use short plugs in guns and warned that those who violate the law will be arrested.

Red Cross Knitters Remaining Active

Postmaster Urges Early Mailing of Christmas Packages

The postoffice department now is starting the most gigantic task in its history—the movement of Christmas parcels, cards and letters—while maintaining the regular flow of millions of pieces of mail daily to and from our armed forces all over the world.

With indications that the volume of Christmas mail will be the largest on record, I. R. Rudy, postmaster, declared that if our friends at home and in the armed forces are not to be disappointed the public must cooperate by mailing earlier than ever before and by addressing letters and parcels properly.

Mr. Rudy said that about 25,000 experienced postal workers already had been taken by war services and that although thousands of temporary personnel would be added to postal staffs, they would be inexperienced.

The deadline already is past for mailing gifts to army and navy men overseas with assurance that the parcels will arrive by Christmas. The postoffice department is making strenuous efforts to avoid such a terrific jam as it faced in 1918 and asks the cooperation of the public by mailing early.

On the Seven Seas

For 45 years General Electric has developed and built electric equipment for warships. Here are a few of the ways in which electricity serves the Navy.

1. Just one battleship may have electric generators to produce as much as 180,000 kilowatts. This power would supply the needs of a city of 375,000.

2. Searchlights produce millions of candlepower of light to aid in detecting enemy ships and planes, and to guide Navy gunners to their targets.

3. More than 20 different operations are performed in bringing a naval gun to bear on its target. Electricity helps to co-ordinate these operations.

4. When a battleship goes into action, electricity helps direct the ship, operate the guns, and give the orders. G.E. is building equipment to do these jobs.

General Electric believes that its first duty as a good citizen is to be a good soldier.

When Present Stocks of New Cars Are Sold,
THERE WON'T BE ANY MORE! If You're Going to Need a New Car for Essential Work—BETTER APPLY FOR ONE NOW.

RIGHT now, Buick dealers can offer you selection from complete stocks of unused 1942 Buicks built before automobile production halted.

But every week that goes by increases the number of cars now in use that simply must be replaced in the very near future.

These cars can be replaced only from existing stocks. If you regularly drive a car in really essential service, don't take a chance on finding present stocks exhausted by trying to get the very last mile out of it.

Turn it in, for use by some other essential user who doesn't drive as much as you do.

New-car buying regulations are aimed at conserving both new cars and cars now in use. They also seek to put new cars in the hands of those who need them most.

Thus if you can show real need – now, while cars are available – you can get a permit to buy now, while cars can be bought.

Permits to buy won't do any good when there are no cars to be had!

Your Buick dealer will be glad to give you all information on new-car buying regulations and procedure. At the moment, he can make immediate delivery to qualified buyers on almost any 1942 Buick model.

But because Buick factories have been all-out on war production for many months, your dealer won't be able to help you when cars now available are sold.

Better see him NOW about applying for that car you're going to need.

IF YOU ARE INCLUDED IN THIS LIST YOU'RE ELIGIBLE

There are seven major classifications for persons eligible to buy new cars under basic rationing rules.

These include: (1) persons engaged in the production of war materials or the prosecution of the war, directly or indirectly; (2) physicians, nurses, clergymen, veterinarians; (3) car-owners engaged in public service, such as fire departments, public health, highway maintenance, etc.; (4) owners of taxicabs and other means of transportation; (5) farmers; (6) newspaper wholesalers; and (7) traveling salesmen in certain fields.

Your Buick dealer will be very glad to help you determine whether you come under the rules of eligibility. He will also be glad to help you fill out the proper applications.

Don't guess about your eligibility — see your Buick dealer now and make sure.

If you really NEED a new car—

Wendell Willkie, a Symbol

Altogether aside from any question of partisan politics, the American people can take great satisfaction in the case of Wendell Willkie. Only two short years ago he was doing everything in his power to unseat President Roosevelt and, failing in that effort, he returned to private life unscathed. Following that experience he has gone about the country making speeches, some complimentary and others critical of Mr. Roosevelt, and nothing happened to him. Within the last few days he has returned from a trip around the world in which he visited in seventeen countries, to the people of which he spoke with forthrightness and candor.

Some of his statements could easily be construed as critical of his own Government back home, yet upon his return he is welcomed at the White House as an honored guest. Discarding the evasions and multiple-meanings characteristic of diplomacy, he talked in plain terms. He left no questions in the minds of his hearers as to what he meant. Contrary to the policy of much official utterance, he was honest whether he was polite or not. The plain citizen, reading his morning paper, understood Mr. Willkie. And, even though there is an occasional suspicion that he was not expressing the mind of the American President, he remains a trusted supporter of the American Government whose life is in no jeopardy whatever.

Where else in the world, except in a democracy, could all this have happened? And it happened in the United States in wartime, which is a symbol of the fact that democracy is working. —The Christian Advocate.

DR. JOHN G. ROBINSON PASSES MONDAY EVENING

Music Master And Nature Lover Died Suddenly At His Home

On the front porch of his home on Seventh street, Monday evening, November 16, at ten o'clock, Dr. John Grant Robinson passed away peacefully as the result of a heart attack. The attack came as he stepped out on the porch to enjoy the moonlight night prior to retiring to his bedroom.

He was the eighth of fourteen children and was born August 26, 1867, in Cambridge, on the Eastern Shore of Maryland. At the age of twelve his family moved to Baltimore where his father was a member of a music establishment. Here he received a liberal education in the various branches of music, not for the sake of a career, but because of his religious home life very early dedicated his talent to the service of God and Holy Church, a service which was without stipend and uninterrupted to the very end of his life.

For his professional life he chose that of dentistry, graduating at the age of 22 from the Maryland Dental College of Surgery. He practiced in Baltimore until 1894, when ill health brought him to Oakland. In that same year he established an office in Oakland and was the second fully accredited dental doctor in Garrett county, being preceded by Dr. Singleton Townshend.

In 1897 he married Martha Elizabeth Hinebaugh, and to this union were born seven children, six of whom are living. They are: The Rev. Felix G. Robinson, Oakland; Mrs. Fred Husemoller, Washington, D. C.; The Rev. Ralph C. Robinson, Naval Reserve Chaplain, Norfolk, Va.; Mrs. Joseph Gorman, Hempstead, Long Island, N. Y.; John Jarvis Robinson, Allentown, Pa., and William Howard Phillips Robinson, Tyler, Texas. Jessie Mae Robinson, the youngest child, died in 1918 of influenza.

In 1911 he transferred his business and home from Oakland to Accident, remaining there until 1917, when he moved to Kempton. In 1919 he with his family moved to Gettysburg, Pa., where he practiced dentistry until 1929. He retired from his profession in 1930 on returning to Oakland. From then on he occupied himself in beautifying and developing a farm on the Monte Vista road where now lives his eldest son and his family.

His ministry to the Church was irrespective of creed or denomination. At one time or another he served either as organist or choir director in all the Protestant churches in Oakland, and on one occasion played the Christmas Mass in St. Peter's Roman Catholic church in Oakland. For many years it was the custom for families to have Dr. Robinson sing at the funerals of members of their household. Mrs. Martha Robinson, his wife, says that he never refused the performing of this service, even though it meant closing his office at the time of the funeral.

In the early part of his career in Oakland, Dr. Robinson played an important part in musical culture. He organized a chorus composed of the choirs of all the churches and gave cantatas. He organized a male quartet that sang during the Chautauqua season at Mountain Lake Park. His last effort in behalf of good music was the organizing of the Juvenile Choral Society that flourished for two or three seasons, composed of 15 teen-age boys. In later years and until recently he was a member of St. Mark's Lutheran church choir.

Apart from his immediate family, he is survived by six sisters and one brother, all living in Baltimore: Mrs. [illegible] Tull, Mrs. William Messerschmidt, Mrs. E. O. Jones, Miss Willie Robinson, Mr. Howard Robinson, Mrs. William B. Hill and Mrs. Earl Witters.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 10 a. m., from St. Mark's Lutheran church. The Rev. A. B. Leamer, D.D., pastor, officiating. Interment will be in Oakland cemetery.

Honorary pallbearers will be Joseph E. Harned, Benj. H. Sincell, J. M. Falkenstein, William A. Sturgiss, Dr. W. W. Grant, Thomas A. Gonder, Dr. B. F. Selby, A. D. Naylor, George W. Loar, Dr. L. J. Lannick, Dr. Thomas W. Koon, Cumberland; Floyd C. Diehl, Grantsville; C. E. Trembly, Terra Alta; Ferdinand Kuehn, J. Frank Schmidt, Baltimore; J. L. Englehart, Accident; Lawrence Duling, Kempton, W. Va.; W. O. Davis, Senator Bernard I. Gonder, and Prof. Ervin S. Smith.

Kitzmiller Soldier Collects Insignia

A picture of Private Antonio DiGuistino, formerly of Kitzmiller, with his collection of army insignia, was carried in this morning's issue of the Cumberland News.

Pvt. DiGuistino, now stationed at Bolling Field Army Air Base, already has collected more than 600 different army emblems from stations throughout the United States and territories.

He enlisted in 1932 at Fort Slocum, N. Y., and has served at Fort Slocum, Fort McDowell, Calif., Schofield Barracks, Hawaii, Fort Myer, Va., and finally at Bolling Field.

His collection includes insignia from all branches of the army. He is married to the former Josephine Harvey, of Kitzmiller and they reside in Washington. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph DiGuistino, Kitzmiller. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Osborn Harvey, of Kitzmiller.

Territory of Power System Is Divided

As a result of the large increase in the number of customers and the scope of company operations in Morgantown and vicinity in the past two or three years, the Monongahela System's Eastern operating territory has been divided into separate Morgantown and Fairmont divisions, with Paul H. Sommer continuing as manager of the Morgantown division, and Robert H. Pell becoming manager of the Fairmont division..

Preston and Garrett county operations of the company will continue as a part of the Morgantown operations, while Grafton and Taylor county will be added to the new division..

Automobile Damaged Colliding With Deer

The automobile of F. Dale Baer, Meyersdale, Pa., was damaged early Sunday morning when it struck a large deer on route 40, near Meadow mountain, this county. The deer darted across the road from south to north.

The grill, headlights and front fenders of Baer's car was badly damaged and the deer evidently was injured, although it continued running and a search over a wide area revealed no trace of the animal. The deer was estimated at about 200 pounds with eight or ten points to his antlers.

UNANNOUNCED BLACKOUT IS TERMED SATISFACTORY

Not Perfect By Any Means But People Showed Willingness to Cooperate During 30-Minute Test

Oakland's first unannounced blackout on Monday evening about 9 o'clock, although not perfect by any means, was said to be entirely satisfactory in regard to cooperation of the citizens and the air raid wardens.

There were violations by the score, with lights having been left on in store buildings, garages, etc., but one by one a good many of these were extinguished. Lights remained on in some of the homes because some families had gone out for the evening, and some had gone to the moving pictures. Street lights were extinguished promptly.

The blackout was even a complete surprise to those in charge but as soon as the warning signals began to come through to the control center in the jail those in authority got on the job and when the air raid siren blew the air raid wardens assumed their stations with a minimum of confusion.

Those in the control center notified other points in the county, particularly Kitzmiller, Friendsville, the power house at Sines, Mt. Lake Park and Loch Lynn, and Crellin, and reports from these areas indicate that there was perfect cooperation.

An accident at Mt. Lake Park caused two casualties, Harry C. Kiser, an air raid warden, being struck by an automobile near the Mt. Lake Park postoffice, while attempting to stop traffic, resulting in painful injuries, and the driver of the automobile, Paxton G. Arnold, of Deer Park, losing several teeth by striking the steering wheel.

Mr. Kiser was thrown over a guard rail and sustained a badly bruised chest and head. He was brought to Oakland in Bolden's ambulance where he was examined by Dr. R. R. Williams. He was later taken to his home where he is still confined to his bed. There were no broken bones.

The test was state-wide but all places did not remain blacked out for the thirty-minute period. It was the eighth test for Cumberland and was described there as "the worst yet," and there were indications of drastic action being taken there against offenders.

Daylight alerts now can be expected at any time, according to Col. Henry S. Barrett, state director.

Lawrence M. Fraley, county coordinator for the southern portion of the county, said that there was willingness upon the part of almost everyone to cooperate in these tests, and that he felt sure there would be 100 percent effectiveness whenever the next alarm came.

Lutheran Society To Give Pageant

The Women's Missionary society of the Lutheran church will present a pageant, "Africa Gives Thanks," at their annual Thank Offering service in the church next Sunday evening, November 22, at 7:30.

Miss Elsie Otto, a missionary from Liberia, Africa, will also be present to address the meeting.

Characters in the pageant will include Jane Reckard, Joan Griffith, Rita Bittle, Martha Towler, Louise Winters, Joan Smith, Dot Kahl, Delores Leighton, Dortha Wensel, Martha Lee Morris, Eloise Griffith.

Man Hurt At Savage River Dam Awarded $5,000 By Jury

Damages of $5,000 were assessed against Harold Binnix, contractor at the Savage River Dam last Friday by a jury of inquisition in the Allegany county circuit court, in the suit of Henry W. Lease and the United Employes' Compensation Commission.

Lease, who was employed by Binnix at the Savage River dam project, was injured in a truck accident. He first entered suit against Binnix and the Upper Potomac River Commission but the court ruled that the commission could not be sued.

To Give One-Act Plays

The Oakland High School Dramatic club is presenting three one-act plays, all comedies, in the school auditorium on Friday evening, November 20. The curtain goes up on the first performance at 8 o'clock. Admission will be 17 and 28 cents.

Next Week's Issue To Be Published On Wednesday

In order to properly observe Thanksgiving Day, on the last Thursday of November, next week's issue of The Republican will be published on Wednesday.

Local correspondents and advertisers are urged to send in their copy one day earlier than usual, to insure their publication in the week's issue.

For the first time since 1938 the President has proclaimed Thanksgiving Day to be the last Thursday of the month, because in that year and the three years following he declared the holiday to be the Thursday before the last. In spite of this, Sixteen states continued to observe the traditional date and some celebrated two dates. Last year the President admitted the change was not for the best.

Union Thanksgiving Service Scheduled For Next Thursday

Rev. H. K. Jones, Episcopal Rector, To Speak in Lutheran Church

The annual Union Thanksgiving service among the Protestant bodies of the Oakland area will be held in the Lutheran church this year, beginning at ten o'clock A. M. on Thursday, November 26.

The Rev. H. Kearney Jones, rector of St. Matthew's Episcopal church, will deliver the annual message, and Dr. A. B. Leamer, Lutheran pastor, will be assisted in the devotional part of the service by Rev. Minor Sprague, Methodist minister, and Rev. A. Gordon Fisher, assistant to the Rev. Jones.

The Thanksgiving offering will be turned over to the County Health Department for use in needy cases.

President Roosvelt has asked that both Thanksgiving Day and New Year's Day be set aside as a time of prayer, and local ministers here are urging a full attendance at the union service.

Thanksgiving Service at Loch Lynn

Members of the three churches of Mt. Lake Park-Loch Lynn will unite for the annual Thanksgiving service, held this year in the United Brethren church, with Rev. Garrett H. Evans bringing the message. Rev. J. C. Foster will be the host pastor, and Rev. J. Finney Bragg will assist in the service.

The public is invited to attend this service of thanksgiving and worship, which will begin at 10 a. m., and will close promptly at 11. The pastors hope that families will take this opportunity of coming together in the House of God.

Deer Park Thanksgiving Service

The congregations of the Episcopal and Methodist churches in Deer Park will meet for a Union Thanksgiving service at the Methodist church next Wednesday night at 8 o'clock. Rev. H. K. Jones will deliver a Thanksgiving sermon, and Rev. Garrett H. Evans will conduct the service. Special music will be furnished by the Young People's Choir of the Bethel Methodist church in Mt. Lake Park.

WOMEN'S CLUB CONTINUES WITH SERIES OF PARTIES

The Business and Professional Women's club of Oakland is continuing with its schedule of parties at the recreational center in the City Hall, and will conduct a party this Friday evening, November 20, for boys and girls of the 6th and 7th grades. Last Friday there was a party for those from the 8th grade through high school.

There will be no party on November 27. The three parties during December will be as follows: December 4, 4th and 5th grades; December 11, 8th grade, through high school; December 18, 6th and 7th grades.

The Pines Closed

A news item appearing this morning in a Morgantown paper indicates that The Pines, a roadhouse located on the Oakland-Terra Alta highway, just west of Corinth, has been closed, and along with numerous other roadhouses, is being remodeled into a huge chicken house.

The item further stated that Paul Stockman, owner, had already obtained the necessary equipment and it was his purpose to furnish the community with 1,000 broilers per day, for the duration of the war, and until automobile traffic again became normal.

Official Totals Include Mail Ballots

Official totals in the recent election, including eight mail ballots, two of which were not received until last Friday morning, and which were reported to the Clerk of the Circuit Court by the Board of Election Supervisors, are as follows:

Steyer School Leads October Attendance

Steyer school has the highest percentage in attendance among one-teacher schools of the county for the month of October, it was announced by John L. Fitzwater, supervisor of attendance, with a rating of 98.4. The Yoder school was second with 98.3, while Casselman was third with 97.1. Seventeen of the thirty-nine schools listed in this group were above the county standard.

Johnson school was first among the two-teacher schools with 95.9 percent, while Jennings with 94.6 was second, and Red House, with 93.8 was third. They were the three schools in this group of eight above county standard.

Kempton was high among the ten graded schools with 97.4; Mountain Lake Park, second, with 96.2, and Vindex was third with 94.9. Crellin was the only other school in this group above county standard.

None of the five high school was above county standard, but Friendsville high had the highest rating with 92.6 per cent.

Historical Society Wants Material From Schools of County

The Garrett County Historical Society is seeking samples of compositions and drawings from students of the county dealing with the history of the county or its communities, for display in its museum or exhibit in the Court House in Oakland, it has been announced by Charles E. Hoye, president of the Society.

Mr. Hoye also said that histories of schools, written by teachers, would also be valuable contributions, as the Society was organized and maintained to preserve and to teach Garrett county history.

Enrollment in the GCHS is now 640 members. The Society's goal is 1000 members. Many of the teachers of the county are already members of the organization.

Firemen Answer Alarms

The Oakland Firemen answered two alarms this week, both of them grass fires.

The first call came Monday evening about 5 o'clock from Deer Park where a grass fire was threatening the Warnick store building. The blaze was extinguished before the truck arrived.

The second call came as the result of a grass fire at Hutton. The fire was extinguished without damage.

Civic Club to Meet

The Oakland Civic club will hold its regular meeting next Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Masonic club room, third floor of the First National Bank building, it was announced by Mrs. E. Z. Tower, president.

Mrs. Tower said a program was being prepared and that it was urgent that the members attend.

Registration Fixed For 18-Year-Olds

Young men who became or will become 18 years old in the last six months of this year must register, President Roosevelt has ordered. Three registration dates are fixed.

Those who became 18 in July and August are to register during the week of December 11. Those whose birthdays were in September and October are to register during the week of December 18. Those becoming 18 in November and December are to register between December 26 and 31. After January 1, men becoming 18 will register on their birthdays.

Lunch Program Begun By Nineteen Schools

Quantity Of Food Commodities Distributed For Month Of November

Nineteen county schools have applied for and have received food commodities for school lunch programs from the Welfare Board in Baltimore, for use during November, it was announced a few days ago by County Superintendent of Schools F. E. Rathbun.

The schools using this material and their principals include:

Finzel, Elizabeth Workman; Beachy, Merle Hamill; Bear Hill, Rachel Hughes; Jennings, Delta Lohr; New Germany, Mary Schaefer; Rich Hill, Evelyn Wass; Bittinger, Helen Comer; Black Hawk, Athena L. Null; Frankville, Bertha Miller Trost; Bloomington, J. Paul Ewing; Chestnut Grove, Alice Howard; Swanton, Lillian Harvey; Wilson, Margaret Wilson; Kitzmiller, O. P. Jones; Oakland Elementary, Merle D. Frantz; Gorman, Phyllis H. Williams; Kempton, Lena W. Walker; Spring Glade, Ruth K. Sebold; Manadier Ridge, Nellie J. Beachy.

The foods available included apples, dried beans, graham flour, grapefruit segments, wheat flour, evaporated milk, dry skim milk, prunes, tomatoes, sweet potatoes, cheese. These have already been delivered to the schools by Dwight Mills, drayman for the Board of Education.

"Objectors" To Use Swallow Falls Camp

That Swallow Falls CCC camp, vacant since the CCC enrollees left there several months ago, would be used for a camp of conscientious objectors, was indicated this week with the arrival of two inspectors from the American Friends Service Committee, of Philadelphia, and plans for cleaning up the buildings.

Roger Drury and Seymour Atkin, representatives of the Service Committee, have been in Oakland for several days and have been looking over the camp site. It is thought there will be at least seventy-five young men brought here, and perhaps as many as 150 later.

These young men will serve as fire fighters in the forests and will continue to beautify the Park area there.

Jaycees Select Means and Wolfe

Frank Edward Means and Richard Wolfe were the two soldiers selected this week in continuation of their "service men project." Their names are being posted in the usual places in town, where persons are urged to write them notes and deposit small gifts.

Means, formerly employed in Rudy's Department store, is now located at Camp Gordon, Ga. Wolfe, a former employe in the Coca Cola plant, is with a medical detachment, located at Fort Ord, California.

Jaycees in charge of the project said that last week's response had been good. Those listed last week were Capt. Haig Jackson and Lieut. Jack Weber.

Two Induction Calls For December Listed

Two induction calls for draftees have been announced for December by the County Draft Board, one on December 3, for forty men, and another on December 16, for forty-five men. The list of those called for December 3 is expected to be available in time for next week's issue.

Eighty-seven draftees, whose names were published last week, are scheduled to leave Oakland tomorrow morning, November 20, for the induction station at Baltimore.

RATION BOARD GIVES FACTS ON VARIOUS ITEMS

Information Released On Coffee, Excess Tires, Auto Registration, Gasoline Dealers, Etc

A variety of information was released this week from the War Price and Rationing Board, affecting tires, auto registration, coffee rationing, etc.

All institutional users of coffee will register at the Rationing board office in Oakland on November 23, 24 and 25. Applicants are supposed to know the number of pounds of coffee used during the months of September and October, 1942. Individual consumers holding war ration book one will not have to register for coffee.

Stocks in stores are to be built up chiefly during the week November 22 to 29 during which week no sales are to be made to consumers. On and after November 29 consumers older than fourteen years as shown by their sugar registration, may buy one pound of roasted coffee per person for the five weeks including January 3, 1943. They will use ration book No. 1 previously used for sugar, starting with stamp No. 27.

Gas Dealers to Register

Registration for gasoline dealers will take place December 1 and 2 in the ration board office. Applicants are to have their inventory at the close of business November 30, and the capacity of their gasoline storage tank.

Tires Turned In

Automobile owners turned in excess tires totaling around 250 at the railway express office in Oakland during the past few days, according to C. A. Fleegle, B. and O. station agent. Express offices in any part of the county were eligible to receive these tires. Owners are given receipts which can be redeemed for cash after the value of the tire is fixed by the federal government.

An auto owner is entitled to five tires. He must get rid of his extra tires. Some counties have set a deadline, declaring extra tires must be turned in by Sunday. The Ration Board here has no such information, but some such orders are expected soon. The inspection of tires is scheduled to begin December 1. December 1 is also the date scheduled for the start of gasoline rationing in this territory.

1697 Owners Register

It is estimated that about 2,000 owners of passenger cars were registered last Friday in the schools of the county after which they received their "A" ration books. The Ration Board had a report from all but 22 of the 58 schools which participated and the total for the 36 schools was 1697.

Accident Lutheran Minister Installed

Rev. John W. Harner, of Hillsboro, Ind., was installed as pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church in Accident at the regular service last Sunday morning. Installing officer was Rev. E. F. K. Roof, Grafton, president of the West Virginia Lutheran Synod.

Rev. Harner fills the vacancy caused by the resignation of Rev. L. A. Wagner, who recently accepted a call to Parkersburg, W. Va. He will also have the Cove and Friendsville churches.

Rev. Harner, his wife and infant child, are now occupying the Lutheran parsonage there. A reception is being held in their honor this evening by members of the parish.

County Exceeds Bond Quota for October

The October quota for the sale of war bonds in Garrett county was surpassed, according to information received from Walter N. Ruth, State Administrator, all places selling a total of $25,934, issue price.

The Maryland quota for October was exceeded by approximately $100,000, making two months in succession.

The Garrett county quota for November is $20,000, H. C. Riggs, cashier of the Garrett National Bank in Oakland, stated this morning.

Price Specialist Coming

George Spoerl, price specialist from the OPA field office in Cumberland, will be at the rationing board office on Friday, November 27, it has been announced, at which time he will discuss problems with any of the merchants on food prices.

Scoop's Column By Scoop Himself

On Censorship

The results of ten months of voluntary censorship in the United States was described as "amazingly good" by N. R. Howard, assistant director of the Office of Censorship in Washington, who spoke to editors at the annual meeting of the West Virginia Press association at Morgantown last Friday evening and added that his bureau was "daring to hope that it will be a success."

Since censorship is a subject very much alive today in this free country of ours, people should be interested in the opinions of the man who heads the press division. Mr. Howard is former editor of the Cleveland, O., News.

"No censorship is better than any conceivable kind of censorship," he said, adding "There is nothing in our censorship that cannot be nailed down to military necessity."

"We don't want to censor opinion in this country." He even declared that if some other government agency tried to enforce censorship, that such an occurrence should be reported to the bureau of censorship.

Mr. Howard asked that the press be extremely careful in publishing stories which identified for possible use by the enemy the units to which Army and Navy personnel are attached.

For example he pointed out the danger of saying that a certain person, attached to a certain numbered bombing squadron, had arrived in a certain area. Such information gives the enemy a clue as to the number of men already there, their strength in arms, engineers, bombers, etc. The same would be true in saying that a certain person, attached to a certain battleship, had a San Francisco address, which would give the enemy the information that the said battleship was somewhere on the Pacific.

He declared as soon as this point was cleared up among the 12,000 weekly newspapers of the country that voluntary censorship would be as near to perfection as we can get.

He pointed out differences in this voluntary form of censorship and the censorship carried on in foreign countries where everything is fitted to suit the purpose of the leaders. There, no criticism is allowed and newspapers print only what the leaders order published.

* * *

In cooperation with such policy of the censorship bureau, The Republican will watch closely items referring to soldiers, sailors, etc., about movement of troops, especially when they leave this country. So if an individual's number, unit and balance of his address is omitted in future articles, it will be for the good of the country. Anyone wanting to write to such individuals can always get the proper addresses from their families. None of us wants to give away valuable information to the enemy under any circumstances.

What to Do With Hitler

C. S. Zeller advances an idea as to what to do with Hitler, Mussolini and Hirohito when this strife is over and these "war criminals" will be held accountable for the slaughter that has taken place.

"Don't kill them," he says. "That would be too good. Why not put them in a cage, practically naked, and exhibit them from place to place just like a bunch of monkeys. Charge a dollar to look and two dollars for the privilege of spitting on them. In that way all three would go through a living torture and we'd soon pay off the entire war debt."

The idea may be all right. Perhaps other readers have different ideas. Send them in and let's see what they're like.

Personally I'd give two dollars to spit in his eye.

Senator Byrd, of Virginia, struck a very responsive note with me when he charged the Federal Administration with being the biggest hoarder of manpower and chief work waster. There are almost three million Federal jobholders. In 1918 there were thirty agencies of Government. Today there are 81 distinct agencies, many of them making no direct contribution to the war effort.

The voices of the people were heard in no uncertain tones on November 3. The New Deal had better clean house.

There has already been enough comment in the daily press concerning Vice-President Wallace's ignorant remarks on why so many New Dealish Democrats were defeated. Besides the rich people and the dumb farmers voting the other way, he also said that the soldiers and war workers in industries did not vote, that they were mostly in favor of the Administration.

It was interesting to read that the Republicans gained another seat in Congress in a close contest in Pennsylvania, the result of which was delayed until the counting of 146 soldier ballots had been completed. The final count gave the Republicans the victory. That sounds very much like Wallace was talking through his hat again.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS . . . . . .

Army-Navy Competition

Washington, Nov. 14.

While the public imagination is stirred by the great potentialities of British and American successes in North Africa, the terrible toughness of our enemy in the East should not be lost sight of for a moment. For it is from that quarter, as we already have been told, bad news is to come.

* * *

This being the fact, anything calculated to increase the power of our arms in the Pacific is of vital concern to all. Chief criticism leveled at the effectiveness of the military and naval forces there is that they lack a unified command and hence at times are disposed to compete rather than coordinate. There is no disposition here to suggest that there is not complete cooperation between General MacArthur and Admiral Halsey. They have given some rather thrilling evidences that there is.

* * *

What is suggested—and what men whose judgment should command respect agree about—is that the coordination would be greater if there were a single directing head of operations instead of two separate ones. Perhaps this is not yet feasible. Perhaps the central authority in Washington is working better than it was. Nevertheless, those with the deepest convictions on the subject are convinced that even under existing conditions effectiveness would be enhanced if the competitive spirit were eliminated. Responsibility for this rivalry, which at times, has not operated for good, is largely placed upon the public relations divisions of the two services.

The case made against these is impressive. First, however, it should be said that in both army and navy the heads of these divisions are high-minded, competent, qualified men. Among the subordinates, too, the level as to character and intelligence is high. But, undeniably, each division is exclusively interested in the exaltation of its own branch, with no concern about credit for the other branch. That is the job of the other branch's publicity setup and no business at all of the rival.

* * *

thful competition for the headlines. ful competition for the headlines. Naturally, the competitive spirit is stimulated all through the two services from the private soldiers and sailors up to the highest in command. It is as unavoidable as it is clear that that kind of competition does not make for the best results. Competition between army and navy is splendid on the football field in a time of peace, but this is war and they are not fighting each other, but a common enemy. They can do that better if there is complete willingness of each service wholly to subordinate itself to the other, whenever the subordination is deemed essential to the purposes of war. Anything like rivalry between the army and navy in a time of war is out of place and possesses elements of danger. With the best intentions in the world, the rivalry between the two service publicity machines does no make for that unselfish concentration upon the common goal so plainly desirable. While, perhaps, a unified command in the South Pacific may not be possible at this time, a unified command of the publicity divisions in Washigton is.

* * *

The present rivalry has resulted in the expansion of each of these divisions to a quite unprecedented size. The claim is that, combined, under a single head, the job could be done far more effectively by one-tenth the number of men, thus releasing several hundred first-class officers for other work. Those at the heads of these divisions are warm personal friends but rivals just the same. They daily confer with Mr. Elmer Davis, of the OWI, but operate their own departments and give out their own news entirely independent of Mr. Davis and of each other.

* * *

No one contends the system is good, but there it is. Unification could be accomplished without trouble. It does not require Presidential action. It could be done by agreement between the Secretaries of War and Navy, but that it will be done is doubtful. However, the suggestion has been made to both. Another advantage of the abolition of the competitive publicity system is that it would make unnecessary the rather undignified exhibition of our heroes, which is sometimes carried to extremes. As quickly as a man in either army or navy distinguishes himself abroad, the public-relations division of his particular service seeks to have him sent home on leave. Once here, he is sent out on a barnstorming tour of the country, lecturing, exhibiting pictures and otherwise putting on a show. This, of course, produces a gratifying number of headlines, but it is certainly painful to the heroes and it is doubtful whether the improvement in public morale balances the inevitable cheapening effect of these performances.

LESS CONVERSATION, MORE CONSERVATION!

So far in this war there has been too much conVERsation and too little conSERvation. We are still talking about what we want, rather than working to save what we have.

Our whole economy is i nthe throes of change. We can't catch up on lost time going on as usual. The tremendous resources of which we have so proudly boasted will avail us nothing unless we put them to work. But the change-over from peace-time to war-time production cannot be made thus abruptly without the day by day cooperation of each and every one of us.

We can survive this test as a nation, only if we survive this test as individuals. If we plan intelligently, we can do our part in conserving and utilizing everything we possess and thus save the materials which are so vitally needed for the conduct of the war. We will need all our ingenuity and our vaunted cleverness to do this, but we can accomplish it by eliminating waste and conserving our resources, not only of money and materials but of time and energy.

Conservation is the tank warfare of the home front. For by conserving all our materials for a common war fund, we can plow through obstacles and smash through barriers with concentrated strength expended for the sole purpose of achieving Victory in the shortest possible time.

There is a paragraph sent out by one of the government offices which we all ought to keep in front of us—

Seventy gallons of gasoline will drive your car a thousand miles.

Seventy gallons of gasoline will keep a fighter plane up one hour.

This is still a free country.

Make your own choice.

Conservation isn't so much a doing without, as it is a doing with. What we will learn from conservation will be invaluable. There are reserves of inventive power in all of us upon which we can draw. There are reservoirs of good will in America which have never been tapped. When the war is over, we should have learned to consider and judge possessions and ways of life in their proper perspective. We will be able to live better, because we have learned what we can do without, what we can do for ourselves, and how we can work together, shoulder to shoulder, without regard to class or color, race or religion.

I SEE BY THE DAILIES THAT

Because of the war Seattle, Washington, has doubled in size as to population, it now having 700,000 people.

DIARY OF THE WAR

FRIDAY—Allied forces were nearing the frontier of Tunisia where the Nazis had landed men by air in an effort to hold that strategic corner. RAF planes on Malta aided the land forces by attacking the Axis-held region. Darlan asked the French fleet to join the Allies. Germany reported torpedoing the Queen Elizabeth, the world's largest ship, in North Atlantic. Sub-zero weather was helping the Russians on two fronts. Americans bombed the Jap base at Buin-Faisi, in North Solomons. British were clearing Egypt of the Axis army and were driving Rommel toward Tunisia. It was disclosed American officers visited Africa weeks ago to pave way for Yankee invasion.

SATURDAY—French troops were battling German troops in Tunisia, while Stalin declared the North African campaign doomed Hitler. A 4000-ton freighter was floated in San Francisco in eighty hours for a new record in speedy ship building. Roosevelt signed the new draft bill and an early call for teen-agers loomed. Tobruk was captured in Libya without a struggle as British pursued the fleeing Axis army, which already had retreated 300 miles. Americans dealt the Japs a hard blow at Guadalcanal, destroying 30 landing boats and downing 30 enemy planes. Another force blasted two Jap cruisers. A Nazi sub was discovered prowling close to Panama. Vichy reported a naval battle off North Africa. Russians beat off German attacks in sections of Stalingrad.

SUNDAY—Giraud, French commander, was leading the French fighting in Tunasia as Allies pushed to within 80 miles of the naval base and harbor there. Mexicans were asking for an active share in the war against the Axis. U. S. and Jap warships were in a fierce battle near Solomons with both sides sustaining losses. Reds claimed gains on two sectors in the Causasus. Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, adrift three weeks in the Pacific, was rescued along with others of his party. One of the eight died. U. S. flyers bombed German u-boat bases. British in Libya pushed past Gazala, 46 miles beyond Tobruk.

MONDAY—U. S. and British forces were attacking an Axis force at Bizerte, in Tunisia in race to seize finest harbor in North Africa. Rommel narrowly escaped capture at Tobruk in route westward of Libya. British continued their drive there. American and Jap warships were in a decisive battle around the Solomons while Japanese were making claims of many U. S. warships sunk since start of war.

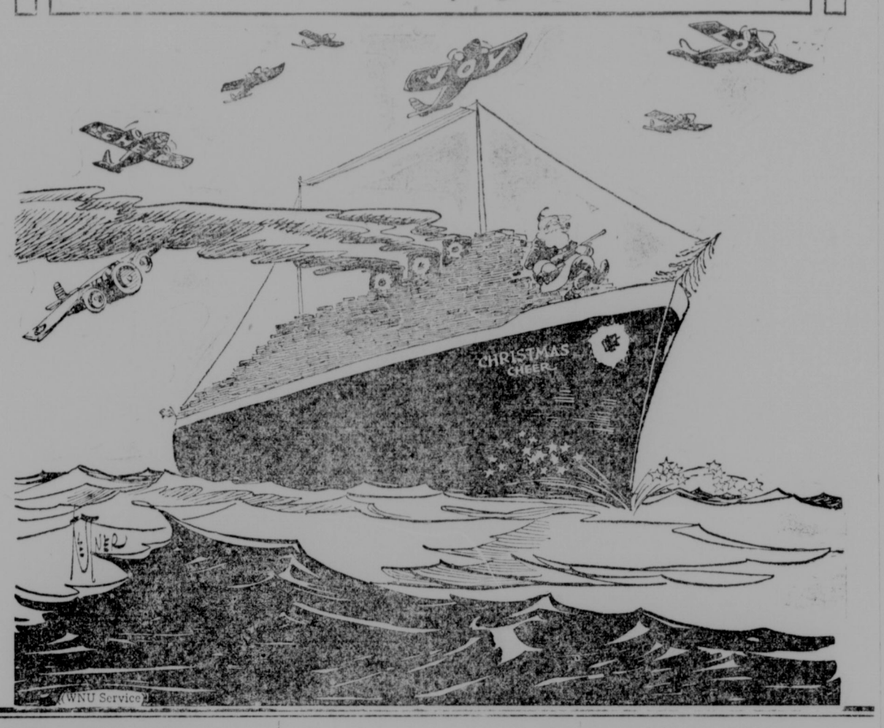
TUESDAY—U. S. Navy disclosed that the vessels of the fleet had sunk 23 Jap ships in the Solomons battle, including a heavy battleship, heavy cruisers, destroyers, transports, and estimated 24,000 to 40,000 Jap soldiers perished. General McArthur took to the field personally against Japs in New Guinea and troops were closing in on Japs there. American fighter planes raided Nazi units in France and British hit Italian points. Russians reported repulse of many German attacks around Stalingrad and in Caucasus region. Motorized U. S. troops were pouring into Tunasia with British Army to fight against Axis troops there. French military units in North Africa were cooperating with Allied tank forces. General Patton escaped death in African landing when a shell hit his landing boat. British were closing in on Bengasi in Libya in attempt to trap Rommel.

WEDNESDAY—Shattering of Jap Armada in Solomons area was being called a major victory with Jap losses believed larger than first reported. Secretary Knox warned enemy might come back. Allies continued advance on Buna in New Guinea. U. S. planes were taking British parachute troops to Tunisia to hold important positions there. French patrols had already contacted German troops. Pursuit of Nazis by British in Libya was slowing down. Rommel was reported in Tunisia trying to organize sufficient force to make a stand. Hitler was reported massing an army in the Balkans for a drive on Suez. German troops pushed the Reds back at Stalingrad, but Reds made gains in the Caucasus region. Heavier raids over Nazi-occupied Europe were forecast as German air strength was being disrupted because of Mediterranean action.

THURSDAY—American and British troops battered German patrols in Tunisia in drive on Bizerte. French were also fighting Germans. Heavy fighting was in prospect for control of this area. Mass bombing of Italian production centers loomed as the next major development of the war. It was believed the Axis army in Libya would attempt a stand at El Agheila, 400 miles east of Tripoli. Japanese admitted loss of ships in sea battle but attempted to prove the American losses were much heavier. American planes meanwhile bombed Nazi bases on continent. Hitler was said to be massing planes, ships and troops for a concerted drive on North African area. U. S. and Australian troops were closing in on the Jap base on New Guinea. German infantry failed to advance against Russians around Stalingrad.

The movie industry was urged by a National Board of Review to suspend double features for the duration.

Bon Voyage



THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS . . . . .

By FRANK R. KENT

Copyright by The Baltimore Sun and reprinted in The Republican by permission.

The Labor Shortage

The attitude of the President and his man-power commissioner, Mr. Paul McNutt, is that no compulsory labor draft legislation should be enacted until all other mehods of meeting the acute labor shortage have been exhausted. This is sound reasoning and the announcement by Mr. McNutt that a "national service" bill will be submitted within two weeks would seem to mean that these other methods have been exhausted and the shortage is so critical as to leave the Administration no alternative.

But the truth is that there is an alternative which they do not mention and there are means of vastly increasing man power from which the Administration shrinks. If these were used the labor shortage would almost immediately disappaer and the necessity for another great bureaucratic board with another army of jubholders would cease to exist. Refusal to consider them in the forthcoming bill means an uterly unrealistic approach to the problem—a deliberate refusal to adopt the clear, logical and effective steps for its solution.

There is no mystery as to what these are. Every thoughful person knows them. First—the chief—there is the lengthening of the basic working week from forty to forty-eight hours. This, at once, would increase the available labor supply, at existing wages, 20 per cent. A proposal to do this has recently been made by Representative Ramspeck, of Georgia, who is a real friend of labor. If he were given White House support, the shortage could be wiped out almost over night. It would be equivalent to increasing the available labor supply one-fifth. The average work week in Great Britain is 56 hours. Here, counting overtime, it still is under forty-three. In face of that comparison, it is certainly difficult to defend the wartime continuation of the forty-hour week.

If, in addition to lengthening its week to forty-eight hours, labor, during the war, would give up the rules and practices which create non-essential jobs and force industries to carry useless men, who not only do not work themselves but who really restrict the efficient use of other men and machines—if these practices could be prohibited, production would leap and the whole labor shortage situation be completely changed. With many thousands of men willing and eager to work longer; with the Government about to lower the draft age to 18; with Mr. McNutt about to present a compulsory national service bill, it does seem that we cannot longer afford to let these labor luxuries continue solely through fear of the professional labor politicians.

* * *

It is clear that these are not going to relinquish voluntarily their forty-hour week or anything else. They prate about their sacrifices but make none. The suggestion that any of their "social gains" should be suspended while the war lasts—and that is all that is suggested—evokes such howls from the labor lobbyists that all the rabbit politicians run for cover. Yet, the continuation during the war of these crippling laws and rules has greatly retarded our war production and vastly increased its cost. There is no possible denial of that.

* * *

Rather than grapple with this reality we find the Administration about to launch a compulsory national service law, under which the whole population would be regimented in such a way never dreamed of before. From the advance publicity on the subject it is clear that there is only the cloudiest idea of how so comprehensive and drastic a law is to be administered and that those charged with its sponsorship are, themselves, somewhat afraid of it—as well they may be. What the nation has cause to fear is the creation of another great governmental agency, headed by a politician, with power but without capacity, who will add thousands more civilians to the swollen Federal pay rolls, and produce little beyond confusion.

Of the actuality of the labor shortage there is no doubt. Nor is there any doubt that if the Administration fails—as it almost certainly will—to do either of the two things it should do to solve the problem—to-wit, first, change the forty-hour week to forty-eight hours—and, second, eliminate the vast number of useless men among the 2,600,000 civilian employes now on the Government pay rolls—if it fails to do these things, then some such law as Mr. McNutt is drafting becomes essetial. But, an effort to get action along the lines urged by Mr. Ramspeck, believed in by plenty of his colleagues and desired, as the polls show, by a large majority of the people, should be made first. If that cannot be done, Congress, at least, can insist upon a national service law that will be soundly conceived and non-politically administered. This seems the sort of fight to which, now he has made his "report to the people" on his foreign travels, Mr. Willkie might well devote himself.

An increase on Maryland farms of milk, eggs, heifers and hogs is noted in a State report.

Governor O'Conor, addressing State government officials at Chicago, said American people were "ahead of many of their officials in Washington in their thinking" and warned of "the danger of departing from our dual form of government with the States and Federal Union as separate sovereign powers."

A Marine glider school has been started at Hagerstown.

HOW AND WHAT TO FEED WAR WORKERS

War workers need substantial food and plenty of it, even if the food is packed in a lunch box. Experts now come forth with some valuable suggestions that will keep workers in war industries in good health. Don't miss this article in the November 29th issue of

This man is not dead. He is just sleeping. And sleeping a little more soundly, perhaps, because there are still many Americans who are not putting at least 10% of their pay into War Bonds on a regular Payroll Savings Plan. How about you joining a lot of other fellows in giving the little paperhanger a rude awakening? How about you signing up with a Payroll Savings Plan today . . . to the tune of not 6%, or 7% or 8%, but 10%, and more if you can? LET'S TOP THAT 10% BY NEW YEAR'S.

WHAT YOU SHOULD DO:

If you are . . .

1. Already investing 10% of your pay in War Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan—boost that 10% if you can.
2. Working in a plant where the Plan is installed, but haven't signed up yet—sign up tomorrow.
3. Working in a plant where the Payroll Savings Plan hasn't been installed, talk to your union head, foreman, or plant manager—and see if it can't be installed right away. The local bank will be glad to help.
4. Unable to get in on the Payroll Savings Plan for any reason, go to your local bank, or wherever Bonds are sold. They will be glad to help you start a Plan of your own.

MARRIED

M'CROBIE-MOORE — Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Mabel Ruth Moore, daughter of John Moore and the late Mrs. Moore, of Swanton, to Corporal Albert N. McCrobie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse McCrobie, also of Swanton, which took place November 2, at Charlottesville, Va. Rev. C. Fred Williamson, Methodist minister, performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Mary Pace, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. The bride wore a white chiffon dress while her attendant was gowned in a black dress with white accessories.

Mrs. McCrobie was graduated from Oakland High school and is at present in Baltimore with her father.

Corporal McRobie, company clerk of the station complement at Madison Barracks, N. Y., is back at his post after a furlough. He was inducted August 8, 1941 at Fort George Meade, served his basic training at Fort Eustis, Va., after which he was assigned to Madison Barracks November 15, 1941. He has been engaged in a clerical capacity for the past several months. McCrobie, a native of Frederick, also was graduated from Oakland High school. He was formerly assistant leader in the Civilian Conservation Corps.

Robert Bittle and Linn Grant, students at Potomac State College, Keyser, West Va., were week-end visitors at their homes here.

Arthur Lawton and Walter W. Dawson are in Baltimore attending the fall communication of the Grand Lodge of Masons in Maryland, as representatives of the local organization.

District scout leaders met last night in the Oakland High school building with Raymond C. Lalor, scout executive, Potomac Council, Cumberland, Mr. Watson, Luke, in charge of senior scouting.

Lawrence M. Fraley spoke to members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at their dinner meeting last evening, on the subject of "Civilian Defense." They are planning on a moving picture on civilian defense, to be shown at their next meeting on December 8.

Stanley S. Stahl has secured a position under civil service and left here on Tuesday far Camp Holabird, near Baltimore, where he will be located in the office of the service department motor vehicle division of the U. S Army. He was notified of his appointment one day last week. Mr. Stahl at the time of his appointment was employed in the Ralph Pritts Garage in Oakland where he had been for the past two years. His family will remain in Oakland for the present.

Mrs. Virgil B. Kelley has been appointed chairman of the Junior Red Cross chapter of the county, to fill the vacancy created when Mrs. Lewis R. Jones moved from the community to her former home in Rowlesburg. The chapters of the nation are celebrating the 25th anniversary of the founding of the organization and at present there is a drive for junior members. Teachers in the schools of the county are being urged to contact Mrs. Kelley in an effort to get the pupils of their schools to join as a unit.

45-year-olds Not Subject to Draft

Colonel Henry C. Stanwood, State Director, Maryland Selective Service System, advises that effective immediately, no registrant will be ordered to report for induction who was of an age liable for military service at the time of his registration but who subsequently attains the age of 45 years prior to the time scheduled for his induction. The induction of all such registrants who are now under orders to report for induction shall be postponed for thirty days. Nothing shall be construed to prohibit a registrant whose induction is postponed from volunteering for induction according to established procedure.

Colonel Stanwood cautions all registrants receiving I-A classification notice to initiate tentative arrangements for closing out their business, personal and financial affairs so that if they are accepted at the Army Induction Station those matters may be completed during the seven-day furlough period.

Thanks People for Letters

Pfc. Donald Hinebaugh, who at present is attending the Coyne Electrical School in Chicago, has written to the Jaycees expressing his thanks for the letters and gifts as follows:

"I'll take this time to do something that should have been done several days ago. I want to extend my thanks and appreciation to the Jaycees and friends for the swell gifts and messages received a few days ago. It sure is wonderful to be remembered by the folks back home."

Christmas shoppers are being warned to do their purchasing early, because of reduced sales personnel and other restrictions causing bottlenecks.

With Our Men In the Service

Harry Sanders, U. S. Navy, who has been detailed as a student in a music school in Washington, D. C., for the past several months, is home on a furlough at Crellin with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Sanders. Upon his return to duty he will be assigned to one of the battleships as an assistant bandmaster.

Word has been received by Mrs. Mary Lewis, north of town, that her son, Pvt. Harry V. Lewis, has recently been promoted to the rank of corporal. His command, which has been stationed at a point in California for the past three months, has been moved to Camp Pickett, Va.

* * *

Private Robert S. Hahn, stationed with a bombing squadron at an army air base in Waycross, Ga., in the communications division, is spending a week's leave of absence at his home in Crellin. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Hahn.

The town of Crellin is furnishing more than its share of young men in this global war. Three left on Tuesday to join the U. S. Navy to bring the total to 43 entering the service. They were Robert Faherty, Darrell Lewis and Cecil Kelley. Faherty, a son of Mrs. Stephen Faherty and the late Mr. Faherty, is the third of his family to enter the service. A brother, William, is at Fort Wayne, Ind., in the army air corps, while another brother, Edward, is at Camp Pickett, Va., with an engineering group.

Lewis is also the third one of his family to join the service and all three are Navy inclined. Stanley B. Lewis and Burress Lewis are already in that branch of the service. They are sons of Harry Lewis, chief mechanic at the Stanley mines. The fact that he served in the U. S. Navy in the last war may have something to do with the choice his sons made. The enthusiasm of Harry Sanders and several others already in the Navy may also have had its effect. Sanders, home on leave, says the new recruits will make nine out of the 43 from Crellin who have decided on the Navy.

Sgt. John Edward Baird, who had been stationed at Langley Field, Va., with the Army Air Corps, has been transferred to Eglin Field, Florida, having arrived there on November 14. The field is located southwest of Pensacola and twenty-three miles from the nearest town.

* * *

First Lieut. Hopwood Wooddell, who is located in Washington, D. C., with the Army Intelligence Service, is at the home of his mother, Mrs. Sallie Wooddell, on a furlough of a week.

* * *

Rodney C. Patton, son of Mrs. B. M. Patton, Grantsville, has been accepted as a member of the Naval Aviation Cadets and will be sent to the University of Georgia for pre-flight training.

* * *

Charles L. Briner, who is undergoing training with the American Red Cross in Washington, D. C., after having received an appointment as a recreational director, spent the past week-end at his home in Oakland. He expected to complete the training course this week after which he is scheduled to be sent to an army camp prior to an assignment for foreign service.

* * *

Pfc. Dayton Mosser, of Deer Park, has notified his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Mosser, of his safe arrival in England. Mosser is in the U. S. infantry. Friends wanting to write to him may obtain his address from his parents. Mr. and Mrs. Mosser have another son, Morgan Mosser, in the Enid Army Flying School, at Enid, Oklahoma.

* * *

Corporal Daniel L. Riley, former resident of this area, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Riley, of Howesville, W. Va., is now stationed somewhere in England, according to Mrs. Nelson Nethken, of Oakland. Riley will celebrate his 24th birthday anniversary today, November 19.

* * *

Ralph E. Bishop, Kitzmiller, was one among those sent to the Baltimore induction station yesterday by the Cumberland Naval recruiting office.

* * *

Carl Everly, former instructor in Oakland High school, who is now stationed at Fort Belvoir, Va., with the army engineers, was visiting here and at his home at Accident over the week-end. He is expecting to be moved to the west coast soon to help establish another new camp site.

* * *

Robert Stanton, with the Army Air Corps, at Denver, Colorado, arrived in Oakland Tuesday night for a short furlough.

* * *

Pvt. Charles W. Herring, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Herring, Accident, has just been graduated from the parent radio school of the Air Forces Technical Training Command at Scott Field, Ill. During his training period Private Herring received instruction in radio operation and mechanics and is now qualified for duty as a member of a fighting bomber crew, but may continue in an advanced radio school, a gunnery school or an operational training school where he will receive instructions as part of a bombing "team."

MOTIVES THAT STRENGTHEN FAMILY LIFE

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 2:1-4; Joshua 24:14, 15; Ephesians 5:25-31; 6:1-4.
GOLDEN TEXT—Love never faileth.—I Corinthians 13:8.

Last week we saw the things which mar the life of the family, now we turn to those things which give strength to the home and to daily life. This is a lesson much needed just now when so much of our normal home life is thrown out of joint.

We begin at the right place when we say that there must be a

I. Recognition of God in the Home (Exod. 2:1-4; Josh. 24:14, 15).

Failure at this point is without question the great mistake of our day. Christianity touches every phase of life, but nowhere is its blessed influence of greater importance than in the home.

Our lesson suggests that this is to be done in two ways in our homes.

1. By Faith in God (Exod. 2:1-4). The story of the birth of the babe who was to be Moses, possibly the greatest civic, social and religious leader of all time, reminds us that the Jewish people, who had found favor in the eyes of the Pharaohs in Joseph's time, were now being persecuted. A decree had gone out that all boys were to be destroyed at birth.

Here were two parents faced with the awful fact that their baby boy was condemned to death. Did they weep in fear and despair? No, they trusted God and sent the little one forth on a venture of faith, the charming story of which follows the verses of our lesson. God honored their faith by using their enemies to serve them.

2. Service for God (Josh. 24:14, 15). Joshua, who followed Moses as the God-appointed leader of Israel, was giving his last admonition to his people. He knew how they had repeatedly turned from God in unbelief and sin; yes, that even now some were worshiping false gods.

He pleads with them to turn to the one true God, but notice that his plea is made effective by the fact that he and his house were serving the Lord. Every man who has a position of leadership in this world is responsible for the use of that place of power, as a testimony for God. Now and then we hear of a high public official in our own land who loves and serves Christ in sincerity, and our hearts rejoice. The faith of a whole nation may thus be strengthened.

Every one of us has a sphere of influence, and our family life counts for or against God in our own community and among our own friends.

The members of a family that recognize God have a high

II. Regard for One Another in the Home (Eph. 5:28-31; 6:1-4).

It is pure hypocrisy for the family to parade an outward show of religion which does not effectively touch the relationships within the home. Incidentally, it is the kind of hypocrisy which is strikingly ineffective—men see through it too easily.

What then does Christianity do for the home itself? It determines, directs, sweetens—yes, glorifies the relation between

1. Husband and Wife (Eph. 5:28-31). This passage puts marriage on the highest plane, comparing it to the relationship between Christ and the church. Thus marriage is the joining of man and wife in a sacred union which calls forth love in its highest and noblest sense.

This means that the husband cherishes his wife as his own body, against which no man would do any harm, and for which he makes every possible provision for its comfort, health, usefulness and attractiveness. Such love between parents will lead the entire home life along in a serene, happy and wholesome way. It will not only double the joy, but will give strength in the hour of sorrow, dividing the griefs and burdens of life.

It will set the pattern for the right relation between

2. Parents and Children (Eph. 6:1-4). The first, and one might almost say the only, law of childhood is obedience. It is God's way to joy and a satisfying life experience for the child in the Christian home. The command to obey carries with it the understanding that the parents are "in the Lord." What father or mother is competent to direct a child apart from faith in Christ?

Notice too, that the parent has an obligation to deal intelligently and kindly with the child. We need a great deal of improvement, and perhaps instruction, at that point. Authority asking obedience is necessary, but it can be wise and kind.

Above all, there is to be a divine nurture, a guiding of the tender child life in the ways of God. Here is life's greatest opportunity and its mightiest challenge. How surprising that fathers (and mothers) who are looking for the greatest measure of usefulness to their generation fail to see it in the privilege they have to rear intelligent, godly children.

The teen-age draft bill was approved by the Senate and sent to the White House where the President's signature made 1,500,000 youths of 18 and 19 immediately liable for service in the armed forces.

Turning Over An Old Leaf

By Phillip A. Gladheim

"There were faces to remember in the Valley of the Shadow;
There were faces unregarded, there were faces to forget;
There were fires of fear and grief that are a few forgotten ashes;
There were sparkes of recognition that are not forgotten yet."

Not so many years ago November for me meant watching football gladiators clash on a sodden field in pursuit of a slippery pig-skin while thousands of cheery people dressed in raccoon coats, wrapped in automobile blankets, decorated with yellow chrysanthemum, and waving pennants, sat or stood on the grandstand resounding in unison their hurrahs and rah rahs through the raw wind, rain and snow. Then a turkey dinner Thanksgiving day with the folks at home. And if unusually fortunate a seat at the opera when the season opened at the close of the month.

But of more recent years November spells for me a different, a far more homelier, yet truly a sportsman's mood. Coming across some lines from an old English hunting song describes my feelings best:

"Of all the joys that sporting yields,
Give me to beat the stubble-fields
Quite early in November:
A brace of pointers staunch and true,
A gun that kills what'er I view—(if one knows out to shoot).

In wintry woods, when leaves are dead,
And hedges beam with berries red,
The pheasant is my spoil.
In stout shoes and breeches out I go,
And beat through tangled bushes low."

'Twas such a time when five hand-picked nimrods in the fall of 1933 went to Trinkling Springs on the Cacapon River down in Hampshire County, W. Va. It was an expedition replete with good hunting, providing delicacies for the board, midst grandiose scenery associated with interesting folk traditions. It was an experience of the out-of-doors that was unique. I have attended many thrilling football games, but memory places them all together in a lump. This is not so with the hunt. In my experience all adventures in the field and stream are decidedly azygous, that is, each event stands out single and isolated in the memory. And such was the Trinkling Springs party. I am sure these experiences can never again be duplicated. We were prepared for both stream and field. How well I remember our decision to divide our attention between a famous bass hole and an equally famous squirrel ridge the first afternoon, after we had made camp in an old hunter's cabin.

On returning to the cabin we checked the bags and laid on the table four 2-pounder bass and an even dozen squirrels. In the five days we bagged alone 125 squirrels, most of them were cleaned, salted down, and put in candy-buckets. But there were other items on the hunting list. Always being famous for wild turkey, and having seen fresh signs that first afternoon we decided to be at their feeding ground before dawn the following morning. Each of us had a different turky-caller device. Speaking of unique things—the variety of turkey-caller devices would be an interesting study. I have known a number of veteran turkey hunters and they have perfected their own technic. Those who come to mind at the moment are Roscoe Day, of Petersburg, W. Va. Eliza Shanholtz, of the Cacapon country, Oscar Cosner, Dick Frye, and Warren Kolkhorst, of Keyser, W. Va. If you want to learn folklore associated with the hunting of wild turkey there is no section as rich with stories as from Keyser to Petersburg, W. Va. It is conceded by sportsmen that the last stand of the vanishing wild turkey is in this section of the Alleghenies.

I will never forget old man Shanholtz. His turkey-caller was a very odd affair, consisting of a slab of oil-stone, a hollowed piece of walnut the shape and size of a half-egg shell, with an eight penny nail set in the apex, the point of which protruded slightly below the rim, and blunted by a file. He would serape the blunted nail-point, which was set in the hollowed-out walnut wood, against the oil-stone in such a way as to deceive the cleverest gobbler.

What greater thrill than to stalk Indian-like silently over scattered leaves in the forest before dawn, climbing to a high knob—and there in the frosty air wait for a drove of turkeys who you could hear scratching the leaves in search of beech-nuts. The scratching was audible from a great distance that becalmed morning. Then the old man began to 'woo' them closer with his instrument, that at least to turkeys' ears was music they understood. It was a grand sight that morning. We did not have long to wait for the drove of sixteen turkeys to make their appearance. We each selected our prize and about the time you are coming down stairs for bacon and eggs we were back in camp with two large gobblers. But I also remember the old man for two other reasons. The following afternoon he took me and a brother-in-law to White Rock mountain, across the river. On our way he showed us 'Caudy's Castle' a cliff 700 feet high straight up from the river's edge. Then he recounted how an Indian scout by the name of Caudy came into the Cacapon country on his way from Fort Seybert in Pendleton county, where there had been a massacre, warning the people that the Indians were in their vicinity. They did not need the warning for they had seen fresh Indian signs the day he arrived. He was instructed to go on to Fort Ashby. The settlers on the Cacapon River insisted that he take a companion, but this he refused. He had not gone far until he saw Indians following him. They were catching up—and he knew that he could not hold out against superior numbers. But he knew his country. He decided to climb this high cliff, for he knew a large crevice near the top where he could hide, large enough for one man to be concealed—and only room for one person to pass in front. Between the mouth of the crevice and the face of the cliff was a very narrow, dangerous path. He reached the crevice. And almost on his heels came the first Indian. When the Indian stood perilously on the narrow ledge in front of him—Caudy gave him a push—and headlong went the enemy to his doom. This could not be seen by the other Indians because it was on the opposite side of the cliff from the spiral path which they had to take in order to follow their leader. One after another met the same fate—until all seven were disposed of. Then Caudy went on his way. Thereafter it was named 'Caudy's Castle'. The next day I climbed this spiral path and laid down in that very same crevice where Caudy pushed the Indians over the cliff. After the old man finished telling about Caudy's Castle we found ourselves in an open space on top of the mountain—and along the edge was an abandoned old cabin—the chimney still intact, but the timbers were down. He told of how a man named Richmond lived there in the long ago—raised a family of ten children who left their home. But Richmond and his wife spent their whole life there and died alone. How they found such a place, at least 12 miles from a supply-center and no road—just a narrow trail for beast or man—has always been a mystery to me. But the old man said that Richmond never wanted for meat. All he needed was to stand at his cabin door with a muzzle-loader any season of the year. It was a spot that I can never forget—and I want once more to see that solitary place. It seems haunted with pioneers and Druids.

At sunset on top of White Rock Mountain we each took a separate way back to the Cabin, hoping to find turkey. I did not find turkey, nor could I find my way home. The only answer to my numerous bellowings was an empty echo. Upon getting to the base of the mountain I found myself stumbling in the dark over large boulders and giving my shins a real work-out. Finally I decided to discharge my gun—and after a time I heard a shot. I had come down to the base of the mountain two miles below camp. Early the next morning while preparing breakfast the roof around the tin-flue caught on fire. It was a frosty morning. We found an old ladder—rushed up on the roof, and as I was throwing a bucket of water my feet slipped from under me on the enfrosted roof—and down I slid with a thud to the ground below. This time it was more than my shins that had a work-out.

It would take too long to tell of our coon-hunt one beclouded, windy night—and how we caught grouse roosting in a persimmon thicket. Nor could we linger to recount the many yarns spun by Dee McCoy that night while we stood on top of a mountain listening at the same time to the baying of our hounds.

But one of the meals we concocted that week is worth re-telling. After this meal is described you will forgive me for inserting such a technical and high-brow word as 'azygous'. But this word, in spite of its obscurity, is really the most fitting. I would say it would equally apply to Meshack Browning's party that April morning of the long ago in Deep Creek glades when they set down to breakfast consisting of fresh-killed venison loin and rainbow trout served on freshly-peeled chestnut bark.

This particular meal, I am sure, was even beyond the realization of the most fastidious club of gourmants. It consisted of Squirrel Consomme, carrots mixed with ground butter-nuts, roasted potatoes in the skin, bass fried in butter with split-halves of bananas, grouse roasted in a heated pit outside cabin, stuffed with giblets, diced bacon, crumbs, seasoning, egg and onion. Also jugged squirrel seasoned with lemon peel and herbs. And finally the piece de resistance a fine young turkey gobbler roasted with head intact, afterwards replacing the most conspicuous of the tail-feathers—stuffed with apples and placed on a platter lined with water-cress and spearmint with bright red berries.

A CARELESS SHOT TOWARD A TELEPHONE LINE MAY INTERFERE WITH THE SHOOTING SIDE OF THE WAR

Shots fired at birds on telephone wire and cables, or even aimed in the general direction of lines, may miss their mark and accidentally cut a wire or damage a glass insulator. If a careless shot breaks these vital voiceways, calls are interrupted — the shooting side of war may possibly be delayed.

Mr. Sportsman, we're counting on you to watch out for telephone lines more closely than usual when you're enjoying the shooting this season.

When "Fleet Horses" Pulled Railroad Trains On The B. & O.

By ROXANA WHITE
(In The Baltimore Sunday Sun)

If you think transportation is a problem now, you should read the files of the American Railroad Journal and Advocate of Internal Improvement for 1832.

Copies of this magazine are regrettably rare, for it is one of the most interesting publications of the period. Files covering five years, from 1832 to 1837, have been found among the books of the late Dr. Gordon Claude, which are now being catalogued for a research library here by his son, William Tell Claude. In 1838 the name of the Journal was changed to the American Engineer and Railroad Journal, and still later, it became the Railway Age, under which title it is still published in New York, not far from the site of the first office at 33 Wall street.

Railroading a National Issue

Railroading in 1832 was less a means of transportation than a national issue. D. Kimball Minor, the editor, said in his first issue (which through a typographical error was dated a year before, January 2, 1831) that no apology was needed in offering the American Railroad Journal to the public, "at a time when so much and such general interest is felt on the subject of railroads in different sections of the United States."

"The importance of some other mode of internal communication," he wrote, "in this country where the canals and rivers are for about one-third of the year closed by frost renders it highly desirable that a fair experiment should be made of the utility of railroads. Such experiments are now in progress in several states. The opinion is fast gaining ground in this country that railroads will in great measure supercede canals."

There were people who disagreed with Mr. Minor. A letter signed merely "Fulton" (the editor hinted he was a very prominent man) ranted against railroad companies as "a baneful influence over the minds of citizens, inducing them to embark upon speculations which eventuate in many instances in heavy pecuniary sacrifices. A few individuals alone are benefited by these precocious undertakings."

Fought By Canal Interests

Others thought railroads far inferior to canals—canal companies especially thought so. Throughout 1832 the Journal reports the controversy between the B. & O. and the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal Company over a right of way at Point of Rocks. After a decision by the Court of Appeals against the railroad the Legislature entered the fight and asked the canal company to cooperate with the B. & O. Meanwhile, the B. & O was busy assuring its stockholders that the railroad to Cumberland would be continued and that alternate plans to cross the Potomac and advance on the Virginia side, or to tunnel through the mountain spurs, were being considered.

Assurances of the continuance of the line were bolstered by experiments which led the president, Philip E. Thomas, to disclose that "There is no reason to doubt that travel may be safely carried on at the rate of from twelve to fifteen miles an hour by the aid of steam power and that passengers may be conveyed from Baltimore to the Ohio river within from twenty-four to thirty hours at all seasons of the year." This was a distance, added the entranced editor of the Journal, "little short, we believe, of 350 miles!"

Even though the country was not at war in 1832 the importance of transportation in national defense was being discussed, and the Journal endorsed an article from the Baltimore Patriot of March 17 which urged the need of more railroads "in event of another war with a nation more powerful on the ocean than ourselves." Recalling the delays and accumulated expenses of transportation during the war, the Patriot wrote, "It was a common occurrence to see dozens of wagons lying along the road between New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore, loaded and half-covered with mire, goods of every description piled up along the way to be plundered or destroyed." The writer also believed that mail could be conveyed from New York to Washington on "a good railroad" in fifteen to eighteen hours.

No Progress For Frederick

In 1832 the B. & O. was the longest continuous railroad in the world. Its main line extended as far as Point of Rocks, a distance of 67½ miles from the depot in Baltimore, and a branch 3½ miles long carried passengers to Frederick. There is a legend in Frederick that the leading citizens of the town were far from pleased when they heard of plans to put the main line of the new railroad through their city, bringing a lot of new people—probably undesirable — into their pleasant residential Arcadia. So, like a Chamber of Commerce in reverse, a group of townspeople journeyed to Baltimore and for a sum of about $00 persuaded the railroad not to go through Frederick. The branch was acceptable because only people who really had some business there would take the trouble to change at the Junction and back in. B. & O. trains continued to back into Frederick even in modern times.

Hagerstown, on the other hand, wanted the railroad. When it was passed up in favor of Martinsburg, citizens were so irked they began making covetous jokes about their West Virginia neighbor, and long after the railroad controversy was forgotten vaudeville comedians never failed to raise a laugh from a Hagerstown audience with slighting comments about Martinsburg. The failure to land the B. & O. was also a great impetus to Hagerstown in helping to develop the Cumberland Valley so it could trade with Philadelphia and "get even" with Baltimore.

Passenger Comfort Considered

Today's traveler grumbles if he has to take an upper on the Limited. But back in 1832 the chief engineer for the B. & O., J. Knight, was just advocating experiments with cars on springs for the comfort of passengers. He wrote that "the jars and concussions that destroy the comfort of the passenger become increased with a load of stone, minerals or agricultural products or with any loading having a less elasticity than persons, and although the article of traffic (did he mean the passengers, too?) may not be damaged, yet the effect upon the carriage and the road would be injurious."

The B. & O. was carrying plenty of "loadings" having a less elasticity than persons. On Saturday, March 10, for example, 98 passengers arrived in Baltimore, along with 9 tons of iron, 45 tons of granite, 6 tons of timber, 11 tons of wood, 1,676 barrels of flour.

Two Engines In Service

Two steam engines were in use, one having traveled eighty miles daily with a load of cars for upward of a month. The company anticipated a fifty per cent saving where steam was substituted for horse power.

The citizens of the upper part of Cecil county were agitating for a line to Baltimore through Port Deposit, to join a contemplated line in Pennsylvania, and they held "a large and respectable meeting" at the hotel of Capt. Thomas Taylor to discuss the matter.

By the summer of 1832 New York was getting some railroads, to the great satisfaction of the Journal's editor, who in his very first issue had promised readers a better service "when we are accommodated with railroads in this vicinity so our supply of paper may not be detained on the way by the ice." The editor took a trip on the new railroad from New York to Paterson, N. J., a journey which could be performed "out and home again the same day." He grows positively lyrical about the "splendid cars to each of which is attached a fleet horse. The passenger is scarcely aware of the movement except by the rapidity with which he passes objects."

DEER PARK

Meetings of Organizations

The Deer Park Homemakers club met at the home of Mrs. Harry Thrasher last Tuesday evening with Miss Marianna Lee Long in charge. An election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mrs. D. R. Hinebaugh; vice-president, Mrs. Clarence Rollman; secretary, Mrs. E. E. Sollars; book chairman, Mrs. Allen Timmerman; peace chairman, Mrs. E. C. Clatterbuck.

Members of the 4-H club met with Miss Long Tuesday evening at 6:30. The lesson, "Replacing a bad food habit with a good one," was discussed.

Members of the primary Sunday shool and their teacher, Miss Lola King, held a class meeting on Thursday afternoon.

Personals

Mrs. Nellie Paugh, who has been a patient at Memorial Hospital, Cumberland, is recuperating at the home of Mrs. D. R. Hinebaugh.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kemphfer, Charlette Ann Kemphfer, Lucretia Hogue, Mr. and Mrs. Harry King, Oakland; Misses Ruth Beckman and Wanda Mellinger, Swanton, were guests on Sunday of Mrs. Laura Flanigan.

Mrs. Van Browning and daughter Norma Jane, and Mrs. William Uhl are visiting relatives at Perkersburg, West Va.

Perfect Attendance Roll for October

For the month of October the following named pupils in the local school had perfect attendance marks:

MAKING EATING FUN

Good, appetizing food is the thing that sells good nutrition to the family. It includes everything that makes eating fun. It's cheerful table conversation, comradeship and laughter. Most of all it's food so good you eat it for the sheer joy of eating—not because it's 'good for you.' It's not necessarily expensive food. But it's food attractively served, skillfully planned and well cooked. Unless meals have in them the element of human satisfaction they may go half eaten. And, uneaten, even the best planned assortment of food does not add up to a well-balanced diet. Table, tongue and tummy are key points along any road to good nutrition."

What often "sells" food to the family at the table is the way it is served. Attractive garnishes help make food more appeitzing in appearance. But don't let garnishes stop with pimiento and parsley. Use some imagination. Make the color of foods contribute something. Combine the rich brown of pot roast with the orange of carrots.

Serve hot foods hot and cold foods cold. Have all foods easy to eat—no tough meat that can't be cut, and no salads in which the lettuce slides off the plate—no seeds in the orange juice. Keep your meals from getting into a rut. Try serving dinner in front of the fireplace this winter.

Skillful meal-planning calls for a knowledge of food values—of available supplies of foods—and of foods that combine well together.

It's smart to remember the family's favorite dishes and serve them often. Build several nutritious meal combinations around them. When you plan a meal keep the texture of foods in mind. Don't have all soft foods, nor all crisp ones. It's better to work out some interesting contrasts—crunchy toast with soup, crisp cabbage slaw with baked beans, chopped celery with peanut butter as a sandwich filling. Don't serve all watery vegetables, and never serve two starchy vegetables at the same meal.

But when it comes to getting the family really interested in eating, nothing can do so much as good cooking.

Learning to cook is even more important today than it was in grandma's time. For we know now more about the food values that you gain or lose by cooking. And today it's a lot easier to learn to cook. Simple fool proof cookery rules have been worked out by the home economists. It's easy to learn the basic principles that make for successful cooking—that conserve the food value and make food taste best.

Here are some of the basic cooking principles to know.

When cooking vegetables, remember to use little water. Cook them a short time and never add soda to the cooking water. When you cook green vegetables, leave the lid off the pan. Serve the liquid the vegetables are cooked in—either with the vegetable, or in soups, sauces or gravies.

Cook all protein foods—meat, eggs, cheese and milk—at low to moderate temperatures all through the cooking period. High temperatures tend to toughen protein.

The modern method of cooking all meat is to use moderate temperature during all the cooking time. Tender cuts of meat are cooked with no water in an uncovered pan. Tender meats include cuts of pork and lamb and certain parts of beef and young, well fattened birds.

There's a special method to make cheaper, tougher, cuts of meat tender. That is to brown the less-tender cut in hot fat. Then cook it slowly with added liquid in a covered pan. The steam formed by adding water and keeping the lid on the pan is just what is needed to soften meat that has tough connective tissue. Or tough meat may be ground or chopped to break up this tissue—then cooked as though it were tender.

Every modern cook should know temperature control, not only for meats, but for many oven dishes. In cooking with fat, too, the right temperature can spell success. Fat that gets to the smoking point spoils the flavor of food cooked in it and makes it less digestible.

Lumpy foods are something no good cook can tolerate. It's easy to avoid them by blending starchy material with a little liquid, then carefully stirring this into the rest of the mixture. Or in making gravy or white sauce, cook the flour with the fat to add flavor. Then gradually add the cold liquid and stir until you get that perfect blend.

There are no tested rules for seasoning foods. But it's an art well worth practicing to perfect. Experiment with herbs in poultry stuffing, in a meat loaf, or a vegetable curry. Try different taste contrasts—a spicy sauce on beets, or mint stuffing with roast lamb.

And above all, learn to cook quickly and easily so you won't be worn out at mealtime, so that you, too, can taste the element of human satisfaction in the food that you have prepared.

AVILTON

Friday night and Saturday this entire community was wind-swept by a storm approaching a tornado in velocity, but fortunately no damage of consequence followed. The wind was accompanied by the first snow of the season.

Ernest Michael and Saylor Wampler visited Henry Michael and family Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Fannie Weitzell is spending some time with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Weitzell, at Accident.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Chaney and son Dallas spent Thursday evening with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Weitzell and children, of Mount Savage, were here Sunday with their parents.

Miss Mildred Fike, Washington, D. C., was here over the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Fike.

Ray Fike and Miss Lily Dreese were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Asa Wilhelm on Sunday.

Ellis Robeson, Mt. Savage, spent last Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Robeson.

Mr. and Mrs. David Emerson, of Frostburg, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. George Brown at their home in this section.

Harold Fike and James Robeson spent Sunday afternoon at the home of Leonard Wilhelm.

Helen Beachy, of Washington, D. C., spent the week-end with her sister, Mrs. William Merrill.

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Beachy and members of their family, Grantsville, spent Sunday at the Jesse Merrill home.

Mrs. Gilbert McKenzie and daughter, Frostburg, were guests on Sunday of their parents in this community.

Sunday school at 10:00; preaching service at 11:00 Sunday morning, November 22. Rev. Higgs will be the speaker. Everybody welcome.

Mrs. S. K. Fike and other members of the Fike family, Piedmont, were visiting Mrs. Fike's brother, Jesse Merrill, and family, on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Fike, Braddock, Pa., are spending a few days here with his brother, Otho S. Fike, and family.

Mrs. Rebecca Bittinger and sons were business callers at the Fike home here on Monday.

MT. LAKE PARK

All things considered, the blackout here wasn't so bad. True, there were some places where they knew nothing about it, but that was not the fault of our wardens. The few there were tried to cover the territory, which is no small job here in Mt. Lake. The mayor and council were on the job, and the citizens cooperated. It would be a fine thing if, as rumor says, there should be a siren placed on the amphitheatre to notify the community just when there is a blackout. Out of doors on Monday night there was no blackout so far as the moon was concerned. Even with street lights off, it was bright as day. Some folks did a lot of complaining. Then there was a funny side to it also, one instance when the warden rapped on the window and called, "Blackout"; the householder was poking the fire in the stove, dropped the poker or carried it somewhere, and did not find it until forty-eight hours later. We have an idea that before this scrap is over blackouts will be just the usual event in our lives. We will have learned to accept them and to follow the rules.

There is at least one person who won't forget this blackout; that's Harry Kiser. He feels pretty lucky at that, and he will be on hand to serve his turn when another comes along.

Personals

There will be an important meeting of the Mt. Lake Park-P.-T. A. tonight (Thursday), at 7:30 at the school house. Please be present. Vital matters will be discussed.

M. L. Groves, who is located at Jessup, spent several days here with his family.

Miss Mary Isabelle Love, who is a student at Wooster college, Wooster, Ohio, is spending a few days with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Love.

Mr. and Mrs. George Stillwagon, of Washington, D. C., announce the birth of a son, on November 2, 1942. He has been named George David. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Riley, R. D. 2. Mr. Stillwagon is now at Auburn, Ala., Polytechnic Radio Institute. Mrs. Stillwagon is the former Dorothy Riley. Mrs. A. O. Riley has been in Washington the past week to visit her new grandson, Elbert O. Riley, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Riley is now at the U. S. Naval Radio School in Auburn, Ala.

John Stevenson, Jr., of Oakland, has returned from Newport, Arkansas, where he delivered a car to Lieutenant Joe G. May, U. S. A., of Mt. Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Frame and daughter, Linda, of Kingwood, spent Sunday with Mrs. Allie Haymond.

Mrs. Walter Prichard has closed her cottage and will spend the winter in Clarksburg.

Mrs. C. J. Rathbun has rented her home in Gainsville, Fla. Mrs. Rathbun occupied a cottage until late fall and since that time has been residing with Mrs. Alma Bell.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Turney, Mrs. Wade Mason and Mrs. Charles Mason spent Monday in Hagerstown, where they visited Richard Turney and Charles Mason, both of whom are associated with the Fairchild Aircraft. They were accompanied as far as Cumberland by Mrs. J. A. Turney.

Mr. and Mrs. Arden May and Mrs. N. B. Post, of Buckhannon, mother of Mrs. May are moving this week to the Sam Leff property at McHenry, which Mr. May purchased a short time ago. They have been residing with Mr. May's mother, Mrs. Mary May.

The many friends of Harry Kiser will be glad to learn that he is recovering nicely from injuries received while on duty during the blackout Monday night. Mr. Kiser was stationed at the intersection of the Mt. Lake Hotel road and was struck by a passing motorist who collided with another car. His injuries, while very painful, are not thought serious. Bolden's ambulance was called following the accident and he was taken to his home.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Munson and young son, John Clary, of Hagerstown, are spending a week with Mrs. Munsen's mother, Mrs. Alma Bell.

Here's Proof that heating costs can be cut!

These are only three out of hundreds of examples of the savings that are being made through proper "winter-conditioning" of homes in this district . . . to say nothing of greater comfort winter and summer.

You can get the same results for your own home. Why not check with your heating contractor or dealer today and find out what can be done, and at what cost, to "winter-condition" your home?

Saved 20% with Insulation

One home in this district, previously weather-stripped, has since been insulated all around. Its owners found that the record of four years' heating costs showed a reduction in heating bills of approximately 20%. Now storm windows and doors are being installed.

Saved 21% with Storm Windows and Doors

Another home owner installed storm sash last year and has saved about 21% on his heating bills—besides eliminating outside noise and dirt to a great extent.

Saved 20% with Weatherstripping

Still another home, weatherstripped for 14 years, has shown a reduction in fuel bills of more than 20%. Other results: No drafts, fewer colds, more even temperatures throughout.

"PAINT IS THE BEST PROTECTION YOU CAN BUY"

THIS fall it's of vital importance to protect your buildings from rain and wind and snow. Good paint covers more surface per gallon—hides better—costs less in the long run than ordinary paint.

Unico Paints are manufactured cooperatively in farmer-owned plants—distributed to you at the lowest prices consistent with their fine, durable quality. No worthless filler is added—Unico Paints are all paint. It's everybody's job to keep buildings in repair for the duration. Paint is the best protection you can buy.

Unico Paints Cost You LESS Because They Go FARTHER
